Historic Hotel Comes Down For New Dam

TRAIL, B.C., (CP)—The old Atall Hotel at Waneta 13 miles south of here is no more—it's one of the landmarks torn down to make way for construction of the big Waneta dam.

The historic hotel, according to legend, got its name from the fact there were no rooms at all, no meals at all and no girls at all. Those of course were familiar complaints of miners in the old days when Waneta was a gold-mining town.

Now it will be the scene of a huge dam which eventually will cost $30,000,000, and which is expected to be completed by the end of 1953 to develop 210,000 horsepower of Hydro Electric energy. Provision is being made in the plans for a total of four units which could raise the horsepower to 400,000.

The 1,000-foot dam is being built by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at the point where the Pend O'Reille river joins the Columbia, a few hundred yards from the United States border.

Busy Scene

The amazing engineering project is full of unusual twists. At present 700 miners, muckers and steelworkers are living in bunk houses on the site of the old hotel. Big diesel trucks dump 250 tons of selected rock each hour on a mile-long conveyor belt, which carrier it to huge piles of aggregate. In turn these are fed by tunnels to a concretemixer overlooking the dam site. From the other side of the hill a six-inch steel pipe carries cement for the mix.

Later a 6,000-ton, 180-foot concrete column will be toppled into the river to block two-thirds of the Channel so construction men can pour concrete for the dam's base. So far the foundation for this monolith has been completed but it will be under water until some time in July.

What's Right

You run into a friend you have not heard from in a long time and ask about his wife, only to be told that they have been divorced.

WRONG: Try to cover your embarrassment by profuse apologies for blundering.

RIGHT: Say simply: "I'm sorry. I hadn't heard." And change the subject.

Suspend Modern Canadian Life For One Night

MONTREAL — (CP)—Just one night in every year Lebanese and Syrian folk here abandon the modern Canadian way of life and drift back to their native customs with ceremonial rites, dances and Middle East dishes.

Such a night was the recent Byzantine night of the Byzantine Rite Church. The ancients gathered with the youngsters to relive a bit of the past and their native heritage.

Amid the merry-making and the music from historic instruments, with olive-skinned beauties performing sinuous dances, a visitor might think himself seeing a picture from the tales of the Arabian Nights.

A swarthy man in flowing garments strummed a ouad. A girl snaked across the floor in native dance. The celebrants downed goblets of Sanboussik.

The Sheik, top man of the evening, sat cross-legged on a mound of cushions. Occasionally he took a puff from his hookah. A half-dozen dusky girls lolled at his feet.

The primitive beat of the derbakke (drum) and the tambourine joined with the ouad, a guitar-like instrument, to set the tone in the low-lit room as 100 sons and daughters of the Middle East bent over plates of yabrac and koussa (meat and rice flavored with spices; vegetable marrow cooked in butter); filled by turbaned servants.

A singer intoned a high-pitched Arabian love song.

"Your lips are like the petals of roses," he sang to the quickening derbakke beat.

"I love you," the dusky girls chorused.

The singing stopped and a new dancing girl began her rhythmic dancing.

Then the spell was broken.

The lights went on. The Arabian desert vanished. Once more this was the basement of a church.

SUMMER HANDBAGS in new fabrics and straw stress the light and airy look in keeping with other fashions. Black linen box bag (upper left) with soft contours is given frosting of snowy white calk beads in graceful flower design. Lucite bag (upper right) is cool, has illusion of sheerness, is easy to keep clean. This one is banded in gold plate filigree. Shrimp-colored denim (lower left) takes on a dressy air in this pouch with embroidered white flower design. Natural Madagascar straw cloth, the straw fabric appearing this year in separates, makes suit satchel (lower centre) that can be wiped clean with damp cloth. Just for fun and conversation, there's a white woven wood market basket (lower right). It has a navy blue linen lid with phrases embroidered in silk.

Family Lives In Old Bus

CALGARY —(CP)—Mrs. Clifford Scott, her husband and three children have been living in an old bus since 1948, and they're perfectly happy.

When summer rolls arpund each year they just fill up the tank, roll out on the highway and they're ready to see the country. "Maybe we're just a modern-day version of the gypsy caravans," says Mrs. Scott. But they have had the bus parked permanently here since last July.

Mr. Scott is a construction worker and they have travelled many places in the bus. Before coming to Calgary they stayed for a year at the site of the St. Mary River irrigation project south of Lethbridge. Before that their journeys took them through the United States.

Originally they were settled at Fort William, Ont., but got tired of the old home and decided it would be nice to see the world. So they bought an old bus that used to run between Fort William and the international border. The inside was converted into a home and the Scotts took off. They've been travelling every since.

There were seven in the family at the start but a daughter got married, and then the eldest son left to work on his own. Still with the parents are Graham, 17, Frank, 12, and Allan, 5.

Startled grocery clerks sometimes make Mrs. Scott confirm that the delivery address is "the old Greyhound bus on Bowness Road," but it has all the conveniences of a standard home except a bathroom.

Near the driver's seat is a small sink with running water, when such facilities are available by a hose connected with the municipal water supply. When they can't arrange such a connection, the old-fashioned water pail does its duty for washing purposes.

The bus carries a washing machine and radio, a cooking stove and an oil burner. It has beds and chintz curtains. "We've thought of buying a real house a couple of times," says Mrs. Scott.

"But it would seem rather strange driving away and leaving your kitchen behind."

Of Interest to Women

Your petticoat wardrobe is more important this Spring and Summer than ever before. Available in a variety of materials, petticoats insure that wonderful full-skirted look (right). And to keep them clean, simply resort to a batch of lukewarm suds (above). Use a warm iron to take out any wrinkles.

Pretty Washable Petticoat Important Accessory

Don't look now—but your petticoat is showing. It's all right, though, for this season fashion is billowing skirts puffed out with pretty underpinnings.

A variety of colors and materials allow you much more leeway than great grandmother ever had, plus the wonderful advantage of completely washable fabrics.

Nylon nets and tricots are petticoat favorites permanently finished to retain their stiffness after countless soapy dunkings. You can eliminate all ironing if you finger-press close gathers or tucks. Simply draw the material through your fingers slowly and firmly.

Batiste, organdy, plisse, or dotted Swiss make ideal underskirts and, with their delicate rows of lace and ribbon, look delightfully gay peeking out from under a glazed chintz or taffeta overskirt.

An exciting bit of fashion news is the indoor-outdoor petticoat, to be worn either as a skirt or under your summer frocks to perk them out.

For a good versatile, take-you-anywhere petticoat wardrobe, the first thing to consider is the washability of all the fabrics—especially the stiff ones.

Always make sure that the hemlines of your petticoats are spanking clean, too. Use a small, stiff brush dipped in soapsuds and go over the edgings carefully before laundering the entire garment.

Cameras Show Lonely Life Of Newfoundland Outposts

OTTAWA — (CP)—Two Ottawa cameramen took their cameras into the crow's nest of a whaling ship and many other strange places to produce a moving documentary film of the life of Newfoundland's outports.

They went on to the pack ice of the sealing grounds and up a winding stairway to the great, lonely lamp of Cape Spear lighthouse for other scenes in the film "Newfoundland Scene," which won for Crawley Films of Ottawa the laurels as Canada's best picture of 1951.

Photographed by F. R. (Budge) Crawley and Stanley Brede, the picture is a successor to the fantasy "The Loon's Necklace," which won nine international awards previously for Crawley and his partner and wife, Judy.

Shunning rural life and the industrial hum of St. John's, the color movie is an adventure story —the adventure of a way of life that has lasted for generations among the people of Newfoundland's outports.

In 39 minutes, it depicts the rigors of Grand Banks fishing and northern whaling and sealing, as well as the quieter work around the low-terraced houses of oddly-named ports.

Dying Whale

A high point in the film, taken from the crow's nest of a whaling boat shows the death throes of a harpooned whale.

The camera goes 100 yards offshore in a dory to watch capelin hauled in by the silver thousands, and then on a long, cold journey in search of the finback whale.

Eeal hunters leap from the gunwales of their vessels with gaffhook in hand to hunt seals on treacherous pack ice.

And audiences will remember a fast trip on a long sleigh behind a fan-hitched dog team from outport to outlying hamlet.

The loneliness of some of the outport life is felt in a blinding close-up of the great reflector of Sape Spear light and the keeper who tends it.

Because of its 16-milimetre size, the film may be shown only in a limited number of commercial theatres equipped with art cameras of that size. It could be blown up to regular Hollywood size 35 millimetres, but that would reduce its sharpness to newsreel quality.

It will be distributed through the National Film Board, however, and may go out for free or a small service charge to any person or club wishing to see it.

A Crawley Films spokesman said the Film Board guarantees audiences of close to 500,000 in three years.

23rd Psalm Meeting Theme

Lakevale Ladies' Aid meeting was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Eva Deyell, Fowler's Corners. President Mrs. Harry Fowler Jr. opened with a reading and explained that the spiritual theme of this meeting was the 23rd Psalm which was then sung, and Mrs. Kenneth Nurse also read the Psalm. Mrs. Harry Archer read "Prayer in the Psalms" and led the assembly in prayer. Mrs. Ross Smith gave an interesting reading titled "The Basque Sheepherder and Shepherd's Song" which followed the pattern of the 23rd Psalm and how it applied to the shepherd and the sheep. Mrs. Melville Deyell recited a poem "Don't Tell" and the president gave a reading "One way out." Roll call, answered with "My favorite hymn" showed 11 members and two visitors present. Mrs. R. Blackburn read the minutes. Discussion of ways of raising money resulted in a decision to ask the Salvation Army of Peterborough to put on a program and Mrs. Wm. Richmond was appointed to contact them. Plans for holding a tea were left to the next meeting. June meeting will be at the president's home when "My favorite Bible story" will be the answer to roll call. Lunch was served by the hostess and committee.

Lowery-Smith

MILLBROOK, May 23 (ENS) — The marriage took place of Joyce Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Smith of Beaverton, to Gerald Harold Frederick Lowery, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Lowery of Millbrook, in Beaverton United Church on Monday. The Rev. S. B. Proffitt of Beaverton officiated. It was a double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a light grey suit, grey hat and red accessories with a corsage of red roses.

Attendant was her sister, Miss Lorna Smith, wearing a brown suit and hat, matching accessories and a corsage of white roses

The groom was attended by his brother, George H. Lowery of Toronto.

A reception was held at the Sign Post motel. In the receiving line was the bride's mother wearing navy sheer, navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother wearing navy sheer with cream accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Also receiving was the groom's grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Caldwell of South Monaghan who had chosen to wear light blue with grey accessories and pink roses.

The couple left for a trip to the United States. They will live in Beaverton until fall when they plan to make their home in Peterborough.

Toronto Women Electors Visit Civic Affairs Group

Executive members of the Women Electors' Association of Toronto were guests of the Study Group on Civic Affairs Thursday evening.

Following a dinner with the members at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club, the visitors were shown some of the interesting features of the new City Hall, prior to attending the regular meeting which was held in the small committee room of the City Hall.

President, Miss Margaret McCulloch, welcomed the guests and outlined progress made by the Peterborough group during the two years since its formaton.

Mrs. S. J. Allin, vice-president of the Central Executive in Toronto, conducted a panel discussion on the work being done in that city, after 15 years of activity.

Past presidents Mrs Wallace Graham and Mrs. Aleck Stockwood briefly gave interesting accounts of the history and general policies of the Women Electors' Association, while Mrs. Mervyn Jones, president of the Ward 3 Division, enlarged upon their successful methods of stimulating interest and planning programs throughout the year.

The meeting was then open for discussion from the floor, allowing the interchange of ideas and policies to prove very entertaining and instructive.

In Toronto, the women's concern and work in connection with the preservation of parklands, their assistance in health and welfare programs, day nurseries, housing conditions and town planning, have won them the high esteem of the municipal government. In addition to attending all City Council and Board of Education meetings, their observers also cover the committee meetings of both of these bodies, and find the experience of invaluable assistance in their studies.

In turn, they act in the capacity of a public relations group between the people and their elected representatives.

Mrs. W. E. Fanning moved a very sincere vote of thanks to the visiting ladies for their continued encouragement, and original help in getting the Peterborough Study Group organized.

Observers to the City Council meetings for May were Miss H. Gerrard and Mrs. D. B. Rodgers. The minutes of the Board of Education meeting were reported by Mrs. J. E. Watters.

At the next regular meeting, on June 26, Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, will speak regarding the city health program.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION SCHOOL

Retiring president Mrs. James Leahy opened the meeting of Immaculate Conception Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday evening and introduced the guest speaker Constable Donald Mackay who explained to parents the school patrol system to be put into effect in the city. He was thanked by Miss Lorna Hickey of the teaching staff.

A debate, "Resolved the city boy has more blessings and is more likely to succeed than the country boy" was heard and judges decided the negative side was winner. Debaters were grade 8 pupils, Margaret Sullivan and Ann O'Hern for the affirmative and Leonard Healey and James Ayotte for the negative. Judges were Mrs. Clinton Young, Mrs. Margaret O'Brien and Mr. Edgar Boland.

Officers for the coming year were installed by president of the Diocesan Council Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, and they are:

Rt. Rev. Monsignor O'Sullivan, spiritual director; Rev. Sister Dominica, honorary president; Mrs. Wm. O'Toole, president; Mrs. Melville Armitage, vice-president; Mrs. Raymond Clifford, secretary; Mr. Frank Shine, treasurer. Councillors are Sister Vincentia, Mrs. Harry Fraser, Mrs. R. Morin, Mr. Maitland Murdock, Mrs. Morris Adams, Mr. Leo Gooley.

Mrs. Leahy was presented with a lovely gift in recognition of her leadership, by Sister Dominica. Mrs. Leo Sullivan read an address to the outgoing executive.

Lunch was served after the meeting by Mrs. W. L. Crilly and Mrs. Natzyl.

Millbrook Friends Fete Bride-To-Be

CAVAN, May 23 (ENS)—Mrs. Elmer Hogg and Mrs. Gerald Armstrong were joint hostesses on Tuesday evening at Mrs. Hogg's home when about 50 friends and neighbors were invited to do honor to a former resident of the neighborhood, Miss Kathryn Elson, member of the Victorian Order of Nurses, who has held a position at Gananoque for the past three years.

On Saturday, she will be married in St. Andrew's United Church, Millbrook to Charles Donovan, of Gananoque.

Mrs. Hogg and Mrs. Armstrong carried in a basket and placed it in front of Miss Elson, and Mrs. Hal Argue expressed pleasure of the assembled guests.

Royal Youngsters Thrilled At Move To Famous Palace

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP).—When Prince Charles and Princess Anne return from the royal lodge at Windsor to the newly-decorated nursery apartments at Buckingham Palace, the friendly, three-year-old Prince and his little sister will move back into an exciting environment.

The "big house," as Prince Charles calls the 690-roomed palace, now will be home. This means plenty of time to "explore" the three miles of corridors, state apartments and out-of-the-way staircases that once delighted Princess Margaret.

So far, the fair-haired heir to the throne is too young to think much about anything except the excitement of a new home. He will not face the disappointment that nettled Princess Margaret when with her sister, then Princess Elizabeth, she first occupied the nurseries that Charles will share with Princess Anne.

When palace residence came for six-year-old Princess Margaret—whom Charles calls "Margo"—it brought one important change. The newly-learned signature Margaret of York, of which she was so proud, became just Margaret. "Since papa became King I don't seem to be anybody at all," she complained.

But soldier - loving Prince Charles won't worry about things like that. His principal interest probably will be the red-coated, busby-hatted sentries outside the palace gates. He will be able to watch the changing of the guard from the palace windows.

Snug Apartments

Unlike Clarence House, the rambling, old-fashioned Royal residence is every inch a palace—but the private apartments are as home-like and comfortable as the house that became the first London home of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh. Decorated in pretty pastel shades of duck-egg blue and pink, they are in sharp contrast to the sumptuous gold-and-crimson decor of the rooms of state.

For Prince Charles and Princess Anne, a suite of seven rooms on the second flor has been redecorated. Charles, now considered old enough to have his own blue-and-white bedroom, has a built-in wardrobe to house the tough gabardine pants he wears in the gardens and the nylon suits and colorful woollen coats worn on public occasions.

At holidays in Windsor Castle, seven-year-old Prince Richard of Gloucester is Charles' chief playmate, and has given Charles his first fashion impulse. He wants a kilt like Richard—and it's probable that his first one will be part of the luggage when he goes to Balmoral Castle over the Whitsun holidays with his parents.

But for Prince Charles, holidays at Windsor are generally more exciting. These coincide with school leave and he has his three young cousins for company—Richard, Richard's 10-year-old brother Prince William and Prince Michael of Kent, 9.

MARMORA

MARMORA, May 23—(ENS)—Installation of officers and the delivery of an elucidating talk on "The History of Finger Prints" proved a good drawing card for the monthly meeting of Marmora Home and School Association, held on Wednesday evening in the public school.

The new officers installed by Mrs. A. H. Rennie, past president, are: president, Mrs. R. Frost; first vice-president, Mrs. A. F. Fraser; recording secretary, Mrs. L. McGinnis; corresponding secretary, Mr. J. Srpoul, treasurer, Mrs. M. Kouri; executive members, Mesdames H. Olsen, H. Johnson, C. Neal and B. J. McKenzie, and Mr. J. Trombley.

Identification officer R. J. Rackham, of No. 9 District, Ontario Provincial Police, with headquarters at Belleville, as guest speaker of the evening, captivated his audience as he outlined the history of finger prints. Th custom, he said, dated back 1,000 years ago when Chinese monarchs used thumbs as symbols for sealing purposes. In 1686 Professor Marcelli Marpeggi in Italy found different pattern ridges which secreted sweat and which have come to be known as "friction ridges."

In 1823, at Breslau, Germany, a German professor of anatomy placed them in nine different patterns that since have been used by identifications all through the world. They are 1, plain arch; 2, tented arch; 3, plain loop (a); 4, plain loop (b); 5, whorl; 6, centre pocket loop; 7, lateral pocket loop; 8, twinned loop; 9, accidental.

It was in 1880 that Dr. Henry Falls, of Tokyo, Japan, suggested that people could be identified by means of their finger prints. Prior to this, in 1873, Sir William Herschel, of Bengal, India, emphasized the fact that finger prints cannot be changed. In 1893 Sir Francis Galton presented a system which was rejected by the British Government. In 1897, Sir Edward Henry devised the system in use today which in 1901 was presented to Scotland Yard. In 1904, Sir Edward Foster went from this country to Scotland as a result of which the Henry system went into effect with the R.C.M.P. in 1910 and was adopted by the American courts in 1911.

Officer Rackham pointed out that at the scene of a crime all objects should be left alone by those arriving there to facilitate the work of the identification officer. He also mentioned that tills and safes should be frequently dusted by their owners to assist the police in finger printing should a robbery occur.

He then spoke of the use of finger printing in establishing the identity of missing persons. Sometimes the removal of the epidermis from the finger becomes necessary to get the desired knowledge. He closed his talk by illustrating the method of taking prints for filing, the system of the R.C.M.P. being adhered to. He was introduced by W. J. Cottrell and thanked by Russell Wells.

Succeeding the address, Mrs. R. Long sang "The Garden of Your Heart," with Mrs. A. T. Fraser as accompanist. The president, Mrs. R. Frost, welcomed the gathering at the start and asked that thanks be conveyed to the C.G.I.T. girls who had consented to be baby sitters for the evening to permit mothers to attend. The treasurer's report for the year was given by Mrs. Kouri, showing a balance on hand of over $36.

James Sproul gave the corresponding secretary's report, and Mrs. L. McGinnis that of the recording secretary. The latter reported eight monthly meetings having been held with five guest speakers and visual aid being used at the three other meetings. She also mentioned the satisfactory results of the appointment of class mothers for each room. Principal E. C. Prentice took the class attendance, with honors going to Mr. Trombley's room. Mr. Prentice also took occasion to thank the Home and School Association for their efforts on behalf of himself and staff.

"Push" For Interest In Aged Given City By Soroptimists

The "push" that it is hoped will start a ball rolling in Peterborough was given here Thursday evening at a meeting, sponsored by the Soroptimist Club, of people interested in the health and welfare of the older generation. Speaker was Mrs. Jean Goode, secretary of the division on old age of the Welfare Council of Toronto. She told what is being done in her own city for the residents of 60 years and up.

Soroptimists want to arouse Peterborough to an interest in the older people. Their project as a service club is older women and they have for several years been sponsoring the Golden Mile Club. This club has now exceeded their own membership and has already proved worth every bit of effort and expense in the happiness and contentment it has brought.

Place favors for the 95 dinner guests were tiny wheelbarrows, symbolic of the work that is necessary, and the "push".

Mrs. Goode commenced with statistics showing there are in Canada 433,497 people between 65 and 69 years of age and 652,776 are over 70, making more than a million in all, and more than one twelfth of the total population in the old age bracket. "I venture to say this is more than the number of pre-school children about whom there is so much planning at the present time" she said.

A first step is to get the community thinking about the older people, she pointed out. A complete change in attitude toward old age is needed in the middle age and young groups. Above all, older people must not be "pushed out" she warned, reminding that no person at any age likes to be the victim of this practice so often used on the elderly, even by well-meaning children.

Old people need friends, they need a place to live, but most important they need something to do, Mrs. Goode stated. Idleness is their most serious problem, and it is evident in the fact that a great many people become chronically sick after the retirement age of 65 in industries and offices.

"Either think of employing 'well', old people, or, of how to take care of 'sick', old people, expensively" countered the welfare worker.

An example that showed Canada to poor advantage was in Mrs. Goode's story of her talk with a man from Calcutta. He said they do not have "senile" people in his country "because they always know they belong to the family". It was explained that even though they do not live with their families they always join in all of their activities.

The audience was told "we are all growing old" and it was further stated "we begin to age at 25". These reminders are food for thought for the citizens now able to do something about the future.

Toronto Welfare Council now has a committee of aldermen, controllers and citizens interested in the field of old age, busy producing plans for the housing of the "well" old people. It has already secured Lambert Lodge (formerly Christie St. Hospital) for a five year period and is housing there 700 old people, mostly sick and infirm. After it has found a place for some 1,200 well old people, the lease on this old hospital will be out and it will likely have to provide a place for the sick too. This will be in addition to the homes for the aged maintained by religious groups of Toronto.

Mrs. Goode wishes it could be possible to subsidize the families in providing a separate unit for their older folks right in connection with their own homes. She says it is important for older folks to have their "own door" but quite often they are not able to look after a separate establishment.

She pointed out that old people who are "put on the shelf" very often come down off that shelf very disgruntled and they spread dissatisfaction. "We want to be happy, active, well, old people" was her closing thought.

The introduction of Mrs Goode was given by Mrs. Eva Bradbridge and "thank you" was said by Miss Gene Clark who urged the interest of citizens.

Alderman A. B. Burrows, H. T. Rehill and Stanley Longhurst attended the dinner as representatives of the City Council and Alderman S. J. Black was present in the capacity of Rotary Club president. The Ministerial Association was represented by the Rev. A. A. Mathews.

The ladies were representative of a cross section of church, social and service organizations of the city. Four members of the Barrie Soroptimist Club, also interested in this project, attended.

Instal Officers

St. Peter's High School Key Club held their annual parents' night Tuesday, commencing with a dinner at the Y.M.C.A.

Special guests were the Rev. L. Leahy, Walter Howell, president of the Kiwanis Club, E. G. Baker, guest speaker, and C. Ede.

A toast was proposed to the parents by the president of the Key Club and it was acknowledged by B. Jones.

Mr. Howell installed the new president, Jim Feeley; vice-president, Laverne Jones; treasurer, Frank McKillen and secretary, John Harrington.

Introduction of the guest speaker was made by Leverne Jones and Mr. Baker was thanked by Jim Feeley.

Reader's Friday Column Conducted By Mary Moore

QUESTION: I hope you won't mind my writing to you as a friend because you give me that impression through your daily columns. Needless to say that your columns are very interesting and helpful to an amateur homemaker like me. Keep up the good work . . .a few days ago I went to the doctor for a few ailments I have had and much to my surprise he told me to lose sixteen pounds along with other medical treatment. I did lose sixteen pounds on my own just by not eating between meals, but now that I have more to lose I am at a loss to know what to eat. No bread, potato, desserts, pies, cakes, candy, etc., so what's left to eat? I sincerely hope your diet will help me. Also I have a large pressure cooker and probably could use it more as I must not have fried foods and I have no electric stove to broil or bake. Would you know of a pressure cook book? and where to get it so I could buy it and make better use of my pressure cooker. Thanks for your help. Mrs. F. C.

ANSWER: The pressure cook book I have is called "National Pressure Cooker modern guide" and is put out by the National Pressure Cooker Co. (Canada) Ltd., Wallaceburg, Ont. This book came with my cooker when I bought it. Of course they would send you one if your cooker is a National. I am acquainted with some of the people with this fim so you might say when writing that I referred you to them.

You say "So what's left to Eat?" Every kind of meat, fish, fowl under the sun. Every kind of vegetable—the cookable and salad kinds. Every fruit from all corners of the earth. Plus eggs, cheese and nuts. My question to you is "What more could you ask?" If you can lose 16 pounds by stopping eating between meals it will be a cinch for you to lose 16 more by watching the calorie chart. By watching it see how much you are eating at present, then reduce the total calorie intake per day by 200 calories.

QUESTION: Mrs. E. M. B. sent a list to you of her diet menus. I carefully checked with all of my calorie charts and found that the calories did not add up to even 1200 per day, so could you be wrong?

I am on a strict diet but canned salmon is my Waterloo. I have one ¼-lb. tin every 5 days—baked with egg, milk and onion and although it is high in caloric value I manage to keep a low calorie total that "salmon day" by having only fruit and other vegetables. Please, Mary Moore, don't tell pour souls on a reducing diet that fried eggs are taboo. They are 105 calories and are permissible, and a welcome change on a boring diet. The reason so many poor souls can't stick to a reducers' diet is because it is so boresome . . after about 4 weeks everything is like sawdust. I know—I lost 72 lbs. . . I made up my own menus, carefully consulting diet and calorie charts also my doctor. Once a week I had fried bacon and eggs. Also a tiny piece of pie or cake. Maybe I should write only complimentary things but it seems such a pity that you don't give a menu that is a menu——not a cut and dried 3 meals per day. Sorry! I read and enjoy your column but for goodness sake put more heart in your talks to reducers. "Diet"

ANSWER: I have to heed anyone who can reduce by 72 lbs. I don't have to have compliments all the tme. The voice of experience helps immeasurably and I am grateful to you. But you see you tackled your diet routine with beforehand knowledge and so many reducers, like Mrs. F. C. who wrote the letter above this, do not know the reducing foods, what are safe foods, how to count calories. I love fried eggs too. By the way would you mind describing that baked salmon dish in detail and sending me your copy of it?

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Suggestions Offered For Baking

By KAY REX

Any career girl of necessity becomes an expert at preparing "quickie" meals.

A busy friend says mushroom-soup is her saving grace when guests arrive. She pours it on practically every meat dish, but has found it particularly tasty on pork tenderloins.

The uncooked tenderloin is cut in small pieces and browned in a frying-pan. Then the mushroom soup, unthinned, is poured out of the can and on to the meat. Unstirred, it is popped into the oven to simmer slowly until the dinner hour.

She usually serves this with hot baked potatoes. Her second vegetable at this time of the year probably would be asparagus. A tossed salad completes the main part of the meal.

Ingredients: two tablespoons butter; two tablespoons flour; two cups milk; one tablespoon horseradish (if desired); two teaspoons minced onion; 4-6 hard-cooked eggs (quartered); two cups cooked macaroni; salt and pepper.

Melt the butter and blend with the flour. Pour in the milk and cook over a slow heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add horseradish, onion, eggs and macaroni. Season with salt and pepper. Serve on toast.

Newfoundland Baking

The Jubilee Guilds give the following hints for baking cakes and cookies:

1. Be certain the oven is at the proper temperature when the cake is ready to be baked.
2. A wooden spoon is more suitabue for beating than a metal one.
3. Use fine granulated sugar. If coarse granulated or brown sugar is used it should first be pressed through a sieve.
4. Fruits should be thoroughly cleaned and dried. Cakes sometimes are made heavy by the use of moist fruit.
5. Sift the flour before measuring.
6. Place the cake near the centre of the oven and don't open the door until the cake is set (about 15 minutes).
7. Test whether cake is baked by pressing lightly with finger-tips. If it feels firm and does not retain the imprint of the fingers it is baked.
8. To substitute cocoa for chocolate, use the following proportions: One square of chocolate—three tablespoons cocoa and one teaspoon fat.
9. Melt chocolate over hot water rather than over direct heat since chocolate burns easily.

On Skim Milk

Skim milk parties are becoming popular in Saskatchewan, says the Canadian Association of Consumers. When producers and distributors recently asked for an increase in the price of milk, women of the C.A.C. Saskatchewan branch, decided to promote the use of skim milk.

Teas were held when the uses of skim milk and skim milk powder were discussed and demonstrated. Skim milk was used in the cakes and buns served.

C.A.C. members found that powdered skim milk cost about 10 cents a quart mixed. They found it easy to use and to store.

Keene Institute Visits Westwood

WESTWOOD, May 23 (ENS)—More than 20 members of Keene Women's Institute were guests on Tuesday afternoon of the Westwood branch.

Two entertaining numbers were contributed by the Keene Institute. Mrs. Ross McIntyre gave two readings and Mrs. Allan Eason demonstrated the making of artificial flowers.

The feature of the meeting was a paper by Mrs. Eric Pulfer on "What a good home is like."

The "thought for the day" was given by Mrs. Redmond Walsh, after which Mrs. H. S. Neilson took the current events. A contest sponsored by Mrs. A. Wood was won by Mrs. A. Eason and Mrs. R. McIntyre.

Mrs. Wilbert Graham gave a demonstration on window frosting.

It was announced that the district annual will be held at Norwood on Thursday May 29. Delegates appointed to attend are: Mrs. Birdsall, Mrs. Cardwell and Mrs. W. Renwick. Mrs. Renwick reported on the recent district executive meeting held in Peterborough.

At the close of the meeting the Westwood ladies served lunch.

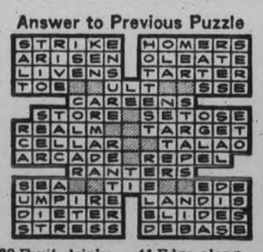
Answer to Previous Puzzle



THE CLEVER TRICKS that designers have turned in for summer fashions are exemplified. A tweed-like cotton (left) is used for this dark gray raincoat lined in pale pink cotton and equipped with zippered stowaway pockets. Matching umbrella is gray, lined with pink, and water-repellent cloche is in the gray. Quilted dimity shorts (center) in rosebud pattern are called "souffles", because of their lightness. They're shown here with broadcloth blouse in solid color. Denim, that workhorse of the past, has turned glamorous (right). It's shown in full-skirted dress for summer evenings, done in pale gray and given an all-over embroidery of rhinestones and pearls. Dress is sashed in gray satin.

DOROTHY DIX

Mother Forbids Attendance Of Daughters At Movie

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: We have two daughters, 14 and 16, who wanted to see a recent popular movie. I saw it first and was shocked at the appearance of a dancer with very little clothing. I refused to let my daughters see the picture. My husband thinks I am too strict; am I? A.M.

ANSWER: If you feel that the film was in bad taste, you were not only right, but commendable, to keep your children away from it. It surprises me, however, that the strict censorship to which our movies are subjected should have overlooked a sequence as objectionable as the one you describe.

Believes False Rumors

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you believe that a man who really loves a girl would believe lies about her? The girl in question is above reproach, but a much older woman who doesn't like her has been repeating some rather lurid, and entirely untrue, stories. P.D.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: As regrettable as it seems, there's no doubt that some people can lie very convincingly. It is also regrettable, but true, that a young man in love is all too ready to heed criticism of his beloved. The young girl in question should have a long talk with her sweetheart and if she feels that his belief in gossip is stronger than his belief in her—off with the engagement ring!

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widower of 55. My wife died two years ago. Last summer I met a woman ten years younger than I; we went out several times together and now I know I am in love with her. She is a wonderful person. She is, however, afraid that my only child, a married daughter, will not like the idea of our marrying. My daughter has met the lady, likes her very much and has made her most welcome at home. Do you think I should tell my daughter of our intentions, and then decide whether or not to marry? C. F.

Of Interest to Women

gestions, or the sight of a meal being hastily stretched to include three more. You must resort to downright bluntness to get rid of them.

When they arrive and you have just enough food prepared for your own family, smile sweetly and say, "Oh, I'd like to ask you to join us."

ANSWER: By all means take your daughter into your confidence. Since she is happily married herself, she will surely not stand in the way of your happiness. Are you sure this is the only reason your lady is hesitant?

DEAR MISS DIX: A sister of mine comes visiting quite often, and though I love her, she always manages to bring her family at mealtime. She makes a point of letting me know they haven't eaten, so there's nothing to do but invite them. Frankly, I shop carefully and seldom have enough to stretch for three guests. Furthermore, I but there simply isn't enough to go 'round. We're just having leftovers." Specializing in foods you know they don't like may also discourage them.

Be assured, nothing but the most drastic measures cures spongers, can't afford to feed so many heavy eaters. I hate to hurt my sister's feelings, but this has become a most difficult problem. R. S.

ANSWER: The most thick-skinned breed on earth are, I'm sure, the chronic meal cadgers. They are impervious to hints, suggestions, or the sight of a meal being hastily stretched to include three more. You must resort to downright bluntness to get rid of them.

When they arrive and you have just enough food prepared for your own family, smile sweetly and say, "Oh, I'd like to ask you to join us."

Be assured, nothing but the most drastic measures cures spongers, and if you want to get rid of them, be hard-hearted!

DEAR MISS DIX: The boy I have loved for two years is in service. Recently he wrote me of his engagement to another girl. He insists he will always think a lot of me, and wants me to keep on writing. My family tells me I'm very foolish to keep in touch with him at all. I feel that if I do write I may have a chance to win him back. I only write him once a week, and keep my letters friendly and newsy. I simply can't get interested in anyone else. FRANCIE S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Ordinarily, in a case like this, my advice would be to end all connection with the boy at once and concentrate on new fields. However, there seems to be something a little queer about his sudden engagement, and there may be a chance of winning him back. You must be prepared to take the chance as a gamble and, if you lose, it means additional heartache. Do you want to risk it? A weekly letter such as you describe doesn't commit you one way or the other. If you have the courage to keep it up, go ahead. You're a sensible, wise girl, and I hope you get the man if you want him so much.

6—In Memoriam

CROUTER—In loving memory of Sidney Wallace Crouter, who passed away May 22nd, 1937.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one I loved
From memory pass away.
—Ever remembered by daughter, sons, daughter-in-law, grandchildren.

GRAY—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Robert Gray, who passed away May 24, 1948.
When all is still and silent,
And sleep forsakes my eyes.
My thoughts are in the grave
Where my dea rhusband lies.
—Ever remembered by wife Ida and family.

HANSON—In lasting memory of a dear and loving mother, Sarah Hanson, who passed away May 23, 1926.
We cannot buy the old days back,
Your hand we cannot touch,
But we have wonderful memories
Of the one we loved so much.
—Lovingly remembered by Lottie and Herb.

JOHNSON—In loving memory of Gerald E. Johnson, who passed away May 23, 1948.
A page in our book of memory
Is silently turned today.
—Sadly missed by family.

PETERS—In loving memory of sister, Mrs. Frank Peters, who passed away May 25, 1944.
O happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Ever remembered by her sisters, Mrs. Philip Russell and Mrs. Louis Thompson.

PETERS—In loving memory of Mrs. Frank Peters, who passed away May 25, 1944.
Sweet memories will linger forever,
Time cannot change them it's true,
Years that may come cannot sever
Dear loving remembrance of you.
—Ever remembered by husband and children.

STEVENSON—In loving memory of Mrs. Hazel Stevenson, who passed away May 24, 1951.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well,
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Ever remembered by her loving husband and son.

BUYING — OR SELLING?

When Egg Prices are at peak next fall, will you be Buying or Selling? Provided you have housing for layers, probably more comforting to "pocket nerve" to have plenty home-produced eggs for table, surplus for sale! Well-started three-four-week-old Pullets fast growing, early laying, big-egg Bray stock, should lay by September if raised right. Very reasonably priced right now if taken "shipper's choice"— look: Heavies, per hundred, three weeks, $27.90; four weeks, $32.90. Mediums, per hundred, three weeks $34.90; four weeks, $33.90. (If interested particular breer or cross, ask for "customer's choice" prices slightly higher but still mighty reasonable.) Day-olds also available, new lower prices. Charles Goold, Bray Hatchery, 48 Lansdowne. Telephone 3834.

EIGHT Pigs, ten weeks old. John Webster, R.R. No. 8, Peterborough.

FARMERS - PET STOCK

35—Livestock and Poultry

BRAY May low prices. Prompt shipment. Started Pullets. Shipper's choice of breeds—3-week heavy breeds $27.90; 4-week, $32.90; medium—3-week, $34.90; 4-week, $38.90. After June 1st — 3-week heavy breeds, $25.90; 4-week, $30.90. For customer's choice of breeds, ask Hatchery or nearest agent for prices. Also have dayolds mixed, pullets. Bray Hatchery, 48 Lansdowne. Aviation Gas Shortage Grows Worse

DENVER, May 23 (AP) —Even though a strike on oil-industry pipeline and refinery workers neared an end today, shortages of aviation gasoline became more serious.

Commercial air lines announced drastic reductions in flights. Airlines asked Interior Secretary, Oscar Chapman to decontrol aviation fuel in view of the spreading contract settlements. There was no immediate reply.

Earlier, Chapman said restrictions on aviation fuel would have to continue for some time, at least until June 3.

Airlines announcing further curtailments of operations include Pan American World Airways and American Airlines.

American cancelled 42 flights Thursday. On Saturday it plans to cancel from 104 to 146 other flights.

Others Dropped

Pan American dropped eight more regular fare flights to London, Paris and Frankfurt Thursday. The airways' weekly schedule of 20 regular fare flights has been trimmed to two, one to Paris, and one to London.

Other flights cancelled involved service to Bermuda, Hong Kong, Beirut, Helsinki and London.

On the bright side, restrictions on the use of automobile gasoline, kerosene and oils were removed today by the government.

Settlements at several refineries, including the country's largest, put about 35,000 of the 90,000 strikers on the job today.

Red Planes Use New Tactics

TOKYO, May 23 (AP)—The newest U.S. jet ace said today Communist MIG 15s recently began to use a new foul-weather defence tactic that has proved effective against U.S. Sabre jets and bombers.

Col. Harrison R. Thng, commander of the Fourth Fighter Interceptor Wing, said the fast Russian-made MIGS are controlled by radar observers on the ground and dive out of heavy overcasts to strike Allied planes. Red pilots only recently began flying in bad weather, he added.

The colonel told a press conference MIG pilots are no longer trainees.

"They are using their best pilots in brand new planes," he declared.

Asked if some MIGS are manned by Russian pilots, Thyng replied:

"Some of the pilots may be Russians and possibly some of the boys are Polish or German—fighting for the pay. We have heard Russian used in exchanges between pilots—that's a known act."

Thyng shot down eight German planes in the Second World War and has destroyed five MIG's and damaged five in Korea.

Sale Delayed Ask For Bids

Sale of three city-owned lots on the south side of Braidwood Ave., to Donald Ephgrave at $10 a foot for $900 was held up by the council. They are the last of some 20 lots which the city had acquired in that vicinity.

Ald. T. D. Miller in moving the amendment to advertise them said he had no fault to find with the selling, but he suggested that it might be better procedure to invite bids on them.

City Clerk Outram gave the information that this property had been listed as building lot for some time. The amendment, seconded by Ald. S. J. Black, carried.

Similar procedure was proposed by Ald. Miller for the sale of a lot on the north side of Woodbine Ave. for which Floyd Curtis offered $300.

As to that property, City Clerk Outram said it involved considerable filling. The selling motion by Ald. H. T. Rehill was adopted.

Sense Of Humor, Give Help Keys To Good Living

A sense of humor plus a willingness to do something to help a neighbor is the "secret of good living," Batawa's good humor man, Art Duncan, told Peterborough Kinsmen Thursday night.

Speaking at the club's annual meeting, Mr. Duncan, who is Public Relations Director of the Bata Shoe Company of Canada, Ltd., said true humor comes from the facts of life and a sense of humor is an important part of daily living.

"When we lose our sense of humor, we lose something we can't regain," he said. "During the blitz, the people of the British Isles were still able to find a joke in their hardships when they were in the depths of chaos."

The brand of humor in this part of Ontario is a fusion of English, Irish and Scotch, said Mr. Duncan who is a master story-teller himself, and gave his audience a few samples of each variety to illustrate his point.

Switching to a more serious vein, Mr. Duncan said, "For the best in satisfied living, give your best to your club and watch it boom. If you want to get a kick out of life, don't try to live without doing a favor for the guy next to you."

"The purpose of all service clubs is to create a bigger and better citizenship for tomorrow," he continued. "With 480,000 potential new Canadians looking for examples of what constitutes good citizenship, Kinsmen, Rotarians, Kiwanians and Lions all have an obligation to bring these people into the community and develop them into good citizens."

Turning to some of the qualities of good citizenship, Mr. Duncan rapped what he termed an "inclination to be lazy minded." There are many conceptions of what it takes to make a good Canadian, but I would like to think the good Canadian takes time to read not only current topics but something he can grasp and hold on to. Before public libraries became so common, books were read from cover to cover, then passed on to neighbors. Now, the best books are readily available for five cents a month and we don't have time to read. Some are even too busy to read digests. They snatch up a picture magazine and glance through it while they travel by plane or train but gain nothing concrete of intellectual value. The fact is, literature has much to offer and we are missing the boat by not making use of it," he said.

Psychosomatic Ills Affects Many Patients

HAMILTON, May 23 — (CP) A Hamilton physician today told the 72nd annual Ontario Medical Association convention that of every 100 patients who come to his office, one in five is suffering from a psychosomatic disorder.

"This phychosomatic group is very common and most difficult to manage," Dr. F. L. Johnston said. His topic was "management of common Gynaecological condition in office practice."

"Their complaints are very bizarre and usually consist of pain or severe discomfort some place, such as, pain in the abdomen, backache, pain down the legs and so on," he said.

"They are just as sick and uncomfortable as if they had some definite pathological condition. We must be careful in not recommending surgery to this group as at best we will only substitute a new symptom for an old one."

All-Out Holiday Saturday In Most Centres

By The Canadian Press

Victoria Day will be celebrated Saturday in most Ontario cities, towns and villages, but at least two communities are saving the fireworks for Monday.

Some places are divided, with stores observing the holiday on Monday while industries and civic offices close on Saturday.

Kingston and the town of Paris will take the holiday Monday. Stores and some other businesses in Galt, Chatham and Peterborough will follow this lead but industries, banks and civic offices in these cities will observe the 24th.

The majority of centres, including Toronto, Sudbury, Owen Sound, Brantford, Brockville, Kitchener, and Waterloo, have called an all-out holiday for Saturday.

Major Mackness Home After Tour In Japan, Korea

A former Peterborough boy, Major Sam G. Mackness, has returned to his home in Port Stanlye from the Korean war. He spent 11 months in Korea and Japan.

Major Mackness is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mackness, Lock St., and was born and educated here. As a boy of 16 he joined the army in 1931, and will conclude 21 years of service in July.

Of his service in Korea and Japan, Maj. Mackness remembered Japan particularly as a place where people were friendly, thouh very formal. Of Korea, he said the climate was harsh, the people hungry and generally poverty stricken.

Maj. Mackness joined the permanent army in London, Ont., and was serving there when the Second World War broke out. He went overseas with the Royal Canadian Regiment, and in 1943 landed with that regiment on the Sicilian beaches as a lieutenant platoon commander.

Became Major

In 1944 he was returned to Canada as a captain attached to training schools, and soon after was made a major.

When the Korean war started, he was attached to the Special Force 25th Brigade and sent to Fort Lewis, U.S.A. In Japan, he served as an instructor and commanded a rotation leave camp.

What will happen when his 30-day leave ends—about June 11—he doesn't know, but he expects it will have something to do with training.

Committee Will Probe Conditions In Home

WELLAND, May 23 — (CP) — Three men and two women have been named by County Warden Paul E. Pietz to investigate charges of "disgraceful conditions" at the Welland County Home for the Aged.

Named to the committee were H. H. Kholl, Port Colborne manufacturer; Sheldon Delaney, Niagara Falls; Dr. L. W. C. Sturgeon, director of the Welland and District Health Unit; Mrs. S. B. Brush, of Ridgeville, secretary-treasurer, Welland County Women's Institutes; and Mrs. Oscar Teal, Fort Erie.

Training Lions Preferred Being Teacher

WINNIPEG—(CP)—Prof. George J. Keller trains pumas, lions and leopards for a circus wild animal act. He's appearing with the Shrine Circus, in a career that started 12 years ago on a prank.

The professor, then director of art for the Pennsylvania State Teachers' College, received a crate at his country home. On top of the crate was written: "Here Keller—train this."

Inside was a wild, full-grown mountain lion or puma. It was a prank from a college friend in Arizona. But Keller—"I had never seen a wild animal act in my life"—took the dare.

"He was vicious, but I worked on him all winter in the garage, I made him jump through a hoop and walk a tight-rope. Next spring a circus agent bought him."

That summer Prof. Keller purposely stayed away from wild animal acts (to date he has seen only his own) and trained two African lion cubs, a leopard and a puma in his backyard. He built the act up to seven cats and went on tour each summer.

Chose The Circus

In 1950, the Teachers' College gave its senior professor a two-year leave of absence to decide which course he would follow. Two months ago the professor resigned from the College.

Three times the 45-year-old professor has missed dying with his boots on. Both arms were broken two years ago.

His closest brush with death came one rainy night during an open-air performance.

Keller's wet hands slipped from a lions' teeth as he held the jaws open to put his head inside the animal's mouth. The mouth closed.

The lion didn't bite but held his trainer's head like a vise, cutting off his air supply. Keller fainted and fell limp. The lion dropped him "gentle as a kitten" and walked away.

Keller doesn't use a whip, gun or chair. He's one man in a cage with three African lions, one bengal tiger, three pumas, one jaguar, one cheetah, one leopard and a black panther (or freak black leopard.)

HE'S GOT "ROTATION BLUES"—Sgt. John Schrieber, of Philadelphia, Pa., is very much unimpressed by "Johnson's Rotation Plan." The "plan" named for company commander 1st Lt. B. E. Johnson, of Shawnee, Okla., stands in front of a tank company headquarters in Korea. Sergeant Schrieber says it just doesn't "rotate" because the wheel is nailed down.

Dachau Camp Tourist Mecca

DACHAU, Germany — (AP) — The horror that was Dachau concentration camp has become a rousing tourist attraction.

Foreign visitors scrawl their names on walls which still show the furrows dug by frantic fingernails.

Picture postcards are on sale near the compact and efficient furnaces which Nazi guards stoked with human bodies.

Volunteer guides hang around, eager to show "interesting points" of the camp where some 70,000 men and women fed the crematory.

The waiting room in which new prisoners cowered is a bright lobby. A visitor can buy a booklet and find out that, in all, 250,000 souls who offended the Third Reich were tattooed with Dachau numbers.

The Germans here don't like the tourist influx, but there's little they can do. A Dachau city official says, "That's a hot potato. We keep our hands off it, but we aren't pleased by this circus."

Germans are afraid that if they agitate for the camp's dismantlement, they would be accused of trying to erase what was left as a monument to evil.

"It would cause repercussions abroad if we tried to do anything," said an official. And a hard-boiled taxi driver grunted:

"The tourists would be disappointed if they didn't see something."

When advancing U.S. troops overran Dachau concentration camp in 1945, U.S. authorities decided to let it stand as a memorial.

It became a ghastly curio. During the early post-war years, visitors were relatively few.

Occupation troops visited it in hushed groups.

Then, as the gruesome novelty wore off, it became a regular stop on the tourist run. Chattering, curious voices ignore the ghosts of torment.

First stage in formation of coal deposits is peat, although peat itself is not coal.

Canada Missed Kingdom Status Due To U.S.

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON—(CP)—But for a British government that 85 years ago was fearful of offending the United States, Canada today might be known as a Kingdom.

The historic episode, which occurred at the time of confederation, is related by Montreal-born Sir Campbell Stuart, in his autobiography, "Opportunity Knocks Once."

The author, who at 33 became managing-director of The Times, refers to the incident in paying tribute to the late Prime Minister Sir Robert Borden for the part he played in Canada's march to Sovereign nationhood.

"As far back as 1867," he says, "Sir John Macdonald, Prime Minister of the day, asked the British government that Canada be styled a kingdom, but for fear of offending the United States the request was refused."

Fifty years later, Sir Robert Borden, on the subject of Monarchy, considered he was not serving a King of England but the King of Canada.

Developed Nationhood

Sir Robert never cared for public office as such but had been intent on developing Canadian nationhood—the mainspring of his life.

"No Prime Minister of Canada has done more for his country in this respect than Sir Robert," the author submits. "It was under his government that titles were dropped. And he was the originator of the Canadian diplomatic service in which he firmly believed."

Borden, he adds, failed to please all his Conservative colleagues and while not regarded as a successful politician had rated high as a statesman.

Sir Campbell recounts a story of a crowded, eventful life that has taken him from small beginnings. Among many posts of responsibility he has served as chairman of the Commonwealth Communications Council, vice-chairman of the British War Mission to the United States in 1918 and wartime director of propaganda in enemy countries.

He refers with pride to his United Empire Loyalist ancestry and the part his forbears played in moulding the religious, political and legal history of Canada.

His great-great grandfather, the Rev. John Stuart, who became known as the "Father of the Church of England in Canada," was closely linked with the early history of Kingston, Ont. Another great-great grandfather, Chief Justice William Smith, was responsible for the Constitutional Act of 1791 which divided the country into Upper and Lower Canada.

But he attributes much of his success to qualities inherited from his Canadian ancestors of French descent.

"I was brought up in a Conservative household where it was considered bad form to be a Liberal," Sir Campbell writes. "But had I lived in Canada in later life and had to choose between Mr. Bennett, (later Lord Bennett) the Conservative leader, and Mr. Mackenzie King, the Liberal leader, I would certainly have chosen the latter."

Paying tribute to the careers of outstanding Canadian contemporaries, Sir Campbell singles out New Brunswick's Max Aitken, the present Lord Beaverbrook, as "the most remarkable" Anglo-Canadian of his time.

Restore Church

LONDON — (CP)—St. Stephen's Church, built by Sir Christopher Wren and damaged by German bombs in 1941, has been restored. The wooden ribs formerly used in the Dome have been replaced by three rings which distribute the weight more evenly.

Good Samaritan

CHATHAM, England—(CP)—For the fifth year in succession, a visitor left presents on the doorstep of the Rev. L. J. Gillespie. The Vicar said: "As the visitor leaves no clue to his identity I cannot talk to him personally, but he has my sincere thanks."

Brothers Run Farms Along Co-op Lines

TRURO, N.S. — (CP) — Amos Yuill had no trobule keeping his sons on the farm.

Five of them—Seymour, Carl, Charlie, Isaac, and Jack—have settled at nearby old barns, four of them on adjoining farms and the other as hort distance away.

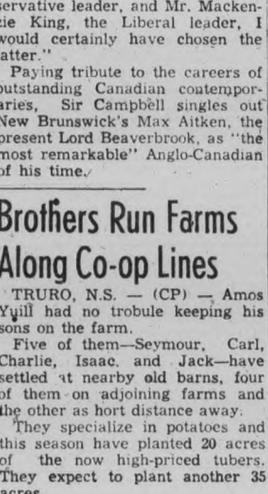
They specialize in potatoes and this season have planted 20 acres of the now high-priced tubers. They expect to plant another 35 acres.

Last year the Yuills planted 55 acres, with an output of close to 15,000 bushels. This year, with prices up, they plan no additional acreage, although with a good season they expect a crop equal to last year's.

Three other brothers are living in the United States. Six girls are married and are all living away from home.

The work on the five farms is done on a co-operative basis, with all five farmers working one farm at a time. Machinery is also bought on a co-operative basis.

Each farmer does mixed farming to a certain degree. They each own a herd of 20 or more cattle and ship cream to Truro daily. But each counts his success in any one year, on the success or failure of the potato crop.

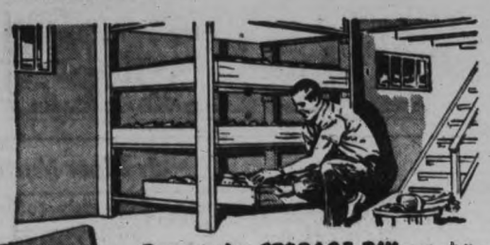


PINAY'S PARTY GAINS — Incomplete returns of French senatorial elections indicate that the right-wing government of Premier Antine Pinay, above, gains new strength at expense of Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Rally of the French People party. This indicates further popular support of Pinay's economic stabilization policies.

AROUND the HOME

TISSUE CONTAINER

A fancy candy box can be easily transformed into a neat TISSUE CONTAINER. Just cut a strip across the top with a razor blade, and cut out a half circle.



For an airy STORAGE BIN, with sliding shelves, for fruits and vegetables—build 3" out from the wall. Uprights are 2 x 4 and runners 1 x 2. The sliding trays are 3" x 30" x 60". Slat bottoms are best, one inch apart for air.

You'll find more useful little ideas like these in the booklet "Around the Home Again". Write for your copy to Molson's (Ontario) Limited, P. O. Box 490, Adelaide St. Station, Toronto.

Many POW's Slain Inside Compound By Red Comrades

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, May 26. (AP)—United Nations hospital officials said today that Communist prisoners of war have killed more of their own number than have Allied guards in suppressing three P.O.W. riots. Camp officials concede they do not have control inside the barbed-wire enclosures. Red leaders have organized prisoners into a disciplined army equipped with stones, clubs and weapons fashioned from cans and metal bars. They also have pistols and rifles seized from guards in riots or bought from civilians.

At least 115 prisoners have died from beatings, hangings or torture in clashes between die-hard Communists and anti-Communists within the enclosures, hospital records show.

Guards suppressing three riots in this U.N. P.O.W. camp killed 97.

Lt.-Col. S. M. Gelenger, head of the hospital, said bodies of prisoners slain within the compounds often are not recovered for days.

One prisoner found dead had been buried alive.

Missed Opportunity

Brig.-Gen. Haydon L. Boatner said the P.O.W.'s could have captured the island about two weeks ago had they wanted to. They still are forging weapons but the time has passed when they could gain control outside their compounds, he told Canadian and British troops who arrived to take up guard duties.

The United States 64th Field Hospital was established on Koje July 2. Its records show 415 prisoners deaths—115 from P.O.W. brutality, 122 from gunshot wounds and 178 from natural causes.

There are 689 prisoner graves in Koje cemetery but records of deaths before July 2 are not available.

In one incident last September a P.O.W. court tried, convicted and executed 15 prisoners. Nine bodies had been buried before camp officials learned of the killings.

Have Own Doctors

The Reds have their own doctors and medical aides inside many of the compounds and insist on treating their own injured.

The separation of anti-Communists from prisoners favoring Red rule has somewhat reduced prisoner brutality. But many anti-Reds are still inside the compounds.

General Boatner told the combat-wise Canadian and British troops that U.N. guards now could control prisoners outside the island's 17 P.O.W. compounds.

Each compound holds 5,000 to 6,000 prisoners. But within two weeks the Reds will be divided into groups of 500 in new, smaller compounds;

In the larger groups the Reds can't be controlled "if they don't want to be controlled";

Used Weapons

In several riots the prisoners used ax handles, clubs, spears, barbed-wire flails and other weapons.

C Company of the Royal Canadian Regiment and one from the King's Shropshire Light Infantry arrived Sunday. They will take up guard duties after about a week of training.

Some camp authorities said the P.O.W.s now have pistols and rifles—seized in riots or bought from civilians. Within each compound the Reds have a well-organized military system. Each enclosure is divided into a battalion, companies and platoons, strict military discipline prevails. The Communist leaders drill their men—even hold small-scale

Airman Killed In Collision, Four Injured

An 18-year-old R.C.A.F. airman from Uplands was killed almost instantly Friday night and four other people were injured in a two-car crash four miles east of Peterborough on Highway 7.

The dead airman is Ronald Joseph MacDonald, of Sydney Mines, Nova Scotia, stationed at Uplands. He sustained severe chest injuries and a fractured skull.

Others injured and in hospital are:

Allan Keys, 33, of Hamilton St., Ottawa, a fractured left knee cap, cuts and bruises. He is in St. Joseph's Hospital and his condition today is good.

Mrs. Mabel McLaren, 46, of 16 Dartnell St., Toronto, cuts on the forehead and bruises on her body.

Nicolo Dirico, 54, of 70 Tyrell Ave., Toronto, a deep gash on his chin.

Condition Good

Both Dirico and Mrs. McLaren are in Civic Hospital and their condition is good. The driver of the car in which they were passengers was Ralph McLaren, 30, husband of Mrs. McLaren, who received only minor injuries and was not admitted to hospital. A cut over his right eyebrow required several stitches and both legs were cut and bruised.

MacDonald was a passenger in the westbound car, driven by Keys. Somehow the car went out of control, swerved over to the left side of the highway and McLaren's eastbound car struck it on the right side. The impact killed McDonald almost instantly.

Ambulances took the injured to hospital.

"I saw this car going west," McLaren told police Friday night. "Suddenly it cut right in front of me. There was a flash of lights and then we hit."

Both vehicles were badly damaged.

O.P.P. Constables James Plumtree and Jack Ricard investigated. R.C.A.F. officers at Uplands are notifying MacDonald's next of kin.

Chinese Make Stronger Attack

SEOUL, Korea, May 26—(AP)—United Nations' troops today threw back a change-of-pace assault by two reinforced Chinese companies on the Korean western front. The United States Eighth Army said they killed or wounded more than 100 attacking Reds in a furious five-hour fight.

It was the first time in weeks that the Reds had struck in greater than platoon strength.

A Chinese company normally contains about 150 men. No estimate was made of the number in the reinforced companies.

The Army gave this account:

The Reds opened the assault with an artillery and mortar barrage on three U.N.-held hills west of Chorwon one-half hour before midnight Sunday. Shortly after midnight, the Reds drove on an advance U.N. position from two sides. Allied reinforcements finally smashed through to the outpost. U.N. artillery and mortar fire kept the Reds from overrunning the outpost until help arrived.

Motorboat Upsets Three Men Rescued

BARRIE, May 26 (CP).—Three Guelph men were rescued from the stormy waters of Lake Simcoe 10 minutes after their outboard motorboat overturned.

R. McMahon, 42, W. Sauer, 41, and H. Broeckel, 44, were participating in the Barrie Chamber of Commerce annual lake trout derby.

Three other men who had put their boat away noticed the plight of the trio, reattached the motor to their craft, and sped to the rescue. Cliff Carley, operator of a boathouse, and his son, also went to help and the five were able to pull the Guelph men to safety.

McMahon, unable to swim, was buoyed up by a life preserver. Although some of their fishing gear was lost, the men were able to find a wallet containing $70 which had also been lost.

Fire Canadian Staff UTW Union

Say Red Leadership Charges Present "Serious Problem"

MONTREAL, May 26. (CP)—The United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.) today announced dismissal of its entire Canadian staff of 10 men and two women.

Lloyd Klenert, the union's secretary-treasurer, announced the dismissals and said charges of Communist leadership of the union's Canadian branch have presented a "serious problem."

"I am convinced now these charges were well founded," he said in a statement issued at a press conference. "The situation has been climaxed by the irresponsible and disastrous leadership of the strike now in its 10th week at the plants of Dominion Textile Limited, in Montreal, and of Montreal Cottons Limited, in Valleyfield, Que.

"As a result of political leadership of a legitimate trade union dispute, thousands of families are suffering hardship, hunger and fear."

Acted On Instructions

Mr. Klenert said firing of the Canadian staff which controlled 15,000 U.T.W.A. members in Canada was carried out on instructions of Anthony Valente, the union's international president, and the executive council.

Dismissed were:

Kent Rowley, Canadian director, and Madeleine Parent, secretary-treasurer, both Montrealers; Charles Lipton, Edouard Gauthier, Guy Joannette, Montreal organizers; Conrad Leblanc, Valleyfield, Que.; organizers John Holwecki, Windsor, organizer; Vernon Mustard, Welland, organizer; George Beckett, Yarmouth, N.S., organizer; Gilles Henault of Montreal, publicity director; Charlotte Gauthier of Montreal, office secretary.

Klenert announced that Sam Baron, former Canadian director of the Textile Workers' Union of America (C.I.O.), will become Canadian director of the rival U.T.W.A.

Roger Provost, president of the Quebec Federation of Labor, which is affiliated with the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress and the A.F.L., becomes Quebec director of the U.T.W.A.

Without Effect

Rowley, described today as "completely without effect" the dismissal of the U.T.W.A. staff.

He said the future of the U.T.W.A.'s officers in Canada can be decided only by the Canadian Textile Council, made up of U.T.W.A. locals in Canada.

Higher Standard For Teachers

TORONTO, May 26 (CP) — Dr. W. J. Dunlop, minister of education, says that higher standards and more rigorous training for school teachers in Ontario will go into effect in September, 1953.

He said Friday that candidates for Normal schools—to be called Teachers' Colleges—will have two choices:

A one-year course at Teachers' College, with an interim first class certificate, will require standing in eight senior matriculation papers, including one English paper. Present requirement is five subpects, including English.

A two-year course for the same certificate will require a grade 12 graduation diploma.

Early Voting Light In Ont. By-Election

OSHAWA, May 26 (CP) —Despite sunny skies, voting in today's federal by-electino in Ontario Riding was light up to noon. Observers said many of the eligible voters were at their jobs in industrial plants while the housewives were probably busy with their Monday washing.

The seat was left vacant last fall by the resignation of Walter Thomson to lead the Ontario Liberal party in the provincial general election. Liberal, Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. candidates are contesting it.

Ottawa Officials Unhappy Canadians Sent To Koje

OTTAWA, May 26—(CP)—Official circles here are not happy about the posting of a Canadian paratroop company to Koje Island prisoner-of-war camp in Korea.

A statement on the situation was under study in Cabinet circles this morning and may be given to the Commons this afternoon.

It is doubtful, however, that it will reflect the unhappiness officials express privately.

The main root of this feeling is the belief that the Americans have handled the Koje and prisoner situation badly and that Canada, Britain and Greece now are being brought in to share the responsibility and the effects.

It is understood that Ottawa was informed before a company from the 1st Battalion Royal Canadian Regiment, was dispatched to Koje but that the warning came relatively late and left little chance for anything but acceptance. The company is commanded by Maj. E. L. Cohen of Brockville, Ont.

It is also noted that Canada has traditionally been against superior foreign commands detaching part of a large Canadian force to do specific jobs as has been done in this case.

Tanker, Barge Collide, 2 Die, 6 Missing

WILMINGTON, Del., May 26 — (AP). — A tanker loaded with crude oil and a gasoline-laden barge collided in a driving rain on the Delaware River 15 miles south of here Sunday night. Both exploded in flames.

Two men were reported dead, six missing and one injured crew member was suffering from shock.

There were 39 survivors from the collision between the 10,441-ton tanker Michael and the 1,162-ton barge, A. C. Dodge.

Hours after the collision near Reedy Island, orange flames and thick black smoke covered the surface of the water and filled the sky over a half-mile area.

The Michael drifted to the New Jersey shore and ran up on a beach. The smaller craft was almost submerged. A few minor explosions were heard from the Dodge.

Only Barge Survivor

Sjur Tellefsen, 29, so far is the only survivor from the barge.

Tellefsen said he believed one of the dead men, neither of whom was immediately identified, jumped from the tanker. One man nude except for the life jacket which kept him afloat, died minutes after he was picked up by rescuers. He was believed to be a crew members from the Dodge.

There was no immediate word of the fate of the other six men aboard the Dodge.

Two Missing

The Michael, bound for Paulsboro, N.J., from Persia with a crew of 40, reported two men missing.

The collision was the third such tragedy within 10 days in this busy shipping area. On May 15, two ships collided and burned in the nearby Delaware and Chesa-

Germans Sign Defence Pact With West, Ignore Russians

BONN, Germany, May 26. (AP)—The Allied-West German peace contract to ally West Germany with the free world was ceremoniously signed today by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the foreign ministers of Britain, the United States and France. As a silent crowd of several hundred Germans stood roped off in the rain outside the West German Parliament Building, the four men put their pens to the historic pact in the Bundesratsaal, the chamber of the Upper House. About 500 spectators watched inside the room.

The peace contract, which faces high parliamentary hurdles before ratification can make it effective, gives West Germany near-sovereignty in exchange for German troops in the projected European army.

It was signed by Adenauer, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain, State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States, and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France.

Speak Briefly

Adenauer and the three western ministers spoke briefly before they signed.

The chancellor hailed the peace contract as a work which will "help preserve the peace and freedom of the whole world," but "only a part of a work which will be completed Tuesday in Paris when we sign the European defence community treaty."

"The completed work will secure peace and freedom for Ger-

Ford Workers Idle As Plant Picketed

WINDSOR, May 26 (CP)—Almost the entire working force of Ford of Canada was idle today as the strike of 900 office workers went into its second week.

Only a few maintenance men and plant security officers were on duty at the 55-acre plant which employs 13,000 men.

The policy committee of Local 240, the United Auto Workers' (C.I.O.-C.C.L.)—the local represents the striking office workers—met during the weekend and reaffirmed its decision to picket the Ford plant gates.

Plant picketing is the cause of the shutdown since Ford production workers—members of U.A.W. Local 200—have refused to cross lines set up by the sister local.

Lakefield Lad Dies On Way To City Hospital

LAKEFIELD, May 26. (Staff)—An over-realistic game of cowboys and Indians resulted in death late Sunday afternoon for 11-year-old Richard Strasser of Lakefield. He was shot through the forehead by his brother Albert, 13, after a 15-minute sniping battle in the old Canada Cement Co. quarry, three-quarters of a mile east of the village. Guns used by the two boys had previously been stolen from the Kawartha Hardware, Friday night.

The .22-calibre bullet struck Richard in the head and he died while being taken to hospital in Peterborough by Dr. Lloyd Bailey of Lakefield.

Unaware of how serious the wound was, his brother, Albert, dragged him for more than 50 feet over the muddy ground in the quarry to a pool of water. There Albert tried to wash the blood away from his forehead.

Albert appeared before Magistrate W. R. Philp today and was charged under the Juvenile Delinquents Act.

Hide Rifles

The two boys set out early Sunday afternoon, ostensibly on a fishing trip, but they secreted the two rifles with them. Avid readers of wild-west comic books they decided on a game of cowboys and Indians. The younger boy, Richard, stationed himself behind a large stone by a cattle path in the quarry amphitheatre. Albert, 150 feet away, was behind a hummock on the floor of the quarry.

They sniped away at each other for about 15 minutes before Richard exposed himself to his brother's line of fire once too often. The bullet knocked him unconscious immediately.

Two other 'teen-agers—Adrian Webb and Bob Henderson of Lakefield—had previously warned them to stop shooting at each other. Webb and Henderson were out on a Sunday hike and noticed the boys blazing away at each other in the quarry.

Ran For Help

The two boys were in the vicinity when the fatal shooting occurred. They ran to the home of Webb's' father, William Webb, a quarter of a mile away, and Mr. Webb called Dr. Lloyd Bailey of Lakefield. Together the men carried young Strasser, nearly a mile, to Dr. Bailey's car.

He died while being taken to hospital.

Stolen Friday

Three .22 calibre rifles were stolen Friday night from the Kawartha Hardware in Lakefield. The store, owned by Archie Stewart, is being remodelled. A grating, flush with the sidewalk, was shifted and that is how the thieves got entry.

While being questioned by O.P.P. Corporal Jack Munro and Constable Jack Cawood, Albert produced one gun from a woodpile on his father's property,

Borderers Pipe Retreat Near Korean Front Lines

WITH COMMONWEALTH DIVISION, Korea, May 26 (AP) —The wild cry of the Scottish bagpipes fought against the thunder of northbound jets today as the kilted band of the Kings Own Scottish Borderers piped retreat only a few miles from the Korean front lines.

It was a colorful, precise performance. Young Scots from the most-decorated British Battle unit in Korea shouted and whirled in the light-footed Highland Fling.

In the distance, artillery rumbled and the sound carried back to the carefree Scots.

The band, wearing the Royal Stuart tartan, entertained visiting United States soldiers with snappy marches and slow laments. A few puzzled Koreans eavesdropped.

The show was topped by an ancient lament, bemoaning the 15th-century slaughter of the "flowers of the forest"—the cream of Scottish manhood—in fights for Scotland's independence.

But soon the bare-kneed Scots were swirling their kilts and marching briskly down an impromptu parade ground, piping their regimental march.

"It made me a little homesick," said Pipe-Major Donald MacKinnon. "My old grandmother was a piper on the Isle of Skye."

The 37-year-old Scot, whose wife and two sons live in Berwick-on-Tweed, was a fighter pilot in the Second World War.

MacKinnon and the Borderers have been in Korea about 13 months. Their battle record is superb. The men have not been home for almost three years. Their last duty station was in Hong Kong.

Queen Mary Celebrates 85th Birthday

LONDON, May 26—(CP)—Queen Mary, who has seen six reigns, two world wars and vast social changes in a lifetime spanning the Victorian, Edwardian nad Georgian periods, celebrated her 85th birthday today.

Guns boomed out their salutes and letters, telegrams, greeting cards and parcels arrived at Marlborough House, bringing greetings to the woman who has become known as the "Grand Old Lady" of Britain and the Commonwealth.

There was no official birthday party for the indomitable Queen. For the first time in many years, she did not drive from her home in Marlborough House to Buckingham Palace for the usual luncheon party arranged since the end of the Second World War by her late son.

Instead her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren gathered under her roof to pay homage to the erect and sometimes stern-seeming Queen who taught each in turn the meaning of Sovereignty.

Held In Affection

Through the years since her marriage in 1893, Queen Mary has taken an increasingly firm hold in the affections of the people, overcoming some early criticism of her action in marrying George V—brother of the Duke of Clarence, to whom she had been engaged before the latter's death.

Now, as The Times says in an editorial today, the woman who has surpassed the years of all the Kings and Queens in English history is beloved by everyone, having helped to create the modern conception of the Royal family "as the representation of the family life of the nation, as all would wish it to be lived."

Since the King's death, Queen Mary has allowed the pace of her life to slacken only slightly. She

Troops To Move After A-Blast

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 26 — (AP). — United States Army troops will jump from their fox holes and move toward Ground Zero only a few seconds after the next atomic test blast.

It will be the first time troops have moved in so quickly, the Army said Sunday after the sixth and brightest of the spring detonations at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada proving ground.

The next explosion, on a date to be announced, will involve 1,500 troops. Sunday 1,000 troops and 600 military observers moved in "shortly" after the blast to observe its effect on equipment. They were stationed an estimated 7,000 yards away.

The blast was not heard nor did it produce shock waves in Las Vegas, 65 miles away. But its brilliance lit up Las Vegas and dogs yelped 7½ minutes after the blast. Apparently the dogs felt of heard something beyond the reach of humans.

Helicopter Catches Division Speeders

WITH COMMONWEALTH DIVISION, Korea, May 26 (AP) —A soldier of the Commonwealth division found it pays to look in all directions—including up— before speeding in the division zone.

The soldier was bustling along the road in a jeep at considerably faster than the posted speed limit when a helicopter descended and the occupant waved him to a halt.

Out stepped the 1st corps commander, Lt.-Gen. John W. (Iron Mike) O'Daniel. He took the soldier's name and wrote out a speeding ticket on a blank sheet of paper while standing beneath the whirlblades of the 'copter.

Telegraph Strike Ended; New Agreement

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) —The 52-day Western Union strike ended today and workers flocked back to the telegraph offices across the United States.

Union and company officials expected the flow of messages to return to normal quickly.

The official end of the strike came at 12:01 a.m. local time after the Commercial Telegraphers' Union (A.F.L.) announced that its Western Union membership had voted 8,685 to 5,468 to accept a settlement.

Pay raises or reduction of working hours provided for under the ratified agreement are dependent on government permission for Western Union to raise its rates. Union officials said they understand the company may ask the Federal Communications Commission for rate increases of 10 per cent. W.U. officials have not said how much of a boost they need to meet the proposed pay increases.

Pledge Support

The union agreed to support Western Union's application for higher rates.

The union said the new agreement would raise the average workers earnings to $1.54 an hour except for messengers. Messengers would get an average of 83 cents an hour. The company said the agreement would raise the average pay of all its employees to $1.73 an hour.

Just how much the strike closed down Western Union operations was not clear. The company kept open most of its offices, with services restricted according to each local strike situation.

Resume Meetings With Red Delegates

MUNSAN, Korea, May 26 (AP)— United Nations' truce delegates return to Panmunjom Tuesday to learn if a three-day cooling-off recess has cracked the Communist stand on war-prisoner exchange.

The explosive issue alone blocks an armistice in Korea.

The Communists demand all their captured soldiers back. But the U.N. command says no prisoner will be forcibly returned to the Reds. It says an Allied screening showed only 70,000 to 169,000 Red prisoners of war and internees want to go back to Communist areas.

Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, new Allied delegate, said the Reds still may be determined "to delay or reject an armistice."

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office at 9:30 a.m. today:

Synopsis:

Quebec and the New England states are now enjoying cool dark rainy weather which swept over Ontario last weekend. As though to begin afresh, the weather for Monday began sunny and mild in nearly all forecast regions and will continue during Tuesday. The only change will be in northern regions where cooler air has already moved as far south as the North Bay area. Temperatures will be more nearly normal in the north where abnormally high temperatures have been registered during the past week.

A slow moving disturbance in Southern Saskatchewan which is bringing welcome rain to the prairies will not reach any of our regions during Tuesday.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Tuesday:

Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario, Georgian Bay, Niagara, Haliburton regions: Windsor, London, Hamilton, Toronto cities:

Sunny today and Tuesday. Little change in temperature. Winds north 15 today, light tonight and Tuesday. Low tonight and high Tuesday at Windsor 45 and 75, St. Thomas 45 and 70; London and Wingham 40 and 70; Toronto 45 and 65, Trenton, Muskoka, Killaloe, Hamilton and St. Catharines 40 and 65.

Emergency Act Extension Asked

OTTAWA, May 26 — (CP). — The government today will ask Parliament for a one-year extension of the Emergency Powers Act and a two-year extension of power to impose consumer credit restrictions.

Under the Emergency Powers Act, the government can take any action necessary in a national emergency. However, Parliament must be satisfied first that such an emergency exists.

The Act, similar to the War Measures Act of the Second World War, expires Saturday. It gives the government practically unlimited powers in a national emergency. Last year it was used to straighten out the transportation bottleneck in grain shipments.

Consumer - credit restrictions were lifted earlier this month, but the government wants to retain power to reimpose them until July 31, 1954. The measure was passed by Parliament in the fall of 1950 to help curb inflation.

many," he continued. "And here today we Germans also think of our brothers in the east (Soviet zone). We send them our greetings and our deepest assurances that this work is the first step toward the reunification of all Germany in peace and freedom."

Across the iron curtain Pravda, the Moscow mouthpiece of East Germany's Russian Communist controllers, saluted the pact with another blast at the "fatal, anti-national policy of the Bonn Government of Adenauer which is trying to transform the Germans into cannon fodder for the American imperialists."

Eden was the first to sign the contract, followed by Schuman and Acheson. Last came Adenauer, who through eight months of negotiations has fought to regain his vanquished country's place in Europe and to align it with the western world.

Ignore Russ Demand

The four ministers completed the contract Sunday after long hours of negotiations to overcome 11th-hour French objections.

In doing so they ignored a new Russian demand Sunday —, the third in three months—for a four-power conference to write a peace treaty for a united and "completely-sovereign" Germany. But observers here thought the new Russian note would strengthen the hand of powerful opponents of the peace contract in Germany, France and Britain.

Before it takes effect, the west's contract must be ratified by the U.S. Congress and the Parliaments of the other three countries. Ratification will mean long and bitter debate, especially in Bonn and Paris, where there is strong opposition.

Don't Believe The Accused Says Magistrate

In fining Jack Nurse, 18, 1 Lansdowne St., today, for careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident, Magistrate W. R. Philp said, "I don't believe the accused and place no confidence in his evidence whatsoever."

Nurse was fined $25 and $14 costs for careless driving and $25 and $2.50 costs for leaving the scene of an accident on George St., the early morning of May 17.

George Sabourin, 271 William St., said he was backing out of a driveway between Rink and Perry Sts. He said he looked before backing out and could see no southbound traffic.

Claire Heard, 79 Stewart St., said he was on a motorcycle at Perry St., and saw the accident occur. "He was driving close to 70," Mr. Heard said. The car weaved to one side as if to pass, then passed on the curb side of the car that had backed out of the alley, he said. It went up on the curb, sideswiped Sabourin's car and rocked from side to side and swerved to the east, then the west side of the street for nearly two blocks before it was brought back under control according to Mr. Heard.

Another motorcyclist, Fred Hill, who saw the accident placed Nurse's speed at about 60 miles an hour.

Both men gave chase on their motorcycles, with Mr. Sabourin also in pursuit and Nurse stopped his car just west of the Locks Bridge on Lansdowne St., when the back tire blew out.

He said he did not know he had been in an accident and was only going about 30 at the time. Nurse pleaded not guilty to both charges and was defended by Trevor Clarke.

Union Leader Arrested Again

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, May 26 (Reuters)—Police took union leader Solly Sachs into custody again today as he addressed a crowd from the steps of city hall. The scene also led to his arrest Saturday.

There was no repeat of the violence between police and demonstrators which Saturday sent 38 workers to hospital for treatment.

The workers—mostly white—remained orderly. Police were nowhere in sight.

Sachs had just come from a court appearance. He was remanded on bail until June 9 on the charge under the Suppression of Communism Act. He had denounced Prime Minister Daniel Malan's government.

Meanwhile thousands of white and colored members of the garment workers union, which Sachs heads, went on strike in protest against the government order listing Sachs as a Communist and demanding his resignation.

Stock Market Prices Show Few Changes

TORONTO, May 26 — (CP). — Early afternoon stock market prices today showed few changes in slow dealings.

Industrial dealings remained in a widely-scattered list of selected leading issues. A few secondary golds and lower-priced metals and oils attracted speculative interest but turnovers were moderate. Volume for the first three hours was 924,000 shares.

Utilities posted a few fractional advances to form industrials' strongest section. Steels, constructions, liquors, banks and retail stores held gains and losses in balance, but papers, refining oils and miscellaneous issues slipped.

Base metal leaders were firm, but lower-priced issues showed a majority of moderate declines. Labrador, Mindamar, Noranda, Ontario Pyrites and United Asbestos pushed upward.

Western oils eased. Husky, Jupiter, Okalta, Trans Empire, Western Leaseholds and Scurry dipped. General Petroleum A and Security Free were firm.

Senior golds sagged. Dome, McIntyre, and Wright-Hargreaves posted losses ranging to about 75 cents. Secondary issues were steady.

Tellifsen told rescuers he was sleeping below decks on the barge when the collision occurred.

"I didn't wait to find out what the trouble was," he said. "I jumped out the nearest porthole and swam until I reached a buoy.

"There were flames all around and I could see other men floating and swimming in the water but I was unable to help them. Pretty soon a tug saw me on the buoy and picked me up."

Tellifsen said his barge, captained by John D. Elliott of Collingsdale, Pa., carried 16,500 barrels of gasoline and was bound from Camden, N.J., to Baltimore.

Mrs. Thomas Texis, who operates the Augustine Beach Hotel said although the ship was a mile offshore "we could hear the crackle of the flames."

military tactics using dummy rifles or clubs for mock bayonet drill.

It also is expected that the prisoners have stocks of gasoline useful for making fire-bombs—known in the Second World War as Molotov Cocktails. Witnesses have said eight or nine large drums of gasoline were moved into compound 76 two weeks ago while its members held a United States general hostage. The prisoners were reported to have demanded the fuel during negotiations for release of the officer, former Brig-Gen. Francis T. Dodd.

Supply Cut Off

The supply of gasoline was shut off to most compounds four or five days ago. The P.O.W.s were told to use wood or coal. But one compound commander said as far as he knew the prisoners under his command were still getting gasoline.

Whether the Reds will submit peacefully to being divided into smaller, easier-controlled groups remains to be seen.

But Boatner warned the Canadian and British troops that they should do nothing to prisoners that would have a bad effect on the Korean armistice talks.

"We don't want to kill prisoners," he said. "We don't want to kill one person. It is a cruel and cowardly thing to kill a man you have in your power."

The camp commandant, however, did not rule out the possibility of trouble with prisoners. While he cautioned against shooting, Boatner said that if it became necessary to use force guards would "slash them (P.O.W.s), use the rifle butt or your knee in his groin."

Red-inspired riots on Koje have cost 102 lives, including one U.S. guard.

Charge Bookie Ring At Harbord Collegiate

TORONTO, May 26— (CP). — A Toronto paper says today that "a well-organized student bookmaking syndicate is operating at Harbord Collegiate."

Its newspage story says 15 to 20 student "bookies" working in rotating shifts are making tidy profits from the nickel, dime and quarter wagers of as many as 500 teen-age horse players at the High School, located on the western fringe of Toronto's main business section.

"The horse betting has involved almost every form in the school with the exception of the 'First Form kids' since the local racing season opened at Dufferin May 1."

BRANTFORD, May 21 (CP) — James Edward Acker, 21, and Doreen Allen, 19, both of Hamilton, today were reported in "fairly good" and "satisfactory" condition respectively in hospital here.

The couple was pinned in a wrecked car for an hour and a half Saturday after it skidded off the slippery No. 2 Highway near Langford and crashed into a tree.

Rescuers used hacksaws to cut the roof of the overturned car and free the couple.

OBITUARIES

RICHARD S. PATTEN

Richard Samuel Patten, 69, of Havelock, a farmer and resident of this district all his life, died in hospital Sunday after a long illness.

A son of the late John Patten and Ellen Lillico, he was born in North Monaghan township, and farmed their until he became ill in February, 1951.

Surviving are one son, Harry, of Douro, a sister, Mrs. M. McClelland (Merton), of Toronto, and two brothers, Wallace of Toronto, and Bert of North Monaghan. There are seven grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Comstock funeral home, Col. Harold C. Ritchie, of the Salvation Army, officiating. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

ROBERT McMULLEN

Bethany, May 26 (ENS)—Robert McMullen, son of pioneer settlers of the Bethany district, died Saturday at the home of his niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. William Rowan, in his 90th year.

He had been in failing health for some time.

His parents were David McMullen and Mary McMahon. Mr. McMullen was born on the farm and lived there and worked the farm after his parents died until about 20 years ago when he retired. The farm was on the edge of Bethany.

In the old Methodist church, Mr. McMullen was very active in the church and the Sunday school. At the time of his death, he was an elder in the Bethany United Church.

The funeral service will be Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rowan. The Rev. James Hampson will officiate. Burial will be in Graham's cemetery.

Coal Stockpile Assure Britons Warmer Winter

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON —(CP)—For the first time in years Britain faces the happy prospect of piling up sufficient coal reserves to keep the home fires burning more constantly next winter.

Reviewing the current position, the National Coal Board reports that distributed coal stocks now amount to more than 13,000,000 tons, compared with 9,500,000 a year ago.

If high output can be maintained through the summer, the Board says, it is hoped stocks can be built up to a level which should enable the country to face the winter without the fear of a crisis.

The welcome news comes as a morale-booster to a country which has undergone a long siege of heat, gas and power rationing because of steadily declining coal production.

Simultaneously, it was announced that not only were dimout regulations at an end but permission has been granted for the floodlighting this summer of some of London's public buildings and historic monuments during hours of darkness.

More Manpower

Latest figures also show that the manpower situation in the mines has improved with a labor force at present totalling about 715,000, highest since September, 1949. During the first four months of the year the net increase was 6,250 men. But a more hopeful feature from the long-term aspect was the net gain during the same period of some 9,500 young recruits for the miners' training schools.

Previously, the manpower situation has shown a progressive decline with efforts to entice young men into the industry meeting discouraging response against the competition of more attractive employment.

The survey reveals that during the first 17 weeks of 1952 the total coal production amounted to 75,288,400 tons, an increase of nearly 750,000 tons over the corresponding period last year. Furthermore, the current boost was due entirely to a production output in a normal, five-day week. Production from Saturday workings actually showed a decline of some 670,000 tons.

The higher production figures this year, combined with reduced requirements for stock replenishment has shot up exports to 3,300,000 tons, against 1,915,000 tons for the same period in 1951. The export volume, however, is still far below expectations in face of Europe's over-all coal deficit of more than 20,000,000 tons a year.

Negroes Bitter At U.K. Status

LONDON — (CP) — Britain's thousands of negroes "belong vaguely, if beautifully, to the country," says a research scholar now studying the negro's status in the United Kingdom.

Dr. Ruth Landes, formerly of Columbia University and now a Fulbright Senior Research Scholar, said in an address to the Anthropological Institute she is convinced there is a newly-aroused bitterness among negroes over what they regard as the "naked exposure of their second-class status."

Factors causing this feeling, she said, included South African legislation and discussion on the Federation of Southern Rhodesia, Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

The Negro problem was not clear-cut in Britain. There was confusion among both whites and negroes, but there was a growing impression for negroes to say: "Yeah, there's freedom in Britain, but a man don't have a chance."

Dr. Landes said that everywhere she found that Britons, and especially the English, resented the sight of a negro in company with a white woman. Many felt that an alien man was being admitted to a closed society, and that the woman had violated her social trust.

Try Crossing Atlantic Without Food

MONTE CARLO, May 26 (AP)— Two men set out Sunday to cross the Atlantic Ocean in a tiny rubber life raft which carries not an ounce of food. Their purpose is to prove that shipwreck victims or downed airmen can live on the food and water of the sea.

Dr. Alin Bombard of France is head of the tiny expedition. With him is Jack Palmer, a native of Chiswick, England, but now a naturalized citizen of Panama. The raft, 16 feet long and seven feet wide and named "L'Heretique" (The Heretic), was towed out into the Mediterranean before dawn Sunday and cast adrift 10 miles from shore.

Equipment aboard includes a sail two pairs of oars, a radio transmitter, two cameras, 3,000 yards of film and a harpoon. The two men expect to live on fish and whatever sea plant life they can collect. For water, they will use a mixture of the liquid squeezed from harpooned fish and sea water. They expect to make their first landfall at Gibraltar in three to four weeks and then drift on across the Atlantic to the West Indies. Their only power is the sail and the oars.

Urges Canadians Fly Flag To Lure Tourists

WINDSOR, May 26 — (CP). — Resources Minister Winters suggested today that Canadians fly their flag more often as a means of attracting more American dollars.

"They like its stirring reminder that they have indeed come on foreign soil," he said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Essex County Tourist Association.

The tourist industry had to consider the whole flavor of a Canadian vacation, to make it more distinctive, to make it "different" from life at home in the United States.

The tourist industry, he said, is big business, running to about $250,000,000 a year, yet many Canadians "have nursed a misconception about tourist likes and dislikes."

Two Bombers Collide Four Bodies Found

NORFOLK, Va., May 26 (AP)— A B-45 four-engined jet bomber and another plane collided in flight and crashed three miles east of Franklin today, police reported. Franklin is about 40 miles southwest of here.

Four bodies were found, police said. They reported the second plane was believed also to have been a B-45.

Want Churches To Change Wording Of Lord's Prayer

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—A move to get Protestant churches to change part of the wording of the Lord's Prayer was iniated today.

The plan, approved after debate at the 164th annual general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, would replace the word, "debts" or "trespasses" in the prayer, with the word "sins."

The Rev. Alexander Mackie of Pihladelphia opposed the move,

"Why this silly tampering with the Lord's Prayer?" he demanded. "Hasn't the general assembly anything more important to consider?"

The action authorized the formation of a committee to confer with representatives of all denominations in the national council of churches toward obtaining the revision for use.

Under the plan, the phrase, "forgive us our debts (trespasses) as we forgive our debtors (those who trespass against us)," would be changed to read "forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us."

Some churches now use "trespasses" while others, like the Presbyterians use "debt."

The Rev. Guy Volpitto of Cleveland said the words, "debts" or "trespasses," are not a correct interpretation of the original Greek in which that section of the Bible was recorded.

Vice-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, Chief of Naval Staff, praised the "first-class showing" of naval cadets of The Grove School, Lakefield, whom he inspected Saturday afternoon. He awarded the Sheldon Shield for platoon drill to Number 2 platoon commanded by P.O. Cadet Tommy Ryder of Toronto.

The Lakefield School's Royal Canadian Cadet Corps "St. George" paraded ceremonially on the school's cricket pitch before a reviewing party which included Vice-Admiral Mainguy, Commander D. C. Elliott, R.C.N., director of Sea Cadets, Comamnder E. B. Pearce, R.C.N., area officer, Eastern Ontario, D. W. Cathers, of Hamilton, chairman of the National Sea Cadet Committee of the Navy League of Canada, G. Winder Smith, headmaster of The Grove, William Rashleigh, assistant headmaster, supervisor of the school's Cadets, and W. N. Pearce, Toronto, chairman of the school's board of governors.

Following the ceremonial and platoon drill, the Cadets gave a demonstration of seamanship on the field, including pilotage (this squad used a scale model in relief of Halifax Harbor), semaphore, compass and helm, knots, splices, flags, sheer legs, and boat models. The four platoons provided 15 demonstrations of seamanship classes.

Commends Band

The 10-piece Cadet Band won commendation from Admiral Mainguy, as did the small boys in the fourth platoon, whose rifles soared far above their heads.

Chief Petty Officer George Lee, D.S.M. (R.N.), who has been the Cadet trainer at the Grove School for two generations, trained the boys. C.P.O. Lee joined the Royal Navy in 1896 at Plymouth, and was in the pilot brig during the naval review at the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria in 1897.

Owing to rain Saturday the exercises afloat in dinghies and cutters were held Sunday afternoon on Lake Katchewanooka, which borders the school's property. Admiral Mainguy stayed at the school over the weekend and witnessed the exercises on the lake.

Trophies were presented after informal dance in the school hall Saturday evening. Frank Pearce, Toronto, was awarded the prize for the school's shooting competition.

MUSIC FESTIVAL WINNERS at Campbellford were this boy and girl—David Nicholls and Gaele Meyers, both of Campbellford. David won the boy's solo class, 12 years and under, and Gaele won the open soprano class. The festival was held last week in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Campbellford.—(W. W. Reid Photo)

Robbed Pensioner Of $200 Two Men Sentenced To Three Years In Prison

COBOURG, May 26 (ENS). — Evan Jones Jr. and Robert James McFarland, age 28 and 32 respectively, Frankford, were sentenced Friday to three years in Kingston Penitentiary when they pleaded guilty to robbery with violence. On May 18 they went into the shack where William Ross, 76, old age pensioner, lives alone, and robbed him of $200. They pulled an old sack over his head and wired the toes of his right foot together with fence wire.

Mr. Ross, who is a resident of Murray Township, was in court on Friday. When his name was called so that the magistrate could see him, he rose on tottering limbs and supported himself by a stout staff in his right hand.

"You see the man who was assaulted. He is 76 years of age and obviously feeble. They wired two of his toes together in an attempt to torture him. There seems little use sending men such as these to the reformatory," said Crown Attorney Harry Deyman.

Despicable Crime

"I am sentencing each of you to the penitentiary for a term of three years each. Yours has been a despicable crime without any justification whatever," said Magistrate R. B. Baxter in passing sentence.

"I have a wife and three children," said Jones. "Drink has been my trouble. We will lose all we have got."

"The court often finds that the wife and family are the ones who suffer, but there is not much we can do about it. It is not the first time you have been in trouble," replied the magistrate.

Both men have records.

Court Decides It's Creek Not Overflow

COBOURG, May 26 (ENS). — Magistrate R. B. Baxter found Aric Gerow of Rossmount guilty of setting nets too close to the mouth of a creek when the adjourned case resumed on Friday. At the previous hearing adjournment was made in order to call evidence to establish whether the stream in question was a creek or a ditch draining accumulated water in the spring break-up.

Thomas McBride, road superintendent of Haldimand Township, testified that a creek runs through a culvert, draining a pond just north of the shore of Lake Ontario near Wicklow. On occasions the culvert fills up from the lake, washing sand in, and it overflows across the beach. There was some argument as to the two maps used, one of them being a road map and the other a navigation map, Crown Attorney Harry Deyman pointing out that these maps would not necessarily show all the creeks along the shoreline because such was not necessary, and absence of the creek in question on the map did not necessarily indicate that the stream was not large enough to be regarded as a creek. James Entwistle, employed by Gerow to set nets, told the court that no creek was on the map where he set the nets over which the charge developed. Robert Winter, another fisherman, also testified that the stream was a temporary overflow and not a creek in his estimation.

Defence counsel J. C. M. German said that if every stream was to be regarded as a creek, commercial fishermen would not be able to set nets between Brighton and Bowmanville.

Magistrate Baxter ruled that the stream in question was a creek and was regarded as such by the road superintendent, and found the accused guilty. Defence counsel suggested that the penalty should be under the provincial fishing regulations, but the crown attorney pointed out that the Ontario regulations in connection with that charge came under the Dominion Fisheries Act, and in this the magistrate agreed, imposing a fine of $100 and costs.

Present 16 Awards At Second Concert

Shields, awards and trophies will be presented to 16 groups and soloists at the second of two final concerts of the Peterborough Music Competition Festival to be held in P.C.V.S. auditorium Tuesday night.

Festival winners will be taking part in the concert from Peterborough, Little Britain, Lindsay, Oshawa, Cobourg, Bowmanville and Campbellford.

Faye Rich of Little Britain, who won the highest marks of the festival (90) will be singing Tuesday night and other solo performances will include piano, trombone, a piano accordion and verse speaking.

Lily Lake School (winner of four festival classes), P.C.V.S. Triple Trio and the choirs of St. Paul's Presbyetrian and St. Andrew's United Church will be among the group performers.

Charge Of Car Theft Reduced To Joyriding

COBOURG, May 26 (ENS) —A charge of car theft against Airman John J. Ryan of Trenton air station, was reduced to joyriding when he appeared in police court here on Friday. Magistrate R. B. Baxter imposed a term of two months in jail. Evidence revealed that Ryan had consumed a considerable quantity of beer and made several ineffectual efforts to make off with cars before he succeeded in taking one at Brighton. He made no attempt to speed on to Toronto but paused to pick up hitchhikers on his way westward. Police picked him up outside Cobourg.

Natives Battle

JOHANNESBURG, May 26 — (Reuters)—Native tribesmen tore into each other with revolvers, battle axes, clubs and stones as fighting flared again Sunday in the township of Newclare, South Johannesburg. The renewed fighting brought the death toll since May 14—when the current series of battles started—to nine. At least 68 natives have been injured.

The Separation Of East And West Germany

With the signing in Bonn by the foreign minister of Britain, France, the United States and West Germany of peace contracts binding western Germans politically and militarily to the Atlantic Pact communities, six years of war and seven of occupation come to an end. Negotiations for the system of conventions between Western Germany and the three Western Powers lasted more than a year. The agreement has been difficult to draft (it took eight months). The basic document establishes the future status of the German Federal Republic as an internally and externally autonomous State, with the Allies retaining only limited reserved powers. These relate to the right to station and protect their troops on German soil, Allied rights in Berlin, and the right to intervene if the Allies think that their security is threatened by an attack of uprisings in Western Germany with which the Bonn government is unable to cope.

• • •

It is the military clauses in the agreements, and particularly Chancellor Adenauer's leadership of the West German Republic into the western nation's camp which is causing an uproar in Communist Eastern Germany and perturbation in West Germany itself. When the Western moved to incorporate West Germany into the western European defence system, Russia proposed a counter-measure, to unite all Germany again, a united neutral German army, and to hold free general elections to determine the form of government. The West German government saw the flaw in this—who was to guarantee the freedom of the elections, and how free would such a government be with hundreds of thousands of Communist troops and armed police at the borders? But the appeal of a united Germany was very strong. The Socialists in West Germany are opposing the military integration with the West. Others in West Germany fear that there will be created two armed Germanies, east and west, which will be at each other's throats in bloody civil war.

• • •

Chancellor Adenauer's Government has realized that the best hope of German security, freedom and advancement is through close association with the West. Even if this delays or sacrifices reunion of the two German states into, at least half the country is saved.

• • •

In exchange for the very favourable economic terms of the Conventions signed in Bonn, West Germany is committing herself to create her own military forces (twelve divisions) within the framework of the European Defence Community, and to help maintain Allied forces on German soil. May Day brought the first Communist answer to the plan; East German President Pieck's announcement that "if the population of Western Germany fail to prevent the recruiting of our youth as American mercenaries, we shall have to organize the armed defence of our homeland." In other words, instead of the one neutral army proposed by the Soviet Note for a united Germany, there would be two German armed forces, each un-neutral, each opposed to the other. Russia and East Germany have already made more progress in building up an East Germany force than West Germany has. Is divided self-defence in Germany bringing the risk of civil war?

Who Wants To Work?

We are delighted by the spectacle of a newspaper mounting a moral high horse, and we are grateful to the Windsor Star for a prime specimen in an editorial called Only Peasants Work. The paper is pouring its scorn upon a man called Thomas Alexander Fairbanks, who is quoted as saying that "only peasants work."

The Star flies instantly to the defence of work, and informs its readers that Mr. Fairbanks' attitude is "a relic of feudalism"; it goes on to suggest that under the feudal system only the lower orders worked, and the nobility and gentry loafed. Now we do not claim to be deeply versed in feudal history, but we know that this is utterly untrue. A feudal lord worked like a beaver; more accurately, he worked like the boss of a large and diversified industry, for that was what, in effect, he was. His rights and his duties were as clearly defined as those of a modern industrialist, and in addition, when there was war in the air, he had to raise troops, train them and lead them. If the Star wants an example of a drone, we suggest that a feudal lord is a poor choice.

The Star says that "nowadays most people work and are proud of it"; those who do not work, or wish to work, it says, "are more to be pitied than envied or admired." We shall let these statements pass, though we have our doubts about both. But when the Star says that these idle people "seek happiness in idle pleasure—and do not find it . . . they never know the compensation that comes from decent work . . . Those who disdain work, whether they be millionaires or tramps are really bums and parasites on society . . . they may think themselves sophisticated and smart . . . they are really naive and stupid"—when the Star prints such opinions, we laugh aloud. If work is so wonderful, why do so many people retire just as soon as they can? Why don't they go on until they drop? Why are the beaches of Florida and California black with Canadians in full flight from this delightful and beneficial blessing—work? And why do so many citizens of Windsor, right under the eye of the work-loving Star, down tools at the slightest pretext?

We know why. It is because people don't like work, and nobody with common sense works unless he has to. It is because work is the curse which the Almighty put upon Adam for his primal disobedience, and every truly religious man tries to lift the curse from himself as fast as he can. It is because the Star is talking through its hat.

A New Prosperity In Newfoundland

When Newfoundland became a province of Canada on March 31st, 1949, not only were railway passenger fares cut in half overnight when the C.N.R. assumed operation of the Island's railway system; many other cash advantages came to the people. We wrote of this Monday. There have been other, less dramatically sudden benefits. All customs and immigration barriers between Newfoundland and the mainland vanished. Newfoundland was opened to mainland business and industry, and Canadian markets were freely available to Newfoundland.

There was peril, which Premier Joseph Smallwood foresaw. In the second year before confederation 2,400 Newfoundlanders emigrated to Canada; in the year immediately preceding the union, 2,500 more got over the customs and immigration barriers. With all these barriers down would Newfoundlanders desert for the green fields and golden streets of Canada's mainland, leaving the island depopulated? The Government of Newfoundland decided that the thing to do was to make Newfoundland look greener, her opportunities glittering. To do that there had to be better social services, better roads, more jobs, more industries.

In the last three years the Smallwood government has vigorously gone about this program. Schools, hospitals and the like are being improved. It has built three big factories, put them into operation, and is now ready to sell them at a profit to private corporations. It has spent $22,000,000 on public works in the last three years, out of cash surplus. It has fished in Europe for new industries, and provided capital to help them to become established. Fifteen new industries have begun to operate in Newfoundland. All told, 1,500 new jobs will have been provided, with a yearly wage bill amounting to $2,500,000.

A new, well-directed "Newfoundland and Labrador Corporation" has been formed, composed of eminent Newfoundland, Canadian and American financial, economic and industrial men. Premier Smallwood regards this Corporation as the Government's economic arm. Its purpose and responsibility are to develop Newfoundland economically; to exploit its mineral, forest and fishery resources, and capitalize industrially.

As a result of the prosperity and new developments in Newfoundland, Newfoundlanders are not scattering throughout the mainland as thickly as many feared. There are opportunities and jobs for them at home.

Newfoundland's thriving condition is today vastly different from the early 1930's, when it was forced into bankruptcy and colonial status. Then it took about eleven million dollars to pay the interest on the Public Debt and to carry on the public services. The Debt was a staggering $100,000,000, owned almost entirely outside Newfoundland. The interest alone amounted to five millions a year. Conditions got so bad that the Island had to borrow money to pay the interest. In 1932 the total revenue of the Government, which was got almost completely from customs import duties, was eight million dollars. Out of that $5,000,000 had to go to take of the Public Debt.

Now the Public Debt is three and three-quarter million dollars net; less than $10 a head. The next lowest in Canada is Quebec's, at $82 a head. The population is more than 100,000 greater than it was in the early thirties, the whole economy is incomparably richer and stronger. Premier Smallwood buoyantly says: "Newfoundland at long last is on the march." And, incidentally, the prosperity and profitable activity of the new Province since Confederation are the surest guarantees against the growth of any secessionist sentiment.

Musical Notes

by PETER PIPER

TWO HUNDRED YEARS AGO Dr. Christopher Pepusch, who collaborated with John Gay in the composition of the Beggar's Opera, died in London. Like his illustrious contemporary Handel Pepusch was born in Germany and came to London at the beginning of the eighteenth century. Every student of musical history knows how the Beggars' Opera was so successful that it forced Handel out of business for the time. English opera, never a very sturdy growth, had been nipped in the bud for a variety of historical reasons, and Italian opera reigned supreme when Handel arrived in London. Thus it was natural for him to continue writing Italian operas. In spite of the magnificent music the stilted language, the artificial situations and the dreary mythological plots aroused increasing opposition to this "exotic and irrational entertainment," as Italian opera was termed by a contemporary writer. As Addison says, "There is no question but our great grandchildren will be very curious to know the reason why their forefathers used to sit together like an audience of foreigners in their own country, and to hear whole plays acted before them in a tongue which they did not understand. . . . There is nothing that has more startled our English audience, than the Italian Recitativo at its first entrance upon the stage. People were wonderfully surprised to hear Generals singing the Word of Command, and ladies delivering messages in music."

✧ ✧ ✧

THE BEGGARS' OPERA dropped into this situation like a bombshell. Here was an opera in English instead of Italian. The characters were drawn from the dregs of contemporary London society—quite a change from the gods and heroes. The scene was placed in London instead of Mount Olympus or the Island of Cyprus. The airs, collected by Gay and arranged by Pepusch, were lively folksongs and dances from a variety of sources, many of them still sung today. A French carol, "Quelle est cette odeur admirable" was adapted to the words "Fill Ev'ry Glass, for Wine inspires us." A country dance, well-known today in an arrangement for piano by Percy Grainger under the title of Country Gardens, was transmuted into the Vicar of Bray.

AFTER ITS PHENOMENAL success the Beggars' Opera dropped quickly out of sight until it was revived in 1921 in an arrangement by Frederic Austin, whose death occurred last month. It was an enormous attraction, and thousands thronged to the little theatre in the dingy and unfashionable suburb of Hammersmith. Since that date there have been further arrangements (a necessity, owing to the sketchy nature of the original score), the most recent being by Benjamin Britten.

✧ ✧ ✧

APART FROM ITS OWN intrinsic qualities the main importance of the Beggars' Opera lies in the fact that its success was largely responsible for turning Handel's mind away from Italian opera towards oratorio. Actually Handel's first oratorio, Esther, was conceived as a sacred opera. The Bishop of London objected to the theatrical treatment of a scriptural theme, and so by a typically English compromise Esther was performed in plain clothes. Thus, by chance, as it were, Handelian oratorio was born.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN expected that the Beggars' Opera would initiate a revival of English opera. In reality is was too slight a thing of its own, and it depended too much on the type of opera that it satirized. A parody loses most of its force if the original is unknown. It did however establish a vein of light opera that carried on intermittently via Dibdin to Gilbert and Sullivan. Since that time English light opera has tended to be a watery imitation of the inimitable G & S, or else it has descended to the platitudes of musical comedy, usually neither musical nor comic until quite recently, when the Americans have infused fresh life into the style with South Pacific and so on. Apart from this admittedly light genre of Singspiel the establishment of a genuinely indigenous opera in the English-speaking countries has not taken place. The recent successes of Benjamin Britten have stimulated interest in the cause of English opera, while the experience of the troops in Italy, during the war opened the eyes of a large potential public to the fact that opera is not essentially an affair of diamond tiaras and mink coats, but can be a national entertainment as popular as football. Here in Canada the C.B.C. is doing something to foster opera in the "vulgar tongue," but their productions are cut mercilessly to conform to the Procrustean bed of the time schedule. Moreover I seriously doubt whether radio opera is of much value. Emasculated of action and spectacle it loses its point and becomes an inferior oratorio. There are very few operas indeed that will bear a concert performance; it is like judging a film from the soundtrack alone.

✧ ✧ ✧

SEVERAL YEARS AGO a young and nervous organist was playing a prelude and fugue by Bach in an examination. The examiner was the redoubtable Dr. Rootham of Cambridge, and very fearsome he looked as he sat listening. Suddenly he stopped the candidate and asked him whether Bach used the swell pedal, a device which the candidate was industriously pumping up and down for "expression." The candidate replied that he did not know. "Well," said Dr. Rootham, "I am very sure that he did not; it had not been invented in his day. You may continue." Badly shaken, the candidate scrambled through to the end of the fugue as best he could. Actually the learned doctor was not quite accurate: a crude swell-box and pedal had been invented by an English organ builder during Bach's life-time, but there is no evidence that Bach ever had access to an organ with such a device, and there are consequently no directions for crescendo or diminuendo in any of Bach's organ works. This does not mean that the swell pedal should never be used in playing Bach's organ works any more than the pedal of the piano should be completely excluded when playing his harpsichord works on the piano. Nevertheless these devices should be used with great discretion: "when in doubt leave it out" is a sound motto. Pianists should listen to recordings of music of this period played on the harpsichord; there are some delightful recordings of the Forty-eight by Wanda Landowska. It is essential to have a feeling for style to play Bach well, and it is necessary for this to have some idea of the possibilities and the limitations of the instruments in use in Bach's day. Actually the harpsichord is by no means obsolete: it has been revived in recent years, mainly for the purpose of playing old music (though composers such as Delius and Poulenc have written specially for it in recent years). There is something very attractive in the dry brilliance of the sound of the plucked strings and the octave couplers produce a truly majestic effect. Several firms are making them nowadays at reasonable prices, but the demand is greater than the supply.

TOO FAR OUT OF BALANCE

Removing Hazards From Airports

(MONTREAL GAZETTE)

SOUNDLY conceived protection from the hazards of obstruction for aircraft operating into and out of Canadian airports, and for property and residents in adjoining areas, is provided in Parliament by Hon. Lionel Chevrier, Transport Minister. Already given approval in principle on second reading, the measure will sanction the application of restrictive zoning regulations, especially as to height of buildings and other structures, to districts surrounding all types of airports across the country—government, municipal and privately operated.

The general basis of the restrictions laid down in the bill is evidently designed as a foresighted prevention of the creation of future hazards, rather than being prompted by the development, or immediate threat, of undesirable conditions adjacent to airports. Building heights and other conditions around the principal airports used by air transport services are understood to fall comfortably within the limitations of safety laid down in the bill, with the possible exception of Edmonton, where there is a hospital near the airport.

Introduction of the legislation and working out of the zoning formula are reported to have been under discussion at Ottawa for some time past, but doubtless were spurred by the crashes in recent months of Elizabeth, New Jersey, where aircraft heading for the Newark airport struck buildings in the Elizabeth district. Is is to eliminate the potential hazard of such crashes, or at least reduce them to a minimum, that the new regulations for Canada are designed.

The plan is to apply the restrictions immediately after the bill is passed to the 17 airports on the trans-Canada airways system, and ultimately to extend them to all of the 114 government airports (not including military stations), municipal fields and private airports. The limitations will forbid any structure higher than 150 feet within approximately 2½ miles from the centre of an airport; any building with a height rising by more than a foot per 50-foot distance from the end of a runway, within a zone about two miles out and 1,200 feet wide; and any building rising more than a foot per seven-foot distance from the sides of flightways.

With modern aircraft progressively increasing in size and speed, and with commercial aviation steadily expanding its operations, some protection of this sort is only wise and reasonable to ensure a clear path for craft on landing and take-off, especially in bad weather. Compensation is to be provided property owners whose interests will be adversely affected by the regulations.

Nazi Fuehrer Fails

(Windsor Star)

When a would-be Hitler, Otto Ernst Remer, sought a seat in the West German Lower House the other day, he was defeated by a wide margin. He is the leader of the Socialist Reichs Party, which has many points of comparison with the Nazi movement.

What this electoral defeat proves, however, remains to be seen. While Remer received only 11,219 votes out of 98,128 polled, the fact that many thousands voted for him indicates a hard core of old-line Nazis remains in Bremen, where the by-election was held.

Nazism, too, was not a spectacular success in its first bids for office. But once it obtained a national majority, the "Ja" vote was quickly substituted for electoral competition, and unbridled dictatorship took over.

Remer may not have the hypnotic effect on Germans that the ranting Hitler possessed. But he's described as a rabble-rouser, and there's nothing in that term the West should take lightly.

Histories

No war in the history of mankind produced more books than did the Second World War. Certainly, the suddenly-discovered penchant so many generals and even diplomats displayed in seeking to record the roles they played was calculated to fill bookshelves to overflowing. Now, in Germany, representative historians of the western countries have gathered to seek some standards for the elimination of errors of fact and emphasis which have crept into the vast forest of books.

Unhampered by facts, the Russians have been busily writing history which makes contributions of all her allies in defeating the Axis appear to futile and childish.

Present generations have lived through some of the momentous eras of all history. What the future generations think and read about it will certainly be a cause for confusion.

Poor Old Eskimos

(Montreal Star)

We note the opening in Ottawa of a conference on Eskimo problems. Government officials, Hudson's Bay company men and missionaries will sit around the table to talk about the Eskimos. Oddly enough the only people who will not be present will be the Eskimos themselves though they, it may be presumed, have views about their own future, which might be worth hearing directly.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth! (Isa. 52:7.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the Sea of Galilee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there. And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them; insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel. (Matt. 15:29-31.)

✧ ✧ ✧

When Jesus came into the coasts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples saying, Whom do men say that I the Son of man am? And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist, some, Elias, and others, Jeremias, or one of the prophets.

He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. (Matt. 16:13-18.)

Two Cents Profit; 20 Cents Loss

(Ottawa Journal

In all the discussion of United States tourists and their American dollars in relation to the Canadian tourist traffic one small but important factor has been ignored. It is the one of the person selling items of small value when tendered American bills of fairly large denomination.

Much of the talk on this question has been on a fairly high level and predicated on the assumption that the loss of a few cents in exchange is not worth the annoyance likely to be caused our American visitors if they were reminded that their dollars are worth less than ours. On purchases of considerable value that line of reasoning may be good and a great many merchants may feel they can afford to accept the relatively small losses involved.

But for every tourist who spends $50 or $100 in Canada, and pays for his purchase with U.S. bills, there are a thousand buying meals, hamburgers, ice cream, pop, gasoline, post cards and stamps and a hundred and one other items of small value from the smaller stores. The problem then is the seller's attitude when a $5 or $10 American bill is offered in payment.

For instance a tourist buys a pack of cigarettes, on which the profit is only a few cents, and offers a $10 American bill. Obviously if the merchant gave change, at par, in Canadian currency his loss would be 17 or 18 cents on the transaction—far more than his profit on the cigarettes. There would be a loss too on meals and on almost any small purchase. At the height of the tourist season, in many localities, small merchants would soon find themselves out of business. For them to take U.S. bills at par is certainly not practical.

As these small transactions are thousands of times more frequent than larger sales it should be obvious that any official suggestion that we forget about exchange where the tourist is concerned has to be interpreted in the light of circumstances.

Report 27 Die Violently Over Victoria Day Weekend

By The Canadian Press

Drowning and traffic accidents claimed the lives of most of the 27 persons who died violently in Canada during the Victoria Day weekend.

A Canadian Press survey early today showed 11 persons drowned and 11 killed in traffic accidents. Four were shot and one died in a fall.

Seven persons were killed in British Columbia, two in a murder-suicide, four by drowning and one in a traffic accident. Alberta had four drownings and one traffic accident.

Six persons were killed in Ontario, three each in New Brunswick and Quebec and one each in Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan.

In Ontario, Richard Strausser, 11, was shot in the head by a gun in the hands of his 13-year-old brother. They were playing cowboys and Indians near their home in Lakefield.

Another boy, Bobby Herchak, 9, fell off a railroad bridge and was killed near his home in Fort William.

Falls Out Of Boat

A Quebec resident, Florian Duchine, 19, of Matapedia, was drowned when he fell out of a boat while working on a log boom at Geraldton, 170 miles northeast of Port Arthur.

William Sims, 58, was struck and killed by an automobile at Peterborough. Harold Humphreys, 37, was killed while trying out a relative's new car near Toronto. The auto ran into a cement monument.

Daniel Beaton, 43, of Red Rock was killed near Port Arthur when his auto hit a large rock.

In the province of Quebec, Marcel Aubin, 37, was drowned when his canoe tipped over in the Mille Isles river north of Montreal. Mrs. Paul Leminquin, 23, of Montreal was drowned in another canoeing accident on 14 Islands Lake, 45 miles north of Montreal.

Fernand Girouard, 30, was repairing a flat tire on his car at Montreal when he was struck and killed by another car.

In New Brunswick, police are investigating the shooting death of Charles Chase, 18, near his home at Woodstock. Another Woodstock man, William Nichols, 55, was killed when his road-grading machine broke through a bridge rail near Campbellton and plunged into the Upsalquitch river.

Five miles north of Moncton, Mrs. Nelson Geldart, 65, of Colpitts Settlement, was killed in a truck-car collision. Edgar L. Fortune, 42, adult education director at Sydney, N.S., was killed when his automobile crashed through a concrete bridge railing and into Muggah's creek.

Believe Fire Set

COURTLAND, Ont., May 26 (CP)—Police say they believe a $5,000 fire which destroyed the Morley Young diner during the weekend was set by "Toronto safecrackers" to cover up their $500 robbery of the Norfolk Co-Operative Co. Ltd. A steel vault, hidden beneath the floor of the seed and supply building, was blown open, apparently during the blaze in the diner. Courtland is 30 miles southeast of London.

Will Lengthen Trading Day By Half Hour

By DICK BAIDEN

TORONTO, May 26 (CP)—The influence of rapidly growing mid-Western and Western United States and Canadian financial importance found recognition last week in Eastern financial circles.

The New York stock exchange curb market's decision to lengthen its trading day by a half-hour and eliminate Saturday half-sessions started a wave of speculation among brokers and professional observers. The move—rapidly followed by Chicago and Detroit markets — was seen in part as a concession to Western brokers who had long been pressing for improved trading hours.

In Canada, an official of Toronto's exchange said no action to extend the session was planned but the effects of New York's decision would be closely watched.

Open Simultaneously

Exchanges throughout the United States and Canada open simultaneously with, and follow the general trends of, New York, Montreal and Toronto. Since the Eastern exchanges, before the change, operated from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., the three-hour differential between the West Coast and Eastern markets imposed severe restrictions on Western traders.

Vancouver's stock exchange currently operates from 7 a.m. to noon, closes until 1.30, then reopens until 2.30.

Growing public participation, notably in western oils, was seen as a major factor in bringing Western exchange hours more into line with normal business hours.

Western investors, brokers said, would welcome an opportunity to trade without having to get up before breakfast.

Summer Closing

Summer Saturday closing resumed this weekend on Canadian markets. United States exchanges return to summer Saturday closing schedules next weekend.

Toronto and Montreal markets made little headway last week in slow tradings. Golds attracted speculative interest in Toronto Monday and held most gains throughout the week. Papers slid irregularly in Montreal.

New York started the week slowly with mixed Monday trading. Prices turned upward Tuesday and climbed steadily throughout the week except for mild selling late Friday.

From Friday to Monday, the Toronto stock exchange indices showed industrials down 1.22 at 314.25, golds up 3.02 at 91.71, base metals up .73 at 182.52 and western oils down 3.11 at 141.86.

In the Montreal averages, banks were up .26 at 29.57, utilities unchanged at 84.0, industrials down 1.0 at 193.8, combined down .6 at and golds up 2.51 at 68.92.
157.2, papers down 12.04 at 783.17

In New York, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed $1.50 to $103.10.

Says British Budget Generally Regressive

GENEVA, May 26 (AP)—The United Nations Economic Commission for Europe Sunday described the British government's 1952 budget as "generally regressive" and predicted that it would contribute to further inflation in the United Kingdom.

The commission's quarterly bulletin said that as a result of the changes introduced by the budget, Britain's highest income group—about one-sixth of the population—would be "substantially better off," while the living standards of the lower half of the income scale would generally decline.

The international payments crisis of the United Kingdom and France "showed little sign of improvement" by the end of March, the bulletin said. During 1951, the United Kingdom's trade balance deteriorated by $2,000,000,000 and the drain on British gold and dollar reserves continued unabated until March.

British Wives Ask Half Of Husband's Pay

LONDON, May 26—(AP)—A group of British wives asked parliament Saturday to give housewives a half-share of their husbands' pay cheques.

At the same time, it proposed the abolition of alimony, except where children and special hardship are concerned, and an end to breach-of-promise suits.

The proposals were made by the Married Women's Association in a statement to parliament's commission on marriage and divorce.

Canada Ended 1951 On Right Side Of Trade Ledger With Balance

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canada spent much more in the United States in 1951 than the United States spent or invested in Canada.

Only the fact that sterling-area and other countries bought more from Canada than she did from them, enabled Canada to end the year on the right side of the ledger.

These points are brought out in clearer light than usual in the current business review of the Bank of Montreal.

In goods and services, or on what is known as current account, Canadian purchases in the United States were $955,000,000 more than American purchases here.

This deficit was offset in part by a net movement of capital from the United States of $560,000,000. This left Canada short by $395,000,000 in its American accounts and, in the review's words, "dependent for these funds on the ability and willingness of overseas countries to buy substantially more from us than we bought from them."

Favorable Balance

As it turned out, the sterling area, on the year, paid us $174,000,000 to balance its deficit with us; and similarly, othe countries paid us $260,000,000. This gave Canada an over-all favorable balance with all countries of $39,000,000.

The relatively-small favorable balance in 1951 was a sharp decrease from one of $694,000,000 in 1950. In that year Canada had a deficit with the world on current account of $329,000,000, but this was heavily outweighed by a net capital inflow of $1,023,000,000.

The deficits on current account in 1950 and 1951, the review notes, were the first experienced by Canada since the early '30s. It adds:

"This did not stem from declining exports but from the fact that imports were even more buoyant than the rising export trade.

"The import curve was sustained by purchases of machinery and equipment needed in domestic plant expansion, and was particularly strong from mid-1950 through the third quarter of 1951, reflecting both the post-Korean buying boom in civilian goods and the heavy initial dependence of Canada's defence program on U.S. commitments."

Paying Way

The review notes that the 1951 deficit on current account was concentrated in the first half of the year and that for at least six months to the end of March this year Canada has again been paying her way in current international transactions, a factor which is of considerable significance in accounting for the recent strength of the Canadian dollar.

The review says, however, that the persistence of large contrary balances with the United States under condition of continuing dollar stringency overseas, "remains as a vulnerable element in Canada's trading structure."

In regard to the flow of foreign capital into Canada, while the net amount in 1951 was only about half that of 1950, the review feels the 1951 external investment in Canada was of a more stable nature. Also, it notes, "Canada has been underwriting a larger share of its own development in the current period than in times past."

Wes. Tugboat Wins Detroit River Race

WINDSOR, May 26 (CP) — The John Roen V, a sturdy tugboat from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., puffed over a four-mile Detroit river course in 15 minutes Saturday to win the third International Tugboat race.

The 135-foot, 1,600-horsepower Roen finished a quarter-mile in front of the Detroit tug Nebraska.

Heavy favorite in the race was the 600-horsepower Canadian tug Atomic, winner of the first two races in 1950 and 1951. But the Amherstberg, Ont., craft came in sixth in the field of nine.

Roen V walked away with the race, because the race committee waived its 125-foot-length limit rule to let her in.

Coldsprings Y.P.U. Plans Joint Social

COLDSPRINGS, May 26 (ENS)—The Coldsprings Y.P.U. met on Thursday evening in St. Paul's Church schoolroom. Bill Little, recreation convener, was in charge of the program.

The president, Robert Turner, presided.

It was planned to invite Plainville, Baltimore, Harwood, and Bethesda South Young People's Unions to an ice cream social on June 18, to be held in the Coldsprings hall. Warren Buttars will supply films for the entertainment.

Call to worship was given by Bill Little; scripture reading by George Avery, and the meditation "Why the orchestra was stopped" by Robert Turner.

A poem, "Rambling," by Lois Snelgrove, was followed with prayer by Leslie Avery.

Recreation was conducted by Bill Little.

Hospital Insurance Big Issue Before B.C. Voters

By The Canadian Press

British Columbia's hospital insurance scheme, now operated on a compulsory basis, is a major issue in the June 12 provincial election.

A major plank in all party platforms calls for reforms or total abolition of the compulsory hospital service.

British Columbia families now pay $42 a year into the hospital plan, single persons $30. There is also a co-insurance charge ranging up to $35 for the first 10 days in hospital.

The Liberals, Progressive Conservatives and the C.C.F. would abolish co-insurance payments. The Social Credit and Progressive Conservative parties would abolish the compulsory plan, replacing it with a voluntary system.

The C.C.F. would salso roll back hospital insurance premiums to the former rates of $33 for families, and $30 for single persons.

To Boost Industry

All parties pledge legislation to boost B.C.'s industrial growth. The Liberals, calling for "stable" government to attract capital investment, promise to "conduct affairs of the province so that the public and the investor will be assured of sound and stable administration of public affairs."

The four parties stress development of natural resources, and Social Credit would "encourage individual and private enterprise in exploration and development of resources."

The government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway, too, would play its part in development of resources.

The party platforms call for its extension north into the Peace River district and south to Vancouver.

Credit Security

Party Leader Herbert Anscomb emphasized in a call to his Progressive Conservative followers that "credit must be secure so that capital and labor can march forward in B.C."

The C.C.F. would also roll back ownership of transportation, power and communications; production and distribution of electrical energy would be brought under provincial ownership and transportation and communication utilities within provincial jurisdiction would also be socialized.

The C.C.F. promises Labor the 40-hour week by law, increased workmen's compensation, two weeks holiday and all statutory holidays with pay.

The Liberals promise a study of workmen's compensation, based on the report of an inquiry board, and a review of the Labor Act. Similar promises are made by the Progressive Conservatives.

The platforms offer aid for B.C.'s agriculturists. The pledges range from a promise of a land-clearing program to increased co-operative marketing schemes.

Aid For Farmers

The farmers, too, are promised more rural electrification, and improved and new highways.

There would be relief for the motorists, now paying the highest licence fees in Canada. The Progressive Conservatives promise a 30-per cent reduction in cost of all licence fees for passenger automobiles. The Liberals also promise relief with Attorney-General Gordon Wismer favoring a $10 flat fee. The present fee ranges from $15 to $25 a car, based on weight.

The C.C.F. would introduce an automobile insurance plan at costs as in Saskatchewan, possibly 50 per cent under the rates now charged by private firms in B.C.

Party slogans have their place in the platforms.

Social Credit: "Prosperity and security with individual freedom."

Progressive Conservative: "Make security in British Columbia secure."

Student Minister Gives Sermon At Rush Pt.

HAVELOCK May 26 (ENS)—"Jesus the Light of the World" was the subject of the lesson at the meeting of the Devotional and Handicraft Club of Rush Point and was taken by Robert C. Curtis of Toronto student minister on the Belmont Area Lakes Mission.

The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Menzies on Thursday night with 45 members present.

Mr. Curtis told the story of "The Other Wise Man" by Henry Van Dyke, which gave an example of one whose persistent search for Jesus the Light, gained as his reward, when life was all but spent, Christ's glorifying message "In as much as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me."

Mrs. R. G. Newman sang a solo "Open My Eyes" to violin accompaniment. Crafts and discussion of crafts were enjoyed. A vote of thanks was extended to the hostess and it was decided to hold the next meeting in the White Church on June 26.

Petes' Timbermen Victors Against Toronto Yorks In Senior Lacrosse Fray

Unleashing a furious attack from the first faceoff here Friday night, the Petes' Timbermen thumped Toronto Yorks 16-5 before a large crowd to tie Yorks for top spot in the O.L.A. senior standing. It was the second win in two starts for the Thorpe team and Toronto's first loss in three games of the young season. The locals were without Arn Dugan while the visitors came without Sonny Rowntree, and they lost Bob Hillson early in the second with a match misconduct for tripping Referee Mickey McDonald.

While play was a bit rugged at times, it was fairly clean over the route. Of the 11 penalties handed out, Toronto drew but five, though Hillson's was a costly one. One Petes' goal in the first was called back as the gong sounded a split second before the tally.

Rushed At Start

The Petes poured it on from the start to have a 4-0 edge at one time, the first frame ending 4-1. Toronto made a bid in the second with some good lacrosse but the homesters still had a 2-1 scoring bulge on the quarter to make it 6-2 at the half. They went up 4-2 to a 10-4 margin to end the third and threw in six goals with but one return in the fourth, playing like champions. Moon Wootton ably took care of the cage again on hot Toronto thrusts from time to time.

Leading the Timbermen's attack were Russ Slater with five points, Don Ashbee, Curly Mason, Ike Hildebrand and Nit O'Hearn, each being in on four tallies in a sparkling performance of close-in work. They also checked back well. Dootch Vitarelli, Jerry Fitzgerald and Harry Wipper clicked for a pair of points apiece, with singles going to Ross Powless, Bob Thorpe and Gary Robinson, who made his senior debut.

Leo Teatro topped the Toronto team in sniping with three counters, as Cam Sheppard and Clark Lyons each hit the hemp once. Nick Ferri was high man on the totem pole in assists with three, as singles went to George Johnston, Steve Kapasky and Bill Timpson. Goalie Johnston made a lot of good saves, despite the bunch that beat him.

Toronto: Goal, Johnston; defence, Sheppard and Webster; centre, McPhail; wings, McNulty and Facto; rover, S. Kapasky alternates, Teatro, Timpson, J. Kapasky, Hillson, Ferri and Lyons.

Petes: Goal, Wootton; defence, Wipper and Fitzgerald; centre Thorpe; wings, Vitarelli and Ashbee; rover, Robinson, alternates, Killingbeck, O'Hearn, Mason, Slater, Hildebrand, Powless and Nickle.

Referees, M. McDonald and J. Murphy.

Petes Take Over Top Spot In O.L.A. Senior Race With Win In Owen Sound

OWEN SOUND, May 26—Fifteen hundred fans Saturday night sat and watched Peterborough prove just why they won the Mann Cup last year. Combining speed, and an airtight defence, backed by the usual brilliant goaling of big "Moon" Wooton, the Petes literally rushed past the Owen Sound Crescents by the score of 16 to 5 here.

They were by far the superior club as they showed more aggressiveness and finesse. The Petes opened and closed the scoring in the first quarter, as they outshot the Crescents 11 to 8 and went ahead 3-1 on goals, by Ashbee, Hildebrand and Powless, while Smith scored the only Owen Sound tally. Two penalties were handed out, one to each club.

Kept On Top

Petes continued to dominate the play in the two middle stanzas, as they outscored the Crescents 12 to 3. They made use of their speed as time and time again three and four were breaking in on young Jack Piette in the Owen Sound net. They led 8-3, at the end of the second quarter and 15-5 at the end of the third. Wootton was a standout in the third as Crescents outshot the visitors, 11-9 but were outscored 7-2.

The fourth quarter was very quiet with only one goal scored, that by Lou Nickle at the 11.40 mark and this was the end of all action. High scorer for the night was Ross Powless with four goals and Jerry Fitzgerald with four assists. Other point-getters were, for Peterborough, Ike Hildenbrand three goals, Don Ashbee two goals, and one assist, Bobby Thorpe and Gary Robinson two goals apiece, with Robinson also getting one assist, Curly Mason and Wipper two assists, Lou Nickle one and one, and Bill Killingbeck and Dootch Vitarelli one goal apiece. Goal-getters for Owen Sound were Arnold Smith, Harry Kazarian, John Lumley, Don Campbell, Doug Gillespie. Referees were Lew Vipond and Jack Williams.

Lineups:

Petes: Goal, Wootton; defence, O'Hearn and Nickle; centre, Mason; rover, Hildebrand wings, Powless and Robinson; alternates, Fitzgerald, Wipper, Thorpe, Vitarelli, Dugan, Ashbee and Killingbeck.

Cricketers Get Easy Win Over Grace 'B'

By C. H. IRESON

The Peterborough - Whitaker Cricket Club defeated Toronto Grace Church "B" team here Saturday by four wickets and 47 runs for a final score of 104 for six (innings declared closed) to Grace Church's 57.

Batting first, the locals lost two wickets for nine runs. D. Ward and B. Roberts took it to 48 before Ward was out to a strong defensive inning of 23. W. Wright joined Roberts, who went out five runs later with the total 56. Wright was out at 45 when the inning was closed. In the third wicket down, his five 45 included a six and five fours. After Roberts and Ward, his best helper was K. Illingsworth, a newcomer, with a careful eight, not out, and they were together at the end.

Good Bowling

The visitors fared badly against the bowling of F. Dyer and F. Booth. Four down for 18 and only good defence work by Dobbin, 24 not out, that the total reached 57. Dyer had seven for 19 runs and Booth three for 37.

This was supposed to be a council match on June 7, but the clubs agreed to play it on May 24. However, the council ruled that the clubs could not alter the schedule and they ordered the match at Port Hope on June 7. So the match here May 24 must be rated just a "friendly match." Score:

Peterborough Whitakers—

Batting—F. Booth 0, B. Ward 23, T. Scott 2, B. Roberts 22, W. Wright 45 not out, W. Freeman 1, H. Dibben 0, K. Illingworth 8 not out; extras 3; total for 6 wickets 104 declared; S. Jennings, E. Rollwagen, and F. Dyer did not bat.

Fall of wickets—1 for 0, 2 for 9, 3 for 45, 4 for 56, 5 for 75, 6 for 81.

Bowling—Bowie 1 for 26, Dobbin 2 for 43, McConkey 2 for 4, Scriven 0 for 6, Finnegan 0 for 17.

Grace Church B—

Batting — McConkey 4, Martin 11, Scriven 2, Bowie 0, Finnegan 0, Dobbin 24 not out, Weeks 8, Patten 4, Morris 3, White 0, Morris 0; extras 1; total 57.

Fall of wickets—1 for 7, 2 for 18, 3 for 18, 4 for 18, 5 for 20, 6 for 33, 7 for 44, 8 for 51, 9 for 57, 10 for 57.

Bowling—F. Booth 3 wickets for 37, F. Dyer 7 for 19.

Blewett Horse Triple Winner

KINGSTON, May 26 (CP). — Miss Chipso, owned by S. Blewett of Peterborough, was the only triple winner in the Victoria Day races staged by the Kingston Driving Club here Saturday.

Gadabout, also owned by Blewett and driven by H. Payne finished last in the first heat of one race but won the next two heats to take the runner-up honors.

A blanket finish with five horses involved took place in the $3,000 event. Miss Chipso was only inches ahead of Flicka 2nd, going under the wire. Within another length Lucille Etaawah, Prince Royal K and Blacklock.

Twenty-one horses participated in the harness meet and Peterborough's two entries won five first places.

Civic Schedule

This week's schedule in the revised Civic Softball League:

May 27—B'nai B'rith v. Kesco, Ashburnham Park.

May 28—Police v. S. Army Ashburnham Park.
Timbermen v. Bell, Turner Park.

May 29—Post Office v. Foresters, Ashburnham Park.

May 30—Kesco v. S Army, Bowl.
Foresters v. Timbermen, Bowl.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Art Reynolds of the Civic Softball League advises regretfully that it is impossible this season to work in nine teams in the schedule from May 27 till the end of August. Just not enough parks available nor capable umpires to go around. Consequently the Fairview entry will have to be dropped and the Civic Loop will go as an eight-club setup, starting this week. On May 28 the tilt has been changed to Bell Telephone vs. Post Office. Schedule will have to be revised, leaving out Fairview, the last entry, and taking care of the city squads. The calibre of ball in this circuit appeals to a lot of chaps, and some keen duels are served up.

Six squads go in the Girls' Softball League, which opens tonight at the Bowl, weather permitting. It's Marines vs. Ashby's at seven, followed by Lindsay vs. Burtol's—latter lineup having many former Westclox players aboard. On Wednesday there, Burtol's tackle the Outboards, with Lindsay meeting Ashby's. Same evening sees Cobourg open at Belleville. Prexy Bill Flint's lasses' league has expanded this summer into more of a Central Ontario grouping with three Peterborough teams in and three from other centres, and it should prove interesting to the customers. The Bowl will be abrimming with softball six nights a week from here on in.

Halt Yorks In Tracks

Flashing some fine offensive lacrosse here Friday eve before a hefty gallery, the Petes' Timbermen showed the bolstered Toronto Yorks why they're champs. Set 'em back 16-5 for their first loss in three starts. Starring on the attack were Russ Slater, Don Ashbee, Curly Mason, Ike Hildebrand and Nit O'Hearn, with the others also turning in a bang-up performance from Goalie Moon Wootton out. Only Leo Teatro and Nick Ferri had much success over the route for the McPhail men. Bob Hillson got peeved in the second at a Toronto teammate's penalty and he tripped up Referee Mickey McDonald. It cost him a major and a match misconduct—a warning to all players to lay off the O.L.A. refs this year.

* * * * * *

Two games—one after a long trip—didn't seem to bother the Thorpe team any and they promptly handed out a 16-5 shellacking to the Crescents right in Owen Sound on Saturday night. After their close contest here to open the schedule, the Crescents figured to make it mighty hot up north and the tilt drew 1,500 fans, but the Petes racked up an early lead, kept on top in the second and third and tapered off gradually with a healthy balance in the fourth. Dugan was on deck for this joust. Ross Powless came up with a four-goal effort and Jerry Fitzgerald aided on four markers, while Ike Hildebrand, Don Ashbee, Bob Thorpe, Gary Robinson, Curly Mason, Harry Wipper and Lou Nickle were all good for two or more points in a neat team try.

Seniors Shaping Up

Saturday's rain washed out the C.O.B.L. opener up this way. Seniors drill Tuesday eve at 6:30, while the junior ballsters have a workout there tonight at 6:30 with Al Menzies in charge. 'Tis hoped to keep the junior team going with senior players helping out on the coaching end of it. Meantime, Ed (Gunner) Whitehill has finally agreed to take over again as manager-coach of the Petes for this season. And he is lining up a promising looking pack with Menzies and Bill Huntley for catching; Bill Edger, Lefty Dadson and a Northern Ontario twirler on the slab; Joe Stewart and Arn Dugan for first; and Junior Milne and Dave Casey for third. Outfield from Joe Lowrey, Jake Wade, Bryon Young, Morley Howse (of the Maritimes) and Huntley or Menzies. They'll do okay.

* * * * * *

More summer sports blossoming out now than you can shake a pencil at. Our P-W cricketers and the U.E.W. soccerites won Saturday games, Peterborough Club golfers had a dampish opener the same day, and a raft of diamond duels are coming up. Fastballers commence this even when Raybestos meets Quakers on the nifty Quaker Park diamond. Woollens go to Norwood on the morrow. Tuesday's twin bill for the male softballers has Lakefield vs. Revoy's, and U.E.W. vs. Lindsay in the Bowl. B'nai B'rith plays Kesco at Ashburnham Park on Tuesday in the revised Civic League, this week's schedule now being in. Nothing lately on the P.M.B.A.

Epigram Forges Ahead To Capture Queen's Plate

By JACK SULLIVAN.

TORONTO, May 26 (CP).—The name of E. P. Taylor as a breeder and owner of Queen's Plate winners is fast becoming a legend in Canadian racing circles.

The wealthy Toronto industrialist-sportsman has owned a winner in the last four turf classics but only two—Epic in 1949 and Major Factor last year—have worn the Taylor turquoise and gold colors on Plate day. The others—McGill in 1948 and Epigram Saturday—were claimed from him for $2,500 each months before the $15,000-added, 1¼ mile event.

Epigram, claimed from the Taylor stable last fall by The Three V's establishment of Toronto, galloped from far back in the rain and mud to win the 93rd annual renewal of the Plate before 30,000 drenched spectators. And one of the first to congratulate the new owners at Woodbine Park was Taylor.

The Toronto sportsman had just watched his entry of Acadian and Dress Circle, odds-on favorites at 3-2, finish out of the money. Acadian, which fell in the starting gate a few moments before the start, was ninth and Dress Circle was seventh.

Post time was set back 28 minutes when the 14-stall gate, which was to be linked with the eight-stall gate, became mired on the track. But the long wait didn't appear to bother Epigram.

Driving Finish

An 11-to-1 shot, it broke its maiden and paid a net purse of $16,875 plus the Queen's 50 guineas to the Veal brothers — Frank, Gordon and Lawrence. Fifteenth in the field of 21 at the quarter-mile pole, the bay-coated son of Flares and asty Bet made a driving finish to win by a length over long-shot Genthorn and return backers $25.05, $14.30 and $10.80.

Genthorn, chestnut filly from the four L's stable of Toronto and the longest shot of the race at 70-to-1, never was worse than ninth. It took over the fourth slot at the stretch and beat out the Garden City stable's Latin Lad for the place position by nearly six lengths.

The filly returned $64.30, and $30.70 and Latin Lad paid $10.95.

The color and glamor of the country's richest race was missing this year by a day-long rain that made the track a mass of slop. The top-hatted folks were out in force—in the shelter of the clubhouse—but the color-splashed finery of the women, a traditional Plate setting, was replaced by drab, mud-splashed raincoats.

Worst In History

Race conditions were the worst in the modern-day history of the classic which accounted for the slow 1:58 3-5 time.

Despite the mud the race was a spectacle as the crowded field broke from an open-gate start. Within seconds, horses and jockeys were mud-spattered and bettors couldn't distinguish their choices until they sloshed down the stretch in front of the grandstand.

Our Omar, owned by Scotty Kennedy of Winnipeg, Blue Wrack from the Avesta stable of Toronto, Tour de Force, a field horse from the Halton Brook stable and Latin Lad, showed their heels to the pack at various times but it was Epigram almost from the straightaway.

Gil Robillard, 27-year-old jockey from Penetanguishene, finished on top for the first time in his fifth attempt to pilot a Plate winner. It was the first time the Veal brothers ever had a Plate entry.

Red Wings Clip Buffalo In Twin Bill

By The Associated Press.

The battle to overhaul the highly favored Montreal Royals in the International League pennant race has turned into a three-team dog fight among Toronto Maple Leafs, Syracuse Chiefs and Rochester Red Wings.

All three of the pursuers are tied for the runer-up slot with identical 20-16 records, 3½ games behind the Royals.

The Red Wings pulled into a tie by taking a doubleheader from Buffalo Bisons 5-4 and 6-3, while Syracuse stopped Toronto 5-2 in a single game.

Heavy hitting by Ray Jablonsky and a fine relief effort to Jack Crimian enabled the Wings to take the first game. Jablonski drove home three runs on a double and homer. Crimian choked off a Buffalo rally in the ninth to preserve the victory for Jack Fasholz.

Two Runs Each

Player-manager Harry Walker and Don Richmond drove home two runs each to spark the Rochester attack in the second game. Bob Tiefenauer allowed only one run in a six-inning relief trick.

Bill Woop allowed only six hits while his mates collected nine, including a homer by John Blatnik, off three Toronto pitchers. The Chiefs made the most of three Toronto errors.

Baltimore Orioles are within a game of vacating the cellar after defeating Springfield Cubs, 5-4 in 10 innings and 9-0.

Report Chapman Quits Bisons

BUFFALO, N.Y., May 26 (AP)— Jack Laing, Buffalo Courier-Express sports editor, says today he has learned from Reliable sources that Art Chapman had resigned as general manager of Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League.

No official announcement was available from the club officers, but Laing said Chapman probably will become general manager of Vancouver Canucks of the Pacific Coast League.

Chapman has been connected with the Bisons for nine years. He came here in 1942 as coach under Eddie Shore.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Despite the inclement weather plus the fact that it was a split holiday, a goodly number were out to the Lawn Bowling Club on Saturday afternoon for the first bowling of the season. Close to 75 members were on hand, when President J. D. Fitzpatrick, in a brief address, declared the 1952 bowling season, officially open. He also welcomed all, especially the new members and hoped that they would make use of the greens and club house.

It was a mixed rink affair, but the games were withdrawn after six ends had been played. That heavy rain was the cause of it all. However the prizes were drawn for, with these skips successful. H. Staunton, C. Benson and R. Moore.

As in former years, the schedule books were distributed on opening day. Members are asked to read this book from front to back or from back to front or both ways from the middle— it makes no difference. All the season's activities from May 24 till on in September are clearly outlined.

The schedule games, open tournaments, local tournaments, everything is there. It takes a lot of time and patience to get this book out, the committee did a neat job.

We have a correction to make—the annual President-Vice President games will be held Tuesday, May 27 and Thursday May 29, instead of Monday and Tuesday nights.

Oshawa Athletes Capture Most Of The Events In Track and Field Meet

Oshawa's Collegiate and Vocational School's athletes literally ran away with the Peterborough and district track and field meet honors Saturday at the exhibition grounds. Its boys and girls broke records, and captured individual and team honors for the second straight year.

O.C.V.I. ran up 154 points for the three divisions, senior, intermediate and junior, total. Its nearest competitor was the rival P.C.V.S. Garnet and Grey team with 64 points, closely followed by St. Peter's High with 59.

Despite the rain which fell throughout the meet it was by far the most successful held in recent years. It attracted track and field stars from Uxbridge, Pickering, Campbellford, Lindsay and Port Hope. These schools did well against the larger schools, Pickering totally 40 points, Uxbridge 34, Port Hope 12, Campbellford 6 and Lindsay 3.

But Oshawa were too strong in all events, boys and girls. When they didn't place first, they were second, third or fourth.

Led The Way

Records were shattered by Oshawa's Kay Simons, W. Williams and L. Drummond. Miss Simons, one of the best girl athletes, led in the record-breaking department.

In winning the senior girls' division, Simons broke five records and collected 25 points, the highest individual total of the meet.

Her first feat was in the 50-yard dash where she clipped 6/10 seconds off the old mark of seven seconds with a time of 6.4 seconds. She followed up with a record of 9.8 seconds for the 75-yard dash, edging the old mark of 10. The third dash, the 100 yards, also fell to her for another record, 13 seconds, a second better than the old mark.

The running department was not the only one monopolized by Simons. She went up to four feet four inches in the running high jump, easily bettering the old high of three feet, 11½ inches. The running broad jump was also easy, setting a mark of 14 feet, one ½ inches, as compared with the old of 12 feet, six ½ inches.

Oshawa's girls' junior shuttle relay team broke the other girls' record. They covered the distance in 30.8 seconds, almost four seconds better than the old time.

Records Tied

Three girls' records were tied. Oshawa's J. Kelly won the girls' junior 50-yards in 6.8 seconds, Mary Waizman of Pickering won the intermediate girls' 100 yards in 13 seconds and Marie Maxwell, Pickering, won the running high jump, intermediate section with four feet three inches.

St. Peter's High boys tied and broke old marks when John Martyn ran the junior 75 yards in 8.4 seconds, tying the old mark, and Paul Buckley jumped 17 feet four ¾ inches in the running broad jump, shattering the old record of 16 feet, six ¼ inches.

But Oshawa Collegiate's boys took on where their girls left. W. Williams, O.C.V.I. ran the 75 yards in eight seconds, 6/10 seconds better than the previous time. He also broke the intermediate boys' 220-yard record with a time of 24.3 seconds, also 6/10 seconds better than the old mark.

Pickering's A. Carson won the half-mile intermediate jaunt in 2:10 minutes, setting a new record two seconds less than the old.

Oshawa's L. Drummond shattered more records in the senior boys' section. In the running broad jump he leaped 20 feet, three ½ inches as compared with the old of 18 feet four ½ inches. He bettered the old hop, step and jump record of 40 feet five ¾ inches by ¼ inch.

Mostly Oshawa

Individual section champions were mostly Oshawa athletes. Drummond captured the senior boys section with 15 points, first in the 220-yard, running broad jump and hop, step and jump. Williams won the boys' intermediate section with 11 points, two firsts and a third.

St. Peter's John Martyn copped the junior section with 13 points, firsts in the 50-yard and 75-yard and second in the 100-yard.

Simons early won the senior girls' championship with 25 points, the day's best, Teammate E. Richards, Oshawa, won the junior with nine points while P.C.V.S.' Maureen Fletcher won the intermediate with 11 points.

The rain forced a cancellation of a number of boys' events, especially in the senior, and would have cancelled the meet but it had to be held. The C.O.S.S.A. meet is next Saturday in Oshawa and Lakeshore district winners had to be declared.

GUNNER IS BACK — Ed (Gunner) Whitehill was persuaded to again take over as manager of the Petes' senior ball club, though the wily veteran and former ace hurler had announced earlier this spring that he would not be available for the job. The Petes are in the C.O.B.L. this season and expect to field a strong squad.

Batawa Loses To U.E.W. In Soccer Tilt

U.E.W. leads the Eastern Ontario Soccer League after a 4-3 win in Batawa on Saturday. Art Jones let a wet ball slither through for Batawa's first goal in eight minutes but they wasted several later opportunities. The visiting forwards worked hard and Bob Strong's good drive was just deflected in time by the goalie. It was even for some time till in a goalmouth scrimmage, the Petes goalie was away from the posts and a sure goal was averted by Jimmy Craig fisting the ball off the line. The ensuing penalty kick made it 2-0. Andy Smith got that right back from 15 yards out.

After the rest, U.E.W. began to play fine football and Eric Cotton evened the score with a long kick that surprised the goalie. Bob Strong scored with a curving shot from left to put them in front. Eric Cotton tried another long one and it, too, beat the harassed goaltender. Late in the tilt, a nice move paid off for Batawa by their rightwinger and it ended 4-3 for Peterborough. A week ago, U.E.W. trimmed Kingston United 6-3 to deserve first place.

White Sox Dump Tigers In Heartbreaking Twin Bill

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Art Houteeman, Murry Dickson and Bob Hopper are running neck-and-neck for hard-luck-of-the-year hurling honors. At the moment, Houtteman is in the fore. The young Detroit twirler dropped a heart-breaker Sunday, losing a 1-0 decision to Marv Grissom as Chicago White Sox twice shut out the Tigers. Veteran Joe Dobson outpitched Virgil Trucks, 3-0, in the first game of the doubleheader.

Hooper also went down 1-0 as Philadelphia Athletics were held to a split by Washington. The A's drew first blood, defeating the Senators 2-1, as Bobby Shantz turned in a six-hitter to become the first American League pitcher to win seven games. Lefty Lou Sleater got Washington even, edging out Hooper in the ninth when Pete Runnels drove in the only run of the game.

Dickson, Pittsburgh's righthander, was within one out of registering his first triumph since April 30—and only his second of the year—but a two-out home run by Dee Fondy with a man on base in the ninth inning dashed his hopes. The blow came off Dickson's reliever, Ted Wilks, and gave Chicago Cubs a 5-4 win.

Cleveland earned a split with St. Louis Browns, winning the nightcap, 6-2, after Rogers Hornsby's men had taken the opener, 7-5. The split left the front-running Indians still three games ahead of Washington and Boston Red Sox, now tied for second place.

Snap Losing Streak

In the only other action, St. Louis Cardinals snapped a four-game losing streak, coming from behind to nip Cincinnati Reds 7-6. Rain washed out the second game. The elements also postponed games between New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox, Brooklyn and Philadelphia and Boston Braves and New York Giants.

When tougher ball games are lost Houtteman will lose 'em. The only run given up by the 24-year-old Detroiter Sunday resulted from a wild pitch in the first inning that scored Al Zarilla. But only one Tiger got past first base—Joe Ginsberg—and he died on second. Grissom, a former Tiger, surrendered only three hits.

Houtteman's record is 3-6. Four of his defeats have been by one run. One of his victories was a shutout. The other two were by one run. Even in his shutout victory he had hard luck. Art had a no-hitter until two out in the ninth, when Harry Simpson singled to spoil his no-hit bid.

Dickson was not charged with Sunday's defeat, as Fondy's homer came off Wilks, who had relieved Murry in the eighth. Dickson stood to be the winner, however, as he left with a 4-3 lead.

Drops Seven Decisions

Dickson, a 20-game winner for a tail-end club in 1951, has dropped seven of eight decisions. His losses include two shutouts, two by one-run margins and two by two runs.

Hooper hasn't won a game while losing four. The A's have tallied only two runs for him in those four games.

Things were painful for the moundsmen in the St. Louis-Cincinnati game too. Both starting pitchers had to leave the game abruptly after they got in the way of line drives.

Southpaw Cliff Chambers of the Cardinals was hit on the left wrist in the first inning by a ball off the bat of Redleg outfielder Bob Borkowski. Cincinnati's Herm Wehmeier was conked on the jaw by a sizzler hit by Peanuts Lawrey.

Livvies Trip Mustangs 87-75

TILLSONBURG, May 26 (CP)—Canada's Olympic basketball team will be top heavy with players from Tillsonburg Livingstons, senior champions.

The Livvies Friday night earned the right to represent Canada with a fourth-game 87-75 victory over the University of Western Ontario Mustangs, college titleholders. The Livvies will have at least seven men on the Olympic club with two or three all-stars from across the country making up the squad.

The Mustangs put a scare into the champions with a tension-packed 83-82 edge in the third game Wednesday night to send the best-of-five series into a fourth game. But the Livvies made no mistake Friday night with a blazing fourth-quarter bombardment.

Tillsonburg won the first two games 79-65 and 78-69, each time coming up with a big outburst in the last 10 minutes.

EVER SEE A SNAKE RANCH?—George Sollman, cub scout of Cobleskill, N.Y., keeps a "snake ranch" in his back yard. George, seen standing near the door of his "ranch house," says that the critters are all harmless woods-dwellers, but to keep on friendly terms with neighbors, he keeps them in a glass-enclosed "coral."

Decide To Keep School Principal

VITTORIA, Ont., May 26 (CP)—Village ratepayers voted Friday to retain William F. Orchard as public school principal.

Mr. Orchard's resignation had been requested by Trustee Gordon W. Oakes and Ambrose Franks. A protest parade by school children followed.

Mr. Oakes, who walked out of the meeting after declaring that he had not changed his opinion, said it was a case of losing the principal or the other two teachers, Jeanne Richards and Hilda Houlding.

There was mention at the meeting of friction between Mr. Oakes and Mr. Orchard concerning regulation of the school thermostat. Mrs. Oakes is janitor of the school. Vittoria is 30 miles south of Brantford.

OrangemenBack Stand In B.C.

LONDON, Ont., May 26 (CP) — British Columbia Orangemen opposing changes in the school system of their province drew support here Saturday at the 71st annual convention of the Grand Lodge of Orange Young Britons of British America.

Delegates passed a resolution congratulating the Loyal Orange Association of British Columbia on "their magnificent fight for the preservation of the public school system against the onslaught of the Roman Catholic hierarchy to incorporate their iniquitous parochial and separate schools in the educational system of that province."

Wesley J. Adams, Toronto, was elected Grand Master at the closing session of the two-day convention which was attended by 150 delegates from Ontario and Quebec. He succeeds J. Denzil Graham of Stittsville.

Wallaceburg was chosen as the site of the 1953 annual convention scheduled for next May.

Police Chief Beaten While Checking Car

ARTHUR, May 26 (CP)—Police Chief Allan W. Armitage, 32, was attacked and beaten early Sunday after he checked a car parked near the Royal Bank here.

Armitage told provincial police he was hit from behind. He was knocked down, beaten and left dazed on the street.

Breithaupt Home Purchased By Nuns

KITCHENER, May 26 (CP)—The 14-room home of Lieutenant-Governor Louis O. Breithaupt of Ontario has been purchased by the Carmelite Order for use as a convent.

The Carmelite Nuns will take over the building, some 30 years old, Sept. 1.

Postulants will be taken into the convent until a full complement of 21 is reached. None will then be admitted except in the event of death. Priests from the Resurrection Fathers of St. Jerome's College will say daily masses for Sisters, who depend on voluntary alms and perform all their own household duties. The Carmelite Sisters specialize in making religious vestments.

Wants It Compulsory

LONDON, Ont., May 26 (CP)—Sunday school should be just as compulsory as everyday education, Commissioner W. R. Dalzeil, head of the Salvation Army in Canada, said Sunday evening. Speaking at a "citizens' commemorative assembly" marking the 70th anniversary of the Army's Canadian beginning in London, he criticized a "national and personal neglect of the Sabbath."

MAIN STREET TOPICS

GETS FISH HOOK IN HAND

Mrs. H. C. Sherwood, 46? Weller St., snagged a fish hook in her left hand Sunday. She was given outpatient treatment at Civic Hospital.

BREAKS ARM IN FALL

John Grimison, 72, broke his right arm Sunday when he fell off the porch of his home at Young's Point.

DEER SEEN

A doe that looked to be about three years old was sighted beside Highway 7 Sunday about five miles east of the city.

BROKERS CLOSE SATURDAYS

Beginning last Saturday, Biggar and Crawford stock exchange will be closed each Saturday until further notice.

SERIOUS INJURY

As a result of a car accident early Sunday morning "Rocky" Post, 23, of Apsley is lying seriously injured in Civic Hospital. He has severe head and chest injuries.

OUT FOR LUNCH

Collegiate students who take their lunch to school have moved outside into Confederation Park to eat their lunch in the warm summery weather.

HYDRO POWER CUT

Streets in the north-west section of the city were blacked out when their supply of power was cut off when heavy rains and wet trees fouled up some of the circuits. The street lights were out about an hour and a half from 9:15 p.m. on.

DIES IN HAMILTON

Donald John Huxley, 42 operater of Camp Kamanoa, a boys' camp on Stony lake, died Saturday at his home in Hamilton. For some years, Mr. Huxley was a master at Hillfield School, a private school in Hamilton. He is survived by his widow and two sons, John and Donald.

WEST NEEDS RAIN

Prairie provinces need rain, except in some areas of Alberta as reported at the weekend by the C.N.R. Driest sections are in Southern Manitoba and Southeastern Saskatchewan, where rainfall has been light since April 1. Top soil is drying out rapidly in many sections. In the Prince Albert country crop growth is rapid. Early sown wheat is up six inches.

PRESENTED WITH CHEQUE

Following the morning service on Sunday at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Mr. Donald Warne a recent graduate of Knox College, Toronto, was presented with a cheque on behalf of the session and congregation by James Dutton. The service was in charge of the Young People's Society with Mr. Warne preaching the sermon and Andrew Sheddon conducting the service. Others taking part were Miss Norma Ball, Max Clarke and Alex Ingram.

FIND OLD COIN

Peter Armstrong, 31 Edgewater Blvd. while excavating under his house on Burnham's Point found an old French coin of 1856 with the head of Napoleon III on one side and an eagle on the other. It is believed that the coin was lost during Peterborough's lumbering days, for on the same site was situated the old Dickson Company sawmill. French-Canadians were often employed.

Cameron Girl Killed Hit By Car

Child Dies On Way To Hospital Sunday Afternoon

LINDSAY, May 26. (ENS) — Six-year-old Shirley Dingman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Dingman of Cameron, eight miles north of Lindsay, died Sunday afternoon en route to hospital after she had been struck by a car.

Police said the driver, Leonard R. Shortt, of Thornhill, was returning from his summer cottage north of Cameron about 5 p.m. on Sunday. With him were his wife and two children.

As he entered the village of Cameron, Shortt attempted to pass a car in front, and as he moved abreast of it, the child darted out on the highway. Shortt applied his brakes immediately, but the child did not stop and was hit by the right front bumper.

Dr. G. C. Graham of Fenelon Falls was called, and he ordered the child rushed to hospital. She died on the way of multiple head injuries.

To Hold Inquest

Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan said today there would be an inquest.

The girl's father is employed in Lindsay, and her mother is reported to be in Lindsay hospital expecting another child. Shirley had two brothers and a sister. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dingman of Campbellford.

A YOUNG AIRMAN, Ronald Joseph MacDonald, 18, stationed at Uplands airport, was killed almost instantly Friday night to start a weekend of fatalities in the district. MacDonald was killed when the car in which he was riding somehow went out of control and crossed Highway 7 where it was hit by an eastbound car.—(Parks Studio Photo)

Wm. Sims Killed By Car Walking Across King St. Through Rain In Darkness

Man Thrown Up On Hood of Auto; Tossed To Side of Street
Coroner Says Death Caused By Shock

William Sims, 58-year-old Peterborough vocal teacher, was killed Saturday night when he tried to cross King St., east of Louis St., and was struck by a westbound car. The left front of the car, driven by William J. Alexander, 19, of Park St. N., caught Sims as he tried to walk from the south side of the street to the north. The impact threw him up onto the hood of the car. He was carried some distance and then tossed 14 feet onto the south side of the road.

He never recovered consciousness and died about 10 minutes after the accident while being taken to hospital by ambulance.

Death From Shock

Coroner Dr. Harry G. Carleton said death was caused by shock. Sims suffered severe internal injuries and his right leg was broken. Dr. Carleton said today there will probably be an inquest.

WILLIAM SIMS

The accident occurred 9:20 p.m. Saturday. Sims had left his home at 165 King St. and started to cross King St., opposite the Colonial Coach Lines terminal. It was raining heavily at the time and apparently neither Sims nor Alexander, who was driving the westbound car, saw each other until too late.

Alexander later told Constable William G. Scott, the investigating police officer, that he first noticed Sims when he appeared out of the darkness by his left front fender.

The fatally-injured man was thrown up onto the hood, the weight of his body breaking the glass in the left headlight. Force of the impact tore his wristwatch off and shattered his glasses.

Ken Colmer of Donegal St. was a passenger in the Alexander car.

Vocal Instructor

Sims came to Peterborough three years ago last July. He gave vocal instruction in both singing

Ontario Leads In Recruits Canadian Navy

Inland Ontario continues to provide the most recruits for the Canadian Navy, Vice-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, chief of naval staff, said when interviewed at the Grove School, Lakefield, following his inspection of the school's naval cadets. The two maritime provinces find novelty in the navy, ish Columbia provide the least. "A hundred reasons are advanced to explain this anomaly," Admiral Mainguy said. "The chief reason is, of course, that Ontario has the largest centres of population.

Young men from inland provincese find novelty in the navy, Admiral Mainguy reasoned. "They join to see ships, to see the sea. But for young fellows in Nova Scotia and British Columbia ships and the sea are old stories. They already have their own boats."

Admiral Mainguy noted a seasonal drop in recruiting after some winter peaks. "In the summer farm jobs on the Prairies pay so well that the navy can't compete. And young fellows are also attracted by the high wages in industry."

He noted that the monthly intake of recruits into the navy is 300. "Even at that, we are rejecting 60 per cent of those who apply.

"That's doesn't mean that 60 per cent of Canadian men are physically unfit. They are rejected because they are too old ,too young, medically unfit, or their suitability is not what we have vacancies for."

He said that the navy has not relaxed its recruiting standards at all, and "we hope we don't have to."

Train Hits Car Swung Around For 2nd Crack

An elderly Peterborough couple are able to tell their friends how it feels to be struck twice by an express train and escape with little more than a shaking up.

The fortunate couple are 70-year-old Walter M. Robinson and his wife Alice, 447 Lock St. They were struck at the C.N.R. level-crossing at Park and McDonnel Sts. while driving home 1 a.m. Sunday.

The train hit the left rear end of the car, swinging it round, and then it hit the front end, causing the vehicle to spin around down the road for nearly 100 feet.

Though the 1948-model car received heavy damage, Mr. Robinson had only a slight cut above the left ear to show for the freak accident. Both he and his wife were shaken up.

The Robinsons were coming home after visiting friends on Monaghan Rd. They were driving east along McDonnel St. and following another car that went over the level crossing ahead of them.

Visibility Bad

It was raining heavily at the time and visibility was bad. Neither of them saw the signal lights or the lights of the train.

The impact sent the car spinning like a top down McDonnel St., which was slippery from the falling rain.

"Everybody is telling us how fortunate we were," said Mrs. Robinson. "And I guess we were all right . . . It all happened so fast. We didn't see the wigwag or the lights of the train. There was the collision—I think we were hit twice—and we were going round and round."

Mr. Robinson is a production clerk at the Peterborough Lock Company.

The train, made up of a locomotive and 35 cars, was travelling on the Peterborough-Lindsay run.

Injured Woman Discovered By Road; Man Arrested

Bruised and bleeding, Mrs. Jean Haddersley, 25, an employee of the Anson House, was found late Saturday night, lying by the roadside halfway down Armour Hill. A blanket had been thrown over the injured and near hysterical woman to protect her from the driving rain, by the time police arrived. An ambulance was called and she was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. She was released Sunday.

While police were at the scene, a car came down the hill, stopped, and its driver, Earl Morton, 28, 253 Dalhousie St., was arrested.

Morton was held in custody over the weekend and appeared in police court today charged with assault occasioning bodily harm.

He was remanded on $200 bail until June 2.

Rains Saturate District Farms

Continuous rains recently have saturated the agricultural fields of Peterborough district and have left ponds on the lowlands where some of the spring crop is showing signs of turning yellow.

"Scalding" is the rural term for that effect of too much moisture. Hot weather would accentuate it, but the probabilities indicate a cooling temperature tonight that may allow the water to soak away without serious loss to the young grain.

Surface water throughout the southern section of the county looked today like a recurrence of the spring run-off in the wake of winter. Creeks are full, and even the Jackson Park stream was high again and turbulent.

Some water damage has already been caused, but farmers have been so grateful for the timely arrival of the rain that they hesitate to attribute loss to the excess. They suggest that estimate be withheld for a few days until the net result is apparent in the spring grain.

Clover and fall wheat are making good progress and look excellent, according to several comments today, but the wet land will delay the seeding of corn for a week of 10 days, if not longer.

Four Fatalities Of 7 In Ontario In District

Thirty-three people were killed in Canada during the Victoria Day holiday weekend. Seven of the fatalities were in Ontario and four of these were in the Peterborough district.

Ronald Joseph MacDonald, an airman stationed at Uplands, whose home is Sydney Mines, Nova Scotia, was killed Friday night in a two-car collision, four miles east of Peterborough.

William Sims of 165 King St., was killed by a car Saturday night when he tried to cross King St., just west of George St., during a heavy downpour of rain.

Playing Cowboys

Sunday afternoon 11-year-old Richard Strasser of Lakefield died from a rifle bullet through his forehead. He was playing cowboys and Indians at a quarry near Lakefield when he was accidentally shot by his 13-year-old brother, Albert.

Shirley Dorothy Dingman, six, of Cameron was struck by a car on Highway 35, eight miles north of Lindsay, Sunday. She died shortly after.

The weekend total for Canada includes seven deaths in British Columbia, six in Alberta, seven in Ontario, five in Nova Scotia, four in Quebec, three in New Brunswick and one in Saskatchewan.

T.L.C. Approves Union Firings

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP)—Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said today the Congress is "pleased to see the textile union cleaning house."

Commenting on the Montreal announcement of the United Textile Workers of American of the dismissal of its Canadian staff, he said that "while these things are always regrettable, in this case the action was most necessary."

The T.L.C., at its annual convention in Montreal in 1950, took action against some of the U.T.W.A. heads because of alleged Communist tendencies. It placed on a list of persons banned from the convention Kent Rowley and Madeleine Parent, both dismissed in today's action. This policy was continued at the 1951 convention in Halifax.

Four Cars Damaged In Single Accident

Four cars were slightly damaged in an accident at Charlotte and Aylmer Sts., Saturday evening.

N. D. Tully, 667 Chamberlain St., told police he was going east on Charlotte and swung out of a line of traffic to turn north on Aylmer St.

Police think this is what then happened: As Tully was making the turn, his left rear fender bumped a car driven by Arnold Steele, 528 Riverside Dr., driving it into a third car, driven by A. H. Fettes, 770 Armour Rd.

The Tully car then bounced off the Steele car, skidded across Charlotte St., and struck a car parked on the north side of Charlotte St., owned by G. M. Leiberts, 293 Lake St.

Patrol Sergeant Harold Mesley and Constable Sherman Keliele investigated.

NOT YET RECEIVED

City Clerk E. A. Outram indicated today that he had not received the report of the Brant inquiry. The hearing was held on April 17 by Judge F. J. MacRae who was appointed by the city council to conduct the inquiry into the circumstances of the arrest and imprisonment of Fred Brant. The inquiry's terms of reference also included an investigation into Brant's general conduct as a citizen.

Guard Rail Wrecked When Car Ditched

Donald Doherty, 22, of 272 Carlisle Ave., received a deep gash in his left arm early Saturday when his car smashed through the wooden guard rail at the canal bridge and turned over in the ditch.

Several stitches were required to close the gash. Doherty's tongue was bleeding and he complained of a sore back.

The accident occurred at 4:30 a.m. Doherty drove east across the bridge on McFarlane St. and the car went out of control, ripping out 16 feet of wooden guard railings. It went into the ditch, turned over and came to rest facing the opposite direction.

City police went to Doherty's home to question him during their investigation. But he said he didn't know how the accident occurred.

The car had the whole side caved in and there was damage to the roof, windshield, windows—all broken on the right side—steering wheel, doors and trunk lid.

100 Pupils Try Exams At Normal

Twenty-six of the 126 students at the Peterborough Normal school were let out on recommendation on Friday. The remaining 100 are trying their examinations this week.

Winners of the two prizes for the best all-round students were named today by Principal Leo Copp. They are: Lorraine Barker, a graduate of Picton Collegiate, and Betty Merrett, a graduate of P. C. V. S.

Miss Barker was given the Prince of Wales award, and Miss Merrett, the McLean award.

Included in the 26 out on recommendation are the four students who will join the teaching staffs of Peterborough schools this Fall. Miss Barker and Miss Merrett are two of those four.

Medical Students Pass Year At Queen's

J. O. Parker and H. B. Dinsdale, both of Peterborough, were successful in their examinations at the School of Medicine, Queen's University, Kingston ,this year.

Mr. Parker, a fourth year student, won the Cylvanus Joy $40 award in pharmacology. Mr. Dinsdale was a third year student.

B. E. Conn of Brighton passed his first year examinations.

3 Additional Recruits Join Canadian Navy

Three men were added to the 13 who joined the Royal Canadian Navy during a recruiting drive in the city.

The three men were sworn in Friday. They were Bruce Kenneth Sine, 232 Wolsley St.; Terrence M. Harrison, 629 Downie St.; and James W. Fairman, Hastings.

Recruiting officers said they were very pleased with the number of men of Peterborough and the district who joined.

Car Overturned One Driver Charged

When two cars collided at Aylmer and Simcoe Sts., Sunday evening, more than $100 damage resulted to a car driven by Peter L. Green, 210 McDonnel St., which was overturned by the impact.

The other driver, Thomas Mills, 11 Bethune St., has been charged with driving with defective brakes.

Telegraph Editor Dies

ST. CATHARINES, May 26 — (CP).—E. B. Burgoyne, for 32 years telegraph editor of The St. Catharines Standard, died Saturday. A life-long resident of this city, he is survived by a daughter Barbara and a son, Brian. His wife predeceased him some years ago. The funeral will be held on Tuesday.

Look To Future

GANANOQUE, Ont. — (CP) — Members of the Fish and Game Club here have deposited 15,000 muskellunge fingerlings and about 200,000 pickerel fry in the St. Lawrence offshore from here, and in adjacent waters of the river. Provincial game officers supervised the operation.

Times Change

Late Sucker Run Not What It Used To Be; Friends Now

By JIM ENGLISH

The annual run of suckers, said the old gentleman, is not what it was.

Remembering other, happier years, he sniffed and wiped a tear from the stop-light bulb of his nose. "Them was happy days," he said wistfully.

Education, he declared, is spoiling a once-profitable sideline. "People is smarter than they was," he added sagely, "but not so clever that they don't outsmart themselves once in a while."

Tipping his black derby far back on his shining dome of a head, he said: "Buster, there's a lot of suckers left in this world, but you can't get away from one thing— the good old days is gone."

He blew that foam from his glass and continued with his swan song of the sucker run.

Happy Times

When he was just in his prime, the sucker run was a delight to see. The natives of the county, with their shrewdness, diddled the tourists for all they were worth.

"My, some of the people was ignorant then. They'd buy anything. A fellow could live comfortable off what he made in the summer.

"I can recollect of the time I sold some Yankee tourist 14 miles of the fishing rights on the Trent Canal. I had a fine party with that money. Five thousand dollars it was."

The old gentleman sipped and gazed over my head, looking at something far away as he talked.

"I was lockmaster just up the river from the city here. One day this June, a feller comes up to the verandah where I'm sitting with my pint and cigar. He's carryin' a minny bucket, and wearin' waders, and he looks like he's happy.

" 'My man,' he says, 'who owns this stretch of water? It's the finest I've hit in years.'

All 14 Miles

"I says I own it, and just to make the story interestin' I tells him I own 14 miles altogether. 'It used to be a lumber flume,' I tells him. 'My poor father owned it before me and his father before him'.

" 'How much will you take for this 14 miles of fine fishing?' says this man.

"He didn't look like he was crazy, and he smelled sober, but I wanted to see if he was really after it. So I tells him since my father and grand-dad owned it, I couldn't bear to part with it. There was too much sentiment attached.

He asks me how much I want for it, sentiment and all. 'Mister,' says I, 'there's some things can't be bought. I remember telling my father — he was lying on his death bed at the time—that I'd never part with the land. And I couldn't break a promise of that kind,' I says.

" 'To the devil with the promise,' said the tourist. 'How much do you want for this 14 miles?'

" 'Well,' says I, 'allowin' for sentiment and such, I couldn't part with it for under five thousand dollars.'

" 'Done,' says he.

"Right away I seen he was a fool and would never go far in life. So I thought it was best to take his money before he wasted all of it.

Stick to It

"So he asked me then what papers were needed to prove ownership. I told him all he had to do was live in the house, and keep someone in there when he was away at his own home. 'Bein' in the house is as good as a deed,' I tells him.

"I took the five thousand and lit out with a dunnage bag full of food and clothes. Spent the next two winters up around Bancroft, trappin'."

What happened to the tourist, I asked.

"Oh, they had to drive him out with guns," said the old gentleman. "He was that sure he owned the place. I didn't stay to find out all that happened. I was too busy trappin'."

What did you do with his $5,000, I asked.

"Well, I buried some of it in a tin can. The rest I spent on a big do up at Bancroft. After I come out of the bush, I met some fellow who was sellin' gold shares. I put all my cash into them. Haven't drawn a dividend since, but they sure make nice wallpaper.

"That's more than that tourist got out of it."

C.C.F. Opposes Redistribution

OTTAWA, May 26—(CP)—The C.C.F. National Executive said Sunday that if tentative plans for registration of federal seats in Manitoba and Saskatoon are adopted, "one of the most blatant pieces of wholesale gerrymandering in the nation's history will be perpetrated."

A statement by the party's executive following a weekend meeting said proposed electoral maps for the two provinces, as drawn by federal Liberal members, would abolish the ridings of six C.C.F. members.

Under redistribution on the basis of the 1952 census, Manitoba will lose two seats and Saskatchewan three. Tentative plans have been submitted to provincial sub-committees of members by their chairmen.

The executive statement said the plans, as reported, would abolish six ridings held by C.C.F. members and one riding held by a Progressive Conservative, and combine another riding with that of a C.C.F. member.

Sees Pulp Companies Curtailing Operations

MONTREAL, May 26—(CP)—Canadian pulp and paper companies across Canad a probably will curtail woods operations somewhat during the next 12 months, W. E. Pepler, manager of the woodlands section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, said Sunday night in a statement.

Mr. Pepler said the pulpwood harvest for the wood year ending May 31 will total 14,000,000 cords, a record. While the companies would not finally determine their pulpwood needs until July, all reports from individual companies indicated the over-all cut for 1952-53 would be curtailed.

Recover Two Bodies

KENORA, May 26—(CP)—The bodies of two woods workers were recovered Saturday from South Scott Lake, about 25 miles from here. The men, Walter Orr and Joseph Wininou, were drowned Thursday when their canoe capsized. They are bleived to have been employed in the camp of R. A. Gillespie near here.

W.A. Makes Plans For Turkey Dinner

ROSENEATH, May 26 (ENS).—Plans were made to cater for the Rice Lake Tourists' Association on Junt 11, at their turkey dinner to be held in the agricultural dining hall by the W.A. of the United Church. The meeting was held in the Township Hall on Wednesday with Mrs. Ivan Thackeray as the hostess. The president, Mrs. Earl Waldie, presided, and Mrs. Ella Brown was pianist.

"The Use of Our Time and Possessions" was the topic of the devotional address given by Mrs. R. C. White. The speaker said: "Persons who are willing to sacrifice their professions, talents and ability for God' plan and for others, will find a way of life that will bring joy and peace." Preceding her address Mrs. White read a poem, "Medleys of Mother," and at the conclusion read another poem, "Tributes to Mothers Gone Before." Mrs. Bart Thackeray gave the Scripture reading.

The treasurer, Mrs. Fred Norris reported a balance on hand of $527.0.0 The Good Cheer convener, Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite, reported nine persons had been remembered during the month. A china sandwich plate had been presented to a bride of the month Mrs. Ralph Sherwin (nee Marjory Sandercock). It was decided to financially assist the parsonage committee in purchasing a new refrigerator for the parsonage. A committee was appointed to purchase additional dishes and silverware for the W.A. cupboard.

A large variety of plants were shown by Mrs. Thomas Sandercock and sold. The proceeds of this sale were turned over to a W.A. group. During the program period Miss Yvonne Adams played a piano solo.

The meeting closed with prayer. The hostess served afternoon tea.

Lugosi Enjoys Doing Horror Roles

By BOB THOMA

HOLLYWOOD, May 26—(AP)—No actor is as pleased to be interviewed as boogey-man Bela Lugosi, famed as the Vampire, Dracula.

Lugosi is a courteous, soft-spoken fellow who takes his craft seriously. He fell into the horror line quite by accident. He was a romantic star in Hungary.

But he came to New York in the chiller-diller, "Dracula." When he re-created the role in films, he was destined to a career of scaring people. Does he object to being typed?

"No, not at all. The main thing for an actor is to keep working. It is a king of security, this being a horror man. I have just returned from playing 'Dracula' in England for eight months.

"Now I am filming 'Bela Lugosi Meets the Gorilla Man,' which is not bad publicity. So you can see I have been busy."

Far from regretting his horror tag, he is even sorry he didn't sew up the field. He had the chance after he made his hit in "Dracula."

"They wanted me to play the part of Frankenstein's monster," he recalled. "The make-up was terrible, with the rubber mask and putty and the padding choking by body. I didn't have a line in the whole picture!

"They said they would let me out of part if I would dig up someone to do it. So I looked around and found Boris Karloff. He did the role, and of course it was a hit. I created my own Frankenstein monster by turning down the part."

U.S. Dam Building Expert Tackles Big Project For India

By SELIG S. HARRISON

BHAKRA, Punjab State, India, May 26—(AP)—Harvey Slocum, the builder of Grand Coulee and Shasta dams, has come to India to try "the goldangdest one of them all."

Slocum, 64, is special adviser in the construction of India's giant $300,000,000 Bhakra-Nangal project, designed to irrigate 3,600,000 acres of land and boost food output by 2,500,000 tons a year.

Slocum signed a 10-year contract with the government in early April.

He estimates that Bhakra will rank second only to Grand Coulee in spillway height, pushing California's Shasta aside, and will edge out Boulder Dam for third place in concrete yardage.

"But the thing which makes this such a hell of a job is logistics," he commented.

Great Problems

Bhakra's isolated, rugged site in the Himalayan foothills less than 140 miles from the border of Red-held Tibet, presents tremendous transportation difficulties.

"Construction is nothing more than a colossal job of transportation," Slocum said. "We've got 5,000,000 barrels of cement to move, and nothing but those tiny British railway wagons to move it in."

In making his plans, Slocum is facing intensely sensitive, nationalistic Indian co-workers—and a few finagling officials who don't like their domain disturbed.

If Slocum wins his way, Americans will supervise all phases of construction and modern heavy machinery made in the U.S. will be the order of the day.

If everything goes well, Slocum figures he should have the job finished in six years.

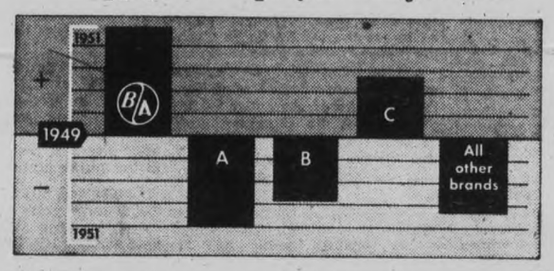
Independent survey shows big gain in preference for B-A



A recent survey by an independent research panel showed that more people than ever before prefer B-A. The rise and fall in gasoline preference by Canadians, between 1949 and 1951, is shown on the chart. B-A leads all other oil companies for increased preference and popularity.

New survey proves B-A 88 & 98 gasoline is TOP-RATED

Approval by the motoring public is what really counts in determining value of gasoline. Scientists and technicians can and do make the most careful laboratory tests . . . but the product has to stand up to the endless variety of conditions placed on it by regular users. And that's what happened with B-A 88 and 98 gasolines. After two years of use by all kinds of drivers, in all makes of cars, under all kinds of conditions—an independent survey showed a soaring gain in preference for B-A gasolines. B-A is rated tops by more people than ever before! And if you haven't tried it lately buy a tankful and we think you'll discover why B-A is Top-Rated by so many people. We know you'll find the answer is sheer value!

Mayor Congratulates Kiwanians On Successful Music Festival, Shields And Trophies Presented

Congratulations on behalf of the citizens of Peterborough were extended to the Kiwanis Club for their sponsorship of the Peterborough Music Competition Festival by Mayor Hugh Waddell Friday night.

His Worship opened in the P.C.-V.S. auditorium the first of the final two concerts of the festival.

The artists who presented the concert were all outstanding contestants of the festival which ended Wednesday. The program included vocal, piano, violin, and piano accordion solos, adult and children's choirs and verse speaking selections.

"This evening marks a culmination of a work of enterprise on the part of the local Kiwanis Club that is an outstanding example of a service club's duty—service to the community by helping the younger generation whenever opportunity permits," His Worship said.

A Stupendous Task

"I think this community owes you a debt of gratitude for the stupendous task you have successfully undertaken. As long as these children, who participate in the Peterborough festival, live, your efforts will be remembered."

The appreciation of the Peterborough branch of the Ontario Registered Teachers' Association to the Kiwanis Club for making the festival possible was expressed by Mrs. Donald Flett, president.

"The competitors have gained much from the festival, especially from the excellent constructive criticisms of the adjudicators," she said. "And I am sure that the Peterbrouogh festival is raising the standard of music throughout the district."

Wilson Gemmell, chairman of the festival committee expressed the appreciation of the committee and club for the co-operation and support that had been given by the adjudicators, accompanists, participants, teachers, and all others who had in any way helped with the 1952 festival.

Awards Presented

During the concert festival shields, awards and trophies were presented to the winners following their performance. Confederation School Rhythm, Kiwanis Shield Port Hope Public School Girls' Chorus, Kiwanis Shield; P.C.V.S. Choral Club, Kiwanis Shield; P.C.V.S. Concert Band, Kiwanis Shield; Coventry Singers, Kiwanis Shield; George St. United Church, Kiwanis Shield; Kiwanis Club Choir, Kiwanis Club trophy; Otonabee School Area No. 1 Choir, Kiwanis trophy; David Donaldson of Peterborough, Royal Bank of Canada award and Mortlock award; Kenneth McKague of Woodville, Northrop award; Betty Evans of Peterborough, Branch 452 Canadian Legion (Exservice women) award; Jean Dunn of Lindsay, Charles Saunders award; Malcolm McMartin of Peterborough, Peterborough Examiner trophy; Barbara Malsch of Peterborough, Gordon Hancock award.

The presentations were made by the donors. The Kiwanis Club shields and trophies were presented by Mr. Gemmell and the Peterborough Examiner award by H. L. Garner.

The remaining festival winners who performed were: Harold Dinesen of Peterborough, piano; Marilyn Joan Smith of Peterborough, piano accordion; Michael Triggs of Peterborough, verse speaking; Allan Jamieson and Bobby Richey, both of Peterborough, piano duet; Yvonne Leroux of Peterborough, vocal solo; St. John the Baptist Triple Trio No. 1; Lorene Batley and Jane Ovens, both of Peterborough, piano duet; Studio Trio of Peterborough.

The second concert will be held at the P.C.V.S. auditorium Tuesday night when other outstanding festival winners will perform.

Ont. Cheese Factories To Vote On Payments

TORONTO, May 26 — (CP) — Ontario's cheese factories will vote next month to decide whether authority should be given the Producers' Marketing Board to pool payments for cheese produced from April 1 to Dec. 1.

The Ontario Agricultural Department made the announcement and said it had received a petition from the marketing board asking for the vote.

It follows the recently-announced co-operative marketing agreement of the Ontario Marketing Board and the Federal Agricultural Department.

Under the agreement, the federal government guarantees the first payment on the cheese at the rate of 24 cents a pound.

The vote will be held the week of June 2.

Find Pigeons Carry Disease

WASHINGTON, May 26. (AP) — Pigeons trapped here have aroused suspicions that the pigeon may be a major culprit in transmitting a strange disease first recognized in newborn babies.

Called taxoplasmosis, and caused by a tiny parasite, the malady is semingly very uncommon, at least in its acute forms. But those forms can be very serious—invariably so in newborn infants, in whom brain damage and even blindness can result.

Dr. Leon Jacobs of the U.S. public health service reported today on pigeons captured atop the capital dome. He said 10 of them were found to have parasites or evidence of parasites.

Jacobs figures the parasite may reach man by means of some blood-sucking insect, such as the mosquito, the louse or the flea.

He said his studies suggest the pigeon may rank high among birds and animals suspected as constituting nature's "reservoir" of the parasites of this disease.

Dr. Jacobs said that less than 300 serious cases have been reported in medical literature since the ailment first was recognized in 1933—but that the large majority have been reported in newborn infants.

Facing Murder Charge Constable Suicides

VICTORIA, B.C., May 26 (CP) —A 42-year-old R.C.M.P. constable facing a charge of murder in the slaying of a 24-year-old girl in suburban Saanich died Sunday in hospital from a self-inflicted wound.

Barbara Hudson was shot and killed Saturday as she sat in an automobile in front of her home.

Gilbert C. Kirkpatrick, R.C.M.P. constable who was on sick leave, was taken from the car suffering from a bullet wound in the head.

Police said Kirkpatrick's wound was self-inflicted and that Miss Hudson had been shot in the back.

Kirkpatrick was married and the father of two children.

Motive for the shooting was not known.

Noted Author Fulton Oursler Dies Suddenly

NEW YORK, May 26—(AP)—Fulton Oursler, 59, author of "The Greatest Story Ever Told," a book based on the Bible, and former newspaperman and managing editor, died Sunday.

He died in his apartment of a heart attack.

He was a former vice-president and editorial director of Macfadden Publications and edited Liberty Magazine from 1931 to 1942. Later he was senior editor of Readers' Digest.

Born Charles Fulton Oursler in Baltimore, January 22, 1893, he later dropped use of his first name for writing purposes.

He became a reporter on the Baltimore American in 1910, later becoming its music and dramatic critic.

Forged Ahead

Within a few years he was busy writing short stories for magazines. He became editor of the New York Music Trades in 1920 and editor-in-chief of Metropolitan Magazine in 1923.

His editorship of Liberty and his executive post with Macfadden Publications followed.

In addition to "The Greatest Story Ever Told," which also was the basis for a radio series, he wrote "Modern Parables" and "Why I Know There Is a God."

He also wrote "Father Flanagan of Boys Town" with his son, Will Oursler.

Oursler was author of a number of motion picture scenarios and a syndicated column entitled "Modern Parables."

He formerly was a trustee of the Andrew Carnegie Fund for Needy Authors, and was president of the Catholic Institute of the Press.

CNR Financial Revisions Expected Before Cabinet

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP).—Legislation for a huge financial revision of the Canadian National Railways, in preparation for months, likely will come before the cabinet this week for final approval.

The measure, effecting a multi-million-dollar shift in the C.N.R.'s $2,300,000,000 capital setup, will be the top item in Transport Minister Chevrier's legislative program for the year. In transportation bills of recent years, it is second in rank only to the freight rate equalization statute of the late 1951 session.

Other possible transport measures in the shipping field are still under consideration. Most important is a proposal to restrict the Canadian coastal shipping trade to vessels built and operated in Canada.

This now is under study by an interdepartmental committee, but authoritative informants say the committee will recommend against it, for 1952 at least. The committee's recommendation is expected to be accepted by cabinet.

Without the coastal trade restriction, the Shipping Act amendments are expected to be of a comparatively routine nature.

To Be Introduced

The C.N.R. recapitalization measure, stemming from 1951 recommendations of the royal commission on transportation, will be introduced into Parliament right after getting the cabinet's endorsement, according to official sources.

Despite a heavy legislative agenda facing Parliament in the late stages of its session, these officials say the Government expects to see the bill passed before prorogation.

The purpose is to scale down the topheavy financial structure of the C.N.R., which has plunged the Government-owned system into a chronic deficit position. It is expected this will be done largely by easing the demands on the company's revenues made by its Government-held debt of some $750,000,000.

Officials who have been engaged in the complex revision say the Government's proposals will be patterned basically on the royal commission's recommendations, but will be streamlined and simplified in some respects.

Hope For Surplus

The net outcome will be to put the C.N.R. in a position where in normal years it will earn a small surplus. Under the existing setup, it takes an abnormal year to bring that about.

The proposed new arrangement will take into account that the Canadian National, from now on, will have to pay federal income tax just like privately owned railroads. This was laid down in the last budget.

It was understood the legislation will not provide specifically for the C.N.R. to retain its surpluses, as the royal commission had suggested. These would be dealt with at the discretion of the Government.

Blind Veteran Poetry Prize Winner

WINNIPEG — (CP)—A 72-year-old Winnipeg war veteran, once a friend of two notable figures in English literature, has been awarded second prize in the world-wide poetry contest.

Ted Fletcher, blind and in hospital, won the honor in a competition sponsored by the Queensland (Australia) Musical, literary and Self-Aid Society for the Blind.

Mr. Fletcher's poem, entitled "The Battle of Britain," is in narrative form. It was submitted upon the recommendation of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind of which he is a member.

The work is one of 600 poems he has written during a span of 30 years which includes an impressive military career. When he is asked where he was born, Mr. Fletcher replies: "in the service."

He enlisted in the famous Green Howards, a Yorkshire regiment, in 1895 and served in Ireland, Gibraltar, India, South America and France.

During the Boer War he met Rudyard Kipling and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, then war correspondents in South Africa.

Kipling's Advice

Mr. Fletcher met Kipling sitting on an ant hill after leaving a heavily-shelled armored train.

Kipling advised him never to bother with punctuation in writing. "If there's something to be said, it doesn't need punctuation."

Mr. Fletcher replied largely on his military experiences for inspiration. Sightless since 1939, his imagination helped furnish material for his poem.

He gave great thought to "The Battle of Britain." It was written in parts with his wife and daughter reading it back for revision.

Mr. Fletcher says there is "nothing to be depressed about if you lose your sight. You can still carry on. There is no need to stop reading."

For a brief period he operated a bookstore after learning to read Braille. But his thoughts still go back to his military days.

"I like soldiering," he says. "It was the only life—even when I used to get paid 17 cents a day."

Norwood Students Hold Final Dance

NORWOOD, May 26— (ENS)— The armouries were beautifully decorated for the final dance of the season of Norwood High School. More than 300 students and ex-students danced to music provided by Bobby Kinsman and his Melody Men. Seven door prizes donated by the business men.

Before the last dance Principal S. S. Breckon thanked the gathering for the splendid support they had given the school functions during the years that he had been in charge of the school.

The Woman's Association of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. Frank Jenkins Thursday afternoon.

The President was in the chair. Group Five with Mrs. Elsworth Hogg had charge of the following program. A duet "He Loves Me" by Gail and Diana Warner, Mrs. Warden Gardner gave the Bible reading following which Mrs. Hogg led in prayer.

Mrs. Charles McConnell took the topic, "What God Expects of Christian Living" and Miss Pauline Weir gave a short reading "Trifling with Time". The Mizpah Benediction closed the meeting. The group in charge served lunch.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Y.W.A. met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Cecil Cuthbertson.

Miss Isabel McMillan had charge of the meeting and led in prayer; Mrs. Sophia Cassidy gave a reading. "By Thy Grace I'll Follow Thee"; Mrs. Cecil Cuthbertson read the Scripture lesson; Mrs. Rod Webb read a Mother's Day message "And Mary Kept All These Sayings in Her Heart" and Mrs. Wilson Small took the topic on Christian literature.

Mrs. Cuthbertson had charge of the business.

Mrs. Cuthbertson and her joint hostesses, Miss Isabel McMillan and Mrs. Ronald Rothwell served lunch. Mrs. Rod Webb tendered a vote of thanks to these ladies and also to Mrs. Cuthbertson for opening her home for the meeting.

Women In North Expect Workers

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP) —Women in "civilized" parts of Canada would be hard put to match the initiative of the wives living in this far north mining town. The women here demonstrated their ability to produce professional examples of such handicrafts as leather work, rugs, tray and textile painting and other articles.

"Living in the north certainly helps people to find out what they can do," said a visitor to the recent exhibition of the Yellowknife Handicrafts Guild, one of the largest in Canada. It had a membership of 115 in the past year.

The display showed results of spare hours profitably spent in weaving materials for handbags and belts, towels and original clothing, hooking rugs and creating delicate ornaments from clay. Artists showed landscapes and portraits and a feature was the exhibit of bronze and wood carvings.

MR. ROBERT D. MOORE of Peterborough and his bride, the former Miss Doris Mae Garfat, who were married Saturday in St. Andrew's United Church.—(Choate Studio Photo)

Doris Mae Garfat Bride Of Robert Moore From N.S.

A lovely wedding on Saturday afternoon was that of Miss Doris Mae Garfat, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Garfat, Port Hope Highway, to Mr. Robert Douglas Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Moore of Kentville, Nova Scotia.

The ceremony took place in St. Andrew's United Church with the Rev. Henry Cotton officiating. The church was decorated with baskets of spring flowers and ferns. Organist Mr. Harry Northrop played the wedding march and accompanied soloist Mr. Adam Hawley who sang the Lord's Prayer before the bride entered and "Because" while the register was being signed.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was wearing a gown designed with very full skirt of net and strapless bodice of Alecon-type lace covered with a jacket of the same lace made with a standing collar and long sleeves with lily points over the hands. Appliqued flowers from the lace were pretty trimming on the skirt. Her hat was fashioned of the same lace and net in becoming style and from it fell her fingertip veil of tulle illusion. An orchid centred her bouquet of white carnations and lily of the valley.

Only bridal attendant was Mrs. James Basinger of Cobourg who wore pale blue taffeta and matching net headdress and mittens. The dress was styled with the skirt shirred in tiers and the fitted bodice finished with a sweetheart neckline and puff sleeves. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and white carnations.

The bride's brother Joseph Garfat was groomsman and ushers were Robert Parkhurst of Toronto and Kenneth Reynolds.

Reception of the guests took place in the Y.W.C.A. Green Room with Mrs. Garfat receiving in a navy crepe gown and pink accessories and wearing a corsage of pink roses. Assisting was the groom's mother who wore navy sheer with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

For travelling to Buffalo and New York City on their honeymoon the bride chose a navy corded suit, navy and white accessories and a blue check topcoat.

On return to the city Mr. and Mrs. Moore will live at 748 George St. N.

McKay-Scott Norwood Rites

The wedding of Bernice Lorraine Scott to Johnson Earl McKay of Norwood was an event of Saturday afternoon in the Norwood United Church. The Rev. Harold K. Wright performed the ceremony, in a setting of white and mauve lilacs.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Alfred Scott of Norwood and was given in marriage by her father. She was wearing a gown of white Chantilly lace with skirt of net over satin. It was trimmed with pearl embroidery on the collar and lily point sleeves. Her fingertip veil was of Nottingham lace, caught to a beaded tiara and she carried a bouquet of red carnations.

Miss Dorothy Jackson was maid of honor and bridesmaids were her sisters, Misses Viona and Helen Scott. They were wearing bouffant frocks of taffeta in mauve, yellow and aqua shades and headdresses of matching flowers. Each carried a basket of spring flowers.

The groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McKay of Norwood, was attended by his cousin, Ivan Johnson. Another cousin, Kenneth Johnson, and the bride's brother, Howard Scott were ushers.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. J. H. Caskey, organist, and during the signing of the register Mrs. J. Bingham sang "O Perfect love".

Receiving the guests afterward, in the basement of the church, the bride's mother was wearing a pale bule crepe dress trimmed with lace and navy accessories and had a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother, also receiving, wore navy crepe and navy hat and a corsage of red roses.

The refreshments were served by six of the bride's former classmates from Peterborough Civic Hospital School of Nursing, the Misses Esther Borland, Wilma Deyell, Norma Robinson, Marigold Elmhirst, Allison Guest and Betty Barr.

For the wedding trip to eastern Ontario, the bridge changed to a navy suit with which she wore pink accessories and a pink shortie coat. Her corsake when going away was of deep pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. McKay will live on the groom's farm near Norwood.

Says War Orphans In Moral Danger

MONTREAL (CP)—War orphans in Europe saved from starvation by relief agencies six years ago now are in danger of being lost "to the gutter," a leader in European welfare movements said in Montreal.

Miss Sylvie Monod, secretary-general of La Centre Francaise De La Protection De L'Enfance (French Centre for Protection for Children) said a child whose life may have been saved a few years ago is now, at the age of 14 or 15, in moral danger because he has nowhere to go and nothing to do in his spare time except "roam the streets".

She said that in Paris alone there are between 50,000 and 60,000 children in grave moral danger.

Miss Monod said she has been impressed by the way in which service clubs in Canada and the United States have sponsored boys' organizations in order to give them constructive interests and activities. French adolescents need to be given a sense of stability because the dangers and worries of the international situation are close to the people of France.

"The possibility of a new war is not something that can be discussed lightly because the people of France believe that if war were to come it would be the end of everything," he said.

More Freedom Offers Hope For Mentally Sick

BATTLEFORD, Sask. —(CP)— Recreation and scientific methods have been substituted for bars and cells in the treatment of mental disorders. An example of the modern methods being employed today to fight mental illness is the Saskatchewan Hospital in North Battleford, home of nearly 2,000 patients.

"The old "put them away' idea has been scrapped" says hospital superintendent Dr. F. S. Lawson. "A mental hospital is not a jail It is a medical institution."

New treatment such as electro-shock therapy, insulin-coma treatment, continuous bath and brain operations have proved of great worth.

Patients are urged to discuss their problems. They are given as much attention as possible in the first six months after admittance, when the chances of recovery are best.

Everything in the hospital is kept as near to normal as possible. There are knives and forks at meals, radios, magazines, books, movies and regular church services.

By offering more freedom and understanding, the psychiatrists and doctors of hospital are gradually winning their battle against mental disease.

The attitude of the staff, which has reflected on the patients, is best summed up in the title of the patients' mimeographed magazine. It is the "New Outlook."

Pottery, China Attract Canadians At U.K. Fair

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON—(CP)—By the time the British Industries Fair closed its doors this month, many of the 300 visiting Canadian buyers had stopped for a chat with rosy-cheeked, white-haired Dulcie Vaughan, owner of a pottery and china exhibit.

For Mrs. Vaughan has more than a trade interest in Canada this year. Her 21-year-old daughter, Carol, recently emigrated to Canada and settled in Victoria.

Mrs. Vaughan button-holed visitors with North American accents at every opportunity. Another incentive for this plump, competent woman, who runs a pottery and china works in London's Chelsea area and in South Devon, is the knowledge that her hand-painted china sells well in Canadian markets.

Sports Designs

Her tea, coffee and breakfast sets sport hunting and racing scenes, gun dogs, game birds, fish and fly designs. And there are special skiing numbers for the Canadian market.

Mrs. Vaughan's stand, with white-coated girls demonstrating china painting, was one of the displays at the May 5-16 fair which drew special attention from dollar buyers.

It's too early yet to estimate the response of buyers to the fair. At a banquet given on opening day, Britain's treasury chief, Richard Butler, said "an immense-D-Day invasion" of foreign markets was necessary.

In most cases, stall-holders found that whereas buyers last year came with more orders than they could handle, this year things had to be "sold".

There are, of course, firms who exhibit more from courtesy than necessity, already having established good markets in Canada and the United States. One such is a cash register firm whose representatives say that no less than 90 per cent of last year's production went to Canadian and American markets.

Tartan Clad

Canadians are also the chief buyers of bone china figures dressed in seven different Scottish tartans —correct in every feature of highland dress— sold by a Stoke-on-Trent firm. Biggest demand is for the Royal Stewart tartan.

Most firms reported inquiries which they hoped would produce orders. These ranged from interest in giant 50-ton moulding presses and a 120-foot fabricated footbridge, to a powder compact with a screen-wiper for the mirror.

Two devices that interested men were ties that glow in the dark and a new answer to that old problem —how to keep your shirt from gradually flopping over your pants. Many kinds of waist fastenings have been tried unsuccessfully — so one London firm approached the problem from a different angle. They figured that waist-drag originates with raising the arms—so they hinged the sleeve underarm to allow more stretch.

Laxative Slave

regains youthful regularity

"For two years I was troubled with constipation," admits woman in West Hill, Ontario. "Then I started eating ALL-BRAN regularly. No trouble of this kind since!" If you, too, suffer from irregularity due to lack of dietary bulk, why not try toasty Kellogg's ALL-BRAN? It's helped thousands to regain youthful regularity. High in iron and protein, it's not habit-forming. And the only type ready-to-eat cereal that supplies all the bulk you may need. Eat ½ cup every day; drink plenty of liquids. Kellogg's is so sure you'll like ALL-BRAN that if you're not completely satisfied after 10 days, send empty carton to Kellogg's, London, Ont., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

MOVIE COLUMN

Famous Scenes From Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 26—(AP)—All of the memorable movies had scenes which stand out in the minds of film goers. Here is an attempt at listing the 10 scenes which remain the most famous of all time.

1. The hitchhiking scene in "It Happened One Night." It had the breeziness and the laughter that you don't find in films nowadays. The majority of mature film fans can still recall how Clark Gable failed at hitching a ride, after which Claudette Colbert lifted her skirt beside the road and a car screeched to a stop.

2. James Cagney pushing a grapefruit in Mae Clark's face in "Public Enemy." That scene is still the epitome of film toughness. It started a whole new era of woman-handling by males and marked the end of the romantic screen lover of the silent days.

3. John Gilbert's farewell to Renee Adoree in "The Big Parade." It was a tear-jerker.

4. The train-station hospital in "Gone With The Wind." That was a picture with many memorable scenes. But the one I remember is the tremendous shot of the southern wounded in the train station.

5. Dana Andrews walking among the deserted airplanes in "The Best Years of Our Lives." The scene recalled the past glories of a recent war.

6. The battle scene of "Birth of a Nation." Up to that time and for years thereafter, no one had portrayed warfare as vividly on the sceen as did D. W. Griffith.

7. Charlie Chaplin dining on his shoe in "The Gold Rush." Chaplin's ability to combine comedy and pathos was never more evident.

8. The Zepplin crash in "Hell's Angels." The only thing to overshadow it was the newsreel shots of the Hindenburg crash.

9. The hotel scene between Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall in "To Have and Have Not." For pure sex, nothing in recent years can compare with the scene in which she murmured, "If You Want Anything, Just Whistle."

10. The earthquake in "San Francisco." Of all the movie disasters, none remains as memorable as the havoc created for this film.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl Should Plan Carefully Before Tackling New Life

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a desperately, completely miserable girl in my late twenties. I feel that the small town in which I live has no opportunity for me and I'd like to go to a large city. I am an experienced clerk and receptionist, have the ability to meet people and am socially adaptable. I'm sure I'd have no difficulty finding a job, but I would like to know if there is an agency or persons who would help me locate a good room. I'd like some information on getting settled in a strange city.

ANSWER: With your apparent poise and assurance, you should have no difficulty making your own way in a city. The experience can be a most disheartening, or exhilarating, one, depending upon your own personality and ability.

It would be most unwise to decide to tackle the complexities of city life with no preparation whatsoever; your wisdom in seeking advice before embarking on the venture is commendable.

Try The Y.W.C.A.

The Y.W.C.A. does a splendid job of accomodating young girls; if they have no room in their own quarters, they will recommend one. Why not obtain a copy of a newspaper published in the city where you extect to live? This will give you an idea of both living quarters and jobs available. When you go, take letters of recommendation from two or three people in your town, such as your clergyman, a teacher, librarian or other responsible citizen. These will prove invaluable on many occasions. Be sure you have enough money to tide you over a possible period of unemployment, and guard against that horrible "all-alone-in-a-big-city" feeling by making a church connection. Locate some group activities you can join, such as art classes, gymnasium workouts, Red Cross work or something similar.

If you find, after a reasonable trial, that your idea of city life was grossly exaggerated, don't be too proud to pack up and go home. A big city can be awfully cold, after the friendliness of a small town; you won't be the first person to find it unresponsive.

DEAR MISS DIX: For the past four months I have been writing to a boy in service. Last week he came home, hoping to meet me. My girl friend, her boy friend and I planned a nice day for him. We all had a good time, then he asked me to his home to meet his parents. They were very nice to me. He left last Monday to go overseas for a year. Would it be wise for me to wait? The way I feel towards him now, I'd wait forever.

UNDECIDED NOW

ANSWER: You don't give your age, but from your letter I pace you in the mid-teens. While your exuberance is perfectly understandable, don't you think you're taking a lot for granted when you assume that one meeting with a boy's parents puts you practically on a "going steady" basis? You don't say that the boy asked you to wait for him, or gave any further encouragement that he wanted you to. Why not write to him—friendly, newsy, cheerful letters; go about as you did before the fateful meeting and bide your time! Don't, whatever you do, indicate to the young man how seriously you are taking him. That's the surest way to scare the poor boy.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a middle-aged woman recently divorced after fifteen years of marriage. I will continue a career I had before, under my maiden name. Do you suggest I take my maiden name back or use my married name now? My husband is remarried so there is another Mrs. M. I don't care to be in the same class.

D.M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Under the circumstances, I think it would be wise for you to resume your maiden name. That privilege is usually given with a divorce. If it hasn't already been granted you, the legal procedure is simple.

Teacher Builds Radar Unit May Assist Blind Persons

TORONTO—(CP)—Canada's 19,000 blind persons soon may be aided by a supersonic device—mechanism designed by a Canadian and operating on the same echo principle as radar.

Robert W. Beath, director of the research department of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, said recently that this invention by Stuart Calvert, young high-school teacher in Sault Ste. Marie, may enable a blind person to walk fearlessly around the furniture in his own home and equally confidently across busy intersections.

It was produced in Mr. Calvert's basement workshop for less than $300.

"True, it's a long way from being perfect," said Mr. Beath. "But these supersonic devices are on the way."

He described the invention as "no larger than an ordinary box camera." Instead of a shutter, the case is equipped with an opening through which the sound waves may be projected, and a reflector to pick them up when they bounce back from any object they encounter.

"Instead of using electronic waves as radar does, this machine generates supersonic sound waves," said Mr. Beath. "When these are projected and strike a lamp-post, garbage-can or another pedestrian coming toward the blind man, they are reflected back and set up a series of audible 'peeps' becoming louder and closer together as the object draws nearer."

In heavy downtown traffic a blind man couldn't concentrate on "peeps" coming from a little box he's carrying. So there's a metal handle not unlike the handle of an ordinary pressing iron on the box.

Instead of listening, the blind man feels the "peeps" in the palm of his hand in a series of very slight shocks and vibrations of varying intensity.

Marmora W.A. Sends Bale To Aklavik

MARMORA, May 26 (ENS) — The monthly meeting of St. Paul's W.A. was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. Frost.

Mrs. R. G. Winters presided and opened with prayer.

The roll call was "Church seasons of the year and their meaning". Mrs. Frost, as Dorcas Secretary, reported the bale ready for shipment the following day to the Indian School at Aklavik.

It was decided that each member would donate one dollar towards the pledge. Ten dollars was further added to pledge money as the result of the sale of a quilt made by members. Mrs. P. Gray presented an interesting report on the recent Diocesan annual meeting in Kingston.

She also read an article on the work of the W.A. in Western Canada. The offer of Mrs. E. Hewitt of her home for the next meeting which will be in September was accepted.

The president closed the meeting with prayer, after which refreshments were served.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Many Ways To Turn Out Virginia Ham

REGINA SASKATCHEWAN:

Yes, that is where I am. You may wonder what business I have being away from my own kitchen and typewriter.

I'm seeing things at first hand.

For instance, the importance of salvaging last year's fall wheat that was beaten down by rain, then buried in snow before it could be harvested, and the providential phenomenon of an early hot spring that dried the land and made the harvesting of it still possible. The spring - harvested fall wheat is grading better than last fall's harvest. I talked to one of these overworked wheat farmers, who immediately had to turn to the seeding which should have been his first spring work normally. He was happy though weary.

I visited Shilo, one of the biggest military training camps in Canada, with homes for the families of the men in training and a modern new school for their children.

Just as in Winnipeg and Brandon, the citizens of Regina cannot seem to do enough for visitors. My special friend is a flier, a girl flier, and from her I learned of their pride in the beautiful trees and shrubs that make this city so beautiful. Any watering that is done (by man that is) is strictly regulated, but on this day in May it is beautifully green—and it is difficult to imagine that it could be dry and burned—but Reginans smile knowingly.

I am going to my flier-friend's home to meet her family and to have dinner. It is heart-warming to arrive in a strange city, and to be met and told what the program for the next day is to be. I only hope that I remember to redouble my welcome—and to go the second mile as they do—when strangers visit our home town.

I am not forgetting this is a cooking column, but I want to keep you posted on my wanderings and the hospitable meals. (Pete is forwarding all of your mail to me.)

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I read your column and thought I would ask you how to cook Virginia Baked Ham like they have in Southern United States. What kind of hams are used? I shall be watching your column . "A Housewife".

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: A Virginia Baked Ham is a smoked ham with bone in (not "tenderized"). Scrub ham and soak 8 hours in water to cover. Drain and cover with boiling water, bring quickly to boiling point, cover and simmer, allowing 3¼ hours after it begins to boil. (Time would be longer for ham that is to be boiled only, and cooled in cooking liquor and sliced.) If desired, seasonings such as bay leaves—2, 6 whole cloves, 4 peppercorns, 1 small sliced onion, may be added to cooking liquor. Let ham cool in cooking liquor. Carefully lift out and peel off rind.

There are many versions of Virginia Ham. Choose one of the following finishes:

(1) Pat into fat surface a half and half mixture of fine dry breadcrumbs and brown sugar—about ½ cup each, and 1 teaspoon mustard.

(2) Brush fat surface of meat with beaten egg, sprinkle thickly with brown sugar and stick with cloves.

(3) Pour ½ to 1 cup cider or fruit juice or syrup over the ham and pour ½ to 1 cup in the pan, and baste twice, or baste 4 times with orange juice.

(4) Apricot Glaze: (I gave you this at Easter. It is my favourite.)

Soak ¼ lb. dried apricots overnight in 1½ cups water. Simmer until tender in water in which they were soaked. Stir in ¼ cup sugar. Press through sieve. Spread evenly over ham.

Bake prepared ham, uncovered, for 1 hour at 350 deg. Fahr.

6—In Memoriam

COLLINS — In loving memory of Thomas J. Collins, who passed away May 25th, 1951.
—Always remembered by wife and family.

HANNAH—In loving memory of my dear Aunt Daisy, who passed away May 26, 1951.
No one knows how much I miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
I have suffered, since I lost you
Life has never been the same.
In my heart your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true.
There is not a day dear Daisy
That I do not think of you.
—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by your niece Vera.

McINTYRE— Lovingly remembering a dear husband and father, Charles L. McIntyre, who was called to higher service, May 25th, 1950.
"Giftless we come to Him who all things give,
And live because He lives." (Whittier).
—Wife, Marjorie Jean and daughter Linda.

WILSON—In loving memory of George Wilson, who passed away two years ago today.
"We often sit and think of him when we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own;
Like ivy on the withered oak; when all other things decay,
Our love for him will still keep green and never fade away.
—Sadly missed by son Ed. and Eileen.

BUYING — OR SELLING?
When Egg Prices are at peak next fall, will you be Buying or Selling? Provided you have housing for layers, probably more comforting to "pocket nerve" to have plenty home-produced eggs for table, surplus for sale! Well-started three-four-week-old Pullets fast growing, early laying, big-egg Bray stock, should lay by September if raised right. Very reasonably priced right now if taken "shipper's choice"— look: Heavies, per hundred, three weeks, $27.90 ... four weeks, $32.90. Mediums, per hundred, three weeks $34.90 four weeks, $38.90. (If interested particular breer or cross, ask for "customer's choice" prices slightly high er but still mighty reasonable.) Dayolds also available new lower prices. OBITUARIES

MRS. ALBERT TEATRAULT

DOWNEYVILLE, May 26 — (ENS).—Mrs. Albert Teatrault of Long Island, N. Y., a former resident of Downeyville, died Friday and she was buried today in St. Luke's cemetery, Lindsay.

Pallbearers were six cousins: Parnell, Michael and John O'Neill, David and Ormond Morrissey, and Oswald O'Neill. The funeral was at St. Luke's Church, the Rev. S. A. Perdue of Toronto officiating.

Mrs. Teatrault was the former Mary Morrissey, daughter of Margaret O'Neill and the late John Morrissey. She was born in Downeyville and educated there and in Lindsay. She left 16 years ago.

Death came after a long illness in her 44th year.

Besides her mother and husband Mrs. Teatrault leaves four sisters: Mrs. Walter Herlihey (Carmalita), of Downeyville; Mrs. Alvin Perdue (Cecilia) of Downeyville, Mrs. Gerald Cavanaugh Camilla of Ennismore, and Sister Demetria of St. Joseph's Convent, Winnipeg.

ALBERT REYNOLDS

William Albert Thomas Reynolds, 74, of 285 Dalhousie St., died Saturday in hospital here after an illness of several months. He had retired several years ago after farming in Smith Township.

Born in Cavan Township, he was a son of the late Archibald Reynolds and Elizabeth Wright. His wife, the former Caroline Pue, predeceased him. Mr. Reynolds resided at Springville for many years. As a young man he was a fiddler of note, playing at all the old-time dances. In 1925 he moved to Smith Township.

An adherent of Fairview United Church, Mr. Reynolds was a member of Millbrook Lodge, A.F. and A.M.

Surviving are three sons, Herbert Linden of Peterborough, Fred of Hamilton, Lorne of Smith Township, and two daughters, Mrs. Alex Thompson (Ethel) of Peterborough and Mrs. Bruce Heard (Greta) of Smith Township. There are two sisters, Miss Matilda Reynolds and Mrs. Harry Brown, and a brother, Joseph Reynolds, all of Peterborough.

The Rev. D. P. Morris of Bridgenorth will conduct the funeral service today at 2 p.m. in the Belleghem funeral home, and burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

ADELE NADINE BOSLEY

Funeral service was held today for Adele Nadine Bosley, nine-months-old daughter of John Bosley and Mollie Crowe who died suddenly Sunday in hospital.

Surviving are her parents, three brothers and two sisters. Terry, 8; Michael, 5; Wayne, 3; Pamela, 6; and Marie, 2, and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bosley of Peterborough and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crowe of London, England.

The service was held in the Duffus funeral home, and burial was in St. Peter's cemetery.

Wins Scholarship

STRATFORD, May 26 — (CP) —Margaret M. Baldwin, French specialist on the staff of the Stratford Collegiate Institute, has been awarded an Ontario Education Department Scholarship for post-graduate study in France. Miss Baldwin, who has been on the collegiate staff here since 1943, will attend the Sorbonne in Paris.

$1 Million In New Gear Speeds Mining At Marmora

Brand new mobile equipment assembled on the property of Bethlehem Steel near Marmora is estimated at close to $1,000,000 in value by the Northern Miner.

"Few mines in this country have started off in such an auspicious manner. The heavy equipment will be used in stripping a 100-ft. depth of limestone capping to bare the magnetite ore body for open pit mining."

The pit will be about half a mile long and one-quarter of a mile wide, and will be carried to an ultimate depth of 500 ft., providing for shipments of concentrate at the projected rate of 500,000 tons annually for from 25 to 30 years.

That is a brief summary of the contemplated operations as recently surveyed by the Miner.

"The ore is relatively low grade, being a shade under 40% iron. However, it concentrates readily, the ratio being one and a half tons of ore to one ton of concentrate.

"Concentrating will be done at the property. In addition, some agglomerating will also be done ....

Three Years To Complete

"The stripping operation will require the removal of 15 to 20 million tons of waste rock. This will take from 2½ to 3 years and will be completed before any ore is shipped.

"It will be a year round operation; with ore being stock-piled in the winter months."

"The concentrate will be shipped via C.N.R. to Picton, a distance of 55 miles. It will provide substantial new-found revenue for this government-owned line, which passes right through the property.

"Close to 1,200 acres have now been acquired by Marmoraton Mining Co. Ltd., wholly-owned subsidiary of the big steel organization, at a cost probably in the neighborhood of $500,000.

"By the time the first ore rolls to the steel mills total expenditure on this Ontario project will almost certainly have passed the $10,000,000 mark, and will probably be closer to $15 million."

Getting Started

"The big stripping job is just nicely getting started. It follows the clearing of 100 acres of scrub timber. In this connection, it was noted that the land, which lies close to the southern fringe of the pre-Cambrian shield, appears unsuitable for other farming or timbering. It is rather rugged and rocky. Timber removal was not economic.

"Preliminary work includes a road building program of three or four miles, giving access to the pit dumps and railway siding. Limestone from the pit area is now being blasted and utilized for this purpose.

"A new power line is nearing completion. This will allow some of the fine new electrical equipment to be brought into play, including a six cubic yard capacity electric shovel.

"It required six flat cars to bring in this particular unit. It weighs 215 tons. There is a 2½ yard Diesel shovel already in operation, feeding half a dozen 22-ton capacity Euclid Diesel trucks. This fleet is being increased.

"There are two new heavy mobile electric drills which will shortly be in operation, supplementing the more conventional wagon drills already at work. To service this heavy equipment, there is a new heavy mobile crane.

Aerial Survey

"The whole project is the outgrowth of an aerial magnetometer survey carried out in January 1949 by the Ontario Department of Mines in conjunction with Geological Survey of Canada. Mine officials give full credit to Mines Minister Gemmell.

"At present 50 men are employed on the project. H. Olsen is general superintendent. The staff will be increased as both mining and construction work get underway.

"When normal production is achieved, the total force will level off to around 150, as the whole operation is based on the fullest utilization of the most modern equipment.

"Construction work this year may be limited to erecting permanent shops. Temporary office space has been acquired in Marmora, about 1½ miles northwest of the pit. Company has also begun building half dozen fine houses on a picturesque site acquired on the banks of the Crowe River, immediately across from the town. Heavy construction work is still in the planning stage."

Would Take Back Endicott Degree

TORONTO, May 26 (CP)— A Toronto minister suggested Sunday that Victoria College of the University of Toronto should take back an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity it conferred on James Endicott, now head of the leftist Canadian Peace Congress.

The Rev. Gordon C. Smyth of Yonge Street United Church said in a sermon the university conferred the degree while Dr. Endicott was a United Church minister serving as a missionary in China.

"When Dr. Endicott resigned from the ministry, he kept his honorary degree of divinity and everywhere he goes he dresses up for his meetings in religious garb.

"Our church boys in Korea could be excused for feeling very bitter that back home in Canada a man is parading a title of honor, and at the same time endeavoring to undermine the ideals of Christian liberty and justice for which they are risking their lives."

First Vote On Liquor Due In Glamorgan

LINDSAY, May 26—Glamorgan township in Haliburton will hold its first liquor vote on June 25. Already wets and drys have chosen sides, and a hot campaign is expected.

Glamorgan has been under local option since about 1912, and this is the first time a vote has been called since then. Understood to be leader of the wet forces is Dallyn Pickens, a resort owner in Gooderham. Leading the drys is Fred Whyte, reeve of the township.

Since coming to Peterborough Mr. Sims was best known as a music teacher. He was director of the Peterborough Choral Society and a member of the Church of the Open Bible.

He leaves his wife; a son, William E. Sims of Lachine, Quebec; a daughter, Elizabeth H. Sims of Montreal; three sisters, Beatrice L. of Montreal, and Mrs. J. Campbell and Lola, both of London, Ontario.

The funeral will be Tuesday, 11:30 a.m. at the Kaye funeral home, the Rev. W. S. Crone and the Rev. F. H. Parlee officiating. Burial will be in Mount Pleasant cemetery, Toronto.

On Glass Spree

¼NEWPORT, R.I., May 26 (AP)— Seaman Edward A. Craig, 24, was held by police today, accused of ruining $1,624 worth of plate-glass store windows with a square-cut ruby ring. Inspector George A. Vonvillas said craig scratched 37 panes of glass in 23 stores before he was halted.

Prisoners Tell Of Kindness At Reds' Hands

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON —(CP)—Letters from British prisoners of war in North Korean camps, praising the "unceasing kindness" of their Communist captors, are being submitted to careful study by intelligence officers of the War Office.

The letters, forwarded through Peiping, capital of Communist China, have aroused misgivings among relatives of the men. They have vouched for the authenticity of the handwriting but suspect the sentiments, especially the warm phrases describing their treatment and conditions.

Most of the letters are from members of the Gloucestershire Regiment, about 400 of whom were captured a year ago in the Battle of the Imjin River. Some of the letters were addressed not to next-of-kin but to editors of home-town newspapers.

Mothers and wives who at first were overjoyed to learn there were no suggestions of maltreatment, now are wondering whether their men, knowing that only laudatory letters are getting through, are deliberately writing in that vein.

The writers invariably stress the easy time they are having, with references to meals of chicken and pork, wine on special occasions, film shows and even eiderdown coverlets on their beds. They say the only labor they are required to do is for their own benefit, such as wood and ration fatigues.

Coercion Seen

The authorities, however, believe the letters may have been written to dictation. This, they say, would explain why many relatives of prisoners have not yet received a single letter, although messages from others have confirmed that their sons and husbands are in the same camps.

Recipients of the letters report that every communication carries some subtle propaganda, chiefly of an anti-American nature.

Members of the Gloucesters, known to have been staunchly anti-Communist, now sign themselves "members of the working-class of the world" and write that they regard themselves less as prisoners of war than as "students of Socialism."

The latest batch of letters to arrive in England disclosed that copies of the Communist Daily Worker are being sent from London to the camps. Many urged their families to become subscribers of the paper.

Allow Pedestrians Use Railway Bridge

HAMILTON, May 26 (CP) — After four weeks of having to cross the Burlington canal by ferry or else travel all the way around through Hamilton by bus, Burlington beach residents now are permitted to use the pedestrian walk built on the side of the railway bridge spanning the canal. It was opened for their use during the weekend.

Their regular means of crossing the canal was the Burlington bascule bridge which collapsed recently.

Canada Coach Lines now operates a half-hourly bus service between Hamilton and Burlington. On arrival at the canal, the bus drivers get out with the passengers and walk across to a bus on the opposite side to continue the trip.

Jack Guest Jr. of Toronto, whose bright sculling career has been threatened in recent months by a serious back ailment, won an easy four-length victory on Saturday over four other scullers in the college singles at the combined American Henley and Stotesbury Regatta at Philadelphia.

The 19-year-old Guest, whose father won the diamond sculls at Henley-On-Thames, England, in 1930, represented the University of Pennsylvania. Guest covered the mile course on the Shuylkill River in 7:34.4.

John H. Hart of Harvard was second and Larry Kelly of LaSalle College of Philadelphia, third.

Don Buchanan of Quebec Braves has been fined $10 and suspended for two days, president Albert Molini of the Provincial Baseball League announced Sunday night. The fine and suspension were for Buchanan's part in a fracas Thursday in a game between the Braves and St. Johns Canadians. He came to blows with the Canadians' manager, Gord Maltzberger when the two collided at the third base coaching box. Maltzberger was fined $50 on Friday.

Edward Brooke and Roly Asselin of Montreal were selected as members of Canada's fencing team to compete in the summer Olympics at Helsinki in July. Both competed for Canada in the 1948 Olympics at London. Jack Dalton of Toronto and David Silverstone of Montreal were nominated as next in line for the four-man team but the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada makes the final decision in June.

Negotiation committees of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and the professional leagues will meet at Toronto today and tomorrow. Said Doug Grimston of New Westminster, B.C., president of the C.A.H.A.: "We will talk over a lot of subjects and iron out a few things about player transfers."

Real Delight, a roly-poly bundle of Calumet Farm dynamite, scampered to an easy victory Saturday in the $63,200 Coaching Club American Oaks at Belmont Park. She thus stamped herself as the classiest three-year-old filly in the United States. In winning the gruelling 1⅜ mile test, Real Delight duplicated the feat of another Calumet star—Wistful—in sweeping three United States major stakes for sophomore fillies—the Kentucky Oaks, Black-eyed Susan and the Coaching Club. No other horse has ever done it.

A $2 pari-mutuel quinella ticket on Captain Keg and Personate in the fourth race at Portland Meadows, Portland, Ore., paid $2,917 Saturday. Only two tickets on the combination were sold. Captain Keg paid $176.20 to win and Personate $9.40.

Heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott and his manager have filed a $1,000,000 damage suit against the Calvert Distilling Company. Walcott charges that his value as a boxing drawing card and his standing as a leader and an example to youth has been impaired by use of his picture in whisky advertising.

A 24-year-old Finnish immigrant, Felix Latvilla, Saturday won the Canadian 10-mile running championship at Fort William with a time of 58 minutes, 28 seconds. He outdistanced Donald James of Winnipeg in the final mile. John Fors, 23, of Hornepayne, placed third.

Mrs. Edward Lasker's Forelock captured the 12th running of the $25,000 Will Rogers Stakes Saturday at California's Hollywood Park in a photo finish over Alate. The favorite, Warcos, finished third.

Inauguration of a program for junior skiers in Canada was announced by the Canadian Amateur Ski Association holding its annual meeting at North Bay. The program will be set up as a team competition, the various clubs entering their own team. Individual championships will be held separately. W. G. Clark of Ottawa was elected president of the association. Other officers include: chairman of the technical board, P. Ramage, Brantford; treasurer, Mrs. P. Ramage, Brantford; chairman of the junior committee, E. J. Hazen, Sudbury; director, E. J. Hazen, Sudbury.

Two of Canada's outstanding track candidates for the summer Olympics, distance runners Rich Ferguson of Toronto and Don McEwen of Ottawa, hooked up in a stirring two-mile race at Evanston, Ill., Saturday. Ferguson scored an upset victory in the time of 9:08.9, Ferguson, a freshman at the University of Iowa, conquered McEwen by six yards with a great stretch drive. It was the first loss in his track career for McEwen, a University of Michigan student.

Ben Hogan put on one of those blazing finishes for which he is famous Sunday to win the $20,000 Colonial National Invitation Tournament at Fort Worth, Tex., with a three-under-par 67 on the final 18 holes for a 72-hole total of 279. He went into the last round six strokes back of Raymond Gafford, Dallas pro, who folded under the pressure and soared to an 80. Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago was second. Hogan won $4,000.

French Colt Expected To Win Derby

LONDON, May 26 (AP). — A French colt is expected to win the 174th English Derby, scheduled to be run over a mile and a half of the rolling Epsom Downs tracks Wednesday. Post-time is 12:30 p.m. E.D.T.

Eight of the probable 36 starters will cross the channel in the bid to win the richest Epsom Derby. It's worth $57,663 to the winning owner.

All the three-year-olds will carry 126 pounds. The Derby is open to fillies, but none is entered this year.

British bookmakers, who seldom make a mistake on a big race, made up their minds weeks ago that a French horse will win this classic.

The current top three choices in the betting are all French-owned and trained.

They are Paul Duboscq's Silnet, outright favorite at 7 to 1; Eugene Costant's Thunderhead II, which won the two thousand guineas classic over a mile at Newmarket April 30, and Marcel Boussac's Argur.

Latest odds against Thunderhead II are 10 to 1. Argus, third choice in the books, is rated at 100 to 9.

Consistently Backed

One of the French-trained entries is American Ralph Strassburger's Worden II, a 100-to-7 shot. This horse has maintained a high spot in recent odds callovers on the race and seems to have been quietly, yet consistently backed.

One of the talked-about outsiders is Indian Hemp a chestnut colt owned by publisher Max Bell of Calgary and the first Canadian-owned horse ever to run in the Derby. Indian Hemp, once at 66 to 1 has dropped to 40 to 1.

Britain's chief hope, according to the betting, is the Aga Khan's Tulyar, also at 100 to 7.

Britain's champion jockey, Gordon Richards, who has ridden well over 4,000 winners, never has been aboard a Derby winner.

Gordon is to ride the 33-to-1 long shot, Monarch More, sole survivor of a fleet of entries from the Beckhampton stable which has sent out nine winners of the Epsom classic.

Police estimated 500,000 persons are expected to spill over the broad downlands, whatever the weather, but nothing like that number will even get a glimpse of the race.

A large area of the Downs is common land and most of those who make the traditional free trek to Epsom will be in the huge infield around which runs the Derby track.

The record winning time of the Epsom track (generally reckoned to be the most severe test in all racing) is two minutes 33 4-5 seconds, set by the Aga Khan's Mahmoud in 1936.

Silnet, 7 to 1; Thunderhead II, 10 to 1; Argur, 100 to 9; Worden II, and Tulyar, 100 to 7; Bob Major, 18 to 1; Torcross, 20 to 1; Faubourg II and Gay Time, 22 to 1; Postman's Path, 25 to 1; Lar Varende, Ararat II, Monarch More and Marstad, 33 to 1; Chavey Down and Indian Hemp, 40 to 1; Khor Mousa and H.V.C., 50 to 1; Summer Rain, Kara Tepe and Speechmaker 66 to 1.

Fiery Torch, Trim Curry, Hasty Prince, Merry Minstrel, Neath, Nick La Rocca, Rego, Otari, Serpenyoe, Shahcrenda, Silver Wraith, Green Signal, Bold Buccaneer, Caerlaverock, Castleton, all at 100 to 1.

Set Production Records

TULSA, Okla., May 26 (AP) — Both United States and world oil fields set record crude-oil production records during March, it was reported Sunday. Daily average of 12,278,300 barrels for the world was reported by the Oil and Gas Journal—721,400 barrels over March, 1952. U.S. production averages 6,425,000 barrels daily. The previous high mark of 6,374,500 barrels was established last October.

Request Boycott

LONDON, May 26 (Reuters)—Britain's National Union of Small Shopkeepers Sunday called on its 10,000 members to boycott "cheap and tawdry" souvenirs made in Japan for sale here at next year's coronation of the Queen. The action was taken after arrival of samples of a Japanese brooch with an impression of the Queen which, the association says, "no one would recognize as a likeness."

TV Pay Said Poor

LONDON, May 26 (AP)—British Actors' Equity complained Sunday that the pay for appearances on the BBC's government-owned television monopoly are so bad they are fantastic. General-secretary Gordon Sandison said television work gets an actor only about one third of the salary he would get for a similar job on the stage.

HOLLYWOOD, May 26 (AP)—Actress Ava Gardner underwent minor surgery Saturday and returned home Sunday, her doctor, Leon Krohn, reports. Dr. Krohn said the operation "was minor. However, I prefer not to give out any details concerning the surgery."

To Wed Ninth Time

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y., May 26 (AP)—Tommy Manville and dancer-writer Anita Roddy-Eden said Sunday night they plan to marry. It will be his ninth marriage and her first. The eighth wife of the asbestos heir, Georgina Campbell Manville, was killed last April 26 in an automobile accident. No wedding date was set.

OLDEST FELINE—Scooter, a yellow Persian cat owned by Mrs. William Mallough of London, Ont., will celebrate his 35th birthday Sept. 4. Reputed to be the oldest living cat, a New York artist has asked to paint him and a Canadian writer wants to write a book about him. Last year he was considered for a Hollywood movie role but was bypassed because of his age.

U.S. Paper Praises Canada's Donation

NEW YORK, May 26 (CP). — Canada is to be congratulated and honored, the Herald Tribune says today, for releasing an additional $41,000,000 to the World Bank to be loaned to member countries at the bank's will.

(Canada made the step last Thursday and, in effect, it released its full quota of capital for bank loans.)

"Canada has freed its entire cash quota to the international bank for reconstruction and development," the Herald Tribune says in an editorial, "and a major advance has thus been made in its evolution as a truly international agency."

Double Trouble

SINGAPORE, May 26. — (Reuters) — A 26-year-old Chinese taxi driver recently married two girls at the same time in a Chinese ceremony. The groom said his marriages "had nothing to do with love." He explained that he married his "No. 1" because it was his father's last wish. His "No. 2" had been engaged to his brother, but since the engagement was broken off, he felt it was his "duty" to support her.

Tear Gas Routs 300 Rioting Idaho Convicts

BOISE, Idaho, May 26 (AP) —A six-hour uprising at the Idaho State Penitentiary was quelled late Saturday when tear gas was used to rout 300 angry convicts.

Before the riot was controlled, the convicts set fire to two penitentiary buildings, broke numerous windows, flooded the recreation hall and smashed furniture, causing several thousand dollars damage.

No concessions were made to the surly prisoners, who had demanded a hearing for two convicts placed in "the hole," prison parlance for a solitary confinement cell.

The riot was touched off when four inmates were locked up Saturday morning for agitating against the grievance committee. Two were placed in solitary confinement and the other two given hearings by the state board of corrections and placed in their cells.

Before the other two could appear before the board, the riot started, Clapp said. Inmates took billy clubs and saps from prison guards, who were hustled out of the yard to avoid being held as hostages.

After four sessions between the grievance committee and the warden failed to halt the rebellion, tear gas bombs were fired.

Dog Saves Four

PITTSBURGH, May 26 (AP) — A German shepherd pup adopted as a stray 10 years ago saved four persons from possible death in their gas-filled home Sunday. The dog barked and awakened Joseph Kelly, 60, in time to stop a leak in a service line.

Jewelry Stolen

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP) — Jewelry worth about $24,000 was stolen over the weekend, police said, from the penthouse apartment of Louis Abrams, an official of the Emerson Radio Corporation.

OBITUARIES

ANN ELIZABETH HUNTER

The seven month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hunter, 534 Park St. N., Ann Elizabeth Hunter, died Sunday in hospital. She had been ill since birth.

She is survived by her parents—Mrs. Hunter was the former Barbara Murray. Her grandparents also survive: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Murray; and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hunter; as well as great grandparents, Mrs. J. Murray and F. Meeks. All live in Peterborough.

The funeral service was held today at 2:30 p.m. from the Kaye funeral home. The Rev. B. S. Morwood of Mark St. United Church officiated. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. ABRAHAM A. SPARKS

A resident of Peterborough for 48 years, Mrs. Abraham Albert Sparks, 218 Wolfe St., died Friday in hospital after a short illness. She was a past-president of the Women's Association of Knox United Church and had held other offices in the church.

Born in Mattawa, she was Janet McKellar Wilson, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wilson, and lived in Mattawa before coming to Peterborough.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Edmund J. Purvis (Vera), of Peterborough; a sister, Mrs. M. Barrer, of Larkwood, Ont., and a brother, Dan Wilson, of Sudbury.

Funeral service was to be today at the Comstock funeral home, with the Rev. H. G. Douglas officiating, assisted by the Rev. William McDonald. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Motorcycles Dangerous

LONDON, May 26 (Reuters)—Motorcycles are the most dangerous and ships the safest of all vehicles, according to statistics revealed here. The Highway Research Laboratory reported that it gives a "risk-of-death" figure of 40 to motorcyclists. Figures for other transport are 15 for bicyclists, one for a driver of a four-wheeled vehicle, seven for an airplane passenger, and .2 for a railway passenger. The risk on a ship registered with Lloyd's ship registry is negligible.

Legion Maps Blueprint For Changes In Canada

MONTREAL, May 26 (CP). — The Canadian Legion's national convention, over after five days, has mapped out a blueprint of the Canada it would like to see. It would cost the Federal treasury a lot of money and intensify mobilization.

Out of the mound of resolutions submitted by branches from coast to coast, and approved in the hundreds, emerged this picture:

The country would be placed on a virtual war footing, people selected for service in the forces or elsewhere, all national resources mobilized, the reserve force brought under Royal Commission inquiry.

The Federal Government would subsidize low-cost housing, boost servicemen's pay, pay special rates for servicemen in combat, implement extensive improvements in war pensions, war veterans' allowances and hospital treatment. It would increase money available under the veterans' Land Act, give veterans an additional $500 income-tax exemption at 60, extend full veterans' benefits to wartime merchant seamen, help educate the children of war dead, train veterans to allow them to acquire skills to compete with immigrants.

Partly Foot Bill

The government would partly foot the Bill for improvements in superannuation arrangements for veterans in the civil service, build stronger defences on the West Coast, give each serviceman a $10,000 insurance policy, boost funds available for civil defence, lower the postal rates on gift parcels for servicemen abroad, boost sums available for cadet training, bring rural mail carriers under the Civil Service Commission and raise their pay.

No person would be barred from a public place or a job because of color, creed or race. Immigration laws would be tightened to provide better screening of undesirables. Immigrants would not be allowed to take jobs veterans should have. Both new immigrants and exempted religious groups such as the Hutterites would be made liable for military service.

Veterans who did not get overseas would be given a preference for Federal government employment right after overseas veterans. All Communists and friends of Communism would be ousted from jobs where they might commit sabotage.

War-crimes prisoners such as Kurt Meyer would serve their sentences. Canadians would start voting at 18 instead of 21. The terms "Dominion" and "Royal" would stay. Counselling services of employment for aging veterans would be improved. Unessential construction would be stopped and the materials channelled into housing.

Tent Caterpillars Appear In Toronto

TORONTO, May 26 — (CP) — Tent caterpillars have made their appearance in Toronto and surrounding area, the forest protective service of the Ontario Government said today.

The pests have been seen in suburban Leaside and Toronto's Rosedale ravine. There are two varieties, the forest tent caterpillars and the eastern tent caterpillars, which spin tent-like structures of silk in the crotches of trees or shrubs.

The forest protection service said Toronto is on the southern edge of a widespread infestation in Ontario which includes the summer resort areas. It was predicted that the caterpillars will subside in Toronto by mid-June and in the resort areas by the end of the month.

Famous Five To Graduate From School In Callander

CALLANDER, May 26 (CP). — The doors of Villa Notre Dame School soon will close permanently because five sisters have grown up.

Annette, Cecile, Marie, Yvonne, and Emilie Dionne are 18 May 28. They graduate the same day from high school. In gowns and mortarboard caps, the five, whose birth brought this Northern Ontario village world fame, will receive their diplomas at a ceremony in the playroom of the Dionne home south of here.

There will be nine other graduates, girls their own age who have shared their lessons at Villa Notre Dame School which was the quints' original nursery. It will close when the quints will attend a girls' college next year. Which one is not yet known, but it won't be a convent. Mr. Dionne sought to dispel rumors that the five girls may become nuns.

"We have no desire to force them to become nuns," he said. "If they decide to do so, it will be a step they will take themselves."

Mr. Dionne said the girls have no boy friends. "They have been too busy to think about that sort of thing."

"But when they see a boy, they can tell what kind of a boy he is," he added. "And for that I am thankful."

Mr. Dionne said he won't worry about the financial status of any prospective son-in-law.

"I wasn't born with money and you don't need money to find happiness," he said. "The only thing that will matter is that he is a boy of the right type—I don't care if he hasn' a cent."

Hotel Employees Threaten Strike

VICTORIA, May 26 — (CP).— Employees of the two biggest hotels on the Pacific Coast say they will strike if necessary to back up wages and hours demands.

Workers at the Empress Hotel Thursday joined Hotel Vancouver employees in endorsing strike action. The vote was 97 per cent in favor—32 for and 11 against.

A union spokesman said any strike plans here will be in conjunction with those of the Vancouver group.

No deadline has been set by the union involved, the Canadain Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.C.L.).

The Empress Hotel is operated by Canadian Pacific Railway, while the Hotel Vancouver is operated jointly by C.P.R. and Canadian National Railways.

Minnesota Invaded By Caterpillar Army

HIBBING, Minn., May 26 (AP). —Billions of leaf-eating tent caterpillars are stripping many trees in 11,000,000 acres of Northern Minnesota in the greatest infestation by the pest on record, state entomologist said Friday.

The hairy, slate-colored worms, about an inch long, are swarming over unprotected trees in such numbers that branches appear like squirming lengths of rope.

In several instances, armies of caterpillars have crawled over rails, causing locomotives to lose traction and halt. They are expected to become a highway traffic hazard when they reach their full growth in a week or so.

Despite their uncounted numbers and hearty appetites, the caterpillars cause little permanent damage to trees, T. L. Aamodt, state entomologist, said.

Councils To Discuss Fire Protection Area

WARKWORTH, May 26 (ENS) —The Percy township council met in the town hall, Warworth, with all members present, Reeve George Broadworth; Cecil Grills, deputy-reeve; councillors Eric Merrill, Wm. Johnston and J. S. Atkinson.

It was voted to accept the return of the tax roll and to issue a cheque for the balance of salary for tax collector.

The council decided to invite the councils of the township of Brighton, Cramahe, Alnwick and Seymour to meet to consider the formation of a fire protection area. A fire marshal's representative will be invited to attend the meeting.

The council granted the Federation of Agriculture $75.00, and $25 was voted school field day.

Issue Warrants For 3 In Dice Game Holdup

LONDON, Ont., May 26 (CP)— Warrants for three men have been issued here in connection with the $3,000 armed holdup of a dice game in suburban Manor Park last November.

The warrants are for Henry Alex, Robert Edward Wood, and Rhoderick Morrissette. Addresses and further identification of the men was not given.

The three are reported in custody in Toronto—two charged with bank robbery and the third in connection with theft of guns from a Canadian Army camp.

Four masked men—carrying a Thompson machine-gun—shouldered their way into a garage where a crap game was in progress and robbed 20 players of an estimated $3,000.

Pantie Raid Version Strikes Philippines

MANILA, May 26 (AP.)— The Philippines Friday had its own version of the pantie raid—and it did not much resemble the United States college pranks, heavily played in Manila newspapers.

A 26-year-old widow awoke to see a man pulling her flimsies from a wardrobe. She chased him from the house with a bolo knife.

And he was no college student —but the rural vice-mayor, she said.

Another incident was reported in Pampanga. A policeman was charged with robbing a young coed of her undies. He was older than most college men, too.

DIGNIFIED YO - YOER — Springtime has apparently stirred the iron heart of this statue of Sweden's King Charles XII, and induced the monument, in a Stockholm park, to take up the fine art of yo-yoing. Actually, the addition to the dignified statue was the work of students celebrating end of term.

Dual Price Plan Has Dangers U.S.Envoy Warns

OTTAWA, May 26 — (CP) — Stanley Woodward, United States ambassador to Canada, said Saturday night careful consideration should be given to the implications of a dual price system.

He referred in an address to visiting members of the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce to the proposed price increase to U.S. buyers of $10 a ton for Canadian newsprint.

The increase, effective June 15, would bring the price to $126 a ton in New York. Canadian buyers pay $112 a ton plus a 10-percent sales tax. He said:

"Suppose, for instance, that Canada builds the St. Lawrence Seaway alone. We should expect the same tolls to be charged U.S. shipping as Canadian shipping.

"It so happens that about 80 per cent of Canadian newsprint is sold to U.S. consumers and that about 80 per cent of the freight passing through the seaway is expected to be for U.S. consumers.

"Will there be a double standard for shipping, as has been announced for newsprint."

LEGION HEADS—The Canadian Legion at its national convention in Montreal elected clergymen to its two top jobs for the first time in Legion history. Dr. C. M. Lumsden (left), 57-year-old professor of Bible studies at Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., succeeds Group Capt Alfred Watts Vancouver as president. A Baptist minister, he lost an arm in the First World War and won the Military Medal while serving as a stretcher-bearer. The new first vice-president is Dean J. O. Anderson (right) of Winnipeg. He was awarded the Military Cross in 1945 for gallantry while serving as an Anglican chaplain. He is Dean of Rupert's Land.

Presbyterian Church Throws Out Law

NEW YORK, May 26—(AP)— The Presbyterian Church in the United States has thrown out a part of its church law saying its ministers may re-marry a divorced person only after a year has elapsed since the divorce.

The change, given final approval by the 2,500,000-member church's top governing body, also strikes out a phrase specifying that ministers "may re-marry the innocent party" to a divorce.

No restrictions concerning remarriage of the "guilty" or "innocent" party is contained in the newly-substituted section of the church's directory of worship.

Cease Dragging When Man Returns To Home

The search for 65-year-old Alfred Yeatman, of Douro township, ended Friday night when he returned home after being missing for about 36 hours.

All day Friday a patrol of city firemen dragged the fast-moving water below the Auburn Dam on the offchance that Mr. Yeatman had fallen into the river and drowned. He lives in Douro, three-quarters of a mile north the city, and crosses the dam frequently, using it as a short-cut to the highway.

Mrs. Yeatman became alarmed Friday morning when she had not heard from her husband since Thursday morning when he set out, presumably to go to work.

Elect Harold Anglin Kinsmen Governor

KINGSTON, May 26—(CP)— Harold Anglin, of Kingston, was elected governor of District Six during Saturday's closing session of the four-day annual convention of the Association of Kinsmen Clubs held here.

District Six extends from Quebec City to Trenton. More than 200 delegates from some 30 Kinsmen clubs in Quebec and Ontario attended.

Reds Bar Patrols, Cut Phone Lines In Peace Reprisal

BERLIN, May 27. (AP)—The Communists cut telephone communications between East and West Berlin and 17 long-distance lines between West Berlin and West Germany today. Eight Telegraph lines also were shut down. Thus far, teletype communications between West Berlin and West Germany were not affected. It appeared to be the first blow in the promised Communist reprisals for West Germany's signing of a peace pact with the western Allies Monday. West Berlin, 110 miles inside the Soviet zone, feared a renewal of the near-paralyzing Red blockade of 1948-49.

BERLIN — (Reuters) — The Communist East German government announced tonight that a "no-man's land" 3½ miles wide will be created inside East Germany's border with the West. East German and Russian authorities already have started ploughing up a strip of land along the border.

West Berlin telephone officials would not disiose how many land lines they still have open to West Germany but indicated the number is far in excess to the 17 shut down. Also radio telephones, capable of handling about 50 calls simultaneously, are stilll functioning.

Allied officials said their communication lines still are operating normally. One Allied officer said the telegraph cut-off left West Berlin Germans with no alrelay over the civil telegraph ternative but to send messages for headquarters in the Soviet sector.

Earlier today the Russian border guards again barred Allied military motor patrols from the city's only highway link with the west, the 110-mile road to Helmstedt. The patrols, which aid stranded motorists, had been periodically banned between May 8 and May 17 but since then had not been troubled.

No Explanation

Today, as before, the Russians gave no explanation for their action.

Civilian, freight and passenger traffic on the highway still flowed normally.

The communist tightening-up on the surrounded city was heralded in an East German cabinet decree last night ordering immediate "strengthening" of the East's forces all along the border between East and West Germany.

The order did not say what form this strengthening would take but it directed Wilhelm Zaisser, chief of the Red secret police, to set up "proper and adequate" safeguards against spies, saboteurs and agents which it said threatened from the west.

Report Red Tanks

As yet the West had no visible evidence of reinforcements on the Iron Curtain borders.

But West German border police said they had reports from persons crossing the east zone line that 131 Russian tanks were dispersed in the Brunswick area. At that point the British zone state of Lower Saxony and the east zone state of Saxon-Anhalt meet.

These reports said troop garrisons in the area had been increased in the last few days.

Otherwise western border points were reported quiet.

Cavan Youth, 16 Killed, Crushed By Logs

MILLBROOK, May 27. (ENS)—Robert Charles Fallis, 16, of Cavan township was killed instantly at 11 a.m. today when four heavy pine logs fell on him, pinning him to the ground.

The fatality occurred six miles northwest of Millbrook on the boundary road between Cavan and Manvers townships. Young Fallis, his father, brother, and a distant relative were loading logs onto a truck when the last log slipped, causing three others to slide and crush him.

Clifford Fallis, father of the fatally-injured youth, had organized the work party to load the logs so he could build a new barn. During the winter the logs had been skidded into position, by the side of the road, ready to be taken away.

Helping load them were Mr. Fallis, Bob, an 18-year-old brother Ivan, and Lloyd Fallis who owned the truck and is a distant relative.

On Last Load

The four were on the last load and putting the last log onto the truck when it slipped, causing three other logs to slip as well. Bob, who works on his father's farm, was unable to avoid them and was pinned to the ground by the side of the road.

Drs. M. E. Hobbs and J. W. Wright, both of Millbrok, sped to the scene of the accident, but the youth was dead when they arrived. He was taken to his home, a mile away.

The fatality occurred just south of the Cavan farm of William Parker.

O.P.P. Constable Lyle Erskine of Cobourg investigated.

An inquest will probably be held.

Ridgway Ignores Red Threats

PARIS, May 27 (AP) — Gen. Matthew Ridgway returned to Europe today to take command of the fighting forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and said his experience in Korea convinced him a sound defence against communism here can be built from a combination of many countries.

Then, accompanied by General Eisenhower whom he is to succeed three days hence, he drove through the streets of Paris in contempt of communist threats to stage hostile demonstrations against "le General Microbe" as they call him.

Ridgway stepped out of his plane at Orly Field 10 days short of eight years after he parachuted into Normandy on D-Day.

The field was almost black with French police determined to snuff out communist demonstrations. Twenty thousand other police were massed along a route, a short circuit direct to Shape.

Asked if he expected any military action from the Russians, he replied, "anything which is a capability is always a possibility. There is great capability there. I would not want to go any farther."

Refuse To Cut Aid

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—The Senate beat down a vote today a move to chop an additional $1,000,000,000 off President Truman's $7,000,000,000 foreign aid bill. The vote was 35 to 27. Two Senate committees previously slashed $1,000,000,000 from the aid funds asked by Truman.

Abbott Seeks Boost In Loans To Farmers

OTTAWA, May 27 (CP). — Finance Minister Abbott Monday night introduced in the Commons legislation to increase the amount of loans to individual farmers by the Canadian Farm Loan Board.

The measure would increase to $10,000 from $5,000 the amount that can be loaned on a first mortgage, and to $12,000 from $6,000 the maximum amount on first and second mortgages together.

Mr. Abbott said the change would bring the board's operations into line with existing conditions.

Big 3 Serve Warning To Attackers

Advance On Germany Considered Threat To Own Security

PARIS, May 27. (AP)—The Big Three powers backed up the six-country European army pact today with a new declaration that they would consider a Communist attack on Berlin, West Germany or any other part of free Europe a "threat to their own security."

The declaration was coincident with the signing of the army pact and related agreements by France West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, and Luxembourg which, when ratified, will merge their armed forces into a single army of 1,000,000 men — history's first peacetime international force.

The pact is a companion to the peace treaty signed at Bonn Monday by the three Western powers and the West German republic.

Recognize Threat

The new declaration by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain, Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France, and State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States, said:

"The government of the United Kingdom and the U.S. have an abiding interest, as has the government of France, in the effectiveness of the treaty creating the European defence community and in the strength and integrity of that community.

"Accordingly, if any action from whatever quarter threatens the integrity or unity of the community, the two governments will regard this as a threat to their own security."

France, in the European army pact, already is linked with West Germany in mutual defence.

Serve Notice

Britain and the U.S. thus served notice on Germany, in answer to French desires, that she must not attempt to withdraw from the European army on a lone-wolf

Liberal Majorities Reduced In Seats Retained

OTTAWA, May 27. (CP)—The Progressive Conservatives Monday won four of six Federal by-elections, retaining one seat and gaining three traditionally-Liberal constituencies. The Liberals retained two seats with reduced majorities. The victories brought to eight the number of seats the Progressive Conservatives have gained from the Liberals in by-elections since the 1949 general election when the Liberal government was elected with a record-breaking majority.

A total of 28 by-elections have been held since 1949. Progressive Conservatives won 13 and Liberals 13. Three of the Liberals ran as Independents or Independent Liberals and later were officially admitted to the party. The other two seats were won by Independent Liberals.

Monday's by-elections were in New Brunswick, Ontario and Quebec, two in each province.

The outcome in brief:

Progressive Conservatives: Gained Gloucester in New Brunswick—a Liberal seat for the last 52 years; Ontario constituency and Roberval in Quebec. They retained Victoria-Carleton in New Brunswick.

Liberals: Retained Waterloo North in Ontario and Brome-Missisquoi in Quebec.

The new Commons standing:

Liberals 183; Progressive Conservatives 49; C.C.F. 13; Social Credit 10; Independent four; Independent Liberal two; vacant one; total 262.

Still One Vacancy

The vacancy is in the Quebec constituency of Outremont-St. Jean. No date has been set for a by-election.

Commenting on the results, Prime Minister St. Laurent said he will not pretend he is not disappointed.

"But," he added, "I believe local circumstances were important factors and that the results do not represent any lack of confidence in the major policies of the government."

U.S. Officials Investigate Martial Law

PUSAN, Korea May 27 (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U.S. Eighth Army, sped here from Seoul today and went into immediate conference with President Syngman Rhee on the South Korean executive's declaration of martial law.

American embassy officials sat in on the meeting.

Just before the session began Rhee issued a long-awaited public statement explaining why he proclaimed martial law in Pusan, the temporary capital, and 21 counties in three southernmost provinces.

He said his action—"necessary and long overdue"—was forced by increasing guerrilla activities in the region and was taken to prevent public demonstrations from becoming violent.

"American soldiers have been ambushed and killed in the very vicinity of Pusan," he said. This was a reference to the slaying of five United States soldiers by guerrillas Friday in a gravel pit at Tongnae, eight miles north of Pusan.

Charges Murder

"Murder has been committed with impunity," Rhee continued. This apparently referred to the slaying of a South Korean Army captain, allegedly by a National Assemblyman, several weeks ago.

"And," Rhee went on, "the public feeling has been rising in indignation against those recalcitrant, irresponsible members of the National Assembly."

The Assembly obtained the member's release from jail but he was re-arrested by South Korean military police.

"Far reaching Communist connections have been uncovered and the authorities are taking steps to make a thorough investigation of the case," the President said. "When the investigation is completed, the full facts will be disclosed to the public."

This presumably referred to reports that Communists had sent money into South Korea to foment discord.

A government spokesman said several national assemblymen were involved.

Nine assemblymen have been arrested since martial law was declared Saturday. No formal charges have been placed against them but they are being questioned about the Communist funds.

Canada Asks U.S. To Return Company In Koje To Brigade

OTTAWA, May 27. (CP)—The United States government has been advised that Canada doesn't want her 25th Brigade in Korea split up again unless Ottawa says it's all right. A note of protest to the state department — reminiscent of Canada's fight for military independence in two wars—also asked that the Canadian Paratroop Company be returned to the brigade from Koje Island "as soon as possible." The company was sent there to help guard trouble-making Red prisoners.

LONDON, May 27 (Reuters) —A Foreign Office spokesman said today that Canada was "in touch" with Britain before it sent its note to the United States on the posting of a Canadian paratroop company to Korea's Koje Island.

External Affairs Minister Pearson told the Commons yesterday the government has sent a note expressing "concern" that the company was detached from the brigade without Canada's consent.

It was sent because "the government feels it is essential that the Canadian policy in respect of the breaking up of the brigade for miscellaneous duties in Korea should be made clear."

The state department in Washington declined to comment on Canada's complaint.

Press Officer Michael J. McDermott said Canada's protest note had not yet been received but that the matter had been discussed during the weekend with the Canadian embassy here and with the foreign office in Ottawa.

Tempest In Teapot

American officials indicated they regard the Canadian complaint as a tempest in a teapot.

Lindsay Woman Hit By Train

LINDSAY, May 27 (ENS)—An elderly widow was struck by a train here today and died before reaching hospital. Mrs. Ruth Hodge was the victim and was walking along Logie St. where the C.P.R. tracks cross the street when she was struck.

Trainmen immediately called Dr. J. C. Arnold and an ambulance was summoned. Before reaching hospital, Mrs. Hodge had died from injuries, shock and loss of blood. Mrs. Hodge and her husband came here from the west a few years ago and her husband predeceased her. She had been living with Mrs. A. Brady and had no family.

Conductor of the train was William Hamilton of Havelock and engineer R. A. Pogue, Havelock. Coroner Dr. C. R. Crowe said that an inquest will be held.

It is reported that both the whistle and the bell were sounded but the woman paid no attention to them. The train was just leaving the corporation limits on the Lindsay-Havelock run when the accident occurred. Constable John Hunter and Police Chief Arthur Webster investigated.

Ontario Liberals May Pick Leader

TORONTO, May 27 — (CP) — Ontario Liberal party members scheduled to gather here Friday for their annual meeting may be faced with the question of calling a convention to choose a new leader.

Among the resolutions submitted to the annual meeting is one from Waterloo North riding association which calls for the holding of a convention. No date is mentioned in the resolution.

Party officials said that technically, a leader cannot be chosen at an annual meeting

Present leader of the Ontario party is Walter Thomson who was defeated in his own riding of Ontario in last November's provincial election.

John G. Brown, of Waterloo North, has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the party leadership if one is to be chosen. Other persons suggested as leadership candidates are William Houck, member of the Legislature for Niagara Falls, former party leader Farquhar Oliver and Arthur Reaume, Mayor of Windsor

Just Needed Coaxing U.K. Hen Sets Record

CUDWORTH, Yorkshire, England, May 27—(AP)—A prolific pink-eyed hen named Jennifer had Britons claiming a world's record today—10 eggs in less than one hour.

Jennifer's owner, farmer Charlie Rogers, said she hadn't produced an egg for days and looked "a bit off-color." So he brought her into the house Monday and made her comfortable in front of the fire.

Then things began to happen. The eggs came popping out at five-minute intervals. Charlie got worried and summoned two neighbors and the village postman to stand by.

The S.P.C.A. declared that by all rights Jennifer should have died of peritonitis, and sent a veterinary to look her over. The vet said she seemed to be doing fine and her output looked like a record to him.

City Men Home After Year In Korean War

After 13 months fighting in Korea, two Peterborough men, Sgt. Roland S. Bonneville, 303 Bethune St., and Pte. S. M. Tully, R.R. 3, Peterborough, returned home Monday. They arrived in Toronto Monday morning.

A third Peterborough soldier, Gnr. C. A. McFarland, 201½ Charlotte St., is still in Vancouver. After lengthy stays in Korean hospitals, McFarlane is in doctor's care in Vancouver and will likely return to Peterborough in two weeks.

Sgt. Bonneville left Canada 13 months ago with the Royal Canadian Regiment, landing in Korea at Pusan. He served in the central front sector, later shifting to the west with the Commonwealth division.

West Coast Shipping Paralyzed By Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27—(AP)—West coast shipping officially was strikebound today by the Sailors Union of the Pacific (A.F.L.). The union already had tied up 20 vessels four days in a stop-work movement to discuss a new contract.

Only exceptions were ships certified by the military sea transport service as carrying military cargo, and foreign tankers.

President Harry Lundeberg ordered the stop-work move Friday to support demands for a Saturday overtime pay at sea and a general five-per-cent wage boost.

The owners' Pacific Maritime Association said it had agreed to the overtime and to "most" of the five-per-cent pay increase.

Taking No Chances

Dig Eight-Foot Trench To Foil Secret Tunnels

KOJE, Korea, May 27 (CP). — American troops today jockeyed a ditch-digging machine around notorious compound 76 on this prison island, intending to root out any Communist prisoner tunnels.

The soldiers were making their trench eight feet deep, which would intercept tunnels at that depth and collapse others somewhat deeper.

"Operation Digger" was designed both to cut off escape tunnels to the outside and communications passages from the No. 76 Communist "headquarters" to other compounds housing 80,000 enemy prisoners. During the weekend troops had acted to break up the prisoners' surface communications —messages passed by tying them to an arrow or a stone, semaphore signals and the like.

An uneasy calm hung over the camp. Troops from Canada, Britain, the United States, the Netherlands and Greece awaited orders that would start them on the dangerous job of splitting up the compounds from the present unwieldy groups of 6,000 to more manageable units of about 500.

This is necessary to smash the iron grip of the Communist central committee, which has organized the prisoners from the inside, drilling them with sharpened tent-pole spears and condemning unwilling followers to death at kangaroo courts.

Meanwhile, tough P.O.W.'s in compound 95—scene of April 10 rioting—were reported today ready to come to terms with Gen. Haydon L. Boatner.

Red leaders of the 6,000 P.O.W.'s in 95 told the new commander of this U.N. No. 1 prison camp they were ready to obey his orders. But they asked to meet with him.

Informed sources said Boatner replied that the Reds first must comply with certain things before he would talk with them. He sent Col. Maurice J. Fitzgerald, former deputy commander of the camp, to confer with the Reds.

Fitzgerald is reported to have told the Red leaders they would have to deliver for burial the bodies of an estimated eight P.O.W.'s killed in the riot six weeks ago.

Fitzgerald's only comment was that the prisoners then made a lot of "wild demands." He did not elaborate.

Ask Canadian Union Formed

MONTREAL, May 27 — (CP) — Supporters of dismissed leaders of the United Textile Workers of America (T.L.C.-A.F.L.) Monday night passed a resolution asking for formation of a Canadian Textile Workers Union.

Newspapermen estimated some 300 workers attended the closed meeting, addressed by R. Kent Rowley and Madeleine Parent, former Canadian director and secretary treasurer of the U.T.W.A. They are two of the Canadian staff of 12 fired Monday by Lloyd Klenert, of Washington, international secretary of the U.T.W.A.

Jobless Down 100,000 Since Peak In April

OTTAWA, May 27 — (CP) — Canadian employment has dropped by more than 100,000 from the seasonal peak of early April, the Labor Department reported Monday.

In a periodic survey of work conditions, the department said the number of persons looking for work at May 8 was 282,900—down 102,000 from the April 3 top for the off-season.

However, the May 8 figure was still up 88,300 over that of a year earlier.

Surprise In Voting

New Fascist Movement Gains In Italy

ROME, May 27 (AP) — A new Fascist movement, newly mated with monarchists, was proving the surprise in returns today from elections in a third of Italy's provinces and towns. But the governing Christian Democratic party held control of Rome's city hall.

The Italian social movement (M.S.I.) which venerates the memory of Mussolini and idealizes his corporate state, in league with wealthy monarchists, won Salerno.

The same bloc won Naples, the great port which is Allied headquarters for Southern Europe, and Bari, where United States arms aid pours into Italy. Foggia, great U.S. Air Force base during the war, also joined the Fascist column.

The M.S.I. surged toward local power in many other places in poverty-stricken southern Italy, and appeared to be challenging the communists for the position of second-biggest party in the country.

Against the communist and pro-communist bloc, Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrats did little better in the local contest in 2,400 towns, winning a number of small communities from the leftists. But the communists did well.

Final results in the important big-city election of Rome, gave the Christian Democrats 384,020 votes, against 314,243 for the leftists and 206,819 for the fascist-monarchists.

Even in Rome the government party slipped below its strength of the 1948 national election. There, de Gasperi forces marshalled 453,900 votes, against the leftists' 266,000, and the extreme right's 50,000.

A complicated counting system gave communist-leftists 22 of the 45 Rome provincial seats, even though the Christian Democrats were much farther ahead in the popular count. The provincial councils are of lesser importance in the Italian system however.

The still-partial results showed that of the 2,400 towns at stake the government party had won 166, the communist-leftists 82 and the fascist-monarchists 12.

Two-Alarm Fire Burning At Dock

VANCOUVER, May 27 (CP). — A two-alarm fire was burning today at the Shell Oil dock, the company's refinery near here.

Oil tankers pulled away from the dock and dropped anchor in the harbor. Dense clouds of black smoke could be seen for miles.

It was not known immediately if the blaze had been brought under control.

'Quick Law' Powers Get Extension

Drew Speaks 2 Hours Against Extension, C.C.F. Supports Move

OTTAWA, May 27. (CP)—With an eye on the "explosive" world situation, the Commons Monday approved extension for another year of the government's broad powers to make quick laws for the security, defence and welfare of the country.

Under the emergency powers, vested in the government following the 1950 outbreak of the Korean war, the government can make regulations without application to parliament on a wide scale including the fields of communication, transport, trade and finance.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, asking extension of the powers, said they are necessary because an emergency still exists. He enumerated 19 orders passed under the Emergency Powers Act since adoption at the spring session of 1951.

Five concerned security regulations covering seamen serving on Great Lakes ships who were screened for Communist connections. Others fell into the category of priorities control, transport and import control. One remained secret, though opposition leaders were informed of it.

Mr. St. Laurent said parliament has the power to challenge, amend or nullify any of the orders, but none has been contested.

Need Powers Ready

He added that Canada is not appropriating billions to meet international dangers in the expectation of actual warfare but as a deterrent to war. And while she is doing that it is desirable "that there be ready for use, if required, some extraordinary powers, though we sincerely hope that they may not have to be used."

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, spoke for almost two hours against prolonging the powers. He said that their full application can spell "the death warrant of democracy in Canada."

Extending the powers would mean continuance of "government behind closed doors" and "delegation of power to a star chamber." The powers clearly transgressed the constitutional division of authority between the federal government and the provinces as outlined in the British North America Act.

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F.-Winnipeg North Centre), speaking for the C.C.F. party, supported the extension. His only criticism was that the government had not used the powers to fight inflation on the home front, for example, by imposing price controls, which it could do under the Act without resort to parliament.

What looked like an extended debate suddenly collapsed at the night sitting. Just after Mr. Knowles finished speaking the Speaker put the question and the House approved the resolution.

It then went to the Senate but debate there was adjourned.

Extends Other Power

The Commons also extended to July 1, 1953, the government's power to reimpose consumer-credit restrictions. Finance Minister Abbott said that though controls on time-payment buying were abolished earlier this month, the government could not overlook the possibility that they might again be necessary.

The extension was approved after Mr. Abbott accepted an amendment by J. M. Macdonnell (P.C.-Toronto Greenwood) to cut the period to one year from two.

At the House opening Trade Minister Howe reported on the recent meeting of the International Wheat Council in London. He said import and exporting members of the 46-country international wheat agreement are divided on proposals to boost the price of wheat in any new pact. However, no country has indicated it wants to back out of the agreement. Canada was one of the countries urging a higher wheat price.

Points On Trade

At the night sitting members got around to considering tariff and trade matters and these points came out:

1. Revenue Minister McCann said there is no "dumping" of foreign goods in Canada so far as his investigators have been able to find.

2. Finance Minister Abbott believes that a measure before the U.S. Congress for repeal of a tariff erected against Canadian cheese has a reasonable chance of approval of Washington.

3. Mr. Abbott thinks there are indications that "protectionist" sections in the U.S. are again attempting to get higher tariff walls to protect U.S. producers, but he doesn't think they will be successful.

Red Cross Ends Exchange Plans

TOKYO, May 27 (AP).—Officials of seven national Red Cross societies have completed plans to help in an exchange of Korean war prisoners and will soon leave for home to await an armistice.

The 48 officials from Britain, United States, Korea, Denmark, Turkey, the Philippines and Australia spent more than a month in the advance planning in Japan and Korea.

If an armistice is reached, Red Cross groups of the United Nations will operate jointly with equal numbers of Communists in the P.O.W. exchanges. The U.N. group when recalled will be joined by representatives from Canada, South Africa and the Netherlands.

Actual transfer of prisoners will be handled by the belligerent powers. The Red Cross mission will be to provide medical and other care for Allied prisoners before they are brought to an exchange point.

CANADIANS AT KOJE—Canadian paratroopers of the Royal Canadian Regiment march ashore at Koje Island, Korea, to join the six-country guard over rebellious Communist prisoners-of-war. Demonstrations of shouting and singing from prisoners in the compounds accompanied the troops as they landed at the scene of riots which have brought the demotion of two United States Brigadier-Generals and the reprimand of a third.

Members Split On Wheat Pact

OTTAWA, May 27. (CP) — Trade Minister Howe said Monday that importing and exporting members of the 46-country international wheat agreement are divided on the proposal to boost the price of wheat under a renewed pact.

But no country, he told the Commons, has indicated that it wants to back out of the agreement, which terminates July 31, 1953.

Mr. Howe was amplifying a statement issued by the International Wheat Council following its recent meeting in London where negotiating teams from all member countries met in an attempt to work out terms of a renewed pact.

The ceiling under the current agreement is $1.80 a bushel U.S. funds for No. 1 northern wheat, plus a six-cent-a-bushel carrying charge. The main exporters — Canada, the United States and Australia—suggested the ceiling should be raised.

Stock Market Prices Move Listlessly

TORONTO, May 27. (CP)—Stock market prices moved listlessly today in early afternoon dealings.

Industrial investors traded in selected issues while only a few secondary golds and lower-priced metals and oils attracted speculative interest. Volume for the first three hours was 887,000 shares.

Steels posted a scattered list of fractional advances. Manufacturing companies and retail stores also drew firm support but papers, utilities, foods and miscellaneous issues slipped.

Base metal leaders were firm but lower-priced issues dipped. East Rim, Emerald Glacier, Ontario Pyrites, United Asbestos and Silver Standard traded lower.

Western oils posted a majority of losses. Britalta, Canada Southern, Federated Petroleum, General Petroleum A, Jupiter and Security Free declined. Central-Leduc, New Superior and Western Leaseholds were strong.

Senior golds edged downward. Junior producers were mixed but prospects eased. Holding companies were firm.

Korean Sailors Die As Two Ships Collide

TOKYO, May 27 (AP) — The United States Navy said today 24 South Korean seamen were killed and 21 injured May 21 in a collision between the South Korean frigate Apnok and the U.S. ammunition carrier Mount Baker in Korean waters.

There were no injuries aboard the Mount Baker and damage to the ship was minor.

The ships were steaming in formation in darkness when a signal was given to change course. The Apnok passed close ahead of the Mount Baker, which was unable to prevent collision.

Quebec-N.Y. Border Said Used By Aliens

MONTREAL, May 27. (CP)—United States immigration officials said today they believe unguarded sections of the Quebec-New York border south of here are the corridors through which scores of European immigrants are slipping into the U.S.

They suggested immigrants gaining illegal entry through those corridors may be tipped off to their location either by immigrants living in Montreal or by Canadians operating an illegal immigrant traffic.

Announce New Arrest In Petawawa Thefts

PEMBROKE, May 27 (CP). — Police today arrested another army man in connection with thefts at nearby Petawawa Military Camp.

Charged with theft in connection with removal of battleship linoleum from the camp is Staff Sgt. E. M. Humphry, 41, formerly of Trenton, Ont., and St. Johns, Que., a member of the Royal Canadian Engineers now stationed in Montreal. Five other men, all Pembroke civilians, were arrested yesterday.

Arrest of Staff Sgt. Humphry brings to 13 the number of persons so far charged in connection with the Petawawa thefts, including three army personnel.

Reds Hint New Offensive As Truce Talks Bog Again

MUNSAN, Korea, May 27 (AP)—Communist truce negotiators today made a veiled threat of a Red offensive as Korean armistice talks resumed after a three-day recess—but immediately bogged over the prisoner-of-war issue.

The prisoner issue alone blocks an armistice. The Reds demand return of all their captured soldiers. The United Nations command says none will be forced to return against his will.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il repeated his well-worn charges that the Allies have been slaughtering P.O.W.'s. He referred to the April 10 riots on Koje Island which were disclosed during the recess. Then he declared:

"The Korean Peoples' Army and the Chinese Peoples' Volunteers decidedly cannot sit by while seeing their captured fellow combatants being slaughtered by your side at will."

The U.N. spokesman, Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, said Nam Il's statement "could be interpreted" as a threat of stepped-up warfare by Communist troops.

But Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., senior U.N. delegate, passed off Nam Il's statement as propaganda.

Another plenary session is scheduled for Panmunjom tomorrow at 11 a.m. (10 p.m. EDT Tuesday.)

At the start of today's 34-minute session Nam Il demanded that the Allies accept the Reds' May 2 proposal calling for return of 132,000 captured Reds. Harrison rejected it.

Suggest Bishop Given Power

TORONTO, May 27 (CP). — A proposal to give an Anglican Bishop increased power over his diocesan clergy will be put before the centennial session of the Anglican Synod of Toronto, which started today.

It would empower a Bishop to prevent a rector from performing any services of the church during an investigation if "scandal is likely to arise."

Reginald H. Soward, chancellor of the Toronto Diocese, said a situation arose from last year in which it was found that the Bishop of Toronto, the Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley, did not have as much power as some persons thought he had or should have.

It was believed the reference was to dissension that arose more than a year ago when certain parishioners of St. Barnabas Anglican Church sought the removal of their rector, the Rev. H. W. Garbutt, who resigned after several months of controversy.

Canada Asks U.S.

Canada's policy has its roots in the struggles in which Canada engaged in the two World Wars, first to establish the right to have Canadians lead Canadians and then to protect this right. Through the Second World War, for instance, every effort was made to keep the First Canadian Army together as a unit. This hope finally was abandoned in 1943 when the 1st Division was sent to Sicily.

A second factor was reported to be involved in the note, too, although it was not mentioned. That was the feeling in some quarters that the U.S. has bungled the Koje affair and that Canada, Britain and Greece are being drawn in to help reap the results.

His description of Korea is much the same as that given by other veterans who returned recently. Sgt. Bonneville said, "It's just hilly, period. There's not much over there."

He agreed with other soldiers about the food, saying, "It's good". He recalled that after the Second World War veterans returning home were sick of the sight of canned meat. This time they don't want chicken or turkey for homecoming; chicken and other fowl were part of American rations in Korea.

After his 60 days' leave, it's back to civilian work for Sgt. Bonneville.

"No staying in for me; I'm free for a good job."

Met in Toronto by relatives, Pte. Tully came home to a first class home-returning celebration at his parents' home on Highway 28. Today he chose to sleep, sleep and sleep. Therefore he was not available for comments.

Soldiers from the surrounding communities returning home Monday were: Lt. W. B. Stoddart, Lindsay; Pte. A. J. MacDonald, Bowmanville; Cpl. W. L. Moon, Madoc; Pte. J. B. Burns and Gnr. W. J. Keeler, Cobourg; Pte. D. C. Kelly, Campbellford; Cpl. B. J. Powell, Pte. A. Ashley and Gnr. R. J. Crawford, all of Trenton.

Alberta Air Cadets Win Shooting Trophy

OTTAWA, May 27. (CP)—Air cadet sharpshooters of No. 287 Squadron, Lamont, Alta., have won the Dominion Challenge Trophy, awarded annually to Canada's top air cadet rifle team, for the third time in four years, cadet headquarters announced today.

Results of the 1952 competition gave the Lamont Squadron an average score of 98.415 per cent, a lead of almost two percentage points over the runner-up, No. 353 Squadron of Dawson Creek, B.C. Third place went to Lamont Squadron's B team, with a score of 96.458 per cent.

The small bore competition is conducted during January, February and March by the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association. Lamont also won the trophy in 1949 and 1951.

Liberal Majorities

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said he is "very happy that our candidates have received so decisive an expression of confidence from such a broad cro -section of our country."

Stanley Knowles, C.C.F. whip, speaking for his party in the absence of M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader regretted that no C.C.F. candidates had won.

"We shall continue," he said, "to take advantage of by-election campaigns to urge the people of Canada to support the Progressive Social measures for which our movement stands."

The biggest upset came in Gloucester. The last time a Conservative won the New Brunswick seat was in 1896. The Liberals had held it continuously since 1900.

Wins N.B. Seat

A. M. Robichaud, 49-year-old Bathurst lawyer, led for the Progressive Conservatives from the outset. With 64 of 71 polls reported, he had 10,049 votes to 8,770 for H. J. Robichaud, 40-year-old Liberal from Bathurst.

In Victoria-Carleton, Gage W. Montgomery, 54-year-old Woodstock barrister, received 9,511 votes compared with 7,151 for his Liberal opponent—Hugh Tait, 34-year-old publisher of the Woodstock weekly Sentinel-Press.

With 84 of 92 polls reported, Mr. Spence had 6,268 votes; Cyrille Potvin, 41, Robervale lawyer and official Liberal candidate, 5,547; and Adjutor Boulanger of St. Felicien, an independent-Liberal who campaigned as a supporter of Prime Minister St. Laurent, 3,397.

The returns made it apparent that the presence of two Liberal candidates—one official and one independent—split the Liberal vote.

In the 1949 election, Mr. Dion won the seat for the Liberals with 8,103 votes; J. A. Fortin, independent, had 6,078; and L. J. Dallaire, L'Union Des Electeurs, 2,135.

Mayor Wins Ontario

In Ontario constituency—held almost continuously by the Liberals since 1924—Mayor Michael Starr of Oshawa won for the Progressive Conservatives.

With 191 of 199 Polls reported, Mr. Starr had 11,757 votes; John L. Lay, 39-year-old nephew of former Prime Minister Mackenzie King and the Liberal candidate, 8,789; and Herbert Roy Scott, 54-year-old Oshawa district farmer and C.C.F. candidate, 8,047.

The vacancy was created when Walter Thomson resigned to lead the Liberals in the Ontario provincial election.

In the 1949 election, Mr Thomson polled 13,412 votes; F. N. Callum, Progressive Conservative, 9,803; and Arthur Williams, C.C.F., 9,344.

Liberal Wins

Waterloo North, a Liberal seat since 1917, was retained for the Liberals by Norman C. Schneider, 63-year-old meat-packing executive, but he had tough opposition from 34-year-old Elizabeth Janzen, Progressive Conservative.

With all 162 polls reported, Mr. Schneider had 12,440 votes; Miss Janzen 10,860 and Leonard Schroeder, C.C.F., 4,656.

The Liberal margin of victory was much lower than in 1949 when Louis Breithaupt, who resigned to become lieutenant-governor of Ontario, polled 17,735 votes—3,345 more than the combined total of his Progressive Conservative candidate and C.C.F. opponents. The Progressive Conservative candidate had 7,233 votes and J. S. Wagner, C.C.F., 7,137.

In Brome-Missisquoi — another traditionally Liberal seat—Joseph L. Deslieres, 55-year-old mayor of Sutton had no trouble retaining the seat for the Liberals.

With 84 of 99 polls reported, Mr. Deslieres had 7,163 votes; Henri Demers, Progressive Conservative, 5,129; and Philip Brogan, C.C.F., 585.

U.S. Markets Close

NEW YORK, May 27 — (AP) — All United States stock, commodity and livestock markets will be closed Friday in observance of Memorial Day. The principal Canadian and European markets will remain open Friday but will be closed Saturday, except for the Winnipeg Grain market.

Hockey Player Hurt In Crash

SUDBURY, May 27. (CP) — George Armstrong, 21-year-old winger with Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, and Myrl MacMillan were injured when their car crashed into a hydro pole early today.

Armstrong and his companion live at nearby Falconbridge. Both suffered a mild concussion and lacerations and were kept in hospital for observation.

The accident occurred when their car sideswiped an auto it was passing, crashed into a parked vehicle and hit a hydro pole.

The declaration added that the three big powers considered their continued presence in Berlin as "essential elements of the peace of the free world in the present international position."

In addition, the members of N.A.T.O. and the European army signed protocols pledging each organization to come to the help of the other in the event of armed attack—a guarantee chiefly to West Germany since the others are covered by the Atlantic alliance.

Far From Reality

But despite the array of diplomatic leaders here for the impressive signing ceremonies, the European army treaty—like the West German pact — today is many months away from being an effective order to assemble a fighting force. Until both pacts are ratified by the parliaments behind each signer, neither comes into force. Both documents face bitter, determined opposition.

The signing starts about 5 p.m. in the ornate clock room of the French Foreign Ministry. With the treaty and eight related agreements to be endorsed, the process will be a long one. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer leads the alphabetical parade of nations—"Allegmagne" is French for German.

The basic treaty provides for the six-nation European defence community and its single armed force.

The agreements cover secret military arrangements for actual deployment of the European army and such relationships as those between the E.D.C. and N.A.T.O.

Will Keep Troops

Britain and the U.S. are believed to have assured the European powers they will keep their present troops in Europe as long as necessary and that they will do whatever necessary to insure that no E.D.C. member—particularly Germany—will quit the European army and build up a force on its own.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain and State Secretary Dean Acheson of the U.S. flew to Paris Monday for the ceremonies. With Adenauer and French Foreign Minister, Robert Schuman, they had signed the German peace contract at Bonn earlier in the day.

The Eden - Schuman - Acheson schedule here also included a separate conference on Russia's bitter opposition to the army and German pacts and its week-end demand for an immediate big four conference to unify Germany and write a peace treaty for the whole of the defeated nation.

Optimists hope the European army treaty will be ratified by the end of this year. When—and if—it is, Germany will start building a force of some 409,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen for the six-nation command.

The treaty envisages an army of about 41 streamlined divisions—it calls them combat groups—of some 13,000 men each, service and supply troops, and air and naval units. Its sponsors hope it will be ready for action by the end of 1954.

The treaty anticipates this supply of combat groups: France 14, West Germany 12, Italy 9, Belgium and Luxembourg 3, and Holland 3. Each nation is to contribute to an air force that will provide mainly tactical support for the ground troops.

Woman Finds Freak Trilliums At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, May 27 — (ENS)—Mrs. Ernest Abernethy of Campbellford has three white trilliums that are like no other trilliums people of this district have seen. The three are all oddities in the flower world and were picked by Mrs. Abernethy near the edge of Highway 30, north of this town.

One trillium has four perfectly formed petals, and four leaves where any other flower of this kind has only three. The second has five petals and five leaves and the third is a single stem supporting three perfectly formed lilies of three petals and three leaves on each.

A group of cardinals, colorful birds, not usually found in this district, led Mrs. Abernethy to these oddities. It was while watching these birds that she noticed the lilies.

Mrs. Abernethy has displayed her oddities of the flower world to many local residents, and none have ever before seen a trillium similar to any of the three.

Mr. Abernethy, who says his wife can usually be depended upon to pick up a four leaf clover practically anytime she chooses to look for one, claims it is the first time she has come up with any four- or five-leafed lilies.

Mrs. Abernethy accompanies her husband on his numerous fishing trips to district trout streams, and while he fishes, she tramps through the woods in search of wild flowers. Often her efforts are better rewarded than those of her husband.

TWO MANY-PETALLED TRILLIUMS and a third with three blossoms on a single stock were found by Mrs. Ernest Abernethy of Campbellford, north of the town not far from Highway 30. Left is one with four petals and four leaves; centre, is the one with five petals and five leaves. At Right is the trillium with three blooms and one stalk.—W. W. Reid Photo.

P.C. Vote 44% In By-Elections

By The Canadian Press

Progressive Conservative candidates polled 44.3 per cent of the votes cast in Monday's six federal by-elections compared with 29.3 per cent in the same six constituencies in the 1949 general election.

A Canadian Press compliation, with the vote 93 per cent complete, shows that Liberal candidates got 41.7 per cent of the vote yesterday compared with 52.2 in 1949.

The vote was lighter than in 1949.

The figures:

Party	Vote	%		%
Lib.	49,532	41.7	71,498	52.2
P.C.	52,651	44.3	40,125	29.3
C.C.F	13,117	11.1	16,760	12.2
Others	3,397	2.9	8,609	6.3

Development Of Resources Big Issue In Saskatchewan

By The Canadian Press

How to get rich by developing Saskatchewan's oil, gas and mineral resources is a dominant issue in the June 11 provincial election.

The C.C.F. government says that during its two terms of office it has laid the foundation for fast development of natural resources. Private enterprise had been given every assurance its rights would be protected by the government.

Liberal leader Walter Tucker, seeking to end his party's eight years in opposition, argues that as long as the C.C.F. government remains in office the province's great potential wealth will never be tapped because business is afraid of its policies.

Other Platforms

The Progressive Conservatives maintain the policies they advocate would bring money and people to the province. The Social Credit party promises industrial expansion and good, clean government along the lines of what it maintains Alberta has.

Neither Progressive Conservatives nor Social Crediters have sufficient candidates in the field to form a government.

The C.C.F "program for progress" foresees an expanding economy guaranteed by the continuing development of gas, oil and mineral resources, and by steadily improving agricultural production. In a third term of government, it promises:

A $75,000,000 highway and market road program; power for 40,000 farms and all towns and villages; natural gas in larger cities and intermediate points; construction of the South Saskatchewan river dam in co-operation with the federal government; reclamation and settlement of new northern areas; abolition of the public revenue tax by Dec. 31 next; assistance to municipalities on the basis of need; increased grants for education; extension of the medical care program and expanded social welfare benefits.

The Liberals are emphasizing a subsidized program of rural electrification, more financial help for municipal road building, payment of at least one-fifth of government oil royalties to land owners without mineral rights, and construciton of "properly" built highways and bridges.

Free Enterprise

Liberal leader Tucker says free enterprise must be encouraged. Higher wages and increased social welfare measures would follow if there were plenty of jobs and more development.

"The present government is wearing two faces," he said in his first major campaign speech at Moose Jaw. "On the one hand, it has begged and pleaded for industry to come here and yet it hasn't repudiated the socialistic Regina manifesto."

Projects in the Progressive Conservative program include development of the South Saskatchewan river scheme as a provincial responsibility, the Carrot river valley development, a conservation and soil utilization program, natural gas use for electric power, and provision of a percentage of crown mineral royalties to surface owners.

The Progressive Conservatives argue that social services in Saskatchewan have reached a point at which attention must be turned to development projects to support them.

Social Credit campaigners point to Alberta as proof the party policies promote major oil development. They promise to bring about similar development of natural resources in Saskatchewan and use oil revenues to pay off the provincial debt and help municipalities build roads.

The Social Crediters also want an electoral system including the single transferable ballot, under which a voter has a second choice if his first candidate is out of the running.

Warkworth Church Marks Anniversary

WARKWORTH, May 27 (ENS) — St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church celebrated its 94th anniversary on Sunday.

The church was decorated for the occasion with baskets of mauve and white lilacs and tulips. Mrs. C. T. Maycock and Mrs. B. Isaac were the decorating committee.

Large congregations greeted the guest speaker, the Rev. R. D. Duncanson of Norwood.

At the morning service Mr. Duncanson chose for his topic "Christian Liberty." The choir of the church sang the anthem "Break Forth Into Joy," with Miss Lois Fowler, the church organist, accompanying. A special musical number was a ladies' quartette composed of Mrs. Gordon McCubbin, Mrs. J. M. Ritchie, Miss Lois Fowler and Miss Gwen Wartman singing "Sweet Hour of Devotion."

In the evening Rev. Mr. Duncanson's text was "I came not to call the righteous but sinners to repentance." The anthem by the choir was "Green Pastures." A duet was sung by Mrs. Gordon McCubbin and Mr. C. T. Maycock, "How Sweet Is Prayer At Morning Time" and the Misses Ruth McCubbin and Marlene Wartman sang the duet that they had given at the musical festival in Campbellford last week entitled "Evening Prayer."

Juveniles Admit Robbing 3 Stores

COBOURG, May 27 (ENS) — Arrested by Chief H. Pearse following the breakin of a corner grocery store, two juveniles pleaded guilty to breaking into two local stores and one in Hamilton township where money and cigarettes were stolen.

The date of one robbery was March 26 and of the other two was on May 22. Practically everything was returned from the stores which were robbed on May 22, but a small quantity of tobacco was all that remained from the robbery on March 26.

Since it was a first offence for each, the magistrate remanded them to June 23, out of custody.

TO SCOTLAND YARD—Inspector R. W. Wonnacott, 42, head of the R.C.M.P. identification branch, will spend the next two weeks in the United Kingdom visiting Scotland Yard and discussing identification procedures and related matters with British police officials. He paid a similar visit to the headquarters of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington recently.

No Health Plan For Nova Scotia

OTTAWA, May 27 (CP).— A committee established by the Nova Scotia Government to survey the province's health and medical needs has recommended against immediate establishment of a compulsory health-insurance plan.

The recommendation was one of several contained in a report, tabled Monday in the Commons by Health Minister Martin. Reports of similar surveys by Ontario, Saskatchewan, Alberta and New Brunswick have already been tabled and reports from Quebec and Manitoba are expected soon. The surveys were financed by the federal Government.

The Nova Scotia report, after giving a brief review of services available in the province, said:

"The conclusion is that the requirements for group health services and facilities have not been nearly met in this province, nor indeed in any Canadian province. . . .

"To put it bluntly, neither the federal nor provincial Government need look for new worlds to conquer. Each has still a great deal to accomplish on the present public health front."

Shot In Leg, Lad Stays At School

LONDON, May 27 — (CP). — A 13-year-old boy who did not want to get his friend in trouble sat stoically through the morning session at school Monday and then staggered home to tell his mother he had been shot.

The bullet had been fired accidentally from an old German pistol brought to school by one of Edward Wilson's classmates. A desk cover hurriedly slammed down over the pistol caused it to fire. A startled teacher confiscated the gun but could not find the bullet or anyone injured.

At the noon recess, however, Mrs. Nellie Wilson found her son had walked the half mile home with his trouser leg smeared with blood. He said he did not want to say anything in school because there might be trouble.

Edward was taken to the hospital to have the bullet removed from his leg.

SabresDown Mig Over N. Korea

SEOUL, Korea, May 27 (AP).— The Air Force said United States Sabre jet pilots shot down a Communist jet today in an aerial duel over North Korea.

On the ground action was limited to patrol skirmishes.

Jet ace Maj. Donald Adams of Mt. Clemens, Mich., was credited with destroying the Mig, raising his total bag of Red jets to 6½.

An Eighth Army staff officer said one of the sharpest ground fights today was a 35-minute clash at dawn northwest of Korangpo on the western front. Ten Communists were reported killed.

HONESTY REWARDED—Ten-year-old Keith Waters, of Edmonton, shown with his mother, found an envelope containing $6,900 in a downtown Edmonton lane and turned it over to police. His mother had picked up the "scuffed" envelope and discarded it before the boy examined it more closely. The loser, Mrs. Nancy Ferguson-Smith of Spruce Grove, near Edmonton, said she would reward Keith.

Sees U.S. Senate Approving Treaty

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)— Senate approval was forecast today for a new peace contract signed between the Allies and Western Germany and a European arms treaty being concluded in Paris today.

Chairman Tom Connally (Dem. Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told a reporter he will ask the Senate to act on them as quickly as possible after they are submitted by President Truman.

Connally added that he does not believe there will be any serious opposition to either—a view that had strong support in a cross-section sampling of Senate opinion.

However, Senator George Malone (Rep. Nev.) indicated the agreements won't be ratified without some opposition.

Malone said in an interview he believes the peace contract signed with Germany—under which the West Germans would become partners in the European defence setup—represents a futile gesture.

"It is a dangerous gesture for the American people in that it promises them security they won't have," Malone declared.

"We are assembling a foot army in Europe that can't defend itself. We have lost superiority in air power; and that army can't defend itself until we get it back."

Guerillas Kill Five In Raid On Americans

PUSAN, Korea, May 23 (Delayed by Censors) (AP).—Communist guerrillas early today attacked a small American installation north of Pusan deep in southeast Korea and killed five United States soldiers and one South Korean.

Two Korean soldiers were wounded.

The guerrilas attacked the camp of nine soldiers at a gravel pit near a village about 220 miles behind the battle line.

An officer of the unit said the guerrillas burned a tent, a 40-ton truck and an electric generator.

The Reds looted the tiny camp and captured a number of .30-calibre machine guns and a large quantity of ammunition.

Youths Are Charged With Killing Friend

YORKVILLE, Ill., May 27 (AP) —A weird game in which three Chicago youths used one another as targets in rifle marksmanship ended with one of them dead and the other two charged with manslaughter.

Edward Maslowski, 19, died of a bullet wound near his left eye. Edward Vojack, 17, and Stanley Jasper, 16, are charged with manslaughter.

Police said the shooting occurred early Sunday.

Cardinals, Archbishops Meet For Eucharistic Congress

BARCELONA, Spain, May. 27 (AP).—The purple-robed cardinals, archbishops in violet and Roman Catholic pilgrims from all over the world gathered in this ancient city today to pray for peace at the opening of the 35th International Eucharistic Congress.

The congress—first in 14 years —opens officially with the arrival this afternoon of the pope's representative, Federico Cardinal Tedeschini. Already 500,000 visiting faithful jammed Barcelona.

Among the pilgrims were many Canadians, led by Archbishop Alexandre Vachon of Ottawa and Archbishop Maurice Roy of Quebec.

Archbishop Vachon, who will deliver an address during the congress, has been appointed by the pope as president of the permanent committee in charge of Eucharistic congresses.

Tedeschini inaugurates the congress—first held in Lille in 1881 —with the singing tonight of the Veni Creator in Barcelona's cathedral. The official program concludes Monday.

Foreign Minister Albert Martin Artajo and all of Spain's top Government leaders except Generalissimo Francisco Franco were to greet Tedeschini on his arrival. Franco plans to make a triumphal entry into Barcelona harbor Thursday aboard the cruiser Miguel de Cervantes.

The congresses honor the belief that Christ is truly present in the bread and wine of the sacrament of Holy communion called the Eucharist. The last congress was held in Budapest, Hungary, in 1938.

Two popes are to be honored by this congress. A square where many of the ceremonies are to be held will be named after the present pontiff, Pope Pius XII. The other is the late Pope Pius X, who was beatified last year and who soon may be canonized.

World Fight Against Foot-and-Mouth Disease

A chief criticism levelled against Government officials in the foot-and-mouth disease investigation was that they were slow in recognizing the disease when it first appeared in the West last autumn. This uncertainty is surprising. Admittedly Canadian veterinary scientists have had little opportunity of direct diagnosis of the disease, since Canada had not had an outbreak of it for eighty years. But a test sample of the virus could have been sent by air to Pirbright, Surrey, where experts at the British Research Institute would have identified the virus immediately, using special techniques they have developed.

* * *

The institute of animal virus diseases at Pirbright is an international reference centre, and scientists from the United States, Argentina and other countries go there for training. The Department of Agriculture might be well-advised to send one of its scientists to Pirbright, in view of the diagnostic confusion that seems to have occurred last autumn.

* * *

This Research Institute, a grant-aided establishment under the Agricultural Research council of Britain, makes systematic surveys of various types of foot-and-mouth virus in relation to outbreaks throughout the world. (There are at least six main types of foot-and-mouth virus, the Institute has proved.) It has developed vaccines to check the disease, although the British method, like the Canadian, is to slaughter diseased animals. However, some other countries use vaccines developed at Pirbright.

* * *

The British establishment is of course especially concerned with the present outbreak in Britain—the worst in a decade. To date 40,000 head have been slaughtered, and there have been 324 separate outbreaks—including one in Jersey Island. But it believes that Britain's first line of defence against the disease is beyond her shores. Hence the world-wide surveys made in Surrey—which often enable an outbreak to be predicted.

* * *

Some countries live unconcernedly with foot-and-mouth disease all the time, but this is dangerous to herds and unhealthy for meat supplies. Countries more advanced are doing everything possible to wipe out the disease, and to check it when it appears—partly because nations like the United States ban importations from countries infected by foot-and-mouth disease. Thus Mexico was forced into rigorous control methods. A large outbreak has now occurred in Austria, where 2,000 farms are affected. The disease is rampant in South Germany, too.

* * *

It is to fight the disease on a world-wide scale that Pirbright operates in Surrey, and that the United States Senate last week allotted $10,000,000 to experimental study of the disease, the first stage in an authorized $25,000,000 laboratory.

Western Europe Pack Of Cards?

An alphabetic and treaty agglomeration makes the international western pattern a patch-work quilt before it is quilted, in the eyes of many people who cannot or do not follow the monthly sewing that goes on at international conferences: NATO, Benelux, SHAPE, E.D.C., Schuman Plan, Council of Ministers, Big Four and a host of U.N. agencies. It is a complexity which can be confusing. The latest addition is the western conventions with Germany, agreed on yesterday. What is the relation with NATO? What with the "European Army"?

Most of these new agencies and agreements have developed outside the councils of U.N. The chief one is the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) composed of a dozen member countries, including such non-Atlantic countries as Turkey and Greece. The prime purpose of NATO is to mutually defend the member countries from aggressive expansion or attack by countries outside NATO. The central command headquarters, under General Eisenhower, and, at the first of next month, under General Ridgway, is SHAPE—"Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe."

Germany was not a NATO country, and has not become one because of the conventions in Bonn. The purpose of the Bonn agreements was to conclude a peace treaty with Western Germany and at the same time to bring her military and technical capacities into the sphere of NATO and the mutual military defence arrangement of Western Europe. It is important to remember that the six conventions signed by the foreign ministers of France, Britain, the United States and Germany in Bonn yesterday have still to be ratified by their respective parliaments. The West German government [illegible] Adenauer will have some difficulty with this, since it does not have a majority of the Bonn parliament behind it. It is important to remember, too, that although this is ostensibly a peace treaty with Western Germany, it is not a peace treaty with all Germany.

After the Bonn conventions are ratified the Allied High Commission (of the western occupying powers) and the Military Security Board will disappear. But the Potsdam agreement still exists, providing for the joint occupation of Germany by Britain, France, U.S.A. and Russia, until peace with all Germany has been made. Peace with all Germany will not have been made by the west making a treaty with Western Germany, and Russia with Eastern Germany. Berlin is still technically under four-power occupation.

By the Bonn agreements Western Germany is coming into the western allied sphere. Another, parallel set of military agreements is also being made, in Paris. This is the European Defence Treaty, under which six continental powers of Europe (including Benelux-Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg) provide for a joint European army. This is the European Defence Community, of which Germany is to be a member.

The European Defence Treaty provides for a kind of super-ministry of European defence, consisting of nine members representing the six continental powers who will raise troops for the European army. The European forces under its authority will be more and less than a coalition army of the usual type. There will be no European Army in the operational sense of the word, with a high command of its own. It will be an organization to raise and integrate European forces to put at the disposal of SHAPE. Thus the European Defence Community is militarily related to NATO; and of course, some members of it are also members of NATO. There will be no national unit above the level of a division of 13,000 men on land and the "half-brigade" of 75 planes for tactical air support. Each of these units will be dependent on the higher integrated commands for supply services and supporting weapons.

Full details of this European Defence Community have not been agreed on; an outside viewer of this elaborate defence mechanism can with truth think it to be as full of holes as a Swiss cheese. The complexity of the Bonn conventions with Germany give those agreements also the air of something unsubstantial. It remains to be seen whether the complex of agreements, treaties, conventions and councils now hovering over Western Europe will be sufficient and proper to deal with the opposition they rouse in Eastern Europe and among some parties in the West. Will the whole complex of structure on structure work? Or will it tumble like a pack of cards at the first whiff of internal dissension or external blast?

Now It's Pantie Raids

Some stern editorials have been appearing in Canadian papers deploring the "pantie raids" which have occurred in a few colleges in the U.S.A.; foolish young men, it appears, have been raiding girls' dormitories and stealing those garments which we shall chastely refer to as drawers; it is asserted, but without factual evidence, that one trophy was removed while in use by a female undergraduate.

We shall reserve our indignation until there are pantie raids at Canadian universities; we do not think that there will be any. The notion is a silly one, and silliness soon palls, even upon university students.

Sometimes we have wondered what there is about the atmosphere of a university that makes students behave as they do. From medieval days, students have been unruly, and records of riots in which people were killed and property extensively damage are to be found all through history. In Canada what was called hazing, and which was in effect stupid and brutal manhandling of freshmen used to be common, and still exists in a limited form. Can it be that gang activities are a necessary part of growing up? Is there much to distinguish the hoodlums in a back alley from the hoodlums on a campus? Certainly it seems that young men between seventeen and twenty-five must let off steam somehow, and that the most we can hope is that they will not hurt anybody while they are doing it.

Complicated Treaty

By W. N. EWER
(U.K. Information Office)

ONE OF THE GROUNDS on which there has been, especially in Germany itself, criticism of the new treaties which are to bring the German Federal Republic into a new and free relationship with the former Western Occupying Powers and with the North Atlantic Community, is that they are unnecessarily complicated. Why, it is asked, should there be need for a document of some 400 pages to define the new status of the Republic? And why, instead of a network of protocols and the forming of a European Defence Community inside N.A.T.O., should not the Republic simply have become a member of N.A.T.O?

NOW IT IS TRUE enough that to the layman's eye this bundle of annexes and supplementary agreements which accompanies the main treaty—or 'contract'—between the Federal Republic and the Three Powers, does look unnecessarily bulky. And it may well be that the 'experts', after the manner of their kind, have tended to be more meticulous in attention to detail, and to hypothetical possibilities than was really essential. But that is probably a fault on the right side. It lessens the chances of future disagreements and controversies about the interpretation of this or that phrase of a more loosely-worded document.

But the main difficulty has, of course, been the fact that the Federal Republic is not all Germany; that the East is still under Russian control and Russian occupation; and that in theory, though not in practice, all Germany is still under Four-Power control. These are facts which cannot be changed until there is a peace treaty with a reunited Germany. For the moment they have to be accepted. And they complicate matters.

THEY MEAN for one thing, that the three Western Occupying Powers have to retain in some form, a special legal position in Western Germany. The Federal Republic has to be given the realities, but cannot be given the full form of independence. A knotty point for draftsmen.

Moreover the Allied troops have, with full German approval, to remain though the 'occupation' ends. And it is the arrangements and agreements which this requires—especially the financial ones—which have given the greatest difficulty.

So it is not surprising that the whole treaty, which incidentally winds up in all essentials a regime which has lasted in one form or another for nearly seven years, should have to be somewhat complicated and cumbersome in appearance.

THE DIFFICULTIES in associating the Federal Republic with N.A.T.O. are of a different kind. They are historical and psychological. The principle once accepted that Western Germany in its new status has both the right and the duty to take its share in the organized defence of Free Europe, the simplest thing would obviously have been to allow it to raise its own armed forces and to become a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But this was, as the Germans have readily understood and accepted, as politically impossible as it would have been administratively simple. None of the peoples of Western Europe and, in particular, the French, would have agreed to the re-creation, only seven years after the end of the war, of a German army and to the rearming of a German State.

The problem was how to have German troops yet not to have a German Army. And the solution has been found in the ingenious conception of a European Defence Community in which the German forces would be merged with the European Defence troops of five other states under a common command and common organization.

BUT THAT IN TURN raised new problems. Western Germany under this arrangement was not to become a member of N.A.T.O. Yet it was clear that to complete the structure she must both give and be given the pledges of assistance in the event of armed attack, which are contained in the North Atlantic Treaty. Again an ingenious solution has been devised. Germany will not become a member of N.A.T.O. Nor will she enter herself into any mutual obligations with the N.A.T.O. members. But there will be a protocol between N.A.T.O. and the E.D.C. by which the mutual obligations of the North Atlantic Treaty apply to all members of E.D.C.

FURTHERMORE, the French have been anxious that the mutual aid guarantees of the Brussels Treaty between Britain, France and the three Benelux countries (which are rather more precise and 'automatic' than those of the Atlantic Treaty) shall apply also to Italy and Western Germany. So a protocol to this effect is added to the list.

And lastly, again largely in deference to French wishes, Britain and the United States give an assurance that they will consult with France in the event of any member of the European Defence Community withdrawing from the organization.

It is in this way, and largely for political and psychological reasons, that such voluminous and complicated documents have proved necessary in order to carry out the policy agreed upon in 1950. There would have been little chance of devising simpler treaties which would have had any hope of being ratified both in Paris and in Bonn. These it is hoped will be ratified without undue delay. And the prospects look a little better than a short time ago. But even now there are going to be anxious weeks, perhaps months ahead.

President's Authority Questioned

(Halifax Chronicle Herald)

Mr. Truman, no doubt with the best of intentions and perfectly honestly, assumed that the Executive in the U.S. possesses unspecified but very wide powers in times of national emergency. Hence his action in regard to the steel industry, in the first place. To support his action he quoted what he considered sound precedents for his action. He recalled how various presidents before him had, for instance, purchased the Louisiana Territory and Alaska, or annexed Texas. But in none of these cases actually did a U.S. President act without the collaboration and consent of Congress. Neither President Jefferson, Presidents Tyler and Polk, nor President Johnson, in these quoted instances, acted on some belief in the inherent right vested in their office to do what semed best to themselves individually.

"HOT DOG!"

Smile On The Face Of The Tiger

By PHILIP TOYNBEE

WHILE the assembled foreign press of Rome was waiting for his arrival there was an air of pleasurable expectancy about even the weariest and most blase of the resident correspondents. We had been addressed on successive days by representatives of all the principal contesting parties in the latest Rome elections, held Sunday, and none had drawn so large and lively a crowd. Yet Palmiro Togliatti's first appearance creates incredulity—almost a sense of having been elaborately cheated. Communist leaders are usually massive men—even if they are physically short like Stalin or Pollitt. Thorez and Thaelmann are the models we carry at the back of our minds—men with big, ruthless clever faces which fit comfortably on to posters. But Togliatti is not only small; he looks, with his little round face and thick spectacles, like a precocious schoolboy, a little like a Herbert Morrison with all the Morrisonian pugnacity drained away.

When he begins to speak, this first impression is not immediately corrected. The most important Communist in Western Europe has a pleasant voice, matched by the extreme pleasantness of his smile, and, on this occasion at least, he had no intention of ranting at us as we had been ranted at by a monarchist on the day before. In fact he rose only to say that he preferred to answer questions rather than to make a speech.

THOUGH the questions were politely put, he must have been aware that he was addressing an audience composed almost entirely of his political enemies—and that he would certainly receive no verbal support from the big, taciturn correspondent of TASS (Soviet news agency) who sat in the shadows with the expressionless face which all Russian correspondents cultivate. But Togliatti had quickly charmed everybody at least into putting their questions with studied moderation. His charm, in fact, was magical, and he used it relentlessly. His manner was so modest; his smile so disarming; his language so reasonable and unextreme.

"Do you consider, Signor Togliatti, that De Gasperi is as much a Fascist as Mussolini?"

"I am a short-sighted man, but I'm not so short-sighted that I can't distinguish a Fascist from a Christian Democrat. Nevertheless, historically speaking . . ." Historically speaking, it is then gently suggested to us, de Gasperi is as much a Fascist as Mussolini. It soon appears that this "historically speaking" is Togliatti's most treasured phrase. Whenever he must say something which will strike his listeners as either wicked or preposterous, he qualified, it softens it, makes it vaguer, by this preliminary reservation.

"If the Communists get into power in Italy, will the opposition parties be able to put up posters in the streets?"

"Historically speaking . . . if the people wish it."

The trained ear at once detects the old threat; the trained eye at once foresees the ruthless repression, the phoney trials, the lying propaganda, all of them expressing "the will of the people". And the conscious charm suddenly seems to fail, the smile to become an enormity. For Togliatti has been the very model of a Stalinist, always obedient to Moscow, ready to leave for the Kremlin at a moment's notice and to change political lines with the virtuoso dexterity of a pianist transposing his keys.

BY THIS POINT one had certainly understood how he had reached and kept his position as Secretary-General of the Italian Communist Party, for he has great intellectual dexterity as well as a personality which imposes itself by insinuation rather than by domination. On how many hearers has he left the impression that, while Communist regimes elsewhere have proved detestable, Communism under Togliatti's leadership would at least be a milder, more humorous and better-tempered thing?

On the religious issue, for example, he pipes like Pan, and one earnest questioner, as least, looks relieved by the mildness of Togliatti's answer. "We Communists have nothing against religion. This is proved by the fact that our membership in Italy of two and a half million is mostly Catholic." Yet he firmly protests against Papal interference in politics, knowing well that this will strike an inevitable chord in many old radical and anti-clerical hearts. Indeed he could hardly have spoken more appropriately for his audience, or done more to make us forget the fate of Eastern Europe and our own fate if Togliatti's party wins the West as well. He is surely a far more dangerous man than the cruder and more flamboyant Communist leaders, if only because he makes it so difficult to dislike him.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Ahab the son of Omri did evil in the sight of the Lord above all that were before him. And it came to pass, as if it had been a light thing for him to walk in the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, that he took to wife Jezebel the daughter of Ethbaal king of Zidonians, and went and served Baal, and worshipped him. (I Kings 16:30, 31.)

And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges; I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied by faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication. So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitanes, which thing I hate. . . .

And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write; I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first. Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, who calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols. (Rev. 2:12-15, 18, 19, 20.)

Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgement, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. (Eccl. 12:13, 14.)

Martians, Naturally

(New York Times)

We are sadly disappointed in the explanation advanced by supposed experts for the blinding flash which occurred over Seattle the other night.

A meteor, indeed! That might have satisfied the prosaic nineteenth-century public. But we have advanced since then, and we see in this meteor talk a dangerously reactionary trend.

In the cause of progress and pure science we wish to suggest a working hypothesis for this mystery. We suggest that the phenomenon was due to a purposely exploded flying saucer. We suggest that this flying saucer was an interplanetary vehicle operated by Martian agents sent to investigate the current rash of earth's atomic explosions, plainly visible on Mars and the cause of considerable concern there for some time. We suggest that these agents, in their spying, had become enamoured of some aspect of earthly American life and, in the spirit of refugees from behind the Iron Curtain, had determined to start life anew on earth and, in particular around Seattle—a lovely city.

We suggest that they were just about to bring the first space ship from another planet to rest on the earth when a wary Martian monitor, ever watchful for just such deviationism, tripped a radio signal which exploded the mined saucer, destroying the erring agents and for a short while longer protected Martian security.

OPEN HOUSE AT BONN

Newsprint Cost U.S. Problem Says Senator

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP) — Senator Francis Case (Rep., S.D.) today called the high cost of newsprint a national problem and said Congress should help the United States develop its own domestic source of low-cost newsprint.

Case proposed that a joint committee on newsprint study the situation and make recommendations to the next Congress. He said he will offer a resolution today to this effect.

The price of newsprint, most of it from Canada, had increased more than 100 per cent since the end of the war. This, Case said in a statement, has jeopardized the low-cost distribution of information to the American public and made newsprint supply an urgent problem.

"It appears that greater domestic newsprint production can be secured through greater use of domestic forestry resources, and through the use of relatively inexpensive fibres such as bagsse (waste from sugar cane), corn stalks, and other farm waste," he said.

Bewdley News

Mrs. L. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Daniels and little daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Metreek and baby, all of Toronto, spent the weekend with the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson, Sandra and Raymond of South Monaghan also spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Sidey and children of Napanee spent the week-end here with her mother, Mrs. Olive Sidey.

Bewdley School pupils took third place in the two-room school competition at the music festival at Campbellford.

Two Drunks Fined

Hunter Dies of Shot

TORONTO, May 27—(CP)—Jack Proctor, 19, accidentally shot while hunting near his home at Caledon, died Monday on the way to hospital here. Caledon is 42 miles northwest of Toronto.

Backs Symphony In Firing 6 Musicians

TORONTO, May 27. (CP) — board of directors of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra on Monday night supported the action of the T.S.O. in firing six musicians barred from entry to the United States.

Board Chairman William George Watson said the six orchestra members have been given until Sept. 1 to clear themselves with U.S. immigration officials or they will be replaced. Only reason given by U.S. officials for their refusal to admit the six persons was that their presence was deemed to be against the best interest of that country.

A. Roy Courtice, one of 12 members present at last night's meeting, said the decision of the board was purely a contractual one and political aspect of the immigration ban was not a consideration.

Over-Emphasize Gravity Of Polio

TORONTO, May 27—(CP)—The relative seriousness of poliomyelitis has been over-emphasized to the general public says Dr. Crawford Anglin.

Writing in Health Magazine, published by the Health League of Canada, Dr. Anglin says this is mainly due to its dramatic course in some patients who may die during the acute stages of the illness or may be left with severe paralysis and deformities.

He points out that whooping cough kills twice as many children in Canada as poliomyelitis and rheumatic fever has crippled children far more severely by damaging the heart.

During a severe epidemic, the article states, there is only one chance in 1,500 of developing polio, one in 7,500 of being paralyzed and one in 30,000 of dying of the disease. It has been estimated that 50 per cent of patients paralyzed during the acute stage recover from their weakness and have no residual paralysis one year later.

Lays Hostel Stone

LONDON, Ont., May 27—(CP)—The cornerstone for the Salvation's Army's new $250,000 men's social service hostel was placed Monday at ceremonies concluding a three-day celebration in honor of the Army's 70th anniversary. Commissioner W. R. Dalziel, head of the Salvation Army in Canada, laid the stone.

Edmonton Grows

EDMONTON, May 27—(CP)—Civic census figures released Monday show Edmonton's population has reached 169,196, an increase of 10,284 in the last 11 months.

Sgt. Wins D.C.M. For Leading Pats' Platoon

OTTAWA, May 27. (CP)—Sgt. Richard Geore Buxton, 26, of Melfort, Sask., and Victoria, has been given the immediate award in the field of the Distinguished Conduct Medal for gallantry and leadership with the 1st Battalion of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Korea.

Sgt. Buxton, son of Mrs. P. H. B. Buxton, of Victoria, is one of 14 children and brother of seven with service in the armed forces.

He refused to be evacuated although he was wounded in the shoulder while commanding a platoon of infantry that beat off a fanatical Chinese attack on his position north of the Imjin River last March 26, the army announcement said.

More than 200 enemy shells fell on the small platoon position in 20 minutes. Sgt. Buxton was wounded by one of the first but, "in spite of this and with complete disregard for his own safety he moved around the positions, encouraging his men and redeploying the platoon to meet further attacks coming from the rear."

The platoon had been caught in a three-pronged pincer with Chinese attacks coming from right, left and rear. Quick appreciation of what was happening and bold action by Sgt. Buxton in redeploying his platoon enabled them to withstand the attackers who were "gapping wire, throwing grenades and directing small arms fire on the Canadian position."

Though wounded, Sgt. Buxton directed the defense of his locality throughout the night. By 3 a.m. the platoon was running short of ammunition and had suffered several casualties. Sgt. Buxton personnally supervised collection of casualties and requested additional ammunition.

Only at dawn, after he had reorganized the remaining troops of his platoon and seen to the comfort of the wounded, would Sgt. Buxton permit himself to be evacuated. The relieving party had to fight their way through enemy positions to reach the platoon.

The "determination, personal courage and technical skill of Sgt. Buxton were responsible for holding the position and inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy," the army said. "When daylight came, 24 Chinese dead were found on the small perimeter of the platoon position.

"Sgt. Buxton's leadership is 'an inspiration to his men, his battalion and a credit to the Canadian Army," said his citation.

Sgt. Buxton jointed the Canadian Army in May, 1944, at the age of 18. He has served continuously since that time. A qualified paratrooper, he previously served as an instructor at the Canadian Joint Air Training School, Rivers, Man.

Sgt. Buxton's father, a veteran of the Royal Canadian Artillery in the First World War, died about a year ago. His wife and one child live in Melfort. Two of his brothers Cpl. Frank Buxton, 24, and Pte. David Buxton, 22, are serving with him in the 1st Battalion, P.P.C.L.I. in Korea.

Association Approves Librarians' Pensions

LONDON, May 27—(CP)—A province-wide pension plan for librarians was approved in principle Monday by the Ontario Library Association, meeting here.

It would benefit particularly librarians in smaller centres, and non-professional library workers.

Delegates were not given any detailed plan to consider, and it was agreed that such details would be provided at a later time.

Party-Line Bylaw

JAMESTOWN, N.Y., May 27—(AP)—The town board of nearby Gerry last night passed an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for a party-line telephone subscriber to refuse to relinquish his line for a fire or other emegency call. The bill also makes it a mis-demeanor for someone to falsify an emergency in order to gain access to a busy line.

SIAMESE TWINS IN DAYTON—Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Galyon of Dayton, O., hold their Siamese twin sons for their first picture. The boys, Ronnie and Donnie, were born October 28, 1951 and doctors say they have an excellent chance for survival. They are normal in every way, except that they are joined at the abdomen by tissue which the doctors hope to sever after the twins are two years old. The Galyans have two other children, both normal.

Rain Spoils Day At Millbrook

BETHANY, May 27 — (ENS) — Saturday's downfall of rain had a dampening effect on the sport's program arranged by the Bethany Athletic Association for the holiday week-end, with many of the planned events being cancelled.

The Saturday program began with a parade headed by the Boys Fife and Drum Band, with June Wright as the trim majorette. Allan Gribble and Mansell Wright judged the parade entries, awarding prizes to Larry Lamb for best decorated tricycle in the boys' section and Dianne Mulligan for the best decorated girl's tricycle. The boys' bicycle class was won by Paul Pomeroy; second prize to Dodd Smelt. The girls' bicycle class was won by Dianne Bigelow, second prize to Leone Smelt. The best decorated horse in the parade was owned by Ingrid Rajski. Best decorated car, Dr G. M. Longfield. Best comic entry, Glen Wright.

Run In Rain

The senior races were all cancelled, but those for the juniors went on despite the pouring rain. Ronald Jackson won the under six years boys' group and Sharon Bigelow, came first in the same class for girls. Boys under eight years, Stewart McGee; girls under eight years Dianne Bigelow. Boys under ten years, Neal Finney; girls under ten years Dianne Bigelow. Boys under fifteen years, Bob Ryley; girls under fifteen years, Vivian Smith.

The first baseball game of the season, Bethany vs. Millbrook was called off at the end of the fourth inning with the score 2-0 for the home team. Bert Ginn scoring both runs.

The evening entertainment was a play presented by members of Grace United Church, Peterborough, "That Watkins Girl". Miss June Wright gave two dances on roller skates and Mrs. H. McHahon of Peterborough gave a comic reading between acts.

Pistol Champ Loses Fingertip In Cell Door

MOLINE, Ill., May 27 (AP) — The pistol-shot champion of Moline's police department lost the tip of his trigger finger Monday when a woman inmate slammed the door of her jail cell. Policeman Earl McLaughlin was preparing to lock in Mrs. Mary Norton, 39, when she suddenly lunged against the heavy steel door.

The tip of McLaughlin's right index finger was amputated at the first joint.

Exchange Classes

WINNIPEG, May 27 —(CP)— The Winnipeg Grain Exchange will be closed Monday, June 9, for the Queen's birthday.

HARSH MEASURES

In olden times mantraps were used on the farms and estates of England to catch poachers and trespassers.

OBITUARY

TERENCE D. FITZPATRICK

HAVELOCK, May 27. (ENS)—Terence D. Fitzpatrick, 79, a native of Marmora township, died on Monday at his home on Mathison St. here following an illness which extended over a period of five years, the last year of which he was confined to bed.

Mr. Fitzpatrick was a son of the late Daniel Fitzpatrick and Annie Flynn and received his education in the Crawford School, Marmora township. As a young man he worked in the mines in Northern Ontario but after his marriage 42 years ago he took up farming as an occupation, residing at Cordova Mines until he moved to Havelock in December 1950. He was a member of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church.

Surviving besides his widow the former Mary Ellen Gallagher, are one daughter and two sons, Loretta at home; WO2 Patrick Vincent Fitzpatrick of Val Cartier, Que., and Jack of Havelock; one brother James of Detroit. A son, Sapper James Fitzpatrick, was killed in the Second World War.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. when the Rev. C. J. Carroll will conduct requiem mass in Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church. Burial will be in Marmora Cemetery.

ANCIENT SECT

The Mennonite denomination was founded in Switzerland in 1525 and took its name from the Dutch religious reformer, Menno Simmons.

144 Candidates Nominated In Saskatchewan

REGINA, May 27 — (CP) — A total of [illegible] didates are in the field for the 55 seats at stake in the June 11 Saskatchewan general election.

When nominations closed yesterday, both the C.C.F. and Liberals had named candidates for every seat.

The remaining 38 candidates were in six categories.

There were 23 Social Crediters, eight Progressive Conservatives, three Independents, two Labor-Progressives, one Independent Progressive Conservative and one Independent Liberal.

In the 1948 general election there were 149 candidates for 52 seats.

Since then a redistribution added one seat, giving Regina a third seat. Under redistribution, the boundaries of a number of constituencies were changed and some were given new names.

At dissolution, standing in the Legislature was C.C.F., 31; Liberals, 19; others, 2.

Both Premier T. C. Douglas and Liberal leader Walter Tucker are seeking re-election. The Premier is a candidate in Weyburn, Mr. Tucker in Rosthern. Both constituencies will see straight Liberal-C.C.F. contests.

The two other party leaders were not members of the last legislature. Alvin Hamilton, Progressive Conservative leader, will run in Lumsden and J. A. Thauberger, Social Credit leader, who was nominated in Humboldt.

Mr. Hamilton is in a four-way battle with C.C.F., Liberal and Social Credit opponents. Mr. Thauberger faces C.C.F. and Liberal opponents.

Candidates include two members of the last legislature who crossed the floor of the House.

Jacob Benson, elected in 1948 as a C.C.F. nominee, was nominated in Last Mountain as an Independent.

L. M. Marion, who won in Athabaska in 1948 as an Independent Liberal later announced he would support the C.C.F. government. Yesterday he was nominated as an Independent in Meadow Lake, a constituency which covers much of the territory in Athabaska before redistribution.

Race Delays Concert But Symphony Success

LONDON, May 27 —(AP)—The Boston Symphony Orchestra scored a resounding triumph here Monday night after its concert was delayed by a French bicycle race.

The sell-out throng at Royal Festival Hall gave conductor Charles Munch 16 curtain calls.

The concert was delayed because the truck carrying its instruments was held up in France to permit a bike race—which had priority—to go through. The equipment missed the channel ferry.

Moist Weather May Be Cause Low-Hit Games

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, May 27 (AP) — Never before within the memory of the present crop of baseball experts have so many low-hit games been pitched at this early stage of the major league season.

Scarcely a day passes but some club is shackled with a one, two or three-hitter. There already have been a no-hitter, a double one-hitter, and so many other brilliant performances—several of them by comparatively obscure workmen—that the suspicion is inescapable that something is going on here.

It is customary in cases such as this to haul the baseball manufacturers on the carpet and demand to know what they have done to the official pellet. The only thing is, they always say the same, that they haven't done anything to their product since Babe Ruth hit 60 home runs except to up the price.

So we'll pass that and go on to another possibility—the weather. It seems more promising. This has been an unusually wet spring. Games have been rained out in painful numbers, and many have been played when the air was damp and the grass soggy and slow.

Good For Curves

This could help the pitchers. In damp, heavy air a curve gets a better bite and breaks just a little more sharply than on a bright, sunny day. Fast-ball pitchers proverbially like to work under a cloudbank, though we have heard this hotly disputed.

A slow infield cannot help being a boon to a pitcher. It enables his support to reach and make easy putouts of hard-hit balls which would have skipped through for base hits on a sun-baked diamond, as well as slowing up screamers to the outfield, once they land.

Whether the weather has contributed materially to the great pitching we will know soon enough. Some observers expect the hitters to take charge in a hurry once the mercury starts climbing and the veterans begin to feel their years in the middle innings.

They could, however, be wrong, for there is at least one more possibility. Maybe there aren't so many good hitters around as there were even a few years ago. As Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees said the other day: "Maybe this ain't a hitters' league any more."

In support of the theory, a glance at the batting averages shows that the few established sluggers in each league still are getting their knocks and virtually dominate the standings. It is the newcomers who are finding things tough.

WIN QUEEN'S PLATE—Premier Frost of Ontario presents a trophy to Frank Veal of the Three V's Stable of Toronto whose game colt, Epigram, had just won the 93rd renewal of the Queen's Plate, at Woodbine Park, Toronto. —Jockey Gil Robillard, 27, of Penetanguishene, doesn't mind the coating of mud he gathered in piloting the Canadian-bred three-year-old to a length victory through driving rain and sloppy going. Shown left to right are: Premier Frost, Frank Veal, Lawrence Veal, jockey Robillard, and Gordon Veal. The brothers are the three V's in the stable's name.

Marines Lose To Ashby's In First Game

Ashby's opened the Girls' Softball League schedule at the Bowl last night before a goodly gallery with a 4-2 win over Marines. The Burtol-Lindsay tilt was postponed. No official ceremony marked the league opening this season, and the game was late in starting.

Ashby's took an early lead and were in front 4-1 going into the eighth, but Marines made a good bid of it as each side collected seven hits and both booted the ball four times. Some good softball was served up by the lasses for the start of the season, and both sides will do more building and practicing as the schedule wears on. L. Jordan of Ashby's and R. Naylor of Marines led the hitters.

Score by innings:

Marines	000 010 010	2	7 4
Ashby's	020 002 00x	4	7 4

Batteries: E. Whittaker and J. Hart; H. Moser and D. Smith.

Umpires: Borland and Mowry.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Another good crowd came out on Monday afternoon to attend the official opening of the lawn bowling season, and to celebrate the first of the summer holidays.

As on Saturday afternoon President Fitzpatrick made a brief speech of welcome, and referred to those who have passed on since last summer. Out of respect for them, he asked the bowlers to bow their heads and stand for two minutes' silence:

In Memoriam

W. Potter.
H. Darling.
G. Soulby.
George Coleman, Sr.
Judge S. L. Smoke.
Rev. George Easton.
J. Harrison.

The winning rinks in yesterday's tournament were skipped by Mrs. H. Beatty, F. Jeffrey and Mrs. L. Bearne.

Tonight we begin the president-vice-president competition.

The ladies are holding a tournament Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Draw off the board.

In the annual lawn bowling president vs. vice-president competition, Group 1 plays tonight and Group 2 on Thursday night.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

In order to clear up some of the controversy noted over selection of Canada's basketball team for the Summer Olympics in Helsinki—and we still think Don Griffin of this city should be on the team—the Canadian Olympic Association says: "The C.A.B.A. is the controlling body for basketball in Canada. It holds the affiliation with the International Basketball Federation, and it is responsible for the selection of the Olympic team. The C.O.A. will accept the recommendation of the C.A.B.A., provided the players can meet the amateur requirements of the International Olympic Committee." That should be plain enough.

* * * * * *

The same bulletin makes this observation: "In a country so widely-spread as Canada, in which a rather small population is somewhat concentrated in a few areas, separated by great distances and many natural barriers, it is difficult to develop a national consciousness. The difficulty is increased by great diversities in racial origins, in language and in customs. Play and sport are natural activities of youth, and the promotion and development of recreational and competitive games are of the utmost importance and significance in the creation and fostering of a Canadian national concept."

City Is Off By Itself

Speaking of widely-spread centres, we must have first mentioned it nearly 5,000 columns ago but we'll do it again. This city is out on the limb geographically where senior sports are concerned. We're too far away from cities the same size—and thus our senior teams in hockey, lacrosse, baseball and, to some extent, football, are mighty costly and waste a lot of time in travel. Nearby centres like Lindsay, Cobourg, Port Hope, etc., are intermediate towns in sports while we're in the senior class and must needs go to Oshawa, Belleville, Kingston, Toronto, and further, for good competition. Western Ontario has an ideal setup with a lot of cities close together. Ditto down Niagara way. Ah, well. . . .

* * * * * *

The senior ball-playing Petes aren't fooling this season. Faced with the possibility of having to fold for a year due to a number of players leaving, the rest got busy and have lined up a right promising pack. First-class seniors like Menzies, Huntley, Edger, Dadson, Stewart, Garvey, Lowrey and a few more, two imports, a couple of classy former juniors and several other experienced players like Cack Pagett, Jack Wade, Arn Dugan, Dave Casey and Junior Milne. Three twirlers to date but they're good ones and should get by okay in the rather short C.O.B.L. schedule. Looks like Gunner Whitehill will have a contending club all right.

On Baseball's Blacklist

Latest O.B.A. bulletin announces suspensions—to fall in line with other association suspensions—for life of D. L. McKnight and George Patterson of Kingston on account of the hockey Nylons, and James Wilson of Hamilton for a P.W.S.U. infraction. Other softball penalties of two years recognized by the baseball body are Joe Spring Jr. of Toronto, Bill Carson of Belleville, and Lefty Reid of Trenton—though the latter is due for re-instatement June 16. Basketball guys out indefinitely are Jack Wedley and Steve Levantis of Toronto, well-known to grid fans, too. Two Kingston puckists, Ed Plumb and R. Aiken, are out for two years. Peewee and Bantam ball clubs must be set for playdowns Aug. 2 the others by the last Saturday of August.

* * * * * *

Just one girls' softball game at the Bowl last e'en to open the season, but it was a dandy. A 4-2 win for Ashby's o'er Marines with H. Moser and E. Whittaker throwing nice ball and both teams hustling. A goodly crowd on deck, also, though no officials in sight—but the umps—and no formal ceremony. Burtol's had their game with Lindsay postponed as they're still seeking a manager and the club wasn't quite ready to go. L. Jordan of Ashby's and R. Naylor of Marines proved the best binglers in the loop opener, and some neat fielding was seen. Tomorrow night at the Bowl, Burtol's play Marines, followed by Lindsay vs. Ashby's, while Cobourg goes to Belleville.

Soccer Loop Likely In City And District

Efforts are being made to reorganize the Peterborough and District Football Association, and prospects for revived soccer interest in this circuit appear bright. Reg Cox, George Anderson and Art O'Halloran are again the O.F.A. commissioners for the district and they expect a league of three or four teams from Peterborough and Lindsay.

A nopen practice is being held from six on tomorrow evening in King Edward Park with all players of the city and district, including newcomers, urged to attend. Play commences here next Saturday at six p.m. in King Edward Park with an exhibition game between Lindsay and Peterborough.

Australian Girl Cinch For Medals At Olympic Tests

By LOUIS L. LECK

MELBOURNE, Australia, May 27—(CP) — Marjorie Jackson, a shy, 21-year-old typist from Lithgow, coal-mining town in New South Wales, should stand out like a red tie at a funeral in the summer Olympic games at Helsinki, Finland, July 19-Aug. 3. Marjorie is a sprinter—the best in the world.

She is Australia's leading candidate for gold medals at Helsinki and the brown-haired five-foot-seven runner, who the experts say has practically everything wrong with her style, is considered a cinch in the sprints—100 and 200 metres.

There's no one, except probably Dutch housewife Fanny Blankers-Koen, who can seriously threaten the whiz kid who set a world record of 10.4 seconds on a grass track in Australia two months ago.

Youth An Asset

Marjorie has youth in her favor. The Dutch mother of two, the sensation of the 1948 games at London with firsts in the 100 and 200 metres, 80-metre hurdles and anchor on Holland's winning 400-metre relay team, is 34 years old but still a speed artist.

The Australian girl is entered in the sprints and probably will anchor this country's 400-metre relay team, given a better-than-even chance to succeed Holland as Olympic champion. She has defeated "unbeatable" Fanny since 1948 and no one else is in sight who can beat her, particularly from the Commonwealth countries.

Marjorie first attracted big-time track attention in the 1950 British Empire games at Auckland, N.Z. She won the sprints and anchored the 440-and 660-yard relays to win a record-breaking four firsts.

Backed By Public

Since then Australia, particularly Lithgow miners and railway workers have paid high tribute to her. Public money has been used in laying three tracks so that she may gain as much experience as possible on differing types of surfaces—cinders, grass and gravel—and study the effect of weather on them.

Her trainer is Jim Monaghan, former professional sprinter and now a store clerk who was sent to Auckland two years ago on money put up by Lithgow citizens to assist Marjorie's final preparations for the B.E. games.

Monaghan feels he cannot afford to leave his family and employment to go to Helsinki and it's a good bet the citizens will raise the money to send him. Without Monagahan, their heroine says she is "lost" and the miners and railwaymen won't hear of Marjorie losing in Finland.

From all indications; she won't.

Jack Hardill Leads Peterboro' Golfers

Despite the lack of cooperation of the weatherman, the opening day crowd of the Peterborough Golf Club was not only good, but brave. Only a few dropped out at the end of nine holes, the majority battling their way through the eighteen and turning in very creditable scores for the day.

The course was playing long and all yardage was of the earned variety. Greens were in excellent shape. The local improvement plan is beginning to be noticed by the members and wins their applause.

Jack Hardill (former club champ) fired a sparkling 77 to lead the gross and to win low gross in the first flight. The O'Heron brothers took care of the nets in this flight, Arn winning first low net and brother Frank (Skeeter) taking the second low net.

In the second flight Ted Flummerfelt scored a nice 88 to lead. First net went to W. J. (Hip) Hardill. Second net was a tie between Mac Campbell and Howard David, Mac winning the toss.

In the third flight Arnold (Dude) Brady led the list with a 93 (the handicap boys had better watch this man), Jack Armstrong landing the first net and Hugh McFadden the second.

President Won

The annual President vs Vice-President match was closely contested, the President's team winning the Nassau by 37½ to 34½.

From the spirit of the people in attendance, the weatherman cannot hope to totally spoil any planned day at the club. A lovely and delicious turkey dinner (al la Victoire) was more than enjoyed by the goodly crowd that sat down and after the inner man was satisfied entertainment and the presentation of prizes left everyone of the opinion that the day had been very successful in every respect.

President Gordon Maniece was generously applauded when he forecast a year of club activities that looks like the best yet.

The social end of the evening was celebrated before a roaring fireplace in the main lounge with the wives and girl friends expounding on how silly it was for the men to have been out in the rain when they could have stayed in and enoyed the club facilities such as they were doing. In the group there were a lot of games replayed and some very bold threats of what was going to be done on the fairways this coming summer.

Arrangements for the opening dance are being made now and a gala night is to be expected. Announcement will be forthcoming shortly.

Canadian Entry Said Fit For Epsom's Richest Derby

By ALAN HARVEY

EPSOM, Surrey, England, May 27 (CP)—Indian Hemp, Canada's longshot hope for the richest of all Epsom Derbys, breezed five furlongs over this horseshoe-shaped course today, and was declared fit and ready for Wednesday's big race.

As the chestnut colt streaked down world-famous Tattenham Corner and into Epsom's homestretch, a three-man Canadian contingent cast a critical eye on this final workout.

Later, Charley Conacher, former Canadian hockey star, said he and the other Canadian onlookers were "very well pleased" with Indian Hemp's performance. Also watching the workout at this 220-year-old track were owner Max Bell, of Calgary, and a partner, Wilder Ripley.

The three Canadians flew from Canada to see the Derby and will return by air Thursday night.

Bought For $25,000

Indian Hemp, by the sire Nashrullah which now stands in the United States, was purchased by Bell last April from British owner Sir Humphrey De Trafford for a price reported considerably below the $25,000 originally believed involved. The colt once was a 66-1 in pre-race betting, but late money, possibly including driblets from the large Canadian colony in London, has shaved the price to 33-1.

Indian Hemp is trained by Marcus Marsh, who also has the Aga Khan's favored Tulvar under his care, and who won the 1934 Derby with the Maharajah of Rajpipla's Windsor Lad. The Canadian-owned entry will be ridden by Joe Marshall, a senior jockey who booted home Trigo in the 1929 Derby—at the same 33-1 odds now available on Indian Hemp.

The Derby is a 1½-mile jaunt over an undulating course that looks from the air like a giant hoof-print. The start is from the lower right-hand side of the horseshoe, up a centre rise to the first turn, which dips downhill to Tattenham Corner and then bends sharply into the "straight" or homestretch. At the finish there is an upward slope which sorts out the stayers from the shorter-winded.

If the fine weather continues, as many as 500,000 persons will be present tomorrow for the Derby's 173rd renewal. The amount changing hands on the race, in pounds and pence, will run anywhere up to £5,000,000.

To the winning owner, this year's race will be worth £20,587 —richest in Derby history.

Out At The Kawartha

Yes, it rained out at the Kawarthas, too! However, a goodly number of golfers managed to get a game or two despite the precipitation. The little golf bird tells us that a few good scores were obtained, too! Members, so they say, or more significantly don't say, are well satisfied with the condition of the fairways. However, several of the greens show the effects of winter kill but it is expected that with the correct proportion of sunshine and rain (already administered) top dressing and fertilizer plus a little of that which "is always found in a woman and never in a man," viz. patience, that the grass will grow green or that the greens will grow grass!

Players are enthusiastically signing up for the various club competitions. It is important for these, not already "in there," to note that Saturday, May 31, is the deadline for entry in the President's Cup, for those with handicaps 24 and under; men's two ball, and in this event, only one partner may have a handicap of 14 or under: the very popular Kawartha Cup handicaps 25 and up. The deadline for the Riley Cup which is the mixed two ball, ladies and men, is not yet set. The entry list is most encouraging and this promises to be a great event resembling something of an every member competition. This year the partners will be decided by a draw.

Dues Are Due

And then there is that little sadness mixed with gladness. May 31 is also a deadline, too, for something else, important to the operating of a club. Yes, dues are due.

And then there is the tennis section. The Greeks have a word for it, and by that we mean the disappointment due to the postponing of opening day. Nevertheless, there will be one soon, the first fine Saturday and a really good program has been drawn up by John Fletcher and his committee.

And now a bit of good news for those who enjoy good meals in pleasant surroundings. The dining room, complete with new menus, is open, and judging from the pleased expressions of the number of diners who enjoyed Sunday dinner at the club, no further testimony is needed to prove what fine food can do for a body.

And in the pro shop, that doctor of all golfing ills, Lex Robson, the genial pro, is on the job. In addition to all other equipment for the golfer, he will be pleased to show folks the latest wet weather wear.

Grove Girls Win

Grove girls pulled out a 5-3 school softball victory over Confederation yesterday at Grove in a fine fixture. The winners broke for five in the first frame but were held scoreless then by good hurling and fielding, but one runner making third and two to second the rest of the route. The losers shoved one over in the first and added two more in the fourth, besides threatening to tie it up several times. Teams:

Grove: R. Todd, S. Post, V. Lafrance, S. Calberry, A. Merritt, J. Parnell, B. Scott, G. Teneycke, S. Duncan, J. Ross, S. Robinson, C. Sage, J. Burfield.

Confederation: B. Thompson, M. Bryans, M. Orr, J. Outwater, M. Westwood, R. Trotter, D. Brown, B. Ruttan, E. Weir, C. Fallis, J. Parnell, P. Sibley, W. Aitken.

Umpire: R. Lindsay.

Leafs To Fourth In I.L. Play, Chiefs Get Win

By The Associated Press.

Syracuse Chiefs and Rochester Red Wings found themselves in a tie for second place in the International Baseball League today, and Toronto Maple Leafs dropped into fourth.

Syracuse pitcher Bob Keegan was the star both on the mound and with the bat as the Chiefs defeated Toronto for the second straight day, 6-4. Keegan got three of his team's seven hits, and drove in two runs.

Freddie Martin, veteran Rochester righthander, won his fifth game against a single defeat by pitching 10-hit ball to beat Buffalo 3-1. He never issued a walk, as Buffalo lost its 10th straight, and Rochester won its fourth victory in a row.

Russ Kerns hit a second-inning homer with one aboard for Baltimore and Paul Stuffel held Ottawa to four hits as the Orioles won a 2 to 1 victory.

League-leading Montreal and Springfield were rained out.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

H. C. Hatch, racehorse breeder of Agincourt, Ont., started three horses in the King's Plate at Toronto eight years ago today and took three of the first four places. The sturdy grey colt Acara won with Ompalo second and Hatch's third entry, Sayonara, finishing fourth in the mile and an eighth classic.

Panthers' 8-4 Win Over Galt Gives Them Edge

By The Canadian Press.

Kitchener Panthers strengthened their claim to first place in the Senior Intercounty Baseball League Monday night defeating Galt Terriers, 8-4. The win, their third straight in three starts, gives the Papthers a slight edge over Guelph, also tied for first place with two wins in two starts.

Waterloo Tigers dropped into second place when they slipped under 1-0 before the third-place Brantford Red Sox. St. Thomas Elgins climbed from last place into a three-way tie with London, and Brantford by defeating London Majors 2-1.

Brilliant two-hit pitching by southpaw Jesse Boro gave St. Thomas their victory over London. He gave up three walks and struck out two. London's single run came when first baseman Bobby Bloxam stole home from second on a passed ball. A single followed by Elgins first baseman Bob Johnson's triple brought in the tying run in the seventh and right fielder Art Pearce's double drove in the tying run in the seventh and right fielder Art Pierce's double drove in the winning run. Johnson led the hitting with two for four.

Credit for Brantford's win goes almost entirely to pitcher Alf Gavey. The Sox southpaw drove in the winning run with a double in the fourth. He collected two hits in three trips to the plate. On the mound he allowed only four hits and three walks while taking five strikeouts. Tiger fielders Kvasnak and Herchenratter split Waterloo's four hits. Losing pitcher was Arris.

Another pitcher stole the spotlight as Kitchener's Mel Duncan scored a home run and a double in three trips to the plate. Travelling the full distance he gave up five walks and 13 hits and struck out five. Kitchener's third baseman Dick Blanchard took the second home run of the evening. He scored four hits in as many tries. Terrier manager Johnny Russian used three pitchers—Mulholland, Rockburn and Bell with Rockburn counted the loser.

Guelph travels to Kitchener for tonight's single action.

Peewee Braves Tie

East City Braves, R. Brady's peewee baseball squad, tied Belleville peewees, run by Wally Bent, 2-2 in a rainy exhibition on Saturday. The Quinte flinger allowed but two hits and fanned four while Wade of the Braves also hurled two-hit ball and struck out six. A return game will be played in Belleville on Saturday, the locals leaving the Bowl at 1:30. They practice at seven in the Oval on Wednesday night.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

This column being all in favor of bestowing credit where the same is due, we take this opportunity to belatedly doff the chapeau in the general direction of far-away Australia.

It's an oldish story now that the forces from Down Under won the Davis Cup, emblematic of world tennis superiority, so that at least one major sports triumph went to the lean credit side of the British sports ledger before 1951 closed out.

But that isn't exactly the point we had in mind. What we wanted to say is that the over-all Australian Davis Cup record is almost miraculous.

From a scant population (somewhere in the neighborhood of 10,000,000) it has for 50 years developed some of the greatest tennis players in history — Anthony Wilding, the all time No. 1 southpaw; Sir Norman Brookes, Gerald Patterson, James Anderson, Pat O'Hara, Adrian Quist, John Bromwich and now, in the last couple of years, Sedgman, McGregor and Rose.

Despite a comparatively meagre population to draw from, Australia has during the period since 1900 sent 20 of its teams into Davis Cup challenge rounds and its players have won nine times.

The United States, provided with talent from the great California tennis mill, has participated in 33 challenge rounds and of these has lost more than it has won. The score is: U.S. 15, Opponents 18. In ratio of population, Australia tops them all in tennis success.

The Aussies defeated powerful British teams twice and the United States squads seven times, with Brookes and Wilding doing the racquet swinging for the Aussies on four occasions.

Australia was not knocked out of the picture by the First War or by World War II, either, despite staggering losses of man-power. Its players made the challenge round 13 times, from 1919 through 1951, but lost twice to Great Britain, nine times to the United States partly due to the reign of the famous "Big Bill and Little Bill" (Tilden and Johnston) combination.

How long they can hold on is another matter, in view of the quantity production in the United States. But they won it against the best the United States could produce, even though there was nothing in the 1951 series to compare with one of the most famous matches of Davis Cup history. That was in 1914 when Australia's Brookes and Wilding played together for the last time. America's "Comet" McLoughlin and Brookes were opponents in a terrific match, the first set of which went 32 games, the longest in Davis Cup history for many years. The Comet finally won in straight sets.

The Aussies, however, won the title, 3 matches to 2. Both Brookes and Wilding then went to war and Wilding was killed with thousands of other Anzacs in the Gallipoli campaign.

So, this observer believes, a rousing cheer, a verbal pat on the back, and a hearty nod of appreciation, is due to the hardy Australians, who produce quality despite a lack of quantity.

Lockman Scores Three Runs To Lead N.Y. Giants To 4-2 Win Over Brooklyn

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

It's high time Carroll (Whitey) Lockman, New York Giants' first baseman began getting the credit he so richly deserves. The colorless but dependable towhead who has made the shift from the outfield to first base with little fanfare but with surprising success, has been the most consistent of all the Giants this season. He leads the club with a .333 mark, second highest in the league, tops the circuit in runs scored and is second in total hits. Yet Bobby Thomson, Willie Mays, Sal Maglie and Alvin Dark receive most of the acclaim for the Giants' tremendous early season showing.

Thomson proved to be the big run-producer Monday night as the Giants tangled with Brooklyn Dodgers at the Polo Grounds for the first time since that fateful final playoff game. Bobby slammed a home run in his first time at bat and drove in three runs as the Giants whipped their interborough rivals, 4-2, to take over first place from the Dodgers by a half-game.

But it was Lockman who set him up. He drew a walk in the first inning and rode in ahead of Thomson's homer. He walloped a 400-foot triple in the third and crossed the plate on Thomson's 440-foot fly. Then he iced the game in the fifth with a home run into the right field stands, his fifth of the season.

Cubs Blank Cards

In other National League games Chicago Cubs blanked St. Louis Cards, 3-0, to solidify their hold on third place. Bob Rush pitched a six-hitter to register his sixth victory. Bill Serena's fifth-inning home run off loser Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell and Bob Ramazotti's two-run single off reliefer Al Brazle in the seventh, accounted for all of Chicago's runs.

Ralph Kiner slammed a three-run homer, his fourth of the year and his second in two days, to lead Pittsburgh to a 6-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. Bob Friend, in relief of starter Ronnie Kline, registered his third victory. Dutch Hiller was the loser.

Boston's Red Sox and Washington's Senators continued in their tie for second place, cutting Cleveland's first place margin in the American League to 2½ games. The Red Sox thrashed New York Yankees, 6-3, for their fourth in a row over the world champions in Fenway Park. Don Lenhardt, trying to fill the shoes of Ted Williams in left field, drove in five Boston runs with a three-run homer and a two-run double. Johnny Sain was the victim.

Senators Win 5-3

Sid Hudson pitched and batted the Senators to a 5-3 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics. Hudson allowed nine hits and helped win his 3rd game by driving in two runs with a single and long fly. Outfielder Archie Wilson batted in the other three Washington tallies with a triple and a pair of singles.

Billy Pierce picked up a pair of victories as the Chicago White Sox swept two games from the St. Louis Browns, 10-5 and 6-2. The first game was the completion of the suspended game of April 20. The two teams picked up where they left off in the eighth inning. The Browns scored three times, but it was not enough as they were behind 10-2 when darkness came last month.

Pierce was touched for nine hits in the regulation game but notched his fourth win against as many losses.

Rain washed out the scheduled night game between Boston Braves and the Phillies in Philadelphia. Cleveland and Detroit were not scheduled.

Five Arrested In Thefts At Military Camp

PEMBROKE, May 27 —(CP)— Five more men have been arrested on charges of theft or receiving in connection with the large scale thefts at near-by Petawawa military camp.

The five—due to appear in court here for hearing today—are all Pembroke men. They are in addition to seven persons, including an army officer and a staff sergeant, who last wee were committed for trial on various charges including theft and conspiracy.

Today's arrests apparently all involved removal from the big army camp of battleship linoleum, but details of the thefts were not immediately released by authorities.

Arrested today were Silas Earl Edwards, 47, carpenter employed by the Royal Canadian Engineers, charged with theft; Mervyn Browne, 41, farmer, charged with theft; Thomas H. Perkins, 54, machinist; Alfred Weisenberg, 54, carpenter, and Fred W. Schultz, 54, laborer, employed by the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps. The latter three are charged with receiving.

It is understood a sixth arrest, involving an army man, is expected in connection with the linoleum case.

Teachers Resign, Say Principal Not Reason

VITTORIA, Ont., May 27—(CP)—Two village public school teachers resigned Monday, climaxing over the retaining of principal William F. Orchard.

Jean Richards and Hilda Holding said they resigned because they had received a more favorable offer from the Waterford School Board and denied that the presence or absence of Mr. Orchard at the Vittoria School had anything to do with their decision.

Big Ore Fleet Haul

CLEVELAND, May 27—(AP)—The Great Lakes ore fleet made its biggest weekly haul of the season last week—3,081,368 gross tons. That boosted shipments this year to 16,497,539 tons, compared with 16,372,189 tons a year ago, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association reported yesterday.

Phony Bottle Note

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., May 27 (CP)—Provincial police here have decided you everything you read. They found a note in a bottle washed Point Louise on Lake Superior telling of two men "shipwrecked" on nearby Batchawana island. A search of the area revealed nothing.

Free Yourself from laxative slavery

Try this delightful family breakfast treat! Eat a generous bowlful (about ½ cup) of crisp toasty Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with sugar and cream. Drink plenty of liquids. ALL-BRAN is the natural laxative cereal that may help you back to youthful regularity, lost because of lack of bulk in your diet. It's the only type ready-to-eat cereal that supplies all the bulk you may need. High in protein and iron . . . not habit-forming. Why don't you try it? Kellogg's is so sure you'll like ALL-BRAN that if you're not completely satisfied after 10 days, send empty carton to Kellogg's, London, Ont., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

1st Peterborough Pack

Friday evening last found the Troop challenged by the Pack to a softball game in the park with the results going to the troop, 16-9. The cubs put up a game fight and in one innings put the older boys down 1-2-3 without them reaching first.

Saturday morning found several members on bicycles gathered at the top of Armour Hill from whence they cycled out on the old Norwood road. Armed with sticks, they gathered hundreds of caterpillar tents by means of pushing the stick into the tent and then twisting the tent around the stick. The tents were then transferred into containers and burned. In the afternoon the cubs built layers of dead falls and had a real time in spite of the rain.

2nd Peterborough

St. Luke's Second Armour Pack started off on another night of activity as Ron Worboy led in the opening Grand Howl. Then followed the game of "O'Grady Says". A special guest of the evening was Mr. Albert Ingham who added his assistance to the affairs on the program.

Many boys were successful in adding stars on the progress chart: Blair Greenly, for message; Bob MacDonald, fire lighting; Bill McNabb, signalling; Don Ebbs, ball throwing; Mike Raefewell, ball throwing and book balancing; Jack Watson, signalling; John Chambers, signs and salute, and highway code; Douglas Pammett, grand howl; Ray Baptie, birds and trees; Ron Humphries, union flag and highway code. At the red flower program the songs, "Come-a-hunting", "Trail Akela' and "Six Song" and Bob Simmons received his collector's badge.

The Troop

Ron King reports: 30 boys were in attendance at the last meeting at which the main theme was summer camp, with all boys planning to attend being ordered to report next week. The games "Kelly says", "first aid", and "earth, fire and water" added to the fun of the evening.

John Glennie passed knots and whipping; Darrell Greenly, bicycle and highway code; Ron King, bicycle; Neil Cox, camp gadget.

Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite Rover Scout Crew

Gred reporting: Well the den looks a little more presentable now. Last Monday evening the Crew got down to work and put a new roof on the burned-out part of the hut. The fellows worked like beavers from about 7:30 until 12:30 Tuesday morning. Only half of the roof of the den needed to be replaced. So, all the old roof paper had to come off, and the new section had to be tied in to the old sections of the roof. All this work was done under the supervision of "Pop" Harris, our assistant Rover leader.

We also tried to clean up the surroundings. We have been so busy with preparations for the past Sportsmen's Show, our weekend at Nassau, and our part in the 50th anniversary of All Saints Church, that we have had to let the den go. As a result, it still had not been cleaned up after the fire.

We also found that the stork had visited our den since our absence, and had left a fine family of birds in a nest in the elbow of our stove-pipe. So, I guess that we will have to get along without our weekly coffee for a while until the young birds can fly.

Our snack for this week was prepared by Ron Hatton, our "Mrs. Murphy" for the night.

During the short business session that took place during the snack the skipper briefed the Crew on our intended trip to Kingston on the weekend of June 7. More about this later.

7th Peterborough

Bill Waters reports: The regular meeting of St. Paul's Pack was held at Pack headquarters, where following the opening ceremonies the Pack journeyed to Fleming Place, and an exciting, game of ball was played against the Salvation Army Pack. It was a keen game with the score in our favor by 17-10. The Packs then reassembled and cheered each other. Some badges were presented to members of St. Paul's.

13th Peterborough

Games were the main items on the Pack program last week while marks of progress were chalked up in the presentation of the following badges: Team players to Bruce Cullen, Jim Cullen and Marcus Fowler. Second Stars to Don Munro and Arnold Allan. The highlight of the week's activities was the barbecue roast enjoyed on the residence of Mr. Bill Holland at which the Orange Six under Sixer Wayne Owen was duly awarded as the winners of the three-month competition.

Ask Management Day

WASHINGTON, May 27—(AP)—A bill that would set aside Dec. 8 each year as management day—when Americans "may turn their thought to the vast and constructive contribution of business and industrial leadership to our country's greatness,"—has been introduced in Congress by Rep. William Widnall (Rep. N.J.).

Carpenters End Strike

WINDSOR, Ont., May 27—(CP)—Some 700 Windsor carpenters returned to work Friday after a three-week-long undeclared strike. Some 300 painters and hoisting engineers are still idle. The carpenters accepted a 10-cent boost on an hourly basic of $1.90 on the condition that a further five cents be arbitrated.

Commutes Sentence

SINGAPORE, May 27—(Reuters)—Chien Ah Min, Chinese youth who was one day too old to escape the death sentence for illegal possession of firearms in Malaya, was saved Monday from the executioner by the Sultan of Perak. The Sultan commuted the death sentence to a 12-year jail term. Chien was 17 years and one day old when the death sentence was imposed and thus no longer was classed as a juvenile.

Budget Slashers Aid Communists Truman Charges

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP).—President Truman has accused budget-slashers in the House of Representatives of doing "their bit to help the Communist side."

The President declared in a speech Monday night that cuts in defence spending were "a foolish, reckless act" which may force a sharp reduction in United States armed forces in an hour of peril.

He expressed hope that the Senate will restore house cuts in both the defence and foreign-aid programs and that the peace effort "will not be wrecked for political purposes."

The President chose a dinner Monday night commemorating the completion of a colony in Israel named for him for a bitter assault on the House. It recently reduced his defence recommendations from around $51,000,000,000 to $46,000,000,000 and the mutual security program from $7,900,000,000 to $6,174,600,000 last Friday.

"Jeopardizes Defence"

Truman said the House cut in armed services funds "was a foolish, reckless act. It jeopardizes our defence buildup.

"It may require us—in this hour of peril—to demobilize a substantial part of our armed forces. Think of that."

The President added:

"The majority of the House picked the two places in the world where the danger is greatest (Europe and Asia), where the Communist threat is strongest, and they did their bit to help the Communist side."

He said the reductions in aid to Europe would mean that the Allies would not be able to raise and equip forces needed to defend the west against Soviet power.

The action, he said, undermines the work of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and the position of Gen. Matthew Ridgway, Eisenhower's successor as Allied defence chief in Europe.

Own Lookout System

PORTLAND, Ore., May 27—(AP)—Portland has established a forest-fire lookout system within the city boundaries. Officials said it was the first city in the U.S. to do this. The lookout points were set up to watch for fires in 3,000 acres of forest, owned by the city in northwest Portland.

Janitor Gives Diplomas

McCOMAS, W. Va., May 27—(AP)—John Stike, 66, grey-haired and extremely proud, issued diplomas to 48 McComas High School students last night. The graduating class had requested that Stike be picked for the honor because of "the many favors he has done for us." Stike is the school janitor who retired last year.

Woman Dies At 111

MONTREAL, May 27 (CP)—Mrs. Riva Mendels, whose relatives said she was 111 years of age, died Sunday night. Mrs. Mendels, who came to Canada from the Ukraine in 1910, took care of her own funeral arrangements and purchased a plot of ground next to her son's grave in Cartierville, Que., when he died in 1922. She made weekly trips to the cemetery to place flowers on both graves.

English Family Visit Relatives In Omemee

OMEMEE, May 27 (ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. George Thornton of Manchester, England, and their small daughter, Linda of 17 months, arrived in Omemee Saturday where they are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Larry McQuade. Leaving Liverpool May 15 on board the S.S. Ascania they arrived in Montreal May 22.

Mr. Thornton, a cousin of Mrs. McQuade, is a draughtsman, having served his aprenticeship with a large British chemical corporation, Metropolitan Vickers.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton have come to make their home in Canada and their first impressions of Canada and Canadians are favourable.

21 Boy, Girl Students At Collegiate Awarded School Letters For Athletics

Twenty-one P.C.V.S. boys and girls were awarded school letters Monday afternoon for their feats in basketball, football, track and field, and athletic management. The cloth letters, garnet and grey after the school colors, are the highest athletic award for the school.

The athletic letters are awarded for sportsmanship, leadership and character. There is only one other higher school award, the gold letter, which will be presented on Friday.

On Champion Teams

These boys received the awards for their work in basketball, track and field, and football. Most of them have been members of championship teams or have played a number of years in school sports. A number of other boys in the school received the award last year.

Girls' Athletic Association letters went to Barbara Clarke, Lorraine Derry, Shirley Frost, Margaret Martyn, Phyllis Peryer, Ruth Steinkrauss, Betty Thomson and Betty Anne Wilkinson.

The girls' work was more varied. Besides playing for school basketball teams; they took part in inter-form volleyball and other sports, acted as referees, time and score keepers, and were active in various phases of the G.A.A.

Fred Brant Leaves Civic For Hospital In Langstaff

Accompanied by two Salvation Army officers, Fred Brant left Civic Hospital today for the Ontario Hospital at Langstaff. Now fully recovered from the effects of frost-bite which resulted in the front part of both his feet having to be amputated, Brant's admission was arranged by Col. Wallace Button and Major Harry Everitt of the Salvation Army.

Major Everitt has taken an active interest in Brant's welfare since he was taken from a county jail cell.

4 Months In Hospital

It is now nearly four months since Brant was taken from a county jail cell where he was serving five days for vagarancy and admitted to hospital with his feet so badly frozen that the front part of both had to be amputated.

Realizing that Brant would probably require institutional care after he was recovered, Major Everitt has been trying to find a suitable place for the youth when he could leave hospital.

If accommodation could have been found for Brant he could have been released several weeks ago but Major Everitt and Col. Wallace Button who has been assisting him have had considerable difficulty finding a suitable provincial institution for him.

Special Padding

Although Brant is fully recovered from the effects of frostbite, he will always require special padding in his shoes. Major Everitt is administering the money contributed by Examiner readers to the Fred Brant Fund.

This money, amounting to $302.50 will be used By Major Everitt to buy Brant properly fitted shoes and other comforts he may require from time to time.

Only one more thing remains to close the Brant episode which began early in January when he was first arrested and jailed for ten days on a vagarancy charge. That is the publication of the findings of Judge F. J. MacRae of Whitby who conducted the Brant Inquiry on April 17.

Council ordered the investigation into the circumstances of Brant's arrest and imprisonment and his background at the request of the Police Commission.

It has been more than a month now since Judge MaRae heard the evidence but he has apparently not yet completed his report.

Mayor Hugh Waddell said a week ago that it was expected shortly.

Opera at Gardens Overwhelms Large Audience

One hesitates to call the Metropolitan Opera production in the Toronto Maple Leaf Gardens Monday night the greastest musical spectacle ever to appear on earth. But the conjunction of the Met's new production of "Aida", including some of the greatest dramatic voices in the world today; the great orchestra; the huge auditorium dwarfed (to those familiar with the Gardens) by a tremendous stage (whose superstructure was made in Peterborough); and the largest audience ever to see and hear an opera; these made the evening a spectacular event.

The stage is seven storeys high. Projecting a third of the way out into the Gardens and rising right to the highest rafters, the huge box stage is draped on two sides and from the top of the opening up to the ceiling with a handsome red fabric.

Made In Peterborough

All this is supported by four laminated wood columns 80 feet high and two 90 feet high. These were made by Timber Structures Limited in Peterborough, and transported to Toronto ten days ago along the highways with considerable difficulty, particularly when the cavalcade of pillars reached Toronto streets.

These hidden columns support trusses 97 feet long and the framework from which to suspend the flies and hang the motor-raised stage curtains. This superstructure was also made of glued laminated wood in Peterborough.

A large conventional orchestra pit has been constructed in front of the great stage. Special stage and house lighting has been created for the four-day opera schedule being sponsored by the Toronto Rotary Club. However great the cost, the big rink actually did take on the appearance of a huge operatic arena.

Huge Audience

Despite the amount of space taken by the stage (seats beside and behind it were of course lost), the first-night audience must have been about 11,000 people. Extra seating space was got by using what is ordinarily the rink surface. There was not an empty seat in the arena. It was the largest audience the Met. or any other opera company has ever had; and this vast audience must itself have thrilled the producers and performers.

Because of the size of the place and audience, some of the dramatic intensity of Verdi's opera was lost. But the new production (new to the Met this season) by Rudolph Bing, and scale of it, the place and audience, made it an impressive, exciting spectacle.

Famous Singers

Aida was sung by Zinka Milanov; Radames her warrior lover by the great new tenor Mario del Monaco; Ramfis the chief priest by the bass Jerome Hines, and Amonasro, the Ethiopian King and Aida's father by Robert Merrill. Amneris, the daughter of the Egyptian king was sung by Blanche Thebom. These are some of the greatest names in the operatic world today. The negress Janet Collins was the ballerina of the corps de ballet.

The production was by Margaret Webster and the decor and costumes by Rolf Gerard; the same production, costumes and decor used in the New York performances early in the season. Great ovations were given each act and the chief singers.—T.J.A.

PETERBOROUGH will go under the microscope for three weeks when these four junior officers of the civil service of Pakistan under provisions of the Colombo Plan visit the city to study its administration. They are expected here Monday. Left to right they are: Saeed Ahmad, Mohammed Qasim Rizavi, Iftikar Ahmed Khan and Rafiq Inayat.—(National Film Board Photo)

4 Pakistan Civil Servants To Study Workings Of City

Four members of the group of junior civil servants from Pakistan who are now on an educational visit to Canada for several months will be in Peterborough three weeks, June 2-21. They have been sent to this country under the provisions of the Colombo Plan for the economic development of south and southeastern Asia. Municipal administration is one phase of their survey and study. Others of the young Pakistani have been assigned elsewhere in southern Ontario, including the Belleville area.

The names of the four who arrive here June 2 are: Saeed Ahmad of Lahore; Mohammed Qasim Rizavi of Jhang Maghiana in Punjab province; Ittikar Ahmed Khan of Bengal, and Rafiq Inayat of Gujral also of the Punjab.

Mayor Hugh Waddell was commissioned Monday to undertake arrangements for the stay of these representatives of an important member of the Commonwealth during their stay here.

In the background of this plan is the intention of affording the visitors an understanding of Canadian democracy in everyday life and community functioning. While they are here they will pay board at private homes. Mayor Waddell said that already some citizens have expressed their readiness to offer their home hospitality to the strangers from Asia.

May Visit Rotary

If they are here on time next Monday they will be guests of the Rotary Club for lunch. There will be a reception by the council and the four civil servants are assigned to City Clerk Outram for his account and exposition of Peterborough's municipal administration.

Wednesday they go to the assessment department and its commissioner Mr. J. E. Davis; Thursday Welfare and A. G. Metheral and the Kiwanis Club luncheon. For the rest of the week they are going to the Trade Fair in Toronto.

Monday again, Rotary, and assignment to Keith S. Wightman, Superintendent of Schools, Tuesday with Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative; Wednesday to the county offices, clerk and treasurer, Mrs. Jennie Spurway, and to the office of Sheriff John Harstone.

Next day they are with the Police Magistrate W. R. Philp and the police department and Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw.

Civic Hospital

Friday, June 13 they are around with City Engineer Chalmers; and on Saturday they go to Civic Hospital and John Hornal, superintendent.

The final stages of the itinerary are, June 16—Rotary, fire department and city engineer.

June 17—Utilities Commission; June 18—parks and sanitation departments, Thursday provides a review of impressions, with City Clerk, City Engineer, M.O.H. and other department heads; Kiwanis Luncheon.

June 20—Visit to several manufacturing plants.

June 21—Assigned to William Graff at public library.

It has also been suggested that the group will be guests of other clubs, including Lions and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Students See Film Of Cadets

Monday afternoon and again today students at P.C.V.S. are seeing a sound-synchronized film of their last cadet inspection, May 15.

It is believed to be the first time that a film has been made in Peterborough with the sound effects dubbed in. Filming, editing and general production were by Bob Crone of 631 Stewart St. The commentary is by John Barns.

The film is black and white, and lasts five minutes. It proved popular Monday afternoon at the senior assembly and is being shown again today at the assembly for the junior school.

Inspecting officers were Lt.-Col. James Turnbull and Lt. H. E. Done, assistant cadet training officer, Eastern Ontario.

Cameron St. Residents Ask Pool Be Drained

Frank Millard and George Sage of Cameron St. told the board of works last night about the long pond on their street these days, and asked for some filling and grading.

"All Mr. Chalmers told us was that he wasn't going to waste any gravel down there, and that he couldn't make water run up hill," Mr. Millard said.

He suggested that it should be a fairly simple job to run the water off toward the Erskine St. drain. At any rate the residents have been waiting two years to get some improvement.

Mr. Millard handed a petition to Ald. J. E. Gilespie saying that everyone on the street had signed it. After the recent rain the roadside pool was eight inches deep.

Gardener Finds 1837 Copper Coin

A garden rake has turned up an even older coin than the French coin minted in 1856 found recently on Burnham Point. Arnold Savidant, 164 Dublin St., was helping his brother-in-law, Thomas Buck plant his garden, when he raked up a large copper penny dated 1837. On one side is a French inscription, Province of Lower Canada "Deux Sous," and an engraving of what appears to be an Indian brave. The reverse side is in English stating the coin is a one penny bank token and carries a crest with a latin inscription.

Bancroft Soldier Returning From Korea

TORONTO, May 27 (CP) —A group of Canadian soliders back from Korea on rotation leave is expected to arrive at Union Station here at 7:40 a.m. E.D.T. tomorrow.

Ontario men include Pte. T. H. L. Brandford, Georgetown; Pte. R. O. Paquette, Sudbury; Pte. E. Maratto, Guelph; Pte. J. Carnegie, Pickering, and Pte. J. T. Smelt, Bancroft.

STORY OF GUT DAM

A. L. Killaly, former superintendent of the Trent Canal, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Peterborough branch, Engineering Institute of Canada, at the Public Library Thursday, May 28. His subject is of special interest at present in regard to water levels of the Great Lakes. It is entitled: The story of the Gut Dam, covering reasons for its construction, causes of the high water levels in Lake Ontario and the other lakes, aspects of control and what could be done. The public is invited to this meeting and to the timely discussion of a matter of increasing importance.

Council Votes Confidence In J. E. Pierce

A vote of confidence in J. E. Pierce, superintendent of the city's sanitation department, was unanimously adopted by the board of works Monday night.

This affirmation was moved by Ald. H. N. Young and seconded by Ald. T. D. Miller. The other members of the board present were: Mayor H. F. Waddell, Ald. H. T. Rehill, Ald. H. S. Longhurst, Ald. A. B. Burrows, Ald. S. J. Black, Ald. J. A. Dewart, and Ald. J. E. Gillespie, chairman.

The expression of the board closed the hearing of a lengthy statement by Mr. Pierce in reply to strictures of the supervision of the sanitation department by Norman G. Graham who recently resigned from the council.

Mr. Graham was chairman of the sanitation committee, a subcommittee of the board of works in charge of the collection and disposal of garbage. He was present at his own request Monday night, and was given an opportunity of replying to Mr. Pierce's presentment and defence.

At the meeting of the council last week, Mr. Pierce had applied by letter for a hearing. In the meantime, Mr. Graham suggested that he should be permitted to attend because Mr. Pierce intended to discuss the criticism of the sanitation department as recently published in the press from an interview with Mr. Graham.

Ald. Young and Ald. Burrows proposed last night that Mr. Graham be invited into the board of works meeting.

Could Be Heard

"He could have been heard in a meeting at an earlier date than this," said Ald. Miller, presumably implying that Mr. Graham could have submitted his criticisms as a member of the council.

Ald. Miller recalled that Mr. Graham had also made certain aspersions about departments and officials other than sanitation. "One was about the City Clerk and another about two or three members of the council who, Mr. Graham said, were trying to undermine the Mayor."

City Clerk Outram denied that he had said Cyril Agnew of the assessment department could save the city $150 on a flooring job. Two minor jobs were being done by the city, Mr. Outram said. "On one that was left to Mr. Agnew in the report that was read I said he could do the job. No one else was asked."

"The welfare committee was also mentioned lightly," said Ald. Rehill. "I feel that these two men (Pierce and Graham) are on common ground, and the hearing should be confined to that."

Ald. Gillespie questioned Mr. Graham's reference to the salute, Mr. Flash. "I was only joking when I said that. When Ald.

Long Bloomers

A tulip, owned by Alf Pink, 612 Water St., must have read the old tale, Jack and the Beanstalk. A week ago the tulip attracted attention when it measured 37 inches high. It's still going up. Today it measured 42 inches from the ground to the tip of the blossom. It's rivalled by another tulip which is 40 inches high.

Boys Convicted Of Attempting To Rob Man

COBOURG, May 27 —(ENS)— Clifford Bilcox, 16, of Castleton pleaded guilty Monday to assaulting Reuben Ament, age 56 of Haldimand township, with intent to rob. He was remanded a week for sentence. A 15-year-old juvenile of the same community was sentenced to an indefinite term in the training school for boys.

Rueben Ament, who lives alone on a five acre farm at Shelter Valley, testified that the two boys were well-known to him and on occasion visited his house. On May 20 they dropped in shortly after eleven in the morning and stayed about an hour. The juvenile was standing behind Ament who was sitting with his back to him at a table, talking to Bilcox.

"He (the juvenile) hit me on the head two or three times with the draw-bolt from a wagon but I stayed on my feet and ran outside. Bilcox didn't hit me and in fact offered to go to get a doctor while I was outside bleeding from a gash on the head. A man by the name of Gillespie came along and drove me in to Cobourg to see a doctor.

Provincial Constable Lyle Erskine told of making an investigation and arresting the accused.

The younger boy's mother who was married the second time, said that her son had a good reputation in the community and was industrious. Crown Attorney Harry Deyman said that the most appropriate place for the juvenile was in the training school.

Job Available

The mother of the other accused told the court that her son suffered from a heart condition and could not do heavy farm work. However there was a light job ready for him if he received suspended sentence, she said.

Lieut. D. W. Rea of the Salvation Army suggested that something should be done to keep the two boys away from each other.

"I am going to send you to the boys' training school at Bowmanville," the magistrate told the juvenile, "and I hope you go in there with a contrite feeling and if you behave yourself and try to get along your stay there need not be long."

6,516 To Go At Holiday Peak Period

Most Workers Get Time Off At End of July

Approximately 6,516 industrial employees in Peterborough will be on vacation July 26 to August 2—the peak vacation week of the summer.

These figures are included in a Peterborough industrial vacation survey released by the Chamber of Commerce today.

The second highest week will be July 19 to 26 when 6,420 industrial employees will be on vacation.

The first industry to close down for vacation will be the Western Clock Co., July 12 to 26.

The following industries will close down, July 19 to August 2: G.E., Canadian Raybestos, Peterborough Lock, Dominion Woollens and Worsteds, DeLaval, A. Wander Ltd.

Take Week

The Canadian Nashua Paper Co., and the Peterborough Lumber Co. will be taking the week July 26 to August 2.

Brinton - Peterborough Carpet Co. and H. B. McGinness Co. will be closed down July 26 to August 9 and Outboard Marine Co. and Peterborough Canoe Co., August 2 to 16.

More than 20 local industries involving 2,051 employees will be staggering their vacation periods over the entire summer. The major industries in this group are Quaker Oats, Canada Packers, Timber Structures, Bell Telephone, Peterborough Utilities, Silverwoods, Wonder Bakeries, the Peterborough Examiner, Canadian Sealright Co., Colonial Weaving Co., Charles V. Wood Co. and Cord and Paper Works, have not decided definitely on their vacation plans.

UNION INVITED

Independent Civic Employees Union, seeking negotiations with the council in respect to wages, are being asked to send a delegation to the next meeting of the committee of the whole. Impression of the council still insists that in a preliminary stage a similar representation had intimated that they were satisfied with the wage scale. Presumably they did not represent the majority sentiment of the Union.

Urge Tax On Oil Eliminated In Bank Review

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The corollary to the concept of Canadian oil as desirable and necessary for United States defence, is the elimination of the U.S. import tax of 21 cents a barrel, says the current monthly review of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

The review says that this tax, though not prohibitive, is certainly a hindrance to southward movement, but adds:

"How successful the proponents of this view will be in overcoming the opposition to imported crude that exists in the United States, remains to be seen."

The review refers to a recent report of the U.S. Petroleum Administration for Defence which "recommended the building of the necessary refining compacity in the Northwestern States and the serving of the area with Alberta crude to relieve the anticipated tight supply of oil in the Pacific Coast states, to make the supply of oil in the Northwest more secure in case of war, and to encourage the rapid development of oil reserves in Western Canada, thus enlarging Western hemisphere supplies."

Markets Are Problem

Markets rather than supply are likely to be the major problem for Western Canadian oil, says the review. It says the pipeline now being built across the Rocky Mountains to Vancouver "is clearly aimed at the larger market" of the Pacific Northwest States, as well as at British Columbia. However:

"Even if the major part of the market in the Pacific Northwest States should eventually be obtained it would, in all likelihood, provide only a partial solution. If Canada attains the stature as an oil producer indicated by present progress, th problems of markets will be a continuing one."

The review also sees high U.S. tariffs on petrochemicals, and high transportation costs to Eastern Canada "as serious hindrances to the development of a large petrochemical industry in Alberta." However:

"Higher-priced chemicals like the new synthetic fibres and plastics are in a different position, since the reduction in manufacturing costs resulting from a cheap and sure supply and raw materials may considerably outweigh the freight disadvantage.

"Prospects would, of course, be improved by a reduction in the high U.S. tariff rates of petrochemicals. The growth of the fertilizer industry in western Canada has certainly been aided by the availability of adjacent markets in the U.S., which they enter duty-free."

Oil Reserves Rocket

The review's comments are made in a study entitled "the widening influence of prairie oil and gas." It notes that in five years proved oil reserves have increased from less than 50,000,000 barrels to around 1,500,000,000; and that only 2,100 wells have been drilled, equal to one well for each 195,000 acres of possible oil territory. It adds:

'No one can predict with certainty, of course, how rapidly new discoveries will be made, nor how large reserves will eventually prove to be, but events of recent months indicate no slowing down in the pace of development."

It notes that if the oil in Alberta's Athabasca tar sands becomes commercially available, it would at least double the world's proved reserves. Even without the tar sands, it thinks, "prospect of an over-all world shortage of oil appears remote.

"Proved reserves manage pretty well to keep pace with rising consumption even in a country with as high a ratio of production to reserves as the United States, and there is no question that estimates of proved reserves greatly under estimate the available amount of oil in the ground."

Probe For Arson In Ottawa Fire

OTTAWA, May 27 — (CP) — Police said Monday night they are investigating the possibility of arson in a fire which gutted the 18-room LaSalle Hotel in Ottawa's lower town, near the centre of the city.

Four firemen were injured, none seriously, and at least 20 overcome by smoke in fighting the blaze, which caused an estimated $90,000 damage.

Police said they are seeking a man about 30 years of age in connection with the fire, which broke out about 20 minutes after a small fire began in a washroom of the Victoria House Hotel, three blocks away. Firemen said the first fire was deliberately set.

Only two persons were registered in the LaSalle Hotel, and both were absent when the fire started. All others in the building escaped.

Hotel manager Gerard Lepine said he thought the fire began in the third floor of an annex, where all rooms were vacant.

Church Bans Book

VATICAN CITY, May 27—(AP)—The Roman Catholic Church Monday forbade all Catholics to read the works of best-selling novelist Alberto Moravia. His "Woman of Rome" and several other novels are popular abroad.

Born In City, Monsignor Celebrates Golden Jubilee

The Rt. Rev. T. J. Crowley D.P., V.F., pastor of Precious Blood Church in Sault Ste. Marie, will celebrate his Golden Jubilee as a priest on June 10.

Monsignor Crowley was born and raised in Peterborough and lived here until he began his studies for the priesthood.

Monsignor Crowley has one sister, Mrs. William Lynch, 494 McDonnel St., living in Peterborough and another Mrs. M. J. Shea in Sudbury.

The Jubilarian will be the solemn mass of thanksgiving at 10 a.m. assisted by the Rev. M. B. Flannery of Thessalon Ont., as deacon and the Rev. H. R. Brennan of Sudbury as subdeacon. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. E. J. Weaver of Niagara-on-the Lake.

Many Visitors

His Excellency, the Most Rev. R. H. Dignan, D.D., Bishop of Sault Ste. Marie, will be present for the occasion. It is expected that a large number of clergy from various sections of Ontario and the United States will attend the event.

Monsignor Crowley was ordained December 21, 1902 by Bishop R. A. O'Connor and he was sent to North Bay in February 1903, which was then in the Peterborough diocese. In 1904, the diocese of Sault Ste. Marie was formed, with North Bay as the home of the bishop. Msgr. Crowley was in North Bay for Bishop Scollard's consecration and later in the year was sent by him to the mission fields of Sturgeon Falls and Cache Bay. He built the church at Cache Bay, and both missions are not flourishing parishes.

The year 1906 was a most eventful one for the young priest, and it was during this year he was sent to his first parish, which was at Warren. He had charge of Markstay mission as well. He remained at Warren for six years, and in 1912 was transferred to Copper Cliff mission and Creighton Mines. The present Creighton Mines church was built during Msgr. Crowley's pastorate. In 1917 he was moved from Copper Cliff to Sudbury, where he organized Christ the King parish.

In 1920 he went to the Sault to take charge of the Precious Blood Parish. The late Holy Father, Pope Pius XI named him a Domestic Prelate on Nov. 25, 1932.

U.K. Church Calls For Tighter Laws On Divorce

LONDON, May 27 (AP) — The Church of England Monday called for a tightening of British divorce laws "to deal effectively with the widespread distress and marriage breakdown that faces the country."

The British Government was asked to encourage legal separation and annulment in place of divorce to give quarrelling couples a chance to change their minds. The church suggested courts be allowed to grant separations instead of requested divorces at their own discretion.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, placed these church views before the government's Royal Commission on Marriage and Divorce, which is reviewing British codes and practice for possible revision.

The archbishop said: "Divorce is actually breeding divorce today by destroying the idea of lifelong obligation. Separation does at least secure that illicit unions cannot borrow the title of marriage, or the status of legitimacy."

The acrhbishop recommended, however, that willful refusal to consummate a marriage be considered grounds for separation or divorce but not for annulment.

The church favors a minimum marriage age of 17 instead of 16.

Four Members Join Institute At Selwyn

SELWYN, May 27 (ENS) — Four new members joined the Selwyn Women's Institute at the May meeting, and Mrs. Willis McIlmoyle and Mrs. Sherman Sweeting were named auditors for 1952.

Topic of the meeting was health and the guest speaker was Mrs. Wallace Hendren of Lakefield. Convener Mrs. Wilfrid Nicholls was assisted by Mrs. Ervin Tully. Mrs. Will Elliott gave a short talk on starting a Tweedsmuir history book.

Ammonia Gun Fails

LOS ANGELES, May 27—(AP)—A two-gun bandit squirted ammonia into the eyes of a messenger yesterday but failed to get away with a bag containing $1,191. James Allen, the messenger, held on to his money bag and wouldn't let go when the bandit shot the painful solution from one of two guns. Finally, police reported, the ammonia squirter gave up, fled to a waiting car and was driven off by a confederate.

Bus Patronage Down

ROCHESTER, N.Y., May 27 — (AP)—Since the bus dispute ended here last Friday after 23 days, bus and trolley patronage has fallen off 25 to 33 per cent, the Rochester Transit Corporation reports. Several rush-hour trips have been cancelled because of lack of business, company officials said.

Timmins Urges Low-Cost Houses

TIMMINS, May 27—(CP)—City council Monday night asked the Federal government to establish a Crown Corporation to assist lower income groups in buying houses.

Finance Chairman J. V. Bonhomme, who introduced the proposal, said four-room houses without central heating and built on cement posts could be built for $8,000. Under his proposal, the buyer would pay 10 per cent down and pay off the balance over 26 years, that is $800 down and $35 a month. The Crown corporation would loan the principal.

Council also asked the government to lower present building requirements to permit loans on semi-finished houses which are built by the owner at his own expense.

Mayor J. W. Spooner said he will seek support for the proposal at the Ontario Association of Mayors and Reeves' meeting at Ottawa.

BAHREIN ISLAND, about 10 miles wide and 27 miles long, is the largest of a group of low-lying islands in the Persian Gulf known as the Bahreins. It is located at the very hub of the giant wheel that is the oil-rich Middle East. Its history goes back to Sinbad the Sailor and Marco Polo the traveler, both of whom paid visits to the then-quiet little island. Before oil was discovered under Bahrein in 1932, the island's chief industry was pearl fishing. In six years, American capital and engineers built tiny Bahrein into the world's fourteenth biggest producer of oil. (In 1950, Bahrein produced 12,000,000 barrels of oil.) Besides output of its own wells, Bahrein refines and ships oil that comes by pipeline from nearby Saudi Arabia. Regarded as an independent state under the 170-year-old rule of the Sheikhs Al Khalifah, the Bahrein Islands have been under British protection since 1875. Iran has long claimed ownership of Bahrein, a claim which the British have consistently refused to honor—thus adding to the bitter oil dispute between those two nations.

Royal Children Visit Queen Mary On Birthday

LONDON, May 27 (Reuters). — The Royal Family Monday honored its oldest member Queen Mary, celebrating her 85th birthday.

Leading the stream of well-wishers to see the former Queen was a future King, Prince Charles 3, and his sister Princess Anne.

The well scrubbed pair, both clutching posies, spent 15 minutes with Queen Mary.

Thousands of Londoners thronged round the gates of Marlborough House, her London home, to catch a glimpse of her. They were not disappointed. Just as the Horse Guards trooped down the Mall outside her window, the Queen stepped on to her balcony and raised a hand in acknowledgment of their cheers and good wishes.

There were official celebrations —a 62-gun salute from the Tower of London, a 41-gun salute in Hyde Park. From royalty, nobility and commoners all over the world came telegrams and letters of congratulation.

Least impressed by all the fuss was the Queen herself. Aside from the extra work entailed by the numerous visitors and the extra letters to answer, she did not allow the day to interfere greatly with her rigid daily routine.

After lunch came the rest of her immediate family. The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh were there, as were Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret, the Duke of Gloucester and his Duchess.

The Duke of Windsor wired his congratulations from aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth. He was scheduled to reach Southampton on Monday night and will spend two days with his mother in London before going on to France to rejoin his wife for a vacation.

Queen Mary at 85 is the oldest queen England ever has had; older, too, than any English king. She still is a vigorous member of the family, attending conscientiously to all the affairs and functions she considers part of her responsibility as a Queen of England.

Eastern Germany Strengthens Border To West

BERLIN, May 27 (Reuters). — The East German Government announced Monday it was "strengthening" immediately its forces facing West Germany.

The cabinet, at a special session, issued a decree directing Wilhelm Zaisser, chief of the Red secret police, to set up special controls all along the border between East and West Germany.

There was no mention of Berlin, which is under four-power control.

There was no immediate disclosure of what the East Germans meant by "strengthening" their border forces. The Western Allies have long held that the East German Communists have a full-fledged military establishment under the guise of police units.

The announcement by the Communist Government came on the heels of demonstrations by organized mobs of Red youth along the edge of West Berlin Monday. The youths howled slogans against the peace contract signed at Bonn on Monday by West Germany and the Western Big Three.

It appeared to be a dress rehearsal for things to come—the shaking of a fist by the East German Communists, who have threatened to take drastic measures, including another blockade of Berlin, in protest against the Bonn pact.

About 1,000 stormed into Tempelhof in the U.S. sector, passing out leaflets against "the war pact". They were shoved back after three were arrested.

Plainville News

The play "Wild Ginger," presented by George Street Young People's of Peterborough, at the Coldsprings Township Hall, was very much enjoyed. The play was sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society of the Plainville United Church. During intermissions between acts pleasing duets were sung by Mrs. C. Timlin and Miss Lorraine Timlin of Coldsprings. Glen Cole also sang a solo.

Friday evening a dance was held at Coldsprings Hall when the newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Manley (nee Myrna Larke) were guests of honor. At midnight the bride and groom were called to the front and an address was read to them by Miss Marian McKinlay. Mr. Leighton Westington made the presentation of an electric mantel clock, designed as a ship. The groom made a suitable reply, and dancing was resumed.

Gives Comparison To Queens

The M.A. Club meeting at St. Paul's Monday evening was addressed by Mrs. J. Douglas Sharpe of the Salvation Army whose talk was titled "Queens and Their Sanctuary." She spoke of the three living queens of England and Queen Victoria and said "They have laid the foundation of Christian living in their homes, in which is their strength. Each woman is a queen in her own home." The mothers were also favored with piano duets by Marlene McParland and Gary Grierson who played Barn Dance, and Gavotte and also an encore. Mrs. Chester Grant expressed thanks to these guests. Mrs. H. Hewitt introduced the speaker. The meeting was conducted by president Mrs. Tom MacMillan who opened with an appropriate poem titled "May." Devotions and prayer were led by Mrs. J. Grierson. Mrs. Doug. Wilson read minutes and roll call was answered with each member giving a pair of boottees. Financial report of a successful rummage sale in April was heard and Mrs. Gordon Minty thanked the helpers. Mrs. Stewart Lockington took the collection. Plans were made for a picnic on June 23rd at Riverside Park and for a pot luck supper in September. Closing prayer was offered by Mrs. Sharpe and refreshments were then served by Mrs. Howard Perry and committee.

MISS THERESA HURLEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hurley, 586 Rogers St., who graduated today from St. Michael's Hospital School of Nursing, Toronto. The graduation exercises were held in Convocation Hall, University of Toronto.

Couple Marks Silver Wedding

COLDSPPRINGS, May 27 (ENS) —Some 45 relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beedham on Saturday evening in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Beedham received many beautiful gifts.

The evening was spent in playing cards and dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Beedham, nee Verna Willis, were married at the English Church, Cobourg, on May 24, 1927, by the Rev. Stannadge T. Boyle.

They have three daughters, Misses Vera and Dorothy, Beedham, Cobourg, and Miss Eleanor Beedham at home.

The dining room table was spread with a lace cloth, upon which was the decorated wedding cake, flanked with candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Beedham made suitable replies expressing their pleasure in being remembered so kindly.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert McMann, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Art Spears, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. George Beedham and Charlie, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. John Beedham, Phylis and Johnny, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Willis, Nancy and Margaret, Misses Eva, Elva and Jean Willis, Miss Flora Beedham, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Davey and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Skitch, Miss Madeline Rooney, Mr. and Mrs. Hazel, Mrs. McSporran and Margaret, Messrs. Dale Thompson, and John Hobart, all of Cobourg; Miss L. Parker, Roseneath; and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Davey, Baltimore.

Honor Memory Of Mrs. Weller

WARSAW, May 27 (ENS) —The W.A. of the United Church met in the Sunday school room with 18 ladies present. Mrs. Harold Ray first vice-president presided. A minute of silent prayer in memory of the late president, Mrs. George Weller, was followed by a poem "Give the Flowers to the Living" by Mrs. Digweed Mrs. Stuart Clysdale took charge of the devotion period. Mrs. Harold Payne gave a report of the W.A. convention which was held in Wesley Church on May 8. Mrs. Digweed was appointed to take Mrs. Weller's place on the committee for a play. Mrs. Thomas Russell was appointed to fill her place as a representative of the W.A. on the board of management.

Mrs. Sherwood Payne was appointed on the flower committee. Mrs. Harold Ray was appointed president with Mrs. Thomas Russel first vice-president and Mrs. Harold Payne second vice-president.

Forty dollars was donated to the parsonage board. Mrs. Dyson and Mrs. Harold Payne are to be responsible for flowers for the church for the month of June.

The meeting closed with a hymn and the benediction.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Gordon Sharpe, Mrs. C. Parcels and Mrs. H. Payne.

"Bare Necessity" Fashions Decree In Footwear

The word for women's shoes seen in the Canadian fashion parade this summer is — naked and colorful, literally "next to nothing" on the foot. Men too have snipped a leaf from woman's book taken to wearing summer footwear to go with summer suits — lighter weight types, laceless slip-ons, nylon mesh combinations, woven and ventilated vamps, platform wedge casuals for wear with linen or cotton slack suits and beach clothes, colored leather sandals for beach or pool or cottage.

For women the smart Canadian summer shoe is a "bare necessity." Chosen for the occasion, it is both airy and comfortable. Even the closed pump is more ornamental, more open, prettier.

Newest recipe for chic in wearing apparel being the pale coat over the black dress, the very open pump or naked sandal in velvety black suede or glistening black patent leather with matching bag, sparks the costume. On the other hand, the black shoe with this season's fashion-wise all-white ensemble provides a dramatic accent. A naked stripping sandal or low cut opera in bright red kid or calf also color spikes the all-white costume, the black linen or sheer cocktail or after-five dress, goes beautifully with prints in pale pink (yes, you can wear a dash of red with pale pink) yellow or black and white.

The airy open pump with its open vamp treatment and new throatline teams perfectly with this season's suits which, while still tailored, have low necklines, softer detailing; the newer, softer versions of the shirtwaist styles call for spectators in new open patterns, color and fabric combinations, unconventional treatments of tips and trim; the return of pure silk to the summer fashion picture suggest footwear in real linen, and shantung, both dyeable and in dark colors; the softer, dressier type separates in sportwear demand dressier, more colorful flats and casual footwear. Wedges, for instance, this summer go to informal dinner and cocktail parties.

300 Parents Out To PCVS Meeting

A meeting of the parents of grade eight pupils was held Monday night by the P.C.V.S. Home and School Association. A crowd of 300 was felt to be a splendid representation of the city parents and they were welcomed by new president Mrs. P. A. Martyn as they entered the auditorium. A choir of boys and girls under direction of Mr. M. J. Curtis entertained with a group of songs.

Past president and teacher Mr. J. H. Moebus explained the various extra-curricular activities as well as the courses available at the school. Dr. Eldon P. Ray, principal of the new Kenner Collegiate, gave the outline of classes there. It is expected to have six grade 9's, five academic, and three grade 10's, all academic. The same options and extra-curricular activities are planned.

Grade 13 students conducted the parents on a tour of the school which concluded in the gymnasium where the Association executive served tea. An attractive table was laid with spring flowers and pink tapers in crystal holders.

Social Evening By Norwood YPU

NORWOOD, May 27 (ENS) — The Norwood United Church Young People's Union held a social evening on Saturday at Miss Betty Baker's cottage on Trent river near Hastings. Twenty-six members attended. Mr. Walter Clarke was in charge of the worship program and spoke on missions.

Lunch was served by the girls followed by a recreation period.

Towns-O'Grady Douro Rites

St. Joseph's Church, Douro, was the scene of a pretty spring wedding Saturday morning when Mary Gertrude O'Grady, daughter of Mrs. Angela O'Grady, became the bride of John Joseph Towns son of Mr. John Towns, all of Douro.

The Rev. J. J. McCarthy said the nupital mass and performed the wedding ceremony. Mass was served by Vincent and Joseph O'Brien, cousins of the bride. Gardenias and snapdragons decorated the altar. Miss Catherine Zenhenko sang, "Daughter of a Mighty Father" and "O God of Loveliness" was sung by Mr. John Sheehan who also sang during the signing of the register. Traditional wedding music was played by the organist, Mrs. V. Kennedy

Given in marriage by her brother, Mrs. David O'Grady, the bride was gowned in white satin with bodice of Chantilly lace embroidered with seed pearls and finished with a Peter Pan collar, lace epaulettes and long sleeves coming to points over the fingers. Her finger-tip veil of illusion edged with French lace was held in place by a heart-shaped coronet decorated with pearls and rhinestones. Her bouquet was a cascade of American Beauty roses and stephanotis.

Miss Theresa Towns, the groom's sister, was bridesmaid and Miss Patricia O'Grady was her sister's maid of honor. They wore identically styled gowns of pale blue taffeta with sweet-heart neckline, fitted bodice and full skirts. Folded tiers of the same material were at the hips and off the shoulders in cape effect. They wore matching mittens and picture hats and carried arm bouquets of pink roses and maiden fern.

Groomsman was Mr. Joseph O'Grady, brother of the bride and ushers were Clare O'Grady and John V. Moher.

Wedding dinner was served in the Empress Kawartha Room and the reception was held afterwards at the bride's home in Douro. Mrs. O'Grady received her guests in a gown of navy crepe with white accessories and corsage of pink roses Also receiving was Mrs. Steve Winn, sister of the groom, in a gown of navy with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

For travelling the bride chose a navy crepe dress with top coat in terra cotta, natural straw hat and bag and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Towns will live on the groom's farm in Douro.

Inez O'Coin Weds Edmund Crawford At St. Peter's

At St. Peter's Cathedral on Saturday, the Rev. J. F. McGuire performed the marriage of Inez Rose, daughter of Mrs. O'Coin and the late Mr. Joseph O'Coin, to Edmund D. Crawford, son of Mrs. Crawford and the late Mr. Charles Crawford, all of Peterborough.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Louis O'Coin, the bride wore a gown of slipper satin designed with stand-up collar, long sleeves coming to points at the wrists and the skirt cut with scalloped edge at three quarter length and finished with nylon tulle border to floor length except in the back where the scalloped satin extended in a small train. Her circular veil of embroidered net fell to fingertip length from a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses and lily of the valley.

Maid of honor was her sister, Miss Helen O'Coin, frocked in green appliqued organdy made in the same design as the bride's gown, as both dresses were designed and made by their mother. A hat of organdy matched the frock and she carried a nosegay of yellow roses and pink carnations.

Groomsman was Mr. John Walsh and the ushers were Kenneth Coss and Wilfred Dowall.

Wedding music was played by the organist Mrs. R. G. Aman. Roses decorated the altar table for the occasion.

The reception was held in the Empress Hotel Kawartha room. The groom's mother assisted, dressed in navy with white accessories and wearing a pink rose corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford will live at 738 George St.

DOROTHY DIX

Married Life Begins In Own Home

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have been married a little over a year and are expecting a baby. I think we should have a home of our own, but my husband insists that we continue living with his family. We haven't been happy since we've been with them, as we have many differences of opinion. My husband is an only child and he enjoys being here, while I'm utterly miserable. Before we were married he promised me a home of our own.

POPPY

ANSWER: All young people should start out with a home of their own, no matter how humble. In many cases, of course, this is utterly impossible; in some others, a communal family life can be set up with satisfaction to all concerned, but these cases are extremely rare.

The best approach to a successful marriage is through a home set up and dedicated to a new family. Very often a husband can be blissfully happy living on with his parents, and remain completely blind to the miseries of his wife. Men do not like to change, and to continue under the parental roof, with the same attention and deference accorded him as a single son, is joy indeed. Woman, domestic creature that she is, has a natural yearning for her own home, and no matter how well she is treated in another woman's domicile, it can never suffice.

His Mother Should Understand

How can a blind man be shown the error of his ways? If his mother is a wise woman she will advise him to set up housekeeping on his own. Sometimes another discerning member of the family can size up the situation and make appropriate recommendations.

Your doctor might make the suggestion to your husband that your welfare, and that of the expected child, will be much better if you're established under a separate roof.

The longer a man revels in the confining hold of his mother's apron strings, the harder it is for him to break away. Many mothers, realizing and loving this dependency, make every effort to strengthen it by catering to the married son, and relegating his wife to such an inferior place in the household that any ministrations she can render her lord and master are completely lost in the shuffle of mom's all-enveloping attention.

The longer you and your husband remain in his parents' home, the harder it will be to break away. Even at the cost of some unpleasantness, do what you can to make him give you a home of your own. He'll be much happier himself once he has made the break.

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm 16 and have been going with a boy in service. When he left for camp, he asked me to write. I do write him every week, but have to wait two or three weeks for a letter from him. Recently he was home on a week-end pass, and wouldn't come to see me because no one would drive him over, though he could have taken the bus. Do you think he's losing interest in me?

A. D. G.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Off-hand, I would certainly say the boy doesn't seem much interested. You're too young to worry about his casual treatment; write him just as often as he writes you—no more—and don't keep your week-ends dateless waiting for him to arrive. If he really likes you, he'll make a little more effort to keep in touch; otherwise, let him go without regrets.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: One of my best friends is being married in September. Is it correct to give her an engagement present? She told me she received gifts from many of her girl friends. I have never heard of anyone giving engagement presents.

FLOSSIE D.

ANSWER: While the giving of engagement presents is not necessary, it is certainly a gracious gesture, especially to a girl who is a very good friend. It need not—in fact, should not—be an elaborate remembrance. A small gift for her hope chest is all that is required, but the thoughtfulness is bound to be appreciated.

TROPHY ENCORE—This beautiful display of trophy awards represents the hard work of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union executives and jewellers. Fire destroyed the clubhouse at Laval last fall, during which all but one of the original trophies were burned. These replicas were shown to C.L.G.U. members at a recent semi-annual meeting in Toronto. Mrs. Campbell McKenzie, Toronto (left) and Mrs. John Michaels, Edmonton (right), proudly display the new trophies. The Duchess of Connaught Gold Cup (in the lower middle) is an exact replica of the original Canadian Open championship award.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Mary Moore Strays From Path Lines To Regret It Soon

Dont get me wrong kids—it's hotel reservations I was without.

The C.P.R. agent had done a beautiful job of lining up my itinerary. Roomettes, hotel rooms with baths, lower berths and chairs,—all with split-second timing—but where little Mary made her first error was going off the schedule after Regina.

You see, everything was flowing so smoothly. In every hotel I walked into all along the C.P.R. line from Winnipeg west, clerks would smile, tell me my room number, hand me a fistful of mail from my faithful family and I'd trot off behind the red cap to my room like a visiting duchess.

I was too cocky.

I decided to skip Moose Jaw in favour of some other towns east of Calgary. At the first one as usual I stepped off the train, rushed for a taxi driver, showed him my bags, ducked into the cab, to arrive at the hotel desk in a dead heat with the ten male travellers who'd left the train the same minute I did and walked. They had reservations. But when the clerk looked at me as if I were some queer kind of duck I said meekly, "Could I have a room please?" "Madam, I'm sorry we haven't a thing" I wilted on the spot, but in my most polite and pleading voice asked, "Is there another hotel with any rooms left that you could suggest?" He went to the phone. "Yes"—the Corona would take me. (The Corona would take any-old-body.)

But that taxi driver, who was an Indian, had charged me eighty cents to drive me around the corner from the station, a distance of four small buildings. I was in a rather low mood, but asked the clerk wearily to call a cab.

At that he looked up at the bell-boy and said "Harold will whip those bags over to the Corona for you, Madam". And Harold, the darling, was as welcome as Pete would have been at the moment. He picked up everything—big bag, typewriter, brief case, even reached for my coat. As we stepped outside he asked if we'd go around by the sidewalk or take the lane which was a shortcut. With him carrying that heavy bag I was game for the lane. And, do you know, I even had to insist on him taking a tip! He didn't know how near he came to being called a "dear" out loud. I put a special blessing on him for all time.

The Corona was my Waterloo. I had a room without bath. The community bathroom was around the corner and down a long hall. I waited until 11.30 p.m. to take a bath. Completely covered from chin to toe I peered out of my door. Not a soul in sight. I covered the entire length of that long hall in 5 seconds flat (unofficial record) without a sound. I found the switch in the bathroom and started to lock the door. Started is right! You don't quickly lock a door in the Corona. It was a bolt which did not jibe with its mate. I pressed the door harder into the jamb and by sheer determination got it to catch by about 1-16 of an inch. I shook it to see if it would withstand pressure from without. It seemed firm.

I forgot about it and climbed into the nice, deep, warm water, sudsed my face and neck,—when it happened. Someone rattled the door. He rattled it hard, the lock gave. I capsized, submerged and gurgled "Someone's in here!" He retreated fast.

Came the dawn. I had to have breakfast. I had to walk through that lobby. Which man on the stools in the coffee shop was he? Every one of them looked up as I walked in. I couldn't take it. I took to cover behind the newspaper.

home again to travel in this man's world.

What's Right?

You meet another woman whose manner to you seems aloof and disinterested.

WRONG: Try to treat her even more cooly than she seems to be treating you.

RIGHT: Don't lose your own charm in trying to match another woman's apparent lack of it. Remember, her own seeming lack of interest may only mean that she is ill at ease.

6—In Memoriam

MONK—In loving memory of our grandson, who lost his life in a canoe accident on Lake Chicots, Quebec, May 27, 1950, while in training with the Canadian army.
We cannot think of him as dead,
Who walks with us no more.
Along the path of life we tread;
He has but gone before.
—Mr. and Mrs. Alex Monk, Bethany, Ont.

THOMAS—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather.
You're not forgotten, father, dear,
Nor ever shall you be,
As long as life and memory last,
We shall remember thee.
—Sadly missed by Ethel, Clarence, Frankie, Carol and Gloria.

THOMAS—In loving memory of Mr. George William Thomas, who passed away, 27th of May, 1950.
God called him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still,
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him,
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.
—Ever lovingly remembered by his wife.

Ban Royal Snaps On Souvenirs

OTTAWA, May 27. (CP)—The State Department Monday announced regulations supplementary to those previously issued in connection with the use of Royal emblems and photographs for souvenirs of the Queen's coronation next year.

The previous regulations follow those issued in London for souvenirs in the United Kingdom.

Today's amendments state that the Queen has decided that the use of photographs of members of the Royal Family, other than those of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, is not appropriate for coronation souvenirs.

The statement also said the manufacturers of confectionery may sell candies in special boxes bearing photographs of the Queen or the Duke, or both, during the months of April to August inclusive, of 1953.

R.C.A. Observes 'Gunner Day'

KINGSTON, May 27—(CP)—"Gunner Day," official birthday of the Royal Canadian Artillery, was celebrated across Canada Monday. Part of the observance took place in Kingston when an artillery commemorative tablet was unveiled at Fort Frontenac by Maj.-Gen. H. O. N. Brownfield of Brockville, colonel-commandant of the artillery.

The tablet commemorates occupancy of Fort Frontenac, formerly Tete de Pont Barracks by permanent force artillery units dating back to 1871. In unveiling it, Maj.-Gen. Brownfield said he was proud to see the barracks recognized in this way because thousands of soldiers had been housed and trained there.

The tablet commemorates the formation of "A" Battery, Garrison Artillery, the first unit of the permanent force in Canada, at Tete de Pont Barracks, in 1871. From that time until 1939, units of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery who served in northwest Canada in 1885; the Yukon 1898; the South African War 1899-1902, and the First and Second World Wars.

City Refuses To Use Trash Containers

C. Owen Borthwick, a young man of Jaycee years made a neat job of trying to persuade the board of works to permit his company to set up a lot of its Sani-Poster containers on the streets.

He has 1,000 of them coming into bloom in July between Windsor and Hull. They are an improvement on the Jaycees waste paper containers which have been serving a useful purpose at down town corners of Peterborough. Their square sides provide advertising space for national products.

In spite of Mr. Borthwick's interesting story, the board of works decided to stand pat until next spring. It was suggested that the experience of other cities might be observed in the meanwhile.

BECOMES CITIZEN—Frantisek Nemec, former Czechoslovakian minister to Canada who resigned when communism swept his country 4 years ago, will become a Canadian citizen this month. Nemec, his wife and four members of the legation staff all disavowed the communist government of Czechoslovakia and recently had hearings for Canadian citizenships. Official certificates will be issued to them May 29.

Government Inquiry In Potato Prices

DETROIT, May 27 (CP)—As the government began to investigate an alleged potato black market, Detroit produce jobbers resumed delivery of fruit and vegetables today after a one-day protest against high potato prices.

The jobbers blocked off the Detroit union produce terminal Monday by ringing it with delivery trucks parked bumper-to-bumper. They said that a wholesalers' black market was forcing them to pay inflated prices for potatoes.

Settlement was reached when officials of the Produce Buyers' Association undertook measures to ensure that potatoes were sold to the jobbers at office of price stabilization ceiling prices.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

MAY BE CANDIDATE

Major J. F. Peterson of St. Thomas may be chosen as Liberal candidate in Elgin for the next Federal elections. His name has been mentioned in a report that a convention of the party may be held in the near future. Major Peterson recently returned from Korea where he was second in command of the Royal Canadian Regiment's second battalion.

STRASSER FUNERAL

The funeral of Richard Strasser 11, of Lakefield, accidentally shot late Sunday afternoon while playing in a quarry, will be 2 p.m. on Wednesday at the Gospel Chapel, Lakefield. The body will be at the Comstock Funeral Home until Wednesday morning, and then will be taken to Lakefield for the service. Evangelist Simon Brownson will officiate. Burial will be in Ray's Cemetery.

GETTING BETTER

Condition of Allan Keys, 33, Hamilton Street, Ottawa, in hospital is good. Keys was the driver of the car in which an 18-year-old R.C.A.F. airman, Ronald MacDonald, was fatally injured Friday night. Two other persons injured in the two-car accident, Mrs. Mabel McLaren and Nicolo Dirico, both of Toronto, have been released from hospital.

START UNION PAPER

The UE-GE Joint Board are recommending that a single paper be published once a month instead of each local in the C.G.E. chain publishing its own. This will be discussed tonight at a special membership meeting called for 7.30 p.m. by Local 524, U.E. Other items on the agenda will be a discussion on job rate relationship, election of new delegates to the U.E. district council meeting, election of new delegates to the U.E.-G.E. Joint Conference Board, and a report on the health and welfare plans submitted to the company.

Ability Impaired By Alcohol Driver Fined $100

Following his warning of a week ago that drivers convicted of driving while impaired by alcohol could expect stiffer penalties, Magistrate W. R. Philp fined a Toronto man $100 and $41.25 costs today.

After the magistrate reduced a drunk driving charge against Arthur G. Dauber, 39, 284 Eglinton Ave., and found him guilty of the lesser charge, his counsel T. J. Carley protested that he had not had an opportunity to argue the point.

"It is a case of reducing the charge," the magistrate replied when Mr. Carley claimed there was no evidence that his client's driving had been impaired by alcohol.

Dauber was arrested by O.P.P. Constable Bert Howden on the afternoon of May 10, after his car had gone off the Clydesdale Road, six miles north of Apsley.

Arthur Thompson of Downsview, who arrived at the scene before Constable Howden suggested that Dauber was intoxicated and backed up his opinion by saying he appeared to be "dazed."

Paid No Attention

Constable Howden said that Dauber was racing the motor and the car's wheels were spinning when he walked back to the car after stopping his cruiser ahead of it. He said Dauber paid no attention to him when he stood beside the car for a moment surveying the situation and then he reached in and shut the motor off.

Constable Howden said Dauber staggered and was unsteady on his feet when he got out of the car and walked to the police cruiser.

A passenger in the car, Augustus Hill, also of Toronto was so drunk he had to be carried from the car, Constables Howden said.

Dauber said he had only had two pints of beer to drink and that it was Hill flopping over his shoulder that bothered his driving and caused him to go off the road, not the beer.

Hill said he did not remember being taken out of the car and into the cruiser. He said the next thing he remembered after getting into Dauber's car near Apsley was when he woke up in jail.

Back Picketing At Ford Plant

WINDSOR, May 27—(CP)—Officials of Local 240 of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) said today that a meeting of the local has approved the policy of picketing the Ford of Canada plant at which office workers have been on strike for a week.

They also said that, at the meeting, President Earl Watson of the U.A.W.'s Local 195 and president Jack Taylor of Local 200 pledged the support of both locals.

Most of the striking office workers are members of Local 240.

Local 240 pickets blocked plant gate entrances last Friday and 11,000 Ford production workers, members of Local 200, refused to cross the picket lines.

The office workers are asking an increase of $43.40 over their basic monthly pay of $191.56. The company has offered $26, partly retroactive to June 1, 1951, plus automatic increases of $5.20.

Calgary Major Directs Mortar Fire From Air

WITH CANADIAN 25th BRIGADE, Korea, May 27 (AP). — Maj. R. E. Cross of Calgary registered a first among Canadians fighting in Korea recently when he directed mortar fire against Communist positions from the air.

Mortar fire previously had been directed only from the ground, although artillery units frequently use light aircraft to observe and direct the fire.

Cross decided to take to the air when he received word from Capt. Bert Harper, also of Calgary that Harper's mortars could not reach a target because no one could observe the enemy positions from the ground.

From the air, Cross relayed directions for Harper. The unit reported afterward that the Communist bunkers were destroyed and 50 yards of connecting trenches were ripped up.

Bradley Would Raise Salary Of Chief Electoral Officer

OTTAWA, May 27—State Secretary Bradley made an undertaking on behalf of the government Monday night to set the salary of Canada's electoral officer at $12,000 a year.

He made the committment in the Commons after opposition members complaints about the wording of a measure which said the salary of the holder of that office should not be less than $8,000 or more than $12,000 a year, the amount to be fixed by the governor-in-council.

No Dumping

There is no dumping of foreign goods in Canada, Revenue Minister McCann said Monday night.

At least, he told the Commons, investigators of his department have not been able to find any instance where foreign goods are selling cheaper in Canada than their fair market value in their country of origin.

Higher Tariffs?

Finance Minister Abbott said Monday night there are indications "protectionist" sections in the United States are once more attempting to get increases in tariffs, but he doesn't think they will succeed.

He told the Commons that in recent speeches in the U.S. he had issued a "friendly warning against what I believed would be the unfortunate consequences if such a policy were followed.

"Further than that I do not think I should go at the moment."

Suspends Duty

Finance Minister Abbott said Monday night he has decided to recommend suspension for one year of a five-per-cent duty on glass imposed in the budget under the most-favored-nation tariff schedule.

He told the Commons he made the decision following representations that the duty might prove injurious to manufacturers of laminated glass. Materials for such glass must be imported.

Council Votes Confidence

Graham came into a committee meeting about the time the Flash articles were in the paper, I said "Good evening Mr. Flash," and I meant nothing more than that."

Deal With Sanitation

The committee decided in a motion by Mayor Waddell and Ald. Rehill to deal with the principal matter of the references to the sanitation department.

"I hope this reply will explain the set-up in our department," Mr. Pierce said in beginning, "and show how we try to operate."

He handed a copy of his statement to Mr. Graham. "Thanks," said the recent chairman of the sanitation committee.

In the preface to the main section of the Pierce report, Ald. Longhurst enquired why all purchases should not go through the purchasing committee.

City Clerk Outram said there was no direction yet on that point. Parks and sanitation departments did not use the services of the central purchasing officer.

Mr. Pierce: "If we have to buy larger things we try to get them through the purchasing agent, but if it is something we need in a hurry or a special job, we always buy it ourselves."

Ald. Longhurst: "I think all purchases should be made through the one channel."

Mr. Pierce said that on certain articles "we get a discount of 22 and 2 per cent, as good as you can anywhere in town. I have yet to find any agent who sells for less."

Ald. Gillespie: "That's the same price I buy them at."

Fired 30

One of Mr. Graham's published charges was to the effect that from last October to April, inclusive, Mr. Pierce had hired 31 employees and fired 30.

To that Mr. Pierce replied that from September 1, 1951, to May 15, 1952, there were 22 men hired. "Of this number, 10 are still working with the department, seven have left for employment in other cities, or in the services mostly; and five have been dismissed."

Mr. Pierce said the number of employees in 1948 was 33 or 34. That number was reduced to 26. At present, since some new men were taken on, the department had 30, "one more than we'll be carrying in a few weeks."

Ald. Rehill enquired about Mr. Pierce taking time off as stated by Mr. Graham.

"I did want to follow a certain case in court as I had been on the Grand Jury," Mr. Pierce said, "but I did not get away to attend. The weekend I went to Kingston, I explained my reason to my past chairman on Wednesday. He told me to take the full day off if I wished. I had permission to go on Thursday if I wanted to. I left Friday afternoon. I never left town without getting permission. I am on call for nights and weekends, and I don't feel that I am tied down to any particular hour. It very seldom happens."

Tried To Co-operate

As to Mr. Pierce lending his truck to the fire department, he explained that he tried to co-operate with the fire department, board of works and parks department.

Mr. Graham had declared that Mr. Pierce had said he could not do without the truck.

Ald. Burrows: "How long did the fire department have your truck?"

Mr. Pierce: "Eleven days."

Ald. Miller: "What does the fire department do for you? Is there an exchange of service?"

Mr. Pierce: "The fire department supplies us with rubber boots, fire hose, and things like that. I have always tried to co-operate, something that was not heard of up to five years ago. They asked us for the use of the truck, and that did not cost them anything in their estimates. I used my car for that period."

That was the last time he had his car washed. As to the incident of the finding of a floor polisher in a lane off Charlotte St. He explained that, as it turned out, the polisher was picked up by the driver of a salvage truck and not by a sanitation truck.

"They gather up paper, cardboard and other salvage," said Mr. Pierce. "They have nothing to do with the sanitation department. I didn't know the man's name until I heard it through the Examiner."

A detail of that incident was explained as follows: "Mrs. Cross phoned the office one morning, asking if I thought any of my men would have taken the polisher. I told her I didn't think they would, and advised her to phone the police."

Took It For Cord

"While talking to some of the boys about the polisher one of them mentioned a salvage collector who visits the lane. I phoned the party's employer, and asked him to check with his driver. The manager of the salvage firm phoned me back saying his driver "had taken it for the extension cord." So I suggested he had his driver repair it and return to Mrs. Cross. I phoned her that it would be returned as soon as it was repaired, which took about a week and a half. The Examiner phoned me one day at noon almost two months later, and not understanding the reason for a story about something so minor that had happened weeks earlier, I gave them no more information than was necessary. I did not know the name of the party until I phoned the salvage yard the evening I read the article in the Examiner."

(The story on the missing floor polisher appeared in The Examiner April 18, and at that time it was reported Mrs. Cross said she had been without her polisher for two weeks and had had it back for "about three weeks."

(When asked for the man's name, Mr. Pierce replied at that time he did not "want to involve the lad who took it." He said he found the machine in the man's backyard and told him he had better return it to the lady. Mr. Pierce denied Mrs. Cross' charge that he refused to give her the man's name. He said she never asked him who the man was.)

The Pierce recital passed on to the work of the foremen in "keeping on the run," looking after nick-ups that might be missed and so on.

Ald. Young: "What about complaints?"

Mr. Pierce: "We used to get 25 or 30 a day. They have been down as low as three or four. After the long weekends we might get a dozen."

Several of the aldermen said they had never had complaints to them about garbage collection. Others said they had had a few.

Mr. Graham submitted letters from Kingston and Oshawa indicating few dismissals of their sanitation employees.

"No man picks up for junk a polisher worth $350," said Mr. Graham.

As to the hiring of 31 men and firing 30, as Mr. Graham alleged, he said he got the figures from the records at the city hall.

Mr. Graham asked why one man was let out three months before his pension was due, "after working all those years picking up garbage."

Mr. Pierce replied that this man had been doing a lot of drinking and had side-swiped a truck. He could not have been long with the department because "the city didn't take over until 1944. It was by contract up to then; and he was let out 2½ years ago, before Mr. Graham was in the council."

Mr. Graham raised a question about a former alderman who, he said, got hay and oats delivered from the horse barn.

Mr. Pierce said that was while he was foreman, and the bill was paid and receipted. "That was a good four years ago. It was done just as a favour. We'd do the same for the humane society."

The name of another man was mentioned. He was transferred to the dump because of his drinking.

Said Mr. Pierce: "The foreman gave him a break. I'll have to answer for that."

Mr. Graham cited another employee who he said was dismissed in spite of a doctor's order.

"I always wanted to have a good crew," Mr. Pierce said. "That man was one reason why the department wasn't paving Thursdays and Fridays. Too often he wasn't coming in Fridays. He wasn't satisfactory."

"I'd like you to go down and get the opinion of the drivers about me," Mr. Pierce said.

Ald. Rehill: "Do you feel you are getting the co-operation of your steady men?"

Mr. Pierce: "I have men who have been eight years with me."

There were some other items mentioned in the discussion. One was about a tarpaulin which Mr. Graham mentioned.

Mr. Pierce said all the trucks were left at the barn except the one he used. He kept it in a building which Frank Jobbitt let him use. When the roof leaked, Mr. Pierce said, he took a tarpaulin and nailed it on the roof to stop the leaking of rain. He also said he took the truck because he was on call all the time. He recalled only one purchased from Mr. Jobbitt, hardware dealer, and the price was cheaper than up town.

"I don't think any of the charges amounts to a hill of beans," was the comment of Ald. Miller in seconding Ald. Young's motion of confidence in the superintendent.

He pointed to the fact the sanitation department was costing only $2.51 per capita in Peterborough this year as compared with several other cities where the per capita cost for the same service was around $4.50.

Ald. Miller said that if the sanitation department was not operating satisfactorily and maintaining a high standard of efficiency, the cost would be a lot higher than $2.51 per person of the city's population.

Toronto To Go Ahead With Jail Proposal

TORONTO, May 27 (CP) — Mayor Allan Lamport said today that Toronto will take immediate steps to provide adequate jail facilities, whether Hamilton co-operates or not.

"If our plan for a combined Hamilton-Toronto jail doesn't materialize, we'll have to find something else," he said at a conference with Hamilton representatives.

Monday night Mayor Lloyd Jackson and Controller Les Parker of Hamilton said they "will have to be shown" that a joint jail would be to Hamilton's benefit. They contended that Hamilton jail accommodation at present is adequate.

Name Six Livvies On Squad For '52 Olympics

MONTREAL, May 27 (CP). — An 11-man squad, six of them from the Canadian champion Tillsonburg Livingstons, was announced today as Canada's basketball representatives at the Olympic games.

Two were named from the University of Western Ontario and one each from Edmonton, Toronto Tri-Bels and Winnipeg University Grads.

Those announced by Don Paul, president of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, are:

Tillsonburg — Bill Coulthard, Bob Phibbs, Woody Campbell, Bob Simpson and Carl Ridd, Harry Wade.

University of Western Ontario —Glen Pettinger, Bill Pataky.

Edmonton Waterloo Meteors—Bob Pickel.

Toronto Tri-Bels — George Wearing.

Winnipeg University Grads — Roy Williams.

Ebbie Bowering of Vancouver was named manager.

Paul Thomas of the Tillsonburg club is coach. Although Thomas was playing-coach this season, he will go to the Olympics only as coach.

Alternates for the team: Jim Curran and Chuck Dalton of Tillsonburg and Ben Lands of Montreal Y.M.H.A.

Ridd was named as a Tillsonburg player although he was a member of Winnipeg Grads. He was awarded to the Tillsonburg club as a replacement for Tom Gibbons, ineligible for the Olympic team because he is a United States citizen.

The replacement was granted by Paul with the understanding that in naming players from the Tillsonburg club Ridd would be considered part of the Tillsonburg personnel.

Livingstons won the Canadian basketball championship last Friday, defeating Western Mustangs from London, Ont., 87-75 to take the best-of-five series 3-1.

Livingstons took the first two games 79-65 and 75-69 and Western took the third 83-82.

Queen Mary Victors

Queen Mary pounded out a 34-3 intermediate school softball win yesterday over Prince of Wales. They shoved in no less than 15 in a wild fourth inning, after four in the second and seven in the third, finishing off with eight in the fifth. Haig, McArthur and Wilson went best for the victors. Prince of Wales scored three in the fifth, as Morley, Parker and Doughty proved their best. Teams:

Queen Mary: Goodfellow, Jobbitt, Wilson, Hendry, Brown, Haig, Bignell, Dunn, McArthur, Foy, Jarvis, Clarke.

Prince of Wales: Barrie, Shaw, Murphy, Jay, Parker, Doughty, McFadden, Falkner, Morley, McIntosh.

Umpire: A. Olmstead.

Boom-Boom, a pretty shrewd agent with a buck, gets his bride to do the transacting, figuring probably that Romeo will come up with the exchange rate more readily for the charming Marlene.

Tribe, Reds Have Best In Slugging

NEW YORK, May 27 (AP). — Hard-hitting Joe Adcock of the Cincinanti Reds and Al Rosen, sparkplug of the power-laden Cleveland Indians, have the top slugging averages in the major leagues today.

Adcock, sidelined by a knee injury last Saturday, has collected 33 hits, good for 66 total bases, in 99 times at bat for a remarkable .667 slugging mark to lead the National League. The Redleg outfielder has pounded out four doubles, four triples and seven home runs.

Rosen, with five doubles, three triples, 10 home runs and 85 total bases, is setting the pace in the American League with a .654 slugging percentage.

Total bases are figured on the basis of one for a single, two for a double, three for a triple and four for a home run. To compute a batter's slugging average the total times at bat are divided into the total bases made on all hits.

Hank Sauer, the big gun in the Chicago Cubs' attack, is giving Adcock a run for National League slugging honors. The husky flychaser, the league's leading home run hitter with nine, ranks second with .603.

Rosen's teammate, Larry Doby is runner-up in the American League at .568.

Central Triumphs

Central trimmed Grove intermediates 17-4 yesterday in a public school softball contest. They got two in the first, seven in the third, three next time up and five in the fifth after getting 11 hits throughout. Grove were held to two hits by fine flinging by Hayman, as they shoved a run across in each of the second, third, fourth and fifth stanzas. Casey replaced Simmons on the mound in the fourth. Teams:

Central: Lang, Simpson, Hayman, Sorrie, McInroy, Barber, Dunford, Armstrong, Tetlock, Vilnef, Findlay.

Grove: Casey, Duncan, Simmons, L. Wood, Patterson, Heard, Copping, R. Wood, Sherry, Dwyer, Hargreaves.

Umpire: J. Burns.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

L'il Arthur King, British Empire lightweight boxing champion, scored an upset victory last night in Brooklyn in battering out a unanimous decision over the 3-1 favored Paddy DeMarco in a 10-rounder.

King, who weighed 138¾, dropped the Brooklyn fighter, 139, twice in the fourth round for a count of eight. It was the first time in 70 professional fights that DeMarco had been floored.

The Toronto Negro floored DeMarco with a crashing right and later delivered another that dropped Paddy to the canvas. DeMarco was in bad shape, his nose cut and left eye bleeding. King also had a cut under the left eye.

Judge Jim Crowley scored the brawl even but gave King six points to five for DeMarco. Judge Jerry Carnegie scored it 6-4 for King while referee Jimmy Freeman had it 7-3 for King.

Phil Marchildon, former Philadelphia Athletic hurler, has signed with Guelph Maple Leafs of the Senior Intercounty Baseball League, club secretary Jim Hendrick announced Monday at Guelph. The Penetanguishine pitcher played for Leafs last season but tried out this year with Palm Springs of the Florida International League.

A five-year lease was granted Monday in Toronto to promoter Fred Hamilton for stock car racing at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds. He will build a special cinder track in front of the grandstand.

A deadline of January 15, unless an emergency arises, was agreed upon Monday in a meeting at Toronto for the raiding of major (Alexander Trophy) teams by professional hockey clubs.

Glebe Collegiate, of Ottawa, won the Queen's University Trophy at Kingston Saturday with a grand aggregate of 77 points in the Eastern Ontario Secondary Schools Association annual track and field meet. Glebe edged Fisher Park School, of Ottawa, by one point.

Kid Gavilan will defend his welterweight championship of the world against Philadelphia's unbeaten Gil Turner in the Municipal Stadium at Philadelphia, July 7, on the eve of the major league baseball all-star game.

Tommy Ryan Eboli, former fight manager who lost his licence after a post-fight disturbance in Madison Square Garden January 11, Monday pleaded guilty to charges of assaulting Al Weill, the matchmaker. He will be sentenced June 19. Eboli was also charged with assaulting referee Ray Miller.

Cliff Chambers, star St. Louis Cardinal southpaw, will be out of action one month with a cracked bone in his left wrist, manager Eddie Stanky said Monday at Chicago. At Washington, it was announced outfielder Gil Coan would be lost to the Senators for at least three weeks when X-rays showed he had broken his left wrist Sunday when diving for a line drive.

If Burglar Disturbs You Should You Shoot Or Not?

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—(CP)—If a burglar disturbs your beauty sleep, what would you do about it? Get out the old shooting iron or take it lying down?

Sir Alan Herbert, playwright, wit and former parliamentarian, whose logical mind often rebels at the little quirks in British law, pops the question.

His own answer, as outlined in an article in the Sunday Times, is that a private citizen who catches a burglar red-handed has not only a right, but a duty, to arrest him. If the burglar, "having notice thereof resists or flies," the householder, says Sir Alan, should take up the nearest weapon, smite the intruder mightily and if the intruder dies it is justifiable homicide.

Three days after these forthright words were published, a London court took a different view. David Starley, 32, of Northwood, Middlesex, was obliged to pay costs of 20 guineas for taking a pot shot at a man who entered by a window and started flashing a light around Starley's bedroom.

Starley shouted at the intruder, then pulled the trigger. He was convicted for unlawfully wounding, and the prosecutor said:

"It is the duty, as I understand it, of any citizen who knows that a felony has been committed to apprehend the felon, but that citizen is not entitled to take the extreme step of shooting unless there is no other means of apprehension. It seems curious that Starley made no attempt to follow the man."

No Mercy

The question of to shoot or not to shoot promptly set off a lively corespondence, with most readers in favor of showing no mercy at all. Viscount Hailsham, better known as Quinton Hogg when he was a Conservative member of the House of Commons, challenged the idea that any householder should feel bound to "chase his quarry through the darkness clad in pyjamas and barefooted."

From Chipping Sodbury in Gloucestershire, 82-year-old Bertram Horne wrote to say he had two friends murdered in their beds by burglars, had no intention of suffering a similar fate and considered it fair warning that a sign in his basement window reads:

"Warning, burglars will be shot on sight."

Horne said he has shot every species of vermin and hopes to add a burglar to the list. His bloodthirsty words appeared below this advice from a reader in Oxford, attributed to a learned judge.

"Take a double-barrelled gun, carefully load both barrels, and then, without attracting the burglar's attention, aim steadily at his heart and shoot him dead."

Canadian Players Dominate English N.H.L. All-Stars

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Five of the six Canadian-manned clubs in the English National Hockey League are represented on the 1951-52 all-star teams, selected in a country-wide poll sponsored by the publication Ice Hockey World.

The teams, chosen by a panel of sports writers, coaches, team captains and referees, were announced as the players dispersed for the summer after eight hectic months of campaigning. Here are the all-star nominees, with their Canadian home-towns in brackets:

Four of the players—Jamieson, Zamick, Anning and Strongman—have been assigned to the first squad for the second year running. Jamieson topped the poll with 39 votes of a possible 42, while Zamick, although out of action with a broken arm since the end of February, came second with 33 points.

The newcomers to the major honor's list are Streatham's rookie goalie, Earl Betker and his rangy team-mate Jack Leckie, described as the most improved player in the league. With them into the limelight came Frank Boucher, who guided his Wembley Lions to their first National League title since 1937, and Duke Campbell, mentor of second-place Earl's Court.

Lea Hardy, husky defenceman from Dorval, Que., retrieved some of the honors for his Brighton club by winning the rookie-of-the-year award. Hardy, whose ambition is to play with a team in the National League back home, plans to spend the summer in a novel role. He will prance about on skates in the male chorus of a Brighton extravaganza — "Ice Circus of 1952."

Mac Beaton, Stre[illegible]'s hard-hitting defenceman [illegible]on, Man., carried off the consolation award" by collecting most penalties during the season. Altogether he spent 104 minutes in the penalty box.

Two Servicemen Assault Police Officer

Two servicemen were fined for assaulting a police officer in the course of his duty when they appeared in police court Monday afternoon and pleaded guilty.

Norman Howard, 20, a sailor on leave from H.M.C.S. Magnificent was fined $40 and $2.50 costs for assaulting constable Ted Stephen in the course of his duty and Arthur Batley, 18, 283 Townsend St., an airman in the R.C.A.F. was fined $15 and $2.50 costs for his part in a fracas on George St., Friday night.

Constable Stephen said Howard took a swing at him after he ordered him to leave the entrance to a dance hall on George St. He said he returned the punch, then Howard kicked him and he hit Howard again.

As he was starting to take him to the police station constable Stephen said, Batley jumped on his back from behind and struck him on the ear. Howard then ran away, he said.

Batley was arrested and Howard was arrested later on a warrant.

In the case of Howard who has a record of a previous conviction for having brass knuckles, crown attorney John A. Bradshaw said he would be asking for a jail term if Howard were not in the service, and suggested a $50 fine.

He asked for the $15 fine for Batley. "The public, especially young fellows will have to learn that when officers tell them to do something it is the height of wisdom to do it," commented Mr. Bradshaw.

New Church Organ Played In Recital

BETHANY, May 27 — (ENS).—Following the regular Sunday evening service in the United Church, Norman Lowes, Toronto, home on holidays, gave a pleasing recital on the new electric organ. His selections were chosen to demonstrate the quality and tone of the organ and his accompanying lecture explained the various sound effects obtainable. Rev. James Hampson expressed the thanks of the congregation to Mr. Lowes for his vary pleasing program.

A beautiful basket of flowers was placed on the Communion table in memory of Mrs. James Hampson, wife of the minister, who died suddenly one year ago.

Rock-hurling Squatters Halt Shack Demolition

HULL, Que., May 27—(CP)—An angry party of rock-hurling squatters Monday forced Hull city officials to postpone demolition of some 125 shacks bordering Brewery Creek which have been declared unsanitary.

Eviction orders were issued against the residents and bulldozers were to start levelling the area Monday. When workmen arrived, some 25 men and women barred the way. None of the workmen was hit by the rocks.

Brewery Creek is an offshoot of the Ottawa River which circles the city, making Hull virtually an island.

Operations will be delayed until Hull city council reviews the case.

Mrs. Sadie Harper

PORT HOPE, May 27.—Funeral service for Mrs. Norman Harper, formerly Sadie Ethel Dunlop, were conducted May 16 by the Rev. B. K. Cronk, and burial was in Union Cemetery.

Mrs. Harper was born in Manitoba, a daughter of James Dunlop and Annabelle Kinkaid, moved while young with her parents to Texas, and received her public and high school education there. For the past two years she has lived in Port Hope, having resided before that in Peterborough.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Bill Carr (Vernabel) and Mrs. Leland Kernan (Norma) of Port Hope, a brother, Vernon of Detroit, nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were: Norman Sullivan, Frederick Sullivan, and Morley Beebee, all of Peterborough, Gerald Harper and Raymond Harper of Toronto, and Howard Tobin, Cobourg.

Not Suspicious

BELLEVILLE, May 27 (CP) — Two "suspicious" men reported looking over houses here and taking notes were investigated by police. They discovered the first was a prospective home builder drawing sketches of homes that appealed to him and the other a television salesman looking for prospects.

Killed In Fall

INGERSOLL, May 27 (CP) — George F. Clark, 73, was killed on his Dereham township farm Monday when pitched from a load of hay, landing on his ehad. Coroner Dr. W. Furlong, Ingersoll, found that death was accidental.

THESE STOLEN PORTRAITS by a Toronto artist were among the seven recovered in a downtown warehouse, after being stolen from the Queen City exhibition of artist James D. Williamson. The seven, recovered by Det. Sgt. Leo Murray, at right, were valued at $8,000. The subjects shown were identified only as Mrs. Forsythe (left) and Miss Pond.

Couple Appear On Two Charges

TORONTO, May 27—(CP)—Edward Brown, Sr., and Mrs. Jean Read appeared in court here Monday charged with manslaughter and criminal negligence in connection with the death of their 21-months-old son, David, in a New Year's eve fire.

The baby and another son were left with two small children of Edward Brown, Jr., and Muriel Bell, at the home of Brown Sr., in suburban Scarboro while the four adults went to a party six miles away. Three of the children were rescued from the fire by neighbors.

Mrs. Helen McGowan, a neighbor, testified she had been asked to listen for any calls from the children but heard no sounds from the Brown house until her husband awakened her to say it was on fire.

George West, brother-in-law of Brown Sr., through Brown's earlier marriage, said that both Brown Sr., and Mrs. Read had been drunk at party which West also attended.

The trial is continuing.

Say Five Years Needed To Control Locusts

WASHINGTON, May 27—(AP)—The State Department said Monday it may take five years to control the swarms of locusts which are attacking food and vegetation in half a dozen middle eastern countries.

This age-old problem can be licked, it said, only if all countries co-operate in the gigantic program to spray poison on the locust breeding grounds.

Pittsburgh Man Gets Last Request Late

PITTSBURGH, May 27—(AP)—Walter A. Kimmel made only one request before he died last March 11 at the age of 99. He wanted to be buried on a sunny day.

Relatives had his body placed in a vault while March winds blew and April rains fell.

Today—the first time in 19 days that the weather man has not predicted rain in the Pittsburgh area—the funeral will be held.

W. C. Grant Urges People To Take Interest In Civics

The importance of active participation of ratepayers in municipal affairs was stressed Monday by William C. Grant, Peterborough lawyer and former reeve of Lakefield, at the Rotary luncheon meeting.

Mr. Grant suggested that public discussion and debates be held on municipal problems so that ratepayers may become acquainted with workings of democracy on this level.

"A lot of people know little or nothing about public meetings," the speaker said. "People should know how to meet together and discuss issues and make decisions and thus know and understand the meaning of democracy."

Mr. Grant attacked the policy of groups and organizations that banned such subjects as politics for discussion and controversy. He said that controversy should be encouraged because through it could be learned tolerance.

Criticizes Businessmen

Mr. Grant also spoke against the situation that keeps business men from taking an active part in political life in case it will have a detrimental effect on their businesses.

Mr. Grant explained that behind his reasoning was the theory that ideas can't be beaten by force. He referred to the threat of Communism spreading in Canada and claimed that the only solution to this threat was to convince people of the excellence of the democratic system.

"There is a wonderful opportunity in our municipal systems of government for people to see democracy in action," he said.

Mr. Grant was introduced by T. J. Carley and thanked by V. J. McElderry.

The following guests and visiting Rotarians were introduced by Jack Jobe: P. D. Windrim, Jack McDougall, both of Peterborough; Charles Chrysler, Chicago, Ill.; Ross VanDusen, Cobourg; J. E. A. McDonald, Lindsay; Jasper Humphrey, Montreal.

Boy Soprano New Find In Film Work

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 27—(AP)—When Chet Allen was signed by Universal-International for $1,000 a week, many lesser-paid stars hit the ceiling.

But the irate actors didn't realize that Chet could wake up any morning and find he has lost his livelihood. He's 13 and a boy soprano.

This prospect of his voice changing doesn't seem to concern Chet.

"I'd like to continue singing when that happens," he remarked. "But of course if I turn out to be a bass, I guess that would be impossible."

Soprano Success

In his high-voiced state, Chet is destined for success. He was signed at a record salary for a child actor with no movie experience. His pay advances to $3,900 weekly should he survive for seven years. He is appearing with Dan Dailey in "Great Companions."

Chet's rise to fame started when his bell-like tones drew him to the attention of the Columbus, Ohio, Boys' Choir, which operates a school and gives concerts throughout the country.

The school moved to Princeton, N.J., and Chet stayed with it. When Gian-Carlo Menotti was commissioned to write an original opera for NBC television, he treated the leading role for a boy soprano. Chet was the lucky boy.

The opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," created a sensation when it was televised last Christmas. Chet, who had learned the difficult part in two weeks, was widely hailed and came to the attention of U-I.

His manager, Herbert Huffman, talked of the chances of boy sopranos having success after a change of voice.

"I've had 400 boys in the school," he replied, "and every one of them has turned out to be a good singer after the change of voice."

110 Miles For Cent

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., May 27 (CP)—A doctor here flew 110 miles for a cent. The doctor, an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, was called to Wawa, 110 miles north of here, to remove a cent lodged in the gullet of 16-month-old Eldona Mitrikas. He succeeded and flew home again.

Given Diplomas

TORONTO, May 27 (CP) — A Hungarian immigrant who escaped from the Communists and arrived in Canada on Christmas Day, 1949, last night received two diplomas from the Toronto Graphic Arts Association for passing two tough business courses. His name was withheld to protect members of his family still in Hungary.

Truce Talks Gave Reds Time To Double Forces

LONDON, May 28. (AP)—Parliament was told today that Communist forces in North Korea almost doubled their strength during the cease-fire talks. Prime Minister Churchill called the situation "very grave." Earl Alexander, defence minister, said Communist forces are not far short of 1,000,000 men, compared with just more than 500,000 last July. He spoke to the House of Lords and a similar statement was read in the House of Commons by Churchill. The Prime Minister declared:

"With regard to the general situation, it is very grave.

"This is the view taken by the military authorities of the United States who furnish nine-tenths of the troops engaged by the enemy.

"The United Nations commanders, American generals on the spot, believe they are capable of holding a violent offensive which may be made against them on the breakdown of the peace negotiations.

"They are responsible for taking the necessary measures, but what those measures would be I cannot presume to forecast at all."

Never Wanted Peace

Churchill added that in the last 10 months "we have been engaged in truce-making in extraordinary conditions, in which I do not think there has ever been any will to peace on the side of the enemy, who was suffering so heavily when the truce was begun and who have certainly improved their position in the meanwhile."

Emmanuel Shinwell, Defence Minister in the former Labor government, suggested that Churchill consider calling a conference of U.N. members with forces in Korea to go over the whole question.

Churchill replied that the suggestion should await the return of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden from Germany, adding "this is not purely a military question."

Alexander said the Communists "have taken full advantage of the lull in the fighting to reinforce, reorganize and re-equip their armies."

At Full Strength

Alexander, who said he will soon visit Tokyo and Korea, declared Communist reinforcements mainly have been used to build up North Korean units to full strength.

"At the same time the enemy's strength in armor and artillery has steadily mounted, and they are believed to have more than 500 tanks and self-propelled guns," Alexander said.

"There have been large increases in the numbers of anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns, mortars and field artillery, and rocket launchers have also made their appearance."

Alexander said that despite the air superiority of the United Nations over the battle area the Communists have been able to build up large stocks of supplies in the last 10 months.

Give Edmonton Third Seat In Parliament

OTTAWA, May 28 — (CP)—Establishment of a third federal constituency in Edmonton today was recommended by the all-party committee established to redistribute representation in the Commons on the basis of the 1951 census.

Alberta will not gain or lose any seats in the redistribution, but a sub-committee of members from that province recommended that boundaries of some of the 17 existing constituencies be changed to increase to three from two the number of seats in Edmonton.

The constituencies would be known as Edmonton East, West and South.

The extra constituency would be created by combining four existing ridings into three. The four combined would be Vegreville, Battle River, Camrose and Acadia. The boundaries of all four would be changed and Battle River and Camrose would become a single constituency — Battle River-Camrose.

Recommendation Accepted.

The recommendation of the sub-committee, which reported that it still has not reached agreement on boundaries in some parts of the province, was unanimously accepted by the main redistribution committee.

Also accepted was a report recommending that no change be made in the existing 10 consittuencies in New Brunswick. A third report recommending a few minor boundary changes in Newfoundland constituencies was adopted. Newfoundland will retain its existing seven seats.

Philippe Picard (L—Bellechasse) said it has not yet been possible to hold a meeting of the sub-committee for Quebec. The province will gain two seats in the redistribution.

Mr. Picard said it has been more or less agreed that there will be no major changes outside of Montreal and Ile Jesus in Laval constituency.

Citizenship Minister Harris urged that meeting of the sub-committee be held as soon as possible and a report be submitted to the main committee at its next meeting June 4.

Chairmen of other sub-committees said they had no reports on which agreement had been reached.

Saskatchewan is scheduled to lose three seats and Manitoba two. A tentative plan submitted last week to Saskatchewan members called for the elimination of three C.C.F. seats—Melfort, Moose Jaw and Assiniboia.

Another tentative plan for Manitoba called for abolition of the C.C.F. constituency of Selkirk and the Progressive Conservative constituency of Souris.

Opposition members have objected strenuously to the tentative plans.

Big Dock Fire Rages In London

LONDON, May 28 (Reuters)—Firemen battling throughout the night had this morning controlled London's biggest blaze since the wartime air raids.

The fire, sweeping through a five-storey warehouse in the heart of the dock area, at one time threatened dozens of other warehouses and factories.

More than 150 firemen labored with 30 pumps. At its height the flames could be seen miles away in the suburbs.

Hundreds of persons living nearby were evacuated, many of them in their night clothes, while the noise of the fire and the clanging of fire engines kept thousands more awake.

Daley Invited To Mediate At Ford

WINDSOR, May 28—(CP)—Ontario Labor Minister Daley was invited today to come to Windsor to mediate in a dispute which has caused shutdown of the Ford of Canada plants.

Windsor's Mayor Arthur J. Reaume telegraphed the minister and his deputy, Mr. J. B. Metzler, his "most sincere request" that they come to this city to mediate in the strike of 900 office workers which has made 11,000 Ford production workers idle.

The Mayor said that he stood "ready to co-operate (with Messrs. Daley and Metzler) and with the disputing parties."

Shoot-To-Kill Orders Given

BERLIN, May 28. (AP)—Communist East Germany tightened its squeeze on blockade-threatened Berlin another notch today. Orders went out to Red policie to shoot to kill anyone caught without a proper pass in the Iron Curtain's new three-mile no man's land along the West German border. The shooting order was the latest in a series of revenge moves against the Bonn government's alliance with the west. It all but sealed off the Communist-girt former capital, which trembled in fear of a resumption of the 1948-49 siege. The Russians continued their ban on Allied military patrols travelling the 110-mile Berlin-Helmstedt Autobahn, sole highway link between the isolated city and the west.

Regular civilian traffic continued to flow normally, but a new formula for transit visas adopted by the Reds Tuesday could choke off traffic between west Berlin and the Bonn republic at any time.

The Russians also let a jeep-escorted three-truck United States army convoy use the highway and an American officer said: "Apparently they don't mind through travel but for some reason object to our patrols going up and down 'their' road."

Threat To Security

In Paris the big-three western powers said they would regard aggression against Berlin as a threat to their own security.

The new visa formula tears up an agreement between the western powers and Russia which had allowed West Berlin and West German authorities to issue inter-zonal passes for transit travel through the Russian zone in either direction.

The move had the following significance:

1. Every truck driver, railroad employee or canal barge operator travelling through the area is at East Germany's mercy.

2. The 2,200,000 West Berliners can be virtually cut off from travel into or through the surrounding Soviet zone.

3 Missing On Civilian Plane In Lake Superior Area

SAULT STE. MARIE, May 28. (CP)—A civilian plane flown by a Toronto man and believed carrying three other persons is missing in the rugged country between here and Port Arthur. Pilot Ed Harbottle of Toronto radioed Tuesday afternoon that the plane, en route from Toronto to Port Arthur, was running out of fuel. His message was picked up by a radio range station in neighboring Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

The plane had been refuelled here.

The pilot filed a flight plan in the Michigan Sault that gave the expected time of arrival at the Lakehead as 4:30 p.m.

Poor visibility and a low ceiling were reported today in the area in which the plane disappeared.

Trenton Prepares

(At Trenton, an R.C.A.F. spokesman said preparations were under way to launch a search. However, the Air Force was awaiting a call from authorities at Houghton, Mich., on the south shore of Lake Superior about 200 miles west of Sault Ste. Marie, in the hope that the float-equipped plane had made a landing on the U.S. side of the lake.)

When last heard from, the plane was in the vicinity of Pays Plat, near the railway town of Schreiber, some 250 miles northwest of the Sault.

An Ontario Provincial Police constable at Schreiber said today that a Schreiber resident reported hearing a sound "like that of a low-flying plane" about 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Provincial Air Service officials here said Harbottle was ferrying a new aircraft from Toronto to a company in White Horse, Yukon. They said the plane, which they described as "an American Beaver," was built by deHavilland Aircraft of Canada, Limited, in Toronto.

Suggest Ceiling For Armies

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., May 28 (AP).—The western big three powers have agreed upon a proposal to set a ceiling of 1,500,000 men each for the armed forces of the Soviet Union, the United States and China—provided that all three and the United Nations concur.

This proposal is scheduled to be presented late today to the U.N. disarmament commission. It is the west's answer to Russia's demand for a flat one-third reduction of all armed forces of the big powers.

The paper makes it clear that the ceiling will not become effective until and unless it is agreed upon by the powers concerned and by the United Nations. It also calls for strict safeguards to see that no one violates the limits.

The proposal was worked out by Britain, the United States and France after weeks of high-level consultation. Western source in disclosing the plan said they are concerned by the impression made in Europe by the Russian proposal for a one-third cut by the big powers in their armed forces.

The proposed ceiling would mean a drastic reduction in Soviet armed forces, according to estimates of the western powers. They have insisted the Soviet Army alone has 4,000,000 men.

Throw Communists Off Three Hills

SEOUL, Korea, May 28 — (AP)—Tank supported United Nations assault groups threw Communist off three hills today in a foray into Red lines near Korangpo on the Korean western front.

A United States Eighth Army staff officer said the three units then returned to their lines. An incomplete early report said one of the groups killed or wounded at least 30 Reds.

The raiders attacked in predawn darkness and ran into heavy Red artillery fire. But, the staff officer said, U. N. tank fire aided them in knocking the Reds from their positions.

On the central front, Allied tanks damaged 81 bunkers, 12 communication trenches and six weapon emplacements.

Scattered patrol skirmishes were reported on the eastern front.

U.K. Papers Deplore U.S. Koje Handling

LONDON, May 28 (Reuters).—British newspapers today deplore United States handling of the Koje Island prison camp and urge a greater British say in its direction.

Commenting on the fact that British and Canadian troops have been brought in as guards, the Independent Daily Mirror says: "Now that British brawn is called in, would it not be a good idea to use British brains and experience as well?"

The Liberal Manchester Guardian says the United Nations prestige had been badly shaken by the events at Koje, especially after they had taken "quite rightly" their stand against forced repatriation."

The Guardian also says that there is no enthusiasm over British troops being brought in, but that since they "are to do the guarding they should also have a hand in directing the camps."

British Hen Given Raspberry By Canadian Record Expert

OTTAWA, May 28 (CP) — Duplicate, the British hen, got the raspberry today from Canada's keeper of hen-laying records. A total of 360 eggs in 156 days? Why, that's "preposterous and impossible," he said.

W. E. Maynard, 64, said he had been keeping hen-laying records for 28 years in the Federal Agriculture Department. He's never heard of any bird producing 26 eggs in one week.

He was commenting on a dispatch from Chichester, England, acclaiming the laying feats of Duplicate, a North Holland Blue, who claims the world egg-laying championship. She's reported to have laid 360 eggs in 156 days; 26 in one week.

"We can't recognize that record here because we've never heard of it officially and anyway I can't imagine any hen laying more than one egg a day consistently."

The best recorded performer in Canada was a white leghorn owned by Major D. McQ. Shaver of Galt, Mr. Maynard said. She producer 360 eggs in 365 days.

There was another, a dark grey barred plymouth rock, owned by C. H. Miller of Eganville, Ont. This energetic producer turned out 305 eggs in 305 days.

And then, of cource, there was Lady Victorine, owned by the University of Saskatchewan, reported in the Chichester dispatch to have produced 358 eggs in 365 days and said to have held the world championship since 1927.

"I have no record of her," said Mr. Maynard. "She must have died years ago."

Hold Fireman For Setting 2 Hotel Fires

Helps His Comrades Fight Blaze, Overcome By Smoke

OTTAWA, May 28. (CP) — A member of the Ottawa fire department for more than three years is charged with setting fires in two small Ottawa hotels Monday. Frank Eric Thompson, 27, arrested Tuesday, will appear in court today on two charges of arson.

The fires, within three blocks of each other, occurred less than 30 minutes apart. The first damaged the washroom of the Victoria hotel, 34 Murray St., but was extinguished quickly. The second gutted the LaSalle hotel, at Dalhousie and St. Patrick Sts., and caused an estimated $90,000 damage.

Fellow firemen said that Thompson, in off-duty civilian clothes, pitched in to help fight the LaSalle hotel blaze. He was one of about 20 firemen overcome by smoke. Four others were injured but no one was trapped in the flames.

Fire Chief Gray Burnett Tuesday night said fireman Thompson had been in minor trouble before, but added:

"Other than that we have always found him to be conscientious in his duty. He has never failed to face danger when the occasion demanded."

Police questioned Thompson shortly after Monday's fires, but released him. Then they questioned customers in the beverage rooms of both hotels, who told of a man in a grey suit who was present shortly before each fire. Thompson was taken to the police station again, placed in a line-up before witnesses, and then charged with arson.

Firemen said the Victoria Hotel fire was started when someone punched a hole in the wall of a washroom, filled the hole with paper and set it afire. Flames were extinguished by a bartender.

The manager of the 18-room LaSalle hotel said he believed the fire there started in the unoccupied third floor of an annex. It spread rapidly to the main section, forcing out employees and customers in the beverage rooms who were the only persons in the hotel.

Truman Blasts Kremlin For Passing Out Lies

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—President Truman raked the Kremlin today for "passing out the lies" that the United Nations have used germ warfare in Korea.

The President told a White House delegation:

"The Kremlin cries that we have used germ warfare.

"There isn't a word of truth in that. We have never broken the Geneva Convention in our operations in Korea.

"And they know that. They know it well. But they keep on passing out the lies that have no foundation in fact whatever."

Reds Hinting Offensive Near

MUNSAN, Korea, May 28 (AP)—For the second straight day Communist truce negotiators today hinted that Red armies in Korea would march because of Allied handling of captured Reds. The United Nations Command delegation dismissed the threat as propaganda.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il repeated Red charges that captured Reds had been mistreated. Then he added:

"The Korean people's army and the Chinese people's volunteers absolutely shall not sit idle while their fellow combatants are being wantonly murdered by your side."

Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., senior Allied delegate, told Nam Il that his statement "is indicative of your obvious intentions not to use these conferences to arrive at an agreement, but merely to generate your propaganda."

There was no progress on the explosive issue of what to do about 100,000 captured Red soldiers and civilian internees who say they will fight repatriation to Communist soil. The Reds demand them back. The U.N. Command says not a single person will be forced to return against his will.

4 Ontario Residents Have $560,000 Tickets On Sweeps

EPSOM, Surrey, England, May 28. (CP)—The Aga Khan's Tulyar, top British favorite, outran the French challengers today to win the Epsom Derby, Britain's top horse-racing classic. Gay Time, another English-bred colt, was second and Faubourg II, one of eight French starters was third. Thirty-three colts started in the race, which is the basis of an international sweepstakes. Six Canadians have come into sudden wealth as a result of holding Irish Hospital Sweepstakes tickets on winning horses in today's Epsom Derby.

Holding tickets worth $140,000 on the Aga Khan's Tulyar, the winning horse, are three residents of the Toronto district and one in the Hamilton area.

The Toronto area winners are Mr. and Mrs. Nat Brown of suburban Thornhill, Solly Cohen, and Mr. and Mrs. Keith McMahon of suburban York Mills. Mrs. McMahon is an 18-year-old bride of nine months and her husband is 23.

The Hamilton district holder of a ticket on Tulyar is A. Klernewski of Smithville, who escaped Poland after the German invasion.

A ticket on Tulyar in the Quebec Army-Navy sweepstakes brought Robert Frenette of Quebec City $40,000.

Other Winners

Pearl Barrow of Montreal held a ticket on Gay Time, which was second, and won $24,200.

Third man in the money is Maurice Findlay of Haileybury, Ont., who won $16,100 with a ticket on Faubourg II, which ran third.

D. L. Dahmer of Montreal has an Irish Hospital sweepstakes ticket on the runner-up Gay Time and collects $56,000.

A resident of Whalley in the district of New Westminster, B.C., holds a ticket worth $28,000 on the third-place Faubourg II. His nom de plume is Deacon.

3 In Custody For Gold Theft

MONTREAL, May 28 (CP). — Provincial police said today they have taken into custody three men in connection with the theft of $115,000 in gold bricks from the East Malartic Mine in northwestern Quebec.

Identity of the men was not disclosed pending further investigation.

However, police at Malartic said Raoul Galipeau, 48-year-old mill crusher was arrested Tuesday night. They said arrest of the former resident of Matheson, Ont. confirmed their suspicions that the robbery was an inside job.

Three of the four bricks stolen have been recovered. They were found hidden near the refinery.

Red Envoy Used Sex Parties To Get Secret U.S. Data

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—Senate investigators today made public a sensational story of all-male sex parties run by a Communist envoy to the United States for the purpose of extracting information from effeminate American guests.

The diplomat was named as Teo H. Florin, former first secretary of the Czechoslovakian Embassy here, in testimony given to the Senate's Internal Security Subcommittee by Joseph Molnar, a Czech writer who said he observed the carryings-on for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Molnar and two other witnesses testified that subversive activities in the U.S. are directed by Iron Curtain country representatives operating under diplomatic immunity.

Chairman Pat McCarran (Dem. Nev.) of the Internal Security group called this a "shocking and alarming" situation and demanded that the State and Justice Departments rid the country of "these treacherous aliens."

Kept Secret

Molnar and the other witnesses —Czech-born Pavlina Svoboda, former employee of the Czech Embassy, and Matthew Cvetic of Pittsburgh, long-time undercover agent for the F.B.I. in Communist organizations — gave their testimony at various times since early last July, but it was kept secret until today.

Molnar said he was a guest of Florin—who later was ordered to leave the U.S.—at the Czech diplomat's apartment during several parties.

"Sometimes," the witness went on, "he had invited several men whose conduct convinced me of their homosexuality."

No Women Present

"At none of these parties were there any female guests present. The men embraced each other, kissed each other, and helped each other take off their coats.

"At various intervals two men at a time would disappear into one bedroom and would reappear 30 to 40 minutes later. The others, meanwhile, were dancing, flirting and becoming tender to each other."

Meanwhile, liquor flowed freely, Molnar said, and his diplomat host would turn the conversation to politics "when the men became sufficiently intoxicated."

Then, instead of going to sleep, the envoy would write a detailed report "which he delivered . . . to the proper authorities at the embassy," Molnar added.

Coal Dealers Warned Keep Prices Down

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 28 (CP).—Coal dealers Tuesday got an admonition from Mines Minister Prudham to reduce prices.

Mr. Prudham delivered a hint of government regulation to prevent business abuses as he told the Canadian Retail Coal Association it must not charge all the traffic will bear.

The minister's speech at the association's annual convention, evidently was aimed at getting retail dealers to narrow the price spread between what producers obtain for their coal and what consumers pay. While this was the first official statement on the point, it is known to have been under consideration in government quarters for some time.

Give Service

To the dealers, Mr. Prudham said bluntly that the best way to preserve freedom of private initiative is for business and industry to give top priority to service to the community.

"Should it become necessary for governments to impose a rigid set of rules upon an industry in order to prevent business abuses, we are apt to lose something infinitely more precious than any material advantages," he added.

"Each of us in our field of effort," he added, "must carry a share of responsibility to the public—not by charging all that the traffic will bear—but rather by making our best individual contribution to the upbuilding of the community and the nation," he declared.

UK Commander Okayed Troops

TOKYO, May 28 (AP) — The British army public information office today gave this account of orders that sent Commonwealth troops to Koje Island recently to help other United Nations units guard defiant communist prisoners of war.

Gen. Mark Clark, supreme U.N. commander, asked Lieut. Gen. William Bridgeford, top commander of Commonwealth troops in Japan and Korea, if Commonwealth troops could be sent to Koje.

Bridgeford said they could.

United States Eighth Army headquarters, commanded by Gen. James Van Fleet, then asked Maj.-Gen. A. H. J. Cassels, commander of the Commonwealth division, to assign a company of British and a company of Canadian troops to Koje. The Canadians are from the Royal Canadian Regiment.

Cassels selected the units and complied.

Third U.S. General To Lose Command

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, May 28 (AP). — A third United States general is losing his command because of the kidnapping of former Brig.-Gen. Francis T. Dodd by Communist prisoners of war, it was learned today.

He is Brig.-Gen. Paul F. Yount, commander of the Pusan army base, who was reprimanded in Washington last week. The Defence Department said he "overlooked the erroneous implications" of promises made to secure Dodd's release by P.O.W.s on Koje Island.

A high military official who declined use of his name told the Associated Press Yount will be transferred within a week.

The promise, made by former Brig.-Gen. Charles Colson, led to still continuing Red propaganda blasts at the United Nations command. They were repudiated by Gen. Mark Clark, Far East commander.

The P.O.W. camp on Koje was in Yount's Pusan command.

Fear Boat Lost, 11 Missing

Plan To Start Search Along St. Lauwrence As Vessel Overdue

QUEBEC, May 28. (CP)—A 600-ton coastal vessel and her crew of 11 is missing and feared lost today in the lower St. Lawrence River. Although the reconverted barge has been missing for 15 days, news of the vessel's disappearance in the Matane-Mechins area, some 250 miles below Quebec, only came out Tuesday night.

The Department of Transport said here it had been informed on Monday the B and F was missing following discovery of a lifesaver bearing the vessel's marking near Metis Beach. A considerable quantity of pulpwood, believed to be part of the ship's cargo, also was sighted in the district.

Begin Search

The transport spokesman said a search will be undertaken probably by plane, but added that it will be difficult now due to the length of time elapsed.

The vessel, under the command of Captain Charles-Noel Bernier of Matane, was last reported shortly after leaving Ste. Anne Des Monts May 12, bound for Three Rivers, Que., with a load of pulpwood.

No distress signal was reported from the B and F after she left Ste. Anne although she is equipped with radio-telephone equipment.

No Warning

River men here took this to indicate that the vessel encountered bad weather and foundered without warning.

Capt. Bernier's sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis-Roger Gagne of Matane, identified some of the crew as Henoch and Real Bernier, brother and partners of the skipper, Lucien Verreault, Arthur Fournier and Marius Parent, all of Mechins, and a man named Beaudoin of Cap Chat.

She could not identify the four other crew members of the converted coal barge, operated by the brothers since last summer.

Mrs. Gagne said that on the night the B and F was last reported seen the weather was "very bad" with a strong northeast wind and high swells on the river.

The vessel had no shipping agent here where most of the coastal vessels do business.

ON HARBORS BOARD — Brig. Maurice Archer, 42-year-old construction engineer of Quebec, has been appointed to the three-man National Harbors Board. He succeeds Emile St. Laurent, who retired.

Barons Debate Joining N.H.L.

CLEVELAND, May 28 (AP).—Stockholders of the Cleveland Barons debated through Tuesday night and until early today on whether to join the National Hockey League.

They resume their discussion later today. So far it is uncertain whether there will be any final decision at this time.

The stockholders of the American Hockey League club are considering the conditions they must meet to get a National League franchise. The National League has asked that Cleveland post $300,000 for hockey use only, in addition to $50,000 for a franchise and $57,000 for the league's emergency fund.

Plan To Hold Joint Exercises

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—The first continent-wide air defence exercise for Canada and the United States will be held during the week of July 19, the United States Air Force announced today.

The exercise, designed to test all military and civilian agencies involved in air defence, will be carried out by about 250,000 persons, the air force said. In addition to regular units of the air defence commands of Canada and the U.S., the exercise will involve civilian ground observers and the radar net which stretches across the northern perimeters of the two countries.

The training manoeuvre—called "Exercise Signpost" — was planned and will be directed by Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw and Air Vice-Marshal A. L. James, respective commanders of the U.S. and Canadian defence commands.

Wonder Hen Dies After Setting Record

KINGSBURY, England, May 28 (Reuters). — Jennifer the wonder hen died Tuesday night—24 hours after laying 10 perfect eggs in 45 minutes. Early Tuesday she was still weak, but proudly cackling. Her condition deteriorated during the day.

Her owner, farmer Charles Rogers, said he will have Jennifer stuffed and set up in a glass case with her 10 eggs.

Quints Observe 18th Birthday

NORTH BAY, May 28 (CP). — The Dionne quintuplets turned 18 today. Most of the celebrations were scheduled for this afternoon and tonight at their home at nearby Callander.

Cecile, Marie, Annette, Emile, and Yvonne received matched rhinestone necklaces, bracelets, and earrings from their father. They also were graduated from a private school and looked forward to entering college in the fall.

As the anniversary approached, birthday greetings poured in from many parts of the world on the dark-haired, dark-eyed sisters, who live with their parents in a fine home a short distance from the humble wooden farmhouse in which they were born.

The area around the Dionne home still is maintained as a tourist attraction. But the visitors, who wander through its souvenir stands and stroll along its roadways in the hope of getting a glimpse of the famous five, are only a handful now, compared with the thousands who daily thronged the property a decade or so ago when the quintuplets made regular public appearances.

Staid BBC Agrees To Televise Showgirls

LONDON, May 28—(AP)—The staid B.B.C. agreed today to let French showgirls be televised without their bras—but only if the act originated in Paris where such things are customary.

Last year the French girls were imported to London for a TV show. Shocked B.B.C. officials sent out a hurried call for a batch of bosom covers.

A Paris show scheduled to be relayed to Britain in July brought the problem again. B.B.C. said this time it didn't want to bust up the show. Semi-nude showgirls are okay in Paris and the B.B.C. wants to retain the true Parisian atmosphere.

One small precaution will be taken, however. The B.B.C. will send along its own camera crew to select the angles from which the girls will be televised.

Prices Slip Steadily On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, May 28 (CP). — Prices slipped steadily today in slow early afternoon stock market dealings.

Industrials, golds and western oils showed early strength as opening support bolstered selected issues. Sporadic selling reversed the trend within the first half hour, however, and prices joined base metals in an irregular decline.

Volume for the first three hours was 1,059,000 shares.

Steels, refining oils, foods and retail stores led industrials downward with a scattered list of fractional declines. Papers, liquors and miscellaneous issues also slipped but agricultures, banks and manufacturing companies held gains and losses in balance. Utilities were strong.

Western oils ranged to about 50 cents. Britalta, Calvan Consolidated, Central Explorers, Home Oil, Pacific Petroleum and Scurry traded lower.

Base metal leaders were mixed but lower-priced issues posted a majority of losses. Dominion Asbestos, Hudson Bay, Quebec Manitou and United Asbestos dipped.

Senior golds sagged as Dome, Malartic and Teck Hughes drifted lower. Secondary issues were weak.

Production Up

LONDON, May 28 — (AP). — The Iraq Petroleum Company said Tuesday its April crude-oil production was 1,013,404 long tons, highest in its 25-year history.

IRISH NAME

The town of Listowell, centre of a rich farming district in Western Ontario, was named after Listowell in County Kerry, Ireland.

OUSTED DIRECTOR — R. Kent Rowley, Canadian director of the United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.), has been dismissed in a shake-up of the entire Canadian staff of the union. He and 11 fellow union executives were ousted on orders of the international executive for what it called irresponsible leadership during a strike against the Dominion Textile Company, Montreal.

Woodcock, valedictorian in 1948, received the W. W. Near scholarship, valued at $100. He is the son of Robert E. Woodcock, 291 Reid St.

John F. Malcolm, son of the Rev. Hubert Malcolm, Bailieboro, receives one year studies at St. Andrew's University, Scotland, under the St. Andrew's Exchange scholarship.

David A. Ward, son of Mrs. Gwen Ward, 137 London St., received the Queen's University scholarship, valued at $100, and also the Chancellor C. A. Dunning scholarship in political and economic science and commerce, valued at $400.

A fifth former student, Margaret Capron, daughter of Mrs. Gladys Capron, formerly of R.R. 8, Peterborough, also won two scholarships. She won the W. W. Near scholarship in Spanish and Susan Near scholarship in Spanish, both valued at $50.

This year's selected best actress in the inter-collegiate drama festival, Joyce Beggs, daughter of William Beggs, 90 Lock St., won two Andrina McCulloch scholarships, one in reading and the other in drama.

Gordon Richards, world champion jockey, made a stirring bid to win his first derby in 24 years, but his mount Monarch More, after forging to the front, faded in the uphill stretch of the undulating 1½-mile horse-shoe course.

The odds came down and the winning Tulyar went off favored over the field at 11 to 2. Gay Time paid at 25-1 and late money brought Faubourg II's odds down to 100 to 6.

Stampeding Finish

In a stampeding finish Tulyar came from the pack and went across the line three-quarters of a length the winner. A length separated second and third.

The only Canadian-owned horse in the race, Indian Hemp, was badly beaten. The entry of Max Bell, Calgary newspaper publisher, was not listed among the first 12 to cross the finish line.

It was the fifth victory in this classic for the wealthy Moslem, tying the winning record set by Lord Egremont between 1782 and 1826.

Some 500,000 Britons jammed this historic park for the big race. The course was baked to concrete hardness by a blazing sun. Trainer T. H. Carey scratched Castleton, a 100-to-1 chance, shortly before the race because of the conditions.

First place was worth $57,663 to the Aga Khan.

The time was 2:36 and two-fifths, far off the stake record of 2:33 and four-fifths set by Mahmoud in 1936. Mahmoud also was owned by the Aga Khan and was ridden by Charles Smirke, who also was up on Tulyar today.

Finished Last

Fiery Torch virtually was left at the post and finished last. As the big field, only one short of the record, made the first turn Chavey Down was in front with Worden II second, followed by Speechmaker, Kara Tepe, Lavarende and Postman's Path.

A sudden burst of speed brought Monarch More into second place as they rounded Tattenham corner, where the spectators were standing 40 deep along the rail. Monarch More later took the lead briefly.

A furlong from home, where the course starts climbing toward the finish line, Tulyar took the lead.

Bob Major was fourth, Bold Buccaneer fifth, Silnet sixth, H.V.C. seventh, Trim Curry eighth, Lavarende ninth, Worden II 10th, Chavey Down 11th and Summer Rain 12th.

Throws Jockey

Gay Time threw jockey Lester Piggott and ran away after crossing the finish line. An outrider ran down the colt. Piggott, uninjured, walked back to the unsaddling enclosure.

France had threatened to make an all-Gallic contest of the race, sending five entries across the Channel. But outside of Faubourg II, they ran unplaced. Down this list were Silnet, heavily backed favorite at the last call-over; Argur, out of Marcel Boussac's fabled stables; Thunderhead II, winner of the two thousand guineas at Newmarket in April; and Lavarende.

On doctor's orders, the Aga Khan was not at the track to see his Derby win. Tulyar had been earlier reported as a doubtful starter because of the hard going. But he liked the fast track today.

Build Up Air Force

"There has been a marked increase in the size of the enemy air forces which have about 1,800 aircraft compared with some 1,000 aircraft last July," said Alexander.

"About 1,000 of these are jet fighters, most MIG 15s."

As for the possibility of a sudden Communist attack, Alexander said:

"There is no evidence at present of an imminent enemy attack, but with their reinforcements the Communists now are in a position to launch a major offensive with little warning and could maintain the initial pressure of the attacks for some time.

"The United Nations forces have not been idle during the last 10 months. The result of operations has been that the United Nations has air superiority over the immediate battle area."

U.S. Dollar Down

MONTREAL, May 28 — (CP)— The United States dollar today opened at a discount of 1 1/16 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, down 1/32 from Tuesday's close. That is, it took $0.98 5/16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.74 down ¼ from Tuesday.

AVERAGE PHONE USER

The average telephone in Canada is used for five outgoing and five incoming calls each day.

False Alarm

DUNLOE, Ireland — (CP)—A rumor that foot-and-mouth disease had been discovered in this country Donegal area brought a veterinary surgeon in a hurry. He found the animal concerned was suffering from a potato stuck in its throat.

Pullet's Masterpiece

BELLEVILLE, Ont.—(CP)— A five-and-a-half-month-old pullet on the farm of Orville May surpassed itself by laying a huge egg with four yolks. It never did it before, and it's been laying the ordinary type of egg since.

Board Ordered Audit Halted

WINDSOR, May 28 (CP)—An accounting firm's examination of East Windsor Hospital's Christmas Cheer Fund was stopped in 1947 on the orders of the hospital's governing board, an Ontario investigating commission was told today.

H. A. Scarff of the Windsor firm of Brokenshire, Scarff and Company, told the commission his firm had started in 1946 to examine the Christmas fund records but discontinued the examination early in 1947 following an order approved by a hospital board majority.

He said the Brokenshire firm had been auditing the hospital's books for some years.

Arthur A. Macdonald, chief counsel for the investigating body, asked: "Why shouldn't an audit be made as a matter of course without instructions?"

Mr. Scarff said that Dr. P. J. G. Morgan, superintendent of the hospital, and Mrs. Madeline Campbell, nursing supervisor, "held that the Christmas Cheer Fund was not an operation of the hospital but of the employees, with the hospital board not having any jurisdiction." The board had agreed with this view.

Cut Phone Service

The Red German regime cut all telephone service Tuesday between Berlin and the Russian sector and some long-distance lines to the west.

The visa formula requires all Germans to get an East German permit before stepping on Russian soil which covers the 100 miles between Berlin and the west. Commenting on the latest Red moves, a senior Allied official said:

"They have now arranged things so that we have the alternative of slowly watching West Berlin wither away, put the entire place on the dole (relief) or start up an airlift (as was done in 1948-49). If they claim the skies above their heads, too, that's it."

Bridge Collapses North Of Apsley

Collapse of the Booth bridge, linking Highway 28 and the Apsley-Coe Hill township road, has temporarily cut off one of the road links with Coe Hill.

The 40-foot wooden bridge collapsed after a heavy truck, loaded with rock fill, passed over it.

Booth bridge is about six miles north of Apsley. It has wooden trusses and flooring but masonry abutments. One of the spruce trusses at one end collapsed under the weight and that end of the bridge fell into Eel's Creek.

Agile pedestrians, clinging to a wooden guard rail, can get over the stream but motor traffic is cut off entirely. Motorists wanting to go to or come from Coe Hill must use another road.

It canont be fixed for another week. In the meanwhile County Engineer Jack Kean is looking around for a replacement—preferably a metal bridge.

Want Story Of Uprising In POW Camps

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—Demands arose in both United States Congressional and military circles today for a fuller explanation of a whole series of Communist uprisings in the Koje prisoner-of-war camps.

Senator Styles Bridges (Rep. N. H.) said he wants a Senate investigation to show whether Gen. Matthew B Ridgway "should share in the blame for the disgraceful, astounding conditions at Koje."

Military leaders here have asked the Fast East command to explain how, with so much previous violence in the stockades, the Communists were permitted to get as far out of hand as they did this month.

Bridges said he was far from satisfied with Ridgway's testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee last week. Other members of the group said they have been amazed by disclosures since that private meeting with the former Far East commander.

Ridgway testified while en route to his new assignment as supreme Allied commander in Europe. He was quoted as saying he knew of only two major disorders in the camp both this spring, before the Reds seized the camp commander as a hostage early this month.

Truth Coming Out

"The truth is now coming out little by little," Bridges said. "And I am not going to be satisfied until we get the whole truth as to who was responsible."

"It is too difficult to imagine camp commanders allowing such conditions without either orders or at least encouragement from their superiors."

Bridges, the Senate Republican floor leader, told a reporter he expects the Armed Services Committee of which he is a member to order a full-scale inquiry.

Senator Richard Russell (Dem. Ga.), the committee chairman, said he will ask the group to decide whether an investigation is warranted.

The army here was asked about a demand in Congress for Cols. Francis T. Dodd and Charles F. Colson to appear for questioning on Capitol Hill. An Army spokesman said he believed no specific time had been fixed for their arrival.

Refuses To Stand For Moderatorship

TORONTO, May 28 (CP) —The Rev. J. R. Mutchmor, secretary of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service of the United Church of Canada, said today he will not let his name stand as a nominee for the moderatorship of the United Church of Canada. Some presbyteries have already nominated Dr. Mutchmor.

Cobourg Council Sets Aside Residential Area

COBOURG, May 28 (ENS). — Town Council Tuesday night passed a resolution setting aside two areas in the town for the erection of residential dwellings only, the areas being in the southeast of the town below King St. and the northwest above Elgin St. The mayor explained that this was done pending the passage of a zoning bylaw.

The Department of Planning and Development favored the temporary municipal legislation to safeguard residential areas until the zoning bylaw was passed and also felt that Hamilton township should be on the planning board, Mayor J. D. Burnet said.

A letter from Burley Bus Lines of Port Hope advised council that the bus line wished to secure a franchise to provide a bus service with the Cobourg town limits. It was decided to grant the bus line permission to have a representative at the next council meeting to discuss it.

A petition from property owners on Rankin Blvd. for a 205-foot storm sewer to be paid for on a basis of the town paying 25 per cent and the householders 75 per cent, was referred to the town engineer.

Council authorized the school board to sell about 62 feet on the west side of the Niles property, including the house now on that part of the property. The rest of it, around 50 feet on the east side, is to be added to the school playground. The board was also given permission to buy 50 feet of the McCurdy property, directly south of the Niles property, for playground purposes.

A letter from the Bell Telephone Co. asked council as to the intentions of the town to widen Division St. out to the town limits, to conform with the widening of highway 45 just north of Cobourg. Reason for the request for information was that the Bell Telephone were going to instal telephone poles and didn't want to have to move them again for widening of the highway. On motion the letter was referred to the town solicitor for advice.

8 Socialist Thinkers Give Britons 'New Fabian Essays'

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 28 (CP) —Sixty-three years ago a group of socialist intellectuals, known as the Fabians, issued a series of essays which shattered Victorian complacency and left a lasting political imprint. Now a new generation of socialists seeks to take up where the Fabians left off.

The original essays, largely inspired by Sidney Webb and edited by George Bernard Shaw, provided the ideas which gave British socialism its charter and contributed materially to the modern welfare state. The current contribution, entitled "New Fabian Essays," come from eight leading socialist thinkers of the present day, all of them largely engrossed with one main question.

Former Labor Premier Clement Attlee spells out that question in a preface to the new volume. Attlee says that the 1889 essays, written in the climate of Victorian England, marked the beginning of the new approach to socialism.

Now, he says, where do we go from here?

The authors would probably admit that their answer does not pretend to be all-embracing, clear cut or specific. They discuss current problems mainly on a philosophical level and the things they say are viewpoints rather than the starting point for a new political philosophy.

Moderation Urged

In the opening essay, for instance, Richard Crossman, who is often identified with the left wing of the Labor party in parliament, says the new dynamic viewpoint his party seeks can only be obtained by a party "which challenges the status quo on grounds of principle and uses the theory to expose the inadequacy of tradition as a guide to action."

Crossman's arguments, not easily summarized, include the idea that exploitation and slavery should be regarded as the normal state of man, interspersed by brief epochs of liberty.

"Freedom is always in danger," he writes, "and the majority of mankind will always acquiesce in its loss, unless a minority is willing to challenge the privileges of the few and the apathy of the masses."

The western Socialist, therefore, should beware of a totalitarianism either of Right or Left and the role of the British Labor movement should be to furnish an example of this "critical humanism" in action.

More specifically, Grossman urges labor to influence the United States to revert to the "moderate policies" of the Marshall Plan period, to seek to limit their arms program and "to take the risk in Asia and Africa of leaving unfilled the political vacuum left by the dismantling of the old European empires."

Dead End

Other essays in the new volume include an appeal by Denis Healey, labor research expert, for a more realistic approach by the party to foreign affairs and a call by John Strachey, one-time food minister, for increased aid to under-developed areas.

In general, the new essays have not been expansively praised. Individual comments have been singled out as stimulating, but the general verdict of the disinterested critic seems to be that Fabianism has reached a dead end, temporarily at least.

Pair Plead Guilty To Causing Ruckus

Albert Odette, 352 Armstrong Dr., and Keneth Moher, 295 Lake St., both 18, pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance on Stewart St., Monday night when they appeared in police court Tuesday afternoon.

Odette, who is wanted by military authorities for being absent without leave, was remanded until Friday at the request of Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw.

Moher was fined $15 and $2.50 costs.

Two Cars Damaged

CAMPBELLFORD, May 28 — (ENS)—Two vehicles were badly damaged but no one was injured Saturday night when a car driven by 21-year-old Raymond Yeo of Toronto, travelling north on No. 30 Highway at Trent river crashed into the rear of a car driven by Arthur King, 54, of Havelock.

Breaks Knee-Cap

CAMPBELLFORD, May 28 — (ENS) — Fifty-three-year-old Thomas McAvella of Campbellford suffered a broken knee cap Tuesday morning in an accident at the Gair Company of Canada pulp mill here where he is employed. Following X-rays at the Campbellford Hospital, Mr. McAvella was taken to Peterborough for treatment.

Two Men Drowned When Canoe Upsets

SAULT STE MARIE, May 28 — (CP)—Two men were drowned Tuesday night when their canoe upset in Twin lakes, near Ranger River 60 miles north of here.

Fred Eismolian, 32, of Spanish, and Herbert Shelo, 29, of Kalamazoo, Mich., were drowned. A third man, Gerrit Lemmen, 31, of Holland, Mich., swam to shore.

Provincial Police said they intend to fly in to the area today with dragging equipment in an attempt to recover the bodies.

Settle Lawsuit

COBOURG, May 28 (ENS) — Settlement was reached Tuesday in the $100,000 damage action brought against Dr. W. E. Wilkins of Cobourg by Mrs. Violet Moore of Cobourg, widow of Fred Moore. Minutes of settlement are to be filed and the amount of the settlement was not revealed. Mr. Moore died in the office of Dr. Wilkins after an extraction of teeth early this year. No evidence was taken in the case. The action was on the list of the non-jury sittings of the Supreme Court of Ontario before Mr. Justice McLennan.

Must Broaden Scope

LONDON, May 28 — (AP) — Aircraft-maker Sir Frederick Handley Page said today it would be catastrophic for Britain to build only fighter planes, leaving the United States to produce troop transports and long-range bombers. "We cannot allow an ally, no matter how closely linked we may be, to provide the force which in wartime is vital to our existence," Handley Page said in his company's annual report.

Not Optimistic

LONDON, May 28 (Reuters)— Lieut.-Cmdr. Gurney Braithwaite, parliamentary secretary to Britain's Transport Ministry, said Tuesday that Britain "may well go the way of babylon, Greece, Egypt and Rome." He told a Conservative Association meeting that the last 50 years had seen "a depressing story of the fall of a great nation from its highest ideals, and there is no guarantee that history will not repeat itself."

Chief Convicted

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., May 28 —(AP)—Ray Sturgis, 40, police chief of New Haven, Mich., was convicted Tuesday night of desertion from the army and sentenced to 15 years by a court martial. Sturgis was accused of deserting the army in 1944. Last March 12, police caught up with him at New Haven.

Robertson To UNESCO

CAMPBELLFORD, May 28 — (ENS)—Dr. Fred G. Robertson of Cobourg, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Northumberland, has been selected to be a member of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations Economic and Social Council being held in New York. The council convened on May 20 and is expected to last about six weeks.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., May 28 — (AP)—Joseph Arena told police Tuesday that someone broke into his stall at the public market and stole a 100-pound sack of potatoes. He said nothing else was taken.

400 Ministers Laymen At Conference

LINDSAY, May 28 (Staff) —Approximately 400 ministerial and lay delegates attended the opening session of the 28th Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada held in Cambridge United Church, Lindsay, Tuesday morning.

The four-day conference was officially opened by Dr. H. A. Kent, principal of Queen's Theological College, Kingston, and immediate past president of the conference. The 1951-52 president, the Rev. J. E. Griffith was unable to attend the conference due to illness.

The conference area extends east of Brockville, west to Pickering, and north to Haliburton and is composed of the following seven presbyteries: Belleville, Cobourg, Kingston, Lindsay, Oshawa, Peterborough and Renfrew.

The work of the conference is being done in 15 sessional committees, which will present reports to the delegates as a whole at later conference sessions.

The Rev. Alfred Poulter, chairman of the settlement committee reported during Tuesday's session that 20 ministers had been transferred into the Bay of Quinte conference and 21 ministers had been transferred into other conferences.

Lay delegates to the conference from the Peterborough presbytery were:

John Barnes, 720 Frank St.; G. A. Brethen, Norwood; L. Bistow, 54 Morrow St.; Frank Buckham, South Monaghan, C. S. Cummer, 515 Homewood Ave.; A. E. DeNure, R.R. 3, Peterborough; R. F. The C.C.F. Fights A Good Fight

Now that the Prime Minister's proposal to establish a National Library has won so many high-minded addresses of approbation from representatives of all parties, we hope that Parliament will be in a mood to give some intelligent attention to a campaign carried on by Mr. R. R. Knight, C.C.F. member for Saskatoon, for a reconsideration of the taxes affecting books in this country. The situation at present is this: some books enter Canada duty free, but others pay excise; all books pay the 10 per cent. sales tax. Mr. Knight argues that all books should be free of excise and sales tax, and we think that he is right. Books are still the greatest educators, and any form of taxation which limits the acquirement of books by Canadians should be reconsidered.

• • •

It is not satisfactory to exempt some books from tax, and to tax others, for reading one book leads to another, and the reading of books which appear to be of little value may lead—indeed, has often led—to serious and productive study. At present books in certain categories are exempt from excise: technical books, art books, medical books and books in foreign languages are so exempt, but all pay sales tax.

• • •

It is an odd fact, also, that the Customs authorities are permitted to act as censors, and this leads to many curious decisions. Mr. M. J. Coldwell, in an admirable address on the National Library proposal, told of some delay in procuring a copy of a book on socialism by Ramsay Macdonald, although Macdonald had, at the time, been Prime Minister of Britain. The present writer has met with Customs resistance when importing a book written in Latin—because it was in a foreign language, and therefore possibly subversive! The Customs must not be blamed or unduly mocked for their strange attitude toward books; to ask them to act as censors and guardians of public morals is to demand the impossible. That is not their metier.

• • •

In its attitude toward books, and we are tempted to say, in matters generally relating to culture, the C.C.F. is the most serious and enlightened party in Canada. Its leader, and several of its members, are always ready to break a lance in any conflict which might advance the intellectual growth of the country. But unhappily, many Canadians whose political views are so rigid that they cannot see good in another party's good ideas, pay little heed to the C.C.F. when it is, in fact, ahead of the other parties in the Commons. In this proposal to reconsider Canadian taxation as it relates to books, the C.C.F. is asking for assistance to education, which the Government of the day has been encouragingly ready to give in other directions. We hope that Mr. Knight will be heard without party prejudice, and that Canada's growing national conscience will demand a change in taxation on these basic instruments of enlightenment.

1,360,000,000 Volts

Whether one is fascinated by the new developments in mathematical physics or frightened by them, one cannot remain indifferent to them. One cannot, for instance, be indifferent to a machine which produces atomic particles of the incredible energy of 1,360,000,000 volts. Such a machine, a giant "cosmotron" did that last week in its first successful operation at a laboratory of the American Atomic Energy Commission on Long Island. The scientists celebrated the occasion with champagne.

The "cosmotron" is a huge circular vacuum tube 65 feet in diameter, and beside it is a powerful electro-magnet. A stream of protrons, "the cores of hydrogen atoms" is introduced into the tube, having been built up already by a generator to an energy of three and a half million volts. The operation of the magnetic field causes the protons to whizz round and round the circular tube until they build an energy of over a thousand million volts and a speed of 175,000 miles a second (which is within five or seven per cent. of the speed of light).

That is the explanation of the "cosmotron" process which has been given to us. Its function is to extend atomic research into hitherto impossible fields—producing streams of energy which have formerly been known to exist only in the mysterious cosmic rays. By bombarding different substances, new forms of radioactive energy may be created. The mysterious force which holds together the particles at the nucleus of an atom may be discovered (for particles which have no known reason for cohering yet do; and when broken apart produce the explosion of the atomic bomb. Incidentally, there is now a dreamer's possibility of reversing the process that goes on in the atom bomb: to create atoms by putting together the fundamental neutrons and protons which form the bomb's nucleus.

What is the world coming to? Nobody knows—not even the scientists who opened a bottle of champagne last week to celebrate the first working of the "cosmotron."

The Raw Edge Of Paganism

There is to be a referendum in British Columbia on June 12 to decide whether cocktail bars will be permitted there. If the B.C. people choose to have them we expect that they will be much like similar establishments in Ontario—places where people can buy a variety of drinks by the glass, and where drunkenness is discouraged by the proprietor who is anxious to keep his license clean. But to the Rev. R. S. Christie of Vancouver, assistant secretary of the board of evangelism and social services of the United Church, this matter is of the gravest significance. He asked a conference of his church in Alberta last week to support those in B.C. who opposed the cocktail bars, saying: "British Columbia is faced with the raw edge of paganism—more so than Alberta; if we lose the fight there you will be fighting it all the sooner in this province."

We are interested in Mr. Christie's highly classical and correct use of the word "pagan"; in the earliest days of Christianity it meant simply "civilian," and was opposed to the word "miles," meaning a soldier; Christians regarded themselves then as enlisted and militant soldiers of Christ. They did not, however, hurl their fighting power against such foes as cocktail lounges; they had more important enemies.

All churches oppose drunkenness, as they oppose any abuse of the body or spirit; comparatively few churches, however, in the total Christian community, oppose the ordinary and moderate use of liquors, and it is a safe guess that a majority of Christians use them to some degree. Are cocktail lounges really "the raw edge of paganism"? If we had to choose between them, and laws which make it necessary for people to buy liquor by the bottle, and to drink it in a bedroom if they consume it in a hotel, we would consider the latter the more uncivilized and potentially harmful alternative.

Ontario people who sometimes visit British Columbia will watch the outcome on June 12 with interest. If what Mr. Christie considers righteousness should prevail, they will know that when next they go to Vancouver, they will have to take a bottle with them, or resort to various unpleasant shifts and lawbreakings when they want a drink. If the raw edge of paganism makes its appearance, they will be able to get a drink, legally, when they want it, and their minds will not be preoccupied with a consideration which does not really deserve so much importance.

Big Ship To Montreal

A short voyage of importance was made last week. It was only a 139-mile run but it had never been made before under the same conditions. The 26,300-ton Empress of Scotland, Canada's largest ship, ending a trans-Atlantic voyage, steamed from Quebec to Montreal. It was the first time the large passenger liner had done it, and she became the largest ship ever to dock in the world's largest inland port.

The white Empress navigated the eleven-hour run betwen the twisting St. Lawrence banks without running aground or butting herself on the bed of the river. There were about forty feet of water in the channel, the masts had been trimmed and 1,700 tons of fuel oil had been loaded in Quebec as a stabilizer for the big ship. Passengers got a thrill as the ship went under the Quebec bridge—it seemed impossible not to avoid a collision, but she surged under with eight feet to spare. Villagers along the banks cheered when the ship passed, and Montreal gave her a great ovation as she ended his historic voyage.

We are glad to see this indication of greater use of Montreal by passenger ships. Before the war it was quite easy to book passage directly from Montreal. During and since, owing to the sinking of liners and the great demand for passage, the shipping companies have concentrated on Quebec, Halifax or New York, so as to speed the time of the voyage. This season three Canadian Pacific and one Cunard liner are sailing from Montreal; and two Greek passenger ships also are using the port.

NOTES AND COMMENT

The Canadian Army now has 30,000 two-quart teapots, but there are still a lot of careless Army cooks who take the kettle to the pot instead of the pot to the kettle when infusing.

At the University of Montreal they have a device so delicate that it will weigh a fly's breath. And yet we still lack a machine which will tell whether a motorist is drunk or sober.

Cleverest People In The World

By PHILIP TOYNBEE

THE LAKE TRAFFIC from Lausanne to Montreux had been bad enough, where even the cautious Swiss drivers had been tempted to cut a dash. But Sunday evening on the shores of Lake Maggiore, among the Fiats racing home to Milan, was an unforgettable first impression of Italian high spirits. Unforgettable, too, was the hour-long queue of cars crawling towards a still temporary bridge. As we kept demurely in line, well-trained by a hundred virtuous queues in England, a chauffeur-driven Alfa-Romeo screeched across the path of the little car ahead of us. Trained, too, to know one's own rights I jumped out of our car, eager to join in the angry scene which should properly have broken out. But to my dismay this gross encroachment by the rich was accepted with a shrug. I looked at the grey washed-out face of the old millionaire in the back seat, and recognised it from the casino in Cannes, from the race-track in Cairo, from the Ritz and Paris—so much more typical of the bored rich than the left-wing posters of red jowls and a pot belly. In a moment he had leant forward to give his chauffeur further instruction, and the great custom-built motor car serenely left the queue and glided right past the long waiting line of traffic. No doubt the police on the bridge would recognise a face on which their jobs depended, and this encroachment would be endorsed by a salute.

✧ ✧ ✧

FORTY MILES FROM MILAN the road divided, and for a fee of one and six-pence we were allowed to take the Autostrada, instead of the fifty much slower miles of the old road. Here was Italian engineering at its marvellous best, a wide, well-surfaced road where infinite subtlety had been brought to bear on every curve and gradient.

✧ ✧ ✧

AFTER WITNESSING the old-fashioned droit de seigneur on the road, certainly an important and depressing side of Italian life to the visiting member of a welfare State, I confronted another national characteristic while talking to a hotel waiter that night in Milan. We were discussing prospects for the forthcoming international football match between Italy and England (played on Sunday, May 18), and now here in England, even on the subject of sport, had I heard such a high note of patriotic fervour. (I was to hear it again from the half-sobbing commentator during that exciting and evenly-matched game.) The waiter was not content with purely national patriotism. His enthusiasm embraced even the Italians of America, and it was with awe that he told me how Joe DiMaggio, the great American baseball star, had slept in the very bedroom which I had hired for the night. And wasn't the American football team, which had startlingly defeated England in the world championship two years ago composed almost entirely of American Italians?

So great and mutual is this sense of alliance between expatriates and the mother country that boat-loads of South American Italians are now returning simply in order to vote in the Trieste elections.

AFTER THE FRUSTRATION of a blocked coast road near Rapallo, and a three-hour detour through the mountains, the road was fast and smooth again between Pisa and Rome. But the lumbering old car was not to be so easily placated, and a spring broke with a sickening twang as we were travelling at a sprightly forty-five miles an hour. In an instant the broken fragment of useless metal had been collected by an assiduous peasant, and brought up to where we had halted. My Italian hardly exists, but the phrase "cinque bambini" (five children) made his meaning plain enough, and even if he were really a bachelor, there was no doubt that he had a more urgent use for the fifty lire than I had.

✧ ✧ ✧

VAST LORRIES with trailers were now the principal problem, as the badly-listing car hobbled towards Rome. At one point there had been a head-on collision between two of these, and the blocked traffic was in a state of hopeless though good-humoured confusion. A tall, military-looking Englishman quickly saw an opportunity for playing his traditional role among foreigners, and, without a word of Italian, he deftly sorted out the confusion and achieved a free passage, at least in his own direction. As this was our direction, too, I felt nothing but admiration for his intervention.

✧ ✧ ✧

AND THEN, with amazing suddenness, unprepared by congealing suburbs, we were lurching past the Vatican walls to the Tiber. The pleasure and excitement of looking anywhere except directly at the road ahead was denied me, and my first real impression of Rome was the inside of a small workshop where I had taken the injured car. In England, as I know from experience, the job would have been refused on the contemptuous grounds that the car was illegitimately old, and spare parts unobtainable. But these eager Italian mechanics were clearly delighted by the problem I had set them, and the car was jacked up before I had time to leave. They asked about three pounds and promised that the car would be ready in twenty-four hours. In fact, they later demanded another ten shillings, but even at this price it was a bargain, and, so it seems at the time of writing, a job well done. Italy must surely be the country of the greatest natural mechanical genius in the world.

✧ ✧ ✧

AFTER A WEEK in Rome one is tempted simply to say that the Italians are the cleverest people in the world, in every field. In conversation their ingenuities, even in French or English, are bewildering. Everything that they do, with the depressingly vital exception of their social organisation, seems to be done with a skill and subtlety which makes England seem heavy and pedestrian. If they should ever match this in their politics, they will be a vitally important ally for whichever of the two world forces they decide to prefer.

Japan's "Saulte"

(Sault Ste. Marie Star)

How a cabaret in Kure, Japan, came to be named "Saulte St. Marie" is something of a mystery. But it isn't necessary to go that far to find the name similarly mis-spelled.

United States' Election Guide

A Glossary of Terms and Phrases Compiled by Kenneth Harris.

THE PARTIES

DEMOCRATS—Regarded as the party of the progressives, though most Democrats from the Southern States—the "Dixiecrats"—advocate racial and economic policies which are more conservative than those of most Republicans. Holding the Presidency, 56 out of 96 seats in the Senate, and 235 out of 435 seats in the House of Representatives. In the 1948 Presidential election, Mr. Truman polled roughly 24,000,000 votes.

REPUBLICANS—Regarded as the conservative party. Have not elected a President since Mr. Hoover (1928). In 1948, Mr. Dewey polled nearly 22,000,000 votes.

OTHER PARTIES—Four groups shared almost 3,000,000 votes in 1948.

THE CANDIDATES

Democratic

ESTES KEFAUVER, Senator from the State of Tennessee. Domestically, Roosevelt New Dealer (very progressive), though opposed to Federal Government compelling individual States to end discrimination against Negroes. Internationally, supporter of the Administration's foreign policy, and Atlantic Unionist.

ROBERT KERR, Senator from Oklahoma. Domestically, middle-of-the-roader. Internationally, Administration supporter.

BRIAN McMAHON, Senator from Connecticut. Domestically, progressive. Internationally, Administration supporter.

RICHARD RUSSELL: Senator from Georgia. Domestically, most liberal and progressive of the Dixiecrats. Internationally, Administration supporter.

AVERELL HARRIMAN, President Truman's Director for Mutual Security. Domestically, Roosevelt New Dealer. Internationally, Administration supporter.

 ADLAI STEVENSON, Governor of Illinois, has refused to declare himself a candidate for the Presidency, but he is the choice so far of the party leaders. Domestically, middle-of-the-road progressive. Internationally, Administration supporter.

Republican

GENERAL DWIGHT EISENHOWER. Domestically, believed to be a strong conservative. Internationally, has supported Administration.

ROBERT TAFT. Senator from Ohio. Domestically, conservative. Internationally, voted against Nato, supported General MacArthur, and criticised Administration's foreign policy on financial grounds. Not a classic isolationist.

HAROLD STASSEN, President of the University of Pennsylvania. Domestically, progressive-conservative. Internationally, follows Eisenhower.

EARL WARREN, Governor of California. Domestically, very progressive, more so than most Democrats. Internationally, follows Eisenhower.

STATE PRIMARIES

Preliminary election held by the party organizations within individual States to choose local officials and candidates for elective local government offices, but also to do either or both of the following:—

(a) Enable the party members to vote on whom they would like to see as the national party's candidate in the Presidential election.

(b) Enable them to choose the delegates who will represent the State at the national party convention, where the Presidential candidate will be elected.

Type (a) is the "Presidential Preference Primary." In some States the voters' preference is binding on the delegates, who, therefore, go to the convention "instructed." In others it is merely "advisory."

Type (b) is the "Delegates' Primary." In some States would-be delegates must state in advance of the primary which candidate they favor. When so elected they are "pledged delegates."

Some States who send an "uninstructed" delegation to the national convention allow the delegates to vote as they please. In other States the chairman of the delegation may direct the members how they are to vote.

Primary elections are mandatory in 15 States, optional in four. The first was held in New Hampshire on March 11. The last will be those of California and South Dakota on June 3.

Since primaries are local elections, and since candidates tend to run in primaries where they think they will do well and avoid those where they may be beaten, there is some discussion as to what light primary results throw on the question of which candidate will get the nomination at the convention. The primaries, however, provide clues to the number of delegates which a candidate can expect to be solidly behind him on the eve of the convention, and to the relative popularity of candidates in certain key States. Of the Republican Party's 1,206 national convention delegates, 608 are chosen in primaries; of the Democrats' 1,230, 570.

STATE CONVENTIONS

Those States which do not hold primaries arrange for the county committees of the party organisation to send representatives to district conventions, which later send representatives to the State convention, where the State's delegates to the national convention are chosen. Some States insist that the delegates vote to the orders of the chairman, others let their delegations go to the convention "split."

NATIONAL CONVENTIONS

This year both parties will hold their conventions at Chicago, the Republicans opening on July 7, and the Democrats on July 21. The main business of the convention is to nominate the party's Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates—the party ticket—and to draw up the party's election programme—the party platform.

REPRESENTATION—Each States is represented by a delegation roughly proportionate to its population. New York, for instance, sends 96 delegates to the Republican convention, 94 to the Democratic. New Hampshire sends 14 to the Republican, and eight to the Democratic.

BALLOT.—If no candidate wins a majority in the first vote, or ballot, balloting continues until enough delegates desert their original choice to assist somebody else to get a majority. Fewer than half a dozen ballots are usually enough to get a candidate nominated, though in 1924 104 ballots were cast at the Democratic convention.

FAVOURITE SON.—Somebody who may or may not be a major candidate for the nomination, but who arrives at the convention with his State's delegates solidly behind him and not committed to any other candidate. In the event of a prolonged deadlock between major candidates, a favourite son—or "dark horse"—may win the nomination as Mr. Harding did in 1920.

THE NOMINATION goes to the first candidate who gets more than half the total vote, 604 if he is a Republican, 616 if he is a Democrat.

THE ELECTION

Technically when the people of a State go to the polls in the so-called Presidential election in November, they do not vote directly for either of the national Presidential candidates but for a list or "slate" of State electors, knowing that whichever of the two is elected, it will by custom cast its votes for the national canoidate of the party it has been chosen to represent.

After the so-called Presidential election is over in November the victorious 48 slates of State electors meet in the Electoral College and cast their votes formally for Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates.

Since it is the popular vote in a State which decides whether Republican or Democratic electors represent that State in the Electoral College, and since the number of electors per State—roughly proportionate to population—has been previously laid down by law, the results of the national voting in the November election indicate who will be formally chosen President when the College meets the following month.

Letter To The Editor

MISTAKE TO DEMOLISH

Sir: I see our City Council has decided to demolish the old city hall. An injunction should be taken out at once by the tax-payers to stop it. Here is a building that could not be replaced for at least $250,000. The attitude taken by our city councillors is—"We cannot get a buyer or a tenant." No wonder when they expect to sell it all in a lump or rent it accordingly.

One of the biggest mistakes made by our council was the doing away with the old City Trust and putting the authority into the hands of one man who runs the city, not the Council. If we had the old City Trust running things under the able leadership of Mr. Vincent Eastwood there would be five stores for rent, which should show a revenue of at least $18,000 a year for the first floor, and not only that, but stores larger than some of the stores on George Street.

The building is steam-heated. Our City Council refused to allow property owners a chance to vote on a site for our new City Hall and instead paid out at least $100,000 more than necessary had it been built in the block—King George-Sherbrooke and Water Streets, and would have been more centrally located, besides doing away with about $8,000 a year in taxes.

Supposing they spend money to put in a new furnace and also any rewiring, it is adding to the value of the building. As regards the second floor it could be rented as offices. Where are all the families on the Hatton property going to live when they have to move? No doubt many of these families would be glad to rent five or six heated rooms.

I was told by a real estate man that a well-known business man on Water St. had made an offer to buy the former city clerk's office and police station. If his offer was reasonable, sell it and rent the space left, which could easily be made into four stores.

Alderman Doug. Miller says we are not in the real estate business. If they are not, what do you call the Isolation Hospital, the market building, the hall and store-room on Hunter St. E., and to top it all, buying land in the north end and going to sell building lots? Our Aldermen may be good business men in their own business, but they have not shown it in a number of transactions in the last number of years.

When I predicted a mill rate of more than 60 to 65 mills for 1952, I was not far wrong, and unless our council does not curtail things you can look for around 70 mills for 1953.

I wish to congratulate ex-Alderman Norman Graham on the stand he took, and explanations given in The Examiner. What the tax-payers and owners want to do is to elect him as head of the poll, and four others to support him in December. Congratulations are also due to Dr. Langley on his stand at the Utilities Commissioners' meeting.

Trusting that some action will be taken on the above and thanking you for your space.

OSCAR S. MATCHETT.

Says Investigator Causing Staff Trouble

WINDSOR, May 28 (CP). — Gordon Fraser, head of a provincial government commission inquiring into the affairs of East Windsor Hospital, was told today a commission investigator is "causing dissention at the hospital."

Norman Mathews, representing the interest of hospital superintendent Dr. P. J. G. Morgan, charged that a "Mr. Hammond" had been telling hospital nurses that some of the institution's supervisors have criminal records.

"This man, who has been retained by the commission . . . as an investigator . . . has told several nurses that other members of the staff, including some of the superintendents, have been guilty of various offences and that some have criminal records.

Causes Trouble

"This can do only one thing—cause dissension at the hospital."

Mr. Mathews said that at the request of the John Howard Society—an institution devoted to the rehabilitation of persons with criminal records—the hospital "had taken on people who have been in trouble and who are endeavouring to rehabilitate themselves."

It was "discouraging to them and harmful to the hospital . . . to have someone going to the nurses and telling them that a certain supervisor did so-and-so."

Arthur A. Macdonald, chief counsel for the commission, admitted that "Mr. Hammond" was employed by the commission but stated the man had "experience and wisdom" in making investigations. He would be surprised to learn, he said, that the investigator had "transgressed beyond the range of his duties.

The inquiry was ordered March 12 by Attorney-General Porter when an audit showed the hospital lost $62,000 in 1951. It is continuing.

LONG TRIP ALONE—Little Snefrid Ax ,eight, of Oslo, is shown arriving in Montreal from Halifax to complete more than half of her unaccompanied 7,490-mile sea and rail trip to join her parents. They moved from Norway to Quesnel, B.C., last January. The little traveller here receives her passport and other papers from a railway official. She covered 4,000 miles of the journey by ship and will travel 3,490 miles by train.

Two Trustees Resign In Row Over Principal

VITTORIA, Ont., May 28 (CP) —Trustees G. W. Oakes and Ambrose Franks resigned from the school board Tuesday following the board's decision to retain public school principal William F. Orchard.

The two trustees had earlier requested Mr. Orchard's resignation. Mr. Oakes' wife also resigned Tuesday as janitor of the school, a position which pays $60 a month.

Following the request for Mr. Orchard's resignation, pupils staged a protest parade and ratepayers at a meeting last Friday voted to retain Mr. Orchard. Jean Richards and Hilda Houlding, teachers at the school, resigned Monday.

Vittoria is 30 miles south of Brantford.

Mount Pleasant W.A. Holds May Meeting

MOUNT PLEASANT, May 28.—The May meeting of the Women's Association of the United Church was held in the church, with an attendance of 23. Mrs. Gordon McLean presided.

Mrs. T. Graham took the devotional topic, "The Good Samaritan," assisted by Mrs. J. Fee, who gave the scripture reading.

The secretary was asked to write an acceptance to the invitation to Fairmount, June 4.

The date set for the garden party was Thursday, July 3. Mrs. J. Fee reported on the W.A. convention held in Wesley United Church.

Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Jamieson were responsible for the program. Readings were given by Mrs. E. Lawson, Mrs. A. Bland, Mrs. W. H. Lowes, Mrs. E. McLean, Mrs. S. Tully and Mrs. D. Lawson. A pleasing variation to the program was a duet by the Rev. A. E. and Mrs. Larke.

Mrs. C. Morden and Mrs. W. H. Lowes, assisted by Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Whitmore, served ice cream and cake.

The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. Bland.

Trade Measure Before Congress Unfair To Canada—CMA Head

By FORBES RHUDE.

TORONTO, May 28 — (CP).—Hugh Crombie, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said today a measure before the United States House of Representatives, would be contrary to the provisions of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade negotiated in Geneva in 1947.

Addressing the association's annual general meeting, he said the Bill would allow the president to place import controls over all types of goods, including agricultural commodities.

The measure, he stated, is far broader than the measure which expires June 30, which placed import restrictions in fats and oils, also contrary to the provisions of G.A.T.T. Further:

"The U.S. has not yet implemented its undertaking to change its customs valuation laws and other administrative provisions, to conform to G.A.T.T.," although a measure is before Congress.

File Protests

He noted, too, that the United Kingdom, Italy, Denmark and other European countries have filed with the U.S. government protests against any increases in tariffs under the so-called "escape clause" of the U.S. reciprocal Trade Agreements Act.

Under the clause, he said, applications have been made to the U.S. Tariff Commission by American producers for tariff increases or quota regulations in regard to a variety of items.

"The C.M.A.," said Mr. Crombie, "has asked and is asking the Canadian government for adequate protection against unfair competition and the dumping of goods made in other countries in the Canadian market; and that no further reductions be made in tariff rates on goods now manufactured in Canada . . .

"It appears to me that Canada has given a lot in some regards, and got little back in return, particularly vis-a-vis the United States."

Mr. Crombie's remarks were made in the course of his report to the Association as President for the last year.

Highest Hurdle

Concerning inflation and the recent drop in the cost of living, he said "maybe we have jumped the highest hurdle."

However: "Some students have predicted a period of rising prices in Canada 'for as far ahead as human vision can see.' I am not sure how far this may be, but in more measurable terms it might be safe to say that no one now living will ever see the dollar again buy what it bought in 1940."

He advocated increased productivity which "implies a higher volume of production out of a given amount of resources—raw materials, tools and manpower.

"Replacement of obsolete tools by new and modern tools is one of the more obvious ways of achieving it. It is not, as some trade unionists seem to assume, just another word for 'speed-up'."

Wrong Impression

Mr. Crombie said the association "again made representations recently to provincial authorities pointing out that unless steps were taken to enforce the law against mass picketing, there was danger that both strikers and public would get the idea that strikers were within their rights in besetting struck premises and preventing the entry not merely of factory workers but of office and even maintenance staff.

He urged that Canada process more of her raw materials, instead of exporting them in raw form.

"If we, as Canadians, are not satisfied to accept the role of hewers of wood and drawers of water for our neighbors in the United States, there are two things we can do:

"One is to process our raw materials to the greatest extent possible by building up manufacturing industries. The other is to build up Canada through large-scale immigration, and thus provide a larger domestic market for the products of our farms, forests, factories and mines . . . more immigration, not less, is the cure for enemployment."

In regard to investment and taxation, he said:

"If the government takes too much in taxes, a corporation must either postpone plant expansion or seek additional equity capital; and if individual income taxes are also high, the individual is unable to save money and has no money to invest."

Norwood Church Has 101st Anniversary

NORWOOD, May 28 (ENS). — Congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church celebrated 101st anniversary on Sunday. The Norwood high school Cadet Corps pre-inspection church parade headed by the Lakefield Cadet Band attended the morning service. The guest speaker was the Rev. L. H. Fowler, M.A., B.D., Port Hope.

A selection "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer," was sung by the Misses Shirley Godin, Shirley Davey, Leona Gordon, Janet Burtt and Ruth Davey.

The choir also rendered the anthem, "The Name of Jesus."

At the evening service Mr. Fowler based his sermon on Acts 16, Paul's Call to Macedonia. The Rev. H. K. Wright of the United Church read the scripture reading. The anthem of the evening was "Jesus Lover of My Soul."

There was also a quartette composed of Mr. Fred Crate, Mr. Learl Humphries, Mr. R. R. Burnham, Hastings, and Mr. William Stairs of Norwood sang "Nearer My God To Thee."

For both services the church was filled to capacity.

Says Investigator Causing Staff Trouble

WINDSOR, May 28 (CP). — Gordon Fraser, head of a provincial government commission inquiring into the affairs of East Windsor Hospital, was told today a commission investigator is "causing dissention at the hospital."

Norman Mathews, representing the interest of hospital superintendent Dr. P. J. G. Morgan, charged that a "Mr. Hammond" had been telling hospital nurses that some of the institution's supervisors have criminal records.

"This man, who has been retained by the commission . . . as an investigator . . . has told several nurses that other members of the staff, including some of the superintendents, have been guilty of various offences and that some have criminal records.

Causes Trouble

"This can do only one thing—cause dissension at the hospital."

Mr. Mathews said that at the request of the John Howard Society—an institution devoted to the rehabilitation of persons with criminal records—the hospital "had taken on people who have been in trouble and who are endeavouring to rehabilitate themselves."

It was "discouraging to them and harmful to the hospital . . . to have someone going to the nurses and telling them that a certain supervisor did so-and-so."

Arthur A. Macdonald, chief counsel for the commission, admitted that "Mr. Hammond" was employed by the commission but stated the man had "experience and wisdom" in making investigations. He would be surprised to learn, he said, that the investigator had "transgressed beyond the range of his duties.

The inquiry was ordered March 12 by Attorney-General Porter when an audit showed the hospital lost $62,000 in 1951. It is continuing.

Two Trustees Resign In Row Over Principal

VITTORIA, Ont., May 28 (CP) —Trustees G. W. Oakes and Ambrose Franks resigned from the school board Tuesday following the board's decision to retain public school principal William F. Orchard.

The two trustees had earlier requested Mr. Orchard's resignation. Mr. Oakes' wife also resigned Tuesday as janitor of the school, a position which pays $60 a month.

Following the request for Mr. Orchard's resignation, pupils staged a protest parade and ratepayers at a meeting last Friday voted to retain Mr. Orchard. Jean Richards and Hilda Houlding, teachers at the school, resigned Monday.

Vittoria is 30 miles south of Brantford.

Mount Pleasant W.A. Holds May Meeting

MOUNT PLEASANT, May 28.—The May meeting of the Women's Association of the United Church was held in the church, with an attendance of 23. Mrs. Gordon McLean presided.

Mrs. T. Graham took the devotional topic, "The Good Samaritan," assisted by Mrs. J. Fee, who gave the scripture reading.

The secretary was asked to write an acceptance to the invitation to Fairmount, June 4.

The date set for the garden party was Thursday, July 3. Mrs. J. Fee reported on the W.A. convention held in Wesley United Church.

Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Jamieson were responsible for the program. Readings were given by Mrs. E. Lawson, Mrs. A. Bland, Mrs. W. H. Lowes, Mrs. E. McLean, Mrs. S. Tully and Mrs. D. Lawson. A pleasing variation to the program was a duet by the Rev. A. E. and Mrs. Larke.

Mrs. C. Morden and Mrs. W. H. Lowes, assisted by Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Whitmore, served ice cream and cake.

The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. Bland.

Trade Measure Before Congress Unfair To Canada—CMA Head

By FORBES RHUDE.

TORONTO, May 28 — (CP).—Hugh Crombie, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said today a measure before the United States House of Representatives, would be contrary to the provisions of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade negotiated in Geneva in 1947.

Addressing the association's annual general meeting, he said the Bill would allow the president to place import controls over all types of goods, including agricultural commodities.

The measure, he stated, is far broader than the measure which expires June 30, which placed import restrictions in fats and oils, also contrary to the provisions of G.A.T.T. Further:

"The U.S. has not yet implemented its undertaking to change its customs valuation laws and other administrative provisions, to conform to G.A.T.T.," although a measure is before Congress.

File Protests

He noted, too, that the United Kingdom, Italy, Denmark and other European countries have filed with the U.S. government protests against any increases in tariffs under the so-called "escape clause" of the U.S. reciprocal Trade Agreements Act.

Under the clause, he said, applications have been made to the U.S. Tariff Commission by American producers for tariff increases or quota regulations in regard to a variety of items.

"The C.M.A.," said Mr. Crombie, "has asked and is asking the Canadian government for adequate protection against unfair competition and the dumping of goods made in other countries in the Canadian market; and that no further reductions be made in tariff rates on goods now manufactured in Canada . . .

"It appears to me that Canada has given a lot in some regards, and got little back in return, particularly vis-a-vis the United States."

Mr. Crombie's remarks were made in the course of his report to the Association as President for the last year.

Highest Hurdle

Concerning inflation and the recent drop in the cost of living, he said "maybe we have jumped the highest hurdle."

However: "Some students have predicted a period of rising prices in Canada 'for as far ahead as human vision can see.' I am not sure how far this may be, but in more measurable terms it might be safe to say that no one now living will ever see the dollar again buy what it bought in 1940."

He advocated increased productivity which "implies a higher volume of production out of a given amount of resources—raw materials, tools and manpower.

"Replacement of obsolete tools by new and modern tools is one of the more obvious ways of achieving it. It is not, as some trade unionists seem to assume, just another word for 'speed-up'."

Wrong Impression

Mr. Crombie said the association "again made representations recently to provincial authorities pointing out that unless steps were taken to enforce the law against mass picketing, there was danger that both strikers and public would get the idea that strikers were within their rights in besetting struck premises and preventing the entry not merely of factory workers but of office and even maintenance staff.

He urged that Canada process more of her raw materials, instead of exporting them in raw form.

"If we, as Canadians, are not satisfied to accept the role of hewers of wood and drawers of water for our neighbors in the United States, there are two things we can do:

"One is to process our raw materials to the greatest extent possible by building up manufacturing industries. The other is to build up Canada through large-scale immigration, and thus provide a larger domestic market for the products of our farms, forests, factories and mines . . . more immigration, not less, is the cure for enemployment."

In regard to investment and taxation, he said:

"If the government takes too much in taxes, a corporation must either postpone plant expansion or seek additional equity capital; and if individual income taxes are also high, the individual is unable to save money and has no money to invest."

Lindsay Loses To U.E.W. In Men's Loop

John Boldwell twirled a strong game for U.E.W. in the nightcap of Tuesday's twin softball bill at the Bowl and enabled his team to defeat Lindsay Combines 3-1-3 and rack up their first win of the men's softball season.

Boldwell, also a new man this season locally, displayed great speed and a deceptive drop to hold Combines to a pair of lean hits over the nine-inning route, while his mates smote the offerings of Jack Kean and Haddy Eakins for 17 hits, including four triples and a double.

Harold Legrow flashed brilliant form at bat to lead the offensive with five hits, including a brace of triples, drove in seven runs and scored three; he walked once to complete a perfect card. Bruce Taylor possibly outshone all on the night with a sensational all round display of fielding and hitting for U.E.W. The fleet second-sacker had four for six, a double and triple, drove in two runs, scored three and had two putouts afield with four sparkling assists in a bang-up display. The fielding of Luther and Dalton also featured fast infield work by U.E.W.

Lindsay scored all three runs in the first frame as two errors and a temporary wild streak by Boldwell spelled trouble for the shop crew but the U.E. slab artist settled down to pitch shutout ball for the balance, despite the game efforts of Combines to solve his slants. Art Plumbton and John Eakins alone hit safely for Lindsay, the former rapping a double in the ninth.

OMHA Crests Ready For Hockey Champs

Windbreakers with O.M.H.A. provincial championship crests will be presented Thursday night to the Otonabee Wolves, Ontario bantam B winners, at a banquet in the Empress Hotel. They will also receive the city titular trophy at this time, having won out in the bantam division of the P.M.H.A. before going into O.M.H.A. bantam C playdowns. There, after taking two rounds, they were ordered to a higher category, but promptly put out Midland in B semi-finals, and then won the B title here over Brampton.

A number of O.M.H.A. officials and other guests will be on hand. Tickets may be had at the desk at the Empress for any of their many city and district followers who wish to attend the dinner and presentations at 6:30 that night. Manager George Heron, who handled the squad the past two years, is thinking of taking it into midget B ranks next season.

Royals Subdue Springfield

By The Associated Press.

Who's going to catch Montreal Royals in the International League pennant race?

When they don't win on pitching, they do it on power, and they've got a three-game lead over Rochester in their quest for a second straight pennant.

Pitcher Jim Romano couldn't hold a 4-1 lead against Springfield Tuesday night, so Jim Pendleton hit an inside-the-park homer, Walt Moryn hit one out of the park and the Royals won again, 10-5. Relief pitcher Art Fabbro won his fourth against one loss.

Rochester, meanwhile, broke a second-place deadlock with Syracuse by turning back Buffalo Bisons 7-4, while Syracuse was absorbing an 8-1 defeat from Toronto. Two veteran International League pitchers were the winners, Ellis (Cot) Deal for the Wings, and John Hetki for the Leafs.

Breaks Tie

Deal, an outfielder before he was converted to pitching, singled with the bases loaded to break a 4-4 tie and ensure his fourth win, against three losses. Hetki also did some hitting, getting three for five, and he scattered eight hits for his third straight victory. He has yet to lose.

Toronto and Syracuse now are tied for third, a game behind Rochester.

Ottawa belted out 19 hits to wallop Baltimore 12-3, and break their last-place tie with the Orioles. Stan Jok led the asasult with two homers and a single, while John Littrell had one four-bagger and three singles.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

In the first half of the President, Vice-President competition, played Tuesday evening, the vice-president's side gained a nine-point advantage. Maybe that will be enough to carry the vice-president's side to victory and maybe not. Group No. 2 will play out the second half on Thursday night.

As it was the first time some of the boys had been on the greens this year, the bowling might be considered good. In about a week or so we look for improvement.

Several bowlers are entered in the open doubles tournament today at Campbellford.

NORWOOD, May 28 (ENS).—In the recent ball tournament between Havelock, Campbellford, Marmora and Norwood, only the first game between Havelock and Campbellford was played, under difficulty. The game between Marmora and Norwood and the play-off game was called off until May 31 at two o'clock an account of rain.

In the first game between Campbellford and Havelock, the former were the winners by a count of 5-1.

St. John's Girls Win

St. John's girls won from Lakefield United 20-13 in a lively softball tilt on Monday. The winners scored nine in the first inning, adding three next time up, one in the third and seven more in the fourth. The losers counted 10 in a big first frame but were held scoreless then till they pushed across three in the fifth.

Lakefield: No lineup given.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

City and district soccer association is in process of reorganization now with Reg. Cox, George Anderson and Art O'Halloran the district O.F.A. committee. They have called an open practice of local and district players—including newcomers—for six tonight in King Edward Park. 'Tis hoped to line up three or four teams, one being from Lindsay. Season commences next Saturday eve at six in King Edward with an exhibition soccer match betwixt Lindsay and a Peterborough squad. U.E.W. is a local entry in the Eastern Ontario League, but we haven't had any word from their secretary for a couple of weeks now.

O.B.A. warns that affiliated teams cannot play against other ball clubs not affiliated without permission from Secretary Thomas Rowdon of 1 Geneva St., St. Catharines. Toronto, for instance, has not affiliated this year. Local teams are in the "A" category and must in playdowns make arrangements through these chairmen: Senior—Fred Young, 276 Lamonte Ave., Chippawa; junior—Archie Stirling, Stirling Block, Chatham; juvenile—George Sullivan, 41 Chatham St., Hamilton; midget—Earl Nickelson, Waterdown; bantam—Jack Loask, 51 Princess St., Fort Erie, Ont.; and peewee—Tim Turow, Preston, Ont. Many Will Recall Him

Ball and hockey fans here in the 1920s may recall Lawrence Soden. Recently, the Port Hope scribe was talking to him and learned that he hailed from Peterborough but has been living for many years now in the States. Has been a groundskeeper at Briggs Stadium—home of the Detroit Tigers—for 19 years. The stadium has 120 full time employees who work the year around, with many more on deck in the summer. Some go south before New Year's, readying things up, and they stay there till the middle of March. Soden has been one of these fortunate fellows. Briggs Stadium has the finest set of lights in the majors, and has a huge infield tarpaulin to keep the diamond dry on threatening days.

* * * * * *

Regarding the recent rumors of dissension in the Tigers' camp over Manager Red Rolfe, Soden says it was just a case of the team not going well and the players worrying about their jobs—but they all liked Rolfe. Speaking of celebrities visiting the stadium, he remarks that Joe Louis rarely gets a tumble when he drops in to see a game but former stars like Jack Dempsey and Ty Cobb, on their infrequent visits to see the Tigers at home, require a motorcycle escort and special ushers to keep the crowds back. Well, Ty was never too popular in his heyday, but the popularity of the old Manassa Mauler grows with the years.

Boldwell Goes Well, Eh?

Revoy's beat Lakefield 7-2 at the Bowl last e'en in a tidy men's softball tilt. Dick West, a slab newcomer, had a little edge on John Hinton in the hurling department, but the latter's support wobbled at crucial times. Boyd Cowie, Hinton and Jack Larkman led the hitters for the rival squads of the young season. The nightcap saw U.E.W. pound out a 14-3 verdict o'er Lindsay as newcomer John Boldwell turned in a two-hit mound chore for the winners. His mates pounded Jack Kean and Haddy Eakins hard to roll up the count, though 'twas a fair enough struggle to view. Harold Legrow cuffed the apple hard for five bingles and Bruce Taylor shone in an all-around chore. Games tomorrow: U.E. vs. Lakefield, and East City vs. Revoy's.

* * * * * *

President Bill Flint of the Girls' Softball League advises us that there was a little mixup on the opening night, resulting in no loop officials being available, but it won't happen again. Also, Burtol's won't be in action this evening as they were given till next Monday to line up their team—and this they have promised to do. It is a new local entry, more or less taking the place of the defunct Westclox entry—a starry squad for years—and Mabel Gillen has been busy arranging for a coach and several more players. That means there's but one girls' softball contest billed for tonight at eight in the Bowl, it being Ashby's vs. Lindsay lasses.

Wins 7th Straight

CHICAGO, May 28 (AP). — Manchester United's British champion soccer team won its seventh straight game of a United States tour Tuesday night, beating Chicago All-stars 6-1 on a rain-drenched field. Chicago booted home a score 15 seconds after the game started. Thereafter it was all Manchester.

M. Brough Heads Bancroft Team

BANCROFT, May 28—(ENS)—Milton Brough was re-elected president of the Bancroft Hockey Club at the recent annual meeting of the association, held in the Canadian Legion Hall. Other officers elected were vice-president, Everett Schram; secretary-treasurer, Brian Murray; manager, Bernard Shapiro; committee chairman, Cliff Broad (transportation); Earl Hawley (finance); Bill Hutton (publicity).

The coachs job was left open temporarily, as a large section of the gathering spoke in favour of importing an outside coach or playing coach. Earl Hawley was appointed chairman of a special committee, with power to approach available men and bring the committee's choice before the executive as a whole. As Bancroft and district have a large number of peewee, bantam, midget and juvenile teams, all felt that a playing coach for the Pontiacs would be able to give valuable assistance to other local coaches and managers.

Brian Murray, secretary-treasurer, presented a favourable financial sheet of the year's operations. Starting the season with a bank balance of $59.88, the club concluded with balance of $300.38.

Speakers for the evening were Alexander W. Smith, Inspector of Public Schools, North Hastings, and J. N. Brown, vice-chairman, North Hastings Community Centre Commission, and Theodore Tryon, reeve of Bancroft. Mr. Smith spoke generally on the topic of the value of organized recreation in a community, humorously illustrated with his personal experiences as a hockey player. The financing of the community centre and the financial tie-up of the hockey club and the arena board were covered by Mr. Brown. Official greetings and congratulations for their part in the sports life of the district were given by Mr. Tryon.

Cardigans in the official team colors were presented to the team members, and rounding out the affair was a banquet-like lunch served by the Women's Association of St. John's Anglican Church.

Curve Lake Victors

SELWYN, May 28. (ENS)—The Selwyn boys went down to defeat again last Friday night on their own ground at Selwyn when Curve Lake beat them 12-7. It was a much better game than the one they played at Curve Lake a week ago. Stan Taylor did the pitching for the Indians and Elwood Sweeting and Clayton Fitzgerald shared the pitchers' box for Selwyn. A wet field didn't help either team and at the start of the game and up until the end of the first inning, it looked like a walk-away for Selwyn. They got five runs to Curve Lake's none. But no runs were tallied for Selwyn in the second and third inning and only two in the fourth, while Curve Lake got four in the second, none in the third, five in the fourth, and three in the seventh.

Curve Lake—Eric McCue, Stanley Taylor, Hollis Taylor, Wendell McCue, Nelson Jacobs, Gail Knott, Mervin Jacobs, Buddy Taylor and George Johnson.

Selwyn—Arnold Fitzgerald, Elwood Sweeting, Ivan Davis, Allen McConkey, Harold Sweeting, Donald Dunford, Allan Preston, Irvin Tully, Tommy Dunford and Clayton Fitzgerald.

Umpires — Harold McIlmoyle and Jonas Jacobs.

Woollens Winners

Dominion Woollens opened their Industrial Fastball League schedule last night with a 9-6 victory in Norwood. They scored three runs in the second inning, two each in the third and sixth, adding one apiece in the seventh and ninth of a neat tilt. Norwood shoved two each over in the first two frames, with one apiece in the sixth and seventh. Sabourin twirled well for the winners and had three for four at bat, Earl Leonard also clouting well. Catcher Gus Leonard lambasted a triple. Wakeford pitched steady ball on the Norwood slab, and B. Payne led the homesters at bat.

Revoy's Victors By 7 to 2 Over Lakefield

Revoy Motors won their first victory of the men's city softball season Tuesday night at the Bowl, by defeating Lakefield Merchants 7-2 in a snappy battle before another good-sized crowd. A three-run advantage gained in the first frame stood up well for George Hawkes' boys; but it was a tough duel to the finish, as Merchants, showing improved form over last season, fought gamely to the final out. It was Revoy's first win of the season; their first game with U.E.W. ending in a tie last Thursday night.

Dick West, a fast righthander and newcomer to local softball circles, with several other boys this year, went the route for Revoy's, opposing the youthful veteran John Hinton and the result was a fine duel as both boys showed good early season form. The former struck out eight men, walked one and allowed seven hits; the latter fanned seven, limited Motors to six bingles and issued but two passes. Afield, the Hawkes' crew outshone their rivals, playing errorless ball while Lakefield miscued five times which proved a factor in Hinton's margin of defeat.

Boyd Cowie proved the big sticker for Revoy's blasting out three hits, one a double and drove in two runs with Harold Kempt and Jack Mackness shining afield; while for Merchants Jack Larkman had two safeties and drove in a pair of runs; John Hinton hit two safeties in addition to a good mound chore. A fast double play Hawkes to Elmhirst on a hot liner also featured.

B'nai B'rith Beaten By Kesco In Opener

Kesco opened the Civic Softball League schedule last evening with an 11-2 victory over B'nai B'rith in Ashburnham Park. It was the initial tilt of the season for the eight-club circuit, two games being listed for tonight: Pro. Police vs. Sal. Army at Ashburnham Park and Timerbmen vs. Bell at Turner Park.

Conroy twirled nifty ball for Kesco last night as he whiffed half a dozen in the seven-inning scrap, walking three and allowing but six hits. His support was good. The losers were limited to a run each in the second and third frames. The victors combined hits, errors and several walks to run in seven markers in the third, adding four more next time up. Harrison led them at bat with Brierly best for the other side. Teams:

B'nai B'rith: Evans, Smith, Hughey, Collins, Brierly, Bloom, Staves, Pagett, Tully, Peters, Walsh.

Kesco: Chenier, Goodfellow, Little, Conroy, Montgomery, Harris, Harrison, Robertson, Alberico.

School Softball

A bunch of public school softball league games were staged yesterday afternoon on various diamonds. Queen Mary took a 12-8 win over King Edward in their joust, coasting home on a big early lead. Queen Mary intermediates defeated Confederation 11-6 on the latter's grounds in a five-inning affair.

King Edward intermediates finished strong to halt Queen Alex 20-7 up north in a see-saw struggle, Rowe hitting a homer for the winners. Confederation trimmed Central 23-6 in a contest as one-sided as the score sounds. Prince of Wales' junior "A" team took a 13-10 verdict over Queen Mary with two hefty innings. Queen Alex pounded out a 26-18 free-for-all decision against King George in a wide-open tussle with large scoring in almost every inning.

Seymour Schedule

CAMPBELLFORD, May 28 — (ENS).—The following schedule has been announced for the five-team Seymour Softball League, top team of which will receive the Herald Trophy at the end of the season. All games will be played on the Campbellford High School diamond, with the exception of four home games on the Rylstone diamond. Catcher Sent Train Pitchers

CLEVELAND, May 28 (AP)—Cleveland Indians today sent catcher Quincy Troupe to Indianapolis Indians to help train the farm club's young pitchers.

The 29-year-old catcher will be on 24-hour recall.

A Tribe spokesman said the American Association club has some "very promising young pitchers" and Troupe's job will be to help them develop their talents.

This was Troupe's first season in the major leagues. He appeared in six games, getting one hit in 10 appearances for an average of .100.

For the last 10 to 12 years he played baseball in South America and Canada and for Negro teams in the United States.

Maglie Clips Dodgers 3-0 As Yanks Flatten Nats 7-2

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

If Brooklyn is in a lather today blame it on New York's most distinguished barber, Salvatore Maglie. Sal treated the Dodgers to one of his copy-righted clippings Tuesday night as he pitched the giants to a 3-0 triumph. The sinister looking righthander who delights in shaving the corners of the plate with his razor-sharp curve ball, strapped the Brooks with four meagre hits and cut down six of them via strikeout. Sal's earned run percentage is now 1.14.

It was a big victory for the Giants as well as for the 35-year-old Maglie. It was their sixth straight, their second in a row over their arch interborough rivals and it increased their National League lead over the Brooks to a game and a half.

It was the ninth straight win for Maglie who has yet to taste defeat this season. It was also his second straight shutout over the Dodgers. He limited them to two hits the other time he faced them. Sal, who has won 12 in a row since last September 13, now has a sensational 50-10 won and lost record since returning from Mexico two years ago.

The Giants got only six hits off loser Ben Wade and John Rutherford but they included homers by Willie Mays and Don Mueller. The latter singled and eventually brought in the third run in the ninth inning. Mays, who plays his last 1952 game for the Giants today before his induction Thursday, also doubled twice.

Reynolds Stars

Maglie's was not the only outstanding pitching performance on Tuesday. Allie Reynolds yielded only two safeties as he hurled New York Yankees to a 7-2 victory over Washington Senators. Both came in the fourth inning and accounted for the Nats' tallies.

Yogi Berra, Reynolds' batterymate in two no-hitters last year, gave a real helping hand with a pair of homers and a double. Irv Noren, principal figure in the May 3 trade with Washington, chipped in with a two-run homer. Jackie Jensen, who went to the Nats in the deal, doubled in one Washington run.

Conrado Marrero, the little Cuban righthander, failed in his quest for his fifth triumph. He lasted only six innings and went down to his first defeat.

Washington remained in a tie for second with Boston, still 2½ games off the American League pace when both Cleveland and the Red Sox were beaten. Vic Wertz' three-run homer climaxed a six-run sixth-inning outburst by Detroit to give the Tigers a 5-4 decision over the Indians.

Down Red Sox

Gus Zernial's two-run homer in the fifth and Eddie Joost's two-run double in the ninth gave rookie Harry Byrd his first win and Philadelphia Athletics a 7-3 triumph over the Red Sox.

Saul Rogovin pitched the Chicago White Sox to a six-hit 3-0 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

Enos Slaughter rapped four hits including a home run and Stan Musial also came through with a four-bagger to lead St. Louis Cardinals to an 8-5 win over the Chicago Cubs.

Eddie Pellagrini banged a 14th-inning home run to give Cincinnati Reds a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh.

Boston's Braves and Philadelphia's Phils split a twi-night double-header. Three singles and an infield out gave the Braves two runs in the 12th and a 4-2 opening game win. A tripple by Del Ennis and Willie Jones' fly gave the Phils a 5-4 second game triumph in the 10th.

Baron Arrives To Do Battle

HAMILTON, May 28 (CP)—Sam Baron, newly-oppointed Canadian director of the United Textile Workers (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), arrived here Tuesday to take part in the battle for the support of some 4,700 organized textile workers in the Hamilton district.

Hamilton has been the scene of a struggle between the Textile Workers Union of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) and a secession group which seeks to persuade textile workers to withdraw from the C.I.O. union. Dispute arose over dissatisfaction of some union members with the top administration of the union.

Jack Robinson, former T.W.U.A. official and now leader of the secesssion movement here, is expected to team up with Baron to encourage workers to join the U.T.W.

Tuesday, officials of some T.W.-U.A. locals pledged their support in leading workers into the U.T.W.

Baron, former Canadian director of the C.I.O. union, was fired during the intra-union dispute He was appointed Canadian head of the A.F.L. union after other Canadian officials were fired for alleged Communist sympathies and mishandling of a strike.

Japanese Loans

LONDON, May 28 (AP) — The Chancellor of the Exchequer, R. A. Butler, said Tuesday that outstanding Japanese sterling loans total about £62,000,000. Interest in arrears, he said, is about £33,000,000.

Anglican Synod Decides Elect Coadjutor Bishop

TORONTO, May 28—(CP)—A coadjutor bishop will be elected to assist the Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley, Bishop of Toronto, when a special session of the Toronto Anglican Diocesan Synod is held this fall.

The election of the coadjutor bishop, second in the 113-year history of the diocese, was approved Tuesday at the opening session of the centenary synod.

Raffles and lotteries to raise money for church purposes were criticized by Bishop Beverley. He urged all members to be scrupulous in observing discipline in the church.

Gain Experience

Main purpose of the election is to give Bishop A. R. Beverley of Toronto relief in his duties and in order that his successor might gain experience in episcopal functions and a knowledge of the diocese before assuming full responsibility as bishop.

The coadjutor bishop will receive a stipend of $6,000 a year, plus an allowance for house rent to a maximum of $2,400 a year.

Synod approval of the resolution was not reached before an amendment to elect a suffragan bishop instead of a coadj...or was voted down by clergy and lay delegates. Although both a suffragan and coadjutor bishop are empowered to perform the same ecclesiastical functions, only the coadjutor can automatically succeed to the office of bishop.

By canon law, Bishop Beverley must submit his resignation for consideration by the executive committee in two years, when he reaches the age of 70. The committee can then ask him to retain his position for a further three years, at the end of which period the same procedure is repeated.

Not In Hurry

"We hope it will be many years in the future before the vacancy will have to be filled," commented Canon H. R. Hunt, rector of the Church of the Redeemer.

Diocesan Chancellor Reginald H. Soward said a coadjutor bishop was last elected in 1866, one year before the death of Bishop John Strachan, first bishop of the diocese. He was succeeded by Bishop N. A. Bethune.

The Anglican Diocese of Toronto has exhausted its funds for church extension and is going to rely entirely upon the benificence of certain Toronto parishes to continue construction of new churches in rapidly expanding areas.

It was decided that a number of Toronto parishes would be approached with a view to furnishing $30,000 a year for three years. But the decision came after vigorous argument and after two proposals to raise money by other means had been defeated.

Parishes Earmarked

There was no mention of what churches would be asked to contribute, but Diocesan Chancellor Reginald H. Soward indicated that specific parishes had already been earmarked for the task.

Funds totalling close to $250,000 raised in an appeal two years ago have already been used, Very Rev. C. E. Riley, dean of Toronto, told the synod. In his report of church extension, he said that $500,000 was needed to invest in new churches.

Falling Down

Dean Riley said the diocese has 14 sites on which new churches can be built when funds and clergy become available. Of these, he said, there are six places where population demands immediate construction.

"If we don't take on the challenge in the Toronto metropolitan area," he said, "there are other people who are willing to do it instead of us. We have already built about 12 new churches, but we have no money left."

Dean Riley observed that very little money for church extension has come from rural parishes. "We want to make it clear that the money is not for the benefit of Toronto, for not one new church is being built in Toronto," he said.

W. St. Clair Low, lay delegate from Grace Church-on-the-Hill, remarked that a considerable amount of money which had been pledged had not materialized. "The committee already has power to approach the churches and does not require the added endorsement of this synod," he said.

He advocated appealing to the entire diocese for funds. "A church with the welfare of the diocese at heart," he said, "should give according to its own means."

A move was defeated to authorize the use of capital funds, entrusted to the diocese for administration, for church extension.

Injuries Prove Boon To Reds

PITTSBURGH, May 28 (AP)—If a few more of their .300 hitters get hurt, Cincinnati Reds may win the National League pennant.

First their regular first baseman, Ted K...ski hurt his ankle. Ted ... .323 average stayed on the bench.

The Reds' reserve first baseman is outfielder Joe Adcock, the league's top slugger. But Joe already was out of action with a knee injury, so manager Luke Sewell tried reserve outfielder Bob Borkowski.

Then outfielder Hank Edwards dislocated his shoulder in the eighth inning of Tuesday night's game against the Pirates here. Back into the outfield went Borkowski. Sewell's new first baseman was Eddie Pellagrini, a shortstop by trade, whose batting average is about the same size as his hat.

Pellagrini broke up the game with a 14th-inning homer as the Reds won 5-4.

Sewell says his fourth-place Reds have two more men — a catcher and a third baseman — who can play if anyone else gets hurt.

Randolph Leading

INDIANAPOLIS, May 28 (AP)—Woodruff Randolph, the incumbent, has a 8,871-vote margin for president of the International Typographical Union returns from 617 of 850 locals, the latest report by the I.T.U. said. Unofficial returns in the mail election as of Tuesday gave Randolph 35,933 votes to 27,062 for C. G. Sparkman of Detroit. The official count will be started May 31.

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

When Branch Rickey signed schoolboy Billy Loes for a $21,000 bonus, he almost apologized to the Brooklyn press.

"The boy is not a $21,000 pitcher," he said. "Possibly $10,000 but not $21,000. But he is a Long Island boy and I can't afford to let somebody else grab him from under my nose."

All of which proves Rickey, too, can be wrong.

Billy, 22, has a 5-0 record for the Dodgers with a 0.63 earned-run average, two shutouts and a 1-1 tie and looks more like a $100,000 hurler.

Loes, who attracted attention when he pitched five no-hitters in high school, wasn't given a chance when he returned from the U.S. army last spring and joined the Dodgers in training. He started as a reliefer but was promoted to a starter May 15.

He faces the big test today against the Dodgers' foremost rivals—the Giants from across the river. The first time he faced New York this season in relief he hurled five brilliant shutout innings.

And catcher Roy Campanella says he has never caught anybody as fast as Billy.

The former stormy petrel of baseball, Larry McPhail has quit the Maryland Horse Breeders' Association at Baltimore in a dispute over one of his yearlings whose breeding was questioned after he was judged show champion.

The favored triumvirate—Dick Chapman, Billy Maxwell and Frank Stranahan of the United States—surged ahead Tuesday at Prestwick, Scotland, in their bids for the British amateur golf championship. Stranahan was extended to an extra-hole victory over Joe Gent, 53-year-old Briton, Chapman beat W. C. Gibson, former Scottish champ, 2 and 1. Maxwell had the least trouble, conquering E. W. Fiddian of Scotland, 3 and 2.

Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, Australia's Davis Cup tennis stars, flattened the opposition Tuesday at Paris to reach the semi-finals of the French tennis championships. Sedgman routed Budge Patty of the U.S., 6-4, 6-2, 6-2. McGregor crushed F. Ampon of the Philippines 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

Vancouver football enthusiasts were told Tuesday in Vancouver by Jack Grogan of Calgary, 1950 President of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, they should not try to place a team in the league until 1954. He pointed out that Walter Sprague of Edmonton then will be president of the loop. Sprague recently told Vancouver representatives that by 1954 the W.I.F.U. will be on a sound economic basis or will have blown up.

HAVELOCK, May 28 (ENS). — The Y.P.U. of Havelock United Church were the victors over the Norwood Y.P.U. in a softball game here last night by a score of 25 to 10. It was Norwood's home game, but owing to their diamond being in use, it was played in Havelock.

Albert Smith, with two home runs, was leading hitter for the locals.

The lineup was as follows:

Norwood — Ivey, Patterson, Brown, Stevenson, Stark, Thompson, Jones, Thompson.

Havelock — Graham, Chase, Nobes, Smith, Whitney, Seabrooks, Johnson, Forsyth, Newman.

Norwood will meet Havelock again here on June 6. Other teams in the Peterborough Presbyterial League are Keene, Lakefield and Peterborough.

Paul Newman is the captain of the Havelock team.

Question Delay In Settling War Claims

OTTAWA, May 28 — (CP) — Delay in cleaning up Canadians' damage claims from the Second World War was questioned Tuesday by Progressive Conservative mebers of the Commons public accounts committee.

The complaint came from Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C. (P.C., Nanaimo) and Douglas Harkness (P.C., Calgary East), who said they have heard of dissatisfaction from claimants.

Gen. Pearkes said there has been conisderable delay in handling cases of property and physical damage. Mr. Harkness said he has heard of dissatisfaction over slowness in making settlements.

R. B. Bryce, assistant deputy minister of finance, said a number of cases have been under consideration recently by the government. They involved hardship. Temporary settlements were being made in these cases.

Questions Amounts

Gen. Pearkes also questioned amounts spent through the army benevolent fund, which in the year under review had administrative expenses of $63,000 while dispensing about $183,000. The fund originated from canteen profits of the Second World War.

Gen. Pearkes said he thought it a pity that there should be such an expenditure for the spending of money collected from servicemen.

"Where is the money going?" he asked.

The committee, which passed most other items, held up the item for a further look.

Battle Of Wits Enlivens Set With Allen

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 28—(AP)—a battle of wits is going on at 20th-Fox between Fred Allen and Oscar Levant.

Both are appearing as confidence men in "The Ransom of Red Chief," an episode in O. Henry's "Baghdad on the Subway." The script couldn't be as good as the by-play that occurs on the set.

I found Levant and Allen wearing their usual sour expressions. Then they started spouting.

"They just saw yesterday's rushes," remarked Allen, "and they're awarding the Academy Awards early this year."

"Wait until they see today's rushes," Oscar added. "They'll take the Oscars back."

Fending Off Oblivion

I commented that this was Allen's second trip to the coast this year.

"I'm just an episode actor," he said. "When they need someone to close a door, they send for me. They're afraid to put me in a full-length picture. No, I don't think I'll be back again. I'm afraid I just got in on the tail end of a trend.

"I've been fending off oblivion for several years now. When I appear on television, the audience rushes to the movies. When I'm in the movies, they rush home to television. I keep the audience in constant motion."

TV Career

Allen reported to me on his new TV career.

"We've tried a new format, a quiz show," he explained. "It gives me a chance to talk to people, and I don't have the pressure of a variety show. I'll do it on film, so the best parts can be picked out of it, the same as Groucho Marx does on TV and Bing Crosby has done in radio.

"Actually, it's the same thing I used to do on radio. Everything's been done before. I used to have a feature called 'People You Didn't Expect To Meet.' Now the same sort of thing is on 'What's My Line?' But I'm not claiming anything. In this business, an old-timer is someone who was alive yesterday."

ACCUSED OF PERJURY—Dr. Joeph Weinberg, suspended University Minnesota physicist, left, with his attorney Sidney Kaplan, centre, and Sheldon Kaplan. They are shown leaving the United States Commissioners office in Minneapolis after bond was set at $10,000 on Washington Grand Jury charges of perjury. He has been ordered to appear again for a formal reading of the indictment.

Senate Approves Extending Powers

OTTAWA, May 28 (CP)—Senator J. W. De B. Farris (L-British Columbia) said Tuesday in the Senate that Canada should be concerned with the evils that may result from adding certain stock frauds to the extraditable offences.

Senator Farris led a successful move to send to the Senate commerce committee for further study proposed changes to the extradition treaty between Canada and the United States. The changes make it possible to take to the U.S. for trial anyone who tries to defraud U.S. citizens by shady stock deals.

"I do not see why we should imperil our citizens by subjecting them to the possibility of being extradited on a prima facie case and tried in a foreign country..." Senator Farris said.

Gut Dam Arguments Will Be Postponed

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—Initial arguments in a suit to force removal or alteration of the Canadian-constructed Gut Dam on the St. Lawrence River on the ground it is contributing to the high level of Lake Ostario, have been postponed in Federal District Court here until June 3.

The argument had been scheduled for Tuesday.

The Lake Ontario Land Development and Beach Association, Inc., of Rochester, N.Y., seeks to have a three-judge court hear the case because it feels that a constitutional issue is involved.

The dam, located near Ogdensburg, N.Y., was constructed by Canada—with the consent of the United States Congress in 1902. The suit applicants contend that the 1902 agreement with Canada permits the U.S. to remove the dam if residents suffer losses.

Publishing Company Violates U.S. Law

NEW ORLEANS, May 28 (AP)—Judge Herbert Christenberry ruled Tuesday that business practices of the Times-Picayune Publishing Co., are in violation of anti-trust laws and injurious to the rival New Orleans Item.

The government focussed its case on a practice requiring purchasers of national and classified advertising to buy space in both the morning Times-Picayune and the evening New Orleans States as a unit and refusing to sell those kinds of advertising in the papers separately.

Elected President Of Coal Dealers

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 28 — (CP). — E. R. Lockyer of Toronto Tuesday was elected president of the Canadian Retail Coal Dealers Association at the closing sessions of its annual convention. He succeeds A. N. Swift of St. Thomas.

C. J. Griffin of Allandale was chosen vice-president, and C. J. Beyer of Toronto was reappointed secretary-treasurer.

Directors elected are: John Mears, Niagara Falls; A. W. Quait, Thamesford; T. F. Argue, Ottawa; J. R. Whitehead, Cornwall; C. S. Robinson, Windsor, and A. M. Haig, Belleville.

Rabbi Boycotts Gieseking Recital

TORONTO, May 28 — (CP). — Members of Holy Blossom Temple here have received a letter from Rabbi Abraham L. Feinberg urging them to boycott a recital scheduled for next Monday night by the German pianist Walter Gieseking.

In a mimeographed letter sent to 1,000 members of his congregation, the Rabbi said: "I hope you will not attend the piano recital of Walter Gieseking. Your absence .... will be a measure of self-respect and a testament of tribute not only to the 6,000,000 Jewish dead, but also to the men, women and children of lands, races and creeds wantonly slain by Hitlerism, who surrendered their lives that mankind might be delivered from the Nazi scourge."

He said that perhaps the sponsors of the recital were "not aware of Kieseking's Nazi affiliation."

In Montreal, Gilles Potvin of Music Associates of Canada, the sponsors of Mr. Gieseking's Canadian tour, said the German pianist never had been a Nazi or a Nazi sympathizer.

Strikers Loose Jobless Benefits

OTTAWA, May 28—(CP)—A federal umpire has ruled that the December strike at Windsor's Ford motor plant did not end until Dec. 26 for unemployment insurance purposes. The decision has the effect of cutting off unemployment insurance for about 4,000 workers seeking them between December 14 and December 26.

The 11-day strike was called off December 14 because of delays—largely in the strike-damaged power plant — in getting work started, production did not get under way until December 26.

Members of the United Automobile Workers, appealing a decision of the regional unemployment-insurance officer, asked the federal umpire to set December 14 as the end of the strike so unemployed men could collect benefits from that date. The umpire—Mr. Justice Alfred Savard, of the Quebec Superior Court—decided December 26 was the date of the end of the strike.

Canada's Protest Note Not 'Ultimatum'

OTTAWA, May 28 — (CP) — Canada's protest note to Washington was by no means an ultimatum to get Canadian troops off the Koje Island prisoner hotspot immediately but the government would not be unhappy if that's what happens.

Authoritative quarters Tuesday made this clear in the wake of reactions to the note in which Canada expressed concern that a Canadian company was sent to guard Red prisoners on Koje without consultation.

Increase Loan Amount Allowed Farmers

OTTAWA, May 28 (CP) — The Commons Tuesday night gave third reading to a bill increasing the amount of loans that can be made to individual farmers by the Canadian Farm Loan Board.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, will increase to $10,000 from $5,000 the amount that can be lent on a first mortgage, and to $12,000 from $6,000 the maximum amount on first and second mortgages together.

Believes Price Of Gold Must Be Raised

TORONTO, May 28—(CP)—J. A. H. Paterson, president of the Canadian Metal Mining Association, said to[day] the problem of the gold reserves required to maintain trade and commerce between nations, appears to produce consistently the answer that the only solution is to raise the price of gold.

Mr. Paterson, addressing the Association's annual meeting, added that the questions in regard to gold are when the price will go up, and what can be done to assist gold producers in the meantime.

The concensus among gold producers appeared to be that the government could give substantial assistance in two ways:

"First, by allowing private ownership of gold in Canada by simply rescinding that part of the Bank of Canada Act whereby the government has power to compel the surrender of gold at $20.67 an ounce;

"Second, by permitting producers who elect to sell gold, to sell it fine instead of having to debase it.

Changes Overdue

"We appreciate that our government has commitments under the International Monetary Fund, but possibly some changes are already overdue in the policies of that fund."

V. C. Wansbrough, managing director of the Association, said the real demand is for fine gold, both at home and abroad. Accordingly, the objective should be to ensure that fine gold can be exported without the expense and delays involved in previous debasing, and to ensure that Canadians and foreigners may purchase and hold gold in Canada if they so desire. He added:

"It is significant, as the International Monetary Fund reports, that of all the gold produced in the free world during 1951, less than 15 per cent found its way into official monetary reserves."

DODD AND COLSON "BUSTED"—Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, Jr., (left) presents a letter to Sen. Offers Recipe For Making Marriage Happy

TORONTO, May 28 — (CP) — Mrs. D. J. McArthur, of Hawkestone, whose husband operates an Ontario Highways Department snowplow in winter, has won an essay contest by developing the theme that a worry-free mind is needed for highway safety.

Her essay on the contest sponsored by the Motor Vehicles Safety Association of Ontario was intended to show how wives can help husbands who operate motor vehicles for business or pleasure to come home at night in peace and not in pieces.

The Simcoe County farm wife, who was born in Helsinki, Finland, will receive her prize at a dinner Thursday.

"A husband needs to go off to work happy and content both mentally and physically, secure in the knowledge that everything is fine at home," she wrote. "Then he can put his heart and mind to his job. Only when his mind is free of worries can he think clearly and quickly."

She offered this recipe for a happy marriage:

"Put your husband first. Let him know he is the lord and master of his house and not just the man that brings home the pay and supports you. Try to understand your husband and see things from his point of view. When the occasion arises that you feel you must differ from him on matters that are really important, wait until he is rested and in the right frame of mind.

"After the disagreement, be the first one to make up. It hurts a man's pride to admit he was wrong."

C.C.L. Asks Canada Enact Fair Employment Policy

OTTAWA, May 28 —(CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor Tuesday charged that many employers practise racial and religious discrimination in hiring workers and urged the government to penalize them for destroying "faith in Canadian democracy."

A delegation called on Labor Minister Gregg proposing the establishment by the government of a fair employment practices act and a fair employment policy.

The fair employment practices act would provide protection to a worker against any employer who declined to "employ or discriminated against anyone because of race, creed, color, ancestry or origin." Penalties would be provided for violations.

The congress proposed that the fair employment policy supplement the government's fair wage policy and provide protection against discrimination on the part of employers who have been awarded government contracts.

Should Have Power

"The labor minister should be empowered to cancel contracts with employers who failed to comply," the congress said.

The delegation was headed by Donald MacDonald, CCL secretary treasurer, and R. J. Lamoureux, chairman of the CCL national committee on racial tolerance. Other officials were Don Secord, national secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers; Bert Hepworth, another brotherhood official, and Kalmen Kaplansky, director of the Jewish labor committee.

"Notwithstanding the healthy degree of political democracy which exists in Canada," said the CCL in its submission, "there is serious ground for complaint regarding the treatment accorded to Canadians who belong to racial or religious minorities, or who are foreign-born."

It said evidence of discrimination had been placed before the Senate committee on human rights and "had never been successfully refuted."

"Such discrimination was without any scientific basis and had the effect of sapping the morale and destroying the faith in Canadian democracy of thousands of people who saw themselves treated as second-class citizens."

Life of Ease

LONDON — (CP) — India-born Guru Charen Dass, who has received £700 in relief since 1949, was told in court: "You get £6 a week for doing nothing, and it all must be found by the hardest-taxed people in the world." Dass was told to find work or else face a possible prison sentence.

$50,000 Blaze

WINDSOR, May 28 (CP)—Fire at the Murphy Paint Company Tuesday caused damage to stock and equipment which may reach $50,000, company officials said. The fire started when an electric light bulb smashed against an open can of paint thinner.

Pole Escapes Remarries Wife

LONDON, May 28 — (AP). — A one-armed Polish war hero remarried Tuesday the British wife he divorced a year ago as part of a plot to flee his Red-dominated homeland.

Zdzislaw Radomski, 27, who won the Victoria Cross as an R.A.F. pilot, and Mrs. Judy Radomski, 29, were wed again in the same London registry office where they first took their vows in 1945.

The Radomskis had gone to Poland where they were frequently questioned by police who suspected them of spying for Britain.

In order to get his wife out of the country and persuade the police he was reliable, Radomski filed for a divorce. The divorce made her a British citizen again and permitted her to go home.

Radomski succeeded in slipping across the border into Germany, and a few days ago he rejoined his former wife in London.

Youth In LettersMakes Criticism Unpopular

QUEBEC, May 28—(CP)—Literary criticism is unpopular in Canada because of this country's youth in letters, a Laval University Professor of Literature, told a two-day meeting of the Humanities Research Council of Canada today.

Jean-Charles Bonenfant, also librarian for the Quebec Legislature, said Canadian writers are more interested in creating new work than in analyzing and comparing what already has been done in the field of literature.

He said he hopes Canada's two main forms of literary expression— French and English—will be studied and compared. Common denominators might be found that would establish geographical, political and historical relationships between Canadian works in both languages.

The meeting is being held at Laval University, which celebrates its centenary this year.

WON BY-ELECTION—Mayor Michael Starr, 41, of Oshawa, Ont., was one of four Progressive Conservative candidates elected in the six federal by-elections held Monday. Mayor Starr won the Ontario constituency in the vacancy created by the resignation of Liberal Walter Thomson, who resigned to lead the Liberals in the 1951 Ontario provincial election. The seat had been held almost continuously since 1924 by the Liberals.

AFTER THE BLOOM—There are probably thousands of people who have their first crop of tulips and, now that the petals are dropping or falling, stand by and bite their fingernails, not knowing what to do next. Joan Hardy is getting under way here with the first step: cut off the faded blooms just below the base of the flower and leave the stem. This sends strength back to the bulb. Joan adds a tip: don't let petals lie on the ground. There's just a chance they might carry a disease called "fire blight", a destructive fungus, over into the soil. And never let the flowers reach the stage where seed pods begin to form: this takes too much energy from the bulb.

Train Derailed Near Mallorytown

MALLORYTOWN, Ont., May 28 (CP)—The Canadian National Railway's train No. 5, due to arrive in Toronto from Montreal at 6.25 p.m. but was derailed here Tuesday. No one was injured.

Cause of the derailment, which sent two cars off the track but left them standing erect, is unknown.

The train was more than four hours late

Mallorytown is 20 miles west of Brockville.

Accept Contract

TORONTO, May 28 (CP)—Toronto carpenters have accepted a new one-year contract calling for a 10-cent hourly wage increase and including a travelling expense clause. The increase boosts the hourly rate to $2.10 an hour. The carpenters had asked for a 25-cent increase.

Ask Conciliator Settle Dispute

SUDBURY, May 28 — (CP) — Mike Solski, president of Local 598, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) said Tuesday that the Ontario Labor Department has asked for a conciliator to arbitrate wage negotiations between Locals 598 and 637 of the union and the International Nickel Company.

Mr. Solski said the company has offered a two-cent hourly wage increase in a proposed two-year agreement. It agreed to open the agreement prior to June 1, 1953, he said, for the purpose of discussing a wage increase or decrease.

It also made minor concessions on secondary points. The proposal was rejected by the Union membership.

Current negotiations have been on the 1952 contract with the 1951 contract ending May 31. The union has asked an increase of 28½ cents hourly and changes in the miners' contract bonus system.

The union also wants improved vacations and paid holiday time, welfare security changes and strengthening of certain provisions within the body of agreement.

Local 598 covers Sudbury district workers and Local 637 covers Port Colborne employees.

Race Finish Point

WELLAND, May 28 (CP) — The Welland Flying Club has been named as the finish point for the women's 1,025-mile international air race in July, Mrs. Dorothy Rungeling, club secretary, said Tuesday. The race will start in Florida and end here July 6. Last year, Margaret Carson of Ottawa, one of two Canadian entries, was the winner.

Ample Moisture On Prairies

By The Canadian Press

The broad grain-growing lands of Western Canada enter the summer months with either abundant or normal sub-surface moisture supplies everywhere except in Eastern Manitoba. Statistics prepared by the Meteorological Division of the Federal Transport Department show that for the nine months from the start of last August to the end of April, total precipitation was substantially above normal in southern Alberta and Southern Saskatchewan.

Over the same period precipitation was practically normal in southern Alberta and Southern Saskatchewan.

Over the same period precipitation was practically normal in Northern and Central Alberta, in Northern Saskatchewan and in Western Manitoba. In Eastern Manitoba however there was a deficiency of 23 per cent.

An early season and warm sunshine in many areas aided the spring seeding, and enabled speedy harvesting of the grain that was left out all winter after bad weather cut short last fall's harvest operations.

Although record-breaking high temperatures were experienced in late April, the prairies generally had cooler weather in the first two weeks of May. Substantial rains fell over the central and northern sections of Manitoba and Saskatchewan early in the month, but precipitation was on the light side in most districts. Continued dry weather later in May resulted in drying out the topsoil in some areas, despite the abundance of sub-soil moisture.

Banker Says Canada Needs More Britons

LONDON — (CP) —Anglo-Canadian business men toasted Canada as "the country of the future" at a party held here to welcome Robert Rae, president of the Dominion Bank of Canada.

Rae is here on his first visit since the war. He says he will "observe conditions" and encourage immigration.

"We have only scratched the surface in Canadian development," Rae said. "We have huge untapped resources, but not enough Englishmen."

R. McMullen, agent-general for Alberta, talked about Canadian oil production. He predicted more than 1,000,000 barrels a day will be produced within 10 years.

UK Hen Smashes 25-Year Record

CHICHESTER, England, May 28 (Reuters). — A hen named Duplicate Tuesday smashed a 25-year-old world record when she delivered her 360th egg in 156 days on Fisher Farm at North Mundham, near here.

Duplicate, aged 10 months, becomes world champion egg-layer, a title held since 1927 by Lady Victorine, a Canadian hen owned by the University of Saskatchewan.

"Lady" laid 358 eggs in 365 days.

Duplicate, a North Holland Blue began to attract attention early this year by her phenomenal laying feats. In one week she produced 26 eggs, nearly four a day. One every 18 hours is considered good going even among the best layers.

Her fame spread, and earlier this month she became a television performer when she was "interviewed" after beating the British egg record.

Mrs. Wilfred Hutchings and her farmer husband were flooded with congratulations when Duplicate laid her 360th egg. Even Duplicate joined in the celebrations—she laid another.

$21,000 Off Budget

TORONTO, May 28 (CP) — The Canadian National Exhibition executive Tuesday pared $21,000 from the budget of women's director Kate Aitken. The money, earmarked for women's luncheons, was deleted from the budget following a poll of directors' wives which indicated they preferred the regular afternoon teas to the noon meals.

Cronk, Fred Hampstead (Cobourg); the Rev. R. W. T. Middleton, George Bracken (Kingston); the Rev. A. B. Profitt, Albert Clarke (Lindsay); the Rev. J. K. Moffat, James S. Young (Oshawa); the Rev. H. G. Douglas, A. E. DeNure (Peterborough); the Rev. C. E. Armstrong and Hilliard Argue (Renfrew).

In For Repairs Oil Truck Burns

LAKEFIELD, May 28. (ENS)—A truck used for oiling Lakefield roads was damaged by fire Tuesday afternoon about 4:30.

Owner of the truck, Stan Richardson, had taken it to a garage to have repairs made to the clutch. Some welding metal dropped on a patch of oil on the garage floor and the flames set the truck on fire.

Richardson jumped into the truck and drove it as far from the garage as he could. After he got out, he noticed the flames were scorching telephone cables above it, and he tried to get in a second time, but was driven off by flames.

Damage was estimated at about $300, and several telephones in the village were useless because cables were burned through.

Richardson suffered slight burns to his face when he tried to move the truck a second time. He said the oil tank on the truck was full, otherwise the fire might have been worse.

Second Concert Closes "Most Successful" Festival

The Peterborough Music Competition Festival finished for another year Tuesday night with the last of two concerts that included some of the outstanding artists of the festival. First of the concerts in the P.C.V.S. auditorium was Friday night.

Summing up today, Wilson Gemmell, chairman of the festival committee said: "We know from the number of entries in the festival and the attendance of the general public that it's the most successful one we've had."

There were 840 entries and 118 classes in the sixth annual festival the largest number ever. Dr. R. C. Honey on behalf of the Board of Education and John C. McCarney, chairman of the Separate School Board, both thanked the Kiwanis Club for the opportunity they were providing to promote musical education in Peterborough.

Walter Howell, president of Kiwanis, thanked Dr. Honey and Mr. McCarney and pronounced the music festival a success.

Concert Program

Included on Tuesday night's program were piano solos and duets, vocal solos, public and verse speaking, trombone solos and choirs.

Mr. Gemmell said that not all the "outstanding" winners could be heard on the program. Some classes, such as sight reading, were not suitable for a concert.

Among the performers were Grove School, Peterborough, rhythm band; Christine Legon, Peterborough, piano solo; Lily Lake School, three part chorus, the Peterborough County Federation of Agriculture Trophy; Kinsmis Club Shield; Janet Gordon, Peterborough, piano solo; Lorna Crilly, Peterborough, verse speaking; Faye Rich, Little Britain, vocal solo, Branch 452, Canadian Legion (Ex-Service Women) Award, Peterborough County Federation of Agriculture Award;

Queen Mary School, Grade VII, Kiwanis Club Trophy; David White, piano solo, Canadian Bank of Commerce Award; Donald Hercia, Oshawa, accordian solo, Kresge's Ltd. Award; Billy Edmondson, Peterborough, solo; Carol King and Susan Sine, Cobourg, piano duet; John Robertson, Buckhorn, public speaking, Peterborough Home and School Council Award; Immaculate Conception School, Peterborough, Grade V, Kiwanis Club Trophy; Donald Young, Campbellford, trombone solo, Dr. G. Raymore Scott Award; Beverley McRobbie and Carol Harvey, Bowmanville, piano duet; Knox United Church Jr. Choir, Peterborough, church choir entry, Kiwanis Club Shield; Elizabeth Ann Lapp, Peterborough, piano solo, Campbell's Dairy Award; Bryce Larke, Peterborough, Shakespearean drama, Peterborough Examiner Trophy; P.C.V.S. Triple Trio, trio; Ronald John Buck, Peterborough, piano solo; Francis Taylor and Ronald Magahay, Lindsay, sacret duet; St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, St. Andrew's United Church, combined choirs; P.C.V.S. Double Trio, trio; Francis Taylor, Lindsay, baritone, Victoria and Grey Trust Co. Award; P.C.V.S. Mixed Choir, choir.

Human Want 'Real Foe' Not Russia

Rev. G. A. Sisco Warns of Threat To World Progress

LINDSAY, May 28. (Staff) — "We must realize that our real enemy today is not the Soviet government," the Rev. Gordon A. Sisco, secretary of the General Council of the United Church of Canada and member of the Executive of the World Council of Churches, said in Lindsay Tuesday night.

Dr. Sisco was the guest speaker at the first day's evening session of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada, held in Cambridge St. United Church.

"Rather we must realize that we are faced with a greater enemy that can devastate us," the speaker continued. "This enemy can be found in human want throughout the world; in loneliness and suffering of refugees, in white man's arrogance, in imperialistic pride and selfishness."

"Summed up it is the weakening of the common man for a better life."

Deeper Theology

Dr. Sisco called on the church to seek a deeper theology that would fight the economic and materialistic ideal that has gripped the world today, and in some cases is using the church to further its ideas.

He explained that the church must stand over against all economic and foreign policies and try to give an answer to the world in an idealism that will ultimately bring recognition between the great powers in international affairs.

"It doesn't help us very much to dub communism as atheistic," Dr. Sisco said. "That tends in many ways to make us think of a holy war and that is not right. Rather, communism is a heresy because it has truth in it but it offers a cheap salvation."

"Communism is in many ways utopian and has many features of the old testatment prophets. But it approaches it with isolated streaks of good without explaining that the final result is complete subjugation as far as the individual is concerned."

Logical Conclusion.

The speaker pointed to the West as the birthplace of Communism and described it as the culmination and passage to its logical conclusion of the secularism that has fastened itself to the western world in past years.

"Secularistic humanism has been openly advocated with its confident concentration on man's life here on earth," Dr. Sisco said. "Material prosperity has been considered the whole mark of life," Both the American and Russian political systems rest back on the economic man.

May Cause Ruin.

"We must do away with this legend of high standard of living for ourselves alone, which people in other countries can't have," the speaker warned. "Otherwise it may cause our world to flounder and stumble to ruin."

Dr. Sisco explained that it was the ministers' duty to the Christian church to assure their people that behind the present trying times, the Divine purpose and power is at work; so that congregations will be saved from self pity and despair.

"It is also the church's duty to see our ideas rest not on secular forces but on spiritual ideals so that it may be kept free to see our national houses are in order and stop the inroads of corruption."

SAILS FOR ENGLAND — Horace Oliver Steer, assistant professor of psychology, University of Toronto, leaves New York Thursday for England. There he will study social sciences on a research grant from the university's president's fund. Mr. Steer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Steer, 4 Inverlea St.

Blow Torch Starts Fire In Wall Of Home

A blow torch being used to remove paint from the outside of a house at 171 River Road started a fire in an upstair window sill today that spread between the inner and outer walls and into the attic before it was squelched by firemen.

Taking advantage of a week's vacation to get his house ready for painting, letter carrier Eldon Harrison was working on a ladder and using a blow torch to blister the paint so it could be scraped off.

The torch went out. He went down the ladder to light it again before it became cold and looked up seconds later, to see flames sprouting from the corner of the window sill.

Used Garden Hose

Snatching a garden hose, Mr. Harrison connected it to a tap at the side of the house, and hurried back up the ladder, spraying water on the budding blaze.

The water put out the flame outside the house, but the fire had spread inside, between the inner and outer walls and into the attic. The bedroom inside was filling with smoke and the fire department was called.

Water was used to put out the fire which had caught in a bag of insulation stored in the attic but only minor smoke and water damage resulted to the interior. The facing board at the end of the roof was removed so that water could be poured in on the smouldering fire in the attic and between the walls.

The bedroom will have to be redecorated as the wallpaper was pulled off to make sure the fire was out.

Mrs. Harrison was at a neighbour's, Mrs. Thomas Montgomery, when her four small children, Donna, 8; Connie, 5, and her 21-month-old twins David and Diane rushed into the Montgomery house crying that their house was on fire. The children were playing in the yard when the fire started.

The damage is covered by insurance, Mr. Harrison said.

"DON'T USE A BLOWTORCH to remove paint from old houses," Eldon Harrison, 171 River Road advised after the torch he is holding (above) started a fire in an upstairs window of his home today. It spread inside, between the walls and into the attic, causing minor damage from smoke and water before it was put out by Mr. Harrison and firemen. (Examiner Staff Photo)

Peterborough Man Escapes Train On Way To Burwash; Captured At Hospital

Fergus Mongraw Breaks Train Window Jumps Out At Allandale With Companion Still Hunted By Police

Handcuffed and on his way to Burwash to serve two years for car theft, Fergus Mongraw, 45, of Peterborough, leaped through the closed window of a train when it stopped at Allandale near Barrie early today. His bid for freedom was shortlived. At 3:30 a.m. a man answering Mongraw's description was turned over to Provincial Police by a doctor at Barrie General Hospital. A second man, Donald McQuarrie of Toronto, who escaped from the train the same time as Mongraw, is still at large and believed to be still wearing handcuffs.

When questioned about his injuries, the man who gave his name as Donald Hunter of Lindsay said he had been beaten and robbed. However, doctors had been alerted to be on the lookout for anyone asking for medical attention as it was believed the men were injured when they jumped and the doctor notified police.

Corporal Bob France, officer in charge of the Barrie detachment said today that the man's description tallies with that of Mongraw and he is being held on a charge of escaping lawful custody.

Long Record

Mongraw who has a record of car theft, theft and false pretences over the last 20 years pleaded guilty to stealing a car owned by Dr. Robert Young on May 5 and was sentenced to two years definite and one year indeterminate by Magistrate W. R. Philp on May 12.

Mongraw took the car which had been left on Water St., with the motor running and the keys in it and drove it two miles north of Marmora where he was arrested by city and provincial police the night of May 5.

After jumping from the train, Mongraw is said to have hired a taxi to take him to hospital in Barrie. He was being taken to Burwash Industrial Farm near Sudbury.

With Other Prisoners

The two men were in a group of 14 prisoners being sent to the prison farm. They used part of a coach-seat to smash out the window through which they escaped.

McQuarrie, 30, was sentenced in Chatham last October for automobile theft. Police said they believe he might hide in fields near the station.

Police said when the train stopped at Allandale station Mongraw pretended to be choking and asked for a drink of water. W. J. Glasson, provincial bailiff and the only man accompanying the prisoners, went to get one, he heard a smash of glass and ran into the car to see the pair fleeing through the railway yard.

OPERA AT GARDENS — The Metropolitan Opera Company of New York opened its tour of Canada and the United States with a lavish production of "Aida" at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens. Other operas scheduled in the big arena—more accustomed to hockey, wrestling and boxing—are "La Boheme," "Carmen," and "Rigoletto." The group includes such leading stars as Rise Stevens and Patrice Munsel. About 11,500 saw the opening night's performance. Critics found it had "considerable style and elegance" but voices were confined "within the limits imposed by certain unsolvable acoustical problems.

4 Army Units Land Yokohama

YOKOHAMA, Japan, May 28—(AP)—Four Canadian Army units reached Yokohama Tuesday en route to Korea as replacements. They arrived on the transport Gen. R. L. Howze.

They are a paratroop unit, a squadron of the Lord Strathcona Horse of the Royal Canadian Armored Corps, the 23rd Canadian Field Engineers and the 23rd Transport Company of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps.

Other units of the Lord Strathcona Horse have been fighting in Korea as part of the Canadian Brigade in the Commonwealth Division.

Among the replacements was Trooper Vernon Gallant of Carlton, P.E.I., who already has served six months on the Korean front with the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Gallant said he asked to return because "I've got a lot of buddies who still are over there. I want to get back with them."

Married Women Work

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP) — More married women are holding jobs outside the home than ever before in the United States. The census bureau reported Tuesday that in April last year, almost 27 per cent of all married women had jobs. The previous record was 25½ per cent in 1944.

Package Of Morphine Discussed In Windsor Hospital Inquiry

WINDSOR, May 28 (CP). — Norman Mathews, counsel for East Windsor Hospital superintendent Dr. P. J. G. Morgan, suggested Tuesday that a package labelled "morphine" left on the hospital's switchboard had been intended for a woman with an illness which requires treatment with the drug.

He was cross-examining Mrs. Elsie Morley, former private secretary to the superintendent, before a commission appointed by the Ontario government to investigate the hospital's affairs.

When asked earlier if she knew if any drugs ever went out of the hospital, Mrs. Morley told of seeing the package on the hospital switchboard, presumably waiting to be picked up.

Mr. Mathews suggested to Mrs. Morley that packages of morphine had been sent from the hospital to a relative of a Mrs. Agnes Block's on many occasions. The relative, a patient of Dr. Morgan's had required the morphine treatment, Mrs. Block is secretary to Windsor's Mayor Arthur J. Reaume.

Didn't Know Circumstances

Mrs. Morley said she hadn't known the circumstances connected with the package she had seen. There might have been other packages but she had not known what they contained.

During a five-hour period of cross-examination, Mrs. Morley said:

1. There were discrepancies totalling $30.90 in hospital canteen fund receipt records.

2. The price of a 1948 Christmas gift for the hospital superintendent alleged to have cost $260 and to have been partly paid for from a hospital fund might have been $160.

3. She had no knowledge that eggs, butter and ham shipped to Dr. Morgan "at a cottage near Ottawa" had been paid for by the hospital.

4. The parishioners of a Windsor church for which the hospital had provided a noon luncheon for 150 persons "had been very generous" to the hospital.

Mr. Mathews pointed out the canteen fund discrepancies to the witness. He presented for her inspection an account book in which she had, over a three-year period, signed for amounts of money for bank deposit. There were four discrepancies between the amounts for which she had signed and the amounts which bank slips showed had been deposited, one involving $20, one involving $10 and two totalling 90 cents.

Not Counted

Mrs. Morley said she had "apparently" deposited less money than she had received, but suggested that the account book figures were erroneous since, on many occasions, she had signed for the money without counting it.

When she asked for a second account book in which she said another record had been kept of amounts she was said to have received, Mr. Mathews said he knew of no such book.

During earlier testimony, Mrs. Morley described the purchase of a desk set as a Christmas gift for Dr. Morgan. On the doctor's orders, she said, $165 of hospital Christmas fund money was used in part payment for a $260 set.

Tuesday, after questioning, she said the price of the set might not have been more than $160. She insisted that some Christmas funds had been used to purchase it.

Denies Knowledge

Last Thursday, Mrs. Morley described a package containing ham, butter and eggs which she said had been sent from the hospital to Dr. Morgan at a cottage near Ottawa. Tuesday she said she had no knowledge that the hospital had paid for the food.

She had been the first to suggest to Dr. Morgan, the witness said, that the hospital might "cook the meat" for a luncheon for 150 persons at Sacred Heart Church, Windsor, in honor of Msgr. W. E. Dillon. She said she "did not think it improper" that the doctor had had the hospital provide all provisions for the dinner. The parish had been generous in its donations to the hospital.

Mrs. Morley has been testifying for four days in the inquiry ordered by Attorney-General Porter when an audit showed the hospital lost $62,000 in 1951. She was expected to face further cross-examination today.

Aurora Stays Dry

AURORA, May 28 (CP) — This town Tuesday decided to remain dry. In a vote on the establishment of brewers retail stores and government liquor outlets, the count was 846 for liquor stores and 1,076 against; 863 for brewers stores and 1,065 against. The town, 22 miles north of Toronto, has been dry for 36 years.

Lamb Stew, Mint Dumplings Makes Fine Cheap Dinner

A Company Dinner By A Skilful Cook

Can you take your nerve in one hand and your flattened pocketbook in the other, invite some guests for dinner, then go to market to shop for this economical meal?

Lamb Stew with Mint Dumplings
Onions, Carrots, new Potatoes and Celery
Sliced Tomatoes and Celery on Bed of Shredded Lettuce with French Dressing (or Russian Dressing)
Fresh Rhubarb Pie
Coffee

Lamb Stew With Mint Dumplings

Buy shoulder meat that is chunky and meaty and not stringy. Cut into 1½-inch cubes, roll in salted and peppered flour and sear in a little fat in hot frying pan. When golden brown on all sides, turn into stewing pot, rinse out frying pan with hot water, cover the meat with boiling water and simmer for 3¼ hours. If you are a business girl, this long stewing may be done the night before or if you have a pressure cooker, cook the meat in it for 50 minutes. Cook separately (this is where the know-how comes in) medium-sized onions, young whole carrots, whole new potatoes and some outer celery stalks cut into 2-inch pieces. Don't overcook the vegetables. Fifteen minutes before serving time add the Mint Dumplings to the stewing meat: 2 cups flour that has been stirred but not sifted, are sifted with 5 teaspoons baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Add ½ cup finely chopped fresh, washed and dried mint, 1 cup, less about 1 tbsp., milk and stir in quickly. Drop from tablespoon into boiling stew, cover tightly. Do not peek for 12 minutes. After 12 minutes, lift lid and test one dumpling, puncturing it with a fork to the centre. If ready, lift out on slotted spoon, let drain a moment and serve in ring around meat and vegetables on large heated platter.

NOTE: This dinner was served to me by an old friend in Saskatoon who is a home economics graduate. I was in town for one-half day and telephoned her. She said, "Come up for dinner if you would like to share a stew with George and me." But stew, in skilled hands, can be a banquet, and this was. So remember, girls, it is not what you serve, but how cleverly you handle it. Of course, the atmosphere of old friends added to my delight. If you hesitate to add the mint to the dumplings themselves, add it to the gravy of the stew.

Fresh Rhubarb Pie

So many of you make rhubarb pie, I expect I could learn plenty about it myself. But I will not print this again this year (unless a request for a repeat comes in).

Wash and dry rhubarb, but do not peel. Use the rosy slender stalks. Cut into ½-inch pieces. You will need at least 3 cups. Stir into it ⅞ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons flour and 1 beaten egg. Let stand in bowl while you prepare crust. Pour into pastry-lined pie plate, cover with lattice-top or full top crust, well-gashed—for this will bubble out. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 375 for another 35 minutes.

Variations of Rhubarb Pie

Use half rhubarb and half dates, prunes or raisins. Or, since strawberries are still expensive, use half rhubarb and half halved strawberries. For all of these variations, less sugar is required.

British Rural Women Feel Queen Working Too Hard

LONDON, May 28 (Reuters) — Six thousand women from rural Britain in a conference here on Tuesday counselled the Queen's advisers to be sensible about her social program and not to overwork her.

Delegates to the annual conference of the 350,000-strong National Federation of Women's Institutes—women's clubs in small towns and villages up and down the country—expressed concern at the Queen's heavy duties.

"Remember she is a wife and mother," they said in a resolution. Don't prevent her from enjoying to the full her home and family life.

"She has dedicated herself to the service of her people while still young. We do not need any further proof of her loyalty and devotion."

The resolution expressed the thought that has been in most Britons' minds since the Queen ascended the throne. The life of a monarch nowadays is a social marathon.

Want Good Mother

Besides, Britons want to see the Queen as a good mother as well as a good Queen. As a Princess, she was able to give more time than she now can to her two children, Prince Charles and his fair-haired sister, Princess Anne.

The British Medical Journal advised the Queen's counsellors to see "the stresses and strain of Queenship are not borne at the expense and fulfillment of mother hood."

The first three months of the Queen's reign have been comparatively easy. But court mourning ends Saturday and she will feel the full impact of her position for the first time.

She will be plunged straight into the busiest month of her busy year, a June crammed with exacting engagements.

She will attend the Royal tournament—a circus-style show put on by the army—June 4, and the next day will celebrate her official birthday by riding side-saddle at the spectacular trooping the color ceremony.

During the month she will also receive the curtsies of 600 debutantes, play hostess at a Windsor Castle house party, make personal appearances on the three days of the Royal Ascot races, present trophies at the Household Calvary competition, and visit Edinburgh, her Scottish capital.

To prepare for the Royal rigors ahead the Queen went to Scotland Tuesday, to Balmoral Castle for a week's vacation. The Duke of Edinburgh and the two children went with her.

Feeley's Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Feeley, 207 Park St., have been married 50 years. Tuesday night they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a dinner and reception which about 50 of their family and friends attended.

Fifty years ago Tuesday, the weather was cold and rain was falling as the bridal party left St. Peter's Cathedral, where Mr. and Mrs. Feeley were married by the late Msgr. J. J. O'Brien.

Retired 12 Years

Twelve years ago, Mr. Feeley, who is crowding 75, retired from the Canada Packers, where he had worked since 1900. During his 40 years with the firm, he worked in the curing department.

In the living room of their comfortable apartment, Mr. and Mrs. Feeley were admiring the flowers and cards they had received. Particularly, Mrs. Feeley was admiring an orchid pinned to her dress.

The Feeleys have seven children Mrs. Norman McConkey (Mary), Mrs. Robert Armitage (Almeda), Mrs. Wilfred Cunningham (Marceline), Alphonse, and Roy, all of Peterborough, John Amos and Joseph Vernon, both of Detroit. All were at Tuesday evening's dinner and reception, as well as most of the 21 grandchildren.

Approve Decoration Sunday

June meeting of the Bridgenorth W.A. was held Tuesday evening, president Mrs. C. Hartman in the chair. It was a week early owing to a Lilac Garden Tea being held next Wednesday, June 4th, at the home of Mrs. L. Hale. A report on the sale of tickets and other plans was given by Mrs. Hale. A decoration Sunday for the Bridgenorth cemetery was discussed and met with approval of the members. Mrs. W. Nicholls reporting for the parsonage committee said several items of repair are necessary. In charge of devotions Mrs. W. G. Ray, opened with the hymn "Ethernal Father Strong to Save" and followed with prayer for the sick and for the safe trip to England of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston, sailing today. "Talents and their responsibilities" was title of a reading and the story of the talents from the lesson thoughts was read by Mrs. Hartman. Scripture readings were given by Mrs. W. Telford and Mrs. Mary Nicholls, pertaining to talents. A reading on service to others was by Mrs. J. Hardhill. Mrs. L. Richardson reported briefly on the recent W.A. convention. Mrs. C. Telford reported four calls by the visiting committee. Next meeting of the W.A. will be on September 2nd, in the church basement.

"Past president's day" was celebrated with the monthly meeting of Murray St. Baptist Church Women's Association on Tuesday afternoon. A short history of the Association which was first organized in 1905 and known as the "Ladies' Aid" was read by the present president Mrs. C. J. Hayward. This original organization met in the church building which is now the Legion Hall.

An interesting part of the history was the ways and means in which the women raised money in the early years. In 1920 the name was changed to Women's Association and every woman of the church was made a member, which is still the policy.

Nine of the past presidents attended the meeting and each was presented with a lovely corsage. They were Mrs. B. Jackson, Mrs. R. G. Gavine, Mrs. S. J. Graham, Mrs. C. S. Browne, Mrs. L. H. Ingram, Mrs. M. B. Pringle, Mrs. H. R. Scott, Mrs. E. L. Horning and Miss Aileen Morgan.

Miss M. Matthews of London St., was ill and unable to attend and three past presidents now live out of the city, Mrs. Cottingham of Chatham, Mrs. Irons at Carleton Place and Mrs. S. Blewett.

The first four presidents are now deceased, namely Mrs. F. Montgomery, Mrs. Vincent Eastwood Sr., Mrs. D. Thompson and Mrs. D. A. Loomis.

A very enjoyable musical program was presented for the occasion. Mrs. Stanley Northrop sang two solos, "Where ere you walk" and "Into the night", accompanied at the piano by Mrs. G. W. Craw. Mrs. L. Slaughter gave two appropriate and pleasing readings, "Service" and "Ma and the auto." Mrs. P. S. Dallin entertained with delightful piano solos.

The tea table was very attractive in silver and white with a white Chinese cloth, centred with a bouquet of white lilacs and tulips, tall white tapers and the large white party cake.

Mrs. B. Jackson cut the first piece of cake, Mrs. Ivan C. Morgan, the minister's wife, poured tea and Mrs. Roy Beeler and her committee served the refreshments.

The pleasure and appreciation of the past presidents was voiced by Mrs. H. R. Scott to all contributing in the delightful event.

Mrs. Hayward opened the meeting in the regular way with a hymn and prayer. Mrs. M. B. Middleton read a scripture selection and prayer. Mrs. R. G. Gavine received the cent-a-day collection and members were also asked to raise talent money during the summer and turn in the proceeds at September meeting.

The Echoes Staff And Teachers PCVS Tea Guests

The "Echoes Tea" was the event of most interest at the P.C.V.S. on Tuesday afternoon. All members of the Echoes staff attended with the graduating members of the staff being honored guests with Principal Mr. C. S. Browne and Mrs. Browne and the teachers advisers, Miss Helen R. McGregor, Miss Doris L. Burgess, Miss Johnson, Mr. L. R. Hale, Mr. Z. Temesy, Mr. V. R. Henry, Mr. H. A. Toole, Mr. O. C. Simmers, Mr. H. Shearer and Mr. Gordon Johnston.

Advance copies of The Echoes were on view for the staff. Miss Pat Hamilton, 1952 editor, gave a brief report on the whole year's work on the magazine.

Announcement was then made that Bruce Walker will be editor of the Echoes for 1953.

The tea was convened by Ron Leggitt and Bruce Walker, assisted by Beth Davidson, Jack King and Paul Ward as heads of committees. Miss Burgess presided at the table which was decorated with a lovely centrepiece of rose tulips, pink snapdragons and mauve and white sweet peas. The candles were green and white, the colors of the Echoes pins.

Miss Hamiltont, Miss Betty Crowe and Bruce Walker and Ron Leggitt formed a receiving line to greet the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Browne and the teacher advisers were each presented with a corsage or boutonniere for the occasion.

White-Whitfield Nuptials Held At Springville

The marriage of Mary Eleanor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitfield of Fraserville, to Elias Rowan White, son of Mr. and Mrs. David White of Millbrook took place at Springville United Church Saturday with the Rev. A. E. Larke officiating.

The wedding music was played by Miss Doreen Stevens and Miss Marilyn Bowles sang "Because" prior to the ceremony and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a graceful gown of white slipper satin and fingertip veil with headdress of orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of red roses and stephanotis.

Only bridal attendant was her sister, Mrs. Ray Bothwell, wearing a gown of apple green moire taffeta with matching hat and mittens. She carried an old fashioned nose-gay of pink carnations and sweet-peas. Mr. Donald Thompson was the groomsman and ushers were Walter Fallis, cousin of the groom and Neal Whitfield, brother of the bride.

A reception was held in the church parlor, where the bride's mother received, wearing a dress of navy triple sheer with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother also received wearing a navy crepe dress and navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Guests were from Brantford, Belleville, Peterborough, Cavan and Millbrook.

For the wedding trip to Niagara Falls and points east the bride chose a teal blue gabardine suit with pink and navy accessories and carried a pink shortie coat.

Mr. and Mrs. White will live near Millbrook.

Trent River Couple Wed

The marriage of Barbara Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Carnrite of Trent River, to Fred Cameron McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McLaughlin, also of Trent River, was performed by the Rev. R. G. Newman at the Havelock United Church parsonage on Saturday.

The bride wore a pink gabardine dressmaker suit with a white poke bonnet and white accessories and her corsage was of white carnations. Miss Ilene Dunn of Trent River was bridesmaid, attired in a grey gabardine suit, dressmaker type, and wearing a similar hat and white accessories and corsage of carnations.

Harold Carnrite of Peterborough, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

The reception was held at the bride's home with about 40 guests attending from Peterborough, Trenton, Campbellford, Havelock, and Trent River. The bride's mother received in a black and white check crepe dress and matching sailor hat and wore a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore grey crepe and a matching hat and red rose corsage.

Assisting to serve the buffet lunch were Mrs. Ernie Vaness, Mrs. Alta Stewart, Mrs. Fraser Oliver, Mrs. Elmer McIlmoyle and Mrs. Jack Stephens.

The bridal couple are on a wedding trip to Celveland, Ohio, and on return they will make their home in Belleville.

Home and School Association News

PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL

The junior choir, directed by Mrs. A. Wells, sang for the meeting of Prince of Wales Home and School Association Tuesday evening, with piano accompaniment by school music teacher Miss Musa Cox. In appreciation the association presented corsages to the teacher and pianist.

Constable D. Mackay was present to explain to the parents the Peterborough Safety Patrol system and ask the co-operation of the community in helping to reach the goal—the lowest child accident rate in Canada.

The officer was thanked not only for his explanation but for his excellent work in the community by Mr. James Fraser, who then recommended to the association that traffic "cones" be purchased.

Mrs. E. Chambers, vice-president of the federation, before installing the executive for the coming year, asked the parents to create respect for patrol leaders and to co-operate by keeping the regulations themselves.

President Mrs. W. E. Baggs was re-elected and her executive is: vice-presidents, Mrs. A. Parker and Mrs. C. Murkar; recording secretary, Mrs. P. Butler; treasurer, Mrs. V. Ridley; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. Stone; executive, Mrs. Graeme Falkner, Mrs. Harry Northrop, Mrs. G. White, Mrs. James Turner and Mrs. Norman Elliott.

Retiring officers were thanked for their services by Mrs. G. McKnight.

Tea was served in the hall with Mrs. A. Smith in charge, assisted by Grade 8 girls, Beverley Mowry, Barbara Heath, Margaret Dainard and June McCauley.

BANCROFT

BANCROFT, May 28 (ENS) — "Quotations from the messages of the late George VI should be placed in the front of the textbooks used in this province", stated Mrs. A. W. Nelson of Peterborough, district organizer for the Ontario Home and School Association, at the monthly meeting in Bancroft Public School on Thursday night. During her remarks that touched the highlights of the provincial annual meeting, Mrs. Nelson said that the life of our late soveriegn should be remembered by the children of the empire and that the above recommendation from the provincial body had been sent to the Ontario Department of Education.

Co-speaker at the meeting, Mrs. H. J. Parnell, religious education convener for Peterborough and District Council, Home and School Association, used as her theme "Religion in the church, home and school". She showed how the work of the three bodies could be co-ordinated and gave practical examples of the results where a three-fold planned program had been introduced.

Soldier In Korea Sends His Thanks

A letter of thanks for a parcel forwarded to Pte. Lyle Gillespie in Korea, was read at the meeting of the Elizabeth Smellie branch 452 Canadian Legion held in the Armouries Monday.

President Irma Allen gave a report on the Soroptomist dinner which she attended along with several members of the branch.

An announcement was made of the district meeting to be held in Cobourg, Sunday, June 1st. The president urged the support of all members.

A report on the regular meeting of the Film Council was given by the branch's representative, Miss Grace Simpson.

Following enquiries made through Mrs. Kate Aitken of Toronto, it was decided to send a parcel to the Canadian servicemen stationed in the Aleutian Islands, "Canada's Forgotten Men," Mrs. Aitken called them.

Following the adjournment of the business meeting, several five-minute "Quickee Speeches" were given by members on a variety of subjects ranging from "City Affairs" to "A day at the races".

Next monthly meeting being the last of the season, will be held at the home of Miss Grace Simpson and be followed by a weiner roast.

DOROTHY DIX

You'll Find The Right Girl Recovery May Be Slow

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a young man of 27, single and a veteran of World War II. I married at the age of 18, while in service, and was divorced two years later after realizing that my feeling for my wife was only infatuation. Since then I have met several girls but can't seem to care for any of them. My interest lasts but a few weeks, then dwindles. I meet someone else, and begin all over again.

Will I ever really settle down and find someone exciting enough to hold my interest, or am I so immature mentally that I haven't the capacity for real love?

ROGER M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You have nothing to worry about, Roger! Your romantic life is running a perfectly natural course. You have no emotional involvements to hamper your work or peace of mind. Feminine companionship is available in just sufficient quantity to provide pleasant evenings, without unreasonable demands on time or attention. Your interest will become fixed on one girl soon enough, so enjoy your emotional freedom while you have it.

Don't Rush Things

Your unfortunate, youthful marriage has left its scars, and they're taking time to heal. Don't try to rush the process. Twenty-seven is somewhat short of senility, and you have years ahead to meet the right girl, marry and settle down.

Many men are still seeking a good wife at your age—and for years after.

Perhaps your sad experience with marriage has made you hypercritical of young ladies. It does not do to expect too much of them, for they, alas! are not entirely perfect. If you can't come to a happy medium, however, it's better to be fussy than not particular enough. When you do meet the right girl, she'll need no fanfare. Without undue preliminaries you will know the search is over—and she'll probably know it before you do.

Accept the gifts the gods provide, and stop fretting over Cupid's apparent lack of interest in you. He will hit the mark yet.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been invited to my aunt's shower, but since I am only 14 years old, my mother thinks I'm too young. What do you think?

JILL S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Since you have received an invitation, surely you are entitled to accept. Your aunt apparently has more faith in your ability to be a gracious guest than your mother has. By being a proper young lady at the party, you'll convince mom that your social adaptability is greater than she thinks.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have known a young man of 26 for the past year, and while he seems to like my company he has never committed himself to serious intentions. At present he is working nights—from 1 a.m. to 8 a.m.—and since he isn't busy, he has asked me come to his place of business for a couple of hours to keep him company. Because of the hours, and also the fact that I really don't know how he feels about me, I have been in doubt about going. I am 22.

Should I go to this man's place of business once or twice a week, continue to see him, or forget all about him and go with other boys?

SHEILA M. A.

ANSWER: You are in considerable doubt yourself as to the propriety of your visits to a man's place of business, and you are quite right. The sort of visiting he suggests would be out of place at any time, but is highly improper during the unconventional hours he works. This would be the shortest road to a bad reputation you could take.

Asking you to come for a few hours is showing a lack of consideration for you on his part. I think the measure of a man's consideration for a girl's good name is one of the surest gauges of his feeling for her. Since such thoughtfulness is entirely lacking in your friend, I do not think he offers much in the way of a secure future.

If you enjoy his company, and are willing to go out with him occasionally on a basis of good fellowship, meanwhile waiting for a more suitable young man to come along, well and good. Don't pin your hopes on him, however, and watch your step very carefully where he is concerned.

New Drug Helped Remove Peanut From 2-Yr.-Old

CALGARY—(CP)—A peanut was responsible for a medical technique discovered by two Calgary doctors.

Use of the drug ACTH by Dr. M. K. McGougan and Dr. S. B. Thorson in removing a peanut from the throat of a two-year-old boy last June, saving his life, was termed a revolutionary discovery in the current issue of the Canadian Medical Association Journal.

The patient, Wayne Poffenroth, choked on a peanut with a violent reaction in his breathing tubes. Dr. McGougan at the Calgary General Hospital was unable to remove the peanut by normal extraction, because of the excessive swelling. He performed a tracheotomy, opening another channel to enable the boy to breathe, but the doctor was frustrated again when he attempted to remove the peanut through the new opening.

That same night Dr. McGougan drove 38 miles south to High River to discuss the case with Dr. Thorson. It occurred to them that an intra-muscular injection of ACTH, previously used to alleviate allergic conditions and shock, might help.

Returning to Calgary at 3 a.m. June 1 they went to the hospital to try the experiment. The swelling and secretions immediately subsided, and the doctors finally were able to remove the peanut.

Dr. McGougan said there are several cases in Alberta each year of children choking on peanuts, one of which proved fatal last year.

What do you know about eating?

Know you'd be better off eating 5 times a day? Is it smarter to tap the boss for a raise before—or after—lunch? Will a bedtime snack aid or hinder sleep? Are some foods sex stimulants?

In June Reader's Digest, Judith Chase Churchill tells what experts now know about you and eating.

Read why—contrary to what most people think—you may need more food in the summer than in the winter; why you should eat less when you're overtired; why it's better to nap before meals than after.

N.Y. State To Compete For Tourists

ALBANY, N.Y. — (AP) — New York state's resort trade may have one of its best years in 1952 if the Canadian tourist comes across.

Operators of the State's $1,500,000,000 vacation business cheered by inquiries about summer spots, are "pretty optimistic," the State Commerce Department says.

The 1951 vacation season was "about as good as we've had, and 1952, if anything, will be a little better," a department spokesman says.

A lot depends on the Canadians.

Strict limits on the amount of money they could bring across the border discouraged many Canadian visitors until their government relaxed the restriction recently.

Fat Dollars

The currency exchange also has swung in their favor.

Now Canadian dollars, worth only 90 cents in the U.S. last year, are at a premium. Canadians are getting from $1.03 to $1.05 in the U.S. currency for their dollar.

A crisis in the tense international situation could darken the outlook for resort owners. Or the current oil strike, if it continues long enough to force gas rationing, could hit them hard.

About 80 per cent of the visitors to the State travel by automobile, the department estimates.

Canadians are expected to flock into the Adirondacks and the Thousand Islands area, both close to the border. Buffalo and Syracuse also profit from an annual influx from Canada.

TRADE BOOSTERS

International trade fairs are comparatively new to the American continent, but have been held for centuries in Europe.

Court Dismisses Charges Of Bootlegging

Bootlegging charges against two Peterborough county men and their wives were dismissed in police court Tuesday.

"I do not believe the court should hold a case has been established," Magistrate W. R. Philp said in granting W. J. Arthur Fair's motion for dismissal of a charge of keeping liquor for sale against Ted Rosebush of Chandos township. Mr. Fair asked that the charge be dismissed when the Crown completed its case and Magistrate Philp adjourned the case for judgement on Tuesday when the evidence was heard two weeks ago.

The Magistrate said that there was nothing in the evidence that the court should regard critically other than the quantity, and variety of liquor purchased and the accused's income. Evidence was introduced by the Crown that Rosebush purchased almost $200 worth of liquor between the end of December and the end of March while he was earning a net income of $36.13 a week after various deductions had been taken out of his weekly wages.

80 Per Cent On Liquor

The liquor cost Rosebush about 80 per cent of his net wages, Magistrate Philp said and he added: "I don't believe I am entitled to take into consideration the amount of beer he is alleged to have purchased. It is interesting to note that if this were done, the total amount of beer and liquor purchased would approximately equal his net pay," the Magistrate commented.

After Magistrate Philp dismissed the charge, Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said he would offer no evidence on a bootlegging charge against Mrs. Rosebush.

"You are not seriously arguing there is a case are you?" Magistrate Philp asked Mr. Bradshaw after the Crown's case was completed in a keeping for sale charge against Arthur Peters, Belmont township.

O.P.P. Sgt. Stanley Palmateer related that he had seen cars callin at and leaving Peter's house trailer on different occasions when he had kept it under observation in March and April. A search of the trailer turned up about 48 empty beer bottles he said.

Three Crown witnesses, Donald Wright of Marmora, James Houghton and Joseph Wright of Millbridge admitted visiting Peter's trailer but denied having any business dealings with him during the period covered by the charge.

The same charge against Peter's wife was also dismissed.

The Peter's were also represented by Mr. Fair.

Canadian Dollar Slightly Weaker

MONTREAL, May 28 (CP) — The United States dollar was at a discount of 1 and twenty-three-thirty-seconds per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today, E.D.T. Tuesday's noon rate was $0.98 and thirteen thirty-seconds.

The pound sterling was $2.73⅞, against $2.74⅜ Tuesday.

The Canadian dollar was down one-thirty-second of a cent at a premium of 1⅝ per cent in terms of United States funds in foreign exchange dealings in New York today. The pound sterling was up ⅛ of a cent at $2.78⅞.

OBITUARIES

MRS. PERCY McCAW

MARMORA, May 28 — (ENS). —At her residence on Victoria Avenue, Marmora, early on Tuesday morning, the death occurred following a long illness, of Marion Frances Bedore, beloved wife of Percy McCaw. She has lived the greater part of her life of almost 46 years in this community. Mrs. McCaw was held in high esteem by her neighbors and those who came into contact with her. She is survived by her husband and her mother, Mrs. Sarah Young, also of Marmora.

The funeral takes place Thursday afternoon, service being held at the home at 2 p.m., to be followed by burial in Marmora Protestant Cemetery.

SAMUEL VICTOR MILLS

Samuel Victor Mills, formerly of Peterborough, died in his sleep early this morning at his home in Montreal.

He was a son of the late Lt.-Col. Joseph Mills and his wife, Emma Louise Claringbold, of Peterborough. He was educated in this city, and joined the local branch of the Bank of Montreal about 38 years ago.

For years Mr. Mills was a member of the head office of the bank in Montreal. He leaves his sister, Mrs. B. D. Hall, and brother, Major A. Bruce Mills, both of Peterborough. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

LEWIS BENJAMIN SCRIVER

HASTINGS, May 28—(ENS) — A well-known resident of Hastings, Lewis Benjamin Scriver, died today in hospital following a short illness. He was born in Norwood 69 years ago, son of the late Henry Scriver and Hannah Clapper, and except for his boyhood years has lived for 60 years in Hastings.

For 43 of these Mr. Scriver has worked for the Breithaupt Leather Company as a beamer and retired a short time ago due to failing health. In his youth, Mr. Scriver was a lacrosse player of note and has always been interested in sports. Very active in work of the Orange Order, he was honorary member of L.O.L. 558 and L.O. B. A. 458, both of Hastings and of R.B.P. 11, Norwood. Mr. Scriver was a member of Trinity United Church.

He leaves his wife, the former Sarah Tobin, and one son, Clifford, both at home. There are two sisters, Mrs. Henry Havery (Elsie) of Marquette, Mich., and Mrs. James Seymour (Youearln) of Warkworth and two brothers, Harry and Solomon Scriver, both of Hastings.

Funeral service will be held on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at Trinity United Church under auspices of L.O.L. 558. The Rev. N. Cole will officiate and burial will be at Trent Valley cemetery.

EDWARD HARRINGTON— . . .

Edward Harrington of the hamlet of Ennismore died today in hospital following a short illness.

He was born in the township 90 years ago, son of the late William Harrington and Elizabeth McMannus, and has lived in the district a lifetime. His wife, the former Rose McGuire, predeceased him.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Cornelius O'Reilly (Elizabeth) of Peterborough and Mrs. Rose Harrington and a son Charles, both of Ennismore. There are four sisters, Mrs. Mary McGuire of Peterborough, Mrs. William Curtin of Lindsay, Mrs. Margaret Dorris in British Columbia and Mrs. Daniel Holland and a brother William Harrington, both of Ennismore township.

Mr. Harrington was a member of St. Martin's Church and of its Altar and Holy Name Society.

Funeral will be held on Friday from the residence of Mrs. Cornelius O'Reilly of 508 Parnell St., Peterborough, to St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, where requiem mass will be said at 10 a.m. Burial will be at St. Martin's cemetery.

Plant Shut Down

KITCHENER, May 28 (CP)—A second strike within a week at the tire division of the Dominion Rubber Co. Ltd., has resulted in a shutdown of the entire plant, affecting 1,150 employees.

The dispute involves trad tuber workers. Since the wildcat strike a week ago several employees were suspended by the company and yesterday one was discharged.

A meeting is scheduled to be held in Toronto tomorrow with Louis Fine, chief conciliation officer of the Ontario Labor Department.

Western Safari

EDMONTON —(CP)—Neighborhood gardeners armed with rakes and cheered on by children captured "Blackie" the Edmonton zoo's non-venomous black water snake that had enjoyed a week of freedom. The three-foot snake is the last of three that were presented by the Baltimore Zoo.

Millbrook Corps Complimented On Smart Drill

MILLBROOK, May 28. (ENS)—Compliments on their smart turnout, the excellent appearance of the girls and boys corps and the band were given Millbrook high school cadets at their annual inspection Monday morning.

Inspecting officer, Captain E. A. Howey of Kingston, cadet training officer for eastern Ontario, congratulated the corps.

Cadet officers in charge were: Captain George Smith, Lieutenants Charles Smith, Bob Palmer, Arnold Brackenridge, Paul Sanders, and Don Kent, Sgt.-Major Allan Wright and Sgt. Larry Argue.

In charge of the girls' corps were Captain Beverley Patton, Lieutenants Leona Ball and Frances Dawson, Sgts. Jean Hubbard and Margaret McKay.

Capt. Hawley selected Cadet Lieut. Charles Smith as the smartest boy officer and David Stinson as the smartest cadet on parade. The awards to the girls for smartness went to Cadet Lieut. Leona Ball and to drum majorette Nancy Richards.

Capt. Howey strongly recommended the sending of representatives of the local cadets to Camp Ipperwash. He said the supervision and the food were good, that there was a doctor and nurse in attendance, that the training received there as driver mechanics, radio operators and instructors was excellent. The boys had time for sports and swimming as well.

Other visitors who addressed the cadets were Major H. Wilson of Campbellford, representing the Midland Regiment, and Walter Rundle of Bowmanville, chairman of the management committee of the Durham area high school board. Both congratulated the cadets in their fine turnout and complimented them on their band. Dr. J. W. Wright, reeve of Millbrook, and Percy Hamilton also spoke expressing their pride in the cadets. The announcement that the rest of the day was to be a holiday was greeted with cheers and applause. Members of the Home and School Association served cake, ice cream and soft drinks to the cadets at the close of the inspection. Miss Ellen Kent, convener of the social committee, was in charge.

H. & S. News

During the installation of officers for the coming year, under the direction of Mrs. Nelson, the following took the pledge of office: President, Mrs. E. Goodkey; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. A. Hewitt and Mrs. A. Gaebel; Secretary, Mrs. E. Bruce; treasurer, Mrs. W. L. Martin; executive, Mrs. A. Weiss, Mrs. L. Freiburger; Mrs. P. La Barge; Mrs. O. W. Anderson; and Mrs. G. Andrews.

The yearly progress report, read by the outgoing secretary, Mrs. C. E. Stringer, reviewed the activities of the year. Among the events she listed were the kindergarten tea for new pupils, presentation of pictures to members of the graduating class, the annual Hallowe'en party, the founder's day program, the school nursing service, open house, father's day, talks by school authorities, musical programs by the school pupils and other projects where the association had worked in co-operation with other village associations.

Mrs. I. L. Hutton read the audited financial statement, showing that the current bank balance for the financial year was $63.40. Lunch was served by the special committee

GiveCommunists Question List

PANMUNJOM, Korea, May 28 (AP). — The United Nations' truce delegation today for the first time gave the Communists a list of questions used in screening the captured Reds on whether they would return to Communist territory.

The Allies say only 70,000 of 169,000 captured soldiers and civilian internees have said they would return willingly.

The official list of questions:

1—"Would you like to return to China (North Korea)?" If the answer was yes, the prisoner was listed for repatriation without out further questioning.

2—"Would you forcibly resist repatriation?" If the answer was no, the prisoner was listed for repatriation. If it was yes, he was asked additional questions:

3—"Have you carefully considered the important effect of your decision on your family?"

4—"Do you realize that you may stay at Koje for a longer time than those who choose repatriation,"

5—"Do you understand that the U.N. command has never promised to send you any certain place?"

6—"Despite your decision, if the U.N. command should repatriate you, what would you do?"

The prisoner was listed for repatriation unless he mentioned suicide, fight to death, escape, braving death or similar intention to avoid a return.

Adele Bosley

Funeral for Adele Bosley, nine-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bosley, 438 Rose Ave., was held Monday afternoon at the Duffus funeral home. Adele died Sunday in hospital.

Pallbearers were Vincent Monaghan, Terry O'Keefe, James Riel, Vincent Kennedy. Graveside prayers at St. Peter's cemetery were said by the Rev. Leo Leahy.

Lady Golfers Open Season At Peterborough Club

Official opening of the season for the ladies' section of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club was favored with perfect weather on Tuesday. This helped too to bring out 67 golfers and social members for the noon-day dinner, of turkey with all the trimmings.

The steward added interest to the serving by offering a prize to the lady who found a radish under her meat. It was Mrs. Alice Leach who was served this special plate.

President Mrs. S. J. Williamson and captain Mrs. R. G. Maniece arranged the golf competition for the day as a two-ball foursome of 18-hole players with nine hole players and each played 12 holes of the course. Miss Alexandria Howson was social hostess for three tables of bridge for the non-golfers.

Golfing prizes for the day went to Mrs. H. Baptie and Mrs. J. A. Nornabell for first low gross and Mrs. W. J. Vanstone and Mrs. B. Bell for second low gross. Mrs F. Roy and Mrs. C. E. Roberts of Cornwall, won for the least number of putts and Mrs. F. Hall and Mrs. E. Howson won on sealed holes.

The first bridge prize went to Mrs. C. G. Graham, a past president of the club, and the second prize to Mrs. Mark Crough. Miss Nina Davidson won the guest prize.

Those present for dinner were Mrs. E. J. Sheedy, treasurer; Mrs. Joe Watson, secretary; Mrs. R. Grant, Miss West, Mrs. S. C. Pearson, Mrs. R. Tanner, Mrs. M. Burnie, Mrs. W. J. Vanstone, Mrs. J. NATO Naval Forces Said Dangerously Low

PARIS, May 28 (Reuters) —Admiral Lynde McCormick, supreme allied commander in the North Atlantic, warned today that the forces at his disposal to meet the Russion submarine threat are "dangerously low".

The supreme commander, who arrived here Tuesday, gave the North Atlantic Council a progress report on his command set up last April. It was his first appearance before N.A.T.O.'s governing body.

Asked about his evaluation of Russian naval fighting capacity, he said that with the advantages of German experience and technical help, "we can by no means discount the efficiency of the Soviet naval and maritimes forces."

Import Cuts Ordered

LONDON, May 28 (Reuters)—The government Tuesday started putting into effect import cuts totalling £20,000,000 announced in the March budget. Import quotas were announced for the goods concerned—textile, certain manufactured goods and food. Supplying countries mainly affected are in Europe, the Middle East and South America.

Hole In Sun

FAENZA, Italy, May 28 (AP)—A hole big enough to contain several planets the size of the earth has appeared in the surface of the sun. Bendani Observatory reported today. It said the hole will be visible until June 4, and can be seen through dark glasses.

Frost Concerned About Clergy

LINDSAY, May 28 (Staff) —The Hon. Leslie Frost, premier of Ontario, today expressed concern for the present financial security of clergy in his address of greeting to the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada.

"In these days of the high cost of living, I would like to suggest that laymen take more interest in making sure their clergy are financially secure," the premier said.

Mr. Frost paid tribute to the United Church of Canada and all Christian churches for "their great contribution to Canada and the Canadian way of life.

"This tribute is to the contribution churches have made and are going to make to the most precious thing we have in Canada—the spiritual and moral background and foundation of our people."

Fish Need Protection During Spawning

The spawning aspects of sport fish in the Kawarthas and their relation to the Game and Fisheries Act was explained to members of the Peterborough Optimists Club at their weekly meeting on Monday. Charles Weir, biologist of the Department of Lands and Forests, was the speaker.

He explained that closed seasons had a two-fold purpose as far as the department was concerned: (1) They protected fish during their spawning seasons. (2) They limited the catches as a safety valve to the great fishing pressure prevalent these days. Mr. Weir thought that present daily bags were too generous and that sportsmen should use them as a guide, instead of a target.

The meeting was under the chairmanship of president-elect Jerry Royds with vice-president Edward Wright at head table with him. Business discussion by club members was held to a minimum so that Mr. Weir's talk could be enjoyed.

Exports Doubled

DUBLIN, May 28 — (AP). — The Republic of Ireland's exports to the United States during the first quarter of this year were $2,942,800 — more than double those for the same period in 1951, the government said Tuesday night.

Named Premier

MOSCOW, May 23 — (AP). — The government today announced that Tse Den Bal has been named premier of Communist Outer Mongolia—the Mongolian People's Republic. He succeeds the late Marshal Choi Bol-San, whose death by cancer in a Moscow hospital was announced last January.

No Inhumanity Ever Used Against Koje Reds—Officer

OSAKA, Japan, May 28 (AP) — The former security officer of riotous Koje Island said today it was "difficult for our men to swallow insults day in and day out" from Communist prisoners of war, but that "there was never a single instance of a prisoner being treated inhumanely."

Capt. Jack McGuire is in an army hospital recuperating from wounds suffered April 10 in a riot of Red prisoners.

McGuire said United States soldiers have been taunted and menaced for months by vicious, sneering Communist captives.

"It was terribly difficult for our men to swallow insults day in and day out and still continue to do their jobs. Yet, during all the time I was on Koje—from Jan. 1, 1952, to May 8—there was never a single instance of a prisoner being treated inhumanely."

Dramatic Account

The 37-year-old officer from Attica, N.Y., gave the first dramatic eye-witness account of the April 10 riot on Koje—an after-dark nightmare in which at least four Korean guards and three North Korean prisoners were killed and at least six guards and 57 Reds were injured.

McGuire himself was wounded twice—by bullets from a U.S. guard's machine-gun and a Russian pistol fired by one of the howling rioters.

The April 10 violence broke out when McGuire led 100 South Korean guards, armed only with clubs, into prison compound 95 to remove a wounded prisoner.

McGuire said he was ordered in by the then Koje commander, Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, against his own recommendation. Dodd was relieved of command after the Reds kidnapped and held him hostage. He has since been reduced to his permanent rank of Colonel.

McGuire described the prisoners on Koje as "defiant, dangerous troublemakers, who turned even the benefits we gave them into propaganda for their own use."

The Communist majority of prisoners thoroughly intimidated the anti-Communist capitves, he said, adding:

"When we could, we got the anti-Communists out of the compounds. Often they tried to escape the compounds—and often they made it. But sometimes they didn't and were dragged back by the Communists. We would find their hanged bodies later."

McGuire said never in his experience in Koje did he ever give an order to fire on prisoners.

C.N.R. Announces Thornton Promotion

TORONTO, May 28 — The appointment of J. J. Thornton to become associate public relations representative for Canadian National Railways at its Central Region headquarters, Toronto, was announced here today. The appointment becames effective on August 1.

Jack Thornton, who is also president of the Winnipeg Press Club, has been with the Public Relations Department of the C.N.R. for 23 years and served in Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver before going to Winnipeg in 1940. In 1942 he joined the R.C.A.F. and was flight operations officer with 124 and 170 Ferry Squadrons before rejoining the railway in December, 1946. He is also a former newspaperman of some years' experience in Western Canada.

Baptist Y.P. Rally Held In Havelock

HAVELOCK, May 28 (ENS).—A young people's rally was held in the Baptist Mission Hall on Saturday night with young people from the Fellowship Baptist Church at Cobourg and the Bethel Baptist Church at Peterborough taking part in the service.

Pastor L. Bigelow, of the Havelock Mission, presided. The main feature of the program was the showing by E. Plant, of Toronto, of a Moody Institute film entitled "To Every Creature." This film showed how the effectiveness of missionaries could be multiplied many times over through the use of the modern methods of transportation and communication, and through the help of specialists.

A solo was rendered by Murray Bickle, of Cobourg, and a duet was sung by Allan and Brian Laverty, of Peterborough. A competition song service resulted in the Cobourg group being the winners. Mrs. B. Smith was the accompanist.

Special evangelistic services are being conducted in the Havelock mission every night this week with the exception of Saturday at eight o'clock and on Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The Rev. and Mrs. Roy Hisey, of Boston, Ontario, will be in charge and render special music at all the services.

House Puts Final Touches To 1952 Budget Changes

OTTAWA, May 28— (CP) — The Commons Tuesday put the final touches to Finance Minister Abbott's budgetary changes.

Legislation giving parliamentary approval of tax and duty changes proposed in the minister's 1952-53 budget were cleaned up. Actually many of the changes have been in effect since the budget was brought down April 8 last.

Many members again voiced belief that the changes do not go far enough or go too far. The minister sat most of the day listening to suggestions for higher income-tax exemptions, bigger corporation taxes and more tax consideration for those with heavy medical bills.

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre) again urged the government to eliminate the four-per-cent floor under the amount of medical expenses which may be deducted from income for tax purposes.

Donald Fleming (P.C., Toronto Eglinton) wanted the list of nondutiable drugs — at present including only acth, cortisone, insulin and radium — widened to include other new drugs required by chronic disease sufferers.

Not Deductible

Mr. Abbott replied specifically only to Mr. Knowles' plea. He said in handling Canada's financial affairs he works on the principle that no ordinary living expenses should be deductible from salaries before income taxes are paid.

Medical bills were an ordinary living expense and for that reason the government felt it could not go beyond raising the ceilings on deductible medical bills—to $1,500 from $750 for single persons and to $2,000 from $1,000 for married persons—as it did in the budget.

On this final word from the minister, Mr. Knowles said: "We'll try again next year."

The House got through a lot of work. It approved legislation establishing a national library, setting the salary of Canada's chief electoral officer at $12,000 a year—a $2,000 a year increase—and a bill increasing the amount of loans which can be made to individual farmers by the Canadian Farm Loan Board.

Under State Secretary

On the library measure, Prime Minister St. Laurent said that initially the cultural centre will be placed under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of State. Later some other minister may be charged with its supervision and that of kindred activities.

Mr. St. Laurent said he agrees with George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, that the library should contain books of all types, including those of other systems of governments which it might not be desirable to distribute generally.

During discussion of the Income Tax Act, John Blackmore (S.C., Lethbridge) complained income taxes are far too high. If increase continued then "Canadians might just as well bid good-bye to freedom."

Makes Suggestion

Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East) suggested a man with a chronic invalid wife should get an income tax exemption for the housekeeper he must hire.

H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) put in a word for increasing income tax exemptions for married men to $3,000 from $2,000 and for single men to $2,000 from $1,000.

J. W. Noseworthy (CCF—York South) thought the minister ought to pay more attention to corporations when seeking revenue. Tax rates on U.S. corporations amounted to about 60 per cent while in Canada they ranged between 52 and 54 per cent.

Robert Fair (SC—Battle River) urged that compensation paid to Saskatchewan farmers for cattle destroyed in the foot-and-mouth disease outbreak there be exempt from tax.

To this last suggestion the minister replied that ordinary income-tax rules will apply to such compensation. If it was income it would be taxed but if it was classed as capital it would not. There were complicated rules because some of the herds were "basic herds and that sort of thing."

Tries To Speak Jailed Again

JOHANNESBURG, May 28. — (AP). — E. S. Sachs, South African Garment Workers Union boss, was back in jail Tuesday for trying to make the anti-government speech that got him arrested on Saturday. This time he was ordered to stay there 16 days, and police turned down appeals that the labor leader be freed on bail.

Sachs was brought into court for trying to address several thousand persons Monday from the steps of the Johannesburg City Hall. He tried to speak from these same steps Saturday, but police arrested him on charges he had violated South Africa's anti-Red laws. Hundreds were injured in a resulting clash with police.

Sachs' arrest brought threats of a country-wide general strike from the powerful Federation of Trades and Labor Councils.

Feeling has mounted since Sachs defied a government order charging him with being a Red and ordering him to quit all political and union activities. The order was issued under the broad powers given Prime Minister Malan two years ago in outlawing the Communist Party. Sachs says he was expelled from the Communist Party in 1931.

Bridge Collapses 3 Women Get Ducking

OTTAWA, May 28 (CP).—Three women, trapped on a wooden footbridge spanning the Rideau River, escaped with a soaking Monday night when the bridge broke loose.

Miss Veronica McIntosh, a civil servant, floated some distance downstream on a section of the bridge before being rescued by police in rowboats.

The other two, Odette Dupont, 20, and Pauline Ranger, 23, were able to wade ashore. The river at the point spanned by the bridge is not more than about three feet deep, but the current is fairly strong.

One Killed, 2 In Family Hurt After Lindsay Train Crash

Men Blown 20 Ft. Into Air In Yonge St. Blast

TORONTO, My 29. (CP)—Men and giant timbers were blasted more than 20 feet in the air Wednesday as three explosions in Toronto's unfinished transportation subway rocked downtown Yonge St. Four firemen, two hydro employees and a policeman were injured. Most severely injured were Firemen Jack Preece and Harold Hepburn who were thrown above overhead street car wires and crushed by heavy timbers which crashed down upon them. Both suffered fractured legs and possible pelvic injuries.

Two more firemen, James White and James Robert Sullivan, were treated for head cuts and burns while Sgt. Ernest Gill, Toronto policeman, received head injuries.

Preliminary investigations indicated the blasts were caused by seepage of cooking gas which was ignited by a short-circuited high-tension wire carrying an estimated 13,000 volts.

Witnesses reported the body of one fireman, hurtling through the air, was smashed against a street lamp.

Hydro employees, Frank and William Morgan, both suffered fractured left legs.

Sounded Alarm

The fire was discovered by Sgt. Gill who was on a routine patrol. He sounded the alarm. Since the subway was surfaced there have been several small fires in the same area caused when high-tension wires below ground short-circuited. Each cable carries an estimated 13,000 volts.

First firemen to arrive at the scene from the Adelaide and Grosvenor fire halls followed the usual pattern at such fires—hoisting the timbers out of the road surface to reach the wires and fire beneath. Sgt. Gill helped firemen push parked cars away from the scene when the work of hoisting the timbers began. Hydro men Morgan and Lee arrived to superintend the work and deaden the live cables.

A small crowd gathered and police arrived to keep them from hampering the firemen.

Suddenly a low rumble below ground heralded the first blast which opened a small hole in the road surface. Firemen, using foam chemical in their hoses for fear water would spread the blaze by touching the live electric cables, turned their nozzles to the area of this blast.

Second Blast Stronger

The second blast was stronger than the first and threw Sgt. Gill 10 feet into the air as he pushed a car from the scene. The same blast tossed Morgan and Lee into the air and blasted loose several timbers and road surface.

Firemen Preece and Hepburn were standing on the west side of Yonge Street away from the previous two explosions. The third and most vicious blast blew the road up beneath their feet and shot them up and above the overhead street car wires Heavy timbers and dirt blasted up with them.

P.C. Robert Price of the traffic squad was standing close to them when the explosion occurred. He said that a greenish flame gushed from the hole in the road and he

Dredge Sinks 2 Drown, 10 Rescued

PORT STANLEY, May 29. — Two men were drowned today when a government dredge carrying a crew of 12 sank in the harbor here. Capt. John Howell, 64, of Port Stanley, was trapped below decks. William Sweet, 18, a deckhand from Saint John, N.B., also was caught in the hold while trying to rescue a friend who had already escaped.

The other members of the dredge crew saved themselves by clinging to the upper portions of the craft until they were rescued by men aboard tugs of the Port Stanley fishing fleet.

The dredge capsized in about 22 feet of water near the breakwater lighthouse. Port Stanley is on Lake Erie about 10 miles south of St. Thomas.

Machinery Sinks Dredge

The bottom of the dredge was holed when a piece of heavy machinery in the engine room broke loose from its footings and fell through the bottom of the hull. Capt. Howell was in the engine room at the time and was trapped.

Men on the fishing tugs and on the government tug Hercules rescued the other crew members within a few minutes after the dredge sank.

Provincial Police arranged to bring a driver and his equipment from nearby Port Rowan.

Part of the superstructure of the dredge remained above water. One corner of the craft was within eight feet of the lighthouse at the end of the west breakwater pier. It did not block the way for lake vessels seeking to use the port.

Survivors of the dredge crew were deckhands Marvin Smythe and George Peaker, firemen Aubrey Redmond and James Williams, marker Arthur Townsend, engineroom crew members and Harold Leonard Brisseau, assistant runner Peter Solomon, and the cook and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Alward.

Tries to Save Friend

The body of Sweet was recovered 55 minutes after the accident. He had jumped from the tow tug Hercules to the deck of the dredge intent on rescuing his friend Aubrey Redmond, whom he knew to be asleep in his bunk in the dredge living quarters. Sweet was

U.S. Worried Over Offensive

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) — Communist hints of renewed large-scale warfare in Korea have been received in Washington with deadly seriousness.

They have sharpened the belief of top-ranking authorities that the Chinese and North Korean Communists, having built up a 1,000,000-man army and a more powerful air force during the 11 months of truce talks, may now launch a major offensive.

Official public statements here have generally been limited to emphasizing the capability of the Reds for attacking. But ever since the truce talks deadlocked several weeks ago officials have been privately talking of a big Red drive as a growing possibility.

Would Change Name Of NATO

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP). — Canada's defence minister would like a new name for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Addressing a Rotary Club luncheon today, Brooke Claxton said the name "N.A.T.O." is a "regrettable feature" of the organization.

Claxton said that when the United Nations was called "U.N.O.," for United Nations Organization, people didn't know what it meant. So it was called "The United Nations" and people now knew what that meant.

"What was true of the word 'U.N.O.' is even more true of 'N.A.T.O.'," he said. "It sounds like some kind of patent medicine. What we should do is call it the 'Atlantic Pact' and stop using these alphabetical handicaps."

Later in his speech, he referred to it as the "Atlantic Alliance."

Reopen Discussions In Textile Strike

MONTREAL, May 29 (CP)—Informed sources said today Dominion Textile Company and United Textile Workers of America (T.L.C.—A.F.L.) are arranging to reopen discussions looking towards a settlement of the 10-week strike of 6,000 workers in company plants here and in Valleyfield, Que.

It was understood the company and the union were seeking to set a mutually-acceptable date for a meeting between company officails and Roger Provost, new Quebec director of the union.

Nootka Halts Red Invasion Of Small Korean Island

A U.N. NAVAL BASE, Japan, May 29—(CP)—A nightly display of star-shells and rockets was thrown up by the Canadian destroyer H.M.C.S. Nootka on a recent assignment to protect a group of small islands lying off enemy-held territory on the west coast of Korea.

The Nootka helped break up a Communist invasion attempt on the islands, gave food and medical aid to the island's inhabitants and rounded out its patrol with a surprise shelling of the port city of Haeju.

The islands lie in the sea approaches to Haeju and have been under constant threat of attack by Red forces anxious to control the entrance to the port.

Each night, the Nootka, commanded by Cmdr. R. M. Steele of Rothesay, N.B., stood off the enemy coast and threw up starshells and rockets to illuminate areas suspected of holding invasion forces.

One night a comparatively large enemy force was spotted crossing by foot to the islands across mud flats laid bare by receding tides. The Nootka dispersed the Reds with fire from her four-inch guns.

Shortly before leaving the area, the Nootka made an early-morning trip up the narrow channel between tidal flats into the harbor of Haeju itself. It shelled predetermined targets, catching the enemy completely by surprise, and steamed out of the harbor without a return shot being fired.

A U.S. minesweeper took part in the harbor raid, sweeping the channel ahead of the destroyer under cover of the Nootka's guns.

During their stay in the area, crew members visited the islands' defenders and gave food and medical aid to the Korean inhabitants.

Surgeon Lieut. Robert E. Stewart of Toronto, ship's medical officer, treated a number of Koreans wounded in skirmishes and gave advice and supplies to help meet sanitation and disease problems brought on by the siege. Grateful Koreans gave him a Russian sub-machine gun taken from an enemy patrol.

Car Strikes Behind Train Engine

Side of Vehicle Torn Off; Returning From Parley

LINDSAY, May 29. (Staff)—Mrs. Gainor Randell, 25, of Deseronto, was killed and her husband, 26, is in Ross Memorial Hospital here with undetermined head and chest injuries after a car-train collision two-and-a-half miles southeast of Lindsay at a C.P.R. level crossing.

Their one-year-old son, Billy, was also taken to hospital with undetermined injuries.

The Randells were driving east from Lindsay, where they had been attending the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church. The car crashed into the train between the engine and the tender about 1:15 p.m.

The train was the Havelock-Bobcaygeon mixed, just entering Lindsay.

Side Torn Off

The whole right side of the late-model car was torn off, the car was spun around and hurled about 35 feet northwest of the scene. With its rear end suspended on a culvert, the car hung over a six-foot ditch, with the front end near the bottom.

All three were thrown out of the car by the impact, and landed a few feet away from the car. Mrs. Randell, it is believed, died almost instantly after being tossed from the car.

First on the scene of the accident was Mrs. Mel. Irvine, whose farm is about 100 yards from the scene of the fatality. Mrs. Irvine heard the crash, and jumped in her car and drove to help

"When I got there, Mr. Randell was just getting up off the ground. He was dazed, and didn't say anything. Blood was pouring from his head and a cut on his shoulder. He picked the baby up from the ground and walked around petting it so it wouldn't cry," she said.

Parts of the tender were found lying on the car, and wreckage was strewn around the scene for about 100 feet. A crowd of about 50 people soon gathered and Provincial Police were forced to direct traffic as cars began to line up on the highway.

Mrs. Irvine said she telephoned Provincial Police in Lindsay and told them to come to the scene. Dr. W. R. Crowe, Lindsay coroner, is investigating, with the O.P.P.

Missing Planes Land Near Lake

PORT ARTHUR, May 29 (CP) —Two private planes whose whereabouts for a time caused concern landed safely here Wednesday. Fog north of Lake Superior had forced their pilots to make emergency landings.

F. E. (Bud) Harbottle, 36, of White Horse, Yukon, brought down a new seaplane he is flying to the Yukon for use by the White Horse Flying Service, of which he is vice-president. Lester Prosser, 51-year-old mine operator from Vancouver, arrived 15 minutes later in a monoplane he had flown from Kapuskasing.

Has Information To Brighten Windsor Case

WINDSOR, May 29. (CP)—An accountant said today he had received information which tended to "brighten the picture" of East Windsor Hospital's 1951 financial standing.

H. A. (Ted) Scarff said that after the completion of an audit which showed a 1951 $62,000 hospital loss, his firm had received information relating to government grants and a bequest due the hospital in 1951.

If this information had been received in time, it would have been included in the audit, he said.

Mr. Scarff, a member of the Windsor firm of Brokenshire and Scarff which has for some years been auditing the hospital's accounts, was testifying before a commission ordered set up when Attorney-General Porter was presented with the audit which showed the $62,000 loss.

The accountant, who has completed one day of testimony in the inquiry which is continuing, made the statements on cross-examination by Norman Mathews, Toronto, who is representing the interests of hospital Superintendent Dr. P. J. G. Morgan at the inquiry. Mr. Scarff did not specify the amounts of the grants or of the bequest.

Amended Audit

Mr. Mathews then referred to an amended audit of the hospital's 1951 financial position, prepared in April by the Brokenshire firm. The amended audit —prepared two months after the original audit—showed a 1951 hospital loss of $11,000 and a net profit before provision for depreciation on fixed assets of $16,000.

Duplessis Calls July Election

QUEBEC, May 29 (CP)—Premier Duplessis has called a general election for July 16, the 24th since Confederation.

The date, subject of speculation for weeks, was announced at close of Wednesday's cabinet meeting.

At that time, dissolution of Quebec's 23rd legislature was an accomplished fact and writs were on their way to electoral returning officers in each of the province's 92 electoral divisions.

Quebec electoral circles were buzzing with anticipation all day Wednesday.

Liberal Leader Georges Lapalme who leads a reorganized force into the first election, awaited developments at party headquarters while Union Nationale members of the legislature and partisans moved hurriedly in and out of government buildings most of the day.

Opening blasts of the campaign were fired within minutes of the announcement.

Mr. Duplessis said the Liberals were a group of men "inexperienced, except in damagogical tactics and utopian promises."

Life In Jungle Not Feared By Woman Visiting In City

An Englishwoman who has travelled over much of the globe and who has often lived alone in her jungle home in West Africa for days at a time, was re-united Wednesday with two sister living in Peterborough—Mrs. Eleanor Bacon and Mrs. William S. Hake, both of 202 Edinburgh St.

She is Mrs. Sidney Rayment-Acton, a pleasant, soft-spoken native of Essex, England, at present on a three-month vacation from Koforidua, a settlement 50 miles inland on the Gold Coast.

"For so many years I've looked forward to seeing my sisters in their home here in Peterborough," she said. "Now it's all come true."

Separated 42 Years

Her last meeting with Mrs. Hake (Annie) was 42 years ago, and she has not seen Mrs. Bacon (Eleanor) since Mrs. Bacon visited her in England 29 years ago. Two other sisters live at home in Essex.

"I thought I was tired when I arrived here at 3 a.m.," said Mrs. Rayment-Acton, "but here I've been up all day and we're still talking. I've always wanted to come to Canada."

When Mrs. Rayment-Acton says that you know she must be impressed because she is no tyro at travelling.

At the age of 15 years she made a trip to Egypt. Then she accompanied her husband, Sidney, to Seville, Spain, where he taught languages.

From Spain the couple went to Keeling, Cocos Islands, in the Indian Ocean where Mr. Rayment-Acton worked for the governor and owner. Their next temporary home was Singapore and they were caught there during the disastrous Japanese attack down the Malayan Peninsula in 1942.

Mrs. Rayment-Acton was evacuated shortly before Singapore fell to the Japanese forces. Her husband was taken prisoner of war and remained in captivity for three and a half years.

"That is certainly another story in itself," said Mrs. Rayment-Acton. "My husband was transferred by the Japanese from Java to Sumatra to Borneo. Yes, he was bandly under-weight when he was released. He was given a year to rehabilitate."

During the years of the Second World War, while her husband was a P.O.W., Mrs. Rayment-Acton

Trolley FallsOff Bridge 30 Passengers Killed

MADRID, Spain, May 29 (AP) — An overcrowded streetcar plunged 85 feet off the historic Toledo Bridge here Friday night and carried at least 30 persons to their death on the river bank below. Some 56 persons were seriously injured.

Rescue workers, digging through the wreckage on the bank of the Manzanares River, had recovered 30 bodies by early morning. Six were women and two young boys. It was feared more victims would be found.

The streetcar, which had a normal capacity of 48, had been jammed with at least 100 persons. Its brakes gave way as it moved down a 600-foot incline, and it crashed through the railing of the 230-year-old bridge.

Top French Red Jailed In Riot

PARIS, May 29—(AP)—The public prosecutor tonight ordered an immediate inquiry into the affairs of Jacques Duclos, imprisoned top French Communist leader, and others "to see whether they should be prosecuted for plotting against the State's internal security."

The order also named Andre Still, editor of the Communist newspaper L'Humanite, one of the Red papers seized by the government for inciting rioting against Gen. Matthew Ridgway, new commander of Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers Europe.

In the National Assembly, Communist deputies demanded the immediate liberation of Duclos, who has been charged with carrying a gun during Wednesday night's bloody demonstrations against Ridgway.

Interior Minister Charles Brune has said the government has proof of "an organized and permanent conspiracy by the Communist troops" against the French State during the street fighting. One Communist was killed and 17 severely hurt and 200 police injured in Paris. At Nice another 25 persons were hurt.

The inquiry will be made under articles of the French penal code which provides for deportation for anyone plotting to destroy or change the government by inciting citizens to arm themselves against authority.

Use Bayonets, Gas To Smash New POW Uprising

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, May 29. (AP)—A North Korean Communist prisoner was killed and another wounded slightly today when a United States guard accidentally fired an automatic rifle into Compound 66 of the United Nations prisoner-of-war Camp No. 1. A spokesman for the camp commander said the mishap occurred two hours after U.S. and British troops, wielding bayonets and using tear gas bombs, had broken up a prisoner parade, foiled a Red attempt to cut a new gate in an inner barbed wire fence and torn down the P.O.W.'s ramshackle command post and dispensary.

Camp officers said no shots were fired by the troops who entered the compound earlier.

The accidental shooting came when U.S. guards were changing places tonight in a high watch-tower at the rear of the compound. The automatic weapon sprayed bullets into the middle of the compound.

The Reds began parading this afternoon in the compound where 2,700 officers and 650 orderlies are held.

At least 100 U.S. and British infantrymen entered the enclosure shortly after on orders of Col. Henry Taylor, deputy commander of the United Nations' Koje Island prison camp.

They broke up the demonstration with tear gas bombs and drove the Reds into the centre of the compound. Then they systematically ripped apart the two metal shacks serving as the P.O.W.'s command post and dispensary.

Guard Team

(Reuters correspondent Michael Ramsden said armed U.S. troops, wearing gas masks, entered the compound to guard a British demolition team.

(Ramsden said the Britons had entered the compound as an advance party to destroy the prisoners' headquarters, but that finding it "dangerous," they had asked the Americans to provide a guard.

(A company of the Royal Canadian Regiment, which landed with a company of the King's Shropshire Light Infantry Saturday to augment the island guards apparently took no part in the clash.)

Zinc Supply Better Cancel Allocations

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) — The raw materials conference of 28 countries, including Canada, today suspended all international allocations of zinc because of improved supply prospects.

The move in effect returned the sale of zinc to the free market after eight months of controls.

The conference, which makes up the west's leading producing and consuming countries, forecast a month ago that zinc supplies might be sufficient to meet "restricted requirements later in the year".

A total of 510,145 metric tons of zinc was allocated among 42 countries for the three-month period beginning April 1.

Car Crashes Through Bridge, Six Injured

BARRIE, May 29 — (CU). — Six persons were injured early today when the automobile in which they were riding crashed through a bridge south of here, and landed upside down on railway tracks 40 feet below.

Cpl. James Hutchinson, 33, of Camp Borden, suffered back and face injuries. His five passengers, Cpl. Frank Highley, 27, of Camp Borden, Douglas Taylor, 22, of Tollendale, Ont. and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Duchesma and Ellene Jardeau, 29, all of Barrie, were injured.

Cpl. Hutchinson and Mr. Taylor were kept in hospital The others were permitted to go home after treatment.

Saved 6 Lives

A farmer who lived near the scene of the crash, Len Foster, was credited with saving the lives of the six who lay on the tracks in the path of a train due here two minutes later.

Awakened by the crash, Mr. Foster saw the wreckage on the tracks and then shouted to his wife to "stop the train."

Mrs. Foster telephoned the station at nearby Allandale and the train was stopped just as it was pulling out of a water-stop two miles south.

Sub In Trouble Planes Search

ELIZABETH CITY, N.C., May 29 — (AP). — Coastguard planes were reported today to be searching the Atlantic off North Carolina for a submarine believed in trouble. It was not clear whether the submarine was a United States vessel or foreign. Officers at the coastguard station here declined to comment on the search.

Requests 3 Billion For Atomic Expansion

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)— President Truman today asked Congress for $3,341,000,000 for a "major further expansion" of atomic production facilities.

The money, in the form of a supplemental appropriation, would go to the Atomic Energy Commission and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

In a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House of Representatives, Truman said the expansion is necessitated by the fact that "the Soviet has shown no disposition to co-operate in an international program for control and regulation of arguments."

Lacking international control of atomic energy, he added, "the national security and the security of the free world demand that we maintain and increase our leadership in this field."

Navy Patrol Boat Gets Lost On Lake

PORT DALHOUSIE, May 29 — (CP). — A Royal Canadian Navy patrol boat from Hamilton got lost on Lake Ontario Wednesday.

A Fairmile left Burlington, near Hamilton, to pick up the Ontario Legislature's Select Committee on Lake Levels here. The committee got tired of waiting and went on to Grimsby.

The diesel-powered craft, manned by 10 sailors, finally wound up at Oswego, N.Y. Officers on the Fairmile said the craft's compass was out of kilter 30 to 35 degrees and they decided to head for land.

From Oswego the craft proceeded along the shore to Grimsby, arriving five hours late.

Red Barrage Turns Back Allied Raid

Heaviest Attack Of Year—Officials Hint Offensive Near

SEOUL, Korea, May 29. (AP) —Communist big guns Wednesday turned back an Allied raid with their mightiest barrage of the year. It was the same day Red truce negotiators threatened to renew heavy fighting in Korea.

The Communists poured 7,126 rounds of fire on United Nations positions in the 24 hours ended at 6 p.m. Wednesday. That is five times the Reds' normal volume in the present limited-action phase of the war.

Half the shells broke up an Allied raid on a three-hill enemy position near Korangpo on the western front. Heavy Communist mortar and artillery barrages also pounded two sectors east of the once heavily-contested punchbowl on the eastern front.

The barrage near Korangpo forced withdrawal of U.N. troops who had wrecked Communist positions on three hills along the old invasion route to South Korea.

Won't Sit Idle

It came as North Korean General Nam Il, the Reds' top truce negotiator, told the Allies at Panmunjom the Communists "shall not sit idle" during what he called slaughter of their captured soldiers.

U.S. assault troops had stormed two of the hills near Korangpo within three hours of their 3 a.m. attack. The third held out until 8:30 a.m. tanks provided fire support in the attack on one hill and U.N. troops assaulted with fixed bayonets on another. The Reds left 105 soldiers dead or wounded.

In a savage fight northwest of Yonchon, allied troops repulsed two Chinese companies preparing to assault the main U.N. line.

The Eighth Army reported 96 Chinese bunkers, six machine-gun nests and 12 communications trenches smashed by its tanks on the central front.

Allied planes destroyed 100 bunkers and 30 gun positions along the front, the Air Force reported.

Pearson's Koje Concern Vague, Hard To Define

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, May 29. (CP)—Just how concerned is a concerned diplomat? The question arises over the note the Canadian Government sent the U.S. State Department this week "viewing with concern" the dispatch of Canadian troops to Koje Island without consulting Ottawa first.

As it turns out, even the External Affairs Department which sent the note wasn't entirely sure exactly what it means.

In the wake of press reports calling this a strong protest, the department sent its officials foraging through the lexicon of diplomacy to see just how strong it is.

A memo was finally handed to External Affairs Minister Pearson Wednesday saying the term concern is vague and difficult to define but it is the departmental feeling that in this case it implied "misgivings."

Now that Washington has sat up and taken notice and manifested a touch of annoyance about the clamor over the issue, it also is the department's feeling that the Canadian note wasn't a particularly tough one at all. It couldn't really be called a strong protest, one authority said. Nor is it particularly unusual, he said, citing these parallels:

Tougher Last Year

Last year Mr. Pearson was a lot tougher in expressing "regret and annoyance" when a Washington committee smeared a Canadian official as a Red sympathizer. Canada has also used "concern" on a number of recent occasions in kicking about the St. Lawrence Seaway and U.S. tariffs.

In addition, it is said, Canada sends a number of notes expressing stronger concern than the Koje concern about various issues, only they aren't made public.

Since the language of diplomacy looms as a fluid and inexact medium—and the Russians have made even this worse—it isn't easy to apply a thermometer to these outbursts.

Officials Hesitate

One official, hesitantly hurling himself upon this issue, made the point that even "concern" can have different shades of meaning depending on the context.

It's pretty formal and ponderous, for instance, for "the Government of Canada" to "view with concern." If Mr. Pearson sat down and wrote "Dear Dean" Acheson and expressed this concern, it would be less ostentatious. If he did it on the phone, it would be even less so.

In any context, concern doesn't rate with "alarm" another favorite whose vagueness endears itself. And neither of them is nearly as tough as saying something is intolerable. That's really being tough.

One imaginative chap suggested that expressing concern is like having a thunderstorm when there could be a hurricane. But, thinking it over, he concluded it would be better to say the Canadian note was "firm but not strong."

Fireman Falls 12 Feet, Too Much Smoke

CAMPBELLFORD, May 29 — Fireman Graydon Bell was overcome by smoke Wednesday night at a fire which did more than $500 damage to a house on the outskirts of this town.

Overcome, Bell fell 12 feet to the ground, and his fellow-firemen spent 20 minutes reviving him before he was sent to hospital. He suffered no injuries from the fall.

The blaze started about 9 45 p.m. in the roof of Donald McArthur's home, and firemen fought it until shortly before midnight when they had it completely under control. Defective wiring is thought to have been the cause.

The fire started somewhere on the second floor and worked its way up between partitions to the attic.

Chop Hole In Roof

Firemen chopped a hole in the new metal roof which replaced a shingle roof destroyed by fire in April, 1951. It was shortly after the hole was chopped in the roof that Bell was overcome by smoke.

The home is owned by Joel McArthur, father of Donald McArthur. Mr. McArthur Sr. was the owner of the business and apartment block nearly destroyed last December 18 by fire. Damage then was set at $200,000.

Pantie Raiders Now In Korea

WITH COMMONWEALTH DIVISION, Korea, May 29 (Reuters)—The pantie raiders have struck in Korea, lifting lingerie from a British headquarters near the front line.

Senior officers are investigating the disappearance of one black brassiere, one pair of white and one pair of pink pants.

They blame the current pantie-raid craze in the United States for inspiring someone to make off with the lingerie, which belonged to three girl singers in an Australian concert party touring the front.

Officers ordered a search of foxholes and tents as the girls reported the disappearance of their undies.

Meanwhile, headquarters sent an urgent signal to quartermaster offices in Japan: "Please purchase without fail following semi-ordnance stores: one panties, nylon, pink with frills; one panties, nylon, white, without frills but with elastic; one black brassiere size 32. Demand is urgent and authentic."

Charges Red Chagrin Blocking Armistice

MUNSAN, Korea, May 29 (AP)—The chief United Nations' truce delegate today accused the Communists of blocking a Korean armistice out of disappointment that so few Red war prisoners want to go home.

In another futile session at Panmunjom, Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., reminded the Communists they had agreed to the screening—which determined that nearly 100,000 of 169,000 Red prisoners of war and civilian internees are unwilling to be repatriated.

He suggested another recess to give the Communists time to reconsider their demand for the return of all prisoners. But the Reds insisted on another meeting at 11 a.m. Friday (10 p.m. EDT tonight).

"The factor which prevents an armistice today," Harrison said, "is not your objection to the screening process itself but rather your chagrin at the small number of persons who stated that they would not forcibly resist repatriation—a number which was obtained by the fairest means possible and by a device which had your full acquiescence."

15,000 Reds Invade West Berlin

BERLIN, May 29—(AP)—Ten to fifteen thousand young Communists surged into West Berlin late today and at least 1,000 of them clashed with club-swinging West Berlin police.

The Communists barged into the Western sectors in an obvious rabble-rousing effort to exert pressure because of West Germany's signing of the European army pact and a peace treaty with the Western powers.

The propaganda assault broke out in the boroughs of Kreuzberg and Neukoelln in the United States sector. The downtown business area suddenly filled with thousands of teen-agers from the adjacent Soviet sector just as the day's shopping was ending.

The youths behaved well enough but about 1,000 older and brawnier Communist laborers suddenly touched off trouble by spreading leaflets at Kottsbusser Tor (Gate to Kottbuss).

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain was in Berlin to underscore the determination expressed by the West to protect and defend its residents from Communist attack.

Forecasts Unity

He forecast eventual German unity with Berlin as the capital, despite the present bleak outlook.

Eden told the West Berlin City Parliament that the Bonn and Paris pacts were steps in that direction based on a policy of peace.

He came to Berlin—an island in the Soviet occupation zone — from Paris, where he participated in the signing of the treaty for establishment of a European army as a bulwark against any Soviet aggression.

Eden repeated an allied vow expressed in Paris to protect and defend Berlin.

He urged the city in the face of East German threats to seal it off to remain "steadfast and brave" as it stood during the 1948-49 blockade. Such an attitude, he said, would be the best salesman for Berlin's industrial products abroad.

(Mr. Scarff had stated earlier that the amended audit did not "present the financial facts of the hospital." It had incorporated changes ordered by the hospital board, he said.)

Mr. Mathews asked the accountant "if it would be fair to say" that the main differences between the two audits were: that purchases of bedding, linens and cutlery were charged to operating instead of to building fund; that purchase of 56 television sets was charged to Christmas instead of to building fund; and that a change was made in treatment of the pre-payment of past services portion of the pension fund.

Main Differences

The accountant agreed that "these are the main differences between ourselves (the Brokenshire firm) and the board." For a true comparison, however, "one must go further."

In testimony yesterday, Mr. Scarff told the commission that from 1947 until the end of 1951, the hospital paid $126,233 for the services of Dr. Morgan. This sum included pension payments made on the doctor's behalf, salary, and expenses. Five members of the doctor's family who were employed at the hospital during the same period received more than $14,000.

In 1947, the doctor's salary was $9,600; after that it was fixed at $12,000. Regular expense allowances for the five-year period had totalled $29,900 and pension payments made up most of the difference.

Pension Payments

The pension payments had been such that it had been estimated the superintendent would receive on retirement a monthly pension running between $500 and $1,000.

The accountant said the doctor's three sons, Bruno, Jack and Philip and two daughters, Maryon and Anna Morgan Sharkey, had been employed as painters, janitors and office assistants at the hospital for varying periods.

Bruno had received $8,808 for four years work, he said, and Anna Morgan Sharkey $1,100 for one. Maryon and Philip had received a total of $4,457 for work done at intervals over the four-year period. He did not state the amount Jack Morgan earned.

The sums paid the younger Morgans "were not excessive," he said.

Mr. Scarff described a Christmas Cheer Fund audit undertaken by his firm in 1946. It had been stopped by a hospital board order when the board had been told that the fund was being used to make sales of goods to individuals.

Partial Audit

After a second partial audit, undertaken in 1947, had disclosed that sales of rugs, blankets, food stuffs, ladies' hose and other articles "were being continued . . . the matter of an audit was dropped." A third audit was made in 1951 "because of outside pressure."

Questioned as to testimony given at an earlier commission hearing that there had been discrepancies totalling $30.90 in canteen fund records, Mr. Scarff said he thought these had been due to "clerical errors."

Mrs. Elizabeth Morley, 26, former private secretary to Dr. Morgan, said earlier that she had "apparently" initialled in one of the account books for $30.90 more than she had deposited in a hospital account.

Mr. Scarff said that initials in the other book would seem to indicate that Mrs. Morley had received $30 more than the canteen provided. The inquiry is continuing.

Tried To Force Conference

The Reds apparently staged the disturbance in an attempt to force Brig.-Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, camp commander, to visit the compound and confer with them, a camp spokesman said.

The spokesman added that Boatner received "a long, abusive, insulting, demanding letter" from the compound leader two days ago.

The General never answered it because the letter violated Boatner's rules that messages to him from P.O.W.'s must be "brief, courteous and to the point."

Boatner also refused to go to the compound gate during the disturbance. But, from a distance, he watched his U.N. soldiers After a short period of watching he returned to his quarters to interview officers and to prepare a statement on the incident.

The parade started about 1 p.m. (midnight E.D.T. Wednesday) and the troops went in shortly after. They cautiously backed out at 5 p.m.

Prisoners chanted incessantly. Intermittently they shouted Red slogans, such as "This is a baptism for world war three!"

Toss Out 3 Notes

The demonstrators tossed three notes over the barbed-wire fence and shouted to guards to hand them to U.N. correspondents, but the guards confiscated all three.

About 32 soldiers from company E of the U.S. 38th Regiment and 20 of company B of the King's Shropshire Light Infantry led the guard force into the compound.

Other troops formed a protective ring inside the enclosure. U.S. troops drove in first in a flying wedge and pressed back a crowd of prisoners.

Other American and British troops moved in behind.

Break Up Shacks

British soldiers led by British Maj. Downey Bancroft worked steadily at breaking up the shacks with pick-axes, hatches, hammers and crowbars. They dumped the wreckage outside the compound gates.

P.O.W.s ran up two North Korean flags while the troops were in the compound but they came down mysteriously within four minutes. When the soldiers came out of the compound they carried some North Korean flags and blankets.

U.N. officers said they expect more such incidents before they begin moving P.O.W.s to new, smaller compounds probably next Wednesday.

trapped inside the dredge while Redmond managed his own escape.

The cause of the accident was the breaking of the main drive wheel on the engine amidship in the dredge. A large portion of the wheel fell and crashed through the bottom of the craft. Captain Howell was at the main controls nearby.

Some of the men who escaped swam a short distance to the breakwater.

Pick Up Survivors

Capt. Ace Bartlett of the tug Hercules directed his crew in picking up survivors.

Sweet was a son-in-law of the engineer on the Hercules, Fred Davidson, who joined in the search for his body. The youth was married.

About 300 townsfolk crowded the breakwater to watch the rescue operations. Members of the volunteer fire department were called to assist in the search for the two bodies.

The dredge was tied up here all winter. Since early spring it has been dredging the entrance to the harbor.

Investigations into the accident were started by Provincial Police headed by Constable N. Hogarth of Port Stanley and by the R.C.M.P.

Top French Reds

Nine hundred or more Communists were arrested here and in Marseille, Bordeaux and other French cities during demonstrations against the new military head of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Police began a crackdown on the Communists today and seized many editions of Communist newspapers throughout the country.

The Reds struck back in Marseilles where they seized and burned bundles of non-Communist newspapers.

Workers downed tools in several factories in the region of Tarbes, home district of Duclos, and new demonstrations broke out in Marseilles, Melun and other places in protest against the Communist chief's arrest.

Duclos, a member of parliament and the party's secretary-general, was nabbed at the height of the rioting in an automobile in which police said they found a loaded revolver, a blackjack, two carrier pigeons and a radio tuned to intercept police orders.

Lawyers for Duclos, who heads France's Communist party in the absence in Russia of Maurice Thorez, demanded his release on grounds that his arrest violated his parliamentary immunity.

The Paris rioting centred around the Place de la Republique, where a police cordon barred demonstrators trying to hold a planned demonstration against Ridgway. The firing occurred at the nearby Gare de l'Est, when several hundred demonstrators charged a barrier of about 30 police.

Police said thousands were involved in the outbreaks.

U.S. Dollar Down

MONTREAL, May 29 — CP) — The American dollar today opened at a discount of 1¾ per cent in terms of Canadian funds, down 1/32 from Wednesday's close. That is, it took $0.98¼ Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.73 15/16, down 1/16 from Wednesday.

Guild Certified Do Bargaining

OTTAWA, May 29 (CP) —The American Newspaper Guild (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) has been ceritfied as the collective bargaining agent for those who write the C.B.C.'s news, the Canada Labor Relations Board announced Wednesday.

The board said it has certified the Guild's Canadian Wire Services Local 213 as bargaining agent for a unit of editorial workers employed in Canada in the national and international news services of the corporation.

It also made it known it has turned down, on the ground of lack of majority, an appliction from the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians (C.I.O.) to represent a unit of C.B.C. operators and technicians.

was knocked down by the blast, which could be heard through the downtown area.

Fireman White ran to aid Preece and Hepburn and was caught by the greenish flame. He suffered flash burns to his face and eyes. Fireman Sullivan who went with White was struck by a falling timber.

Couldn't Get Through

As spectators scattered a cry went up for stretchers.

The seven injured men were lying on the road. One writhed in agony and began to roll toward one of the five holes. A fireman caught him and pulled him back.

All available ambulances were sent to the scene, but traffic jammed on side streets near the fire brought them to a standstill. Police commandeered trucks owned by the McEachern Construction Co. to take the most seriously injured to hospital. The others were removed by ambulances which finally fought their way through the traffic.

U.S. Foreign Aid Program Faces Further Cut

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—The Senate has overwhelmingly passed a $6,700,000,000 foreign-aid bill, but the mutual security program is almost sure to be cut further before any money actually becomes available.

The final Senate vote on passage Wednesday night was 64 to 10 in support of the measure to aid United States friends all over the world.

But the bill now goes into conference with the House of Representatives, which voted last Friday, 245 to 110, to authorize the spending of $6,163,000,000 in the fiscal year starting this July 1.

This $537,000,000 difference between the two branches of Congress means that an additional cut in the Senate total is almost inevitable.

Then, after the compromise authorization measure is passed, the law-makers will get another crack at the program when an appropriations bill actually making the money available is debated.

President Truman asked for $7,900,000,000, declaring this was the minimum needed for U.S. security.

For Direct Aid

The bulk of the money in the authorization bill is for direct military assistance designed to equip the forces of American allies in Western Europe and elsewhere.

More than one-half of the money in the Senate bill, or $3,515,229,500, is for direct military help to America's North Atlantic Treaty Organization partners in Western Europe.

The next biggest chunk, $1,542,866,000, is for defence support or economic aid to Western Europe. This is designed to assist the N.A.T.O countries in using their own production facilities for their defence build-up.

Two amendments placing restrictions on the mutual security program were adopted over the protests of the bill's sponsors. One was designed to cut off all aid to any country which ships military armaments or materials useful in war to Russia or any other Communist country. The other would ban use of any funds in the bill to propagandize the mutual security program within the United States.

Industrials Buck Declining Market

TORONTO, May 29. (CP)—Industrials bucked a slowly declining stock market today as firm early afternoon support bolstered selected issues.

Trading was sluggish and featureless. Volume for the first three hours was 787,000 shares.

Refining oils and foods drew most support to lead industrials upward. Utilities, steels, manufacturing companies and textiles held gains and losses in balance but constructions, liquors and miscellaneous isues remained weak.

Western oil losses ranged to about 25 cents. Canada Southern, Canadian Collieries, Dragon, Marigold and North Canadian dipped sharply.

Base metals eased as Barvue, Cassiar, Dominion Asbestos, Falconbridge, Labrador and Ontario Pyrites and Quebec Copper declined steadily.

Senior golds were mixed. Giant Yellowknife and Wright-Hargreave strengthened while Kerr Addison and Malartic weakened. Secondary issues dipped.

70 People Attend Graduation Of Quintuplets

CORBEIL, Ont., May 29 (CP)—The Dionne quintuplets became junior high school graduates here Wednesday night as they celebrated their 18th birthday.

They wore mortar-board hats trimmed in blue and cream-colored graduation gowns. Wearing the same ensemble were nine Northern Ontario French-speaking girls who had attended classes with them at their private school, Villa Notre Dame.

The basement-level playroom of the Dionne Georgian mansion was packed with parents of the quints' classmates., members of clergy, and the Dionne family — about 70 persons in all. One newspaper reporter and one news photographer attended.

The ceremony continued for more than two hours The girls sat on a low dais covered by a mushroom-colored carpet. A blue and gold back-drop completed the stage.

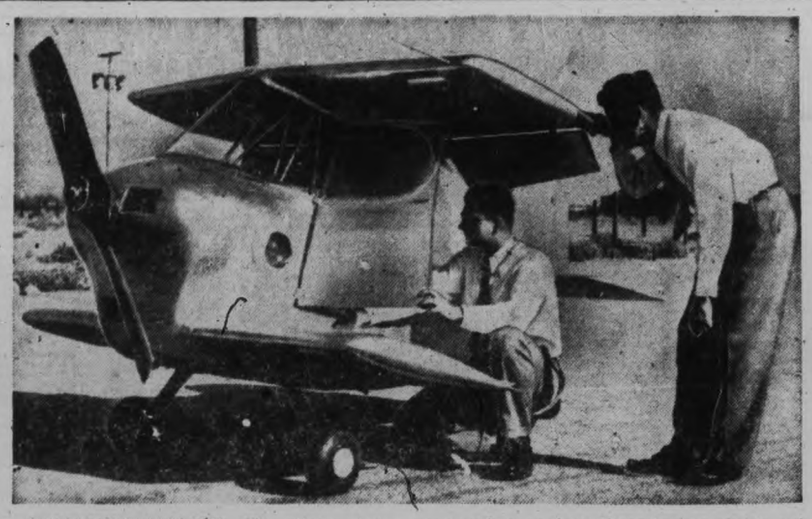
After the ceremony Mr. Dionne said the quints would go to a girls' boarding school in the autumn. He did not disclose its location, but said it would be in Quebec. It was intended that the girls would no longer be educated privately. They would mix on the campus as regular college students.

The program was in French, apart from a short comemntary in English by the Rev. Rene Lamoureux, a Normal School official from Ottawa.

All of the quints except Marie wore trace of lipstick and make-up. She appeared tired and nervous when she sang "Ave Maria" as a solo.

However, ater the ceremony it was Emilie who went to bed at once. The rest of the girls roamed about the house with the guests, nibbling sandwiches from a buffet lunch. They listened to a tape-recorded version of the graduation.

A table and chesterfield were piled high with prizes for the quints and their classmates from relatives and friends. Earlier in the day Mr. and Mrs. Dionne gave the girls matched sets of rhinestone necklaces, bracelets, and earrings. The jewellery adorned their graduation gowns.



WORLD'S SMALLEST—The pilot and designer of what they believe to be the world's smallest airplane, check their craft just before its first flight a few days ago. The little plane, named the Sky Baby, has a wing span of seven feet, three inches and is only nine feet, 10 inches long. The pilot, Bob Starr, right, buzzed it over Palm Springs, Calif., at 150 miles per hour. At left is the designer, Ray Stits.

Recover Two Bodies Of Guide, Fisherman

SAULT STE. MARIE, May 29—(CP)—The bodies of an American fisherman and his Indian guide, drowned Tuesday in Twin Lakes, about 45 miles north west of here, were recovered late Wednesday evening.

Provincial Police Constable Elvyn Somers flew back to the Sault with the bodies of Herbet Schelbe, of Kalamasoo, Mich., and Fred Desmolian, of Spanish.

Garret Lemmen, of Holland, Mich., a companion, said the party was fishing from a canoe when it tipped suddenly. He was able to swim to shore. He returned to a tourist camp at nearby Ranger Lake and reported the accident.

An inquest has been ordered, but no date has been set.

Sees Planet Travel

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 29 (AP)—Aircraft speeds of thousands of miles an hour and travel between planets were predicted Wednesday by the head of the company chosen to design and build the first atomic-powered plane. Joseph T. McNarney, president of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., said a wedding of the guided missile and airplane is not far distant.

Ask Department To Speed Work At Codrington

CAMPBELLFORD, May 29 — (ENS)—The Campbellford and District Fish and Game Protective Association will hold their annual regatta on Wednesday, July 30. H. Macmillan, W. Wiggins and D. Maybee have been named as a committee in charge.

President Russ. Ayrhart and Murray Locke were named to look after prizes for the fishing contest the club will sponsor this year.

Conservation Officer Reg. McCulloch said the largest number of 'lung fry have been distributed since he has been on the job. Twenty-one cans of the young fingerlings were planted between Hastings and Glen Ross.

A discussion regarding work to be completed by the Department at the Fish Hatchery at Codrington resulted in club members deciding to take action to see if the job of rebuilding tanks and other equipment cannot be speeded up.

The secretary was instructed to write to L. E. Taylor, president of the Cobourg club, asking the support of that club in writing to the Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, the Hon. Harold Scott and the Federation of Anglers and Hunters, asking that work on the project be started as soon as possible.

Give $1,500 Bursary To Albert College

TORONTO, May 29 — (CP) — A $1,500 bursary program has been established at Albert College Belleville, under the Atkinson Charitable Foundation.

The scholarship committe of the school will determine the amount of assistance given to the individual student.

Founded in 1857, Albert College was one of the first private schools to experiment with co-education.

Truck Crushes Car

BALDWINSVILLE, N. Y., May 29 (AP)— A trailer truck carrying 30,0000 pounds of chewing gum crushed an automobile on a highway near here Wednesday night and the car's driver died in the flaming wreckage. Police worked more than two hours to free the body of Howard Jones, 56. The truck driver, Arthur W. Kirkoff was not injured.

Make Good Farm In 17 Hours

MOSES LAKE, Wash., May 29—(AP)—An army of workers swarmed over a rough and dusty piece of land near here at 12:01 this morning to turn it into a going farm in less than 17 hours.

Their $75,000 farm-in-a-day symbolizes the coming of irrigation water to the first of 1,000,000 acres of fertile sage-brush land in the Columbia River basin.

At 12:01, a rocket bomb signalled the start of the operation. Floodlights went on and workmen with centre beams-and studding for a seven-roomed farmhouse moved into action.

If everything goes on schedule, Donald Dunn, his wife and two daughters will receive the keys to their new farm home, equipped with sprinkler irrigation, cows, chickens, barns and even a full icebox, at 4:30 p.m. (8:30 p.m. EDT.)

At the same time, Reclamation Commissioner Michael Straus will preside over the ceremony of turning the irrigation water from a lateral of the huge Columbia basin irrigation network onto Dunn's farm.

Dunn won't have to pay a penny for the farm. A war veteran, he was flooded out of his Marion, Kansas, farm last summer and was chosen by the Veterans of Foreign Wars to receive the 110-acre farm.

The Lessons Of The By-Elections

It is common enough for by-elections to go against the Government of the day, but only a very foolish Government accepts such results with complacency when a Federal election must be held within a year or so. Of the six by-elections the Government lost three seats which they previously held by generous majorities. It is too simple to brush aside such a loss as the inevitable result of resentment against a government in power. It may be an indication of a trend through the country.

* * *

Although the gentlemen at Ottawa do not show any awareness of it, theirs is not a particularly popular Government. They have many virtues, but they have two gross and overpowering faults: they are extravagant and they are haughty. The disappointment over the last Budget is widespread and lasting. It is clear that Mr. Abbott, and undoubtedly his chief advisors, mean to tax the people of Canada very severely as long as they can, making some cynical reduction in election year. This could be endured if there were any wide belief that so much money was needed, and that it was being wisely spent, but there is nothing to encourage that belief and much to discourage it. The present nasty mess at Petawawa, for one thing, suggests that public money is being used in a loose manner, and that officials are unwilling to let the public know very much about it. And this is in accord with the attitude of the Government as a whole, which is by no means congenial to the people of Canada; able as it is, the Government is also high-handed and arbitrary in many of its aspects.

* * *

The Liberal party has been admirably organized, fortunate in the number of able men in its ranks, politically astute—and very, very lucky. These gifts, and this good fortune, appears to have generated a notion in the Government that it has something a little more than the ordinary democratic mandate to rule; it is acquiring a dangerous delusion of divinity. The rulers of ancient Rome always kept a slave by them, whose duty it was to whisper at intervals: "Remember, great lord, in the hour of thy glory, that thou art also a man." We think that every Cabinet Minister needs a taxpayer at his elbow to do the same job for him. For the Liberal Government appears to be out of touch with the feelings of the people of Canada—feelings which it would not be too hard to estimate, without even leaving the city of Ottawa.

* * *

We do not, at present, think that the Liberal party can be defeated at the next Dominion Election—sorry, perhaps we should have said Canadian Election, for one of the minor tasks of the present government has been to rid us of such colonialisms—but it can be given a salutary fright. The Conservative party is not strong, and the C.C.F. is very groggy, but between them they could take thousands of votes belonging to Liberals (of the small 'l' variety) who see little liberalism of spirit in the present administration. Indifference and cynicism toward the people of the nation are not liberal characteristics, and they are painfully apparent in Ottawa today. Study the by-elections, gentlemen, and repent!

New Negotiations With Russia?

We should not overlook the significance of the forceful speed at Strassbourg, Bonn and Paris during the last several days. The Western Powers made a tremendous effort to complete in a few days all the agreements and treaties which would establish the European Defence Community and bring Germany as a free country into the western alliance.

Why was there this sense of urgency? The reason was to brush aside Russian and Communist objections and delaying tactics, and to get ready to face the squalls ahead. Trials of strength between West and Russia have been expected. They are now facts. The West has tightened its joints, ready for them.

There is no doubt at all that the strategy of the Council of Ministers in Strasbourg, that the completion of the Conventions with Germany in Bonn, and that the formation of the European Defence Community in Paris—all this finished off (with many loose ends) in a few days—there is no doubt that these culminating military and political moves by the West form one of the major weapons of western policy since the war. They are very important, since peace or war may depend on them.

Their importance has not been overlooked by Russia. That is why the Soviet and her satellites have been making major propaganda moves during the last four months, and, until a few days ago, devising every sort of tactic to upset and delay the Bonn and Paris measures. And now that Bonn and Paris have done their work, Russia has begun her counter-offensive in and around Berlin and at the fringe of the Iron Curtain.

The West is now in a good position to discuss problems, and even to dictate answers. The West can speak from strength, and that is the kind of talk Russia understands very well.

Before the treaties signed at Bonn and Paris can come into effect (they need ratification by the various national parliaments) there will probably be an eight-month delay. This period may well see a new set of negotiations with Russia. The West's house is now in rather good order. It is prepared for discussion with Russia. If Russia is really ready to make concessions the West can afford to keep its door open. Its house's foundations are secure. This very firmness of foundations may lead Russia to change her practices and now try negotiations. Russia will try their strength, as she is now doing. If she finds them as firm as the West hopes they are, then she may try the open door to negotiation.

We All Do Too Much

We are attracted by a news item from Britain which concerns a Mr. Ernest Smedley, of Nottingham who is eighty-three; he earned his living as a coal miner until he retired. He recently declared that contentment with simple things is the secret of happiness. He and his wife have never danced, gone to movies or theatres, watched cricket or football or ridden a bicycle; he does not smoke; he says "I rely for my amusement on the Nottingham Archaeological Society."

A dull and limited life? We are not sure that it has been so. Indeed, it obviously has not been so for Mr. Smedley. He has worked at his job and he has done one thing for amusement, and he has been happy. Surely there is a lesson here for all of us who strive in a dozen different ways to find amusement, and who have a dozen different interests and pursuits—we call them "activities"—apart from our jobs.

Many of us work too hard at enjoying ourselves. When we have finished a day's gainful work, we set out on a program of other work—committees, meetings, sports and pastimes which send us to bed exhausted. From many of these pursuits we derive no real pleasure at all. Upon many committees we sit merely in order to oblige friends who in return sit on committees to oblige us. We engage in things which we do not really care about in order to win reputations as "good citizens."

Would not many of us be better off to choose one or two things that give us true satisfaction, and confine our energies to those? We may be busy at present, but are we happy? Mr. Smedley is happy and he has only one amusement, and that a dull one.

Soviet Atlantic Command

The western nations have their North Atlantic Treaty organization, with a general staff and military plans and equipment. Communist eastern Europe is not standing idly by. It has the well-known, equipped, and armed so-called "police troops" of various countries, which are re-arming in other ways too. And, according to the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung the Russians have completely organized an "Atlantic Command", under Marshal Bulganin. This is said to comprise 85 divisions, including thirty in the eastern zone of Germany, two in Austria and twenty-seven in the satellite countries of Hungary, Bulgaria and Roumania. These divisions far outnumber what the NATO countries or the European Defence Community has ready to field.

Chief of staff of the "Atlantic Command" is Marshal Zhukov, the conqueror of Berlin. His special sector of command is apparently in the north. In the central section is Marshal Koniev, with headquarters in Prague. In the southern section is Marshal Kalinowski with his headquarters in the Bulgarian capital Sofia.

With Russia and its satellites so well organized, and fielding so many men, can they wonder that the western nations are organized under SHAPE and forming a subsidiary European Defence Community?

NOTES AND COMMENT

Funny that the physicians who warn each winter against snow shovelling haven't a word to say against cutting grass.

A news note from England says that a charwoman has won a huge money prize in the football pools. Probably her last and most efficient clean-up.

University graduates of the current crop are reported to be finding jobs at pay approximately $10 a week higher than those of 1951. The misery-mongers will have a hard time making anything out of this.

Princely Hong No More

By O. M. GREEN

THE enforced departure from China of the remaining British firms—no longer able to continue under Communist tyranny—marks a point at which the British attitude towards the Chinese Communists needs to be radically revised. Apart from the financial loss, British prestige in the Far East has suffered a blow which will resound through Asia.

When the Communists took Shanghai in May, 1949, more than half of the pre-war British community of about 10,000 had already been driven away by the intolerable conditions due to the Nationalist Government's shameless corruption and the headlong collapse of the currency. But there remained some 4,000, buoyed up by Mao Tse-tung's lying promise to safeguard their interests so long as they did not meddle in politics. A year ago the 4,000 had dwindled to 700. Today there remain in Shanghai only forty-three British firms, with about one hundred executives in all and some locally born British clerks. There are perhaps a score of British in Tientsin and half a dozen each in Hankow and Canton.

THEY MAY perhaps manage to dispose of their firms' businesses to the Chinese for a tiny fraction of their value. Or, quite possibly, the Communists may refuse to let them go, since they are potential hostages for the payment of the wages of the large numbers of Chinese whom they have been compelled to retain in employment, regardless of the amount of work to be done.

In any event, the staggering loss of real property remains. If to the British property in Shanghai is added that in Tientsin, Hankow and Canton; in Ningpo, Foochow, Amoy and Swatow on the coast; in wharves and godowns all up the Yangtze and West Rivers, the total value would be very conservatively estimated at £300 million, and may well be nearer 400 million. In capital value it far exceeds that of Abadan.

OF ALL THIS MIGHTY creation of British enterprise and administrative genius, Shanghai was the emblem and crown. And although the first British and American Concessions were amalgamated in 1863 into an International Settlement, and the activity of other nationalities is certainly not denied (the last pre-war census showed that there were thirty-six of them, 60,000 foreigners besides 1,500,000 Chinese), British influence was dominant down to the end.

Some fifty British merchants, seven of them accompanied by their wives, went to Shanghai in 1843, when it was opened to trade by the Treaty of Nanking, and were granted a strip of ground alongside the Whangpoo, about a quarter of a mile long, and two or three hundred yards deep, where they were free to own land and govern themselves by their own laws.

✧ ✧ ✧

THAT MUDDY STRIP (later enlarged by agreement with China to thirteen and a half square miles) has become one of the noblest river fronts in the world. There are the great buildings of the Hong Kong and Shanghai and Chartered Banks, of Jardine Matheson, "the princely hong," and Butterfield and Swire, the towering buildings of the Customs and the "North China Daily News," of firms dating back a century or more. Behind, and stretching far out into the country, are miles of huge offices and residential flats, innumerable foreign dwellings, hospitals and schools, parks and gardens, playing fields, golf and race courses, cathedrals and churches, theatres, hotels, cinemas, mills and factories; and, stretching far down the river, wharves, godowns and engineering works. Now it must all be abandoned.

TWO POINTS may specially be noticed. First, that no Chinese was ever obliged to sell his land to the foreigner. Some did not and continued to live on their property, enjoying law and order and the amenities of a great city. Secondly, the extra-territorial rights of the foreign community were not wrung from the Chinese, but spontoneously given as a mark of China's contempt for the barbarian who, as one mandarin put it, "was not worthy to be governed by the great maxims of reason." Later, these rights became a grievance, but they are no longer an issue, for they were relinquished in 1943.

The fact that the Communists are as ruthless to their own people as they are to the foreigners — that Chinese merchants are crushingly taxed, restricted in business, spied upon, and stripped of their wealth in the "anti-corruption campaign" — is beside the point we have to consider now: what is to be our attitude in face of the loss and indignity inflicted on us?

THE COMMUNISTS' determination to harry, maltreat and drive out all foreigners is crystal clear. The missionary body has been forced out, except for some victims in gaol of whose fate no information can be got; and now for some months Peking's venomous radio has been turned against Hong Kong. Surely it is time for the British Government to show that the limit has been reached.

The distinction stressed in Whitehall, that only British trade in China is ended, not trade with China, and the proposed formation of a new trading association in this country to deal directly with the Chinese authorities, must awaken serious misgivings. How little business is likely to result may be gauged from the meagreness of Great Britain's recent exports to China—a total of £2,596,261 in 1951 and £116,440 in the first three months of this year; of these exports, moreover, several are the sort of article which the Communists' new austerity campaign tends to exclude.

BUT IT IS the psychological error of the apparent insistence on trade with China under any conditions which must be realised. It can only strengthen the Communists' fixed belief that Britain cannot exist without China's trade. Now they will say to themselves: "These greedy capitalists will submit to any treatment. If we stand firm, they will find some way of getting round the ban on strategic materials to send us all the machinery, steel, rubber and chemicals that we need." We must disillusion them.

It is not a question of deciding never again to trade with Communist China because our merchants are being forced out. But if the Communists still want our trade, they must first show that they are prepared to conduct it on reasonable terms, and are ready to discuss compensation for the loss of British properties. Until then, we shall be well advised to refuse all commercial contacts with them.

Moreover, now that the British merchants are leaving China, the time has surely come to review the reasons which made us send a Charge d'Affaires to Peking early in 1950. Do these reasons still apply? Is there still a valid excuse for keeping a British diplomat in Peking waiting miserably for somebody to notice him?

An American Opinion: STRANGE WORLD WE LIVE IN

Ministers Approve Eden Plan?

By WILLIAM CLARK (in Strasbourg)

THE whole future of the Council of Europe, and, in fact, the question of whether it is to have a future, will be under consideration during the current meeting of the full council at Strasbourg.

The Committee of Ministers has approved in principle Mr. Anthony Eden's proposals for associating the European Defence Community and the Schuman Plan Authority with the Council, but there remain a number of unresolved difficulties.

The Ministers and their deputies, which have been discussing the question now for eight weeks, have discovered that the British proposals confront them with extremely difficult decisions. To accept them would mean a close association between Britain and the Continent, but no real federation; to reject them would mean speedy federation of the Continental Powers, but at the expense of any real association with Britain.

The Assembly (of the Council) will be asked to vote on the matter next week, and its public debate and vote may prove decisive for the future of the Eden plan.

In urging his proposals on the Committee of Ministers, Mr. Eden made it clear that his objective was to give the organisation and secretariat of the Council of Europe some real work to do. In the British view, the present somewhat sterile abstract discussions of the Council would be improved if it embraced the Ministers and the Assembly directing the E.D.C. and the Schuman coal, steel and iron pool. The Council would thus sometimes meet as a committee of six Powers—to deal with E.D.C. or the Schuman pool—sometimes as a committee of fourteen to deal with general problems. In this way these nations which were very closely linked would work alongside those, like Britain and Scandinavia, which were more loosely associated with them.

THOUGH MR. EDEN'S CASE obviously made a very great impression, it soon became apparent that there is strong opposition to his proposals, led by Germany and Italy. France supports the British scheme whole-heartedly, as the only way of ensuring a measure of British participation.

Italian opposition is based on a strictly federalist approach. It is Italy's belief that the whole atmosphere of Strasbourg and the Council of Europe is anti-federalist and nationalist. Therefore, the Italian representative has urged that the six nations participating in the E.D.C. and the Schuman Plan should set up a federal capital elsewhere, in which all strictly federal business would be transacted, and having only a tenuous link with the Council of Europe.

German opposition is based on administrative objections. Herr Walter Hallstein for Germany, has reiterated that it would be impossible, or at least extremely inefficient, to combine the consultative functions of the present Council of Europe with the executive functions of the high authorities of the E.D.C. and Schuman Plan.

The Germans and Italians have remained so unshaken by argument that many French officials now believe that neither country wishes to see Britain closely associated with the continental European bloc. This has roused French fears that the German-Italian axis will be recreated to dominate the European Community in the absence of Britain. They also believe that if the Council of Europe is not in fact virtually responsible for such European structures of E.D.C. and the Schuman Plan, it will wither away and become a half-forgotten debating society.

Back To Biplanes?

(Ottawa Citizen)

Flying jet planes is exhilarating for the pilots; for some of them, too much so. But for spectators at air shows, the very speed of these modern aircraft makes watching them a dull business. Swish! and they're gone.

A London magazine, Aeroplane, suggests a solution: an old-fashioned biplane should be retained at shows for aerobatic displays. Suited as they are for stunting at low altitudes and relatively low speeds, the biplanes would enliven proceedings during the tedious periods of waiting for the brief reappearance of the faster craft.

Admittedly, the seemingly flimsy biplane would look ludicrous alongside a Sabre jet—as out-of-date as a model-T Ford parked beside a fish-tailed Caddy. But its comeback would likely be welcomed by those who can recall the thrilling performances of the old-time barn-storming pilots.

Those in charge of arrangements for air displays at R.C.A.F. stations on Air Force Day, June 14, might take note.

New Episcopal See

(Fort William Times-Journal)

Fort William is honoured in the decision of the Church of Rome to establish an Episcopal See at this city. The formation of a new diocese signalizes the imfluence of the work of the church in the area for many years.

Probably Fort William was chosen because of its central location in relation to the area covered by the diocese, from Sault Ste. Marie to the Manitoba border.

However, one cannot but feel the choice is a happy one, for another reason—the fact that missionaries of the church began their work in Northwestern Ontario on Mission Island when the city was little more than a village.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha. . . . Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.

When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby. . . Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already. . . . Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled and said, Where have ye laid him? They said unto him, Lord, come and see. . . . And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died? Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it. . . .

Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me. And I know that thou hearest me always: and because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me. And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.

And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go. (John 11:1, 3, 4, 17, 32-34, 37, 38, 41-44.)

Age and Amiability

M. Marcel Ranville is at present receiving the biggest "fan mail" in France. His letters, however, contain eulogies not of himself but of the writers' concierges.

Early this month M. Ranville launched "a crusade for amiability" which is now in full swing all over France. Placed under the patronage of M. Vincent Auriol, the French President, it has been given considerable impetus by Government Ministries. As the campaign continues, national paragons of amiability are being chosen. The most courteous Parliamentarian has already been found and M. Ranville is seeking the most polite policeman, telephonist, civil servant, journalist and saleswomen—and the most amiable concierge.

M. Ranville, faced daily with a mountain of letters, now has the impression that half the householders and flat-owners of France are writing to him in competitive praise of the lady who guards their front doors and takes in their mail.

In an interview with "France Soir", M. Ranville remarked: "Amiability seems to be the prerogative of the aged. All these angelic concierges are between seventy and eighty years old".

White hair, then, may be a useful criterion when deciding between the rival offers of Paris taxi-drivers from whom, according to the blunt warning recently published in an Italian newspaper, "you can expect nothing but rudeness".

Niagara Beauty

(London Free Press)

The Niagara Frontier State Park Commission has decided to spend $25,000,000 creating a park system similar to that which beautifies the Canadian side of Niagara Falls. This will be a vast improvement not only on their side but for us, for we shall enjoy a more colourful and attractive view than we now possess across Niagara. The Canadian parks and flower beds systems added greatly to the natural beauty of the falls and has contributed immensely to the tourist revenues of this world famous scene.

Housewives Get Credit Improving Design Of Manufactured Goods At Canadian Association Meet

By FORBES RHUDE

TORONTO, May 29 — (CP) — Meet Mrs. Housewife—"a gadget-conscious mammal."

That is the rather fearsome-sounding tag put upon her, but in a complimentary way, before the current annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

It came from Henry Dreyfuss, industrial designer of New York, who gave the little woman much of thec redit for a revolution in the appearance of manufactured products.

Said Mr. Dreyfuss:

"Having learned to enjoy the honest design and clean beauty of her kitchen, laundry and bathroom, she has gradually acquired a marked distaste for fringed lampshades and dropsical sofas.

"I'd be willing to wager that there is more bad taste in the form of ugly furniture and hideous decoration today in homes in the great artistic and cultural centres of Europe than in those of Canadian and American cities.

Being Copied

"But this, too, is changing, as more and more products of new world design are being copied by European manufacturers. Our culture came originally from the old world. Now we are repaying that debt in the form of well-designed, mass-produced goods, which make not only for better every-day living, but gradually for better every-day taste among every-day people."

Industrial design was only one item in the vast program for the three-day meeting which opened yesterday to hear discussions on all the things that interest manufacturers.

H. H. Saunderson, co-ordinator of materials, Department of Defence production, told them:

"When the balancing of supplies against needs indicates that controls are no longer necessary, it is our plan to revoke the controls . . . in certain fields, however, where supplies come from the United States, it is not possible to revoke our controls before similar controls in that country are removed.

"Although supplies of many materials now are coming into a satisfactory balance with demand, we have to recognize that actual production of defence equipment is just starting to roll."

Competition Doubles

Paul S. White, vice-president, Aluminum Co., of Canada, Ltd., reviewing aluminum expansion in Quebec and British Columbia, said world consumption of aluminum has tended to double every 10 years since 1900.

Canadian aluminum consumption, he said, has increased spectacularly, from 10,000,000 pounds in 1939 to 150,000,000 pounds in 1951.

A. J. Lomas, vice-president, Canadian National Railways, said his company is experimenting with freight cars of light-weight metals, including aluminum, and successful development would mean big savings for shippers.

C. F. Woodward, of St. Catharines, said the Canadian textile industry is the least protected by tariffs in the world, while supporting the second highest wage-scale in the world.

"The current textile depression is world-wide, and other countries are taking advantage of the existing Canadian law to export their distress to Canada, with the result that the Canadian textile industry has to contend with a domestic depression plus an imported depression."

100F Puckists Plan Hookup With Generals

Oddfellows held their annual farewell hockey dinner Wednesday evening in the I.O.O.F. hall with some 40 guests in attendance including District Deputy Percy Luther; Noble Grands Jack Cuff and Boyd Stenson; high-ranking officers of Peterborough and Otonabee lodges, members of the hockey executive and team, with other guests.

A committee of lady members of the Rebekah Lodge under convener Mrs. Roy Juby, served a delightful turkey dinner, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all, followed by the usual speeches and entertainment for the boys. Len Symonds, popular manager of the Triple Link Hockey Club for the past season, presided.

Praise for the work done by Oddfellows during the past six year through their special committee for junior hockey promotion was the main theme of the speakers, and Coach Johnny Godfrey praised the club as a whole and the executive for their untiring efforts during the past season, his first as a coach of the junior club. (John coached the juveniles of 1950-51.)

Oshawa Tie-Up

Plans for the coming season include affiliation with the Oshawa junior "A" entry and a juvenile entry again in P.M.H.A. city league competition. Oddfellows will develop local talent exclusively giving as many boys as possible an opportunity to play and advance to higher classifications from different juvenile teams to junior "B" and junior "A" company. Two or three juniors are tentatively slated for "A" tryouts this fall, states Mr. Symonds, though he prefers to withhold their names at present.

"This coming season should be our greatest ever," enthused Len. A new slate of officers for 1952-53, drafted at the recent reorganization meeting, was furnished on request, and the group are as follows:

The New Slate

President, Herb Young; vice-president, Ken Mowry; secretary-treasurer, Bob McCuaig; manager, Glen Edwards; committee members, Arthur Spears, Elmer Pearse, Len Symonds, Harold Stewart, Vic Brown, Jack and Jim Foskett, Spencer Hope, Bill Alberry, Jack Smith, Ray Viscoff and Bill Harris. Members of the senior executive are also committee members.

A vote among the players of this year's junior team for the most valuable player award resulted in a tie with Brian (Red) Robinson and Kevin Heffernan each receiving a small trophy.

Oddfellows will be holding their regular bingos commencing soon to assist their work.

Large Jim Ferrier, Australian who has been picking up a nice bit of dough on U.S. golf courses in recent years, returns this summer to defend his Canadian Open golf title, making a bid to be the first golfer to take the cup three times in a row. He has made his hotel reservation in Winnipeg for the period of the Open, July 16-19. Leo Diegel took the Canadian crown four times but not in a row, and Tommy Armour's trio of wins were spaced out. Sam Snead also won three times but took four years to do it, while Ferrier has won the last two years and stands a good chance of repeating. This is the big golfing competition in Canada.

Sporting two victories in two starts of the O.L.A. senior campaign, Hamilton Tigers tackle the Petes Timbermen here tomorrow night. Coach Doug Cove's crew includes: Jack Gair, Don McFarland, Bernie Guthro, Jack Dorney, Eddie Braunch, Jimmy Sutherland, Tommy Love, Al Doyle, Bob Grainger, Doug Davidson, Blaine McDonald, Doug Favelle, Barney Walsh and Merv McKenzie, who helped Petes in the Mann Cup finals last fall. The Tigers are rated a potent pack again and will be trying hard to inflict the first loss of the young season on Bob Thorpe's team, fresh from three straight wins.

Redmen Appear Robust

Belleville Redmen served notice on all and sundry about the C.O.B.L. that they'll be tough onions in the baseball patch this warm spell. They opened play in Kingston the other day with a 5-3 triumph over the highly-regarded Monarchs (formerly Ponies) of the Limestone City. Art Wright came up with a six-hit hurling performance for the Quinte crew besides whiffing nine and helping himself to two of his team's seven singles off Babe Stinson. Two of the Kingston runs resulted from Belleville infield errors, so the decision was all the more impressive. Jackie Wardhaugh was the only other batter in the floodlight ray to get two safe blows. Reeves, Semark, Goyer and Mulholland are other puckists performing for the summer-time Redmen.

* * * * * *

The Pete's opener here last Saturday night with Kingston was washed out, and no word has been received yet as to when it'll be played. The Whitehill squad is due to open now in Bella Villa next Monday night. All three cities have floodlights and will play most of their games under the arcs. Redmen and Monarchs interlock with the St. Lawrence League down Smiths Falls-Brockville way, while the Petes plan some exhibitions to fill in their schedule against Oshawa Merchants shortly. The locals practise nightly in Riverside and the players are starting to strike their proper stride in these workouts. They shouldn't be weak sisters in the C.O.B.L.

Doing One Swell Job

A most enjoyable windup banquet was held last eve by the Oddfellows Hockey Club with a number of I.O.O.F. officials and guests also present. In six years, the Triple Links have made a notable hockey contribution to this city and, in fact, it is doubtful if there would have been O.H.A. junior hockey played here in that time but for this club. It now gets some help from Boston Bruins but continues to raise most of the required money to develop these ice-minded youngsters—and not even a fire which destroyed all its puck equipment a year ago could stop the work. The club seeks a hookup now with Oshawa Generals within the Bruin chain. Len Symonds presided at the "do" last night.

* * * * * *

The list of officers for the 1952-53 season, chosen some weeks ago, was made public last night. It is headed by Herb Youngs as president and looks like a solid working executive. The club will notify the O.H.A. executive before next season starts that the I.O.O.F. is a completely independent setup with no understanding at all between it and either senior "B" Club here, Eagles or Petes. As neither senior squad sponsors the local juniors, neither will be entitled to use any of the junior players under a proper O.H.A. ruling. Such a mixup occurred late last season, but the point will be made very clear this time to the O.H.A.

Ottawa M.P.'s Rescue Ball Victory In Nick Of Time From Reporters

OTTAWA, May 29 (CP)—Parliament Hill rocked for a time Wednesday night under the possibilities of an upset.

Then an athletic ghost named Lionel Conacher — he's allegedly been retired for years—came back to life, smote two home runs and bunted another and his members of parliament went on to beat the parliamentary press gallery in their anything-goes softball game on the lawns of parliament.

The final score? Well, the parliamentarians, using the Abbott system of figuring things, made it 21-17. The reporters said it was 22-14. In either case, the M.P.'s were glad because they won; the reporters were glad, in fact incredulous, that they did much better than last year.

More than 1,000 fans turned out to watch Prime Minister St. Laurent throw out the first four balls—it took that many to get one over the plate—to Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C. (P.C.-Nanaimo).

Spectators chipped in more than $200 for the Commons' page boys fund as the fun unfolded under the fatherly guidance of the Rev. Dan McIvor, the beloved 79-year-old clergyman-member from Fort William.

Conacher, now Liberal member for Toronto Trinity and Bucko MacDonald, L-Parry Sound, another ex-N.H.L. great, led the way for a team that included Finance Minister Abbott, External Affairs Minister Pearson, Resources Minister Winters, Donald Fleming (P.C.-Toronto Eglington).

Star for the press gallery was D'Arcy (Canadian Press) O'Donnell with three hits.

Dick Chapman Knocked Out Of Golf Tourney

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 29 (AP)—Defending champion Dick Chapman was knocked out of the British Amateur Golf Championship in a stunning upset today. But United States amateur king Billy Maxwell, Walker Cupper Jimmy McHale, Frankie Strafaci and Harvie Ward carried the U.S. colors into the sixth round with victories.

Chapman was blasted out of the running by Maj. David Blair, 35-year-old Scotsman, 3 and 2. Maxwell eliminated Don Cameron, another Scot, 2 and 1; McHale ousted Minty Miller, a Glasgow football player, 5 and 4. Strafaci nipped Jimmy Wilson, a Scottish Walker Cup member, 1 up on the 20th hole, and Ward routed Andrew Whyte, of Scotland, 5 and 4.

Still out on the course were the two remaining Americans, Frank Stranahan, former two-time British amateur king, and Jack Penrose, a little-known linksman from Miami Beach, Fla.

Another round was on top for this afternoon which will cut the field down to eight.

Chapman, one of the three big American favorites in the tourney, was ousted shortly after curly-haired Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N.Y., became the first American to reach the sixth round.

Strafaci plunked his tee shot just 16 inches from the pin to squeeze out a one-up victory on the 20th hole over Jimmy Wilson, Scottish Walker Cup member.

Omemee Ties Lindsay To Commence Softball

LINDSAY, May 29—(ENS)—Omemee Whitmores made their debut in the mens' softball league here last night by holding Carruthers Drugs to a 12-all draw in a free-slugging game. Southpaw Ed Jornson of the O's was pounded heavily by the Druggists, especially in the late innings, but his mates came through in the clinches to gain the split on points. Johnson and Roy Crawford, who led the villagers with three hits apiece, were the heroes, slamming out ninth-inning safeties to force Carruthers to come from behind for the second time to tie.

Manager Dunc Daynes, who took over in relief from starter Woody Ritchie in the sixth, and rookie Don Quibell, led the 20-hit attack against Johnston with five successive hits. However, the Omemee portsider forced both these batters to pop up in the two-run ninth. Johnston fanned six and walked three. The Whitmore sponsored crew were strengthened by six Peterborough district players: Jerry and Ken Bryans, Glen Dracup, Ray Craig, Ross Jamieson and Bill Mitchell.

Police Edge Army

Provincial Police edged out a 10-9 opening decision over Salvation Army in the Civic Softball League last night. They took an early lead with six runs in the first frame, adding one next time up and two in the third. The police were held scoreless then till they shoved across the winner in the seventh. The Army boys got a run in the first, two next time to bat, one each in the fourth and fifth and four in a big drive in the seventh that almost pulled the game out of the fire. Some good ball was served up on both sides. Teams:

Police—Mohns, Healey, Rowe, Eady, Philips, Louth, Pope, Waiman, Plumtree.

Salvation Army — Craig, C. Braund, Robinson, Jones, R. Braund, Simmons, Brown, Parnell, Parsons.

King Edward Wins

King Edward seniors downed King George 23-4 yesterday in a school softball tussle. The losers were held to two runs each in the second and fourth frames, while the victors banged out bingles to produce nine markers in the initial inning, four in the third and 10 in a big fourth stanza. The southenders had steady pitching and good fielding as well as some hard and timely clouting. Teams:

King George—Barker, G. Harding, J. Harding, MacNaughton, Grills, Clarke, English, Dinesen, Nurse, Lentz, Meeks, Storey.

King Edward—Curtis, Floyd, Simmons, Orr, Rusaw, Rose, Finney, Phillips, Mills, Beggs, Stevens, McCulloch.

Umpires, D. T. Crawford and C. Crown.

Bell Triumphant

Bell Telephone started off with a bang in the Civic Softball League last night as they laced Timbermen 27-7. They ran wild for 13 runs in the fourth frame after getting three each the first two heats and one in the third. The victors went on for two more in the fifth and finished with a five-run flourish in the sixth on some hard hitting. The new Timbermen shoved over three in the second and two more in the third, but were held then to a run each in the fourth and sixth of a fair tussle. Teams:

Timbermen: O'Hearn, G. Hogan, Rodgers, Dyer, Murphy, Payne, McLeod, Carson, C. Hogan.

Bell: Conway, James, Tushingham, Ackford, Harrison, Bullied, Gillespie, Gordon, Taylor.

Batters Finding Pitchers An Easy Mark

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—They tell you the manufacturers of major league baseballs have taken some of the rabbit out of the old spheroid this year, but you couldn't prove it by Herman Wehmeier, the Cincinnati Reds' fast-balling righthander.

Wehmeier, with the season just about at the one-quarter mark, already has had 12 home runs hit off his deliveries to lead the major leagues in this ignominious department. If National League batsmen continue to consume Herman's servings at their present pace, it's a cinch the 25-year-old hurler will break the existing gopher-ball mark of 39 established by Murry Dickson in 1948.

In the American League, Cleveland's Early Wynn has given up the most home runs, six, followed by moundmate Bob Feller and Duane Pillette of the St. Louis Browns, each with five. Feller led the league in 1951 with 22.

Rookie righthander Ben Wade of the Brooklyn Dodgers has permitted 10 gophers in the seven games he's worked to rank second for National League "honors," followed by Dickson, last year's leader with 32, who is in third place so far this season with nine.

Bob Rush of Chicago, and Warren Spahn, Boston's brilliant southpaw, have been the toughest of the regular N. L. hurlers to clout for the home run. Each has allowed only two.

In the American League, Cleveland's Mike Garcia has yet to have an American League batter tag him for a home run this year. Garcia has hurled in 79 innings.

Central Takes Tilt

Central seniors of the School Softball League pounded out a 29-13 win over Queen Elizabeth yesterday in a loose fray. They had but 16 hits to 15 and kicked six to the losers' two errors, but hit in timely fashion and cashed in on a flock of walks in every inning, finishing off with 14 runs in a wide-open fifth frame. Williams walked three and fanned five, while Lloyd and Tighe whiffed six, but walked 20 between them. Heard and Kwong Hum hit homers. It was tight enough the first half. Teams:

Central: Kelly, Lustic, Harrington, Hum, Tranter, Ellis, Dunford, Brown, Williams, Martin, Gray, Naish, Robbins.

Q.E.: Whitnell, Tighe, Heard, Willis, Lyons, Welsh, Harris, Lloyd, Perry, Lymburner, Hancock.

Umpires: O. Anderson and N. Gainer.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Canada will hold its own miniature Olympic games at Hamilton June 27-28 when the Olympic track and field trials are held.

Sponsors of the team said on Wednesday there will be torch bearers, the usual Olympic tossing of pigeons and bands in colorful uniforms—just as there will be at Helsinki later this year.

The torch will be lit at Toronto by Premier Frost and athletes will carry it some 40 miles to Hamilton.

Track and field athletes from various parts of Canada will compete along with Canadians enrolled at United States colleges. These include Don McEwen of Ottawa, nifty two-miler; Rich Ferguson of Toronto, another U.S. college star, and sprinters John Ross of Oakville and Jack Carroll of Montreal.

The touring Tottenham Hotspurs Wednesday night overwhelmed a Saskatchewan all-star eleven 16-1 at Saskatoon.

Henri Rochon, 28-year-old Canadian Davis Cup tennis star, was injured Wednesday in Montreal when the automobile he was driving collided with a truck.

The Regina Leader-Post said Wednesday that Red Ettinger, star centre with Saskatchewan Roughriders last year, likely will sign with Montreal Alouettes next fall. He was all-star centre of the Western Conference in 1951.

Gene Robillard, of Eastview, backfielder of the McGill Redmen of the Intercollegiate Union last year, has signed with Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four, it was announced Wednesday at Montreal.

Cleveland Barons will apply for membership in the National Hockey League next season, the Cleveland Arena stockholders decided Wednesday. They will meet financial arrangements asked by the league which are $318,000 exclusively for hockey, $50,000 for a franchise and $57,000 for the league's emergency fund.

Willie Mays, sensational young centrefielder for New York Giants played his farewell game Wednesday before leaving to join the U.S. armed forces. He had tears in his eyes as he described his year in the majors. "Every day has been a thrill for me," he said.

Harness Horse Racing Outing For Whole Family In Quebec

By BERNARD DUFRESNE, Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC, May 29—(CP)—In Quebec City, men, women and children all go to the harness races.

The men and the smart-looking, well-dressed women place bets. The children scamper around and ask strangers:

"Mister, do know a good horse in the next race?"

"The kids just won't stay away," says Jacques Gravel, president of the Quebec Harness Racing Club. Children who get lost in the crowd come to him for ice cream.

Urchins with dirty hands and face who slip in through the back fence get a public scrubbing from Gravel himself.

The popularity of harness racing at Quebec's Exposition Park Raceway is such that promoters of other sports avoid dates which conflict with the track's schedule of 100 programs.

Last year, nearly 230,000 persons attended 96 racing days, Sunday afternoons and three or four nights a week, from mid-May to late October.

1951 Purses

The Club, which rents the track from the Provincial Exposition Commission, does not announce the amount of money bet, but purses last year amounted to $210,000.

Times have changed since the hit-and-miss days of a few years ago when owners raced their horses for small purses and side bets while spectators wagered among themselves.

But modern race track equipment such as photo-finish cameras, program charts and pari-mutuel machines have not taken away much of the old-time fun.

The raceway's long rows of stables for 600 horses provide striking contrasts, especially down the lanes reserved for season-long entrants.

Some owners, like Mr. and Mrs. Alcide Fontaine of Richmond, Que., live in a trailer parked near the stalls assigned to their three horses.

Others like Reuben Talbot, Bill Gillespie, John Martin and Jim McKenley, all of Toronto and district, live close to their pacers and trotters—in converted stalls.

But the most pampered horses are probably those of Quebec sportsman Joe Cauchon, Gravel's father-in-law. His permanent stable includes oak-wood stalls with brass fittings for his horses; and posh second-floor apartments for himself.

Lindsay Beats Ashby's In Girls' Fray

Lindsay racked up an early lead which stood them in good stead at the Bowl last night as they rolled home ahead of Ashby's 13-9 to capture the Girls' Softball League fixture there. It was the only game listed in the loop for the night. Ashby's kept crowding the visitors and were crawling up close to them toward the finish as they outhit the winners and had a slight margin in fielding both sides being somewhat loose defensively.

Manley led the Lindsay lasses in hitting with three for five, as Collins and Owen banged out triples; Wakelin caught a steady game and Britnall's fielding was good throughout. E. Simmons of Ashby's slashed out three hits in five times up, one a homer in the ninth, as she and D. Smith starred afield. The losers used two twirlers but the hitters on both sides had the best of it in this joust. Teams:

Lindsay—S. Wakelin, c; M. Owen, p; V. Mitchell, rf; R. Hickson, cf; H. Graham, 1b; M. Anderson, lf; H. Collins, lf, J. Gilson, ss; M. Manley, 3b; R. Britnall, 2b.

Mimico Edges Athletics 14-12

TORONTO, May 29 (CP). — Mimico Mountaineers Wednesday night registered their second straight victory in the young Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior series, defeating St. Catharines Athletics 14-12.

Fred Sandford scored what proved to be the winning goal at the 10:02 mark of the last quarter and centre Ken Dixon added the insurance tally less than two minutes before the final bell.

Denny Peterson paced the Mountaineers with four goals. Dixon scored three times and Bob Blakely and Sandford two each. Don Moore, Max Woolley and Don Culp each scored twice for the Athletics.

Fred Perry, then the backbone of the British Davis Cup team, lost to Giorgio de Stefani in the French hard-court tennis championships 18 years ago today. Perry was beaten 6-1, 1-6, 9-7, 6-2 in the match in which he strained his right leg and had to be carried from the courts. He turned professional two years later, in 1936.

Buffalo Breaks Bad Slump, Clip Wings 8--3

By The Canadian Press.

Montreal Royals pulled four full games ahead of the International League field and Buffalo Bisons broke their 11-game losing streak in Wednesday night's play.

Royals' Hamp Coleman turned back Springfield Cubs with an 8-2 five-hitter. Coleman blanked the Cubs after the first inning, and his teammates collected 14 hits—Walt Moryn and Carm Mauro getting three safeties each.

Buffalo broke its sickening slump, longest of the season, by defeating Rochester Red Wings 8-3. The Bisons clouted five Red Wings pitchers for 17 hits, including a double, two triples and Frank Carswell's homer.

Wayne McLeland, although tagged for 14 hits before he was relieved with none out in the ninth, got credit for the victory. Ralph Poole finished up.

Nip Toronto

The defeat cost Rochester undisputed possession of second place. Syracuse Chiefs tied the Wings for the runner-up spot by nipping Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1.

Chief Ace Holloman limited Leafs to two hits in posting his eighth victory of the season. Carden Gillenwater drove in both Syracuse runs with a homer off little Vic Lombardi in the fourth. Holloman pitched hitless ball for seven innings. Grover Bowers spoiled his no-hit bag with a double in the eighth.

Jean Pierre Roy went all the way as Ottawa Athletics downed Baltimore Orioles 6-2 in 11 innings. Roy permitted only six hits. Lou Limmer featured Ottawa's four-run uprising against Blix Donnelly in the 11th with a home run.

Giants Take Third Straight Subdue Brooklyn By 6-2

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Wrong-way Pittsburgh is running away with the National League. Without much trouble, the Pirates can clinch last place by July 4. Racing backward at a breath-taking .179 pace, they promise to find the answer to "how low is down?" —unless there is a drastic change, they should set a new modern losing record in the majors. Just look at the figures. Won 7, lost 32, games behind 21½. Games behind seventh place, 9½. And the season is only one-quarter over.

If the Bucs keep it up they'll wind up with 28 victories for the year. Back in 1916 Philadelphia Athletics set the modern low with a 36-117 season. In 1935 Boston Braves finished with 38-115, the National League record. Once upon a time, way back in 1889, a Cleveland team managed to win only 20 all year. But 1900 usually is the dividing line for modern records.

One win a week is the going Pirate rate. With doubleheaders piling up they've got to do better than that. Poor old Billy Meyer, a consistent pennant winner in the Yanks' farm chain for many years, must be afraid to look at the papers.

Maybe Branch Rickey's youth movement will pay off in the future book. He has no-hit pitchers and 27-strikeout artists in the lower minors. But the collection now performing at Pittsburgh certainly is learning the hard way.

Bow To Reds

They lost another Wednesday night, 5-2, to Cincinnati as the veteran Kenny Raffensberger won his sixth of the season. Bobby Adams and Roy McMillan hit homers to ease Raffy home past Red Munger. Jack Merson homered for the Bucs.

In the upper strata, Jim Hearn pitched New York Giants to a third straight over Brooklyn 6-2, opening up a 2½ game lead on the Dodgers. It was the last game for Willie Mays, Giants' centre-fielder, who reports for army duty today.

Chicago Cubs, once a pushover for Harry Brecheen, chased "The Cat" for the third straight time in beating the St. Louis Cards, 7-2, in the other National League game.

Detroit Tigers forget their dreary last place record, knocking off the front-running Cleveland Indians 6-2 when Ted Gray beat the Tribe Wednesday night in American League action. It was Detroit's fourth win in a row over Cleveland. Pat Mullin's fluke two-run double when he ducked away from a Mike Garcia pitch and sloppy Cleveland fielding broke Garcia's five-game win streak.

Old Satchel Paige strolled in to save Bobby Cain's fourth win at St. Louis as the Brownies broke a four-game losing streak, 3-1. The other American League teams were not scheduled.

Central Victorious

Central intermediates took a 25-7 school softball win over Prince of Wales on a two-hit hurling job and a clouting chore of 13 Central singles. They got nine runs in the second, 10 next time up, and three each in the fourth and fifth. The losers tallied two apiece the first three heats and one in the fifth. Teams:

Central: Lang, Simpson, Hayman, Sorrie, McInroy, Barber, Dunford, Armstrong, Tetlock, Vilnef, Findlay, Bolton.

Prince of Wales: Barrie, Shaw, Murphy, Jay, Douglas, Doughty, McFadden, Falkner, Morley, MacIntosh, Parker.

Umpire, C. Bullock.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press.

Batting: Don Mueller, Giants — Hit homer and two doubles in New York's seventh straight win.

Pitching: Jim Hearn, Giants — Came back from Monday night knockout to strong arm Brooklyn with four hits, 6-2, as New York swept three game series.

Course Poses Test For Hogan

DALLAS, May 29 (AP). —The course over which the national open will be played gets its first big test Saturday when champion Ben Hogan shots against everybody.

It will be "National Golf Day" and all linksters, male and female, in the United States and Canada will be playing on their home courses in an effort to "beat Ben Hogan." Little Ben expects at least 100,000 to beat him. The reason: he'll be shooting on one of the toughest courses in the country while golfers playing against him will have all sorts of handicaps and be playing on every kind of course.

But he says it's a "wonderful idea" because all golfers will have to pay to play and the money goes to the United Service Organization and to the National Golf Fund.

It will give Hogan the opportunity to really go all out on the Northwood Club course, scene of the open June 12-14. The United States Golf Association has finally set the yardage and par for the course.

The course will have a 35-35—70 par and will measure 6,764 yards. There are only four par three holes. There are 12 par four holes and two par fives.

Hogan played the course Tuesday and did a 73. He was, however, only experimenting and not attempting to shoot a low score.

Bay Of Quinte Ordains Eight Ministers

LINDSAY, May 29—The ordination of eight men into the ministry of the United Church of Canada Wednesday night was the highlight of the first two days of the Bay of Quinte Conference being held in Lindsay.

A capacity congregation crowded into Cambridge St. United Church for the service of ordination which was conducted by the President of the conference the Rev. Dr. George Telford of St. Andrew's United, Oshawa Ont.

Two of the ordinands are brothers, Robert James McLellan and Gordon McLellan, both of Napanee and sons of the Rev. C. D. McLellan of Napanee.

The six other ordinands were: Pieter de Jong, Braeside; Edward James Kersey, Oshawa; John Albert Lougheed, Seagrave; James Maurice Denison McLeod, Kingston; Frederick Elmer Rice, Battersen; Roy Alexander Speer, Gannonoque.

Assisted In Service

Dr. Telford was assisted in the service by the Rev. G. A. Puttenham of Trenton, chairman of the committee of colleges and schools; the Rev. Dr. H. A. Kent, principal of Queen's Theological College, Kingston; the Rev. H. C. Wolfraim of Almonte, secretary of the conference; the Rev. H. B. Neal of Lindsay, minister of conference church; the Rev. G. W. Dustin of Gananoque, the Rev. S. B. Profitt of Beaverton, the Rev. C. E. Armstrong of Smiths Falls, the Rev. M. C. Fisher of Brooklin, the Rev. H. G. Douglas of Peterborough; the Rev. A. L. Sisco of Tweed; the Rev. B. K. Cronk of Port Hope, the Rev. C. D. McLellan of Napanee, the Rev. A.W. Lougheed of Seagrave.

The main activity of Wednesday afternoon's session was a meeting of the conference laymen in Cambridge St. Baptist Church.

The Rev. S. B. Profitt of Beaverton was the guest speaker at this meeting and outlined the part laymen can play and must play in the church if the church is to be a vital force in the world today.

Mr. Profitt asked that laymen take time to consider the moral and spiritual heritage of the church and in doing this reach convictions of the place they should take in the church.

"If this is done, you will find there will be new enthusiasm and dorsement of the laymen of the church which will be of fundamental importance in our life today," he said.

Support Moira Lake Camp

An appeal was made at this meeting for the support and endorsecent of the laymen of the conference for the work that has been done at the United Church camp, Quin-Mo-Lac on Moira Lake, north of Belleville by the board of directors.

Two men who spoke on behalf of the camp were Don Williams of Belleville, and Bill Weir of Omemee. They outlined the work that had been done at the camp and explained that building operations had resulted in a $11,000 capital deficit.

The motion was passed that the laymen of the conference endorse what had been done and give support to the project in the future by suporting whatever measures the camp's board of directors take to raise the needed funds.

Ralph Young, general Secretary of the United Church Men of Canada, explained the value of the formation of men's groups in churches in addition to board and sessions.

"The great accomplishments of these groups is found in their furtherance of the study of the bible, the undertaking of church projects, and the effective leadership members give in the teaching of youth," Mr. Young said.

The following 13 men were elected members of the executive of the Lay Association of the conference: W. E. Tummon of Foxboro and C. W. Burr of Belleville (Belleville Presbytery); Lorne Darling of Morganston and F. Hempstead of Cobourg (Cobourg); E. Davis of Kingston and George N. Bracken of Seeley's Bay (Kingston); F. L. Weldon of Lindsay (Lindsay); Fred Ormiston of Brooklin and A. L. Pascoe of Hampton (Oshawa); A. E. DeNure of Peterborough and L. W. Humphries of Hastings (Peterborough); W. A. Woodside of Smiths Falls and N. E. Zimmerman of Renfrew (Renfrew).

This group will meet later in the conference to elect a secretary.

President of the Lay Association, M. H. Winter, will continue another year in office.

Outline Progress Of C.P.R. In Past 5 Years

TORONTO, May 29—The claim that the Canadian Pacific Railway has not failed in carrying out its responsibilities to Canada and its citizens was voiced by George H. Baillie vice-president of the company's eastern region in an address to the Canadian Manufacturer's Association here today.

Mr. Baillie outlined the forward steps taken by the C.P.R. to improve services during the past five and a half years.

Fast freight services on all main arteries of the railway from Vancouver to Saint John, N.B., have been speeded up. Eastbound from Vancouver the fast freight service now takes 13 hours less time than it did in 1947 and similar reductions in schedules have been made offective on the interstate service between Windsor, Ont., and Wells River, Vt., and on service from Toronto to western Canada.

Since 1946 the C.P.R. has placed more than 17,000 new freight units in service. In that time 11,000 box cars, 1,070 automobile cars, 1,455 refrigerator cars, 300 flat cars, 1,583 gondolas, 1,075 hopper coal cars, 300 covered hoppers, 200 longitudinal hoppers and 100 ore cars, have been received from the builders.

New Box Cars

Mr. Baillie said that 3,300 new box cars are expected to be delivered this year, resulting in a substantial increase over retirements of this type of equipment which totals about 1,500 cars per year.

Canadian Pacific ownership of automobile cars has increased 44 per cent since 1946. Three hundred new cars are on order and a modernization program of rebuilding automobile cars during the past two years has augmented the supply of equipment to transport modern automobiles.

Four hundred new regrigerator cars to be built this year will mean an increase in ownership of 25 per cent over 1946 and indications are that the building program of this type of equipment will make the C.P.R. self-sufficient within the next few years without the necessity of reverting to private car owners for assistance during peak loading periods.

Between 1947 and 1951 the company purchased more than 200 new units of passenger train equipment. Included were 99 first class coaches and 19 roomette cars. A further 75 units of baggage and express equipment are expected this year.

Modernizing Equipment

In addition to new equipment, a capital outlay has been earmarked this year for modernizing, converting and generally improving present passenger train equipment.

This summer a new transcontinental express train has been put in service between Toronto and Vancouver connecting at Sudbury with a similar train from Montreal. Two new "named" passenger trains are running between Calgary and Edmonton, the "Eskimo" and the "Stampeder"; and the "Kootenay Express" now operates between Nelson, B.C., and Vancouver, through the spectacular Coquihalla Valley during daylight hours.

Turing to motive power, Mr. Baillie said the company has 255 diesel electric units now in use, with 29 more on order for delivery this year. Main diesel operations are in freight and passenger service between Calgary and Revelstoke; freight service between Cartier and Fort William; and passenger and freight service between Montreal, Wells River and Boston.

In 1951 more than $51,000,000 was spent on capital and maintenance expenditures and this year a similar amount has been budgetted for work of the same kind.

Own Decorators

RUISLIP, England — (CP) — Tenants of subsidized houses in this Middlesex town were offered a municipal grant of £28 spread over five years provided they do all their own interior decorating in that period. Municipal authorities estimated this would save about £32 on each house.

Baron Claims 3,500 Members Join His Union

TORONTO, May 29 (CP). — Sam Baron, newly-appointed Canadian director of the United Textile Workers (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) announced Wednesday that some 3,500 members of the rival Textile Workers Union of America (C.C.L.-C.I.O.) in Hamilton, voted to join the U.T.W.A.

The announcement follows a dispute within the C.I.O. union where a secession group has advocated joining the rival union. Mr. Baron, former Canadian director of the T.W.U.A., was fired during the intra-union dispute and recently appointed Canadian head of the A.F.L. union after other Canadian officials were fired.

Baron announced his aim of bringing the same 30,000 Canadian textile workers under one union, the United Textile Workers.

He also criticized Dave Archer, secretary of the Toronto Labor Council (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) who has described Baron as a "labor racketeer" for switching from the T.W.U.A. to the U.T.W. Baron termed Archer a "political pensioner" and "political hack."

Vote To Remain

In Hamilton Harold Daoust, Canadian director of the Textile Workers Union of America (C.I.O.) Wednesday night announced another major union of the Hamilton area had voted to remain in the T.W.U.A.

He said Local 741 at Guelph Yarns, Guelph, with a membership of 514, voted almost unanimously to remain in the union. Only three voted to secede, he said.

"This is a solid rebuke to Baron (Sam Baron, former Canadian director of the union who now is with the rival A.F.L. United Textile Workers) and Robinson (Jack Robinson, former T.W.U.A. official and now leader of the secession movement here) in their attempts to lure C.I.O. members into the U.T.W.," he said.

Daoust charged that figures released by Baron of 3,500 textile workers withdrawing from the T.W.U.A. are fantastic.

Roseneath Y.P.U. Play In Conference Final

ROSENEATH, May 29 (ENS).—Roseneath Y.P.U. won in the semi-finals of Bay of Quinte Conference Y.P.U. drama festival held at Newcastle on Tuesday. The festival was presented in the basement of Newcastle United Church.

The Roseneath play, "Hanging Uncle Henry," had previously won the Cobourg Presbytery title and played on Tuesday night in competition with the Y.P.U. play from Greenwood. The name of the Greenwood play was "Sitting Bill," and had won the Oshawa Presbytery festival.

The cast from Roseneath will play in Trenton on Friday night, June 30, in the finals.

They also presented their play at Bethel Grove on Wednesday, May 28.

Mrs. Earl Waldie is the capable director of the play. Mrs. Hector Winkworth is associate director.

Lakefield Cadet Corps Congratulated At Inspection

LAKEFIELD, May 29 (ENS)—"The citizenship you learn in your cadet training will be a real benefit to you in the future when you leave school and go out into the world," said Lt.-Col. M. E. Clarke of Peterborough, following the annual inspection of the Lakefield District High School Cadet Corps on Wednesday afternoon.

"Your inspection has been excellent and all displays and demonstrations carried out in a most efficient manner. I congratulate you."

Lieut. H. E. Done, eastern Ontario cadet training officer, also offered his congratulations, stating that he had been told that this corps was one of the best in Ontario for a school of its size, and he had certainly not been disappointed.

Under the command of Cadet Major W. Down, with Cadet Capt. F. Barcroft, second in command, the corps presented a neat appearance and performed all marches and displays with a precision that was a credit to them and to their instructors, L. Shepherd, C. Sisson and principal R. E. Sutton.

The inspection party consisted of Lieut. Col. M. E. Clarke, Lieut. H. E. Done, Mrs. K. Lichty, regent of the Catherine Parr Traill Chapter I.O.D.E., Mr. G. McIlmoyle, chairman of the Lakefield District H. S. Board, Dr. R. H. Campbell of the Public School Board and Lieut. L. G. Shepherd, chief cadet instructor.

Officers of the Corps are: Cadet Major W. Down, O.C.; Cadet Capt. F. Barcroft; Lieuts. K. Wingett, N. Cowan, M. Pavey, M. Tucker, M. Easson. Company Sgt. Major, R. Freeburn; Quartermaster Sgt. T. Wilson; Sgts. D. Jacobs, N. Wasson, N. Doubt, M. Boyce, M. Calberry.

Members of the Band: Sgt. B. Twist, H. Rath, D. Mathews, J. Hinton, J. Pue, J. Northey, K. Darling, D. Pearson, J. Milligan.

Participating in the boys' physical training were all the boys of the corps under the direction of C.S.M. R. Freeburn.

Sgt. M. Calberry directed the girls' physical training display; the obstacle course was directed by Cadets D. Mathews and J. Pue; field cooking was demonstrated, as well as field tactics; knots and lashing signals and rifle coaching.

Prizes were won for Morse signalling by Cadets K. Darling, T. Douglas, R. Jackson, D. Lebeau, R. Mace, D. Millage, H. Pearson, F. Stabler, A. Wilson and F. Windover. For twelve words per minute, Cadet H. Pearson.

Lieut. L. G. Shepherd expressed to Lt. Col. Clarke and Lieut. Done the appreciation of the corps. The usual parade down town was withdrawn owing to rain.

Oldest Citizen Of Lakefield 91

LAKEFIELD, May 29. (ENS)—Lakefield's oldest citizen, Sidney Hunter, celebrates his 91st birthday today at his home on Catherine St.

In excellent health, Mr. Hunter has just finished planting his garden in which he grows not only vegetables but a wide variety of beautiful flowers. Gardening is one of his hobbies and he spends many happy hours at it. He has also done a fine paint job on his home.

Despite his advanced years, Mr. Hunter is keenly interested in both local and world affairs.

In September, 1950, he and his wife celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary. Mrs. Hunter too, enjoys good health, and has recovered from a broken hip sustained in a fall about a year-and-a-half ago.

During the day many friends and relatives called to offer their congratulations and best wishes.

Robert McMullen

Pinay Experiment Boosts Ailing French Economy

By CHARLES R. HARGROVE
NEA Special Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—In less than three months, what Frenchmen call "the Pinay experiment" is proving almost too good to be true.

The man behind it is Antoine Pinay, a small tanner from the Loire Valley, who was chosen by President Vincent Auriol to become premier of a nation on the brink of another financial collapse.

Pinay had not been in office a month before the climate of the franc had begun to change completely. Now the French are wondering if Pinay, unknown outside his home town and parliamentary circles until last March, is following in the footsteps of Raymond Poincare, who saved the franc from perdition 25 years ago.

When Pinay became premier, two governments had fallen in quick succession because parliament refused extra taxation declared necessary to balance the 1952 budget.

The treasury was so short of funds it had to order the National Bank to print money for it, and so short of foreign exchange it had to get a $100 million loan from the European Payments Union.

Imports were $50 million a month higher than exports. There was a rush to buy gold and foreign currency, prices were threatening to run away, labor unions were clamoring for raises, and everyone, inside and outside France, was saying the franc would be devalued any minute.

Since then, this is what has happened.

Pinay persuaded parliament to approve a budget that balances because of spending for investments and reconstruction have been slashed, rather than because of increased taxes.

The treasury has all the money it needs at least until July—and some prospect of being able to repay its special loan. Ruthless restrictions of imports have cut the trade deficit in half, easing the foreign exchange situation.

The dollar bill can be bought for 400 francs in the official free market. Before, the official price was 350 francs, the black market price 480.

Prices stopped rising and are showing a downward trend under a nation-wide campaign recognized even by the labor unions.

People are beginning to think maybe the franc wasn't so sick or the government so rotten after all—much to the dismay of the Communists, who fare better when things are bad, and Gen. Charles DeGaulle, whose party members have been voting for the government against his orders.

It is too soon to say whether the Pinay experiment is going to be another big miracle like the one Poincare engineered in 1927.

At the moment, everyone is waiting to see how much gold will come to the government from private hoards, estimated at between three and four thousand tons, through subscriptions to the 3½ per cent 60-year loan.

Cautious observers point out history never repeats itself exactly. They recall that when Poincare's miracle succeeded, there were no Communists outside Russia, no two-bloc cold war, and the material damage of one only, instead of two, world wars to be repaired.

But to anyone who left France at the beginning of March and returned in April, as this writer did, the Pinay experiment already looks like a little miracle.

In one month, a typical middle-class Frenchman, shrewd, straightforward and above all full of common sense, had somehow averted a panic. In doing so, he acquired such wide and strong public support that he got what had been an unmanageable parliament to do everything he wanted it to do—and in double quick time.

ANTOINE PINAY: Parliament responded in double-quick time.

Fire Employee Threatening Boss With Knife

KITCHENER, May 29—(CP)—Dismissal of an employee who allegedly threatened a mill supervisor with a knife was blamed today for the second strike within a week at the tire division of the Dominion Rubber Company Limited.

The whole plant was shut down Wednesday. Some 1,500 employees were affected. Mill-room employees refused to start unless the discharged employee was recalled.

A company statement charged that a tread-tuber operator threatened a mill supervisor with a knife and that the employee later admitted he had done so.

Arthur Scherer, president of Local 80 of the United Rubber Workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) blamed the walkout on close supervision by an assistant foreman this week in the mill room.

A wildcat strike was staged at the plant May 20. Workers were refused washup time and returned to work at the end of the second day of the walkout. Several employees have been suspended within the last week because they were leaving their jobs early, the company said.

Waste Proves Costly

TORONTO, May 29 (CP)—Waste and neglect of equipment stockpiled during the war years has forced heavy expenditures for civil defence, Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington said Wednesday. Canada's civil defence co-ordinator told the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association that the material was "thrown to the winds" at the end of the Second World War and the same equipment had to be bought again in 1949.

Rule Drama Festival Grant Deferred Till Basis Decided

OTTAWA, May 29 — (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent said Wednesday no federal grant will be made at this session of parliament for the Dominion Drama Festival or for the encouragement of ballet and similar activities.

He told the Commons such grants will not be made until the government is in a position to recommend to parliament general principles covering financial assistance to various cultural activities.

Mr. St. Laurent spoke during consideration of the 1952-53 estimates of the Privy Council.

Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) said many people are concerned because the Dominion Drama Festival has found it necessary to accept financial assistance from a liquor company.

J. M. Macdonnell (PC, Toronto-Greenwood) asked if the drama festival's need for assistance could not be considered an emergency. Mr. St. Laurent replied that the reasons for dealing with the matter as an emergency question were considered.

It was decided that no recommendation could be made to parliament until the government could set out the principles.

The government, he said, will look over the whole field before making its recommendations. It will have to be decided what types of activities will and will not qualify for assistance.

Make Changes In Bank Loans

OTTAWA, May 29—(CP)—The Senate Wednesday approved changes in the lending power of the Industrial Development Bank to permit the bank to lend money to commercial air lines.

The bill passed without comment.

Graham Towers, president of the bank and governor of the Bank of Canada, said a government investigation indicated that smaller commercial air lines will have difficulty financing new equipment. The usual lending institutions were reluctant to make loans on the type of security offered.

Canadian Zoologist Named Officer Of An Old Order

OTTAWA — (CP)—Dr. Rudolph Martin Anderson, 75, retired Canadian government zoologist, has been made an officer in a fairly exclusive international organization of hunters and game conservationists.

Now honorary Curator in Mammalogy at the National Museum here, he has just received a letter and scroll of the official decree of his election, last November 1 in Vienna, as Knight Officer of the International Order of St. Hubert.

The recognition came for his work of years in the geological survey of Canada in which his particular interest was animal life and its conservation.

The annual meeting at which he was elected was presided over by the Grand Master of the Order, Albert T. Messany, who has made 14 hunting trips to Canada and is Dr. Anderson's old friend and associate.

The Order of St. Hubert was created in 1695 in Austria which Dr. Anderson describes as "the cradle of all modern game laws," and its objective then, as now, was "promotion of sportsmanlike hunting, wild life conservation, strict maintenance of traditional customs and ceremonies, and establishment of good fellowship amongst sportsmen from all over the world."

Disrupted By War

It spread throughout Europe but the First World War brought disruption and the unrest that continued in Europe ended its activities. Hitler dissolved the last chapter in Silesia in 1933.

After the Second World War Mr. Messany, who was associated with General Mark Clark in administration of the American zone of Austria, revived the organization and General Clark, now Supreme Commander in the Far East, is a Knight Grand Officer of the Order.

Austria was chosen as headquarters but the reorganization was on a worldwide scale and chapters are being established far and wide.

Dr. Anderson, a well-built, slightly greying man who looks far younger than he is, no longer goes into the forests and the far northern areas to which his duties took him during his 33 years as a government zoologist. But he contributes largely to scientific and wildlife publications and has written a number of books his last was "Catalogue of Canadian Recent Mammals" published in 1947.

Born in Decorah, Iowa, he graduated from the University of Iowa and began his zoological work there. For many years he was assistant in Mammalogy and explorer for the Museum of Natural History, New York. He became zoologist for the Canadian Geological Survey in 1913 and retired in 1946.

FOX TALE—In the atmosphere of a Montreal tavern purchase of a fox didn't seem such a strange idea to one of the patrons. Came the dawn, however, and the bewildered young fox was turned over to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and here is held by an attendant. The unidentified purchaser explained "What would I do with a fox?"

Send 1,500 Vehicles

OTTAWA, May 29 — (CP). — Canada has agreed to send 1,500 vehicles to Bombay as part of her contribution to the Colombo Plan for building up South and Southeast Asia. A progress report on the plan, tabled in the Commons Wednesday, said the Bombay Transport Corporation is in urgent need of equipment and is short of capital to buy it.

British Labor United For More Pay

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 29—(CP)—There are rumblings of a gathering storm over industrial Britain today.

While some 7,000,000 organized workers already are queued-up with wage demands ranging from 10 shillings to as much as £2 a week, warnings have been sounded that serious industrial unrest may explode as a result of the country's economic crisis.

Lined up at present for more pay are railwaymen, miners, engineers, shipbuilders, agricultural workers, shop assistants, bus and tram workers, electrical trades, civil servants and teachers. Millions more are expected to press claims later in the year.

If granted, the pay boosts would cost industry an additional annual outlay of about £450,000,000, considerably in excess of last year's record when 12,000,000 workers received increases totalling £6,500,000 a week.

Higher Prices

In addition to those seeking wage increases through negotiation, another 2,000,000 or so will get automatic raises as a result of higher living costs following food subsidy cuts in the April budget. The wages of these workers are tied to the retail price index which R. A. Butler, Chancellor of the Exchequer, forecast would ultimately rise 4½ points. The index at present stands at 135 compared with 119 a year ago.

Butler has had a series of meetings with trade union representatives in an effort to restrain the growing demands of organized labor. He concedes there may be a case for moderate salary adjustments but contends there is no justification for the present "avalanche" of claims.

Fear Inflation

Others have warned that labor's insistence in their demands will not only plunge the country into a wage-prices inflationary spiral, but invite a new and dangerous upward thrust to export prices, involving unemployment and otherwise causing great damage and suffering before the situation can be brought under control.

At his last meeting with the trade union leaders, the Chancellor promised that the government would do everything in its power to halt the upward trend in the cost of living and to establish conditions in industry which would put a stop to excessive profits.

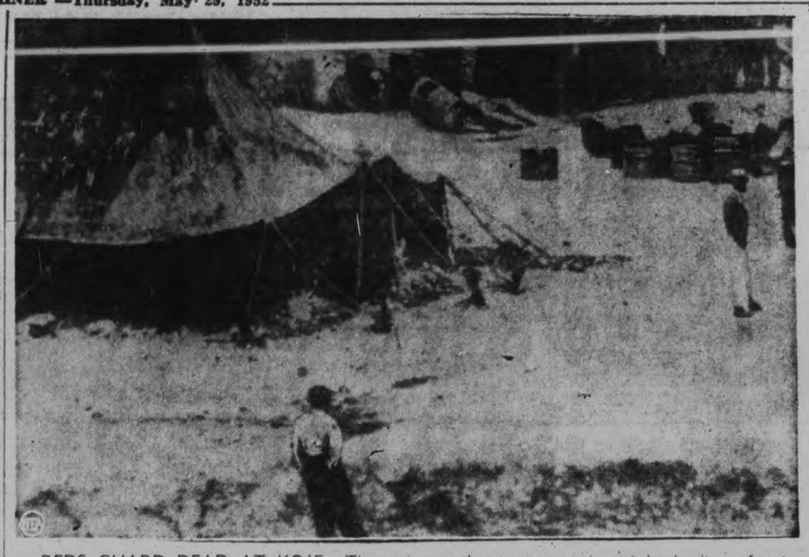
Many of the leaders of the powerful Trades Union Congress are convinced of the need for restraint but in face of steadily-rising prices, they fear such policy would be repudiated by the rank and file.

Extremists in the labor movement are even advocating a showdown with the government and a go-slow pace in industrial plants instead of stepped-up production as a safeguard against unemployment.

But more moderate leaders have counselled their followers against the dangers of using industrial action for political ends.

Ben Gardner, secretary of the Amalgamated Engineering Union, put it this way: "One of the plainest lessons of the inter-war years is that unions use the strike weapon for political purposes at their peril. Responsible leadership forbids its use."

The National Council of Labor, representing the T.U.C., the Labor party, and the Co-Operative Union, added that such action in addition to threatening the economy of the country, was in itself a direct challenge to the supremacy of established Democratic institutions.



REDS GUARD DEAD AT KOJE—Three North Korean prisoners-of-war guard a "mystery" tent inside compound 96 at the Koje Island, Korea, prison camp. The Reds say the tent contains eight bodies of prisoners killed in April 10 rioting. Because no UN personnel have seen the bodies, the question of whether there are any or not is a camp mystery.

Construction To Start On New High School

LINDSAY, May 29. (ENS) — Construction will begin on the new high school in Lindsay some time early in June, it was announced this morning by the Victoria county area high school board.

At a meeting last night, the contract was let by the board to the Carrol Construction Co. of Toronto. The contract for the Fenelon Falls High School was let to T. J. Morrow of Woodville. Both contracts are subject to final approval of the Municipal Board and the board of education. The Lindsay school is expected to cost approximately $882,000 while the Fenelon school is set at $42,000.

Charge Reduced Driver Fined $25

LIINDSAY, May 29 (ENS) —A charge of dangerous driving against Walter Way of Peterborough was dismissed in police court here Wednesday and a second charge of careless driving was upheld by Magistrate E. A. Gee. Way was fined $25 and assessed with costs.

According to O.P.P. Constable William Warner, there were marks on the highway indicating that the Way vehicle had travelled a total of 351 feet before coming to rest. The constable claimed that the vehicle had rolled over three times in the left ditch, slid across the highway on its top and came to rest in an unright position in the right ditch. The accident occured at the first turn south of Lindsay on the Peterborough - Lindsay highway. Damage to the car was about $1,500. Way was travelling towards Lindsay at the time.

Magistrate Gee ruled that there was insufficient evidence to warrant a dangerous driving conviction but fined the accused on the second charge of careless driving.

Obituary

MRS. SARAH YOUNG

MARMORA, May 29 (ENS) — The death of Mrs. Sarah Young occurred at her home on Victoria Ave., Marmora, on Tuesday evening within 14 hours of that of her daughter, Mrs. Percy McCaw.

Discount Report Two Bodies Found In River

RIMOUSKI, Que., May 2 —(CP) —Reports that two bodies, said to be those of crew members of the missing schooner "B-F", had been found near this lower St. Lawrence river port, have been discounted.

Reports from the customs office here had it that the two bodies were washed ashore at Baie Des Sables, reports later proved unfounded by Mayor Dr. Donald MacDonald and Quebec provincial police.

Dr. MacDonald said he made a personal investigation following the persistent reports but that no bodies had been found. He said that as the only doctor along a 40-mile stretch of coast he would have been notified if any bodies had been washed ashore.

The "B-F", captained by Charles-Noel Bernier of Matane, part-owner with his brothers, Enoch and Real, has been missing 16 days, ever since she left Marsoui, on the Gaspe coast, with 500 cords of pulpwood for Three Rivers, Que. There were 10 men aboard.

300 Cords Of Wood

Dr. MacDonald said more than 300 cords of pulpwood, identified as coming from the vessel's cargo, had been washed ashore along Baie Des Sables' 12 miles of beach.

Meanwhile, at Quebec, transport department officials said they are awaiting orders from Ottawa before undertaking a search of the area here. One official indicated a search at this time would be difficult.

The vessel disappeared May 13, a few hours after leaving Marsoui. No distress signal came from the former coal barge, equipped with radio-telephone equipment last summer when she was converted for general cargo use.

Debris found on the beach included a life belt with the vessel's markings, an oar, a fuel tank and a canvas lifeboat top.

Present Prizes At Norwood Cadet Inspection

NORWOOD, May 29 (ENS) — Annual inspection of the Norwood High School cadet corps took place at the fair grounds Wednesday.

Led by the Campbellford High School cadet band under the leadership of majorette Valerie DeCarrol, the company paraded from the centre of the village to the fair grounds.

The salute was taken by Major H. Wilson of the Midland Regiment, following which Lieutenant H. E. Done of Kingston, inspected the corps and band.

Accompanied by Lieutenant S. S. Breckon, officers in charge of the corps, and cadet Capt Robert Wilson, he inspected the four platoons under Lieutenants Marvyn Scott, Paul Newman, Shirley Brown and Betty Baker.

After the march past, and band selection, the various displays took place. These included rifle drill, Bren guns, two-inch mortar, .303 army rifle, signals and short wave radio.

Lieut. Done then congratulated the officers and cadets on their smart turnout, and excellent appearance, and especially praised Platoon No. 4 of the girls He spoke a few words on cadet training and said it teaches cadets discipline and respect. He thanked the officers for the opportunity of inspecting this corps.

Prizes donated by the Norwood I.O.D.E., Norwood Legion, MacMillan White (a former teacher) and Principal S. S. Breckon were presented to best cadet Lois McKay, Platoon No. 4, Helen Keogan Platoon No. 3. These were presented by the president of the I.O.D.E. And Major H. Wilson presented boys prize to Corporal Douglas Montgomery, Platoon No. 2; best cadet, Robert Duncanson, platoon No. 1; best N.C.O., Company Sergeant Jack Stackhouse, best officer, I. C. Capt, Robert Wilson; best shot, Sergeant Dick Crowley.

Lieut. S. S. Breckon then spoke a few words and expressed his regret at leaving the corps, and spoke of the pleasures he has had in the past 19 years he has been in the school. Mr. Breckon is retiring at the end of the school term.

The corps, led again by the band, marched to the village centre where they were dismissed and given a half holiday.

Credit for the success of the inspection must be given to the officers and also the non-commissioned officers. These were: C.C. Cadet Major Albert Smith, I.C. Captain, Robert Wilson.

N.C.O.s: Sgts. Boyce Orr, Dick Crowley, Joyce Chrysler, Joan Walsh, Comp. Sgt. Major Jack Stackhouse, Comp. Quartermaster Sgt. Mike McCabe.

Allow $86,000 To Pay Expenses Of Lt.-Governors

OTTAWA, May 29 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said Wednesday that in the past the government had experienced difficulty in obtaining suitable candidates to accept appointments as provincial lieutenant-governors because "they couldn't afford it."

It was for that reason, the Prime Minister told the Commons, that the government decided to institute a formula for payment of travelling and hospitality expenses for lieutenant-governors. The payments became effective this year.

It cost the lieutenant-governors more than the salary received to carry on responsibilities of office. In one case, Mr. St. Laurent said, he had been told it cost the incumbent $40,000 a year—and that "wasn't in Quebec or Ontario."

Moves Formula

He spoke as he moved in the Commons the formula under which lieutenant-governors' expenses will be paid. It provides that in provinces with populations under 500,000 the maximum payable in expenses shall be $5,000 a year. In provinces with more than 500,000 population, the maximum payments payments shall be increased by $1,000 for every 100,000 of population in excess of 500,000. Maximum allowance will be $12,000 a year.

A total of $86,000 is provided in the estimates for payment of the travelling and hospitality expenses of Canada's 10 lieutenant-governors

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F.-Winnipeg North Centre), speaking for the C.C.F. Party, reiterated his group's opposition to the proposal. He said if the lieutenant-governors needed more money, their salaries should be increased. The principle of putting the lieutenant-governors in the position of submitting expense accounts was wrong.

Wrong Date on Charge Speeding Dismissed

LINDSAY, May 29 (ENS) — Leonard Sholer of Lindsay pleaded not guilty to a charge of speeding through Omemee on May 11, in police court Wednesday. Chief Stevens of Omemee gave evidence to the effect that he had seen a car registered in Sholer's name travelling at 40 to 50 miles per hour. When queried as to the date, the chief stated that his note book placed that date at Tuesday, May 13 at 7:45 p.m. The summons that Mr. Sholer had was dated May 11. The case was dismissed.

MP's Told RCMP Successful In Fight Against Smuggling

OTTAWA, May 29 (CP).—The Commons, looking into operations of the R.C.M.P. Wednesday, was told the force has been "very successful" in combating smuggling from the United States, including cigarette smuggling.

The statement came from Justice Minister Garson as he piloted R.C.M.P. estimates totalling $33,337,510 through the House. The figure compares with $28,403,783 in the last fiscal year.

Mr. Garson said specially-trained squads of R.C.M.P. have been placed at strategic border points to catch smugglers. R.C.M.P. prosecutions under federal statutes, including smuggling, were up 42.5 per cent. over last year.

J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Toronto Greenwood) asked the minister if he could say that at least half the smugglers had been caught. Mr. Garson replied he could not because there was no way of knowing how many got through. The most any police force could do was to get a "gratifying percentage' of lawbreakers.

Makes Other Points

Justice Minister Garson made these other points with respect to the R.C.M.P.:

1. The force now has 4,213 men in uniform, 371 special constables, 340 civilian personnel and 780 civil servants. It is about eight per cent. under strength, but it is expected that gap will be closed.

2. Great care is exercised in the screening of those who apply for work in the special security branch.

3. The increase in the cost of the growing force is mainly due to additional security work the R.C.M.P. has undertaken because of the international situation.

4. The famed R.C.M.P. musical ride is to be revived, but it is not yet known if the R.C.M.P. band will attend the coronation of Queen Elizabeth in London next year.

The House also went into Privy Council estimates and that brought up the question of payment of travelling and hospitality allowances for Canada's 10 provincial lieutenant-governors. The allowances became effective this year.

Harassed Taxpayer

WINNIPEG —(CP)—The village of Brooklands reduced its tax rate by 13.9 mills this year, but in some cases irate taxpayers found they had to pay as much as 75 per cent more. The confusion arose from a complete reassessment of the village in 1951.

Sturdy Jalopy

GUELPH, Ont. —(CP)—William Scanlon of nearby Rockwood likes driving to town in his 1924-model automobile. He thinks the newer cars haven't anything on the high-topped old Model T and says the high-wheeled car is at its best in deep snow.

DEER ON NO. 7

Morley Suggitt, Colonial Coach Lines driver on the early morning run from Lindsay to Peterborough saw a large doe this morning on No. 7 highway between the cheese factory and the Chemong Road turn. He reports the deer ran across the road in front of the bus and he had to slow down to avoid hitting it.

CONSTABLE LOSES RAINCOAT

While assisting constable Ernest Beatty in locating a missing child Wednesday afternoon, constable Donald Mackay's raincoat slipped out of the strap holding it on the rear of his motorcycle, somewhere in the south end of the city. The missing youngster turned up on Park St., but the raincoat is still missing.

INSTAL SCHOOL FENCE

The property committee of the Board of Education has recommended the installation of a four-foot, chain-link fence along the 50 foot frontage of Grove School on Erskine Ave. School authorities are trying to get the grounds in shape but can't do the job properly because wagons and trucks use the schoolgrounds for a short cut.

Police Recapture Second Prisoner

ALLANDALE, Ont., May 29. (CP)—The second of two prisoners who escaped early Wednesday from a train was captured late in the day 10 miles south of here.

The man, Donald McQuarrie, 30, of Toronto, was found on railway tracks in Innesfil township.

The other prisoner, Fergus Mongraw, 45, of Peterborough, was found in hospital at Barrie where he went for treatment of injuries suffered in making his escape.

The two men were said to have made their getaway by smashing a train window with a coach-seat while the train was in the station here. They were in a group of 14 prisoners being sent to Burwash industrial farm near Sudbury.

School Children Safety Guards Take Over At Network Of Corners At Prince Of Wales

When pupils of Prince of Wales School took over safety patrol duties Wednesday morning at seven intersections where children attending the school have to cross, it marked the third school where the scheme has been started since Easter.

The children selected for safety patrol duty after receiving safety instruction from constable Donald Mackay are taking their duties seriously and doing a good job, constable Mackay said today.

Motorists Better

"Motorists are co-operating better than they did at first," added constable Mackay who is in charge of organizing the safety patrols in schools throughout the city.

Queen Mary was the first public school to be trained, then constable Mackay repeated the process at Sacred Heart School.

However, Prince of Wales with 26 classrooms and more than 900 students has been his biggest job to date.

Children accustomed to crossing the dangerous "Y" intersections at Reid and Park Sts., have been rerouted to cross at safer corners. A total of 52 pupils are on the safety patrol at Prince of Wales, 14 being on duty on two shifts operating each day, with the rest standing by as spares if they are needed.

The police commission has purchased 150 raincoats for the children when they have to stand out in the rain and Wednesday afternoon they had their first chance at Prince of Wales to try them out.

The intersections in the vicinity where the safety patrols are on duty are: Monaghan Rd., and Sherbrooke St.; Monaghan Rd. and Patterson St.; Monaghan and Frank St.; Park and King Sts.; Reid and Dalhousie Sts.; Reid and King Sts.; and Clonsilla Ave. and Sherbrooke St., on the Port Hope Highway.

No Hope Of Lowering Level Of Lakes For Years

High water levels along the shoreline of Lake Ontario cannot be corrected immediately, A. L. Killaly, retired Department of Transport engineer, told the Peterborough branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada Wednesday night. Speaking from a text approved by the Department, Mr. Killaly said that even if the United States Congress approves the St. Lawrence Seaway and puts the international machinery in motion for the starting of the project this year, it will be from six to eight years, or possibly more, before the controlling dam at Iroquois will be completed which will control the water level of Lake Ontario.

"Critics are working overtime blaming the Gut Dam for flooding and damage caused by high water levels on Lake Ontario," said Mr. Killaly but he said removal of the dam would not be a complete solution to the problem as other factors are contributing to the record high levels of the lake.

Blames Three Factors

A veteran of 53 years service with government waterways and canals, the former superintendent of the Trent Canal System here, blamed three factors for the present situation.

(1). The progressive deepening of the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers for interlake travel has meant that large volumes of water drawn from an area of 45,000 square miles flows through Lake Erie and into Ontario.

(2). The Long Lac and Aguasbon diversions, north of Lake Superior, diverting water, which formerly flowed north into Hudson's Bay, south into Superior has raised the level of Lake Superior and increases the run off of the entire system.

(3). Finally, ice stoppage in sub zero weather at the Galoup Rapids, above the Gut Dam builds up a blacklog of discharge which takes months to reduce to its natural level.

"The excess height of Lake Ontario of two feet at the present time will take two years to run off," at the present rate of discharge, Mr. Killaly said.

Others Risen

To back up his thesis, Mr. Killaly referred to graphs showing the water levels of Lakes Huron and Michigan to prove "they have risen almost paralleling Lake Ontario in recent years."

If the St. Lawrence Seaway is started in the near future the situation will be overcome, but he added, if it is deferred some action should be taken to control the level of Lake Ontario.

Tent Caterpillar Steals Show From The Algae

TORONTO, May 29 (Special to Examiner)—The tent caterpillar stole the show from the algae at the annual dinner meeting of the Central Kawartha Cottagers' Association Wednesday night at the Hearthstone restaurant.

It is not that the coyptogamic algae have been backed off the boards permanently from their top-line position as the most pesti ferous of summer pests. Their eclipse is only temporary. Forces must be massed rapidly to check the onslaught of the destroying tree-crawlers. The threat is seasonal and immediate and will have to be met within two or three weeks if it is to be effective. Possible action by municipalities was discussed but the opinion seemed to prevail that the best hope of success is energetic private initiative in threatened local areas. D.D.T. sprays are preferable to burning with its hazard of forest fires, one speaker warned.

Await Inquiry

Interest in the algae nuisance in Kawartha waters has lost nothing in intensity but discussion of practical measures to abate it are likely to be held in abeyance pending the scientific inquiry made possible by a $20,000 governmental allocation. Even Dr. W. J. Harkness chief of the wild life division Department of Lands and Forests, didn't want to talk about algae just now. Comment pending the coming out of the study with federal co-operation would be in the nature of "contempt of court" he observed.

The Central Kawartha Association which was organized in a small way some six years ago now includes members representing Pigeon, Sturgeon, Cameron and Balsam Lakes. Co-operation by the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association is being invited. Representing the latter body at the meeting were Lyman Crawford Brown and Reg. Lockhart. The Central Kawartha group has presented a number of recommendations regarding fish and game and water pollution measures, some of which have been adopted by the government departments.

Chief speaker at the meeting was D. S. Caverly, senior sanitation engineer of the Ontario Department of Health.

"The problem of water pollution" he said "is the direst result of the problem of concentrated urban development and industrial expansion. All used water, and this in the form of sewage or industrial waste must find its way to the watercourses whether dis-

HIGHER AND HIGHER potato prices are soaring daily as shortages in Canada and the United States become more acute. This week prices in Peterborough stores took a nine-cent jump from 89c a 10-pound bag to 98c. Viewing the new high price for old potatoes is clerk Beverley Gould. New potatoes from the United States are selling for 12c a pound. The United States shortage may result in the Canadian market being cut off.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Lindsay Buses May Return

LINDSAY, May 29 (ENS). — Bus service may be returned to Lindsay in November.

According to Russ Gatchell, former manager of Lindsay Lines Ltd., the company may resume service when the cold weather comes. No definite date has been set but Mr. Gatchell states that it is far from being a remote possibility.

Bus service was suspended here on May 10 when the company announced that they had sustained a substantial loss in operations. Many patrons have been complaining about the lack of the buses and before the service was stopped a petition was presented to town council with over 1,800 names on it asking that a subsidy be paid the company to retain the buses. However, the company itself did not request anything from council and nothing was done about it.

Mr. Gatchell states that the lines lost money throughout the fair weather months but paid their way and a trifle more in the cold weather so that the company had considered returning in November should the franchise still be open.

Whether they will be able to come back is indefinite since Mr. Gatchell also hinted that other interests have been inquiring about it. According to him two buses are to be left stored in Lindsay and already he has been approached by two local men to set a purchasing price on them.

Old Potato Prices Jump For Last Time Buyers Hope

Short supply of potatoes in Canada and the United States hit the consumers today where it hurts the most, in the pocket book and on the dinner plate. Peterborough housewives have seen the cost of potatoes climb steadily since last fall. This week prices went up again. Potatoes started the week off at 89c for 10 pounds of old potatoes but today were priced at 98c a bag.

Some stores believe the nine-cent raise will be the last, hoping that new potatoes which have started to come from the United States will relieve the pressure.

American new potatoes were selling in Peterborough downtown stores today at two pounds for 23 cents.

Supply Cut Off

But local wholesalers point to the shortage of potatoes throughout the United States. They warn that this supply will quite likely be cut off for Canada.

A Peterborough wholesaler pointed out that he believed shipments of American potatoes into Canada will be cut off at the end of this month to relieve the shortage in the United States.

"The Canadian price is away over the American. There are no spuds there and I don't think they're going to give them to us despite the extra money," he said.

"We're not happy with the high prices either," continued the dealer.

He pointed out that a shipment of potatoes arrived in Peterborough today, but were costing him $7 for a 75-pound bag.

No Profit

"We can't make a profit there. The best we can do is about 10- to 20-cents a bag. People then expect us to deliver at that rate; we can't be good fellows all the time."

Prince Edward Island potatoes were quoted at $9 a 100-pound bag for either eating or growing. A New Brunswick potato was offered at $5 a 50-pound bag for eating. The regular seed potatoes, No. 1 small, were priced at $5 a 75-pound bag.

Potato prices according to local growers will likely be high in the fall. They explain that many of the seed potatoes arriving lately in Peterborough have been eaten instead of planted.

"I would estimate that out of four carloads of seed potatoes," said a wholesaler, "about three have reached dinner plates."

Taxpayers Start To Pay City's '52 Bills Next Week

One of the few inevitables, the payment of municipal taxes, confronts the property owners of Peterborough next month.

The citizen's settling of accounts with his community for the wide range of services including maintenance of streets and their lighting, protection of life and property through the police and fire departments, ample hospital accommodation, the daily work of the health and parks departments, is arranged in three instalments.

Convenience is further extended by allotting districts on specific days. They are: Centre and South Wards, Thursday, June 5; West and North Wards, June 12; and Ashburnham and Claraday, June 19.

Prompt payment of taxes ensures the soundness of the city's credit. The highest percentage of current taxes paid in the year they were due was in 1946 when the proportion of collection was 97.64 per cent of the total amount due by the taxpayers. Current payment last year was 95.01 per cent of the amount due and payable.

New Property

The city's taxes reflect the increase of new property in these recent years of Peterborough's remarkable expansion.

The total amount of taxes due in 1945 was $873,257, City Treasurer A. S. Couper indicated today, as compared with $2,128,234 in 1951. From somewhat more than three-quarters of a million dollars to nearly two and one-quarter million dollars is a measure of the city's increase in property values during the period of seven years, from 1945 to 1951, inclusive. That is 262 per cent.

Mr. Couper said that many citizens have adopted the practice of making out three cheques for the series of instalments and turning them in at the City Hall with the tax bills.

The cheques are made payable on the due dates. The June dates are shown above. Corresponding dates for August are the 7th, 14th and 21st; and October 2nd, 9th, and 16th.

For example, an Ashburnham property owner would write his first instalment cheque as payable on June 19, and would date the two others for August 21 and October 16, respectively.

Bills Returned

The tax bills are kept at the City Hall and are returned to the taxpayers after the October instalment has been paid.

It is another convenient detail, obviating three trips to the city treasury. Only one call need be made, or the bill and the three cheques may be mailed.

R. L. Dobbin Speaks Waterworks Dinner

R. L. Dobbin, manager of Peterborough Utilities, was one of the speakers at the dinner Wednesday concluding the convention in Montreal of the Canadian section of the American Waterworks Association.

More than 700 members approved during the convention a resolution recommending the adoption of standard specification for fire hydrants identical with today when the automobile in was prompted by factors of joint civil defence. The proposed North American hydrant standard proposes 2½-inch hose couplings and fire hydrant outlets having 7½ threads per inch.

Local AFL Unions May Set Up Labor Council

Formation of a Peterborough Trades and Labor Council (A.F. of L.) was approved Wednesday night by representatives of five city unions. Delegates from half-a-dozen others said they were sure their locals would approve.

Pro-tem president of the council is Glenn Price, representing Local 248, I.T.U., and vice-president is Arnold Campbell of Local 520, Specialist Printers.

All union locals interested have affiliations with the A.F. of L. The Peterborough and District Labor Council already established is a C.C.L. organization affiliated with the C.I.O.

Financial secretary is Cameron Wasson, Local 1655 I.B.E.W., and recording secretary is Henry Nokes Local 519, I.A.F.F. Jack McEwen Local 477, P.P.P.A.U., was appointed Sergeant of Arms.

Most delegates at the meeting, held in Public Library, were to report to their locals on the purpose and plans of the council. All said they expected eventual approval of the council.

Five Endorsers.

The five unions that have endorsed the council are: International Typographical Union, Specialist Printers, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, International Association of Fire Fighters and the Peterborough Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union.

The temporary executive will apply for the council's charter, and make plans for the council's first general meeting, probably to be held in September.

By that time, it is felt, other locals with A.F. of L. affiliations will have endorsed the council. A permanent executive will be chosen at that meeting.

Until the formation of the Peterborough Trades and Labor Council, city locals were affiliated with the Toronto Trades and Labor Council. J. A. Kellythorne, a representative of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, was present to answer questions and suggest methods of getting the new council established.

Ex-Member's Letter Charges Lakefield Board Failed Duty To Staff, Ratepayers

Pinklisting Threat from Teachers' Group Still Hangs Over Board; Rath Scores Indecision, Lack of Action

LAKEFIELD, May 29. (Staff)—Lakefield District High School Board is charged with failure in its duty to the ratepayers and the school staff in a letter which accompanies the resignation from the board of T. E. Rath. Mr. Rath, the member appointed by the Lakefield Public School Board, today sent his resignation to the board with a letter stating his reasons for resigning. He said he feels his resignation is not a "betrayal of confidence."

The resignation arose out of a special meeting of the board on May 20, at which resignations were also received from five teachers and the principal, R. E. Sutton. Resignations of the teachers were accepted and Mr. Sutton's was laid over to the next board meeting.

The Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation had threatened "pinklisting" of the school if the principal's resignation was not accepted.

Less Strong Measure

Pinklisting would consist of advising teachers applying to the board that there were unsatisfactory relations between principal and teachers. It is a less strong measure than the federation's "blacklisting," which has been applied to some Ontario high schools.

Mr. Rath says in the letter that the board's "lack of action and failure to deal with the situation was failing in a duty due the ratepayers and the school staff."

On May 7, he says, a member brought to the attention of the board "the serious situation that existed in teacher-principal relationship . . . A motion was passed by unanimous vote that, in fairness to Mr. Sutton and other members of the staff the board should meet with the staff and their representative from the teachers' federation on Wednesday, May 14, at 8 p.m. relative to grievances in teacher-principal relationship.

Second Motion

"At the same meeting further discussion took place in the presence of the principal and a second motion was passed, not as an amendment to the first motion . . . to the effect that no action should be taken in regard to meeting the teaching staff of the high school. This latter motion was carried by a single vote. In my opinion . . . the first motion still stands but the action required by it has not been carried out."

On more than one occasion, Mr. Rath continues, he told the board that in his opinion evidence concerning the teacher-principal relationship should be brought out. If it were, he felt the situation would be alleviated.

"The board, however, appeared to feel that such an action would weaken the principal's position," the letter reads.

Failing In Duty

"In light of the above I felt I should no longer remain on the board as I felt its lack of action and failure to deal with the situation was failing in a duty due the ratepayers and school staff."

Mr. Rath also says he has felt that board members have not taken sufficient interest in the new high school under construction. He says he has been told the building has been inspected by "one member only and (I) am of the opinion that in fairness to the ratepayers the board should be in close touch with the progress made."

In addition, Mr. Rath referred to the appointment of a board member, Gordon Hunt, to the staff of the high school. Mr. Hunt's resig-

Heads To Plan Joint Program Of School Health

As a preliminary to possible amalgamation of their health services, Dr. R. A. Kelly, medical officer of health, and K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, are to get together and work out a suitable program.

The basis of the program will be the 1948 agreement between the two bodies that was drawn up after much discussion but never signed and put into force. However the health committee of the Board of Education stipulated Wednesday night that because of the increase in school population since 1948 there must be a corresponding increase in nursing service.

In the tentative agreement of 1948 the Board of Health agreed to 10½ days of nursing service in the city public schools. Two full days of nursing service would be spent in P.C.V.S. and eventually P.C.V.S. would have a full time nurse.

Increased One Third

Mr. Wightman estimates that the number of students had increased by about a third.

At a previous meeting of the Board of Health and the health committee of the Board of Education Mayor Hugh Waddell said he hoped to see the per capita costs of health services in Peterborough reduced from $1.90 per capita to $1.40 or $1.43.

Dr. Kelly says that substantial economies can be made by amalgamating the Board of Education's health services with the general services of the Board of Health.

He says that he can maintain an adequate health service by replacing the three Board of Education nurses by one fully-qualified public health nurse. His staff would then include one nursing supervisor and eight public health nurses.

Both Mr. Wightman and W. B. Gordon have expressed doubt that a proper service—though admittedly reduced in scope from the present one—can be maintained.

Dental Work

The 1948 agreement makes no mention of dental services. Presumably these would have to be arranged with Dr. Kelly. Otherwise the Board would have to do its own dental work.

All members of the health committee said they wanted to be "fair" with the three school nurses. There is no immediate plans of dispensing with their services as Dr. Kelly's plan for amalgamation would entail.

Turmoil On Abdication Livens Windsor's Visit

LONDON, May 29 (AP) — The Duke of Windsor, in London for a short visit with his mother, Queen Mary, finds Britain in the midst of a heated revival of the 1936 argument over his abdication as King.

The abdication debate appeared to have no connection with his presence in London. It was touched off by publication of The History of the Times.

Now that the history throws more light on the role it played in the excitements of the abdication, the newspaper is being criticized and defended.

It started Sunday night when Lord Beaverbrook, energetic Canadian proprietor of the Daily Express, accused the late editor of The Times, Geoffrey Dawson, of acting vindictively toward the Duke then King Edward VIII.

Beaverbrook described Dawson in a radio broadcast as a person who terrified the King and had great influence over Stanley Baldwin, the Prime Minister who managed the abdication crisis.

Rush To Support

Dawson died in 1944, but old friends, including another former editor of The Times, Wickham Steed, rushed to his support.

Entering the debate Wednesday was Dr. A. W. F. Blunt, Bishop of Bradford, who in 1936 dragged the abdication question into the open by hinting in a public address that a constitutional crisis confronted the nation. At that time no news of the King's determination to marry the American divorcee, Wallis Warfield Simpson, had appeared in the British press.

"I think that for Lord Beaverbrook to talk in the way he did about a dead man (Dawson) at a time when all this business is dead and gone is quite unpardonable," the 72-year-old bishop said in an address at Bradford.

To reporters, the bishop amplified his views:

"I objected to the way Lord Beaverbrook practically implied that Dawson promoted opposition to the Duke of Windsor—then King of England—by despicable means, suppressing letters and that sort of thing."

AWARDED D.C.M — Sergt. Richard George Buxton, 26, of Melfort, Sask., and Victoria, B.C., was given the immediate award in the field of the Distinguished Conduct Medal for gallantry and leadership with the 1st Battalion of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Korea. Sgt. Buxton refused to be evacuated although he was wounded while commanding an infantry platoon that beat off a "fanatical" Chinese attack on his position last March 26.

TANKER BURNS AFTER COLLISION—The gasoline tanker A. C. Dodge burns in the Delaware River near Port Penn., Del., hours after she was sunk in a collision with the oil tanker Michael. The Michael (not shown) was also burning, but remained afloat. The Coast Guard reported at least one dead and eight missing.

U.S. May Deport Doctor's Fiancee

MALONE, N.Y., May 29 (AP)—Miss Editha M. Dowar, Austrian fiancee of a Polish refugee doctor, faces a hearing today to determine nether she should be deported.

Miss Kowar, 23, waived examination when arraigned Friday on a charge of illegally crossing the border from Canada.

The hearing, a closed session, will be held by an officer of the United States Department of Justice in the Franklin County jail.

Dr. Sigmund Milke, who is accused of helping her enter the United States, was ordered held for federal court action.

Immigration officials said Miss Kowar was found walking along a road near Malone. Milke was arrested at the Trout River immigration office when he inquired about her. The two had met in Europe.

Cure Big Ben's Annual Sniffle

LONDON —(CP)—Experts have cured Big Ben's sniffles.

Every winter the Commonwealth's most famous clock, which has won a hallowed place in the British tradition, used to develop a grating, cough-like sound when chiming in cold weather.

The explanation was that the rubber pad which acts as buffer between Big Ben's bells and its clappers became stiff in cold weather, thus tending to muffle the normal clear chime.

Now Big Ben's annual cough has been cured. The "doctor" in the case was George Hammond, a Ministry of Supply technician whose job is developing special kinds of rubber resistant to any kind of climate.

Ask Dental Board Established In Canada

OTTAWA, May 29—(CP)—The Senate Wednesday sent to the Commons for approval a bill setting up a dental examining board similar to the examining board for medical men.

The bill would make it possible for dentists to take a set of examinations on graduation that could be recognized in all provinces. The provinces retain the right to decide whether they recognize the dental examing board's standard exams.

Ask Detective Resign Post

KITCHENER, May 29—(CP)—Det. Sgt. Harold Winfield, member of the city police department for the last 10 years, will be asked to resign, the Kitchener Police Commission decided Wednesday.

He pleaded innocent Wednesday to charges that his actions likely would bring discredit to the department.

The charges arose following alleged association by Winfield with the late Mrs. Frederick Garoway, 44, of Kitchener, who committed suicide recently.

Frederick Garoway told a hearing that his wife had admitted intimacies with Sgt. Winfield and that the situation led to domestic disputes.

Fasting Preacher 'Prepared To Die'

CHERRYVILLE,, Mo., May 29—(AP)—The fasting preacher of the Ozarks, thin hollow-cheeked and apparently too weak to stand alone, told his wife Wednesday: "If the Lord wants me to die, I'm ready to go."

The Rev. J. J. Ivey, 57, says he hasn't eaetn for 39 days and has sworn to continue the fast until his prayers are answered for a spiritual revival against the world's sinfulness and communism—or until he dies.

Coal Dealers Say Charge Ridiculous

LONDON, Ont., May 29 (CP)—London coal dealers struck back Wednesday at Mines Minister Prudham who Tuesday in Niagara Falls warned the coal industry it must not charge "all the traffic will bear."

"Ridiculous," was the reaction of many dealers.

C. A. Dalton, a dealer, said coal prices in London are 50 cents below last year, and $1.50 below the winter price.

"The minister may have referred to some other parts of Ontario," said Mr. Dalton, "but he certainly wasn't accurate as far as this city is concerned."

Hearings Opened On Water Diversion

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) — A Congressional committee Wednesday opened hearings on bills to permit diversion of 2,000 additional cubic feet of water a second from Lake Michigan through the Chicago drainage canal. Diversion now is limited to 1,500 cubic feet.

Opponents of the bill charged that diversion of additional water would affect shipping on the lakes when they are at a lower level instead of the present high level which is causing heavy property damage.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS — A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, May 29th — Don't let a lovely spring day catch you with the "blues". Chase them away with a glass of sparkling SAL HEPATICA before breakfast. And you'll agree — Sal Hepatica effervescent salts are pleasant to take — gentle as can be. When hubby or son isn't feeling "just right" either, suggest they try Sal Hepatica — it's been a faithful family laxative for over 60 years. Another beauty about Sal Hepatica is that you can use it safely merely as a refresher in the morning — or at night when your system feels the need of a more thorough remedy. So next time you're shopping — ask for a bottle of Sal Hepatica and send the box top or label, with your name and address, to me — Barbara Brent, Dept. M., 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. — and I'll send you a FREE, generous size jar of MUM Cream Deodorant!

If Your Man is like most men I know, he likes — and uses — lots of HEINZ TOMATO KETCHUP. That's why the big 13-ounce bottle of Heinz Ketchup is such a good buy. Just compare it with the 11-ounce bottle of some brands—and see how little extra you pay for Heinz quality. Rich, rosy "Aristocrat" tomatoes, Heinz own vinegar and fragrant spices are just a part of the reason why this ketchup is so good. All these good ingredients are blended as only the Heinz Chef can blend them . . . to make the best ketchup you've ever tasted. Ask your grocer for the 13-ounce bottle of Heinz Tomato Ketchup next time you're shopping—and be sure to keep a "man sized" supply handy.

It's Not Too Late to plan and shop for the prettiest summer wardrobe you've ever had. And, since a LIGHTNING SLIDE FASTENER is the important "finishing touch" that gives all your clothes a smooth, well fitted look—it's nice to know that there's a Lightning Fastener in just the right size for your summer chiffons and silks. That's Lightning Style No. 702—small, fine and wonderfully flexible. Of course you know . . . Lightning Slide Fasteners have the famous, one and only automatic locking device. They lock where they stop — no slipping — no sticking. No wonder the smartest women I know say no costume is complete without a Lightning Slide Fastener.

If Corns Have Got You Feeling Grim . . . Blue-Jay will put you back in trim! That's because the Blue-Jay folks have discovered a new, wonder-working medication for corns and calluses called Phenylium. It took them ten years of scientific research to develop and perfect it. Tests conducted with Phenylium and other regular corn medicants proved conclusively that Phenylium goes to work 33% faster, works 35% more surely than other remedies. Why suffer the aching torments of corns when this new BLUE-JAY ingredient removes corns in 19 out of 20 cases? For prompt relief from painful feet—just ask your druggist for Blue-Jay Corn Plasters with Phenylium.

I'm Sure You'll Agree. Just compare BLUE BONNET MARGARINE, with any spread at any price . . . and I know you'll agree that it's "tops" in flavour, nutrition and economy. I use Blue Bonnet as a spread for bread and in all my cooking. It tastes every bit as good melting hot as fresh from the refrigerator! And the Yellow Quik bag that Blue Bonnet comes in saves me so much time and work. All you do to colour your Blue Bonnet is press the colour button on the bag—knead gently—and in just two minutes Blue Bonnet is golden-yellow —ready to use . . . no messy dishes—no extra work! There's no doubt about it . . . Blue Bonnet gives you a lot for your money. Try it and see!

Birthdays Are Always Great Occasions! Don't you find that everyone, from the very young fry to Grandad, enjoys the celebrations? And oh! that moment when the Birthday Cake comes in, aglow with candles. When it is a Swans Down birthday cake, you know you can relax, for the great moment will be climaxed by that first gorgeous, mouthwatering taste. M-m-m. So tender, moist and delicate. All cakes made with SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR are especially delicious. You see, Swans Down is made for better cake baking. It is sifted again and again, until 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. And you make 6 cakes or more from each package of Swans Down Cake Flour.

Rural Cleric Gives Pep Talk To City Pastors

TORONTO, May 29—A young rural clergyman came down from the country to the big city Wednesday and gave his older urban colleagues a lecture in grassroots religion.

The Rev. Allan Read, a former Toronto resident who is now in charge of Mono East parish near Orangeville, told the Anglican Synod of the Diocese of Toronto meeting in St. James Cathedral that the rural church is the backbone of the world church. And it requires the strongest of clergy.

"If the rural church is to survive," he said, "it must get back to basic things such as the soil, seed and manure. The church must relate its message to the everyday lives of its people."

He recalled that a farmer in his parish had once told him: "The trouble with you clergy is that you don't get your feet into the manure enough."

Mr. Read warned that such an attitude, where once it might have been greeted with raucous laughter, was no longer a humorous matter and should be treated accordingly.

Very Important

"No part of the church," he said, "is more important than the country parishes, we will consequently be closing our city churches."

His argument, he said, was based on the fact that many of his younger churchgoers are moving to the city and forming a strong nucleus for the urban parishes. Thus by making the farmers and rural dwellers staunch members of the church, the city parishes benefitted.

"If we want to find the health of the city churches," he said, "it can be determined by taking the temperature of the country churches."

Mr. Read asserted that it was no longer practical to send a clergyman to the country for experience and then bring him back to a city parish. Or, in the same vein, to put an older man in the country.

"It is a man-sized job in the rural areas," he said. "And our best men are none too good for it. We can't have misfits, for we have a wonderful harvest of splendid people right on our own doorstep in the country. Nor do we care what city folk think of us."

The farmer knows, he said, that unless God blesses the seed, it will not grow. "This might sound strange in the city," he said, "but not to the farmer who never forgets he must depend upon God. He can't farm otherwise."

Synod Decides To Admit Women Delegate

TORONTO, May 29—(CP)—Delegates to the Anglican Centennial Synod of the Toronto Diocese voted Wednesday night to admit women as lay delegates.

The motion was passed 97 to 88. The admission of women delegates was approved by a vote of 125 105 last year, but as a 75-per-c... majority was needed for immediat action, the question was submitted for confirmation this year.

Delegates passed a resolution calling on the provincial government to put into effect the three-fold school system and religious education in secondary schools suggested in the Hope Report on Education.

The provincial government should not hold up implementation of the Hope Report on education because of the "politics" of the Roman Catholic Church, Canon G. Hasted Dowker of Grace Church on-the-Hill told the Synod.

"We want to see the positive values of the report implemented," he said. "The reason they are not being implemented is because the Roman Catholic Church is fundamentally opposed to the majority report. The Roman Catholics vote one way and the government is interested in getting that vote."

The minister took his stand as the synod expressed its deep concern "with the expressed unwillingness of the government to consider the recommendations of the Hope Report with regard to public and secondary school education."

Fear Wrong Impression

The amendment asked that the three-level system request be deleted from the motion on the grounds that it might be misinterpreted as anti-Roman Catholic.

Moreover of the amendment, the Rev. Dr. Derwyn Owen, of Trinity College, said he took exception to this section of the motion, "because it would give the impression we are taking a crack at the Roman Catholic Church."

"It is a pedagogical opinion," he said, "as to whether the three-level system is the best. This is not for us to decide, for if we were implemented it would have the effect of removing two or three grades from the separate schools.

"If we pass this section of the resolution," he continued, "it could only be interpreted as an anti-Roman move."

At this point, Canon Dowker argued that he did not regard such a system as a solution to the whole problem of Christian education. Rather, he contended, the positive values of the report should not be discarded because of the political workings of the Roman Catholic Church.

"We have every desire to be fair to the Roman Catholic Church," he said. "There is much in their setup we admire. But we do object to their political workings and deplore their political determination. In this country we must take a stand against it as it is going forward like a steam-roller.

"We must refuse to be controlled in this country by the Roman Catholic Church. It is a desperate problem to be both Christian and fair in this matter when they take this attitude."

The Rev. G. W. B. Wheeler of St. Simon's Church, Port Union, said the Anglican Church should not be concerned with attacking another communion, but rather with attacking paganism as opposed to Christianity.

"We have got to get the government to put religion into the schools, and we should not be concerned with the type of school system," he said.

The motion was originally introduced by Canon F. H. Wilkinson of St. Paul's Church, Bloor St. E., Toronto. He charged that the section dealing with the school system had nothing whatsoever to do with the Roman Catholic Church.

"I would resent the impilcation", he declared, "that I am anti-Roman for I would gladly sacrifice my life for a Roman Catholic."

Presenting the motion, Canon Wilkinson said that the Anglican Church is asking the government to implement those well-regarded recommendations and not necessarily the whole report.

"The Anglican Church should have far more backbone in this thing, because it concerns the welfare of a great many children in this province, rather than accept the wishes of a minority group," he said. "What happens in Ontario in this regard will determine what will happen in the other provinces. Let those who don't want the three-fold system go their own way."

He argued that about 75 per cent of the population of Ontario is Protestant and the fact that a minority group is against the report should not deter the government from implementing it.

Chancellor Reginald H. Soward, seconder of the motion, said the Hope Report should not be dismissed lightly by Premier Frost.

"We have a right to ask, that in the public and secondary schools, we have some direction over what is to be done. We were told the last time we went to the government that we didn't go often enough. That is what we are going to do from now on.

"We have to make it clear that we do not like what was said in the House about the unwillingness of the legislature to consider the recommendations of the report. We are going to be bold, for we have to hit often and hard and then we shall get results."

Girl Missionary In S. America

ROSENEATH, May 29 (ENS)—"It costs around thirty dollars to get a driver's licence in South America, but it's for life when you get it," wrote Mrs. Bruce Cole, nee Betty Atkinson, in a letter to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Atkinson, R.R. 1, Roseneath.

BRAVERY AWARD—Robert Byron Wardle, 16-year-old lifeguard from Tilley, Alta., near Calgary, has been awarded the first of a series of Mountbatten Medals for his act of bravery in rescuing two-year-old Frances Burchak from drowning in a cistern at Vulcan, Alta., last August 10. The award, presented by Admiral the Earl Mountbatten of Burma, will be made annually on a world-wide basis by the Royal Life Saving Society of England. Robert's act of bravery was judged the most outstanding during the last 12 months.

Mrs. Cole and her husband, with two young sons, left Roseneath early this year as Baptist missionaries to South America. At present they are stationed at San Cristobal, Venezuela.

Continuing her letter Mrs. Cole spoke of the heat there, and the difficultyt of keeping flour or anything made from wheat, free from worms.

She said the rent for the house is equivalent of $150 a month and it is shared by three families. They arent close to a town; a truck has to go to town and bring out groceries for the different families.

Mrs. Cole, prior to her marriage was an active member of Roseneath United Church choir and a regular attendant of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole are graduates of Briercrest Bible Institute, Caronport, Saskatchewan.

Jailed 7 Years For Winnipeg Stabbing

WINNIPEG, May 29 — (CP). — A 29-year-old Winnipeg woman Wednesday was sentenced to seven years in prison when convicted of manslaughter in the fatal stabbing last winter of her common-law husband. The woman, Mrs. Noella Showko, had been tried on a charge of murder. The victim was Percy Beckstead, 49, a Hong Kong war veteran.

Lost Is Found

CONSORT, Alta. (CP)—Mrs. C. E. Gould, who lost her wedding ring on the family's Nova Scotia farm 42 years ago, received word recently that it had been found by an eight-year-old grand-niece, Beverly MacKay.

Silent Treatment Bad For Patient

LONDON —(CP)—The "barrier of silence" between patient and hospital staff was criticized by R. M. Titmuss, professor social administration at London University.

More than anything else, patients came out of hospital complaining that "nobody told me anything, nobody asked me, I did not know what was going to happen."

Professor Titmuss, addressing hospital administrators, said it should be understood that courtesy has a therapeutic value.

"A woman patient told me she was examined in complete silence. In the ward, she found one of the biggest worries was whether or not the patients were to have abdominal operations. She had no direct contact with the doctor. It was the Ward Sister who told the doctor how she felt."

New Approach To Arteries

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) —Science may be approaching a point where hardening of the arteries can be diagnosed by routine blood tests, and where chemicals can be administered for early control of the condition, government scientists reported Wednesday.

Researchers of the U.S. Public Health Service said cautiously that if the preliminary promise holds out, an entirely new principle will have been established for attacking a condition which today is a leading cause of death and disability.

The condition accounts for more than half the 767,000 heart disease deaths occurring in the United States.

A research team of the National Heart Institute, reporting in the technical journal Science, said their work suggested the possibility that an important factor in the cause of hardened arteries may be some chemical defect in the body itself, impairing the system's ability to utilize fats.

Arteriosclerosis, the type of hardened arteries under study, is characterized by a formation of fat beneath the inner sruface of large arteries. Eventually, the inner surface becomes roughened, contributing to the formation of blood clots which in turn can cause blockages in the heart and brain and elesewhere.

Discuss Ways Teach French

QUEBEC, May 29 — (CP) — English and French-speaking Quebec college professors got together today to talk over a difficult question.

How to improve teaching French to English-speaking students, and English to French-speaking students.

This and the problem of history teaching were discussed at the final setting here of the Humanities Research Council of Canada. The Rev. John Devine, Professor at Montreal, Loyola College, said teachers of the French language in the province's English-langauge schools have a unique advantage because Quebec is predominantly French.

The Rev. Adrien Bernier, Professor at Ste. Anne De La Pocatiere College, said much criticism has been levelled at Quebec's Colleges and Seminaries for the manner in which English is taught.

But, he asked, can it be expected that all graduates will leave college "speaking English fluently?"

Father Bernier said perhaps that was a goal to aim at but in any case French students were getting enough English instruction to read, write and converse a little in English.

AGNES MARY CROUGH

A nurse graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital, Agnes Mary Crough, 31, died suddenly of a heart attack in Niagara Falls, Ont., on Wednesday.

Miss Crough had resided in Niagara Falls during the last two years, and previously had lived in Peterborough. The home of her family is in Emily township. She was a daughter of Frank Crough and his wife, Clara Louise Hickey, Omemee, R.R. 1.

Miss Crough leaves her parents, three brothers, Emmett and William of Peterborough, Morgan of Emily township, her sisters, Mrs. Gordon Orcutt (Florence) of Niagara Falls, Ont., Miss Frances Crough of Chatham, Miss Geraldine Crough of Toronto and Marlene of Peterborough. She was a member of St. Patrick's Church, Niagara Falls.

The funeral will be Saturday at 10 a.m. from the home of her parents, Omemee, R.R. 1, to St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, and thence to St. Martin's cemetery.

JAMES FRENCH

A resident of Peterborough for the past 42 years, James French, 613 Ludgate St., died suddenly Wednesday at his residence in his 53rd year. He was born in Leeds, Yorkshire, England, the son of the late John L. French and Clara Waterworth.

For a number of years, Mr. French was employed at the Canadian General Electric Company, retiring 10 years ago. He was a member of Murray St. Baptist church.

Mr. French enlisted with the 93rd Battalion in the First World War, serving for a time while in Canada with the bugle band Later he saw action overseas and was injured. He served with the reserve army units after the war and was a member of the sergeants' mess.

Surviving him are his wife, the former Helen Grace Mann; a son, Sgt. Sherman French, Picton; three daughters, Mrs. George Cheel (Florence), Mrs. Wilbert Cross (Phyllis) and Miss Ruby French, all of Peterborough; a brother, Alwyn, London, Ont.

The Rev. Ivan C. Morgan, Murray St. Baptist church will officiate at the funeral in Belleghem's funeral home Saturday at 1:30 p.m. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. ADELAIDE RYLOTT

HAVELOCK, May 29—(ENS)—A lifelong resident of Havelock and Belmont township, Mrs. Adelaide Rylott died Wednesday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Pollock, Havelock.

She was 68, and had been in ill health for some time.

Her husband, the late Mercena Rylott, died six years ago.

Mrs. Rylott was a member of Belmont Women's Institute and also took an active part in church activities as a member of Victoria United Church.

She is survived by two sons, William Rylott, of Marmora, and Donald, of Smiths Falls; three sisters, Mrs. Walter Hermiston (Etta), of Brooks, Alberta, Mrs. Charles Jones (Mary), Mrs. Harry Pollock (Elva) and Mrs. Ray Scott (Merle), all of Havelock, and two grandchildren. Two daughters predeceased Mrs. Rylott several years ago.

She was born in Belmont township, where she was educated, and was the daughter of the late James Covert and Elizabeth Rowe.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. from the residence of her sister, Mrs. Pollock. The Rev. R. G. Newman, of Havelock United Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Victoria cemetery.

Visitor Impressed By Show Of Flowers

So impressed was Professor F. A. Montgomery of O.A.C. by Peterborough's spring flowers and their color, that he complimented the city and its people at the Horticultural Society meeting during his visit here.

"In coming to Peterborough today I have had ample time to get around and see your city.

In no other city or town have I seen such an imposing array of spring flowers, I feel that the leadership and influence of your society is largely responsible for the magnificent display I have seen here, and especially your manufacturing areas of which I have heard so much."

Prof. Montgomery is with the department of botany at O.A.C.

First Union Ball To Entertain 600

The first Union Ball of the CIO-CCL affiliated unions is the big dancing event of this week, at the Club Aragon on Friday evening. Tickets for 300 couples have been distributed among the union workers of Quaker Oats Company, Canada Packers, Outboard Marine production and office workers, CGE office, Westclox, Timber Structures, Peterborough Lumber Company, Civic Workers, Textile Workers, Dairy Workers and Railroad Workers.

Prominent figures who have been specially invited include Mayor Hugh Waddell, Senator J. J. Duffus, the Hon. Harold R. Scott MPP, Mr. Gordon K. Fraser MP all of Peterborough, with their wives; Mr. Aaron Mosher and Mr. MacDonald, of Ottawa, president and secretary treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labour, and the Canadian directors of all the affiliated Unions, and from Washington, DC, Mr. Carey, president of IUE-CIO, and secretary-treasurer of CIO, and Mr. Al Hartnett, secretary-treasurer of IUE. Rank and file guests from Cobourg, Lindsay and Toronto are also expected.

The program is to include an opening Grand March, and there will be numerous novelty dances for which there are prizes. Bar facilities will be available and lunch is to served.

Plans are to make this Ball annual.

Conference Report Heard At Y.W. Bd. Meeting

Annual open meeting of the Y.W.C.A. Board of Directors was held Wednesday evening with the organizations within the Y well represented, President Mrs. H. T. Rehill presided.

Reports of board convgners were followed by a report of the Teen-Y Conference in St. Catharines in April by one of the delegates, Miss Sally Poole, and a report of the regional Y.W.C.A. conference in Peterborough in March by Miss Hazel Wilson. The latter was a summary of the findings of committees on the theme "Policy, Program and Peace".

The resignation of Miss Gwen Reed as Y.W. dietitian was accepted with regret.

Special attention was drawn to the coming gym pageant and ballet at Brock Ballroom, June 5 and 6, which is to be followed on Friday evening, June 6th, by a public reception at the Y for Miss Caroline Littlefield who retires from the Y.W.C.A. staff at the end of June.

A summer camp for girls will be open at Camp Kawartha, Clear Lake, August 10 to 20 this year, it was announced.

At conclusion of the meeting some attendants indulged in folk dancing in the recreation room and all enjoyed coffee in the Green Room.

IRISH OYSTERS

NEWPORT, Ireland — (CP)— Tests are being carried out in Clew Bay off County Mayor which may lead to a revival of the Irish oyster industry. French oysters are being flown here to the coastal beds which provided a valuable export until about 40 years ago

Proud Of Mothers Y Club Girls Give Joint Tea

"Because we are proud of our mothers we honor them at this tea" said Miss Lois Bearne, president of the Friday Night Supper Club, as she welcomed guests to the annual Mother and Daughter Tea in the Y.W.C.A. Green Room Wednesday afternoon, and she then introduced her mother, Mrs. Leonard H. Bearne who was presiding at the tea table. Thanks to the mothers for packing lunches and other assistance during the year was nicely expressed.

The mothers and daughters made interesting combinations of likenesses as they assembled. Other guests present included past president of the club Miss Betty Scollard, club adviser Mrs. Thomas Cook and members of the Y staff. Program director Miss Marion Foster received with Miss Bearne.

Miss Sally Poole who will be the president in the coming year was also introduced. As convener of this tea she thereupon publicly expressed thanks to her assistants and to Y Board president Mrs. H. T. Rehill who was also pouring tea.

The table was very attractive with a novel arrangement of colorful tulips in the centre and bouquets and flowered trellises decorated the room.

Piano selection by Misses Janet Estlick and Margaret Martyn entertained during the tea hours.

Serving were Misses Jo Anne Watson, Beth Davidson, Evelyn Doherty, Nancy Rowell, Barbara Clarke, JoAnne Curtis and Beth Powell.

The decorators were Misses Barbara Stewart, Beverley Taylor, Ileen Armstrong and Roselyn Stevenson.

This club's activities will be concluded for the season with the meeting this Friday evening which is to be a weiner roast.

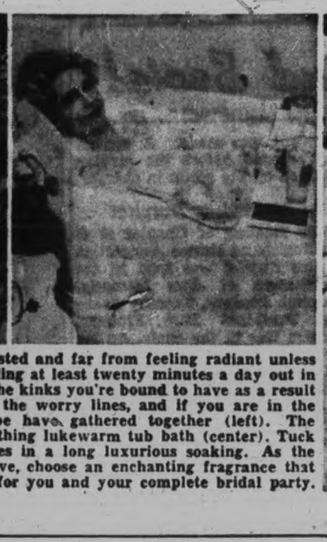
Beauty Demands Relaxation Plan Pre-Wedding Days



Busy pre-wedding plans will leave you completely exhausted and far from feeling radiant unless you allow time for relaxation. Get into the habit of spending at least twenty minutes a day out in the sunshine. Prop your feet up high to rid your legs of the kinks you're bound to have as a result of shopping and fittings. Listen to soft music to ease out the worry lines, and if you are in the mood study the travel folders you and your husband-to-be have gathered together (left). The surest way to relax is among the soap bubbles in a soothing lukewarm tub bath (center). Tuck a folded bath towel under your curls and wiggle your toes in a long luxurious soaking. As the final glamorizing touch when the "big" moment does arrive, choose an enchanting fragrance that will further help to insure a perfect wedding day (right) for you and your complete bridal party.

Every girl wants to be a beautiful bride—and certainly you are no exception. Yet, as the days fly by, the pressure of plans seems to be wearing you out. You're probably wondering how you will ever have the strength, no less the glamor, to walk down the aisle.

If it's any consolation, there's hardly a bride who hasn't experienced the same kind of exhaustion. But the smart girls do something about it, before it is too late.

What you must do, if you are to keep yourself feeling and looking lovely, is relax. This may seem impossible, at first, but with a little persistence on your part, it can be accomplished.

Try to get all your shopping and fitting done in the morning before the crowds get started. As soon as you arrive home, fix yourself a lukewarm bubble bath Tuck a folded bath towel under your curls and just lean back and enjoy the foaming bubbles.

Line up your favorite cosmetics, cologne and a tall glass of ice water on the bath tub tray Close your eyes and dream. (You shouldn't have any trouble on that score.) Stay put for 30 minutes, and you will find the frantic tension is eased. What's more, you will actually feel wonderfully glamorous.

Once you are dried and dressed, allow another hour or so to take care of any pressing problems. This is a good time to clear up telephone calls and note writing.

As soon as that tired feeling starts to take hold again, interrupt your chores with a session out in the sun. Set up a yard chair, and prop your feet up to ease the kinks. Bring your portable radio outside, too. Music definitely soothes the tired bride-to-be. This might also be a good opportunity for you to review travel folders. You never can give too much thought to that honeymoon trip.

While you are relaxing, decide how you will wear your hair and the type of make-up you think would be best. Naturally, the bridal veiling will influence your hair decision, but it generally is wise not to make too drastic a change. Your groom wants to see you as he knows you best.

Perfume will play an important part in your wedding wardrobe. Choose the fragrance with great care. Look for a scent that is as permanent and unforgettable as the most precious moment in your life. One special fragrance, delightfully scented and long-lasting, seems to be a particular bridal favorite. It has captured the romantic aura that should surround every bride.

Even during your pre-wedding days fragrance preparations can help you to relax. Sprinkle some sachet or perfume on your pillow at night. Falling asleep will be a lot easier and pleasanter.

Carry a perfume vial in your handbag, and in the midst of shopping, when you are feeling especially tired, take a minute to refresh your fragrance. These are small things, but they will help you to get through the hectic days ahead.

XI IOTA CHAPTER

The regular meeting of the Xi Iota Chapter (Exemplar) Beta Sigma Phi was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ray Kearns, Kenneth Ave. Mrs. Don Anderson presided in the absence of Miss Jean Cox, the new president, who is being married in June.

Various reports on the activities of the Chapter were read and final plans for a dinner-picnic were made. This is to be held June 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Matthews, Chemong Lake. Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Q. Dantzer were appointed conveners and invitations to the respective husbands and male friends are being made by Mrs. H. Redmond on Bet Sigma Phi souvenir memo pads.

Following a short social period which included refreshments under the convenership of Mrs. R. Kearns and Mrs. Maurice Holt, Mrs. J. E. Brown presented her assignment of the evening which was indeed most interesting. Her subject "The World of Words."

Of Interest to Women

"Words can work wonders that benefit all mankind; they can create untold wickedness; they can be "wild and whirling", clear and shining, or flat and dull. Words are our obedient servants to be used as we will. "The time we live in is referred to as the Atomic Age, but we who live in it can rightly call it the Verbal Age. Few of us can escape the ever-increasing stream of spoken and written words pouring from our radios, books, newspapers, correspondence and public platforms. We are so immersed in words that often we feel like the drowning man going down for the third time —we feel as if we were sinking in a whirlpool of words."

Mrs. Brown continued: "Why do we talk or write? The purposes are many. We wish to describe objects and events, to express moods, to persuade, to please, to exhort, to explain, to make small talk, and often to lessen loneliness. And over all these lies the main reason for all our talking and writing—to transmit the ideas from our own minds to the minds of others. Communication is the vital chain between ourselves and our neighbours, our business associates, the people living in the next town, the next province, the next country and on the other side of the world. Words, spoken and written, are the golden links in that chain."

"We can think of the world of words as a great and glorious garden. Like flowers, words have scent and texture and beauty. Like trees, they have strength, and grandeur and vitality. We are the gardeners, responsible for their cultivation and their fairest blooming, their arrangement and their disposition. Ours will be the harvest. Words give us beauty and sustenance and self-expression; expressions of love and feelins of duty. They enable us to convey to others the philosophy by which we would influence them," concluded Mrs. Brown.

ROYAL ASSISTANCE

OSLO (CP)— The Norwegian Royal Family donated 5,000 kroner, equivalent to about $750, to the relief fund for widows and children of 79 seal hunters believed to have perished in Greenland waters. The nation-wide collection was approaching 700,000 kroner.

Equal Pay, Not Gallantry Will Win Emancipation

LONDON—(CP)—If women ever expect to win their economic emancipation they should consider acquiring the fighting spirit of the suffragette of former days, become hard-boiled agitators and get real tough.

That, at least, is the advice of Minister of National Insurance in the Attlee Socialist government.

Her call to militant action was delivered to 1,500 women meeting in London in support of a new campaign for equal pay, in the name of social justice. Men, she said, could never be expected to approach the problem with an open mind.

"Most men are irrational and prejudiced creatures where women are concerned," Dr. Summerskill said to a chorus of "hear, hear", and a roar of applause. "The proof of men's irrationality is that most men chose the mothers of their children for the shape of their nose and not the quality of their brains."

Warming up to her subject the doctor continued: "Would men do a full-time job if they had to go home and cook the meals, clean the house and do the washing?

"We are only asking for that which any male trade unionist regards as his right. So don't sit back but get into your organization and work and fight."

She invoked her listeners to forget all about inhibitions, shyness, and the idea they might get things done by asking for them nicely. History had proved that the lady-like suffragette got nowhere.

"Our granddaughters will view this meeting in the same light as we viewed the suffragette," Dr. Summerskill said. "As long as you sit back men will be prepared to be gallant. But it is not gallantry we want. It is equal pay."

Housing Project Serves Dual Purpose

MACDONALD, Man., —(CP) — R.C.A.F. crews from No. 2 construction maintenance unit are busy here correcting an expensive lesson learned in the Second World War.

$1,000,000 housing project being built is almost as mobile as the station's aircraft yet will be permanent living quarters as long as there's a need for them.

One- and two-apartment buildings, made of prefabricated steel can be erected in one day. Sqdn. Ldr. W. Riddell, officer in charge of the project, calls them "giant Meccano sets."

The buildings can be converted into barrack blocks and can be knocked down and carted to new sites. This is an asset in wartime when defence centres can spring up almost overnight.

Even beams, made of pre-cast concrete, can be used again in setting the buildings up in a new district.

Apartments in the 100 units when completed will contain up to six bedrooms, depending on size of family. All useless corners have been eliminated and soundproof walls will separate each unit.

The housing project is part of a $10,000,000 building program to be done by the R.C.A.F. this year. Families are expected to be able to move into their new quarters by fall.

The devotions were in charge of Mrs. Archie Clysdale's group. Scripture was read by Mrs. Jack Telford and prayer offered by Mrs. William Scott. The hymn closing this period was "What a friend we have in Jesus." President Mrs. Ray Parnell discussed business details concerning a picnic for mothers and children at Nicholls Oval on June 16th. Lunch was served at the close by Mrs. Telford and committee.

Flowers Perfume Tea Room At St. Alban's

A perfumed tea room greeted the guests of the Afternoon Guild at St. Alban's Mission Wednesday afternoon. It was from a profusion of the lovely spring flowers, purple and white stocks, white and dark purple lilacs, lily of the valley and forget-me-nots, which decorated the entire hall.

After visiting the bazaar and home cooking tables and the fish pond, the visitors were seated at small tables where they were served a delicious lunch of salad rolls and garnishes, small cakes and tea.

The tea room was in charge of Mrs. J. Jardine with Mrs. A. Davies and Mrs. T. Allcott assisting to serve. The plates were prepared in the kitchen by Mrs. W. Bannon, Mrs. E. Titton and Mrs. F. Stephenson.

Interesting feature of this event was the door prizes which were drawn for by the president Mrs. W. Thompson. Winner of the satin cushion was Mrs. J. Croll of 222 McGill St., and Mrs. R. McLearn of 456 Hamilton St. won the cake. A third prize has not been claimed but can be obtained from the president by the holder of ticket 81.

Attendants at the bazaar table were Mrs. Cyril Barnes and Mrs. K. Johnston and Mrs. J. McCormick and Mrs. W. Simmons were selling the baked goods. Mrs. F. M. Millard and Mrs. H. Joiner were in charge of the fish pond.

Mrs. R. Pearson took tickets at the door where the president was on hand to extend a welcome.

'52 Y.W. Pageant Probably The Last 300 In Costume

Fantastic it is! We mean the "Fantastic Toy Shop Ballet" which will entertain at two night performances, June 5th and 6th in the Brock Ballroom, in conjunction with a pageant of Y.W.C.A. gymnasium work.

The important thing about this fantasy is that it is quite probably the last of its type to be presented in Peterborough, though it has been an annual spring event for the past 31 years. Miss Caroline Littlefield, the originator, the choreographer, the costume designer, is retiring from the Y staff.

Three hundred and more will be in costume for this production—the largest number ever. Sewing, fitting and alteration of the costumes will be completed today and long-suffering volunteer workers on this mammoth job will enjoy a breather until the "big night" when many of them will be on hand again to help the children dress.

There will be 50 little Victorian dolls in prettiest frilly dresses in the pastel shades—blue, pink, yellow, mauve, green and cerise—with long white frilly pantalettes, poke bonnets to match their dresses, and each carrying an old-fashioned bouquet. Thirty tiny tots will be "toy poodles" and the thing to look for when they appear is the curly tail and the white fur ears. Thirty more small children will be "cuddly dolls" in frilly pink frocks and large pink hats.

Sailor dolls will dance the "Hornpipe" in pleated sailor dresses trimmed with delph blue and "gob" hats, and then will come Mexican dolls in short full-circle skirts, waving their bright red hats. Fifty more children from the tiny tots gym class will be "drummers" in red, white and blue soldier suits and red hats, each with a tiny drum slung from the shoulder.

The senior ballet, now an accomplished group that is a delight to watch, will make two appearances, first as Oriental dolls in full Turkish trousers painted boleros and hats with veils, and then as ballerinas in long blue gowns.

Story of this ballet is centred on an "old toy maker" gloating over the dolls and toys hoarded in his shop. His "princess' doll is Erline Belenger and his "prince" doll Diane Zakos, a clever dancing twosome trained since babyhood by Miss Littlefield.

Part one of the program presents the gym routines. This year there is also a demonstration or archery by a men's and women's club of the Y.W.C.A. An evening gym class that has specialized in the popular square dance finds its way into the ballet story in the guise of "farm boys and girls".

Miss Littlefield enjoys the co-operation of a wide circle outside the members of her classes and their parents which includes the Lion's Club's assistance as ushers on production nights, and women from nearly every church group in the city to sew.

Her chief helpers are Mrs. W. J. Hardill and Mrs. W. G. Ovens, joint conveners of the costuming, with Mrs. Paul Irwin and Mrs. Jack Lewis as cutting conveners and Mrs. Harry Northdrop and Mrs. Louis Yeotes, sewing conveners. Publicity is in charge of Mrs. Adam Sands and Mrs. W. L. Hardwicke, decorations by Mrs. R. B. Arnold and Mrs. Ivison Walker. Ticket conveners are Mrs. W. J. Hardill and Mrs. W. A. Richardson. In charge of the leaders list at performances will be Mrs. I. Moldaver and Mrs. C. B. Neal.

MODERN FABRICS make the task of keeping cool and clean on wilting summer days a simple job. Gibson Girl (left) wears shantung-type orlon separates. Blouse has non-seamed, free action sleeves. Separates with costume look (centre) are in linen-like orlon-and-nylon, can be worn from early to late summer. This one-piece dress (right) in orlon-and-nylon looks like linen, has removable white collar and cuffs. All three wash easily, need no ironing and will pack without mussing.

Miracle Fabrics Maintain Wardrobe In Summer's Heat

In the often wilting heat of summer, wardrobe emergencies are frequent. The dress that promised two wearings collapses after one; the laundry fails to come back on time; an unexpected invitation finds everything either on its way to or in the soapsuds.

To fill these wardrobe gaps, then, come the miracle fabrics that are wrinkle-resistant, that launder in a matter of minutes and never need ironing. They are so developed that they are first cousins, in appearance, to the most popular summer fabrics.

The orlon, nylon, or orlon-and-nylon combinations have been cut by top designers into suits and dresses to fit every way of life. They take a minimum of time for upkeep, stay crisp and fresh on the hottest days.

For the summer traveler, these fabrics are indispensable. They mean that she may pack very few clothes and yet be well dressed. They mean that, when she's stranded in a spot where laundry facilities are slow, she can take care of her own clothes without need for an iron.

And for every woman who struggles daily with the high cost of living, such fabrics mean everything. Less in the way of outlay for a summer wardrobe, less expense in upkeep, more service, less fuss and bother. They're fabrics meant specifically to take some of the hard work out of the life of the average woman.

DOROTHY DIX

Most Boasters Insecure But Not Really Malicious

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I will be grateful if you can help me. I am 25, engaged to a man 26. When I first knew him, I believed I loved him; now I'm not so sure. He told me he had money to give me a good home and was working at a good job. I had complete confidence in him and believed every word. He told me these things when I first knew him— before he was sure of me. Now, when I know him better, I find out he doesn't have any money, and isn't working at the job he claimed he was. He has no family, so there's no background for me to use as a gauge of his stability. He has bought me a beautiful engagement ring, and has given me nice gifts, so I'm sure he means well, but I can't understand these early untruths.

He is at present earning a good living, but his job is not as exalted a one as I was led to believe. Am I right in believing that my confidence has been betrayed?

MONA F. S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Very, very few people are completely honest, and in evaluating the seriousness of most untruths, we must search closely for the reason behind them. The range of lies runs from the small, white fib to dark treachery, and most folks are guilty, at least occasionally, of evading the truth in one degree or another between the two extremes. Of course, there is no moral or ethical condonation for any form of lying, but since it is one of the most commonplace of human weaknesses, we cannot tar all fibbers with the pitch of social ostracism.

He Needs Sympathy

Bragging is a form of deception that yields very easily to analysis. It is significant evidence of a need for understanding, sympathy or love. Lacking these essentials to a balanced emotional life, a person soon finds that a little boasting or bragging produces the desired response in another, and proceeds to work the weapon to death.

Your fiance was brought up without family ties, and never had the love and security that comes from a happy home life. When he met you and realized that you held the key to his future happiness, he was naturally bound to get and keep you by any means available. Can you judge him too harshly for this very human desire? Now, since he is sure of you, the necessity for deception has passed, and the truth has been laid at your feet. Probably the only standard by which your fiance has been able to judge his fellow men is financial; consequently it became so important to him that he built himself up as a material success in your eyes.

Marrying a man who has never known the warmth of a family produces many complications for a girl. She must teach him what most people have already learned —how to create a home, with all its component and complex relationships.

If you love your fiance enough to understand the reasons behind his aparently infantile bragging, to make allowances for his ignorance of daily, family living, you will doubtless reap a rich reward in his appreciative response. You, and you alone, can be the judge of that problem.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a very lonely girl of 13. My friends say I'm attractive and, while I have some boy friends, I have no girl chum. When I see girls going for walks on Sunday, I feel very lonely, since I'm left at home. How can I find a girl friend?

RHODA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: As you requested, I omitted part of your letter, from which I gather that you are very particular about the kind of friends you choose. Such discernment is praiseworthy indeed, but it is bound to limit your friendships. You will find, however, that when you do make friends, they are of above average character, and will remain loyal and true long after more casually acquired pals would forget you.

Remain true to your ideals, even though it means occasional loneliness for you.

Are you sure you have no traits that would tend to make you unpopular with girls? Do you brag of your boy friends, put too much stress on your own attractiveness, neglect to defer to the opinion of others? Any of these faults will keep friends away from you; remember, the kind of people you want to attract will be just as discriminating about the company they keep as you are.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have two boys, 6, and 2½. We would like very much to have a little girl, as we feel she would make our family circle complete. Another child of our own might be a boy, so we wonder if we could adopt a little girl about 4 or 5 years old. Do you think an agency would give us a child under these circumstances.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Yours is the most fantastically ridiculous proposition I've encountered in a long time. Since you are capable of having children of your own, thank God for the privilege and take them as they come. There is nothing unbalanced in an all-boy or an all-girl family. Either one is fine, as thousands of parents whose children are all of one sex would be happy to affirm.

There aren't enough adoptive children to go around now and it would be most unfair of you to deprive a childless couple of a youngster they need much more than you do.

I doubt very much if a reputable agency would give you a girl under these circumstances. For one thing, your attitude in the matter shows a mental quirk that would be an immediate stumbling block to an adoption.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Rhubarb Canned Tender Makes Delicious Preserve

You will see, when you read Dorothy R's letter below, that rhubarb has to have some attention in this column. And—while I was in Regina, my flier-friend's mother gave me her foolproof method of canning the most delectable rhubarb juice—perfect for a first course for breakfast or a summer thirst quencher.

"Dear Mary: Your receipts and hints on all kinds of cooking are so helpful. I have a problem. This is the way I do my rhubarb. I cut the washed rhubarb and pack into jars and sprinkle sugar through rhubarb. Cover jars (not too tightly), and process in hot water. I have lost my receipt for this so don't know how much sugar and how long to process . . . Also, do you happen to have receipt for something which has a cake-like top and cocoanut bottom? Dorothy R."

Canned Rhubarb

(For rhubarb canned as Dorothy R. does it, ½ to ¾ cup sugar could be sprinkled in the jars as the rhubarb is packed in). However, this is my method. Wash rhubarb very well, do not peel. Cut into 1-inch lengths. Pack in sterile jars. Fill jars to overflowing with a syrup of 1 cup sugar to each 3 or 4 cups water previously brought to boiling and pour over the rhubarb while boiling. Be sure the juice fills all the spaces. Put on sterile rubbers, tops and rings and seal to within a quarter turn of tight. Process in hot water bath for 15 minutes. (This may be processed in oven on pan containing boiling water, for 20 minutes at 350 deg. Fahr.—but be careful to keep the oven-processed jars away from a draught when they are removed as they crack easily, while they are so hot.) Tighten seal at once, invert to cool.

Flier's Mother's Rhubarb Juice
(Canned)

Six lbs. of rosy young rhubarb are washed well and cut into 3 or 4-inch pieces, but not peeled. Add 3 quarts of water to it, and boil until nothing but sinews show—about ½ hour. Strain through a jelly bag. To each 12 cups juice add 1 cup sugar. Bring this to a rolling boil. Pour into sterile jars and seal with sterile rubbers and tops and rings. Mrs. B. says this tastes like fresh juice and is delicious to open as a breakfast juice in mid-winter."

The next little item was sent to me by Margaret J. of Highgate and I can vouch for it for I used the same method myself for years. It retains that much-coveted fresh flavor.

Margaret J's Unprocessed Rhubarb

"Now that rhubarb is plentiful, here is a way that keeps it fresh, for any use for years:

"Wash stalks but do not peel. Cut as for pies. Pack in scalded sterile jars. With a scalded wooden pestle or similar tool, crush rhubarb in jar, making a solid pack, as you fill the jar, with juice rising to the top. When jar is full and juice is running over, seal with hot sterilized rubbers, glass tops and zinc rings. Roll jar in newspaper and put on dark shelves. This is fresh and good as if from garden.

"If canned rhubarb gets used too quickly, fresh growth may be packed any time during summer and fall, especially after a rainstorm. It is nice to have fresh rhubarb all year and this way is speedy and saves a lot which would otherwise go to waste during spring and summer. XN."

Thank you XN and Margaret for reminding me of this. I will send Dorothy R her layered-cake-and-cocoanut recipe when I get home next week.

What's Right?

A wife and husband are having trouble and the wife is worried and upset.

WRONG: She talks over her problems with her women friends.

RIGHT: She doesn't discuss such personal matters with outsiders.

6—In Memoriam

CROWE—In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. Lavina Crowe, who passed away May 29th, 1951.
When days are dark, and friends are few,
Dear mother, how we think of you.
Friends are friends, if they are true,
We lost our best friend, when we lost you.
—Ever remembered by Myrtle and Ernie, and family.

CROWE—In loving memory of John Crowe, who passed away, May 29, 1931.
Time may heal the broken hearted,
Time may make the wound less sore
But it cannot still the longing
For the loved one gone before.
—Always remembered by his wife.

ELLIOTT—In loving memory of Mrs. Joseph Elliott, who passed away May 29th, 1947.
While you, dear mother, rest and sleep,
Your loving memory we'll always keep.
—Ever remembered by daughter Anne, son-in-law Clinton and family.

Gregg Asks Employers Assist Reserve Forces

TORONTO, May 29 — (CP) — Labor Minister Gregg Wednesday asked employers to assist in building up the Reserved Armed Forces.

Addressing the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, he said "it is within your power to adopt personnel policies which will facilitate the development of the Reserve Forces by encouraging to join and participate fully in the necessary courses of training.

"I am thinking particularly of summer camp training and of the way in which an employer's policy towards leave of absence and pay for the period of such training can influence a man's willingness to take part."

Mr. Gregg also asked the manufacturers to take steps to reduce seasonal unemployment.

Hudson's Bay Hdqts. To Stay In Great Britain

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, May 29—(CP)—Sir Patrick Ashley Cooper, governor of Hudson's Bay Company, reiterated today that the company is going to keep its headquarters in Britain, despite suggestions that it would be more profitable from a tax standpoint to move to Canada.

"To transfer the company to Canada," Sir Patrick told the annual meeting of shareholders, "would endanger our operations there which are conducted under our charter, so zealously preserved for centuries.

"It is inconceivable to your board that the proprietors would wish to take such a step, which could seriously impair one of their most valuable assets."

The question of domicile was one of the most lively points raised at the meeting, regarded as a possible cockpit for an expression of conflict between the board and its shareholders.

Poses Questions

Canadian shareholder Max Bell, of Calgary, one of four speakers from the floor, did not go into the question of domicile but posed a series of questions concerning the Hudson's Bay Company's revised agreement with the Continental Oil Company, a United States company.

Among other things, Bell pressed for details as to increased rentals and royalties obtained under the agreement. Replying, Sir Patrick said he wasnt sure such details could be disclosed because the Continental Oil Company is the senior partner.

Bell later said privately he considers the governor's replies to be "non-specific." He indicated he believes the company has a duty to disclose its assets under the agreement with the U.S. firm.

In reply to questions from Bell about arrangements to facilitate share-transfers among resident Canadians, Sir Patrick told the meeting the board is studying methods "that we hope will appeal to our new Canadian shareholders."

THE PETERBOROUGH DISTRICT Women's Institute is holding its annual meeting in Norwood town hall today. Fingerprints Identify Youth Jailed 15 Months

Fingerprints found on pieces of broken window glass by identification Sgt. William Aggas led to the arrest of Gerard Clancy, 24, on a charge of breaking and entering a George St. garage on the early morning of May 3.

Today in police court, Clancy pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 15 months in reformatory by Magistrate W. R. Philp.

The fingerprints were found on pieces of glass, from a window on the north side of Cliff Towle's garage where the first of two attempts to enter the office was made.

Later, entry was gained by another window and $44 in cash was taken from the office cash register.

Clancy, whose record includes convictions for shopbreaking, receiving stolen goods, assault occasioning bodily harm and a series of minor offences was picked up on a warrant by Toronto police May 21.

Last Friday, Clancy elected summary trial on the charge and was remanded until today on $2,000 bail.

R.C.M.P. Check

Identification of fingerprints has to be corroborated and in accordance with the practice of other city police departments where only one man is engaged in fingerprint work, Sergeant Aggas sent the negatives to R.C.M.P. headquarters in Ottawa.

Today, a telegram was received from the R.C.M.P. stating that the fingerprints were Clancy's.

By pleading guilty, Clancy saved the crown the trouble of bringing an R.C.M.P. officer down from Ottawa to testify as to the identity of the fingerprints to confirm Sgt. Aggas' findings.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said Clancy was asking for a definite term so he could take advantage of one of the trade courses offered in reformatory.

Samuel V. Mills Funeral Friday

Samuel Victory Mills, 54, head of the foreign exchange department in the head office of the Bank of Montreal, died suddenly in Montreal on Wednesday.

During the First World War, he served in the Second Battalion with his father, Lt.-Col. Joseph Mills, and his brother, Major A. Bruce Mills.

He was born in Peterborough, a son of the late Lt.-Col. Mills and Emma Louise Claringbold. His father was commanding officer of the 57th Regiment. Mr. Mills received his public and high school education in Peterborough, and started 38 years ago with the bank.

Overseas with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, he returned to the bank following the war and worked in Toronto, Windsor, Walkerton and Sudbury before going to Montreal, where he has been for the past 18 years.

Mr. Mills was an active member of St. John's Anglican Church while in Peterborough, and active in the Anglican church in Montreal. He was a member of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association and while here was in the 57th Regiment.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. B. D. Hall, and a brother, Major Mills, both of Peterborough. Mr. Mills was unmarried.

Archdeacon W. P. Robertson, of St. John's, will officiate at the service, to be held at 2.30 p.m. Friday at the Comstock funeral home. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

Air Cadet Squadron Wins Praise At First Inspection

Inspecting officers congratulated the City of Peterborough Air Cadet Squadron Monday night on the standard of their drill and general efficiency shown.

Air Commodore W. W. Brown, of the R.C.A.F. training command, Trenton, said that although the squadron had been operating for only eight months, they had attained as high a standard as many others that have been established more than a year.

Good Training

Air Commodore Brown said he looked on the boys with an eye of welcome as possible members in the future of the R.C.A.F., and added that their training in the squadron would stand them in good stead no matter where they went.

H. L. Garner of Peterborough, president of the Air Cadet League of Canada, reiterated the air commodore's congratulations and agreed with him on the squadron's high standard.

He said the squadron was the equal of many he had seen in cities across Canada.

Mr. Garner also presented the squadron with its ensign, and said that it was a thrill to give it to the Air Cadets of his own city.

March Past

After the presentation of the ensign, the squadron carried out ceremonial drill and marched past the reviewing stand to music provided by the C.G.E. pipe band. There were 86 cadets on parade and the general salute was sounded by a representative of the 50th H.A.A. regiment band.

The air commodore then inspected the squadron's quarters and instructional facilities, where lectures and movies were in progress. Following the inspection the inspecting party and officers of the squadron were entertained by the R.C.A.F. Association.

Opening prayer at the inspection was given by the Rev. Joseph O'Sullivan of Immaculate Conception Church, and the Rev. Henry Coffon gave the prayer of dedication of the ensign.

Officers of the squadron are Squadron Leader W. G. Thompson, commanding officer, adjutant F/O Hugh Morrison, F/O Bill Van Atter, F/O Marlowe Banks, and F/O Maurice Coderre, D.F.C. Air Commodore Brown's aide was F/L A. Ireland.

Ex-Member's

nation was received and accepted by the board May 20.

" I . . . did not feel I could sanction the appointment of a board member to the staff of the school, even though his resignation was accepted . . . the member also having been a delegate sent to Toronto with the principal to interview applicants for a position that he was subsequently to fill. This I believe also contravenes the High School Act of Ontario," Mr. Rath's letter concludes.

At the May 20 meeting, Mr. Rath suggested that the meeting be held with the board, the principal, the teachers and the federation represented. Only one member, Norman A. Moore, supported his stand.

Mr. Rath said at that meeting that he was "unable to stay on any board that wilfully ignored information that they knew had caused the resignation of at least four teachers."

Feeling of the board members opposing Mr. Rath's suggestion was that they would have been willing to meet with the teachers before the resignations were given, but not after.

Mr. Rath had been a board member only two weeks, having been appointed to replace E. W. Bailey, who died recently.

No Hope

It takes time to get the necessary international machinery in motion, Mr. Killaly warned and even "if the decks are cleared for action and the green light is given, in a year or two, it will be another five years before the building of the control dam and sub aqueous rock channels can be widened to the required 1,000 feet."

Although nature may remedy the situation temporarily, Mr. Killaly said it was also possible that heavier rainfall could worsen the problem and he recommended that four steps be taken immediately to lower the water level of Lake Ontario.

(1). Stopping temporarily the unnatural inflow of water into Lake Ontario coming from the upper lakes, through Lake Erie and the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers.

(2). As a result of stopping the flow of water from the Long Lac and Aguasbon diversions into Lake Superior, the lake level of Superior would be lowered accordingly.

(3). Chicago should be asked to increase temporarily the outflow through Lake Michigan which is being tapped to serve the city's sewage system.

(4). Finally, he urged immediate reduction of the Gut Dam by one and one half feet where the water is now 10 to 12 inches above the crest of the dam.

Helped Plan Dam

Mr. Killaly assisted in the planning and building of the dam which was erected in 1904, between Adams Island on the Canadian side and Galoups Island on the American side in the St. Lawrence below Ogdensburg. Purpose of the dam was threefold Mr. Killaly said: to eliminate dangerous cross currents in the Galoup Rapids; to overcome the concern of engineers that the introduction of 14 foot navigation on the St. Lawrence would lower the level of the Great Lakes and to compensate for the extra discharge of water out of Lake Ontario resulting from deepening on navigation channels and canals.

Turning to property owners on the lake front both in Canada and the U.S. who have been complaining to their governments about water damage, he said, "Anyone building should inform themselves as to the levels at which damage might occur. Anyone who fails to do this is taking a chance. When damage results, they rush to their governments for assistance. Governments," he said, "are not to blame for erosion."

Life In Jungle

lived in England with her sisters. The family home is Langdon Hills, Essex.

Returned To Gold Coast

In 1945, once again in good health, Mr. Rayment-Acton went out to the Gold Coast.

"The White Man's Graveyard you call it? Not any more," she assured "White mothers take their very young children out there now and have no fear of bearing their children in West Africa."

"The humidity is the worst part of it. There is almost 100 per cent humidity when the temperature is only 75 or 80 degrees. There are tropical diseases, of course: sleeping sickness caused by the Tsetse fly, malaria, and yellow fever—though yellow fever is being reduced."

Mr. Rayment-Acton is in the colonial service and is working with the department of agriculture to find the virus known as "swollen shoot" that destroys cacao trees. The disease is a serious menace to one of that country's leading industries.

No Segregation

Like other families of civil servants they have been provided with a bungalow in the government area of Koforidua. The so-called government area is not an indication of segregation.

"Both black and white civil servants live in the government area," said Mrs. Rayment-Acton. "There is no segregation, both mix freely."

Koforidua has a population of about 2,000. Only a handful are white people, including government officials, traders and other commercial people.

Mrs. Rayment-Acton has no "Nervous Nellie" fears of natives.

"They are fine, well-behaved people, on the whole," she said. "In some small things they may not seem as law abiding as we; but I can feel much safer among them in the jungle than I can in many large cities of white people."

At times—while out on his surveys of cacao tree disease—Mr. Rayment-Acton would be gone two or three days. Apart from a few household servants his wife would be alone in the thick, menacing jungle.

"I could hear the native drums beating in the distance," she said. "But it was never a frightening thing to me."

Life in a jungle bungalow is not everybody's cup of tea, however.

"What about snakes"? the reporter asked Mrs. Rayment-Acton.

"Oh yes, we do have snakes, including mambas and cobras," she said casually. "Sometimes they get into the house. They come out in large numbers just after the rain. The rain is torrential there you know. Just before I left we killed seven snakes in one day. The people next to us killed about the same; one of them was a cobra.

"I said to my husband 'I'm not going out into the garden again until they disappear'."

Snakes in the house. Snakes in the bottom of the garden Native drummers beating it out in the mysterious jungle night. That was too much for the reporter. There'll be no vacation for him on the Gold Coast. Anyway the Kawarthas are nearer and boast nothing more savage than fighting muskie.

Good luck, Mrs. Rayment-Acton ! ! !

Watch Brakes Driver Warned

"It is the height of foolishness to not have brakes in first-class condition with traffic moving at the speed it does," Magistrate W. R. Philp told Frederick Cathers, 505 Aylmer Street, in Police Court today. "Your brakes may satisfy the Highway Traffic Act, but they were not in good enough condition to prevent you from getting into an expensive accident."

The Magistrate made his comments after dismissing charges of careless driving and driving without adequate brakes which were laid against Cathers following an accident at Stewart and Reid Streets, April 12.

Cathers, who was defended by Gordon H. T. Farquharson, pleaded guilty to a third charge of driving without a chauffeur's or operator's licence, and was fined $10, and $2.50 costs.

He explained that a car was backing into Stewart Street, blocking the west side of the highway as he approached from the north. He swung to the east side of the street to avoid a collision. Then, he said the front wheel of his car dropped into a deep sewer grating, throwing the car out of control. It then sideswiped a parked car on the east side of the street, and continued across the road, coming to rest against a tree.

Kenneth Logan, who was stopped at the intersection on Reid Street facing north when the accident occurred, confirmed Cathers' story about the car turning and said he was travelling at an ordinary speed for city traffic.

Constable William G. Scott, who investigated, said he tried the brakes on the car after the accident and had to pump the foot pedal twice to get any brakeage.

charged directly or passed through the soil. The problem is not to exclude the wastes from the streams but to purify them to a sufficient degree".

Study Algae

Mr. Caverly said that there is much work yet to be done. Problems of finance were difficult with construction costs at an all-time high. So far milk and cannery wastes have been under study. It is hoped to extend the research to other fields. And it is expected this summer to study algae control in Sturgeon Lake and elsewhere.

Resolutions which had been approved by the Association's fish and game committee were passed on to the meeting by Dr. T. G. Heaton. The motions were: That game fishing in the Otonabee-Kawartha chain between the Kirkfield and Peterborough Lift Lock be prohibited until July 1. Carried in a close vote.

That the use of all gaffs be prohibited except in commercial fishing. Carried.

That the size limits for pickerel be raised to 16 inches over-all length. Carried.

That the lunge open season in Victoria, Peterborough, Hastings and Northumberland counties be extended to end at same time as that for bass and pickerel, October 15 and that the lunge bag limit be one instead of two. Carried.

That all angling be prohibited between 11 p.m. and 5 a.m. Carried.

That shooting of wood ducks be permitted on same basis as that other ducks. Defeated.

A. Doug. Smith, secretary-treasurer, was elected president of the Association.

Former District Man Wins U.S. Naval Medal

A former resident of Cordova Mines, John C. Barrons of Pittsburg, Penna., has been awarded the Reserve Officers Association Medal for outstanding work in naval science.

Mr. Barrons is a grandson of Mrs. J. J. Moore of Keene, and has lived in Pittsburgh since leaving Cordova Mines shortly after he finished public school there.

He enrolled in Pennsylvania State College after serving two years with the U.S. Navy. Mr. Barrons is enrolled as a midshipman in the R.O.T.C. program at the university.

He graduates June 9 from college and after a brief vacation will be assigned to duty in California. The medal was presented to him by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the college and brother of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Mother Collapses During Fire Trial

TORONTO, May 29 — (CP) — Mrs. Jean Read, on trial for manslaughter, and criminal negligence with Edward Brown, Sr., in connection with the death of their 21-month-old son in a New Year's Eve fire, collapsed Wednesday as she left the witness box.

The child and three others were left in the home of Brown Sr. while the parents attended a party six miles away. The three other children were rescued from the fire which destroyed the Brown home.

Crown Counsel Henry Bull Wednesday suggested that Brown had been drinking heavily on the night of the fire. "I suggest you're a liar," Brown retorted.

Mayors Suggest Sweepstakes Be Legalized

OTTAWA, May 29—(CP)—Mayor E. C. Sargent of Owen Sound president of the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves Wednesday suggested legalized provincial "hospital sweepstakes" and city tax on income as ways of overcoming a "crisis" in municipal financing.

We give our people service from the cradle to the grave," he said in his presidential address at the opening of the four-day annual meeting of the Association, "and the only sources of revenue we have are those of our business tax and real-estate tax and such grants as we receive."

Hospital sweepstakes, he said, "are an ideal avenue of approach to the problem of providing revenue for hospital purposes."

But the provincial government frowned on such suggestions of "gambling."

"If we cannot have this type of revenue, then we would suggest that it give up some $400,000,000 each year which it collects from horse-racing."

Tax Change

He suggested the abolition of property tax and the substitution of an income tax, payable to the municipality in which it was earned.

Only in this way, he said, could the municipalities obtain sufficient revenue without overburdening any one particular class of taxpayer.

He realized there were "many complications" to such a system, but it could be made practicable.

Many municipalities, he warned, may be forced into bankruptcy, "unless we have an almost immediate adjustment of our municipal position and adjustment of the tax structure."

"As late as last week a very wealthy municipality in the Toronto area was being refused educational facilities by the Municipal Board because it could not market its bonds."

Tried To Choke Officer With Tie

Ernest Withers, 30, 322 Park Hill Rd., was fined $30 and $2.50 costs for assaulting rookie policeman Dennis Smith in the course of his duty Monday night, when he appeared in police court Wednesday.

Withers pleaded guilty to the charge Tuesday and was remanded until Wednesday for sentence.

Constable Smith said he and another officer went to Wither's home in answer to a complaint and that Mrs. Withers wanted them to take her husband to the police station but she did not want to charge him with anything.

"She alleged that he had beaten her up," Constable Smith said and that while they were discussing the matter, Withers who had been swearing loudly took a swing at him.

"I avoided the swing, then he caught hold of my tie and attempted to choke me," Constable Smith said.

"Drunkenness is no excuse," Magistrate Philp told Withers when he said the only explanation he had to offer was that he was "quite drunk" at the time.

Hollywood Executives Study Setting For Movie 'Evangeline'

GRAND PRE, N.S.—(CP)—Two Hollywood executives have come to this historic village, on the shore of the Minas Basin, with plans to film the haunting story of Evangeline.

Saul Wurtzel, unit production manager, and George Patrick, art director for 20th Century-Fox, paid a 10-day visit to this and other Nova Scotia sites to determine their suitability for large-scale location activities.

The film, first sound production of Longfellow's famous classic, will be called "Evangeline and Gabriel." The experts are deciding whether they will send a production company of some 80 persons and extensive motor equipment from Hollywood, rather than use suitable scenic locations nearer the home studios.

Scene Is Changed

Certainly, the opening sentence of the poem, "This is the forest primeval," is belied today by the lush, rolling farmlands of Annapolis Valley. But the air of long-past tragedy and adventure still lingers where:

"Sea-fogs pitched their tents, and mists from the mighty Atlantic

"Looked on the happy valley, but ne'er from their station descended."

If the survey proves favorable, shooting will probably take about four weeks, requiring in addition to the Hollywood regulars 400 or more extras to be recruited locally.

The cast under consideration includes Debra Paget for Evangeline and Tyrone Power for the part of Gabriel, her blacksmith lover. Sam Engel probably will be director.

In Planning Stage

Story structure also is still in the planning stage, but it is expected the basic Longfellow version will be followed, with Gabriel likely playing a more prominent part than he gets in the poem.

Folks here are anxious to find out whether Hollywood will jazz up in its characteristic way the simple, tragic story of the expulsion of the Acadians by the English, and Evengeline's search for her lover.

First movie version of Evangeline was filmed many years ago by a local company. Last previous professional film was a silent show directed by Eddie Carew with fiery Dolores Del Rio.

That picture, however, was made at the other end of the Acadian Saga, in Louisiana, not far from the grave of Emmaline La Biche, whose adventures are the basis of the Evangeline story.

Only the basis, because Longfellow wandered far from the facts in the telling. The poet never visited the province.

Agriculture Director S. B. McCready Dies

TORONTO, May 29 (CP)—Samuel McCready, 82, a former director of elementary agricultural education for Ontario, died here Wednesday.

Born in Harriston, he taught on the staff of the Collegiate Institutes in Wiarton, Paris, London and Toronto. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto and the Ontario Agriculture College, at Guelph, and for a time was professor of botany at the O.A.C.

He was appointed director of elementary agricultural education for Ontario in 1911.

Dancer Urges Prowling On All Four

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 29—(AP)—Sally Forrest advises us to prowl around the house on all fours and she follows her theory.

She lopes around her Beverly Hills house like a stiff-kneed antelope.

"I know it sounds a little screwy," she admitted, "but you'd be surprised how limber it keeps you."

"I've been doing it every day for years. Just a few minutes on all fours every day and you can keep loose. It strengthens the leg muscles, pulls in the stomach and tones you up. It's an exercise you can do while performing your chores. I can even walk up and down stairs that way."

That's Not All

Miss Forrest admitted that dancers sometimes do strange things. She told me of one friend who used to sleep in her ballet shoes to break them in.

She demonstrated some other exercises. She did the splits, sitting on the floor with legs extending in opposite directions.

"It's a good idea to stay in this position for some time," she remarked, "so I often read a book."

"Here's another one," she enthused. She lay on the floor on her stomach, extended her arms over head and had me pull her by the hands while she arched backwards. She also described an exercise in which she stands on her hands against a wall and touches her head with her toes.

"If you're a dancer, you have to keep in trim," she said.

So where does all this effort get her? Of all her pictures, only one has been an out-and-out musical.

Busy Fishermen

GRINDSTONE, Magdalen Islands—(CP) —The lobster season opened here with indications of a good haul for fishermen after a remarkably good herring season. More than 100,000 barrels of herring were taken in this area of the St. Lawrence Gulf and all were sold at a good price.

Class of '92

WOLFVILLE, N.S.—(CP)—Convocation ceremonies at Acadia University recently took a venerable twist when a re-union of the class of 1892 was held. There are eight survivors of the original 26—a judge, teacher, doctor, clergyman, newspaper man, banker, politician and lawyer.

TWO CHAMPIONS of the old and new eras met recently in Surrey, England, for a chit-chat. The smiling lady on the left is Mrs. C. Sperry, 81, who as Chattie Cooper, won the Wimbledon singles in 1895 and three succeeding years. Maureen Connolly (right) is the popular United States champion who hopes to win the Wimbledon crown this year. She is 17.

"Always Feel I Can Rely On Syntona," Says This Woman

"It Has Been My Favorite Medicine Ever Since Relieving Rundown Condition Several Years Ago."

Every year since the origin of Syntona 16 years ago, men and women have written in to tell of the good results they get by using this Pure Herbal Medicine. Many people formerly suffering from disorders of stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels, nervousness, sleeplessness and general rundown condition say there is nothing like Syntona. Others say they have taken Syntona time and again when they were not feeling well and that it has never failed to help them.

AN ACTUAL EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Minnie Whitlow, Tilbury, Ontario, sent in this letter just a few days ago:

"Several years ago following an operation I was having very bad dizzy spells, nervous headaches and indigestion. I began taking Syntona and the results I got were really remarkable. In a short time I was completely well and have been in fairly good health ever since.

"Now, however, I am having rheumatic pains in my back and limbs and am using Syntona again. Already there is an improvement and I am looking forward to the same good results, as from my previous experience I always fell that I can rely on Syntona."

MRS. MINNIE WHITLOW

WHERE TO GET IT

Drug stores have sold many thousands of bottles of Syntona. One druggist said just the other day, "a medicine that has had the demand that Syntona has had for so many years surely must have merit."

Why not let this Pure Herbal Medicine help you as it has so many others? Get a bottle of Syntona today in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. (Advt.)

Flaming Torches, Acid Thrown At Tokyo Police

TOKYO, May 30. (AP)—Police killed three rioters in Tokyo today as Communist "Martyr's Day" demonstrations erupted into violence in scattered parts of Japan. The three demonstrators were killed when police opened fire on a mob of about 200 which hurled acid and stones. The number of injured was not known. Police arrested 11 persons. The national rural police reported late tonight they had made 103 arrests in putting down 29 demonstrations involving 12,000 persons throughout Japan. They gave no figures on injuries. The bloody fighting in Tokyo broke out when police warned the mob they would shoot if the demonstrators advanced any closer to a police box. The mob then was only about 10 feet away.

The crowd threw bottles of acid and stones, but scattered when police opened fire.

Flaming Torches

Demonstrators threw flaming oil torches and squirted sulphuric acid from water pistols in a flare-up at Shinjuku station in western Tokyo.

Japanese police, on the alert for such an outbreak, held the upper hand late tonight as they herded demonstrators away from the station plaza and down narrow side streets.

Two policemen and three newspapermen were injured at Shinjuku. About 16 demonstrators were arrested there.

Police loudspeakers warned the demonstrators to disperse within 30 minutes or be doused by streams of colored water from tanks on fire engines. The colored water would identify anyone caught in the stream.

One of the newspapermen hurt was Associated Press correspondent William C. Barnard. The others were a Japanese reporter and a Japanese news photographer.

Barnard had just finished telephoning a report to the AP Tokyo bureau when he was hit on the neck by sulphuric acid bomb with a sputtering fuse.

Stayed At Scene

"The military police fixed me up with a petroleum dressing," Barnard said. "They said it was a sulphuric acid burn."

Barnard stayed at the scene for some time, then went to a hospital to have his injury checked.

National rural police said more than 8,000 persons had gathered in 22 places in Japan to mark the anniversary of a Red rioter's death in a 1949 May Day demonstration in Tokyo.

The newspaper Asahi reported that demonstrators at Kobe, about 370 miles southwest of Tokyo, slapped and bruised Life Magazine reporter John Dillie earlier in the day.

Asahi said about 100 Japanese and Koreans parading near an industrial plant spotted Dillie's car and swarmed around it. They slapped and bruised him, the newspaper said, but did not harm Life photographer Margaret Bourke-White, who was in the car with him.

Charge 156 Reds With Plotting Against State

PARIS, May 30 — (CP) —Three Paris magistrates, after an all-night questioning session, today charged 156 Communist rioters with plotting against the internal security of the state.

The night-long screening also dealt with 562 other persons captured during vicious street fighting Wednesday night between thousands of Communist demonstrators and police. Most of these others will either be released or charged with minor offences.

The Interior Ministry announced that 31 foreigners detained during the riots—Belgians, Iranians, Israelis, Italians, Poles, Portuguese, Spaniards and Swiss—will be expelled from France.

The French government Thursday opened an investigation into a Communist "plot" against the State. Under the penal code, persons convicted of working toward overthrow of the state or incitement to arms against the legal government can be deported or imprisoned for an unspecified term.

Firm Action

The government moves continued the firm action against the Communists, who began disturbances against new Allied commander Gen. Matthew Ridgway. Ridgway, in a formal ceremony today, took over his command from General Eisenhower.

Andre Stil, editor of the Communist party organ L'Humanite, was charged with plotting against the security of the state and inciting the populace to violence.

Police raided the home of Communist kingpin Jacques Duclos, party secretary-general arrested Wednesday night as he cruised through the riot area "like a general commanding his troops." Duclos has also been charged with plotting against the state.

Both Duclos and Stil are being investigated in connection with the government's inquiry into a Communist coup.

The central committee of the Communist party today appointed Andre Marty acting secretary-general in the place of Duclos.

Says Canada Not Doing Share

LONDON, May 30—(Reuters) — Col. George Wigg, Labor member of parliament, complained today against the fact that Canada has no compulsory military service.

"The government ought to say to the Commonwealth countries that public opinion in this country will not indefinitely bear the burden of two years compulsory military service unless the other Commonwealth countries do something along similar lines," he told the Commons.

He presented a motion urging a "more equitable" sharing of the North Atlantic defence burden, especially where conscription of manpower is concerned.

Wigg mentioned Canada specifically and said that out of a population of 14,000,000 in Canada only 33,000 are in the army. He added that Australia's limited compulsory service of 100 days is hardly worthwhile.

Vice-President Quits Protests Dictatorship

PUSAN, Korea, May 30. (Reuters)—The vice-president of South Korea resigned today, charging that President Syngman Rhee is a dictator.

Vice-president Kim Sung-soo accused Rhee of carrying on a coup d'etat against South Korea's democratic structure. He said in a statement he was "ashamed to see my name in the list of Rhee's bureaucratic, dictatorial and corrupt regime."

Rhee has already had 11 members of the assembly arrested under the martial law he has declared. A "black-list" has been reported and Rhee Thursday predicted more arrests.

The president, who has virtual control of the security police, has refused to lift martial law. The United Nations Commission for the Unification of Korea said it had sent Rhee a letter rebuking him, but Rhee denied this.

The popularly elected assembly on Wednesday voted 96 to 3 instructing that martial law be lifted and the arrested men be released. Rhee said he would ignore the vote because "it is not the will of the people."

Order Fifth Column Adopt Tough Tactics

NEW YORK, May 30—(CP)—The New York Times says today there is every indication that the Kremlin has ordered its Fifth Column apparatus to adopt tougher and more active methods to combat the resurgent strength of the democratic powers on a world-wide basis.

In a dispatch from Paris, C. L. Sulzberger says that regardless of what Soviet official policy contemplates, there seems no doubt that Communist parties in countries not under Moscow's direct domination have been told to step up their trouble-making activities regardless of the consequences.

This is true in West Germany where riots were provoked, in Japan where the party staged a violent May Day demonstration, in Italy where increasing surliness is noted in the ports and in France, the dispatch says.

Pearson Thanks Eisenhower For Services

OTTAWA, May 30 — (CP) — External Affairs Minister Pearson, President of the North Atlantic Council, has thanked General Eisenhower for his "great services" for European defence.

In a letter to the general, made public today, Mr. Pearson said "the increase in our defensive strength and our unity is the most eloquent testimony of your energy and effectiveness.

General Eisenhower leaves Paris Saturday for the United States.

Text of letter:

"As president of the North Atlantic Council, I wish to send you this message as you relinquish the Supreme Command of Allied Forces in Europe.

"No word from me is really necessary to draw attention to the results of your work in this vital post, for the increase in our defensive strength and our unity is the most eloquent testimony of your energy and effectiveness.

Accepted Call.

"In 1951 you accepted the call to return to active military duty with characteristic readiness to be of service. Since then you have given such leadership to our cause, that our NATO efforts to establish and preserve the peace will long bear the imprint of your influence. I have, thus, to thank you not only for your great services in the defence sphere, but also for the contribution to the morale of our cause which flowed from your convictions, your enthusiasm, and your persistence in pursing our common purpose.

"I know that the knowledge that you have made a unique contribution to the aims of NATO will be full compensation for you refforts and that you will always derive satisfaction from the assurance that you carry with you the gratitude and the highest esteem of all those, from high to low, who have labored with you to achieve the peace for which we all so ardently long."

Old Soldiers Get Laugh Out Of Pay Parade Loot

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP). — A group of old soldiers paused Thursday to wonder and speculate and chuckle a bit about the soldier who looted the paymaster on pay parade in Japan and got away with it.

Their conclusion: Despite the obvious temptations to generations of servicemen who have gone before him, the unorthodox private is probably unique in the Canadian Army.

As such, he provoked both the awe and the curiosity of the Commons defense spending committee when it came across his case in moving through statistics about armed forces' thefts during the last two years.

The records showed that the soldier got away with the equivalent of $2,777 in occupation Japanese yen on March 31 at the 25th Brigade's reinforcement group base at Kure.

Investigation, said the documents, "is pending provost and civilian police are on search."

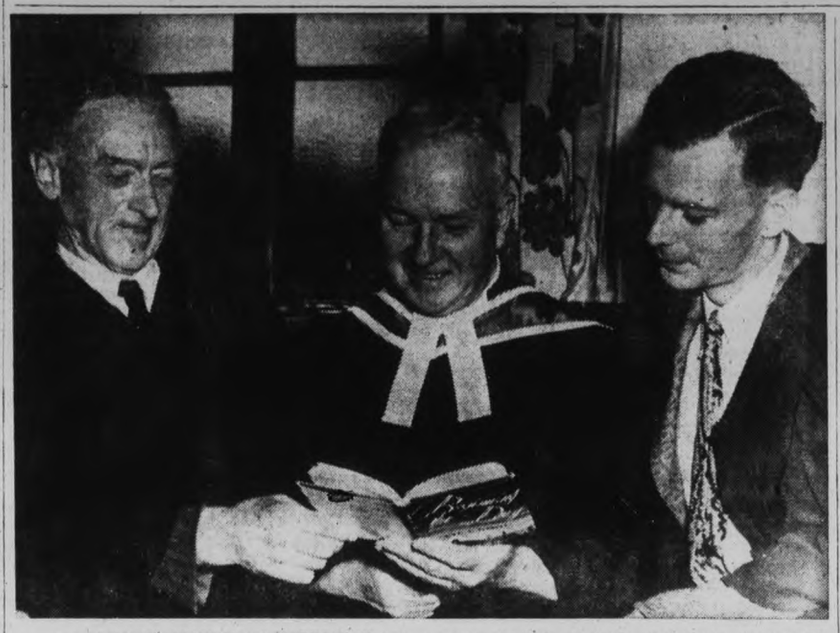
As the members warmed to the incident, Elgin Armstrong, assistant deputy defence minister, elaborated.

The army, he said, knows the man's name and is searching for him. It is not known whether he still is in the Far East. What he did was quite simple. He came up to the paymaster to get his pay but, instead, grabbed the mound of yen and ran away and hasn't been heard of since.

"Has he gone native?" asked one member.

"Is his pay still going on?" asked another.

"He got that for months ahead—plus gratuities," said another. Mr. Armstrong intervened to report that the soldier now is classed as a deserter.



A HISTORY-MAKING PRECEDENT was made today at the Bay of Quinte Conference in Lindsay when Charles Arthur Shaver, 72, of Cherry Valley (left), ten miles south of Picton, was ordained a United Church minister by conference president Dr. George Telford (centre), of St. Andrew's United Church, Oshawa. Youngest ministers to be ordained at the conference were the McLellan brothers, J. Gordon R. (right) and Robert James (not shown), both sons of the Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Man 72 Ordained Minister Makes Un. Church History

By COLLETTE FERGUSON

LINDSAY, May 30.—A precedent was set in the United Church of Canada this afternoon when a 73-year-old man was ordained into the ministry of this church at the Bay of Quinte Conference in Cambridge St. United Church here. As far as United Church leaders know, no other man has been ordained at this advanced age when most clergymen have retired from active duty.

Charles Arthur Shaver, lay supply of the Cherry Valley charge, about 10 miles south of Picton, and former school teacher, was accepted as a candidate for ordination in a secret ballot vote following a two-hour closed session of the conference Thursday evening.

Controversial Issue.

Mr. Shaver's application for ordination which has resulted in the making of history for the United Church, was one of the most controversial issues of the four-day conference. This application was recommended by the Belleville Presbytery of the conference and submitted to the sessional committee of colleges and schools with the eight other applications of candidates who were ordained at the scheduled ordination service Wednesday night.

Slight opposition caused Mr. Shaver to withdraw his application from the committee, but he reconsidered Wednesday night and decided to let the application stand. The matter was brought to the attention of the conference Thursday afternoon by a motion that Mr. Shaver's application be reconsidered.

The motion was made by the Rev. K. J. Crawford, secretary of the Belleville Presbytery, on behalf of the presbytery. The

Ike Refuses To Campaign

PARIS, May 30 — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower disclosed today that he will shed his uniform next Tuesday but still will refuse to campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Eisenhower turned over his post as Supreme Commander of Allied Powers in Europe today to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. Eisenhower returns to the United States Saturday.

The general, a leading contender for the Republican nomination, implied in his last press conference before leaving Europe that he would welcome "healthy arguments over honest differences," but added that "bitter quarrels for quarrels" sake are bad for the country and I deplore them."

Eisenhower told the conference a few minutes before turning his command over to Ridgway that "Europe must unite far more closely or there is no settlement for our difficulties."

He said that "in spite of cynics and sophisticates, Europe is making great steps forward."

He warned, however, of a number of dangers still facing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's build-up of defences in Europe.

Among these he listed:

1. Misunderstandings among countries;
2. Possible accidental and unforeseen incidents along the Iron Curtain.
3. "Danger of thinking of these problems locally."

Liberal Head W. Thomson Resigns Post

Letter Said Surprise At Convention Of Ontario Party

TORONTO, May 30. (CP)—Walter C. Thomson today tendered his resignation as leader of the Liberal party in Ontario. Mr. Thomson made the announcement at the end of a 30-minute address to the annual convention of the Ontario Liberal Association.

He told delegates his election policies of last fall—when the Progressive Conservative Party was returned to power with a landslide majority—had been vindicated by the Ontario health survey released early this month.

Among the survey's recommendations were a ceiling for hospital charges for public ward accommodation and that the provincial government should control fund-raising campaigns for health and welfare purposes to ensure that

Suggests Parks In Trent Area

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP). — Resources Minister Winters received a flood of requests in the Commons Thursday night for Federal aid to establish new parks and gardens for the enjoyment of Canadians.

The requests were made during consideration of resources and development estimates. They came so thick and fast the minister had no chance to reply before the 11 o'clock adjournment.

George Fulford (L.-Leeds) said Federal aid should be given for an international park in the area of The Thousand Island bridge across the St. Lawrence River. Small parks should also be established on the Rideau Lakes.

G. K. Fraser (P.C.-Peterborough West) said if the Rideau Lakes were going to get parks, the Trent Canal System should get them too.

Robbers Grab Loot During Transfer To Ottawa Train

SUDBURY, May 30. (CP)—Three gold bricks, valued at more than $80,000 and being shipped to the mint at Ottawa, were stolen from an unguarded mail cart on a railway station platform Thursday night. The gold, en route from mines in British Columbia, disappeared while being transferred from one mail car to another. Police said the thieves—three men were believed involved—used the hustle and bustle of a busy unloading period to cover their actions Several Canadian Pacific Railway trains had arrived from the west and were being reassembled to continue on to Montreal and Toronto.

Two of the bricks were from the Pioneer Mine and one from the Bralorne Mine, both near Trail, B.C. They weighed a total of 190 pounds.

The gold arrived in the mail car of C.P.R. train No. 8.

Police said the bricks were placed under a money bag—said to have contained a considerable amount of cash—and several mail bags.

Yanked to the Floor

The bags of cash were yanked to the floor and left there.

Sudbury is the only point where the bricks were to be transferred from one car to another during the haul. Police said the thieves might have travelled the 3,000-odd miles aboard the Ottawa-bound gold train.

No ordinary passerby or passenger would know that gold bricks or other valuables were being transferred in the mail cart, authorities said.

Early reports were that two or three men were seen walking away from the cart carrying something heavy under their topcoats. Another report said three men were seen running across the tracks in the railway yard east of the station.

Police threw up road blocks and began searching automobiles on all highways leading out of this Northern Ontario city. A province-wide alarm was sent out.

It was the second large gold robbery in Canada in a week.

Last Thursday four bricks valued at $120,000 were taken from a vault on the property of the East Malartic Mines in Malartic, Que. A mine mechanic on Thursday pleaded guilty to the theft.

Three of those bricks have been recovered. A police officer expressed the opinion that the fourth "may have been melted down already."

U.N. Troops Beat Off Two Red Attacks

SEOUL, Korea, May 30—(AP)—United Nations' troops today beat off two attempts by a pair of North Korean Communist companies to capture a towering east Korean peak which Allied soldiers call "Luke the Gook's castle."

The 3,000-foot-high peak overlooks several miles of Communist front lines. Reds have tried intermittently to knock U.N. troops off it for a month.

One Red company struck Allied outposts on the northeastern side an hour before midnight Thursday.

8 Red Prisoners Killed In POW Riot

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, May 30 —(AP)—Eight Communist prisoners were killed and 17 wounded in bloody incidents at United Nations' prisoner-of-war camps on Koje Island and on the Korean mainland Thursday and today. Prison-camp authorities said no U.N. personnel were killed or wounded in the outbreaks.

The killings raised the toll of reported deaths from violence to 245 prisoners. The army said 115 of these died at the hands of fellow prisoners after drumhead trials in compounds dominated by hard-core Communist P.O.W.'s.

Four North Korean prisoners were killed and three wounded today when a 15-man prisoner work party attacked two U.S. and two South Korean guards on Koje.

Three Korean civilian internees were killed and 13 were injured Thursday in a brawl among captured personnel moved recently from Koje Island to a new compound at Yongchon, 60 miles north of Pusan.

One North Korean prisoner was killed and another wounded Thursday by bullets from a United States soldier's automatic rifle, fired accidentally during a guard change in compound 66 on Koje.

The accidental shooting took place two hours after about 100 British and U.S. troops raided the compound — holding 2,700 North Korean officers and 650 Red orderlies—and destroyed their headquarters and dispensary shacks. The U.N. guard troops went in with fixed bayonets. They used tear gas bombs but fired no shots. There were no casualties.

Koje authorities said the four North Koreans killed Thursday died after one member of their work party attacked a U.N. guard during a rest period. An official army statement said "in self-defence the guard opened fire on his assailant and killed him. In the fracas one other P.O.W. was killed and five were wounded. Two of the wounded died later at the hospital. No Americans were hurt."

Queen Mother Pilots Airliner

LONDON, May 30—(Reuters)—Queen Mother Elizabeth took the controls of the Comet jet airliner and flew it for an hour at more than 500 miles an hour when she took a trip in the plane last Friday, it was learned Thursday.

In a message to Number 600 (City of London) Auxiliary Air Force Squadron of which she is honorary air commodore, the Queen Mother said: "I am delighted to tell you that I took over as first pilot of the Comet and flew at 0.8 mach at 40,000 feet. My thoughts turned to 600 Squadron. What the other passengers thought I really would not care to say."

Numbers indicate the plane speed compared with the speed of sound. The Comet's speed at 0.8 would have been over 500 miles an hour.

The squadron's reply says: "Your squadron is very proud that their honorary air commodore has piloted a jet as high and as fast as her own pilots."

Frieze Romps Home To Win Oaks Classic

EPSOM DOWNS, May 30—(AP)—Captain A. M. Keith's Frieze, a 100-to-7 outsider, today won the 174th running of the Oaks Classic over 1½ miles of the rolling Epsom Track.

The winning purse was £16,500.

Nineteen three-year-olds started in the race exclusively for fillies.

Frieze, an English-bred horse, won by three lengths from Zabara, another English bred. Moon Star was in third place.

Zabara was second favorite at 9 to 2. Moon Star, owned by William Woodward of New York, was 9 to 1.

Five French horses were beaten. One of them, Marcel Boussac's Arbele II, was the 11 to 4 favorite.

ONE DEAD AND TWO INJURED is the casualty toll after a level crossing accident Thursday afternon near Lindsay. This new-model car skidded into the side of the Bobcaygeon-Havelock mixed freight, throwing out its three passengers. Mrs. Barbara Rendell, 24, Deseronto, is dead and her husband, Gaynor and year-old son Billy are injured. Photo shows the right side of the vehicle, totally demolished. It was spun around and tossed 35 feet, partly into the steep ditch on the northwest corner of the level crossing.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Six Immigrants Hurt In Crash West Of Trenton

CAMPBELLFORD, May 30. — (ENS).—Six persons, all Dutch immigrants, were injured Thursday night when a car and truck collided two miles west of Trenton [illegible] way 2.

Most seriously injured is Dirkje Kloosterman, 18, of Campbellford, with a broken collarbone, cuts and bruises. She was with two brothers and a friend—Siebe and John Kloosterman and Kees Hjma.

Driver was Siebe Kloosterman, 23, who was driving toward Trenton from Campbellford when he started to make a left turn. He saw a truck approaching from the east and tried to swing back to the right side, but was not in time.

Driver of the truck was Andrew Zwart of Belleville. He and his passenger, Elizabeth Kleywegt, suffered cuts and shock, not considered serious.

Miss Kloosterman is in Trenton hospital today. Her brothers and Kees Hjma also suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Suggest Air Agreement to Mexican Gov't

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP) —Canada has made informal inquiries to Mexico to see if that country is interested into a bilateral air agreement, J. R. Baldwin, chairman of the Air Transport Board said today.

He was commenting on a Mexico City dispatch saying Canada had approached Mexico for permits for a Canadian airline to operate between Mexico City and Ottawa and Montreal.

Mr. Baldwin said the question of permits and routes will not arise until Mexico indicates whether she is interested. The Canadian airline involved might be either Canadian Pacific Airlines, Trans-Canada Air Lines, or both.

British Critic Lauds Canadian

LONDON, May 30 (CP) — A British film critic saluted Canadian actress Suzanne Cloutier today in a review that ought to get a special spot in her scrapbook.

The youthful Ottawa star, daughter of Queen's Printer Edmond Cloutier, plays a leading role in the British film "Derby Day," starring Anna Neagle and Michael Wilding.

The film had its London premiere Wednesday, to coincide with the 173rd running of the Epsom Derby won by the Aga Khan's Tulyar, and today critic Leonard Mosley of The Daily Express picked Miss Cloutier as the show's best bet.

"The one surprise," wrote Mosley, "was a French filly named Suzanne Cloutier who emerged from the field and did a lovely lithe romp to the finish. As an actress she turns out to be as smart as a tic-tac man, as wide-eyed as the punter who picks the winner with a pin, as lovely to look at as Tulyar."

Otherwise, said Mosley, "Derby Day" is strictly a one-horse film.

Canadian-born critic Milton Shulman put it more bluntly. Writing in The Evening Standard the University of Toronto graduate said: "The plot . . . might be said to be six favorites running nowhere. You lose your shirt."

HMCS 'Maggie' In Manoeuvres

OTTAWA, May 30 — (CP). — H.M.C.S. Magnificent, Canada's only aircraft carrier, will take part in naval exercises in European and Mediterranean waters for the next few months, naval headquarters announced today.

The Magnificent, commanded by Capt. K. L. Dyer of Grand Pre, N.S., sails from Halifax Monday for the United Kingdom. She will remain at Plymouth June 15-17 before joining ships of nine countries in exercises off the British coast.

Following the exercise, the Magnificent sails for Malta to join the Royal Navy's Mediterranean Fleet for further exercises. She will return to Portsmouth August 20 for further exercise and is expected in Halifax about October 7th.

The 30th Carrier Air Group, commanded by Lt.-Cmdr. R. A. B. Creery of Victoria, will be on board the carrier during the cruise. The group consists of 881 Squadron of Avenger and anti-submarine aircraft and 871 Squadron of Sea Fury fighters.

The destroyer H.M.C.S. Haida, commanded by Cmdr. Dunn Lantier of Montreal, will accompany the Magnificent to2Plymouth and the return to Halifax.

Urge People Unite To Bring Renaissance

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., May 30—(AP)—Delegates to the World Assembly for Moral Rearmament which opened here Thursday night were challenged by Peter Howard, a British author, "to unite in bringing a Renaissance to the world."

"Millions of people are determined to bring about a change," Howard said, "but what sort of a change will it be?"

Speaking before delegates representing North American, European and Asiatic countries, Howard said the M.R.A. movement is superior to Communism because it goes beyond social and economic changes."

Some 1,500 delegates are expected to attend the 13-day assembly which closes June 10.

Canadian Communists Watched By R.C.M.P.

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP) —The R.C.M.P. is keeping an eye on Canada's Communists for signs that Red disorders may break out in the country.

However, R.C.M.P. officials doubt there will be any disorders despite reports that the troubles being provoked by Reds in France, Germany, Algeria, Japan and on Koje Island are part of a world-wide design dictated by the Kremlin.

The main reason is that Canada's Communist movement has recently adopted the line that it is possible for Communism to come to power in Canada by votes rather than violence.

Two Generals Given New Jobs In Japan

TOKYO, May 30. (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters tonight announced reassignment of Cols. Francis Dodd and Charles Colson, both demoted after the kidnapping of Dodd by Red prisoners on Koje Island, from Korea to new duties in Japan.

Colson shifts from chief of staff of the first corps to the Japan logistical command.

Dodd moves from duties at U.S. Eighth Army headquarters to the U.S. 16th Corps on Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost Island.

The announcement gave no details of the new jobs for the two former brigadier-generals.

Convict Parents Of Negligence

TORONTO, May 30 (CP).—The parents of a child who was burned to death while they went to a party were convicted of criminal negligence Thursday night but acquitted of manslaughter.

The jury's decision, brought in after 7½ hours, is believed the first of its kind in Canadian court history.

Edward Brown, Sr., the father, was sentenced to three months in jail. The mother, Mrs. Jean Read, was given a suspended sentence of two years less a day.

The child, David, 21 months, was left with his three-year-old brother in their suburban Scarborough township home while his parents went to a New Year's eve party. The home was destroyed by fire, David was burned to death but his brother was rescued.

Mr. Justice W. F. Spence said he was sentencing Brown to jail "because you are a man and a man has greater responsibility."

Brown's defence counsel protested the difference in the sentences. "The sentences should be just the same."

the money was spent most beneficially.

Mr. Thomson's resignation was contained in a letter which he handed to association president Norman L. Mathews.

Expresses Surprise

Mr. Mathews said "I have just been handed a letter of which I had not been aware. I must admit I do not know what to say at this time.

"The matter, I presume, will be dealt with at this afternoon's session."

Mr. Thomson's offer of resignation, coming as the climax of an address in which he vigorously upheld the main planks of his election campaign platform, electrified the crowd of delegates, some of whom had been preparing to demand that he quit.

No Alibis

In his 40-minute speech he said he had no alibis for the Liberal defeat in the election.

"I accept any blame and, if I was doing it again, I'd do it the same way," he declared.

"We put forward a program of social reform. . . Remember, if we are Liberals, we must know it is not necessary to win elections but we must believe in the inherent goodness of the human being."

The health survey had been completed before the election. But it had been made public only about last May 1, after the Legislature had risen.

"The report bears out, with one exception, the things I spoke for. It tells of overcrowding, a shortage of hospital beds, need for proper rehabilitation of tuberculosis patients, improvement in our cancer services. I advocated a hospital plan similar to that in use in the western provinces.

"Let them (the government) go ahead and construct new hospitals, set up a hospital plan. Let them do it through public agencies or, if that is not possible, do it directly. We don't know when sickness is going to strike.

Sees It Coming

"I advocated the manufacture of our pulp and paper in Ontario with Ontario labor. Watch and you will see our grogram of last year either being vindicated or accepted.

"The health report says 1,100 elderly persons in mental hospitals should be cared for by a special type of institution suitable for old people. I said the same thing last fall. Why did they say I was wrong?"

The association had been told earlier that a major reason for the Progressive Conservative party's landslide victory in last fall's provincial election was the presence of a third party, the C.C.F.

Mr. Mathews said an analysis of the causes of an election defeat was difficult.

"However, there is one cause with which I believe we can all agree and that is the presence of a third party in the political arena."

conference voted to consider the application in a closed session Thursday night.

School Teacher.

Mr. Shaver, who was a school teacher for 40 years, was qualified to enter the ministry in 1916. He graduated from Queen's University in 1908 with his Bachelor of Arts degree in classics. Between that time and 1916 he completed extramurally the equivalent of a three-year graduate course in theology at Victoria College, Toronto.

He decided to continue teaching and for several years was a classic teacher at Picton High School.

Following his retirement from teaching in 1947, he acted as lay supply in United churches at Cherry Valley, Christian Island, Webbwood and Gibson Reserve.

Hsi decision to apply for ordination was made this year and he received the approval of the Belleville Presbytery in which he was serving.

"I always thought while teaching that I'd like to finish my time of usefulness this way," Mr. Shaver said. "I would like to make some contribution to the church while I am still able."

Supported by Belleville.

However, from the time when he first decided to become an applicant, Mr. Shaver maintained that he would withdraw his application if any criticism resulted from it. This was his reason for withdrawing it during the early part of the conference.

His decision to reconsider was strongly supported by several members of the Belleville Presbytery.

The confernec as a whole also supported his action Thursday night when a substantial majority voted that he be ordained as a minister of the Unitetd Church.

Week Remand In Fire Inquiry

SUDBURY, May 30 —(CP)— John Lyons, 52, today was remanded one week when he appeared on a charge of arson in connection with the $200,000 Lido Hotel fire here last winter.

Police said they suspected Lyons, a bushman, when they were unable to locate him after the fire even though he had been registered at the hotel the night before.

Police said they received a note some time ago which said: "I can't get out of my mind about the fire that burned the Lido Hotel. . To tell the truth it is an accident."

The note was signed John Lyons and gave the Elgin Hotel, Sudbury, as his address. He wasn't registered there but police found that a man by that name had been sent to a bush job by the employment office here. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Police said Lyons also is being questioned in connection with two other hotel fires here and in Ottawa.

Base Metals Struggle Higher On Exchange

TORONTO, May 30 (CP) —Base metals struggled slowly higher today in dull early afternoon stock market dealings. Other selections made little headway.

Activity dwindled steadily. Volume for the first three hours was 616,000 shares.

Agricultures posted a scattered list of fractional advances to form industrials' strongest section. Refining oils and miscellaneous issues slipped. Steels and maunfacturing companies eased.

Base metals were firm as Consolidated Smelters, Hudson Bay, Sherritt-Gordon, Quebec Manitou and Ascot pushed higher.

Western oils posted a majority of moderate declines. Anglo-Canadian, Model Oil, Trans Empire, Western Homestead and Gridoil dipped.

Senior golds eased. Secondary issues showed a majority of small losses.

Arrest 2 Civilians In Borden Thefts

WASAGA BEACH, May 30 — (CP). — Two civilians working at the Canadian Army's Camp Borden have been arrested and charged with receiving goods stolen from the camp.

Provincial Police conducting the investigation into widespread thefts of equipment and materials said that at least 12 more civilians will be charged.

Police arrested H. M. Jones, an officer of the Stayner Branch of the Canadian Legion, and his brother-in-law, Charles Jessop, after raiding more than a score of homes in this summer resort some 45 miles east of Owen Sound.

Provincial Police said the loot taken during the last 18 months will run to tens of thousands of dollars. An R.C.M.P. officer said the loot retrieved so far amounted to about $50.

U.S. Dollar Down

MONTREAL, May 30 (CP). — The United States dollar today opened at a discount of 1 11-16 per cent. in terms of Canadian funds, down 1-32 from Thursday's close. That is, it took $0.98 5-16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.74, unchanged from Thursday.

Edward Harrington

Requiem mass was said at 10 a.m. today for Edward Harrington, 90, of Ennismore, by the Rev. J. F. McGuire, a nephew of Mr. Harrington. Mr. Harrington died Wednesday in hospital.

The service was held in St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cornelius O'Reilly, 508 Parnell Street. Assisting in the sanctuary were the Rev. P. Lynch of Ennismore and the Rev. V. J. Gillogly of Port Hope.

Pallbearers were William, Michael, Thomas and Joseph Harrington, Edward Ayotte, and Gerald O'Reilly. Burial was in St. Martin's Cemetery, where Father McGuire said graveside prayers.

Sabre Jet Squadron Takes Off For Britain

BAGOTVILLE, Que., May 30—(CP). — Five flights of F-86 Sabre jets of No. 439 Fighter Squadron touched down here today on the first stage of their hop from Ottawa to their new base in England.

The last of the aircraft touched down at 10:57 a.m. E.D.T. after leaving Uplands at 10:06 a.m.

R.C.A.F. officials said the aircraft would remain about three hours, refuelling and waiting for more favorable weather at Goose Bay, Labrador, before taking off for the Labrador base.

Bagotville is in the Lake St. John district of Northeastern Quebec.

Cattle Prices Dip 50 Cents During Week

TORONTO, May 30 — (CP). — Cattle prices dipped 25 to 50 cents on steers and heifers and held steady on cows and bulls this week at the Ontario Stockyards. Calves sold steady on top grades but easier on other grades. Hogs, sheep and lambs were steady.

A small run of 6,654 cattle was cleared. Trading opened draggy but turned active later in the week. Choice steers sold at $26-$27 with tops at $27.35-$27.50. Good steers were $26-$27 with mediums at $23.50. Good heifers were selling at $24.50-$25 with a few tops at $25.50. Good cows sold mostly $21-$22 with heifery cows bringing $23 and common cows selling downward to $16. Canners sold downward to $14. Good heavy bulls brought $20-$21 while light butcher bulls sold at $23 and common bulls sold downward to $16. Good to choice fed yearlings sold at $25-$27. Good quality stockers sold at $25-$26.25 while mediums sold downward to $22.

Calf receipts totalled 1,300. Good to choice vealers sold from $24-$26 with common to medium from $15-$23.

Hog receipts were at 4,200. Prices were at $26 for Grade A, with sows $15 dressed.

Sheep and lamb receipts totalled 300. A few small lots of medium to good spring lambs sold at $37-40. Plain quality feed-lot lambs sold at $25-$28. Medium to good quality sheep were $16-$20, with culls downward to $8.

Plan Special Ceremony By Sorel Plant

SOREL, Que., May 30 (CP) — Ships and guns built in this St. Lawrence river seaport some 30 miles east of Montreal will feature international ceremonies in mid-June.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, Defence Minister Claxton and Production Minister Howe, together with high-ranking officials of the Canadian and United States navies and the United States army, will be on hand June 14 for the event, marking the first major armament ever completely produced in Canada for the U.S.

Being manufactured here for the navies of both countries are three-inch, 50-calibre electronic naval guns, described by President J. Edouard Simard of Sorel Industries, Ltd., as probably the most complicated pieces of mechanism ever turned out in this country.

It revealed, with armed forces' permission, that the guns have more than 28,000 parts; that 125 different metals go into their manufacture; that 9,000 standard tools and 16,000 special tools, fixtures and gauges are required to build them.

That allowed tolerances run from 2-1,000th of an inch to 2-10,000th of an inch; and that 30,000 machine operations are required to produce the parts for each gun.

For U.S. Army

Also being produced, for the U.S. army, are 120mm anti-aircraft guns. Both guns are manufactured right from scrap metal to finished product at the sprawling plants of Sorel Industries.

Each twin-mount electronic gun weighs more than 16 tons but is so finely balanced that it will swing at a light hand pressure when power drives are disconnected. Each mount contains 192 non-ferrous castings, 81 ferrous castings and 145 different forgins.

Part of the ceremony will be the christening of the Arctic patrol vessel, Labrador, and the new-type wooden-hulled minesweeper, Chignecto. The two vessels were built for the Canadian Navy.

In a brief statement in connection with the event, Mr. Simard said "the real significance of all this is that it brings home the fact that Canada is making an important contribution to the defence of the free world.

"Under the reciprocal defence planning of Ottawa and the United States, the things we both need are being produced wherever either country can make its most useful contribution to the defence potential of both, without regard to international boundaries..."

Hospital Fund For Pensions Follows Pattern

WINDSOR, May 30 —(CP) — A pension fund for East Windsor Hospital Superintendent Dr. P. J. G. Morgan which involved the payment to an insurance company of some $44,000 is in many respects similar to funds set up by some private firms for long-service employees, an Ontario Investigating Commission was told Thursday.

H. A. (Ted) Scarff of the Windsor Accounting Firm of Brokenshire and Scarff which has for some years audited the hospital's accounts, said that payment was often made in lump sums to avoid interest charges.

Mr. Scarff was testifying before a commission appointed by Attorney-General Porter when that official was shown an audit which indicated that East Windsor Hospital lost $62,000 in 1951.

He was under cross-examination by Norman Mathews, Toronto, who is representing Dr. Morgan's interests.

A commission counsel has stated the $44,000 paid on behalf of the doctor was referable to his entire association with the hospital which dates from 1931. Twenty-five thousand dollars of the $44-000 was paid in 1951, $13,000 in 1950 and $6,000 in 1949.

Repeats Testimony

Mr. Scarff re-affirmed his earlier testimony that 1951 payment of $25,000 was injudicious as the hospital "was in a precarious financial position." During that year, there had never been a credit balance of "more than a few hundred dollars" to the hospital's account.

Mr. Mathews suggested that since the hospital income consisted almost exclusively of government grants which were paid three months in arrears, it was not inexplicable that it should operate in the red. The accountant insisted it "should operate in the black."

Mr. Mathews suggested to the witness that in 1950 the hospital had paid for a $2,000 trip to Nassau for Dr. Morgan because the superintendent was ill and about to undertake a building program. It had been the doctor's first vacation with pay in 12 years and the hospital governors had felt he needed a rest.

Mr. Scarff said he knew of no record which contradicted the lawyer's suggestions.

Brighter Picture

Questioned on the $62,000 loss loss audit which was a factor in initiating the investigation, Mr. Scarff said that information had come into his firm's possession since completion of the audit which tended to "give a brighter picture" of the hospital's 1951 financial position. There had been government grants and a bequest due the hospital in that year which would have been included in the statement had the information been available.

He said the Brokenshire firm had prepared a second audit of the hospital's 1951 position at the behest of the governing board. It had involved allocation to the hospital's building account of expenditures for television sets, linens and cutlery which his firm felt should be allocated to operating and Christmas accounts.

The second audit had showed a 1951 net operating profit of $16,-000 before provision for depreciation of fixed assets, a net $11,000 loss after that provision had been made.

On the motion of Mr. Mathews, the inquiry was adjourned for re-opening June 4. The lawyer said he had other commitments to keep.

Three-Man Commission To Deal With Combines

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP)—Justice Minister Garson took parliamentary action Thursday to create a new three-man combines commission, accepting the major recommendation of the MacQuarrie committee on combines legislation.

He gave notice on the Commons order paper of legislation, to be introduced shortly, which will remold and expand the government organization for elimination of monopolies, cartels and illegal combinations of industries to fix prices and restrict competition.

The new government organ, to act as a buffer between the combines investigator and the justice minister, will be known as the Restrictive Trade Practices Commission.

It will take over some of the duties of Combines Commissioner T. D. MacDonald, act as a judge on his reports of combines activity and decide whether a report should be made to the minister. Currently, reporting to the minister is part of Mr. MacDonald's work.

Mr. MacDonald's duties will be retailored. Instead of the combines commissioner, he will be known as the director of investigation and research with research into monopolistic practices likely being the most important part of his work.

That was a recommendation of the MacQuarrie committee and Mr. Garson indicated he has accepted it by including the creation of a director of investigation and research in his notice of legislation.

The MacQuarrie committee, which sat for almost two years considering overhaul of the country's combines laws, said in its report there was a need for change, since under the current setup, Mr. MacDonald acts as both prosecutor and judge on combines cases.

Under the new setup, he will still act as prosecutor, rounding up the evidence, but he will have to argue his case before the commission, along with the industry charged under the Combines Investigation Act.

After hearing all the evidence, it will be up to the commission to decide whether the case should be thrown out or passed along to the minister.

Ask Better Portrayal Made Of Canada

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP) —A Progressive Conservative member from the Maritimes said Thursday that immigrants were getting a false impression of Canada and urged the National Film Board to do something about it.

J. Angus MacLean (Queen's) told a Commons committee studying the board's work that immigrants arrived in Canada believing that suddenly their income would go up and so also their standard of living.

He thought the board should try to put out some films correcting the Canadian picture

W. Stuart Irwin, the board's chairman, said the film board tried at all times to be honest in presenting the Canadian scene.

The board had under consideration the production of two films for the immigration department which may help meet part of the problem.

We Must Know What Our Enemies Think

We have already expressed in these columns our detestation of any form of political censorship in this country, which would prevent the importation and free distribution of books and papers which express political doctrines which are opposed to democracy. Such a censorship appears to us to be dangerous to the point of lunacy. If we are to give effective opposition to communism or fascism, we must know what communists and fascists have to say. And we must not forget that no political system is air-tight; all have a few good ideas, and to reject their good ideas with their bad ones is political stupidity. No communist country could possess a more thoroughly communist system of dealing with hydro-electric power than the province of Ontario; our liquor monopoly is socialist in theory and practice; our school system is socialist, and all these socialist elements in our society are admirable. As for fascism, what could be more fascist than our sneaky method of censoring and banning books? We must be acquainted with all systems, and we must recognize what is good in them. Even Russian Communism might work well if it were not administered by men who appear to be, on the whole, illiberal, despotic and dishonest.

* * *

In a recent address to the Commons on the subject of the National Library, Mr. M. J. Coldwell said: "I am a bit leery of preventing the importation into this country of books which give us an understanding of the kind of thing that we may have to fight in Canada . . . I say to the House that I hope in a National Libarary there will be no limitation as to the kind of books that are included in that library, so that students may get a complete understanding of what we may have to cope with in the future, and may not be blinded by some kind of censorship." That is common sense. When we are at war with another power we go to great lengths to find out all we can about his fighting weapons. We might save ourselves a few wars if we took a more intelligent interest in the ideas of our potential enemies. For if we study their ideas, with open minds, we may profit hugely, and literally spike their guns before they have time to fire them.

* * *

Communism offers nothing that capitalism-streaked-with-socialism (which is what we have in Canada) cannot match and surpass. But if we make a mystery of communism, and forbid the study of it, we shall make it attractive to adventurous minds, and we shall not, as a nation, know a communist idea when we hear one. The advocates of political censorship are advocates of political ignorance. Nothing could be more dangerous to a free state.

Illegal Riches?

Like people of most other countries, Canadians have their own quirks of law and tribal morality. Canadians have awfully funny liquor regulations. Even Britishers, used to their own grandmotherly regulation of noon and evening closing hours of pubs, laugh at them. (Why, for instance, go through the rigmarole of putting down name, address and signature to buy beer, when no permit is required and there is no limit to the amount one may buy? Who ever looks at those mountains of signed sales slips?) It is wrong to stand up in a "beverage room" in Ontario while having a glass of ale; it is encouraged to sit at a table until the person is so squiffed that, had he been able to stand, he would have stopped long before, or fallen flat on his face. So, too, are our gambling laws ludicrous.

Gambling is considered, in Ontario law, to be sinful. One may not gamble, sell or be found with a sweepstake ticket. Yet thousands of Canadians seem to glory in the sin. They buy Irish hospital sweepstake tickets every year by the hundreds of thousands of dollars (to the enrichment of the Irish hospitals). And when a winning ticket is held the sin, the crime against the law, assumes the dignity of virtue. (Is it not usually so, that anything highly profitable gives respectability?) Wednesday four Ontario residents won $560,000 on Irish hospital sweepstakes for the Epsom Derby. They received the congratulations of friends and neighbours, the envy of those less fortunate—and no visit from the police to confiscate the winning tickets.

Actually, the riches themselves are not illegal, and not merely because riches are above the law. It is illegal to sell sweepstake tickets; it is illegal to be found with them. But it is not illegal to get a windfall . . . tax-free.

Koje Concern

The rioting in the Koje Island camp for Red prisoners of the Korean war; the kidnapping of its former commander; the promises made under extortion by American generals and the subsequent removal of three of these generals and repudiation of their damaging statements; these show that matters were far from being well-handled in Koje. While this remarkable and shaming display was being made, propagandists for the American side were puffing about the great number of prisoners who had become so enamoured of western democracy that they refused to be repatriated.

The whole affair has been shocking Canada is now intimately concerned with Koje, for Canadian soldiers have been sent with British groups into Koje to take part in disciplining and guarding the prisoners. The American high command is determined to bring order out of the chaos at Koje. Do these commands and methods of carrying them out meet with British and Canadian approval? It seems as if British and Canadian troops have been sent in to clear up a mess created by American troops and their commanders.

One cannot avoid a suspicion that the methods of restoring order in the Koje camp, as dictated by American senior commanders, may be specially bitter, to compensate for the American humiliation. But Canadians and Britons have not been responsible for the mess; should they be made the tools of American retaliation? Canada and Britain should ask, if their brawn is being used at Koje, that their experience and brains should also be used. In other words, if Commonwealth troops are being used, the way of using them, the plan and the command of Koje should also be Commonwealth.

If General Mark Clark has considered it advisable to use Commonwealth troops at Koje to bolster or replace American troops, should he not teach the full humiliating lesson to Americans, and let the Commonwealth Division show, in their soldiery, their discipline, their plans, tactics and command, how to do a proper job? As it is now, Canadian and British troops are being used without any special sanction of their governments to clear up a mess of American making; yet they are under American command and plans—and it was American commanders and plans which allowed the chaos at Koje to develop.

British "Immigrants"

We get sick and tired of Britons who have come out to work and live in Canada since the war calling themselves "immigrants." Technically they may be immigrants, since they have emigrated from one sovereign country to another. But Canada is still a part of the British Commonwealth, as Britain is. Canadians are Canadian citizens and British subjects. An Englishman, a Scot or an Ulsterman is a British subject. British subjects do not become "immigrants" in another part of the Commonwealth.

Before the war few people talked the nonsense of British "immigrants." The Canada Citizenship Act has not changed the situation. An Englishman, an Irishman or a Scot who came here to live in other years was referred to not as an "immigrant" but as an Englishman, Irishman, or Scot, from the "Old Country". Small-minded, prejudiced Canadians may refer to British "immigrants" or "Emigrunts"; but these are the kind of people the world over who are suspicious of new faces and resent differences from themselves in dress, manners or speech. It is in the main the new arrivals themselves who refer to themselves as "immigrants."

Perhaps the post-war Britons coming to Canada feel that it flatters their sense of adventure to call themselves immigrants—to heighten the strangeness of the new country. Perhaps they think it placates Canadian national pride. Perhaps it was a mawkish or protective modesty which led them to do it. But many Canadians are dismayed when a Briton parades himself as an "immigrant." Does that mean that the Canadian going to live in England must there call himself an immigrant? He does not, of course. He calls himself a Canadian. Why should therefore new arrivals from England feel it indelicate or a hurt to Canadian sensitivity for them to call themselves Englishmen—until they have become Canadians?

Government Extravagance

As we remarked yesterday in commenting on the Monday by-elections, the Ottawa Government is not as popular as its members seem to think it is. One reason is the extravagant spending at Ottawa, in disdain of the taxpayers who are providing the money. A fantastic example of this is the amount spent last year to send delegates to international conferences: $14,000,000. Civil servants, members of Parliament and Cabinet, and military officers are flying all over the world, conferring on what is sometimes important public business, and doing it at the expense of fourteen million dollars. The public pays the bills. We doubt that Parliament itself knows how much is being spent and for what purposes until the bills come in. Senators are rightly angry about it. It is time that members of Parliament got up from their seats and protested too. That is what the electors have given them seats for.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: How long have public hangings been abolished in Canada?

ANSWER: The last public execution in Canada was the hanging of P. J. Whelan who murdered Thomas D'Arcy McGee, statesman and confederationist. Whelan was hanged on February 11th, 1869, at Ottawa.

A notable public hanging in this district was of Dr. George King who was hanged at Cobourg in June 1859 for poinsoning his wife at Brighton. Ten thousand persons, including some five hundred women, saw the murderer pay the penalty for his crime. Some travelled all night to witness the hanging. So general was the interest in the public spectacle that the Cobourg schools were closed, the pupils being at the hanging.

At such public hangings it was usual for the condemned criminal to gratify his large audience with a speech of repentance. Dr. King obliged. He had insisted on his innocence up to the last day, but the great crowd spurred him to exhortation. He admitted poisoning his wife, and the orderly thousands got their thrill of a death-bed repentance, as Alexander Stewart relates in his "The Life and Trial of William King, M.D." (published in 1859—it was one of three books written about the notorious doctor and his trial.) The hanged man's spiritual adviser, a Rev. Mr. Vanderburg, had the small rural church of Codrington. The Sunday following the hanging, his congregation numbered 1,500 . . . There are more ways than one to fill a church.

HIGHWAYS TOO EXPENSIVE FOR 30 m.p.h.: Driving to Toronto the other day on the dual Queen Elizabeth Highway I was affronted as usual by 30-miles-an-hour signs, for it seems three miles. These are between the Rouge Hills and Scarboro, at a place which I believe is called West Hill or something like it. What bothers me — actually makes me angry as a taxpayer—is that people in this hamlet are spreading out along the Queen Elizabeth highway, parasites on the road. Before the highway was built the hamlet amounted to nothing. Now it has jerry-built stores, a movie, used car lots, a motel, over-night huts and small houses stretching on both sides of the highway for a couple of miles. These of course destroy the usefulness of the Queen Elizabeth Way as a speedy, safe thoroughfare, the very reason it was built.

It would not matter greatly if the Queen Elizabeth Way were an ordinary highway, and the hamlet just growing naturally beside it. But I am told by an engineer that a highway like the Queen Elizabeth Way now costs about a million dollars a mile to build. The taxpayers of this Province, and the taxpayers on gasoline, are not spending a million dollars a mile in order that jerry-built villages will destroy the usefulness of the highway.

When the highway was built the whole hamlet could have been bought up for a small part of a million dollars. It would have been better if the Department of Highways had bought it, razed it, and not had its million-dollar-a-mile highway basely used.

Along other parts of that highway it is forbidden to erect commercial or domestic buildings with access to the highway. And there are barrier poles along the green centre strip between the two roadbeds to prevent people from turning into the highway from side lanes, or turning off into them.

Perhaps such bans and poles at this suburban Toronto hamlet were impossible because it was already incorporated before the road was built. But can nothing be done to stop the village from spreading itself more and more along our million-dollar-a-mile highway?

Incidentally, even a highway like the Peterborough-Lindsay one now costs more than $100,000 a mile to build, I am told.

SIR: Can women sit in the American Congress, the way they can in the Canadian Houses of Parliament?

ANSWER: Yes. The 81st Congress included nine women.

ALPHA: I wonder that you have not said anything about the high rents on George Street. Landlords ask for even a little shop a couple of blocks from Charlotte Street monthly rents so great that the merchants cannot afford to stay in business.

ANSWER: In a footnote to this column a couple of weeks ago I referred to the fact that many old-established merchants on George Street have moved off because they cannot pay the new high rents. However, as long as somebody else is willing to pay them there is no primordial law which requires that owners rent for the smaller sum. Remember that owners of business blocks, like owners of house property, are this month facing the new high tax bills. However, the renters of the business properties also pay a tax, on top of their rents—the business tax.

Not every building owner is extracting the highest possible rents—the City of Peterborough (which owns some George Street property) being among them. I know one landlord of a very nice, completely self-contained apartment on a very pleasant street who is getting only $35 a month for the apartment he rents. It is worth $55 to $60.

I hesitate to talk about high rents in Peterborough when the rent for the land alone on which the Waldorf Astoria hotel stands in New York city is more than $1,600,000 a year.

DEAR ALPHA: Why aren't circuses the way they used to be? When I was a child we would get up before dawn to see the circus come to Peterborough on the rail cars, and then to watch the men drive tent pegs, and to take peeks at the elephants. Nowadays the circuses that come here (when they do come) are not as big, interesting or important.

ANSWER: Perhaps your memory of childhood is larger and pinker than life. But it is true that circuses are changing their natures, except for down-at-the heel ones which ply their routes through small towns.

The Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus (the biggest and best and chief survivor) is now more a stage spectacle (with side-shows) than it is an old-fashioned circus. The circus as we know it in Canada lasted just about a century. Most circuses have now folded; the amalgam that remains has changed its nature in order to get customers.

The first circus came to Peterborough in 1855. Three years later the Sears and O'Connell's Gigantic Show ran into elephant trouble at the river. At the Hunter Street bridge (the circus came via Norwood after a one-day stand there) the county warden refused to let the elephants cross. He feared that the bridge would collapse under their weight. So the elephants had to ford the river—a not difficult task in those days before dams raised the level. The showground was at the corner of Queen and Simcoe Streets. Admission was a shilling. The performers included four horses, two elephants, two wolves, a few monkeys and parrots, a bear and a "horned pig".

* * *

ONE OF THE FIRST circuses in this district was the "Grand Menagerie" which came to Cobourg in September 1840. It advertised itself wisely as performing in Cobourg "By permission of the Police". On the bills (depicting a zebra and a camel) was this description: "This Grand Collection of Beasts, late of N.Y. City Zoological Institute". The 'late' is a fetching adjective to describe scrawny beasts in circuses I used to see in my childhood. It advertised that "The Keeper, Mr. Shaffer, will enter the den of the Lions, Tigers, etc. and fondle and handle them with seeming ease; the perfectly cool and collected manner in which he enters and maintains throughout is perhaps unequalled in the known world, not excepting the celebrated Van Amburgh, who has astonished all Europe in this most daring and unaccountable manner".

I believe that Van Amburgh was himself to be in Cobourg later. The advertisement is reassuring: "The Proprietors would say to the Public that this Exhibition is under the strictest discipline in all its departments, and so entirely foreign in its nature from all Circuses or Mountebank Shows, that it meets with most cordial and general approbation even in the most refined and religious communities—from the fact that it serves to instruct rather than to traduce the nobler qualities of the mind".

One would almost think this to be an advertisement for the side-shows at the Peterborough Exhibition of modern times.

FOR THE RECORD: I am interested to learn that Dr. G. H. Needler of Toronto (and of the Millbrook Needler family) is preparing for publication a book on Mrs. Traill, Mrs. Moodie, Mrs. Stewart, Sam Strickland and the Langtons of Fenelon Falls. He is entitling the book "Otonabee Pioneers"—referring, of course, to the river, not the township. It will begin with Champlain. Professor Needler has told me some highly interesting anecdotes and incidents which his research has unearthed—but it would steal his thunder to repeat them here.

PERMANENT TEMPTATION

Old Latin In New Canada

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

"CIVIS ROMANUS SUM," that proud boast of world citizenship, came to the lips of Canada's defence minister in talking the other day to high school students brought to Ottawa by the Rotary Club. Mr. Claxton, who took his bachelor's degree at McGill University in 1921, admitted, however, that his pronunciation might not be the one currently in vogue.

The minister's predicament is not a new one. Indeed, since the Romans had no talking machines, it is pretty hard to know just how they spoke. The use in modern times of more than one method of pronouncing Latin piles confusion upon doubt.

As well as a literary diction, the Romans had, of course, the colloquial speech of the general public. Mixed with the tongues of many peoples, vulgar Latin evolved into Italian, Spanish, French and Portuguese. English borrowed heavily from the classical vocabulary. Yet Latin survived for centuries as the international language, and it has been kept alive in the Roman Catholic Church.

In the pronunciation of Latin, the English method differs greatly from the so-called Roman method. Its "c" is usually sounded as "s" or "sh" rather than "k". Its "g" is often soft, as in "genius", and its "s" is like "z". The Roman method sounds a long "e" like the "a" in "pale", and a long "i" as in "police". Its "j" is like y", its 'v' like "w", and its "y" like the French "u".

By the English method, Caesar is pronounced 'seezer"; by the Roman, "kaisar". In the continental method the Roman church permits consonants to be pronounced in the national way, so that "c" as in "Cicero" may be "s" in England, "ch" in Italy, "th" in Spain, and "tse" in Germany.

In the schools of this continent, the English method has been largely replaced by the Roman, but survives in proper names, familiar quotations, and scientific and legal terms. Still in common use are such tags as prima facie, vice versa, ipso facto, de jure, modus vivendi, and persona non grata. Latin inscriptions are often carved on public buildings, to the puzzlement of the populace. Latin mottoes are frequently adopted, like Canada's "a mari usque ad mare" or the "per ardua ad astra" of the Royal Canadian Air Force. But most Canadians who have some acquaintance with Roman literature share Mr. Claxton's diffidence about pronunciation.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Ho, everyone that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price . . . Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. (Isa. 55:1, 3.)

Now when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum. . . . And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not.

And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.

And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, That God hath visited his people. (Luke 7:1, 11-16.)

Letter To The Editor

NO ALDERMAN SPOKE IN FAVOUR

Sir: Having attended the last two Council meetings, opened to the citizens of Peterborough, I feel there is not much use, attending these open meetings to public, because they are cut and dried before-hand.

The citizens of Peterborough do not know where our Aldermen stand in case of petitions etc. It may be they are all in accord but on the other hand, it seems to me, they are afraid to get up and speak their mind so that the public, in general, know where they stand on petitions. I am referring to at this time, to the one covering the Hatton property, of which no alderman spoke in favour of it.

I have walked all over Peterborough to find suitable accommodation within my means of income, but, have yet to find one and I'm quite sure there are thousands like me.

We have a Municipal Act which is quite old and out of date with our times, in it. It states that you must vote for at least 4 candidates. This is telling us what we have to do, but being a Democratic country and one of free speech, I feel that we should delete the words, "four Candidates" and insert, in their place, "two or more Candidates" but not exceeding four." This will give a wider spread to voter's choice, and he will not be voting for a man he does not want to vote for.

So "wake up" all you fair-minded people of Peterborough, and let's have your opinions. We have sat back, long enough now, time has come for us to push ahead.

WESTMINSTER FLOWER SHOW

Making Rain On Big Scale Practised In Western U.S.

By BURTON THOMPSON

DENVER, Colo. — (AP)—Rainmaking again is a big thing this year in the western United States.

Around 200,000,000 acres already are targeted for rainmaking so far this summer. Projects last summer covered something like 300,000,000 acres. Predictions are for a 1952 summer total of 400,000,000 acres.

Weather modification efforts cost an estimated $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 last year.

If, as some say, the average cost of rainmaking is a cent an acre, this year's work would be $4,000,000 for 400,000,000 acres.

Those who pay for weather modification—farmers, ranchers, power companies and communities—appear to be considerably more selective this year. They still want attempts made to increase moisture fall. But things seem calmer than in last year's big rush.

Seeding methods remain about the same. Dry ice, silver iodide and other compounds are spread from planes and ground generators.

No one knows for sure whether rain or snow has been increased in vast reaches of the west as result of cloud seeding.

Colorado A. and M. College and Oregon State College investigators undertook some checking and concluded in general there was no apparent increase in precipitation or significant departure from normal in the projects studied.

Long-Range View

However, the studies were comparatively short term. Meteorologists, physicists, rainmakers and those who back the projects want long-range studies to evaluate results. Some already are under way.

"The greatest need is comprehensive study, based on sound scientific principles, which will determine the practical possibility and make available for publication, without bias, the record of failures as well as successes in cloud seeding," said Dr. Harry Wexler of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Dr. Vincent Shaefer, General Electric research chemist whose experiments set modern-day rainmaking efforts in motion, sounded a middle-of-the-road view:

"Now it will be up to the farmer, I think . . . whether or not we just have another experience like we have had so many times in the past when so-called rainmakers would drive up with their covered wagon . . . start out some evil-smelling chemicals, and then take credit for anything that might happen along about that time.

"I personally think we are beyond that stage. I think we know enough about precipitation mechanism that if we want to, we can eventually do most anything we want with the weather (but) . . . we are not going to get very far unless every one is willing to go at it in the right way."

Announce Zarubin Recalled To Moscow

LONDON, May 29—(CP)—The Russian Embassy announced today that Georgi Zarubin, the Soviet ambassador since 1946, has been recalled to Moscow to take up a new post.

A Soviet Embassy spokesman said there was no information on what new job Zarubin will be given.

"No appointment of his successor was announced," the spokesman added.

A spokesman said Zarubin will be leaving within the next few days.

Zarubin, 52, former ambassador to Canada, has already informed the British Foreign Office of his intended departure, it was learned.

Approve Finance Bill After 11 Weary Days

LONDON, May 30—(AP)—A weary House of Commons, after 11 days of steady work, Wednesday finaly completed approval of the government's finance bill shortly after dawn.

The bill, which authorizes tax-raising methods proposed in the new budget of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, R. A. Butler, was gone over line by line. The House was sitting as a committee of the whole. Passage from here on is a formality.

Thirty-nine times during the 11 days of discussion the Labor opposition challenged the Conservative government on provisions of the bill. The government won each time, never by less than a 10-vote margin.

The finance bill calls for a record peacetime collection of £4,240,000,000. The chief new money-raisers are a 30-per-cent excess-profits tax and an increase in the gasoline tax of about one-third.

Alberta Pioneer Samuel Rimbey Dies At 84

RIMBEY, Alta., May 30 (CP)—Samuel Newton Rimbey, 84, the last survivor of three brothers who led a trek from Kansas to Alberta more than half a century ago died Wednesday.

With his brothers Ben and James, Rimbey organized 300 persons into an "immigration" party that came to central Alberta in 1900.

One of many parties that came to this province at that time from the United States mid-west in search of land at a low price, the Rimbey outfit founded this settlement in Blindman valley 70 miles southwest of Edmonton.

Ben died in 1946 at 85 and James died several years earlier.

After taking off one crop in the Lacombe area, the Rimbeys made a 30-mile trip by wagon through the virgin bushland of spruce and poplar and established homesteads on land where the town of Rimbey now stands.

Original Name

Originally the town, just east of the Rocky Mountain foothills, was named Kansas Ridge. Its population today is about 750

Sam Rimbey, a native of Murrayville, Ill., had gone to Kansas shortly before his move to Alberta.

Survivors include his widow, four sons, three daughters, 20 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren, most of them living in central Alberta.

Sam Rimbey retired in 1946 and since then has spent much of his time at his hobby—caring for sick and injured animals.

Davey Waiting Decision Following Fight

SYRACUSE, May 30 — (AP)—Chuck Davey won't know if he's still unbeaten until Bob Christenberry gets a full report today from his deputy New York State boxing commissioner.

For about 30 minutes Thursday night Davey had lost a split decision to Carmen Basilio of Canastota, N. Y., in a stunning upset. Then the win was "voided" by Thomas Graulty of Troy, N. Y., the deputy-commissioner in charge.

Graulty said he voided the decision because Referee Joe Palmer had not marked his score card completely before giving his verdict, which favored Basilio.

Davey, unbeaten in 33 previous pro starts, won the vote of only one judge in the odd balloting. Judge Harvey Smith saw it for Davey 5-4-1. Judge Dick Fazio called it 5-5 in rounds but voted for Basilio on points 6-5.

Produced Confusion.

Palmers' card produced all the confusion. The 6,500 fans went into an uproar when his vote was announced as 3-3 with four rounds even. On points he gave Basilio an 8-6 edge. With that vote went the original decision.

After examining the cards, Graulty voided the decision on the grounds that Palmers card was incomplete. The referee voted the second and ninth rounds to Davey but failed to make any notation for points.

The referee could offer no explanation of why he failed to mark any points on the two rounds.

In New York, decisions are based on rounds won with points used for supplemental scoring. If a fighter wins a round by a shade he gets one point. If it is more decisive he gets two points. In case of a knockdown, a fighter usually is awarded three ponts.

Davey weighed 147, Basilio 146.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

As far as the annual President-Vice-president games are concerned, for this season, all we can say is that they have been played. What happened out on the greens last evening we don't know — didn't wait to see—it was too chilly. A few rinks played out the schedule, but many did not show up. It's not lawn bowling weather.

The lady bowlers got away to a good start Thursday afternoon when about 50 members were on hand for their official opening.

Mrs. N. Killingbeck, president of the ladies' club, welcomed all and hoped they would enjoy their summer sport; at the same time she made the announcement that the ladies would hold "a draw from the boon" tournament each Thursday at 2:00 p.m.

Notices have been sent out for the annual Stratton Trophy tournament. It's for men's rinks and the date is June 25 at 1:30 o'clock.

That winds up bowling for this week. The schedule proper begins Monday night.

Leafs Purchase Marv Rickert

BUFFALO, May 30 (CP). — Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Baseball League have purchased veteran outfielder Marv Rickert from Baltimore Orioles, television viewers heard Thursday night. Rickert led the league in homers last year with 35.

General manager Frank Pollock of the Leafs indirectly confirmed the purchase when he was being interviewed by sportscaster Chuck Healy prior to the Toronto-Buffalo game.

Apparently Pollock had been withholding the announcement.

When Healy asked: 'I hear you have purchased Marv Rickert?" Pollock replied: "How did you know? That's supposed to be for release in the afternoon papers Friday."

Purchase price is reported at $20,000.

Bantam Wolves Honored At Hockey 'Do'

Spoils for the victors were distributed in the Empress Hotel, last evening, for the Empress-sponsored Otonabee Wolves, Ontario bantam "B" hockey champions. The players, many of their parents and a number of guests attended the dinner given by Dave Kerr, who had backed the club in provincial playdowns.

Al Watkins of the O. M. H. A. executive presented team captain Bob Revoy with the A. A. Morrison Trophy, emblematic of the Ontario title. President Don Smedmor of the P. M. H. A. presented the Wolves with the Wm. Andrews Trophy for capturing the city crown before going into provincial playdowns. Team manager George Heron then presented the players with windbreakers, given by a number of city and district friends. The players also received group pictures of the winning club.

Present To Coach.

Bob Revoy and Larry Lonsberry on behalf of the players gave a present to Coach George Heron, the latter's trophy then being presented by Dave Kerr to Gary Darling as teams most valuable player. Thanks was expressed by Mr. Heron to the players, their parents, the sponsor, donors, associations and the referees and press.

Mr. Kerr spoke thoughtfully on the value of teamplay and sportsmanship and its lesson early in life which is of more value than a trophy. He praised the untiring work of George Heron and he extended congratulations to the boys, and was in turn given a framed photograph of the team. The captain also extended thanks to the coach, the sponsor and the parents.

Winning players were: Art Hamilton, Jim Heron, Bob Revoy, Larry Lonsberry, Scott Sayers, Ken Darling, Hayden Scott, Terry McIlwain, Gary Darling, Jim Fraser, Eric Batten, Doug Ruttan, Bob Little, Ray Sullivan, Chris Heffernan, Cliff Chase and Tom Kennedy.

St. Peter's Athletes In Meet At Varsity

St. Michael's won out on aggregate points at the annual Ontario Catholic Athletic Conference track and field meet yesterday at Toronto Varsity Stadium. Gary Schreider paced the Irish to the victory with a fine all-round performance, being the outstanding athlete at the meet.

Five St. Peter's High School boys took part and made a good showing against strong opposition. Jack Richardson came first in the senior running broad jump with 17 feet 11½ inches. In the intermediate competitions, Terry Fitzpatrick was first in the running broad jump with a neat 18 feet seven inches, and he came second in the 200 yard race. Dick Foley of the intermediates placed second in the shot put. Jack Martyn won the junior 100 in 11 seconds, and was second in the 220, while R. Board was first in the hop, step and jump as well as second in the running broad and running high jumps.

New Soccer Entry

Trenton soccer team is coming into the Eastern Ontario Soccer League as a late starter, and the schedule is being revised. This is the league which Peterborough U.E.W. won last year, the local team going on to take Ontario intermediate honors.

Kingston United F. C. plays a league game here Saturday (tomorrow) at six p.m. in Morrow Park against U.E.W. The latter won their previous game 4-0 in Kingston and a victory for the Peterborough pack here Saturday would keep them in front of the circuit.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The seniors did it last year and we can do it this time—that's the feeling among the Filter Queen junior "A" lacrossers here. They mean they expect to go west comes autumn to battle for the Canadian junior lacrosse crown, The Minto Cup. But Lou and his club have a lot of opposition stacking up this semester as all clubs in their good grouping are bolstering aplenty. Young Petes open a week from tomorrow in Brampton and are at home then two nights later to Dundas. Meantime, a practise is slated for 10 a.m. on June 1. Several newcomers in the local lineup to make up for four who graduated last fall via the over-age route.

St. Catharines' scribe writes in his column: "Peterborough Timbermen are still breezing along the undefeated trail with a win over Toronto and two straight over Owen Sound Crescents. But they will be in for a stern battle Friday when they play host to the Hamilton Tigers. At the present time most boxla guessperts are setting aside the O.L.A. senior finals for Peterborough and Hamilton. Could St. Catharines prove to be the dark horse of the seven-team loop? Time will tell." Yes, indeed, and we're not going out on the limb at such an early date to pick any finalists, or even semi-finalists, in the senior setup.

* * * * * *

A Real Test For Both

However, the game here tonight betwixt Tigers and Timbermen shapes up as a real test for both of these undefeated squads. The Hamilton outfit over the years has been a powerful one and should be as strong as ever this year, at least. They play a rugged brand and have a sound mixture of youth and husky veterans—including large Merv McKenzie. When he bumps 'em they stay bumped for awhile. The Thorpe team should be at full strength for this 8:45 tilt in Miller Bowl, and the scrap rates a real crowd as the locals go after their fourth straight gutted-stick win of the young season.

* * * * * *

Dave Kerr threw the Otonabee Wolves and their parents a nice spread at the Empress last e'en. On account of he was quite interested in the young district squad which captured the city title and went on to capture the provincial bantam "B" puck crown last winter. Al Watkins, as O.M.H.A. representative, and P.M.H.A. prexy Don Smedmor presented trophies, and the boys received windbreakers and group photos to wind up an enjoyable time. Nice to see the parents on deck and they were most faithful all through the long cold winter in hiking their offspring around to hockey games and cheering 'em on. Such kids are most fortunate. Coach George Heron and the young champs deservedly came in for much praise.

Kicking Fitba' Around

A couple of soccer contests coming up Saturday night here, both at six sharp. A loop match in Morrow Park has Kingston United meeting Peterborough U.E.W. and another win for the latter will firmly entrench them in top spot. They won this circuit last year and took Ontario honors. Revised schedule out shortly. Trenton being an added starter. In King Edward Park, Lindsay plays a Peterborough squad an exhibition, the locals being pretty much of an all-star team for the game. Following this, they'll arrange to set up the city and district soccer circuit again with perhaps three local teams and one from Lindsay comprising the league. A big turnout at their last practice, so there's plenty of soccer material available.

Over at the Bowl which runs by the river, U.E. men softballers uncorked a hot attack to blast Lakefield 22-5 last night and take a grip on first place. Howie Dalton twirled in steady manner and had ace support. Hal Grafstein, Tony Giardino and Bernie Robson led the clouting brigade against three Lakefield flingers. Nightcap was a nifty with East City Orphans edging Revoy's 6-5 in a twirlers' duel betwixt Lefty Doris and Earl Revoir. A nip-and-tucker throughout with fine fielding and not too many real solid slaps at the apple. Games next Tuesday: Revoy's vs. Lindsay, and Lakefield vs. the Orphans.

East City Gets Close One From Revoy's

Softball fans in fair numbers who lingered to witness the nightcap of Thursday's men's doubleheader, were treated to the finest game of the season to date, as East City edged Revoy's 6-5 after nine full innings of hot action.

The game provided thrills of every description with good steady twirling on the part of both Lefty Doris for the winners and Earl Revoir for the Motor lads. Despite a few excusable bobbles by both teams, each came up with fine fielding plays, timely hitting and smart baserunning. Revoy's outhit their rivals 10 to 6 and came close to victory with a late rally in the final frame to creep close, but Doris fanned Don Whalen to end it with two men on the runways.

East City took an early two-run lead in the second on hits by Dave Casey and Murray Byrnes, an out and Spencer's life; but George Hawkes' boys came for one in the home half when Mackness completed the circuit on a long drive. Casey's triple, Jaquith's life and Spencer's safety gave the Sullivan lads a 4-1 in the fourth and Revoy's scored one again on Mackness' second hit and a safe bingle by Perc. Elmhirst through short. Each team tallied a pair in the sixth. A temporary wild streak proved costly to Revoir this frame as he walked four with two scoring on an out and a fielder's choice. Mather's life and Cowie's rap followed by Mackness' long double put the Hawkes' crew in there again, but East City held off the visitors in a photo finish.

Don Hope caught a fine game for Revoy's while Murray Byrnes teamed up well for Red Sullivan's gang with slim Lefty Doris. Fielding features were supplied by Cowie, Elmhirst, Wyatt and Mackness with all the boys looking good.

Foresters Triumph

Foresters fought from behind at Ashburnham Park last night to grab a 12-10 Civic League softball win over Post Office. Down 7-1 in the second, they got four each in the third and sixth, with three in the fourth, while Posties were held to two in the third and one more in the fourth. Moore, Wilshaw and Wilson had two hits each for the losers, while Holland led the winners with three for four, and Parnell's two included a homer. Wilson and Maloney fanned six each. Teams:

Post Office: Coombs c, Harrison c, Maher 1b, Loucks 2b, Reid ss, Smith cf, Moore 3b, Wilshaw lf, Wilson p, Thirnbeck rf.

Foresters: Doughty c, Parnell cf, Tyndall ss, Holland 1b, Ferguson p, Maloney p, Miller 2b, Murray 3b, Kidd rf, Hobson lf.

B'nai B'rith Wins

Bloom's two-run homer with one out in the last inning Thursday night gave B'nai B'rith a 12-11 Civic Softball League victory over Provincial Police. It was a tight one all the way with the winners scoring nine in a big first, being held scoreless then till they got one in the sixth, and then the big homer to take it all in the seventh. Police started strong, too, with six in the first, adding one next time up and they finished in threatening style with two each in the sixth and seventh. They had 20 hits to 22 and but one miscue to three by the victors. Teams:

Police—Mohns, Phillips, Menzies, Eady, Wainman, McGillen, Godfrey, Rowe, Plumtree.

B'nai B'rith — Evans, Hughie, Welsh, Collins, Brierly, Bloom, Tully, Pagett, Peters.

Umpires—Adamson and Collins.

Q.A. and K.E. Victors

Queen Alex seniors of the School Softball League yanked out a 17-16 win over Prince of Wales with a four-run splash in the final frame yesterday. It was their fourth in as many starts and they bingled three twirlers regularly, while Druce took over on their mound from Johnston in the third.

In girls' school softball yesterday, King Edward edged out King George 14-13 with a run in the last of the fifth after a keen tilt, scoring five each in the first and third, and three in the second. The losers had seven in the second and three apiece in the first and fifth.

LADIES SECTION: On Thursday afternoon Mrs. L. Browne and Mrs. H. Woodcox tied for low gross in the 18-hole players section. Mrs. Browne received a china piece of Crown Staffordshire and Mrs. Woodcox was credited with a point. Mrs. R. Miller won the ball for hidden hole competition.

Mrs. H. Hamley and Hrs H. Allison received points for the hidden holes competition in the 9-hole players group and Mrs. J. Gatfield won a ball and also won the first round of the handicap trophy.

BUSINESS GIRLS: About 50 B. G.'s teed off Thursday evening and although the weather was chilly it kept the mosquitoes away, thus making for better scoring. Roma Brindle won the prize for putting and Margaret Duvall won the prize for honest scoring.

Next Week, both the spring trophy competition and the handicap trophy competitions will start. The spring trophy will be the scores from the next four weeks, starting June 5.

A delicious lunch was served to the B.G.s and Roma Brindle and Ev Scott served at the table.

Mrs. Reid has asked that the girls and ladies take special note of the invitation tournaments now listed on the bulletin board in the locker rooms.

Enjoy the club and make use of its many facilities—one of which are the fine meals now served by "Jack and Lil"—they will make you welcome anytime.

U.E. Takes Fray By 22 to 5 Over Lakefield

Jim Carver's strong U.E.W. squad racked up their second win of the men's softball season on Thursday at the Bowl, defeating Lakefield 22-5 in the curtain-raiser of the regular twin-bill.

Howie Dalton toed the slab for the winners and had little difficulty over the route, aided by good support from his mates. The power of U.E.'s offensive again manifested itself as, led by Harold Grafstein with a homer, two doubles and five runs batted in, the men of Carver smote three Lakefield hurlers for a total of 17 hits. Tony Giardino drove in three on as many hits and sparkled in the centre garden while Bernie Robson socked three safeties, one a double, and drove in as many runs.

Erratic support afield spelled doom for Hinton early, despite a gallant effort on his part to stem the tide; he yielded to Kevin Heffernan with two out in the third who in turn gave way to Dick McCracken.

Giardino's diving catch of Blewett's long drive to centre in the eighth was a thriller. Bill Twist shone in centre for Merchants and his catch off Legrow in the seventh was a gem. Others who fielded well were John Cupolo, Reg. Leether and Bruce Taylor, while Larkman snared a beauty to rob Legrow of a possible homer in the ninth.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Frank Selke ended a 20-year partnership with Conn Smythe six years ago today by resigning as publicity director of the Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League to join the Montreal Canadiens' organization. Later in 1946 Selke succeeded Tommy Gorman as manager of the Canadiens, who last won the Stanley Cup in 1946.

Boston Dumps Senators 1-0 As Indians Maul Tigers

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Wild-Man Maury McDermott, erratic Boston Red Sox lefty, has joined Bobby Feller, Bob Cain and Art Houtteman in the American League's one-hit club. For years McDermott alternated between being a new Lefty Grove and a new Rex Barney. Thursday night he played the Grove role as he faced only 27 Washington batters and beat the Senators 1-0. For a change he walked only one.

Only Mel Hoderlein's single with one out in the fourth wiped out his hopes of matching Virgil Trucks' no-hitter. The string bean Red Sox pitcher also walked Eddie Yost in the first inning but both base-runners were erased on double plays.

Only four batters, including Hoderlein, hit the ball out of the infield, as he struck out seven in a magnificent job, his third win of the year.

A base on balls to Claude Vollmer and Fred Hatfield's triple gave Boston its run in the sixth inning.

Enjoyed Field Day

While pitching dominated the night game at Fenway Park, the batters enjoyed a field day in Detroit where Cleveland mauled the Tigers, 11-4.

Harry Simpson, whose 1951 flop embarrassed general manager Hank Greenberg no end, had four hits to take the league lead with 52 hits.

A year ago the boys were lambasting Greenberg for keeping Simpson (.229) and trading Minnie Minoso (.326) to Chicago. Now Minoso is way down yonder in the .230s, riding the bench because of an injured foot, and Simpson is blasting extra-basers with a .306.

One of Simpson's four hits was a bases-loaded homer that greeted reliefer Ken Johnson, making his first appearance of the year in the eighth.

Al Rosen, league leader in runs batted in and home runs, drove home four with two doubles and a single as the Indians chased Art Houtteman and hung the loss on reliefer Dick Littlefield. Bobby Feller coasted home after a rough start with a nine-hitter for his fifth win.

A Little Luck

New York Yankees had to use a little "Yankee luck" to get past Philadelphia, 3-2, even with Vic Raschi, the A's jinx pitcher, on the mound. An eighth-inning error by first baseman Bill Hitchcock let Phil Rizzuto score from second base with the winning run off Alex Kellner.

With the help of Hitchcok's fumble of Yogi Berra's grounder, Rahchi ran his lifetime record against the A's to 23-2. He hasn't lost to them since Aug. 13, 1950.

New York Giants' seven game win streak was snapped by Philadelphia, 6-5. Combined with Brooklyn's 7-3 edge over Boston, the Giants' National League lead was clipped to 1½ games.

Ralph Kiner's fifth homer and Murry Dickson's pitching reversed Pittsburgh's backward motion to whip Cincinnati 4-2.

St. Louis and Chicago in the National and American were not scheduled.

Back In Time?

Bob Simpson, chosen a member of Canada's Olympic basketball team, said Thursday in Ottawa he will be back Aug. 19 from Helsinki in time to play with Ottawa Rouhgriders in their opening Big Four football game. He is slated to fly to Europe July 4 with Tillsonburg Livingstons. The Roughriders won the professional football title of Canada last fall.

Toronto Leafs Wallop Buffalo 8-2

By The Associated Press.

Duke Markell was peeved when St. Louis Browns optioned him to Toronto Maple Leafs. But instead of sulking the rookie right-hander is pitching some of the best baseball in the International League.

Markell, born in France, turned in his sixth victory against only two defeats Thursday night as the Leafs defeated Buffalo Bisons 8-2. He fanned eight and blanked the Bisons until the ninth, when Don Lund cracked a two-run homer. Markell helped his own cause with a double and single.

Markell won 13, lost 19 and fanned 211 batters at Oklahoma City of the Texas League last year. He spent spring training with the Browns and appeared in a few games. Markell claimed he didn't receive a fair chance to make the grade when the Browns sent him out. The way the Duke is pitching he'll be back with the Browns before the season ends.

Downed By Wings

The triumph enabled Leafs to tie Syracuse Chiefs for third place. The Chiefs were trounced 11-1 by the second-place Rochester Red Wings.

Rochester collected only eight hits but they included three home runs and a pair of doubles. Biggest blow of the night was Lou Ortiz' grand-slam homer in the sixth inning. Rookie Ray Jablonski and pitcher Jack Collum also homered for the Red Wings.

Collum scattered seven hits in posting his first victory of the season. He walked five and fanned four.

Games between Montreal and Springfield and Baltimore and Ottawa were rained out.

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

Royal Canadian Golf Association officials said Thursday at Montreal that big Jim Ferrier, the transplanted Australian from San Francisco, will return to Canada for the Canadian open tournament this year and try to become the first golfer to take the Canadian championship three years straight.

Ferrier has informed the association he will be at the Winnipeg St. Charles Club for the tournament July 16-19. He won the title in 1950 at Royal Montreal and repeated last year at Toronto Mississauga.

In almost 50 years of competition for the champion, no golfer has scored a consecutive triple.

Leo Diegel won the title four times but there was a three-year spread between his double wins of 1924-25 and 1928-29. Tommy Armour won three times, well spaced.

The moustache of Ezzard Charles is again beginning to annoy the manager of heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott.

Felix Boccicchio, the manager, said in Atlantic City Thursday he will demand that Charles shave off the moustache before coming into the ring at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium June 5 for the 15-round title fight with Walcott.

When Walcott took the crown from Charles in Pittsburgh last July, Bocchicchio raised a bit of a rhubarb about the moustache. The Pennsylvania Boxing Commision allowed Charles to trim it down a bit.

Bocchicchio said a moustache trim will not be enough—he wants the whole thing shaved off.

Cincinnati Reds Thursday announced the purchase of pitcher Phil Haugstad from Brooklyn Dodgers in a straight cash deal. His record last year was 0-1.

Defending champion Dick Chapman and the United States amateur champion, Billy Maxwell, were eliminated Thursday from the British amateur golf tournament at Prestwick, Scotland, by a retired highland army major, critically injured six months ago, in a pair of resounding upsets. The giant-killing act was done by David Blair, 34. Former champion Frank Stranahan is still in the running.

What the well-dressed umpire doesn't wear was seen Thursday at New York's Yankee Stadium—to the delight of the crowd.

The four arbiters appeared on the field for the New York-Philadelphia game in civilian clothes when the baggage handling company refused to take the umpires' stuff, which arirved from Boston with the Philadelphia trunks, because there were no claims checks.

Their equipment finally arrived at the start of the second inning and they made changes in the Yankee dugout.

W.A. Celebrates 25th Birthday

BEWDLEY, May 30 (ENS). — The W.A. of St. Anne's Anglican Church, Bewdley, celebrated its 25th anniversary Monday afternoon. The auxiliaries from Harwood and Gore's Landing had been invited and about 45 were present.

Guests were welcomed by Mrs. P. H. Stalter of Bewdley. The Rev. J. M. Crisall of Port Hope, who was rector of St. Annes 25 years ago when the Church of England was commenced in Bewdley, was present.

Mrs. Harry Goss, president of the local W.A. outlined a history of the Bewdley W.A. During this time a moment of silence was observed in honor of three faithful wardens deceased. They were Messrs. Fred Rowson, William Dixon and Steven Perrin. About eight original members of the W.A. were present, Mrs. G. Byers being the eldest member.

The Rev. A. W. Smith of Gore's Landing and the Rev. T. A. Nind of Port Hope, brought congratulatory messages. Greetings from the Gore's Landing and Harwood Auxiliaries by their respective presidents, Mrs. Ruby Meggs and Mrs. Wallie Young, were voiced.

Also on the program was a solo by Miss Muriel Young of Harwood, a reading by Mrs. Kemp of Gore's Landing and a solo by Mrs. Ansell of Bewdley. On behalf of Harwood ladies, Mrs. Reilly made the presentation of a hymn book and Miss Alice Harris for Gore's Landing presented an apron sewn with silver coins.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Boulton and Mrs. Crisall. Mrs. Alex Dixon of Port Hope, one of the original members, had the honor of cutting the cake.

New Baby Crop

BOSTON, May 30 (AP)—The crop of new babies may reach 4,000,000 in the United States this year, Dr. Martha May Eliot, chief of the U.S. Children's Bureau, said.

Granted Entry

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—President Truman signed a bill Thursday to let 386 European refugees who sailed to the United States in sloops and schooners apply for admission as immigrants under the Displaced Persons Law. They are natives of Estonia, Latvia, Finland, Sweden, Poland and Russia.

Confiscate Cognac

PROVIDENCE, R.I., May 30—(AP)—Customs men Thursday night confiscated 84 bottles of choice—and undeclared — cognac and brandy they found buried in the coal bunkers of the Spanish freighter Monte Mylhacen, ostensibly carrying a cargo of pig iron.

Foreign Travel Boom

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—Government experts predicted Thursday a foreign travel boom that will send a record-breaking 750,000 Americans overseas in 1952. The figure does not include travellers to Mexico and Canada. Last year tourists numbered nearly 700,000.

Leading Field For Auto Race

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30 (AP)—Freddie Agabashian of Albany, Calif., today led the fastest 33-car field to the starting lineup for the 36th annual 500-mile auto race.

He was shoe-horned into a red and yellow race car only 29½ inches high—a Cumimns Diesel special that was the first oil-burner to win the pole position in the Memorial Day classic.

Back in 19th position was the first foreign driver in the race since 1946, European champion Alberto Ascari of Milan, Italy, in a V-12 Ferrari.

Alongside Agbashian in the front row, in positions they won with fast qualifying runs, were Andy Linden of Los Angeles in a super-charged four - cylinder Miracle Power Special and Jack McGrath of Pasadena, Calif., in a Hinkle Special.

The consensus at the pre-race drivers' meeting Thursday was that McGrath, Gabashian and Ascari will be the men to beat. There also was considerable enthusiasm for the rebuilt Novi V-8's piloted by Chet Miller of Glendale, Calif., and Duke Nalon of Fort Worth, Tex.

Staying Illegally

TOKYO, May 30—(AP)—The government officially told the Russian mission today in effect that it is staying here illegally. There was no reaction from the Russians. The ministry of Foreign Affairs notified the Russians "the office of the Soviet member, Allied Council for Japan, ceased to exist as from the same date" the Allied occupation ended — April 28.

Actress Finally Lives Down Grapefruit

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 30—(AP)—Mae Clarke has finally lived down the moment when she allowed James Cagney to push a grapefruit in her face. That was for the unforgettable scene in "Public Enemy" in 19?'

Now that her film career is receiving a new spurt of activity, she has finally been able to escape the results of that scene. Producers have been casting her in roles as respectable matrons and nurses after years of typing her as a gun moll.

Miss Clarke now is a regular employee at the Family Theatre, a Roman Catholic group which produces devotional radio and television programs. She gets leave of absence whenever a movie job comes up.

Rough Start

"I was getting started in pictures," recalled Miss Clarke, now an attractive 41. "The part wasn't a big one, because Jean Harlow and Joan Blondell were the female stars. But it was an important picture at a major studio, so I took it.

"One day I was doing a scene with a Jimmy Cagney at the breakfast table. The drop man had put some grapefruit out, and I noticed the director, Bill Wellman, and Cagney were conferring and looking at me. Then they came over and told me what they wanted to do.

"I didn't want to do it, but I also didn't want to hold up production and harm my career. So I agreed . . ."

Would she do it again?

"Absolutely not," she answered with emphasis.

"The grapefruit scene had a bad effect on my career. From then on, I was cast principally as a moll. I played other roles, but that was the way producers thought of me."

SPRAY MACHINES—These 20 single-engined planes left Montreal's Dorval Airport recently on their way to the Upsalquitch river in New Bruswisk for the largest forest-spraying operation in Canadian history. They arrived from Watetown and Rochester, N.Y., where they made their 21st refuelling stop on the trip from Yakima, Wash. The spraying operation was organized jointly by the New Brunswick government and the New Brunswick International Paper Company in an attempt to check a widespread invasion of budworm menacing 300 square miles of forest containing valuable pulp wood.

Millbrook Guild Plans Three June Projects

MILLBROOK, May 30 (ENS)—Mrs. Charles Brackenridge was hostess to the women of the Guild of St. Thomas' Anglican Church on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Percy Hamilton, the president, conducted the opening.

A letter was read from the Rev. A. A. Chate thanking the Guild and W.A. for their help to the Rural School of Sociology for thealogical students held in the parish of Cavan early in the month. The members of these societies had contributed greatly to the success of the school, he said. A letter from the Rev. Allan Read of Mono Mills was also read in which he thanked the ladies for their hospitality, their interest and co-operation in the work of the school.

A motion to give $200 to the wardens of St. Thomas' for church purposes was passed unanimously. Details were completed for three different projects. A sale of home-made baking and candy is to be held on June 7 in the waiting-room. On June 12 the Durham Film Board is showing an educational picture in the Parish Hall. Radio artists are putting on a benefit musical evening for the redecorating of the churches of Cavan parish on June 13. The concert is to be held in Millbrook Town Hall with Gus Ambrose as master of ceremonies, John Ambrose tenor, George Anderson trumpeter with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, and with Tiny Tommy as guest pianist. There will also be group musical numbers. Each Guild member was given tickets to sell for the concert. Mrs. A. A. Chate and Mrs. D. R. Fowler served refreshments.

Keeps Police Busy

CHICAGO, May 30. (AP)—Police reported today that a youth seized in an investigation of a car theft Wednesday escaped from two officers, followed them to a police station, and re-swiped the car they had recovered from him—all while he was handcuffed. But the officers recaptured Gerald Vaughn, 17, at the home of a friend.

British Farmer Defends Hen

CHICHESTER, England, May 30 (Reuters)—Wilfred Hutchings defiantly stood in his barnyard Thursday and defended his claim that his hen Duplicate has laid 360 eggs in 156 days—a world's record.

With Duplicate, a plump, 10-month-old North Holland Blue, clucking approval, he invited W. F. Maynard, Canadian poultry expert who called the feat "preposterous and impossible," to come see for himself.

"Duplicate may not be recognized champ since she didn't lay her eggs in official trials, but she laid them all right," he told a reporter.

He invited local experts to check her performance.

One, a farm magazine reporter, D. De Saulles, Thursday backed up Hutchings but sympathized with Maynard.

"I wouldn't have believed it either if I hadn't watched her," he said.

"I watched her for two days recently. She laid two eggs one day and three the next."

Urge OHA Recognize Objections To Playing

HAMILTON, May 30 (CP)—The Hamilton conference af the United Church of Canada Thursday urged the Ontario Hockey Associatio to "recognize the rights of Christian coonscience" by ruling that no teams be obliged to play Sunday hockey.

The recommendation was made in the report of the evangelism and social service committee and proposed by the Guelph Presbytery.

The conference also urged that teams requesting to be left off Sunday schedules be allowed to remain off.

The Guelph Biltmore Juniors — winners of the Memorial Cup — objected during the hockey season to playing one game on a Sunday.

Bailieboro W.I. Plans July Cooking School

BAILIEBORO, May 30—(ENS) —The Bailieboro Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. W. C. Jewison on Tuesday afternoon Arrangements were made for 10 ladies to attend the district annual being held at Elizabethville on Wednesday. It was decided to hold a cooking school demonstration on July 17 and invite some neighboring Women's Institutes.

A letter of thanks was acknowledged from the Crippled Children's Fund for a donation.

Mrs. Robert Hazeldon was elected first vice-president, that office being not filled since the annual meeting.

It was announced that the June meeting would be held at the cottage owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Howson at Bewdley on June 19, when the Roseneath Branch will be guests of the local institute.

The program was in charge of Mrs. H. C. Howson. Readings were given by Mrs. A. Watt, Mrs. H. Yarr, Mrs. Hugh Fallis. The guest speaker was the Rev. W. H. Heustin of Centerville who spoke on "Citizenship". A vote of thanks to the speaker was tendered by Mrs. C. Barnard and to the hostess by Mrs. Dawson Rutherford. A duet was sung by Misses Mildred and Iosbel Kidd.

Some books for the Bailieboro School were presented to the teacher, Miss M. Rose, by Mrs. R. Kidd, president.

Parliamentary Briefs

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP)—Defence Production Minister Howe said Thursday that there is not much hope of relaxing controls on steel at least until Canadian production enters the fourth quarter next September.

The minister told the Commons that there has been some easing in the supply of reinforcement steel but supply of construction steel and heavy steel plate is still "difficult."

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP) — The collection of taxes for the federal government and the completion of forms for the Bureau of Statistics are "duties of citizenship," Finance Minister Abbott said Thursday.

He made the statement in the Commons after Gordon Graydon (P.C.-Peel) protested that an increasing load is being placed on small businesses and agriculture by government departments.

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP)—Canada is making inquiries concerning reports that martial law has been declared in some sections of South Korea, but so far has no confirmation, External Affairs Minister Pearson said Thursday in the Commons.

Describe Penal Changes Making Prison Life Easier

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP)—Life in Canadian penitentiaries is becoming easier.

Prisoners have been given an increase in pay and are allowed to spend part of their earnings on newly-established prison canteens. They may subscribe to uncensored newspapers and purchase Christmas parcels.

The changes were outlined in the Commons Thursday by Justice Minister Garson during study of departmental estimates for 1952-53.

His review of the changes made in a drive to reform prisoners brought from J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Toronto Greenwood) a plea that Canadians not get "sentimental" about the treatment of prisoners.

"I think that we must not get to the stage where we talk about it as if their being there was a reward for meritorious service," said Mr. Macdonnell. "We all agree that we must behave in a humane manner and must do our best to restrain these people.

Not Too Lenient

"On the other hand . . . I think we should keep the thought clear in our minds that this is a serious matter and that these men are there because of the things they have done against society."

Mr. Garson said prisoners are not being "pampered and that the reforms are producing good results."

At the quiet sitting, members also dealt briefly with estimates of Resources Minister Winters.

Members voted $265,000,000 from 1952-53 appropriations to meet government bills for June.

The sitting was recessed briefly while members moved to the Senate for the Royal assent to 174 bills, including 158 divorce bills.

The measures included one providing that Victoria Day, instead of being celebrated May 24 each year, be celebrated on the first Monday before May 25.

Opinion Divided

Before dealing with penitentiaries, members alternately praised and criticized Canada's system of judicial appointmetns.

Mr. Garson said political considerations are not a major factor in selecting judges for Canadian courts. He said he would not deny that political considerations are "sometimes a factor" but the main basis of appointments to the bench is the candidate's qualifications.

He disagreed with a suggestion by Gen. J. A. Clark, president of the Canadian Bar Association, that appointments are subject to "political pressure." Gen. Clark's statement was repeated by E. D. Fulton (P.C.-Kamloops) who urged that judicial appointments be divorced from politics.

In the penitentiaries debate, Mr. Garson said an increase in pay for prisoners became effective Oct. 1, 1951.

The old rate was five cents a day, paid uniformly to all prisoners whose conduct and industry were satisfactory.

"This sum was inadequate to provide even a reasonable discharge allowance and did not make any distinction between inmates who were merely doing the minimum daily work and those who were making better efforts," said Mr. Garsoon.

Graded Scale

"The new scale of remuneration . . . is a graded scale of 10, 15 and 20 cents a day, inmates being graded at intervals of three months not merely on their work efficiency but on their general conduct and attitudes.

"A portion of the daily remuneration must be saved against the day of release; the balance may be spent for the purchase of small amenities such as chocolate bars, chewing gum, and toilet supplies.

One of the reasons for allowing prisoners to subscribe to newspapers was that most of them will sooner or later return to the outside world.

"It is obviously necessary that they should not lose complete contact with what is going on in that outside world," said Mr. Garson.

"In any case news sooner or later penetrates prison walls and almost invariably in a perverted form."

Authorizing the purchase of Christmas parcels by prisoners or their relatives was a step taken to ease the tension in penitentiaries during the holiday season.

13-PETAL LILAC

Mrs. William H. Collins has a lilac bush in her garden that likes to do its best. Its best this year is one of the tiny blooms with 13 petals. Usually there are four petals, but this one also has some blooms with eight, nine and 10 petals. The prize bloom was discovered by Mrs. Collins' children.

ELECTED SECRETARY

H. S. Johnston of Lindsay was elected secretary Thursday of the lay association of the Bay of Quinte Conference being held in Cambridge United Church, Lindsay. M. H. Winter also of Lindsay, who was elected president of the association in 1951, will serve his second year of the two-year term of office.

TO ARRANGE TOUR

Utilities Commission authorized R. L. Dobbin, manager, to make suitable arrangements for receiving the four visitors from Pakistan on Tuesday, June 17, the day they are assigned to the Utilities department. They will be shown the property of the Commission and its administration. Dr. G. R. Langley said he would like to go with the party on their tour.

CHARLES COON, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Coon, 740 Brookdale Crescent, will receive his Bachelor of Arts degree at the University of Western Ontario in London, Ont., Saturday.

Church Teachers Retire From Colleges

LINDSAY, May 30 (Staff) — Permanent retirement was granted to two principals of United Church of Canada educational institutions and two professors of theology at the Thursday sessions of the Bay of Quinte Conference being held in Cambridge Street United Church, Lindsay.

Dr. H. A. Kent, principal of Queen's Theological College, Kingston; Dr. Bert Howard, principal of Albert College, Belleville; Dr. J. M. Shaw, professor of theology at Queen's Theological College, and the Rev. A. L. Phelps, professor of theology at McGill University, Montreal, were among a group of 10 men granted retirement on the recommendation of the sessional pension fund committee.

Dr. S. M. Gilmour is succeeding Dr. Kent.

The following six ministers were granted retirement: The Rev. A. E. McCutchon, Picton; the Rev. A. C. McCallum, Belleville; the Rev. William Lloyd, Smithfield; the Rev. Hugh D. McCuaig, Gananoque; the Rev. A. W. Lougheed, Seagrave; the Rev. T. W. Geach, Eganville.

The following were elected as commissioners Thursday to the General Council of the United Church of Canada to take place early in September: Dr. George Telford, Oshawa; the Rev. H. C. Wolfraim, Almonte; the Rev. Alfred Poulter, Wellington; the Rev. H. A. Mellow, Oshawa; the Rev. A. B. Neal, Lindsay; the Rev. J. E. Griffith, Castleton; the Rev. H. M. Servage, Kingston; N. E. Zimmerman, Renfrew; E. L. Sackville, Peterborough; M. H. Winter, Lindsay; E. Davis, Kingston; F. L. Weldon, Lindsay; Mrs. W. T. Elliott, Stirling; S. G. Saywell, Oshawa.

Bd. Of Education May Ask H. and S. Clubs To Petition City Council For Sidewalks

Home and School Clubs may be asked by the Board of Education to start petitions asking residents to approve the building of sidewalks by city schools. It would be intended as a traffic safety measure, preventing school children from jaywalking.

...mmendation to this ef... forwarded from the teacher-trustee committee to the Board.

It was proposed by the Public School Men Teachers' Association as one item to be discussed at the committee meeting on Thursday night.

Children Jaywalk

Donald Lawless, speaking on behalf of the motion, said that if sidewalks were built along streets bordering the schools, teachers could better direct children for road crossings. When there are only cinder or dirt tracks the children jaywalk.

"We've broached that subject to the city council before," said W. B. Gordon.

He said that before city council can go ahead with sidewalk building there must be a petition coming from property owners fronting the street. A recommendation from the Board, is insufficient, he said.

It was suggested that the Home and School Council would be an excellent place to start the ball rolling. Presumably many of the parents whose children are affected live on these unpaved streets.

They are the ones who should start the petition as they are the ones who would be paying, the committee for the sidewalk building members intimated.

Dr. G. R. Langley Denied Fuller Record of Meetings

On a question of the subject matter incorporated in the minutes of a meeting, the Utilities Commission failed to agree Thursday. It was the Commission's second division in two weeks. Dr. Gordon R. Langley presented a motion that the minutes should describe all the discussions and decisions of a meeting in a manner to provide a full and accurate record for future reference, and at the same time to permit a member who did not attend, or any other reading them, to gain a reasonably correct impression of the proceedings. The motion was not supported by the two other members of the Commission, Gordon S. Matthews, chairman, and Fred Hills.

In the midst of the discussion, Howard Clegg, secretary, said: "If the Commission is not satisfied with the manner in which I keep the minutes, it can have my resignation any time."

Crux of the argument was not the "decisions" which are arrived at by motions, and so recorded, but the pertinence and scope of "discussions."

Not Mentioned

When the minutes of the previous meeting were read, Dr. Langley recalled certain discussions which he said were not mentioned. One of them referred to the work of the Commission during recent months in tightening the joints in gas mains.

Incidentally he enquired whether information was available as to the present extent of the saving in gas from this repairing of joints. Ross L. Dobbin, manager, replied that other new joints had to be made before results could be ascertained in the effect of reduction of gas leakage.

Dr. Langley, returning to the minutes, said that the repairs were necessarily costing a substantial amount of money. Street pavement has to be broken through to enable workmen to reach the joints. He said there should be some mention in the minutes of that item of discussion.

Omissions

Another topic of the meeting two weeks ago related to a letter which Mr. Hills had received from J. H. Vernor, general manager of Western Clock Co., about increasing water pressure. The previous discussion had agreed that the Commission could not afford to raise pressure in the mains because of their probable effect on connections and taps. He pointed out that there was no mention in the minutes of that subject.

Still another omission, as Dr. Langley considered it, of the discussion as to why the city's electric power peak was up 10 per cent. "That puts our costs up," he said, "and I asked for a report, but there is no mention of that in the minutes."

On the peak power question, the previous discussion was entirely agreeable and understood by the members. Mr. Langley had said he suggested certain things that might be done to avoid peaks, and Mr. Dobbin replied that they had been including the telephoning from his office to large consumers of electric power, particularly industrial, temporarily to suspend their use and consumption. Dark days, he said, brought a heavier demand on the local system, and when substation indicators pointed to ascending consumption it was the custom to intervene and telephone some of the customers.

That was the subject of discussion, and Dr. Langley said something should have been written into the minutes making satisfactory mention of it.

His criticism was that anyone reading the minutes would have no information as to matters that were discussed. For that reason, he said, he was making his formal motion for enlargement of the record.

"I want a record of what transpires beyond the minutes of the actual business," he said. "I have no thought of making any difference in regard to their publicity. If I'm not here I want a good idea of what has taken place."

Should Be Present

Mr. Matthews said it was assumed that the members would be present. He mentioned that he had missed only one meeting in 27 years.

Dr. Langley said he did not want a verbatim report of discussion, he felt that there should be sufficient mention to provide information of what had been said.

"I think the minutes should be confined to the definite decisions of the Commission, and that they would be a record of what was done," Mr. Hill stated.

Mr. Matthews said the proposal of Dr. Langley would require the minutes to be twice as long as they have been. As to industrial practice, mentioned by Dr. Langley, Mr. Matthews said Canada Packers reports dealt only with resolutions.

When Dr. Langley said: "I ask that the resolution be put," Mr. Matthews said: "I'm satisfied with the minutes as they have been kept through a long number of years. The resolution is defeated."

Cattle Rustler Jailed 3 Months

BELLEVILLE, May 30—Three months in jail was the sentence levied Thursday on Joseph Quinlan, 21, of Queensboro, who pleaded guilty to rustling cattle.

Quinlan was charged with the theft of six yearling cattle from a farm owned by Leo Fleming of Hungerford township. The six cattle were later sold at a livestock auction north of here.

Quinlan was committed for trial February 28 by Magistrate R. C. Jackson at Tweed, and Thursday was sentenced by Judge J. C. Anderson.

Also appearing on rustling charges were Quinlan's two brothers, Francis, 18, and Stafford, 16, as well as Lawrence DeRushie. Charges against Stafford Quinlan and DeRushie were dismissed.

Francis Quinlan will appear next week before Judge W. S. Lane.

Picton Man Arrested In Store Basement

CAMPBELLFORD, May 30 — (ENS). — Wilbert Corby, 39, of Picton, has been charged with breaking and entering a Campbellford dairy early on Thursday morning. Remanded, he will appear in court here next Thursday.

Corby was found with a quantity of curds in the basement of a Front Street store after a citizen who lives near the dairy reported to police that there was someone in the dairy. Constable Wilfred Cargin investigated and found Corby.

Man, 90, Hit In Eye Landlord Charged

Charged with assaulting a 90-year-old man occasioning him bodily harm, Floyd Walker, 32, 827 Orpington Road, was remanded until June 2 on $500 bail when he appeared in Police Court today.

Walker is alleged to have struck John Thompson in the eye. The elderly man has been living at Walker's house and the assault is said to have taken place today when an argument started as Mr. Thompson was getting his clothes from his room in order to go to another boarding place.

Civil Defence Workers Trained Care For Crisis

A trained corps of civil defence workers in municipalities throughout the province will provide the nucleus for civil defence organizations that can be expanded rapidly when the need arises. This is the basis of the Ontario government's policy on civil defence, two provincial civil defence officials told a meeting of the Peterborough Civil Defence Organization Thursday night.

In view of the present tense international situation, civil defence is "something to which everyone on this side of the Iron Curtain should pay a great deal of attention," said K. B. F. Smith, senior administrative officer of civil defence for the province of Ontario.

None Ready

"No metropolitan community could look after itself with its present facilities," said Mr. Smith, "and in the event of atomic attack, assistance of several municipalities would be required."

Tremendous advances have been made in civil defence organization in the last year, Mr. Smith said, and there is now a trained nucleus of workers who can be relied upon. "It is difficult to interest people in civil defence, because many people have never seen anything bigger than a firecracker go off." However, he added, "more and more people are becoming conscious of the need for civil defence.

Pointing out that experts estimate that casualties in an atomic attack can be cut by 40 per cent where there is adequate civil defence protection, Mr. Smith said "the main thing about civil defence is that it is for your protection and the protection of others in your municipality."

There are now 157 municipalities in Ontario where a civil defence organization has been set up, he said, and 60 more are doing some type of training. Three thousand nurses have been trained in methods of combatting atomic, biological and chemical warfare during the last year and there are now approximately 1,500 instructors in the province trained either by the federal or provincial governments in basic civil defence.

Integrate Plans

Agreements are currently being discussed between the federal and provincial governments regarding compensation to volunteers injured in the course of civil defence training. He said the necessary arrangements are expected to be finalized in a week or so and will make possible fire and rescue work instruction.

Canada has benefited from the experience of the United States and is concentrating its efforts on building up a trained corps of volunteer workers in different municipalities, said J. A. Adams, Chief Instructor of Civil Defence for the province. In the U.S., hundreds of thousands volunteered for civil defence training when the danger of another war first became apparent, he said, but it was discovered too late that neither the necessary equipment nor enough qualified instructors were available to train them.

"It is fatal to stir up interest and get a number of people, then find that you can't handle them," Mr. Adams warned. "When the bubble breaks, it is doubly difficult to regenerate interest when the emergency arises."

Publications, training manuals and equipment are now available, he said, and the problem of maintaining interest throughout the "doldrum period while waiting for something we pray will never happen is comparatively easy now that films and other aids are available," said Mr. Adams.

Many Turn Out

Commenting on the large turnout which filled the committee room of the city hall, Alderman J. A. Dewart, chairman of the executive committee said it was "encouraging to see so many out for the first time all workers of the organization have met together."

Directors of the various sections: Welfare, Protection, Utilities, Wardens, Administration and Intelligence reported on the progress that has been achieved since the organization was set up last fall.

"Almost 300 people have received first aid training since the program was started," said R. J. Bolton, director of the Welfare Section.

G. R. Melton, director of the Wardens section reported that an average of 20 had attended the weekly instruction classes held during the winter which were designed to accommodate 30 students. "The objective of these courses was to instruct representatives of each division of the civil defence organization so that they would be able to convey the information to other members of their own divisions."

Following their remarks, Mr. Smith and Mr. Adams showed films of civil defence workers in action and what to expect if and when an atomic attack occurs.

Most Pay Bills At New Office

The new office of the Utilities Commission is receiving 90.5 per cent of all customer bills, as reported by Howard Clegg, accountant, at the Commission meeting Thursday.

A count was made for 43 days for the information of the Commission as to the effect of the transfer of the office from the old city hall building on Simcoe St. to the new premises at Aylmer and Dalhousie Streets.

Total domestic bills, for power used in homes, collected at the office and through banks, was 9,695; of that number 8,688 were paid at the office, and 1,007 at banks, from Mondays to Fridays; and 373 bills were paid at banks on nine Saturdays.

Of the domestic bills, received at the office, 1,148 were by cheque, indicating the extent of customer use of postal delivery.

Total of commercial bills, chiefly from stores and offices, was 2,288, of which 2,139 were paid at the office and 149 at banks from Mondays to Fridays, and 36 at banks on the nine Saturdays of the counted period.

RETURN OF THE MARTINS

Purple martins were chattering noisily this morning in their return to familiar quarters in the vicinity of the old city hall on Simcoe St. They are down town for the summer, and in a month or so they will be joined by their fledgling offspring.

First Cruiser Sails North Through Canal

First pleasure craft to arrive in Peterborough this year, the 45-foot gas-powered cabin cruiser Flamingo II, docked at the George St. Wharf just before noon Thursday.

Skippered by owner Kert Link of Port Credit, the Flamingo was tied up at Oakville for the winter and arrived at Trenton Monday night, then started up the Trent on its way to Keswick.

Mr. Link says he has made at least one trip each way through the Trent system for the last six years.

Tough Going

"It's pretty tough going," he commented as the boat was passing through Lock 24. "Many of the buoys are below water. The current is terrific because of the high water level. At Hastings there were several beams out of the dam, making it even worse."

"I'll be glad when we get to Lakefield," he added, "because it should be better from there on."

Mr. Link expects to arrive at Keswick by Saturday and in between pleasure cruises and fishing trips on Lake Simcoe, the Flamingo will be tied up at the Keswick dock for the summer.

Accompanying Mr. Link are his wife; Ralph Whiting, Caroline Morgan and cabin boy Bill Murakami.

Gravel Truck Bounces Into Ditch

Driver, Passenger Not Seriously Hurt In Crash Into Tree

PORT HOPE, May 30 (ENS)—A 21-year-old truck driver is in hospital here with head lacerations and undetermined chest injuries suffered when his truck hit a tree on a township road north of Port Hope.

Jack Byers, 21, of Hope township, was driving a truck loaded with five yards of gravel along a township road with Ross Symons, 20, of Bewdley, as a passenger.

Began To Bounce

Going down a hill, the truck began to bounce, moved onto the soft shoulder, and then travelled 110 feet in a shallow ditch, finally striking the tree.

Symons was hurled clear of the cab, and Byers was pinned in the driver's seat for some time. Symons suffered only slight cuts and bruises and a shaking up.

The crash was investigated by O.P.P. Constable Stan Judson of Port Hope.

Fireman Says Landed Fish Policeman Lost

LINDSAY, May 30—A Lindsay fireman claims he has caught the pickerel that eluded Constable John Hunter two weeks ago. The constable had been casting a borrowed plug to hook a canoe which held a man suspected of being drunk, had hooked a large pickerel and lost it.

Fireman Dale described the antics of his 6½-pound fish as being similar to those of the constable's. He thought at first he had caught a muskie.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

Junior Farmers Expend Bank Account of $1,000 on 4-H Clubs . . . Dr. V. A. Rice of the University of Massachusetts Guest Speaker at Maple Tuesday, June 3rd . . . John Dawson of Ottawa Pays Fine Tribute to District Junior Farmers . . . Synthetic Sow's Milk Another New Practice.

The fact that Peterborough Junior Farmers have spent most of their bank account in promoting the 4-H Clubs of the district invites quotation of the tribute paid to them by John Dawson of Ottawa here last week.

District superviser of the seeds branch of the federal Department of Agriculture, Mr. Dawson was a judge of seed grain at the Central Ontario Spring Show last March. He was in Peterborough a week ago attending the preliminary meeting for the further organization of the Show.

His commendation of the Juniors he met here during the last week in March is not to be appropriated only for the Peterborough county group.

Many other Junior Farmers from Central Ontario were here for the event, and helped in its success.

The younger farmers of the Show staff caught the attention of Mr. Dawson, and so impressed him that he made special mention of them to its executive as they talked of plans for the future.

"They were as fine a group of young farmers as I ever saw anywhere," Mr. Dawson said. "They were alert and intelligent and on the job. I believe this Show can do a great deal for the Juniors. They are the ones you have to look forward to for the future. The calibre of the show was excellent, and in the first attempt last March you did a fine job."

Had $1,000 In Bank

Some years ago, Peterborough Juniors were coasting along with a fund of more than $1,000 to their credit in the bank. As they gradually broadened their interest in the project clubs, now the 4-H boys and girls, they expended more than they managed to raise.

Junior Farmers have been providing the local Club Leaders. This applies down the line from the calf clubs to the girls' homemaking clubs. Young men and women are taking time out from their personal affairs to give a valuable leadership to the 4-H Club members. They now have an enrolment of approximately 250 boys and girls of this county for whom the Leaders have laid out an active program extending through the summer to Achievement Day at the end of September.

Senior farmers, the adults of the rural community, are appreciative of this youth enterprise in their midst. The Federation of Agriculture recognizes their worth. Peterborough county council is practically sympathetic and helpful.

However, the increasing membership of the 4-H Clubs entails expenditure of more money in carrying out programs that are designed to prepare the boys and girls eventually to take their place in the affairs and life of their communities and their county.

Appeal FOR Juniors

This is not an appeal from the Junior Farmers, but it is an appeal for them and for the cause to which they are giving time and effort and example.

The 4-H Clubs, their Leaders and other members of the Junior Farmers comprise an ountstanding youth movement, and because it embraces rural youth, the senior farmers are herewith reminded of how they can share in its continuing establishment by their own contributions.

Rural money is a little tighter than it was a year ago, but there are more rural youngsters coming into the 4-H Clubs. It is the finest crop in the county, and as these boys and girls grow up they in turn become Peterborough's contribution to the citizenship of the nation.

City and also village friends should respond to this present need of the Juniors, and encourage them in the fine work they are doing. It is essentially an investment in the citizenship of tomorrow.

If the Junior Farmers had been content to let somebody else, a dubious entity, look after the 4-H Clubs, they would still have a comfortable bank account.

But, they wouldn't have men like John Dawson publicly saying in recommendation of them: "They are as fine a group of young farmers as I ever saw anywhere."

SHORTHORN FIELD DAY

Tickets for the proposed bus trip of Peterborough Shorthorn Breeders to the Beath Farms, north of Oshawa, Wednesday June 4, may be obtained from Elwood Dunsford, Lakefield; Victor Maloney, Ennismore; Jack Bolin, Keene; Percy Donaldson, or from any executive member.

Dr. Harold Worton, secretary, says it is hoped there will be enough tickets sold to warrant engaging a bus to the Eastern Ontario Shorthorn field day.

Mr. and Mrs. Beath will provide tea and coffee, and visitors are requested to bring lunch. W. P. Watson, livestock commissioner for Ontario is the main speaker in the afternoon. He will be introduced by Jack Baker. A judging competition and parade of livestock with Ab Stoltz as commentator are included in the program. Charlie Thorn of Galt, president of the Ontario Shorthorn Club, is expected to be present.

✧ ✧ ✧

MAPLE FIELD DAY

Dr. V. A. Rice, Dean of Agriculture of the University of Massachusetts, will be the speaker at the field day Tuesday June 3 of the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association at the head office grounds at Maple. His subject will be: 'Breeding and Improving Farm Animals". The afternoon program begins at 2 p.m.

FEWER BULLS REGISTERED

Registration of bulls dropped about 30 per cent in Canada for the first four months of this year, largely a result of the steady increase in artificial breeding, George Clemons, secretary of the Canadian Holstein-Friesian Association, commented this week. Total registrations, however, are up.

HURON'S 4-H CLUBS

John D. Butler, assistant agricultural representative in Huron county, has just completed organization of 24 4-H Clubs. Just one of the counties in the province, it is a reminder that rural boys and girls elsewhere are pursuing the same club projects that have been begun here for the 1952 season. They are members of a great company of Canadian youth, 60,000 or more, with ideals and objectives that challenge intelligent and sustained effort.

CROP IMPROVEMENT TRIP

Farmers from South Simcoe and Frontenac are bound for Ottawa and the Central Experimental Farm on Friday, June 13. That is the day Peterborough Crop Improvement members move on from Kemptville to the capital, concluding their two-day bus trip. Quite a number of tickets have been sold, as reported by Miss Evelyn Scott, but their still many seats available. The bus will carry 37. Bus fare is $6.50. Accommodation at Kemptville is $1 for bed and 75c each for supper and breakfast.

Plans call for departure of the bus at 8 a.m. Thursday, leaving Ottawa Friday at 5 p.m.

There is an evening program at Kemptville agricultural school. Tickets may be obtained from Robert Armstrong, president, Wellington Sutton, and F. C. Paterson's office.

✦ ✦ ✦

THE KENNEDY SPIRIT

If any young farmer of this district ever becomes Minister of Agriculture, he should remember the amiable policy of Hon. T. L. Kennedy of making friends between election campaigns. No member of the Ontario cabinet possesses more urbanity than the rural member for Peel, whose farm home is near Dixie.

When Col. Kennedy recently returned from an inspection trip of the foot and mouth disease area in the west he said: "I have never in my life seen anything like the clean-up measures that are under way. They may have been slow in starting, but it certainly is thorough." He said he was satisfied that Ontario was amply protected against an outbreak of the cattle disease.

Shortly after that statement to Canadian Press, Mr. Robert McCubbin, M.P., parliamentary secretary to the Hon. J. G. Gardiner, arrived back in the east from the area of the outbreak.

Mr. McCubbin said he could not add anything to the comment by Ontario's Minister of Agriculture. By the way, Mr. McCubbin has promised to attend the Ontario Hereford Breeders' field day Saturday, June 7 at the farm of Col. F. E. Birdsall.

The incident reflects Col. Kennedy's innate fairness, his sense of responsibility to all his constituents, his respect for his Department and its service to Ontario, and also sound judgment of political values.

YELLOW GOAT'S BEARD

Although yellow goat's beard is seldom found in grain fields, it is a menace to hay and pasture, says W. J. MacRae, fieldman for the crops branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. If infestation is serious, the field should be plowed.

This wild salsify, its usual name, is common on roadsides, railways and vacant land. Large yellow flower heads make it conspicuous in bloom. The seed head resembles the dandelion. On permanent grasslands, and on roadsides, it should be cut before the seed sets.

Chemical control requires repeated applications of 2, 4-D, at the rate of 6 to 8 ounces actual acid per acre with the first application before the flowers appear in June. The deep tap root of goat's beard calls for several applications to eradicate it.

WEEK'S CROP REPORT

The only straw of news pointing the way the potato wind may blow this season is a comment from Dufferin county in the weekly report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. It says: "A fair acreage of potatoes has been planted, but it is likely to be down somewhat this year."

The hope of Ontario farmers as expressed through their agricultural representatives is for sunshine unmixed with cool winds.

"All crops need warmer weather to hasten growth," is the Middlesex note.

In north Simcoe: "Farmers express whole-hearted approval of the regulations requiring all trucks to be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected following delivery of stock to market . . . Many farmers are working co-operatively in spreading manure. Three spreaders and a tractor lifter are the usual equipment."

Registered Holstein cows averaged about $250 at a Russell county auction, or about $125 less than a year ago . . . "Five to six weeks pigs sold recently for $4."

Grenville cheese factory patrons have been feeling the pinch of the cheese market situation and no export for cattle.

14 HASTINGS CLUBS

Fourteen 4-H Clubs have been organized in Hastings county with a total membership of 194 boys and girls. They include six calf clubs, two grain clubs and in the northern part of the county three forestry clubs. Among the leaders are: Carl Bateman, Harold Detlor, Ray Mallory and Harold Chambers of the Stirling area; Carl Heath of Marmora; Rex Rollins and Lorne Bailey of Madoc.

FEWER ARABLE ACRES

The proportion of Ontario's arable acreage to population has decreased from 7.7 acres per person in 1921 to 4.6 acres in 1951, C. D. Graham, Ontario's Deputy Minister of Agriculture, told the agriculture representatives meeting at Ridgetown this week.

"The population of the province in 1921 was 2,933,000, and the arable acreage was 22,600,000 acres or 7.7 acres per person.

"In 1951, the population was 4,562,000, and the arable acreage had decreased to 20,880,000. This cut the acreage per person to 4.6."

Mr. Graham told the representatives of the Department that they must keep in mind three things: the return per acre per man; the cost of production; and quality of the product produced."

✦ ✦ ✦

HORSE MEAT PLANT FOLDS

On his return to Ottawa from Saskatchewan this week, Robert McCubbin, Middlesex M.P., included in his report a statement that the federal government had arranged to take over the horse meat plant at Swift Current. The plant and premises, throughly cleaned, are to be operated by a Saskatoon packing firm.

From now on, heavy cattle will be slaughtered at the plant and the meat placed in storage for the present. Efforts will be made to auction lighter animals, but, if no sale appears, the government will take over the stock, and turn it out on community pasture to hold it off the market.

F. AND M. IN AUSTRIA

Epidemic of foot and mouth disease in Great Britain and on the continent was recently reviewed in a press despatch.

A Reuters cable from Vienna this week reports more than 2,000 farms affected in Austria. It is said to be a mild form, "and many of the cattle have been saved by innoculation." Since the disease was discovered, 61,931 head of cattle, 729 sheep and 429 goats have been infected.

"No one is allowed to leave infected villages. Postmen leave mail and errand boys leave food at a point 200 yards from an infected farm. At the entrance of each village and on walls and sign boards, large notices are posted giving warning that the land is infected."

"Many cattle have been slaughtered, but despite inoculation and quarantine the disease is still spreading." The story was cabled by Hubert Harrison from Vienna.

CLARE BURT TO HYDRO

Wellington Sutton of Otonabee, chairman of Ontario Farm Forum, was in Montreal this week attending the Canadian Forum conference . . . He told the Examiner recently that Clare Burt, Ontario secretary, was terminating his connection with the Forums on Saturday, May 31. It is understood that he is going to the public relations branch of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

Mr. Burt leaves a fine record of accomplishment behind him in the memory and appreciation of the Ontario Forum groups. He devoted his abilities with enthusiasm for the great Canadian rural medium of ideas which the Farm Forum has become in recent years.

One reason for his transfer was the demand of his work on the time a young married man desires to spend with his family. Many of the Forum meetings took him at night to virtually all sections of the province, a service to the rural cause that was probably less understood and appreciated than it deserved.

Mr. Burt's work has been a great help to the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

Full Schedule Of Field Days

In the brief interlude preceding hayume, Peterborough farmers are offered a variety of field days before settling down to field work.

They are affairs of rural arranging, and, in their useful purpose they are duplicated these days all over the province, and farther afield as indicated by similar outdoor meetings in Alberta.

Here is a paragraph from the Calgary Herald that sounds much like home. "Talks on pasture and hay crops, diseases affecting dairy cattle and the place of dairying in Alberta ariculture, will be given by department officials. At every field day a demonstration of dairy type followed by a judging competition will create considerable interest."

In this district next week, the list of events points to all directions.

Tuesday, June 3rd: Spray Day in the neighborhood of Brealey's School, several miles west of the city on the extension of Sherbrooke St. . . . And, Maple Cattle Breeders' field day at the association headquarters grounds at Maple.

Wednesday: Eastern Ontario Shorthorn Breeders field day at the Morley Beath farms north of Oshawa.

Friday: Eastern Ontario Hereford Breeders' consignment sale at Peterborough Exhibition grounds, Morrow Park.

Saturday June 7: Ontario Hereford Breeders' field day at the farm of Col. F. E. Birdsall, Rice Lake.

Saturday, June 7: Brooklin Spring Fair . . . Peterborough district Dual Purpose Shorthorn field day at the farm of Leonard Trotter near Madoc . . . Eastern Ontario concentrated milk producers field day at Kemptville.

Wednesday, June 11: Millbrook Live Stock Show, incidentally, the 103rd annual fair.

Thursday, June 12 - 13: Bus trip of Peterborough Crop Improvement Association to Kemptville and Ottawa.

Norwood Fair Sponoring English Hog Project For Juniors Of District

East Peterborough Agricultural Society has decided to sponsor an English Yorkshire hog project to culminate at the Norwood Fair next fall.

This undertaking is an extension of the society's program to insure a marked improvement in the agriculture of the district which it serves, Mr. G. A. Brethen, president, informed the Examiner yesterday.

Following their "Something For Everybody" motto for Norwood Fair, the directors conducted in 1950 and 1951 a Beaver oats project which revolutionized the growing of better grain in the area by the use of better seed and intelligent use of commercial fertilizers.

The 1952 project of the Fair Board promises equally beneficial results.

Realizing the serious situation Canadian hog producers are facing through high feed costs, lower prices for their products and the increasing ravages of disease, the directors of the East Peterborough Society have decided to do something about it.

The directors of the Fair are introducing to this area a breed of hog which has shown in official tests: (1) greater freedom from diseases; (2) heavier weanlings; (3) lower feed requirements per pound of grain; (4) reduced period of time in bringing pigs to market weight; (5) greater vigor, heavier boned, straight nosed, easier to raise, larger litters, and less suceptible to rupture and other deformities.

Rules For Members

Believing the large English Yorkshire White, which has aroused a lot of interest among Canadian hog breeders during recent years, was the answer, the Board is sponsoring the Norwood Fair Swine Project.

This is a commercial production feature endorsed by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Rules and regulations are as follows:

(1) To initiate this project the Norwood Fair is purchasing 30 gilts, 10 to 12 weeks old, straight bred large English Yorkshires, registered and transferred, at a cost of $1,500.

(2) Each boy entrant must be a paid-up member of the Norwood Fair.

(3) Each entrant will be given two gilts to raise and show at the Norwood Fair. One of these gilts (his choice) will be transferred to him at the time of entry, as his own personal property.

(4) Both pigs will be shown at the Norwood Fair, for valuable prizes, and those remaining the property of the Society will be sold at auction to the highest bidder, after the judging on Fair Day.

(5) If for any reason an entrant is unable to continue the project after Fair Day, he may sell his sow at this auction, the full returns to go to the owner.

(6) Each entrant will be provided with a Club book in which to record feed used, service, etc.

(7) The Society will provide advanced registry boars (imported in dam) for breeding the sows and cross-breeding Canadian bred-sows in the Norwood district.

(8) While free feed for raising the pigs in this project is not promised the entrant by the society, several feed companies have already expressed their willingness to donate the feed to raise the above pigs, to those using feed of the companies' manufacture.

Student Nucleus

The Club's nucleus in members has been drawn from the agricultural classes of the Norwood High School Area School. The remaining entrants up to 15 are being carefully selected from applicants 14 to 18 years of age, representing the whole Norwood Fair district. All applications are considered by the committee in charge, and should be mailed promptly to Mr. Brethen, president, or Gordon Parker, secretary.

Cheese Factories Vote On Polling Of Payments

During the week of June 2nd, Ontario cheese factories will vote by ballot on the question of delegating to the Sales Agency of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Marketing Board the authority to pool the payments for cheese produced in Ontario during the period April 1st to December 31st, 1952. This was announced by the Ontario Farm Products Marketing Board who stated that a petition for such a vote had been recevied from the Ontario Cheese Producers Marketing Board.

The petition for this vote follows the negotiation of the recently announced co-operative marketing agreement of the Marketing Board and the federal Department of Agriculture. Under this agreement the Department guarantees the first payment on the cheese on the basis of 24 cents a pound, first grade, large white unwaxed cheese, f.o.b. factory. The producers' association is free to market the product throughout the year to the best possible advantage and, with the consent of the department, to make interim and final payments to the cheese factories on behalf of their milk suppliers following sales of cheese throughout the season. Subject to the cheese being sold any funds remaining in the pool must be distributed to the cheese factories not later than March 31st, 1953.

Factory Has One Vote

Each farmer-owned cheese factory will have one vote and the president of each such factory operating in 1952 will be entitled to register that vote. In addition all shippers who send their cheese milk to a privately-owned or company factory which buys milk outright will be entitled to register one vote for that factory. A meeting to name the producer representative entitled to vote for that factory will be held this week.

To facilitate voting, the agricultural representative, who has been appointed chief returning officer in each county or district, will visit each factory during the week of June 2nd to enable its representative to vote. However, the Secretary or some other officer of each factory is requested to advise the agricultural representative for his county or district of the name and address of the voting delegate not later than May 31st.

The Farm Products Marketing Board points out that at least a two-thirds majority favorable vote of the cheese factories operating in 1952 is required if the authority to pool payments is to be delegated to the Sales Agency. They conclude "Vote as you like, but please vote so there may be a wide expression of opinion on this question."

Spray Day In Weeds' War Near Henry Batten Farm

Farmers are invited to a weed spraying demonstration Tuesday June 3 in the vicinity of Brealey's School, at 1:30 p.m. It is sponsored by Peterborough county council and the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The program was drafted by Ken Fallis of the department, Melville Johnston, county weed inspector, and Frank Paterson, agricultural representative. Warden R. R. Stewart is active in promoting this display of roadside and farm weed sprayers in operation.

Prof. J. R. Scott of the department of engineering, O.A.C., and J. W. MacRae, of Department of Agriculture, Kemptville, will discuss weed control and the use of sprayers.

Asphodel township is sending its sprayer, and Francis Walsh of Otonabee is bringing a field sprayer that will be working in Henry Batten's farm nearby. It has a spraying range for a 30-foot swath.

Brealey's school is a mile north of Highway No. 28 on the "fox farm" road.

Highway Spraying

"We are getting good co-operation from Wm. Anderson, Department of Highways divisional engineering at Port Hope," M. H. Johnston told the Examiner yesterday. "We asked them to do some spray work on the highways near Peterborough. They sent two young men with a sprayer this week, and they have been doing a good job. That's about a month earlier than last year.

They sprayed both side of No. 28 from Fraserville to Lakefield on Tuesday for goat's beard, and Wednesday they went from Peterborough to Norwood on No. 7. They are also doing the tourist [illegible] lot near the Westwood corner."

Farmers can co-operate, Mr. Johnston said, "by coming out to spray day show Tuesday at the Brealey crossroads. Weeds are the common enemy, and this is the time to get them, while they are in flower and before they go to seed."

"We have a lot of good tidy farmers in Peterborough, but we can always do a little better in keeping weeds in check."

Penitentiary Prisoners Have Male Choir

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP) — Some prisoners in Canadian penitentiaries have been singing in a male choir which participated in a music festival.

This unusual development was mentioned Thursday night in the Commons by Justice Minister Garson as he outlined various reforms implemented in Canadian penitentiaries with increasing success. Speaking during justice-department estimates, he described some of the programs to ease tension and to reform prisoners.

AN EARLY SPRING CROP—Like many other operations on Canadian farms, sheep shearing is fast becoming mechanized. Last year Canadian sheep provided about 9 million pounds of wool, but 87 million pounds were utilized, made up of 39 million pounds of raw wool and 48 million pounds of semi-processed or finished goods. The Department of Agriculture says there's a place for many more sheep in Canada's farming industry. Sheep population is about 2 million, and this country needs the wool from more than 12 million sheep.

Rural District Clubs Have 250 Membership

Distaff clubs of the Peterborough district have a total membership of about one hundred girls in two groups. One of them comprises 67 girls who engage in homemaking projects. The other is the home garden club. Their director is Miss Jean Noble of Bailieboro, district home economist with the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Membership in the general 4-H Clubs is around 150, bringing the total of the rural juniors in this youth enterprise sponsored by the Department to approximately 250.

That is a large representation of the farm homes of this community, and also of the quality of parental spirit that reinforces the interest of the boys and girls.

The members of the junior homemaking clubs are listed according to their districts.

Bailieboro: Marion Syer, Donna Marie Wood.

Havelock: Edith Althouse, Dora Elmhirst, Norma Fraser, Thelma Ellis, Mary Palmateer, Mildred VanAllen, Ruby Youmans, Beverley Bennett, Dorothy Graham, Jean Kennedy, Darlene Hadley, Betty Toms, Lillian Toms, Lois McKay.

Fraserville: Elva Atcheson, Marion Bothwell, Joan Cook, June Keelar, Lona Moffat.

South Monaghan: Jean McElroy.

North Monaghan: Catherine Waterman, Mary Lou Waterman, Carolyn Whitfield, Eleanor Whitfield.

Smith township: Berry Allen, Mary Cookburn, Barbara Mann, Gwen McKee, Nola Wilson.

Warsaw: June Clysdale, Maureen Craur, Eleanor Davis, Barbara Davis, Barbara Dennis, Marie Drain, Eleanor Edwards, Eleanor Hamblin, Doreen Little, Barbara Hampton, Effie McMillan, Georgina Moore, Donna Payne, Lulu Payne, Nora Payne, Eleanor Tedford, Yvonne Tedford.

Otonabee: Doreen Brown, Marlene Stewart, Eileen Davidson, Erlene Sexsmith, May Jay Doris, Carol Ellison.

Lakefield: Noreen Corkery, Theresa Farrell, Marilyn Fraser, Betty Delledonne, Jane Dellendonne, Barbara Graham, Barbara Leonard, Betty Lou Leonard, Margaret Heffernan, Bernadette Wallbright, Elaine Wasson, Jean Payne, Joan Hornsby.

Garden Club

Some of the girls in the Garden Club are enrolled with the Homemakers, a little detail of duplication.

The home gardeners are: Bailieboro: Glee Barnard, Arlene Bateman, Mrs. L. Hazelden, Elaine Jones, Jean Jones, Mildred Kidd, Isabella Kidd, Yvonne Pilkington, Patricia Stewart, Marion Syer, Ernell Wood and Donna Wood.

Smith township: Myla Bulmer, Ruth Fowler, Berry Gilbert, Beverley Hetherington, Barbara Mann, Anna Northey, Reta Parsons, Nola Wilson.

Fraserville: Elva Atcheson, Catherine Waterman, Mary Lou Waterman and Carolyn Whitfield.

Otonabee: Eileen Davidson, Mary Jo Doris, Betty Eason, Joy Ellison, Mary Hall, Caroline McNevan, June McNevan, Maureen Maloney, Margaret Nelson, Marlene Stewart.

Lakefield: Noreen Corkery, Ethel Chatten, Jane Delledonne, Theresa Farrell, Barbara Johnston.

Foundry Employees Authorize Strike

RENFREW, May 30 (CP) — Employees of Dominion Magnesium Mine and the Light Alloys Foundry voted Thursday night to authorize strike action if agreement on a new contract is not reached immediately.

A union spokesman said a meet- of Local 4632, United Steel Workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), voted 97 per cent in favor of strike action.

The union is asking for a 25-cent hourly increase in the minimum labor rate, which now is 80 cents an hour. Other issues still not settled include vacations, statutory holidays and union security.

Moffatt Woodside Appointed New Dean

TORONTO, May 30 (CP)—Moffatt Woodside, 46, professor of ancient history and registrar at Victoria College, has been appointed Dean of the Faculty of Arts at the University of Toronto, Dr. Sidney Smith, university president, announced Thursday night.

Prof. Woodside succeeds Dean Samuel Beatty who retires next month.

A native of Carleton Place, Prof. Woodside received his early education in Brantford where his family moved from Owen Sound.

He was graduated from the University of Toronto in 1928 and was elected one of Ontario's two Rhodes scholars for that year.

He married Eleanor Barton, president of the Women's Undergraduate Association, in 1933.

25 Students Suspended

ITHACA, N. Y., May 30 — (AP)— Cornell University on Thursday night suspended for a year 25 students who seized a university radio station Wednesday night and broadcast fake reportst that European cities were bombed. Ten of the students, wearing masks, entered the student-operated station, overpowered staff members and controlled the station for eight minutes. The fake bulletins said an air fleet was nearing the United States.

How to raise Pigs on TERRALAC

SYNTHETIC SOW'S MILK

1. Litter is farrowed and left with sow 48 hours to give baby pigs benefits of colostrum. Watch to avoid crushing losses during this period.
2. At the end of 48 hours, place baby pigs in brooders according to size. This reduces chance of "runting."
3. Mix Terralac with water at room temperature.
4. Feed Terralac on a "free choice" basis in feeding troughs which give each pig a chance to eat as much as it wants.
5. Keep pigs warm and protected from drafts. A controlled source of even heat is best, supplemented with heating elements or lamps to keep a constant temperature of not less than 80 degrees.
6. Introduce approved "pig starter" containing an adequate amount of Terramycin at end of first week. Feed free choice. Provide plenty of water after 1 week.
7. Remove pigs from brooders at end of second or beginning of third week. Place in clean pens with sanitary bedding. Source of even heat is still important. Sanitation is essential. Feed Terralac twice a day.
8. Cut down on Terralac during 4th week until by fifth week pigs are on dry feed entirely. Stop feeding Terralac when pigs reach 17½ pounds. Be sure "pig starter" contains adequate amounts of Terramycin supplement and that pigs are fed Terramycin-fortified feeds during the growing and fattening periods, as continuity of the antibiotic is essential for best feed results.

SUBWAY BLAST VICTIM—Fireman Jack Preece, tossed 25 feet in the air by one of the three explosions that shook Toronto's unfinished subway, is attended by comrades. Seven were hurt in the blasts, blamed on seepage of cooking gas from a main. The flying body of one fireman broke a street lamp 25 feet from the pavement. One of the heavy timbers tossed in the air landed, foreground, in a subway opening at the downtown intersection of Yonge and Gerrard streets.

Opera In Toronto Success–Bing

TORONTO, May 30 (CP)—Rudolf Bing, manager of the Metropolitan Opera, said Thursday he's happy about presenting Grand Opera in a hockey rink. He hopes to bring his company to Toronto another year.

Since Monday the Metropolitan, on its first visit to Canada, has played on an improvised stage in Maple Leaf Gardens, home of Toronto's National Hockey League team.

It has staged "Aida," "La Boheme" "Carmen" and "Rigoletto."

The crowds have been the largest in the Metropolitan's 69 years. Its home theatre in New York seats fewer than 4,000 persons. An engagement in Cleveland drew 9,000. Shows here attracted upwards of 12,000 persoons, the best seats selling for $10 and standing room for $1.

10,000 Units Of New Freight Equipment Ordered By CNR

TORONTO, May 30—To keep pace with the growing volume of freight traffic, Canadian National Railways at present have 10,000 units of new freight equipment on order, A. J. Lomas, regional vice-president of the system, told the Canadian Manufacturers' Association transportation conference here Thursday.

Mr. Lomas said that about 10 per cent. of the new rolling stock, which includes hopper cars, refrigerator cars, oil cars, automobile cars, box cars, gondolas and cabooses, has been delivered to date. "But even when it is all delivered, we won't be able to sit back and consider the job done. A railway is always being built and never finished."

"In order to continue improving our service to the shipper, we are constantly experimenting with various types of new equipment. At present, the C.N.R. is testing the use of light weight metals in the construction of freight cars. During the past year, the merits of an aluminum-sheeted box car and an aluminum hopper car were examined, resulting in the purchase of five aluminum hopper cars for more extensive testing in actual service."

Diesel power has helped to improve operating efficiency, Mr. Lomas told the conference. Compared with 1928, the peak pre-war operating year, the Canadian National last year furnished 58 per cent more freight transportation with 12 per cent. fewer locomotives and 12 per cent. fewer freight cars. It handled this big increase with a 23 per cent boost in average speed. "Diesels offer two big advantages which should benefit both the railroad and the shippers using it," he continued. "One is improved efficiency, and the other substantial savings in both operating and servicing costs. But the diesel is economical only when it can be used intensively. For this reason, our recently announced five-year dieselization program will be directed toward those freight, passenger and yard services where full advantage can be taken of that fact."

Other Improvements

In addition to an ample supply of rolling stock and efficient use of motive power, other improvements are under way to speed rail shipments, Mr. Lomas said. Centralized traffic control, now in operation on 148 miles of single main-line track between Foleyet and Hornepayne, is being installed on 35 miles of double track between Pontiac and Durand, Mich., and is planned for the heavy traffic area between Toronto (Don) and Parry Sound. This modern signalling equipment keeps trains moving with a minimum of delay. A long-term program has been adopted to relieve the congestion in many terminal and yard facilities at major centres, which has resulted from the high volume of post-war traffic and intensive industrial development. Work is currently being done to improve and enlarge terminal yards at Toronto and Montreal and studies being made of these at Hamilton, London, Sarnia and Belleville in Ontario, and Garneau and Joffre in the province of Quebec.

Quebec Commies Facing Crisis

MONTREAL, May 30 (CP)—The Gazette says today in a front-page story that the Communist element of organized labor in the Montreal area has come to the realization that a time of crisis has arrived; that they must decide on a policy of out-and-out fight for survival or fold.

The story quotes one member of the recently-organized trade union rights committee, described by police as one of the latest Communist fronts in the city, as saying:

"We are getting into the fight-to-the-finish period now. Either we carry this fight into the factories and the streets for our workers or we must fold our tents as a Communist movement in this province."

3 Union Men Charge Arrest

VANCOUVER, May 30 (CP) — Three union executive members claimed here Thursday they were arrested by security officers and flown in a private plane to Vancouver from the Kemano Tunnel project of the Aluminum Company of Canada.

The men, R. W. Scott, A. Mantell and A. D. McNabb, said they were at Kemaono trying to settle a strike of 500 miners.

The miners, members of Local 602, Building Laborers' Union (A.F.L.), quit work Monday when a 30-man shift was fired because, it was claimed, they protested safety conditions.

The R.C.M.P. is in charge of security measures at Kemano, 500 miles north of here.

In Victoria, R.C.M.P. Superintendent G. W. Harvison said there is only one constable at Kemano and added:

"He is concerned only with keeping law and order and has nothing to do with the strike, and no interest in it. He has made no arrests of union officials, and the R.C.M.P. has not flown them out of Kemano."

Robbery Trial Ends

TORONTO, May 30 — (CP) — The two-months-long trial of Leo Larannee, 21, George Nicholson, 23, and his brother, Robert, 22, charged with a $50,000 bank robbery, ended Thursday. The trio was remandded to June 3 for judgment. Some 80 crown witnesses and numerous defence witnesses testified.

Report Deficit

TORONTO, May 30 — (CP) — The Ontario Hospital Association announced Thursday that the Ontario Blue Cross prepaid hospital care plan which it sponsors paid benefits in 1951 totalling $15,589,429, or 92.8 per cent of its subscription income for the year. The association reported a deficit of $100,265 on last year's operations.

Expect Boston Woman To Have Quintuplets

BOSTON, May 30—(AP)—The Boston Post says in a copyrighted story that Mrs. Marion L. Manning, 27, of South Weymouth, mother of three children, is awaiting the birth of quintuplets in Weymouth's South Shore Hospital.

The Post says Dr. Robert R. Ryan, South Weymouth, told Mrs. Manning five weeks ago that she would give birth to at least four children, and after consultation and X-rays told her to prepare for five.

Neither Dr. Ryan nor Mrs. Manning's husband, John, could be reached for comment.

The birth is expected in mid-August, the newspaper says, adding, however, that "it could happen anytime."

Boost In Pensions

OTTAWA, May 30 — (CP) — A boost in British war pensions announced in March is making itself felt for the first time in the cheques being mailed out this month to the 11,000 British veterans and widows drawing them in Canada. The maximum increase for a 100-per-cent pensioner is roughly $1.50 a week, raising his total pension to about $32 a month.

Accept Increase

TORONTO, May 30 —(CP) — Toronto's unionized Milk Handlers Thursday night voted to accept a $3 weekly increase offered by member dairies of the Toronto Milk Distributors' Association. The increase brought the minimum wage to $51 a week.

Herbalist Loses Cancer Battle

LONDON, May 30—(Reuters)—David Rees Evans, 47, a Welsh herbalist lost a long battle with the doctors Thursday night over his claims to be able to cure cancer with a secret remedy.

Health Minister Iain MacLeod announced to the Commons that a government-appointed committee has advised him the claim did not "warrant further investigation."

The committee was set up in 1950 to investigate the Welshman's reputed cures.

Rees Evans has fought for 30 years to establish that his treatment, based on herbal recipes worked out by his father and uncle in Cardigan, Wales, 45 years ago, was effective.

Aviation Gas Restrictions Off Soon

OTTAWA, May 30—(CP)—Production Minister Howe Thursday announced the end of aviation gasoline restrictions, effective Tuesday next, and the RCAF and Air Transport Board said all special curbs on flying will be eliminated.

In Montreal, Trans-Canada Air Lines announced that domestic flights temporarily curtailed by the restrictions also will be resumed on Tuesday.

Mr. Howe told the Commons that restoration of normal distribution and sale of aviation fuel is made possible by the gradual improvement in U.S. production, following termination of the U.S. oil-industry strike.

The U.S. supplies most of Canada's aviation fuel. When the strike broke out early this month, the U.S. clamped on export quotas to conserve available supplies.

Canada imposed a general curb, reducing use of the fuel to 65 per cent of what was used during April. The RCAF ordered its stations across the country to eliminate all less essential flying including practice flights by desk-bound pilots. Operational flights and general training were not affected.

Other Cuts

The Air Transport Board issued orders to all commercial carriers to reduce flying wherever possible in line with the general cut.

As the American oil workers started back to work, the restrictions in Canada were lifted. The West began to feel the first benefits.

More than a week ago, all restrictions were lifted from Alberta, the Yukon and the Northwest Territories and on grades 91-98 in British Columbia.

A few days later, the U.S. increased its export allotments and Canada increased general distribution to 90 per cent of April use from 65 per cent.

The U.S. Interior Department announced in Washington Wednesday night that the American restrictions will be lifted at 4:01 a.m. next Tuesday.

Welland Local Remains In TWUA Fold

HAMILTON, May 30 — (CP) — Harold Daoust, Canadian director of the Textile Workers Union of America (C.I.O. - C.C.L.) said Thursday night the membership of Local 1031 (Dominion Yarns), Welland, voted to remain in the T.W.U.A.

The vote was taken as a result of a dispute in the Union over top administration. A movement led by Jack Robinson, a former union officer, seeks to persuade textile workers in the Hamilton area to leave the T.W.U.A.

Claims Support

In Toronto, Val Bjarnason, recently "fired" as leader of the United Textile Workers (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), returned Thursday from a tour of U.T.W. locals and claimed "full support for the elected Canadian leaders of our union."

Bjarnason, Kent Rowley and Madeleine Parent were ordered dismissed by George Baldanzi, newly-installed United States director of the union for alleged Communist sympathies and mis-handling of textile strikes at Montreal and Valleyfield, Que. The "fired" officers were to be replaced by Sam Baron, appointed by Baldanzi as Canadian director.

Mr. Bjarnason said in a statement that the 700-member Local 155 of the U.T.W. at Welland passed a resolution Thursday which "condemns the American officials of our union for the illegal, gangster tactics they are using to try to sell out our Montreal and Valleyfield strikes and to try to interfere with our local affairs."

Language Difficulty

WINNIPEG—(CP)—Bishop Mark La Croix of the Hudson Bay Vicariate said it's taken a long time to teach the northern Eskimos the difference between "Koordguar," meaning Churchill, and "Tooksiarvik," meaning church. Once they have learned, however, they do not forget, he says.

WINS BY-ELECTION — Joseph L. Deslieres, 55, was elected Liberal Member of Parliament for Brome-Missisquoi in Quebec's Eastern Townships in the federal by-election May 26. Mr. Deslieres, a wholesale tobacco dealer, has been mayor of Sutton for eight years. His victory retained the seat for the Liberals, made vacant by the death of Henri Gosselin.

2 Mayors Object To Education Financing Policy

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP) —Two Ontario mayors Thursday sharply disagreed with the Ontario Mayors' and Reeves' Association on its policy for financing municipal education costs.

Mayor Charlotte Whitton of Ottawa and Mayor Lloyd Jackson of Hamilton told the association convention that they cannot agree with the O.M.R.A. brief presented last January to the Ontario provincial-municipal committee.

The brief had urged "apportioning of all the costs of education between the provincial and federal Governments."

Mayor Jackson and Mayor Whitton said adoption of such a policy would involve federal control of education policy contrary to the British North America Act.

Mayor Whitton advocated an increased "general subsidy" from the federal to the provincial Government. This could be turned over to municipalities, which would retain control of policy.

Defends Request

Reeve Anne Shipley of Teck Township defended the association's request for federal and provincial aid. She said the division of responsibility between province and municipalities was merely an attempt to define what services were properly related to real estate taxes—the main source of municipal revenue.

The association was told that its requests for a realignment of tax fields and responsibilities will be considered by the Ontario Legislature at its next session.

W. Elmer Brandon, Ontario Legislature member for York West and a member of the provincial - municipal committee studying the problem, said the committee's interim report will be made before the next session.

Industry Puts Much Thought Into Utensils

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian Press Business Editor.

. . . One hears a lot of things around a gathering such as the current annual meeting of the Canadian Manufactures' Association.

Take saucepans— one is inclined to regard them simply as saucepans and let it go at that. But if you are the people who make them, they're much more than that.

J. S. Corrigan, of Toronto, expressed it as follows in an address to the manufacturers:

"I frequently wonder how many spring brides getting acquainted with their kitchen-shower saucepans know that the inside radius is a precise compromise between ease of cleaning, the maintenance of proper balance, and the limitations of a draw-press operation in the course of their manufacture.

"Does she know that the contour of the handle is the exact mould of an average woman's clenched grip?

"That the length and weight of this handle, and the angle of its mounting, are specifically engineered to avoid the over-balancing of the smallest size pan —empty and without its cover?

To Save Fingers.

"That the cover knob is specially designed to prevent her from burning her finger tips on the hot metal? That the fit on the cover to the body is so accurate, that condensed steam will form a vapor seal and permit waterless cooking?

And so on for several more paragraphs until one gets quite a respect for the humble saucepan.

Another thing one might have learned at this meeting is that there must be something to being a diplomat.

Sydney D. Pierce, Minister at the Canadian Embassy in Washington, was speaker at Thursday night's annual dinner. It must have been one of the shortest speeches on record for a featured speaker at such a gathering; but he made people laugh and he made them think.

Need High Principles.

The bare bones of his words were that countries should carry out on the level of daily living the high principles which they manifest in emergencies. He cautioned against "economic nationalism, which might hurt the defence effort, weaken the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and help Communism.

He said the Soviet Union is quick to make propaganda out of any evidences of "economic difficulties in the west. Friendly countries may wish to ignore their seeming offers of trade, "but it doesn't help if we make it difficult for them to trade with the west."

A third thing which one could learn is that there is an amazing amount of entertainment talent in Canada. This was demonstrated by the Don Wright Chorus, from London, Ont., which held a gatthering of about 1,000 of the manufacturers and their wives interested for more than an hour.

Donald Dutton Wed In Toronto

Standards of white lilacs and white snapdragons formed the setting in St. James-Bond United Church for the marriage today, May 30th, of Isobel Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bedwell Morgan, to Mr. Donald James Dutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marshall Dutton, now of Toronto, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James Dutton, Sr., of Peterborough.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length frock of gardenia white floral lace, fashioned with strapless basque and spencer jacket buttoned high to the tiny pointed collar. The skirt had a deep lace yoke, to which was gathered a ballerina skirt of white net over bridal satin. Her fingertip veil was held with a bandeau of small lace leaves, and she carried a cascade of lily of the valley, swainsonia and stephanotis.

Miss Eleanor Morgan was maid of honor and Miss Joan Dutton was bridesmaid. Their matching ballerina-length frocks of Benedictine taffeta were designed with molded bodices, miniature bolera capes and ballerina skirts; their forward-brim hats of taffeta were trimmed with French roses, coral roses and cornflowers.

Mr. Keneth Dutton was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Mr. Drew Wood and Mr. Norman Brown.

Following the reception at Prince Arthur House, the bride and groom left for New York. They will live in Toronto.

Hear World Chief's Address to Guides Stressing Scope

Those from Peterborough who heard the World Chief Guide Lady Baden-Powell, speak in Toronto Wednesday evening were the local commissioner Mrs. J. R. Epping; Brownie leader Mrs. N. Maskell and her assistant Marie Bowler and Mary Jane Hatton of the Girl Guides from St. Alban's Marcelle Fontaine, captain of Girl Guides of Sacred Heart; Mrs. L. H. Bennewith, captain of Salvation Army Troop; Mrs. James McLeod, Brownie leader of St. Andrew's; Mrs. J. M. Gray and Mrs. E. C. Stevenson of St. Anbans' Mothers Auxilliary; Mrs. E. J. MacDonald, secretary of the local association.

The open meeting was held in Yorkminster Baptist Church where the English widow of the late founder of the Scouting Movement told the audience she had joined the Girls Guides in 1915 and "It's been non-stop ever since."

During the past 36 years the charming, energetic, brown-eyed Lady Baden-Powell has visited every country in the world where there is guiding, and some of them many times. She said the most exciting thing about the Guide movement is that it appeals to children of every nation, color and environment.

The Guide movement is devoted to the more womanly activities which help girls grow up to become useful wives and mothers, while scouting stresses the manly qualities. The gold cord, highest award in guiding and equivalent to being made a Queens Scout, was presented to 28 Ontario Girl Guides at the meeting.

Lady Baden-Powell has been in the country on a six week tour and purposely to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Council Girl Guides Association in Toronto this week. She expressed appreciaiton of Canada's contribution to the World Guide Movement ,and said that Canada stands third largest in the World Association, numbering 87,762, an increase recently of 9,034 girls.

She points out that while there are hundreds of organiaztions devoted to work for the welfare and happiness of children, Guiding and Scouting are the only ones which cross all barriers.

Coca Leaf Sapping Vitality Of Bolivians–Missionary

BELLEVILLE, May 30.—A recently returned Baptist missionary from Bolivia told the Women's Baptist Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of Ontario West that the native-grown coca leaf is one source of Bolivia's problems. The speaker, Dr. P. G. Buck, told a meeting at Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, that during the past 125 years Bolivia has celebrated 176 revolutions..

Mr. Buck traced Bolivia's apparent backwardness and the short life span of its natives to the use of the coca leaf which, when chewed, has a narcotic effect and places the user in a land of make-believe.

"He feels warmer and stronger," he missionary said, "and he imagines he is working very well. Actually his movements are slower and clumsy and his energy is wasted. The coca-chewing habit is sapping the strength of the natives and ranks next to alcoholism as Bolivia's greatest demoralizing agent."

Early History

Tracing the early history of the country, the speaker declared that half of the babies die at birth and the average life span is 35 years.

Of poverty he said: "Native Bolivians call their country a beggar sitting on a chair of gold. This is because it is rich in land and mineral sources. It exports to the world most of the world's tin requirements, yet the majority of the people are ill-fed, ill-clothed and ill-housed."

Mr. Buck declared that Baptist missionaries take the lead in efforts to assist the people in Bolivia.

"We reach many with a radio station, the 'Southern Cross,'" he said. "The people of Bolivia are eager for the word of God. It is not within our power to know who in reality accepted Christ as Savior, but I can assure you that we were deeply conscious of the presence of the Holy Spirit as we moved among them during meetings. We know of some 400 who passed through the prayer rooms and were dealt with personally by our missionaries and by national workers. It was heartening to see husbands bring their wives down the aisle and enter the prayer with them."

The speaker expressed thanks to Ontario Baptist women who prayed for the success of the campaign in Bolivia.

Sodality At Home Closes Season Officers Elected

The annual "At Home" brought the activities of St. Peter's Senior Sodality to a successful conclusion for the season. It was held in the K. of C. hall.

Before a shrine erected to the honor of the patroness of the Sodality, the Blessed Virgin Mary, and in a rainbow setting of tulips and lilacs prefect Miss Mamie Sullivan directed proceedings. She extended welcome to mothers and friends and thanked the sodalists for their co-operation. Secretary Miss Hilda Lynch summarized the year's activities. A detailed financial report was presented by vice-prefect Miss Anne Szammers.

In grateful recognition of his help and service to Sodality, Miss Szammers presented the Rev. John J. Hickey with a spiritual bouquet. Father Hickey in his address pointed out that Mary is God's mother—Mary is our mother and that she looks after in a special way members of her Sodality. Also present among the honored guests were the Rev. G. J. Weis and the Rev. F. Marrocco of Ottawa. Because of his past association with the Sodality, Father Marrocco was called on for a few words of encouragement.

Miss Sullivan was presented with a gift in appreciation of her faithful service and her successful role as prefect.

One of the highlights of the evening was the raffle draw on a set of luggage and the lucky winner was Mrs. Lilian Morrow, 274 Braidwood Avenue. The winning ticket was drawn by little Mary Anne Gannan.

Master of ceremonies for the evening's entertainment was Miss Margaret Caravaggie.

Under the direction of Miss Mary Grant the girls from St. Mary's school presented a recitation and dance. Pianist was Miss Anne Szammers. Miss Rita Caravaggie gave a comical recitation "The Man With the Single Hair," accompanied by Miss Szammers. Miss Anne Ferren accompanied the Junior Sodality in the singing of two hymns: two beautiful piano solos were played by Miss Elizabeth Begley. Miss Marg. Gorman and Mr. Gerard Sullivan gave an amusing adaptation of "I want to be loved by you."

The program concluded with the election of officers for the coming term. They are: prefect, Miss Lamoyne Cooke; vice-prefect, Miss Catharine Kieran; secretary, Miss Leila McGrath; treasurer, Miss Pat Beresford.

Chairman and co-chairmen for various committees are: Our Lady's and Eucharistic, Miss Mamie Sullivan, Miss Betty Moher; Apostolic and Good Literature, Miss Jean O'Brien, Miss Nora McDonald; publicity, Miss Anne Ferren, Miss Margaret Torpey; social, Miss Rita Caravaggie, Miss Helen Cummings.

Before the program, Miss Guilfoyle entertained the guests with several delightful piano selections. Guests were welcomed by Miss Betty Moher, Miss Margaret Moher and Miss Pat Eggleton. Each guest received a souvenir.

The tea table was set amidst a profusion of white and purple lilacs with lighted tapers. Tea was poured by Miss Joan Rodgers and Miss Margaret Caravaggie. The senior Sodalists served.

Liberals Protest Discrimination

TORONTO, May 30 (CP) — Annual meeting of the Ontario Women's Liberal Association Thursday endorsed a resolution protesting what was termed discrimination against women in political affairs.

Lady Squires of Newfoundland, who claims to have converted Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland to the idea of confederation, said: "We have to make men realize that women are people and that we are out of the kitchen and into the world of affairs."

Mrs. R. A. Kinnear of Port Colborne was elected president by acclamation. Twelve vice-presidents were elected and Mrs. J. J. McGuire, North Bay, corresponding secretary, and Judy Lamarsh, Niagara Falls, assistant.

Couple Celebrate 50th Anniversary At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, May 30 — (ENS)—A half century of married life was celebrated on Wednesday when Mr. and Mrs. William MacDonald of R.R. 3, Hastings were surprised by their family at a party on their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. MacDonald is the former Mabel Ann Buchanan, and was born in Seymour township in 1883. Mr. MacDonald was born in Seymour in 1882, and after being married in Stirling in 1902, the couple lived in Seymour for 33 years, moving 17 years ago to Percy township, midway between Campbellford and Hastings.

The couple received many gifts on Wednesday at the party. A three-storey cake was cut by the couple in the same manner in which they cut a similar cake 50 years ago.

During the evening, neighbors called with gifts and best wishes and the farm home was the scene of dancing late into the night.

The MacDonalds have six children: Mrs. Marshall Wynn, Mrs. Don. MacMullen, Mrs. Joe Fisher and Sam, Alex and Wilson MacDonald. There are 15 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Royal Betrothal Is Anticipated

ROME, May 30 (AP) —Young King Baudoin of Belgium and Italian Princess Margherita De Savoia-Aosta are headed for a meeting in Italy which may lead to a royal wedding.

Members of their families were already here for a preliminary "get acquainted" gathering. An engagement announcement is expected.

The Belgian king, 21, probably will meet the 22-year-old daughter of the late Italian viceroy to Ethopia at the Villa Sparta, residence of former Queen Helen of Romania, near Florence.

The king, in semi-secret, slipped out of Brussels yesterday by train.

DOROTHY DIX

Eligiblity Of Young Girl Maid Of Honor Questioned

DEAR MISS DIX: My oldest daughter, who is 18, is being married this summer and she would like her 12-year-old sister to be maid of honor. My younger daughter looks older, and is very ladylike in her behavior. The wedding will be a small one, in church.

MRS. T. S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your young daughter's eligibility to serve as maid of honor should be settled by the officiating clergyman. Since the maid of honor is a legal witness to the ceremony, the fact that the girl is not of age might preclude her acting in that capacity.

✧ ✧ ✧

Unreasonable Wife

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a working wife of 23, with a husband who works nights. While I'm away during the day my in-laws often come up to visit my husband. I feel that since I am working they should not come to visit and that they are being disrespectful to me. My husband says that since my girl friends come to see me while he's not home, he is privileged to entertain his family while I'm at work.

PHYLLIS C. L.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are really being most unreasonable, Phyllis. Since your husband works nights, his time for relaxation, recreation, visiting, etc., is obviously during the day. Surely he could engage in no more harmless pursuit than entertaining his family. You are very small-minded to resent their visits, particularly when you do your share of entertaining in the evening. Attitudes like yours are what cause so much in-law trouble.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Have you any plans or suggestions for a reconciliation? After eighteen years of marriage, my wife and I have been separated for two years, divorced for one. Causes of our difficulties were financial conditions, her relatives and my poor health. My health has now improved and I am employed at a good salary. However, though I'm sure my wife still loves me, she refuses to see me and has also refused to see a prominent minister who was willing to try to effect a reconciliation. We were happy before; I'm sure we could be happy again if she would only listen to reason.

DANIEL K.

ANSWER: Your wife's attitude leads me to suspect that you have omitted something; she apparently has been deeply hurt in the past, and has now raised a wall of defense to insure against a recurrence of the difficulty.

You know best what may have bothered her, and the only recourse is to set about a campaign to convince her that conditions have changed. A revival of courting days may bring an assurance of happiness. Make every effort to see her yourself, rather than trusting this delicate mission to a third party. The fact that you are employed will, in itself, put you in a better light and make her realize that things are brighter. If you fully intend to do everything to make your wife happy now, and are sure you love her, don't give up. If she loves you, be assured she is as anxious for a reconciliation as you are, but needs absolute certainty that this time the marriage will work. Only you can give her that conviction!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am my husband's second wife; he has two daughters from his first marriage. They are 11 and 14. I have had the girls for four years, and all my neighbors agree I have been a good mother. My husband won't work, so I have taken a job to help support the family. My husband, however, won't let me open my mouth to correct one of the girls or ask them to help with the house. I am expected to make the living and take complete care of the household with no help whatsoever. I love my husband, but conditions at home are making a nervous wreck of me.

CLAIRE F.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You have done much too much for your family already, and they are taking it for granted that you'll continue to support, care for them, cook and do any other odd jobs that happen to come up. Why not call a halt? There's no reason why you should be the breadwinner; make your husband get out of his comfortable easy chair and support his own children. Since you have taken over the entire financial responsibility of the house, you most certainly are entitled to correct the girls—in fact, it would be your duty to do so even if you weren't supporting them. Your obligation as a stepmother is to bring them up as carefully as possible, but since you have nothing but opposition from your husband, the thankless job also seems rather hopeless. What you get out of being their lackey I can't conceive, but I do most earnestly urge that you assert yourself a little and stop being the family doormat.

Anniversary Services Held By Eden Church

WOODVIEW, May 30 (ENS).—One of the most successful anniversary services of Eden United Church was held on Sunday with an attendance of around 100 for morning service and the church filled to capacity in the evening, bringing the total well over the 200 mark. The church was decorated with white and mauve lilacs, narcissus, tulips, bleeding heart, apple blossoms, geraniums and potted lilies and ferns. The altar floral contribution was donated by Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser, Burleigh Falls.

The morning service was conducted by the Rev. H. B. Herrington, Keene, secretary of Peterborough Presbytery of the United Church, his theme being "The Print of the Nails." Eden choir, with Mr. and Mrs. Melville Robinson, Toronto, assisted by the organist Miss Isabel Reid, rendered three anthems, "Mystery of Grace," "The Cathedral Bell," and "The Holy City." Ushers were Sherman Blewett, Norman Cowan and Ottis and John Northey.

The evening service was also conducted by Mr. Herrington, assisted by Eden's minister, layman G. C. Robb, Peterborough. For this service the theme was "What Is Man?" Grace United Church choir of Peterborough, under the direction of Mrs. Frances Turner, A.T.C.M., provided the musical numbers which were, "Something for Thee" as anthem; trio, "Like Mountain Streams" by Mrs. Waldie, Mrs. Moore and Miss Harrison; "Rest of the Weary," full choir, and finally "Let the Lower Lights be Burning" by the male quartette. After the evening service Eden choir served lunch to 35 guests from Peterborough consisting of the visiting choir and their friends.

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Wives Urged To Demand Full Value For Money Spent

By KAY REX,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Complaints—when they are sent in the right direction and toward the right persons—go a long way towards improving the deal for Canadian shoppers.

This is a topic dear to the heart of Mrs. W. R. Walton, Jr., of Oakville, Ont., president of the Canadian Association of Consumers. In her opinion, the weekly pay cheque would go farther if consumers made certain they got full value for the money spent.

She looks hopefully to the day when the 15,000 individual members and the additional thousands represented in the C.A.C. through other women's organizations will refuse to accept either inferior service or inferior goods. Only then, she says, will prices remain at a reasonable level and the best quality goods appear on all store counters.

Potatoes now are retailing in some parts of the country at $4 for a 50-pound bag, and housewives are wondering why. The C.A.C. has provided an explanation. It blames the potato glut of a year ago.

At that time New Brunswick growers were receiving as low as 65 cents for a 165-pound barrel of potatoes which cost them $1.50 to grow. Small wonder that they planted 14,000 fewer acres last spring. This coupled with poor weather, resulted in a shortage, consequently potatoes went higher in price.

Rice As Substitute

Rice is one good substitute, certainly until the new spuds begin appearing on the market.

A friend of mine has a special curried dish she serves whenever she wants to use left over meats. Rice is the favored vegetable.

Minute rice is best for this meal. Put in cold water and boil for three minutes, drain, cover and let stand for 10 minutes.

Cooked lamb is the best meat to use. Hard-boiled eggs, in halves, also are tasty.

Make a thin white sauce with milk, flour, butter, salt and pepper, in whatever quantity desired. Flavor to taste with curry powder. When ready add meat or hard-boiled eggs.

Serve with the rice and a tossed green salad.

Savory Rice

This is one of the "supper dishes" recommended by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Ingredients: two tablespoons fat; four tablespoons diced onion; two cups tomatoes; one-half cup diced celery; four tablespoons diced green pepper; two cups cooked rice; one-quarter cup grated cheese; one-half cup whole wheat bread crumbs; one tablespoon melted fat.

Melt fat and cook onions until limp. Add tomatoes, celery and green pepper and simmer 10 minutes. Combine in greased casserole tomato mixture, rice and cheese. Combine bread crumbs and melted fat and sprinkle over top of mixture. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees fahrenheit, 30 minutes. Serves 5-6.

Readers' Friday Column

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: First I would like to tell you that I enjoy your column and have found it a great help . . . this is the first time I have written, but I am desperate now and you are the only one I feel can help me with my problem.

I have a little girl almost 3, who has a number of allergies. Some of the main trouble makers concerning food are: wheat, eggs, milk, carrot and spinach. We are managing without every one or with a substitute on all but wheat. Apparently there isn't a thing baked with flour that does not contain wheat flour. We were able to get some rye flour and cornmeal which we use for thickening gravies and cream sauces . . . bread is my big worry. Our doctor told me that I would have to try and work out the problem myself because he knows nothing about baking and the bakers make nothing without wheat flour.

If you have any suggestions or recipes without wheat flour or eggs (I can use boiled evaporated milk) that I could use to make bread, muffins, etc., I would be so grateful. I tried making bread with rye flour and no eggs and it went in the garbage shortly after coming out of the oven for it was just a hole surrounded by a hard crust . . . the one ironical thing about this whole affairs is that it took me a long time to learn to bake pies with flaky crusts and light cakes. My husband ate many tough-crusted pies and flat cakes with a smile on his face and now when I have finally mastered the art we can't have any . . . the only consolation is that it is good for our health and waistlines . . . if you can send me recipes perhaps I can pass them on to others with the same problem . . . I know what a large favor I am asking.

ANSWER: Solving this problem will take time and experimentation—but more serious troubles than this have been met successfully.

May I take the liberty of asking you a question? Why do you automatically change the entire family to the diet prescribed for the 3-year-old? The obvious answer is that you do not want her to be tempted by your baking. But she has to live in a world where she will not be guarded by you for very long. At 3 years I think she is plenty old enough to know what she can and cannot have, and this early knowledge will save her future unhappiness. However, let us hope she will outgrow her allergies. You do not have to make her feel "different." A casual attitude from you will be her guide . . . and another thing, I think such a wonderful husband should have a perfect cake and a perfect pie once per week and to heck with the waistline.

I am on a trip across Canada and am answering this in Brandon, Manitoba, and must wait until I am home in my own kitchen to experiment with breads made from flours from rice, soy, potato, corn, buckwheat, rye, barley, etc. Meanwhile, try the following—you will be taking no chances—they are tested and delicious.

Soy Bean Muffins

Three-quarters cup soy bean flour, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons potato flour, 1 cup evaporated milk, ¼ cup honey, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons melted butter, 4 teaspoons baking powder. Sift together the dry ingredients into a bowl. Make a well in centre and stir in the milk and butter. Bake in buttered muffin tins, filling them 2/3 full, at 375 deg. Fahr.

Boston Brown Bread

One cup each rye and buckwheat flour, 1 cup cornmeal, ½ to 1 cup finely chopped nuts, 2 teaspoons soda, ¾ cup very light molasses, 2 cups soured milk (dilute soured evaporated milk with water—in your case) 1 teaspoon salt. Mix as for Soy Bean Muffins. Steam in covered moulds 2 hours. Slip from tins to cool on cake rack. Do not try to slice for 24 hours.

You will hear from me again.

6—In Memoriam

CROWE—In memory of my mother, Mrs. Lavina Crowe, who passed away May 29, 1951.
You are not forgotten, Mother,
Nor ever will you be
As long as life and memory lasts,
We will remember thee.
—Ever remembered by daughter Pearl, son-in-law Dee Sullivan.

McVETY—In loving memory of our dear mother, Jennie McVety, who passed away May 30, 1950.
So many things have happened,
Since you were called away.
Things you would have enjoyed,
If you were left to stay.
So many things to share with you,
In just the usual way.
Things that could be so much nicer
If you were here today.
We cannot buy the old days back,
Your hand we cannot touch.
But God has given wonderful memories
Of the one we loved so much.
—Sadly missed and remembered by family.

REID—In fond memory of my brother, J. Clinton Reid, who was accidentally killed on May 30, 1950.
What would I give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see;
To hear his voice and see his smile,
That meant so much to me.
—Sadly missed by brother Bazel and family.

REID—In memory of a loving brother, Joseph C. Reid, who passed away two years ago today.
What would I give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see,
To hear his voice and see his smile
That meant so much to me
—Always remembered by his sister, Marjorie.

REID—Loving memories of a dear son, Joseph C. Reid, who passed away two years ago today.
The one I loved has gone to rest,
His fond true heart is still
The hand that always helped me
Now lies in death's cold chill.
—Always remembered by Father.

SKITCH—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. W. Fred Skitch, who passed away one year ago, May 30, 1951.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Ever remembered by Margaret, Isobel, Lenore, Jack and Vernon.

I.O.D.E. News

COLONEL AGNES NEILL CHAPTER

Colonel Agnes Neill Chapter, I.O.D.E. met in the Y.W.C.A. Tuesday evening, regent Miss Marjorie Benson in the chair.

It was decided to send two girls to the Y.W.C.A. summer camp for two weeks this summer. A silver collection was taken as a contribution to the purchase of electrical appliances for the kitchen of Lady Alexander. The next work meeting is to be held at the home of Miss Zetta Jameson sometime in June.

Plans were discussed for the annaul Stardust Ball to be held in the fall. Report of a recent rummage sale was read. The chapter's annual picnic is being held on June 17 at the summer home, on Chemong lake of Mrs. Dean Cutmore.

The speaker Mrs. Earle Spencley gave an interesting demonstration and talk on flower arrangements and later draws were made for the various arrangements she demonstrated. Mrs. Spencley was thanked by Mrs. Wm. Cuppy and introduced by Mrs. G. Vallery.

Mrs. B. Roberts reported on the Provincial chapter meeting which she attended in Hamilton.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wm. Sawyer and her group.

◇ ◇ ◇

MUNICIPAL CHAPTER

Peterborough Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E. annual meeting was held in the club room at the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday evening with regent Miss Mary Medd presiding.

The secretary, Miss Eleanor Taylor, read a list of the officers for the coming year:

Regent, Miss Mary Medd; 1st vice-regent, Mrs. M. E. Clarke; secretary, Miss Eleanor Taylor; assistant secretary, Miss Louise Spriggs; treasurer, Mrs. P. Roberts; educational secretary, Mrs. C. L. Upper; echoes secretary, Miss Jean Hamley; standard bearer, Mrs. Wm. Nash; organizing secretary, Mrs. R. S. Allin; distinguished visitors and hospitality convener, Mrs. W. A. Burrell; film convener, Miss June Fraser; Empire and world affairs, Commonwealth and Empire work, Joint convener, Mrs. W. G. Hall; publicity convener, Mrs. W. C. Boate; immigration and Canadianization convener, Mrs. H. Baker; services at home and abroad convener, Mrs. G. Groombridge.

Each chapter has been asked to hand in to Municipal secretary their complete list of officers and conveners.

Mrs. George Groombridge, reported ready this month 36 food boxes and 86 knitted and sewing articles. As shipment must reach headquarters by June 15th. Chapters are asked to let Mrs. Groombridge have their articles by June 4th.

Due to the illness of Mrs. W. Gordon Hall, Mrs. H. Baker read her paper on "Declaration of Ideals and Principles of the I.O.D.E." It stated that the order was founded 52 years ago when Canada was a colony and patriotic women had a valuable and important task to perform in promoting the best interests of Canada as a loyal part of the Empire.

The Union Jack, the flag of the Empire, is the standard of the Order.

The significance of the Badge of the Order is the union of the various parts of the Commonwealth. The Union Jack with its three crosses represents loyalty, unity and sacrifice. The white circle denotes the bond of Empire which unites all in sacred fellowship. The crown denotes sovereignty, and is the symbol of that spiritual unity which binds the nations of the Commonwealth. The motto, "One Flag, One Throne, One Empire," emphasizes the Order's acceptance of and loyalty to the bond of unity.

The Order is non-political and believes in democracy and liberty. The Order condemns Communism which destroys freedom by regimentation. The Order believes in the rights of the individual as set forth in the Magna Carta and devoloped in our judiciary system, guaranteeing personal liberty and impartial justice for all.

The Order is non-sectarian but Christian in concept. The prayer of the Order which is contained in the constitution and which is repeated by members at the opening of chapter meeting, praises God for the blessings of our homes; for the fullness of life and opportunity in this Dominion; and for the ties which bind us together within the Empire. Members pray that peace and the spirit of brotherhood may prevail throughout the world.

Petawawa Fires Investigated For Arson Link

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP) —The Commons defence committee was told Thursday two cases of suspected arson at Camp Petawawa in 1950 still were being investigated, in addition to the th fts which have led to 13 arrests.

Elgin Armstrong, assistant deputy defence minister, said the two cases occured in October, 1950, and caused fire losses estimated at $188,000 to stores and equipment. Mounted Police investigation had been inconclusive but still was proceeding.

A tiff developed when E. D. Fulton (PC, Kamloops) suggested that the arson might have been committed to cover up other thefts. Chairman David Croll (L, Toronto-Spadina) could see no connection between the fires and the current prosecutions.

Mr. Armstrong agreed to bring in a report on whether there was any suspicion that the arson was meant to cover up thefts.

Special Inquiry

The committee also was told that a series of fires at the Valcartier, Que., camp over the past two years had provoked a special inquiry.

Lt.-Col. Douglas Harkness (PC, Calgary East) noted that official figures indicated there have been eight fires at the camp in that period and suggested that this "seems to me to warrant special measures."

Mr. Armstrong said a special team of investigator have been sent in to investigate the fire prevention methods at the camp and to make recommendations.

The report had been received and he would have it placed before the committee. He noted that Valcartier is a camp of old wooden buildings.

The committee concluded its study of $7,500,000 worth of losses through fire, theft, fraud and other writeoffs this morning and agreed to go back into the main stream of its inquiry into defence spending at the next session. No interim report on the sideline study just completed will be made, it was decided.

Baptist W.M.S. Decides To Merge Four Groups

BELLEVILLE, May 30—Decision to merge the four missionary societies in Ontario and Quebec under the new name of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society of Ontario and Quebec, was made at Wednesday's meeting of the Women's Baptist Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of Ontario West in Belleville.

During an election which preceded the merger vote, Mrs. A. W. Greenslade was elected president. Vice-presidents elected were: Mrs. C. P. Fell and Mrs F. K. Harris, Mrs. N. Penner was elected recording secretary and Miss E. Stewart, corresponding secretary.

Following are the new class board members of the Home Missionary Society: Mrs. C. P. Fell, Mrs. C. A. Goulding, Mrs. Walter Rice, Mrs. W. C. Stovel, Mrs. Ross Thomas, Mrs. H. L. Wagner, Mrs. Alferd Wright and Mrs. E. Frank Wright. Elected to fill on the board were: Mrs. N. H. Parker, Mrs. L. B. Clark, Mrs. N. Penner, Miss E. Stewart and Mrs. Lloyd Wilson.

The following home missionaries were introduced by Mrs. Wagner: Miss Slack, Miss K. Ford, Miss Ruth Wigle, Miss Cora Berdan, Mrs. Rutlan, Miss Lewitt, Miss Charlotte Evans, Miss Olive Hunter, Miss Shirley Heatlie, Miss Mary Marshall and Miss Esther Rissanen. Foreign missionaries were also presented. They included Miss Mary Haddow, Miss Luz Llanque, Miss Matilda Findlay, Miss Jessie Findlay and Percy Buck. Missionaries from India presented to the convention were: Miss Sams, Miss Elevlyn Hawn, Miss W. Paskall, Miss Lida Pratt, Miss Susie Hinman, Miss Grace Kenyan, and Miss G. McGill.

C.N.R. To Build 147 New Cars

real general manager, sleeping and dining car department, Canadian National Railways, said here today. To meet this demand the company has plans underway to construct 147 cars including many providing only enclosed space.

New equipment was necessary for other reasons, said Mr. Parr. During tourist season and in other peak holiday periods, the company was frequently pressed for equipment. It was necessary to give priority to navy, army and air force movements and they often occurred during the heavy travel.

Indications of the new trend in sleeping, dining and parlor car equipment could be realized from the types of equipment to be built, he said. They included six sleeping cars with five compartments and three drawing rooms; six with five double bedrooms and 12 roomettes and eight with four compartments and buffet-lounge accommodation.

The remainder of the cars would be 52 four-bedroom, eight duplex roomette and four section sleepers, he added.

ANCIENT CAPITAL

Copenhagen, capital of Denmark, was founded in the 12th century on the site of a fishing settlement dating back to ancient times.

175 W.I. Delegates Elect Lakefield Woman President

NORWOOD, May 30 (ENS).—One hundred and seventy-five ladies attended the 27th district annual Women's Institute meeting held in the Norwood town hall Thursday. Mrs. Harry Shearer of Buckhorn, district president, was chairman for the morning and afternoon sessions.

Reeve Rork Ferguson extended a welcome to those attending the convention on behalf of the village.

Mrs. Harold Pollock of Trent River responded and invited the ladies to hold their 1953 district annual in Trent River. Mrs. H. G. Digweed of Warsaw gave the minutes of the previous annual, financial and branch statements.

Discussions took place regarding oratorical cups, and a motion was made to leave this to the committee in charge.

To raise funds for the district, it was decided to ask Miss Ann Lewis, home economist of the department, to show films of her trip to Europe in Lakefield and Havelock.

Two new branches were welcomed into the district, Keene and Nephton, by the F.W.I. representative, Mrs. Harry Mann, Trent River.

A brief review of the work achieved during the year was given by the branch conveners, giving highlights, such as assisting burned-out families, health talks, cancer films, demonstrations of making flowers and slippers, sponsoring girls' clubs, catering to banquets, sending baskets and cards to the sick.

Dinner was served in the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church basement by the Christ Anglican Church Women's Guild. Seated at the head table were Mrs. Harry Shearer, Buckhorn, president; Mrs. Harry Mann, Trent River, honorary president; Mrs. Joseph Moore, Lakefield, 1st vice-president; Mrs. N. Wilson, Apsley, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Harry Digweed, Warsaw, secretary-treasurer; Miss Jean Noble, Miss Nora Creyke and Mrs. Ira Lowe, board members; Mrs. Fred Gardner, president of Norwood W.I.; Mrs. M. Drain, Warsaw; Mrs. Willie Pearson, Buckhorn, district delegates; Mrs. Eric Little, Trent River.

Musical numbers were contributed by six girls of the Norwood Public School, who had attended the music festival held in Peterborough recently.

Mrs. Ira Lowe addressed the meeting and complimented the Norwood ladies on having the flag on the platform. She spoke on the federation board work and thanked the ladies for their contributions to the tractor for the Greeks fund. She also mentioned the federation booth at the Royal Winter Fair. She said there were 1,481 branches in Ontario with a membership of 45,767. She told the ladies that there would be a F.W.I.O. tent at the ploughing match in Carleton West, and told of five girls obtaining the F.W.I. scholarship and two girls receiving the Dorothy Futcher scholarship.

If the district wanted to establish a scholarship they would have to notify the department before November of 1952, she said.

Mrs. Lowe presided for the election of officers, as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. Harry Shearer, Buckhorn; president, Mrs. H. J. Moore, Lakefield; 1st vice-president, Mrs. N. Wilson, Apsley; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Fred McKenzie, Havelock; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. H. G. Digweed, Warsaw; federated representative, Mrs. Harry Scott, Havelock; alternate, Mrs. Harry Shearer; district delegate, Mrs. Harold Rae, Warsaw; alternate, Mrs. Clarence Copp, Norwood; auditors, Mrs. M. Drain, Mrs. Stewart Clysdale. Conveners — Agriculture and Canadian industries, Mrs. N. Reddick, Apsley; historical research, current events, Mrs. W. A. Bott, Apsley; citizenship and education, Mrs. Harry Scott, Belmont; home economics and health, Mrs. Fred McKenzie, Havelock; resolutions, Mrs. Harry Mann, Trent River; public relations and community activities, Mrs. Sherwood Payne.

Mrs. Harry Mann made a presentation on behalf of the district to Mrs. Harry Shearer, retiring president. Mrs. J. Bingham, Norwood, sang two solos.

Mrs. George Irving and Mrs. Golden Andrews of Norwood were judges for the quilt contest, which was won by the Trent River institute.

Miss Jean Noble, home economist, gave a report on the girls' club work, explaining that these homemaking clubs are study and work clubs in good clothing, house furnishings, hospitality and gardening for girls and young women.

The study of the cereal shelf course was completed by 78 girls, and a display from the Lakefield club was exhibited. This year the girls will be studying cottons. Miss Noble hopes to have a number of cotton dresses on display at the 1953 annual.

Mrs. Mann read a resolution from the Westwood institute which is to be presented to the federation by Mrs. Everitt Birdsall.

It dealt with the changing of the flag, the National Anthem and the replacement of the governor-general.

During the sessions, Miss Betty Baker, Norwood, played for singsongs, led by Mrs. Eric Little of Trent River.

Lunch was served by the Norwood Women's Institute.

Political Changes In East Part Of Social Revolution

Policital changes in China and India are part of a social revolution that is taking place in the Far East, Dr. C. W. M. Service, now of Lindsay but formerly a doctor in China, told the Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon.

"These new movements are part of a social revolution in China, India and throughout the East. It is a 20th century phenomenon.

"This thing is developing; it can't be stopped," said Dr. Service. "We had passed through the colonial era and the peoples of the East are saying to themselves: 'we are going to better our own era and our own economic status."

Dr. Service warned that attempts to try and stop this social revolution will only provoke illfeeling and trouble. Britain, he said, acted with wisdom in giving India independence.

The driving force behind this 20th century phenomenon is a combination of two factors: extreme nationalism that is sweeping the East, and a desire of the people to better their own lot.

Different Forms

This social revolution took a different form in India than it did in China, he said. In India the people got their self-government in a peaceful, democratic way. In China the masses gradually lost faith in Chiang Kai-shek and this permitted the Communist needs so universal that they almost uttered Red pronouncements before the Reds avowed them."

Nehru, a strong anti-Communist, has achieved independence. India is playing a fundamental and important part in our Commonwealth of Nations," said Dr. Service.

On the other hand, during the past 10 to 15 years, we have steadily backed Chiang Kai-shek who was losing out in China. The Chinese masses have identified us with that increasingly "tyranical and corrupt" regime and concluded that we must be for the old Imperialism and the status quo.

Not All To Blame

Dr. Service said he was sure that Chiang was not totally to blame. His regime became increasingly oppressive—as do most regimes—when it began to lose its grip. His enemies, at one time or another, included the old "war lords," Communists, Japanese and the effects of rising inflation.

Some immediate benefits accrued from the Communist victory, said Dr. Service. Inflation was controlled, Western influence was practically wiped out, small industrial production increased, and land reform went ahead.

Dr. Service said that since then

No Evidence Cattle Disease Work Of Spies

WASHINGTON, May 30 (CP) — The United States Agriculture Department says it has found no evidence that sabotage was involved in recent outbreaks of anthrax among livestock in previously non-infected areas of the midwestern U.S.

Anthrax, one of the most destructive of animal diseases, is difficult to combat because its spores can live for years in soil or in water and in the bones and hides of infected animals.

The disease strikes and poisons the blood stream, causing quick death in most cases. Control is through destruction of infected animals and vaccination of others in surrounding areas.

Some of the outbreaks of the disease among hogs in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois had been attributed to contaminated bone meal imported from Belgium. The meal was used in livestock feed.

Attract Attention

These outbreaks attracted close attention largely because they involved hogs rather than cattle and appeared during the winter.

Dr. B. T. Simms, chief of the agriculture department's bureau of animal industry, said the outbreaks were traced to the processed feed containing the imported bone meal.

Dr. Simms said this led to speculation that enemy agents might have planted the disease in the meal.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, as well as other government agencies, checked the possibility and reported they found no evidence that the disease had been planted.

Stranahan Gains Semi-Final

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 30 (AP)—Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, seeking his third title, and young Harvie Ward of Tarbor, N.C., today gained the semi-final round of the British Amateur golf championship. Stranahan walloped Charles Carlow of Scotland 8 and 7, while Ward prevailed over Jim McHale of Philadelphia, 6 and 5.

Stranahan and Ward were scheduled to play again this afternoon for the right to compete in tomorrow's 36-hole finals.

Ward faced Joe Carr, veteran Irish Walker Cup ace, who eliminated Scotland's sensational Maj. David Blair, 5 and 4. It was Blair who provided the tournament with two stunning upsets yesterday when he defeated defending-champion Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N.C., and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., the United States titlist.

Stranahan was scheduled to meet the winner of the match between Robin Cater of Scotland and Keppel Enderby of Australia. Cater had a one-hole margin after nine holes.

Boy Fractures Arm In Fall From Swing

CAMPBELLFORD, May 30. — (ENS) — Eleven-year-old Ralph Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Carr of Campbellford, suffered a fractured arm on Thursday afternoon as a result of falling from a swing in the playground at the Campbellford public school.

X-rays at the Campbellford hospital revealed the fracture and the lad was attended by Dr. W. W. Baker.

Eight-Car Smashup Kills Three People

AUBURN, N.Y., May 30 (AP)—At least three persons were killed early today in an eight-car smashup on Route 20 between Auburn and Skaneateles, state police said.

One of the victims was identified as John Muldoon, about 24, of Auburn. The other two dead were in an automobile troopers said was from Rochester.

Seven persons were taken to hospitals.

Troopers said two cars apparently collided head-on, and the others tangled up in stopping near the wreckage.

Meat Shipments To Britain May Double First Estimate

Defence Industries Soon Ready For Full Production

OTTAWA, May 31. (CP)—Canada's defence industries, now past the tooling-up stage, should be able to switch to full production on short notice if war comes. That assurance was given Friday to the Commons by Production Minister Howe. Speaking during study of his 1952-53 estimates, he said that Canadian industries handling defence contracts have been geared to produce much more than this country needs. They now are working on the $5,000,000,000 three-year defence program launched more than a year ago. After that program is completed, he said, defence plants will be maintained on a caretaker basis, ready to swing into action should the need arise.

Giving members an up-to-date report on the production program, he said that B-86E Sabre jet production has doubled over original planning and will double again before the end of the year.

The United States is buying Canadian Sabres produced at Canadair Limited in Montreal and likely will buy more next year. The U. S. also has indicated it intends to place a new contract in Canada for a trainer plane. Mr. Howe gave no details, but it was learned the plane may be the U.S. T-34 to be produced at the Fort William, Ont., plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company.

Sees Increase

The flow of all types of equipment, he said, will increase now that the tooling-up stage has been passed.

Opposition members were critical of some points of the program.

Howard Green (PC-Vancouver-Quadra) said more defence orders should be placed in the United Kingdom rather than the United States to enable Britain to buy more in Canada.

Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) said Mr. Howe should use the broad power given him to control living costs and to protect the living standards of the Canadian people.

Several Opposition members suggested a decentralization of industries. Mr. Howe said such decentralization was not as practical or as easy as it might sound. The fact that a major contract was let to a company in Ontario or Quebec did not mean that subcontractors in other provinces did not benefit.

At the House opening, Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced that the beef market in Canada has become more favorable and that the government floor price will be extended until Sept. 1 next. That price is 25 cents a pound for good steers at Montreal and Toronto.

Canada Won't Sign

External Affairs Minister Pearson said Canada has declined to sign a United National Organization treaty to provide tariff-free innternational trade in books and other cultural items. Canada's

Border Guards Continue To Halt Patrols

BERLIN, May 31 — (AP) — Russian border guards today turned back Allied Patrol cars on the Berlin-Helmstedt Autobahn for the sixth straight day as tension tightened in the East-West cold war in this divided city.

Road traffic along the big super-highway connecting Berlin with the free world was normal. But Berliners waited the invocation tomorrow of an East German government order requiring special passes for Germans travelling in the Soviet zone.

The new order could bring about a virtual blockade of Berlin if the Communists decide to crack down on all travel in and out of the city. Much of the city's economic life depends on its highway freight traffic.

Stiff Protests.

The West meanwhile awaited a reply to a stiff protest submitted Friday to Soviet Gen. Vassily I. Chuikov.

The Deputy United States High Commissioner, Samuel Reber, in a note duplicated by Britain and France, demanded that the cars be allowed to pass and that harassing tactics of the East German govmetn be stopped.

Black - booted Volkspolizei (Peoples' police) troops still stood sentry at nearly two-score points where the Western sections of Berlin and the Soviet zone join.

At Leipzig, where the fanatic Communist Free German Youth concluded its fourth parliamentary meeting, there were warlike rumblings.

Officers of the organization, which claims a membership of 3,500,000 East German youths, promised that the cream of the youth movement would be offered to the Volkspolizei.

East Germany's Deputy Premier, Walter Udbricht, called last night for sabotage through strikes as one means of "extreme national resistance" against peace pact West Germany signed this week with the big three.

Southern Mule Going To Dogs, As Dog Food

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The mule, a southern Congressman observed today, is going to the dogs. In fact, most of them already have gone there, as dog food at two cents a pound.

Representative John Rankin (Dem. Miss.) described to a reporter how pet caterers have swarmed into the cotton belt and toted away the hard-tailed ornaments of Dixie's mule barns.

The mule, he said, is a casualty of the machine age. The new south can hardly spare zoo room for a hammer-headed hybrid whose carburetion system burns timothy and oats needed for an expanding dairy industry.

Commit Indian, 33, In Triple Slaying

LONDON, Ont., May 31 (CP)—Archie Seneca, 33-year-old Muncey Reserve Indian, was committed Friday for trial at the September assizes on charges of murdering there persons May 11.

Seneca was earlier charged with the murder of Mrs. Lydia Riley, 54, but two additional charges of murdering Herman Henry, 30, and his wife, Beatrice, 32, were read to him yesterday. The three were found shot.

Paris Police Launch Raid On Reds

Reports Unconfirmed Of General Raids Through France

PARIS, May 31. (AP)—Police struck swiftly at France's powerful Communist movement today with raids on Red headquarters throughout the Paris area.

Red leaders apparently knew they were coming, however, and managed to burn most of their documents and records. Police seized the rest.

The raids took place in the party's central headquarters, five district offices in the Paris area and headquarters of the Communist-backed peace movement. There were reports of similar raids throughout France but these could not be confirmed.

Tear Gas Used

Tear-gas squads spearheaded the raid on the party's national headquarters, leading to speculation that Communist die-hards were barricading themselves in headquarters rooms. Communists barred the doors of some offices and police had to call in locksmiths or climb through windows.

Today's raid was the latest turn in the government's new "get-tough" policy against the Communists.

It followed the arrest earlier this week of France's No. 1 Red, Jacques Duclos, now in prison on charges of plotting against the internal security of the state.

At the headquarters of the "Fighters For Peace," a Communist-line organization on Rue Des Pyramides, police moved in without opposition.

The police backed up a three-ton truck to the main door of the Communist headquarters, and steel-helmeted officers began hauling small bundles of papers out of the big stone building.

The police grabbed all photographers the moment they arrived on the scene and hauled them away in a truck.

At the offices of a peace movement on Rue Lipic in the Monmartre area, documents had been burned before police got inside the building. Ashes were found still warm.

Police Seize Papers

Duclos, secretary-general of France's Communist party, and hundreds of other Reds were arrested in connection with Wednesday's bloody riots sparked by the arrival of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway to take over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's allied command.

When police squads pulled up in front of the headquarters of the Communist-controlled Confederation Generale Du Travail and demanded entry. When they were refused they smashed open the door. Detectives went through the offices seizing papers.

It was the C.G.T. which tried in vain to drum up a general strike in protest against Duclos' arrest.

P.C.V.S. GOLD LETTERS, the highest award attainable in P.C.V.S., were presented to 14 Grade 12 and Grade 13 students on Friday at the senior assembly. Eisenhower Flying Straight Into Political Squabble

WASHINGTON, May 31. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, homeward bound today, was flying straight into an angry political squall kicked up by a plan for Republican convention delegates to visit him, expenses paid. Protests against the plan's no-cost feature arose from the political managers of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who holds a delegate lead over Eisenhower in the Republican presidential nomination race, and of Senator Estes Kefauver, Tennessean who leads Democratic candidates.

The howls of political pain went up yesterday, shortly after Eisenhower headquarters disclosed that every Republican national convention delegate had been invited to call upon the General in any of three places—Eisenhower's hometown, Abilene, Kas., New York or Denver. A headquarters spokesman said expenses would be footed by local, not national, Eisenhower organizations.

PARIS, May 31 (AP).—Gen. Dwight D. Eihenhower took off for the United States and a possible political future today after nearly 1½ years as the western world's top soldier in Europe. His plane left the Orly Field runway at 2:04 p.m. (9:04 a.m. E.D.T.)

Before Eisenhower committee backers denied that the national organization would pay for 1,000 or more visits to their candidate, Taft and Kefauver headquarters blasted the plan.

Gael Sullivan, Kefauver manager, called the plan "gross bribery."

David S. Ingalls, national chairman of the Taft-for-President committee, said in a statement:

"The plan comes pretty close to efforts at bribery and is only one

Clay Says Can 'Whip' Blockade

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—The man who broke the Soviet blockade of Berlin with the historic airlift of 1948-49 says the West can whip another one, if and when the Russians impose it.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former United States military governor of Germany, noted that the Soviet Union is making menacing gestures in Germany but said he does not believe they are ready to make war.

"It is always possible that they would push us more than we would take, but I doubt that," he told this reporter. "I think war will come only if the Soviets are ready for war. I doubt very much that they think they can win such a war now."

Clay left Germany in 1949 after directing the airlift which dealt the Soviet Union a mighty psychological blow. He heads the privately-operated crusade for freedom which supports Radio Free Europe's broadcasts.

If the Russians should clamp on a full land blockade of Berlin, Clay said, an airlift could beat it again.

"An airlift today would be even simpler than the one we put on then," he said. "Our transports today have double the capacity. The only consideration would be whether the Russians would use force against an airlift, which would be an overt act leading to war. I don't think they are ready for that."

East Reds Seize Berlin Hamlet In Surprise Move

BERLIN, May 31 (AP).—Communist police today abruptly seized the hamlet of Buergerablage, on the fringe of free West Berlin, and ordered its 43 families to get out of their homes. Western authorities here said it was part of the Communist program to seal Berlin off from the surrounding Russian zone.

As part of the increasing Communist pressure in the campaign against the newly-signed West German peace contract, the Russians also turned back Allied patrol cars on the Berlin-Helmstedt Autobahn for the sixth straight day. West Berliners feared a new blockade was in the making.

There were reports that other fringe territories also would be seized, notably Steinstuecken which borders on the American sector.

In British Sector

Buergerablage lies just within the Russian zone, but administratively it belonged to the borough of Spandau, in the British sector. Suddenly this morning the black-clad Communist Volkspolizei (People's Police) appeared and knocked on the doors of the residents. The 43 families were told to clear out. They were given no reason.

But the action was believed part of the Communist pattern of creating "security belts" for the Russian zone. These "no-man's-lands" are being created around Berlin as well as along the Russian zone's border with Allied West Germany.

The East German Communist Government has announced it is setting up a "security belt" along the zonal border. It claimed this was necessary to "keep out spies and saboteurs" from [illegible] many which this [illegible] came [illegible]

Experts Predicting Pinch On Treasury To $15,000,000

OTTAWA, May 31. (CP)—Canadian meat shipments to the United Kingdom this year may grow to almost double their original estimate, but the Federal treasury may feel the pinch to the tune of $15,000,000. That's the loss some Federal experts consider likely following announcement by Agriculture Minister Gardiner that shipments may climb to 80,000,000 pounds, a substantial increase from previous hopes of sending 50,000,000 pounds.

Mr. Gardiner, prior to returning to Saskatchewan where a provincial election will be held June 11, told the Commons Friday:

1. The meat situation in Canada looks so favorable that the government has decided on a two-month extension in the current floor price of beef. The floor was scheduled to be changed July 1. It now will remain unchanged until Sept. 1 next.

2. The second stage has been reached in the battle against foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan, and it apeared that the disease has been placed under control.

Test animals will be placed on infected premises next week. They will remain there for 60 days. If they show no symptoms of the disease, quarantines will be lifted.

The government's support price on beef varies regionally. Based on good steers, it is 25 cents a pound at Montreal, Toronto and Moncton; 23.35 at Winnipeg; 22.8 at Saskatoon; 22.55 cents at Edmonton and Calgary; 23.4 at Vancouver.

On beef shipments to Britain, Mr. Gardiner said that New Zealand has had a closer look at its stocks, and has decided it will have available 80,000,000 pounds for diversion from the U.K. market to the United States.

Under the Canada-U.K.-New Zealand barter deal, the U.K. will take fresh Canadian beef and repay her with frozen New Zealand beef, which New Zealand will undertake to sell in the U.S. for Canada.

Profits will be divided between Canada and New Zealand if New Zealand beef gets higher prices in the U.S. than it would be in the U.K. Canada will pay New Zealand in Canadian beef which that country will sell to the U.K. for sterling.

Royal Couple Plan Australia Tour In '54

LONDON, May 31 (Reuters) — The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh will make their long-delayed tour of Australia and New Zealand early in 1954, an authoritative source said Friday night.

This is expected to be officially announced before the departure, June 13, of Prime Minister Robert Menzies of Australia who has discussed suitable dates with the Queen during his London visit.

"It comes in derby week, at the opening of the London season, when the capital is already packed," the Daily Express says.

Britons Prepare Gay Summer As Mourning Ends

LONDON, May 31 (AP) —The official mourning period for King George VI comes to a close this midnight, and Britons prepared for as gay a summer as their austerity program will allow.

Women brought their brightest frocks out of the closet and men put away the dark neckties they have worn since the King died Feb. 6.

The crepe bands which thousands of citizens were wearing will disappear and the tempo of all activities in the Commonwealth will quicken.

The greatest change, undoubtedly, will be in the life of the 26-year-old Queen. Social life, ceremonial and official duty will expand greatly, and if she does half of what is expected of her she will be about the busiest woman in her realm.

Adjust Social Pace

Most humbler Britons have recovered from the mourning mood, but persons in the higher social brackets have adjusted their pace to that of the court. Many parties have been delayed.

In the diplomatic corps the new era of light-heartedness will be touched off by the embassy of Nepal, one of the mansions in Kensington Palace Gardens millionaire's row. The ambassador, Gen. Shamsher Jang Bahadur Rana Shanker, will entertain 1,200 persons at a reception at which envoys' wives will have their first opportunity this year to wear summer frocks.

As the period of mourning passes and the Queen takes up the burdens of her position, many Britons are resolved that she should not work as hard as her father who, many believe, would have lived longer if he had taken more leisure.

But good resolutions notwithstanding, there will be terrific pressure on the Queen, who also has the job of raising two children. A Buckingham Palace spokesman said that already her list of engagements is "formidable".

N.S. Private Too Late To Reach Dying Son

HALIFAX, May 31 (CP) —Private E. J. F. Russell of North Sydney, N.S., ended his race from the Far East today, several days late in his attempt to reach the side of his dying son.

Two-year-old William died last week of tubercular meningitis, a few days after army headquarters attempted to rush the soldier home to his son. Private Russell arrived by plane from the west coast.

Can't Vote, Though

LONDON, May 31. (AP)—Police were startled by cries of "I like Ike" shrilling through trees around the houses of parliament Friday. They found 24-year-old Jean Thurgar trying to coax her parrot Benji out of a tree. She said Benji escaped from her flat a week ago and has spent most of his time flying around parliament since. "I taught him to say 'I like Ike'," she said.

LONDON, May 31 (Reuters)—House lights were turned on soon after a new play opened at the Fortune Theatre last night and a grim manager stepped on to the stage to announce that the leading lady had been shot.

Police flanked him as he warned a shocked audience that no one must leave the theatre and that everyone was under suspicion.

Then he called a doctor from the audience. The doctor examined actress Helen Cordet, slumped in a wing chair, and reported: "She's dead."

Some play-goers nearly panicked at this. But quicker-witted ones soon realized Miss Cordet would be "shot" again tomorrow night—all as part of the plot of "Murder in Motley," name of the play.

Reds Quit Service

HYDE PARK, N.Y., May 31 — (AP)—Russian, Polish and Czech United Nations delegates Friday strode from Roosevelt grave site when W. Averell Harriman, during a U.S. memeorial day service, lambasted a former ally "turned traitor".

"You'd known they'd have to do that," commented Mrs. Roosevelt afterward.

New Red Charge

Claim U.N. Command Provoked Incidents

MUNSAN, Korea, May 31 (AP) —Communist truce negotiators today accused the United Nations' command of provoking prisoner-of-war incidents to delay a Korean armistice and "to prepare the ground for an extension of the war."

The U.N. delegation replied that except for Communist stubborness the exchange of prisoners could be under way now.

North Korea Gen. Nam Il made formal protests over P.O.W. riots Thursday and Friday which cost nine prisoners their lives. Then he added:

"These are obviously deliberate provocations designed to obstruct the outcome of the question on prisoners of war and to delay armistice proceedings, to create new fears and tensions and to prepare the ground for extension of the Korean war."

Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., told the Red general the two sides could be exchanging war captives right now "except for your stubborn refusal to acknowledge that the prisoners themselves have already made their voluntary decisions in the matter of repatriation."

There was no progress towards decisions on what to do about 100,000 captured Communist soldiers and civilians who say they would rather die than return to Red rule. The Communists want the soldiers back regardless.

The U.N. says only 70,000 of 169,000 prisoners agreed to repatriation. As a result, Harrison told Nam, the Reds "are striving maliciously" to discredit the recent prisoner screening which handed the Reds "a setback in prestige and solidarity."

Nam Il refused an Allied suggestion of an indefinite recess and another meeting was scheduled for 11 a.m. Sunday (10 p.m. E.D.T. Saturday.)

Synod Supports Reunion Of Two Churches

TORONTO, May 31 (CP) — The principle of reunion of the United Church and the Church of England in Canada received strong support from the synod of the Anglican Diocese of Toronto meeting Friday in St. James' Cathedral.

Although it could not give direct backing to reunion, because of the multiplicity of ecclesiastical problems involved in such a step, it urged greater co-operation on the part of its clergy and laity in studying the question.

At the same time, it deplored the antipathy and lack of willingness on the part of some parishes to find a solution.

"It is in vain to talk of reunion," said Professor E. A. Dale of St. George-the-Martyr Church, "if we don't stress the working together between the two churches which must go forward."

(In ecclesiastical circles, the term reunion is used in preference to union. In the Middle Ages, many groups began breaking away from process which is still in operation. But any amalgamation between the Anglican and United churches would mean a bringing together again of these groups, or reunion.)

First In '43

First steps toward church reunion were made in 1943 when the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada sent out an invitation to other Protestant churches to discuss the subject. Since then, discussions between the United Church and the Anglican Church have taken place, but few points of agreement have actually been finalized. (The Presbyterian Church has indicated it will not participate in union with the Anglican Church.)

Canon H. R. Hunt, of the Church of the Redeemer, told the synod the meetings between the two churches have been going forward and that "progress is seemingly small, but is being made." He said that a joint report including various suggestions and recommendations will be presented this fall at the respective meetings of the General Council of the United Church and the General Synod of the Anglican Church.

"There is goodwill at the top levels of discussions," Canon Hunt said, "but there is need for it on lower levels among the clergy and laymen."

Canon G. Hasted Dowker, of Grace Church on-the-Hill, said the church must have a sense of urgency if any progress is to be made. "The greatest thing lacking," he said, "is an urgent will and desire for reunion."

'Pious Resolution'

Rev. V. D. Wigmore, of Calvary Church, however, termed the motion a "pious resolution." Rev. T. A. Wilkinson, of All Saints, Kingsway, declared that the clergy "was the usual stop gap that will not co-operate" in finding a solution.

"We must co-operate in our own home parishes on a grass roots basis," he asserted.

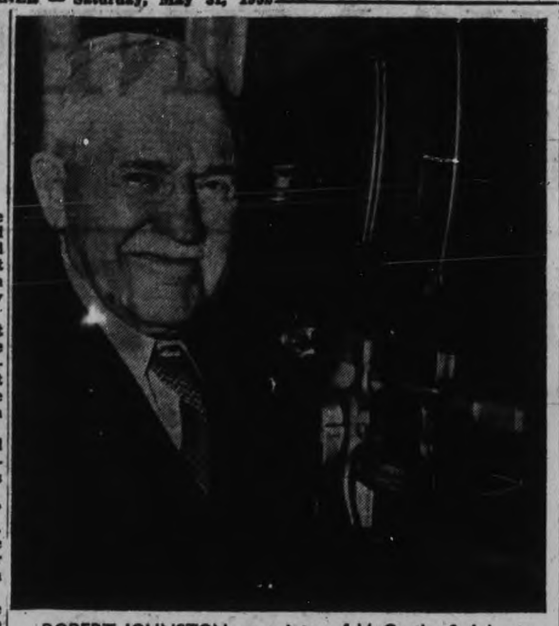
Eric Fricker of Grace Church, who proposed the resolution, felt there is a need for a unifying influence or purpose if the Christian Church is to give the world the spiritual leadership which it needs.

"It is generally acknowledged that the present unhappy conditions throughout the world are very largely due to the rate of scientific progress having gravely succeeded an equivalent rate of moral development. Hence, it is not surprising that so many of our political, military and business leaders have openly declared that basically the solution lies in the spiritual rather than the physical field."

Failure of the church to give leadership, he felt, lies in the divisions between many sections due to far too much emphasis having been placed on their points of difference instead of their far more numerous points of common agreement.

Monk Crossed Wires

PEORIA, Ill., May 31—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Detremp today mourned the loss of their pet two-year-old monkey, who got her wires crossed. The monk, Jill, was in the habit of travelling around the Detremp's farmyard on clothes lines and electric light wires. The Dethemps said she apparently stepped on high-voltage utility wires near the farm.



ROBERT JOHNSTON, proprietor of McCarthy & Johnston Co., who has been a coal retailer for the past 43 years, died Friday night following a short illness. Before coming to Peterborough in 1918, Mr. Johnston was a coal retailer in Western Canada for 10 years.

Veteran Coal Retailer Robert Johnston Dies

Coal retailer in Peterborough for the past 34 years, Robert Johnston, 487 Hunter St. W., died Friday night following a short illness.

Born on the boundary line between Hope and Cavan townships, Mr. Johnston was the son of the late James Johnston and Mary Ann Nesbitt.

He was proprietor of the McCarthy and Johnston Co., and has been in the coal retail business for 43 years, 34 of these years in Peterborough and 10 years in Western Canada before coming to this city.

He was a member of Knox United Church and a member of the session of this church for the past 15 years. He was also a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Ian McRae (Lena) and two grandchildren, Bob and Mary McRae, all of Peterborough. His wife, the former Letitia Byers, predeceased him in 1933.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the Comstock funeral home. The Rev. H. G. Douglas of Knox United Church, the Rev. William McDonald of Peterborough, and the Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt of Omemee will conduct the service. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

U.S. Sabres Down Two Red Jets

SEOUL, Korea, May 31 — (AP) —United States Sabre-jet pilots today shot down two Communist jets over Northeast Korea. On the ground Allied artillery damaged one of six Red tanks making a rare appearance on the Western front.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force announcement said the Sabres were flying protective cover for fighter-bombers hitting Red rail lines in North-west Korea.

The Fifth Air Force said no Allied planes were lost in air combat last week, a sharp reversal from the week before when the Red jets held a 5-to-4 advantage. Last week six Russian made MIG 15s were downed, it said.

During the seven-day period ended Friday midnight, the Air Force said, three B-26 bombers failed to return from night attacks and one Mosquito-control plane was shot down by Red ground guns.

In addition to the six MIG kills, the Air Force claimed two damaged and an unidentified night fighter probably destroyed.

I.O.O.F. Negotiating For New Lodge Rooms

Rev. Fred Parlee of Pentecostal Church, confirmed a report today of negotiations by the Independent Order of Oddfellows for the purchase of the building on Water St. which was vacated by the congregation when they moved to their new church on Dublin St.

Mr. David Moore of Ridout Realty also said there was prospect of the sale being completed, but from I.O.O.F. source it was learned that their membership had not yet approved the transaction.

Postponed Word

TOKYO, May 31 (AP) —Japanese monitors went on the alert Friday when the Peiping radio announced it would have "an important announcement" for Japanese listeners. With almost everyone tuned in, Peiping then said the announcement was postponed indefinitely. It gave no clue as to what it was about.

OBITUARIES

SAMUEL VICTOR MILLS.

The funeral for Samual Victor Mills, of Montreal and formerly of Peterborough, who died Wednesday, was held Friday at the Comstock funeral home.

Archdeacon W. P .Robertson of St. John's Anglican church conducted the service.

Pallbearers were: Guy Quartermaine, Walter Perks, Major Joseph Douglas Hall, William Ackerman, Hurrell Dodds, Gordon MacFarlane. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

WILLIAM THOMAS BOYLE

Funeral for William Thomas Boyle, 29, who died in an Ottawa hospital on Monday, was held on Wednesday from a Cobourg funeral home to St. Michael's Church. Requiem mass was said by Rev. Father Collins and pallbearers were Thomas, Earl and George Boyle, Owen Jennings, Howard Kelleher and Tom Driscoll Sr. Father Maher said graveside prayers and burial was at St. Michael's Cemetery.

Mr. Boyle was born in Peterborough, son of Thomas Boyle and the late Catherine Ellen Behan. He spent his boyhood here and in Brighton, Oshawa and Toronto, and was a teacher. Four of his five teaching years were spent in the Renfrew area. Mr. Boyle was a member of St. Francis Xavier parish, Renfrew, and of its Holy Name Society.

Besides his father in Oshawa he leaves a sister, Helen of Toronto, and a brother, John at home.

Bravos Greet Singers In Montreal Opening

MONTREAL, May 31 (CP). — The Bravos rang to the rafters Friday night as Montreal greeted the first performance of the Metropolitan Opera Company in the city since 1911.

The most popular singer, judging from audience reaction, was Zanka Milanov in the title role of "Aida." Time after time, she was interrupted by the rounds of applause as she sang in the difficult setting of the Montreal Forum.

New Instrument Led To Find Of Marmora Ore

NEW YORK, May 31 (CP) — Fortune Magazine in a feature article says that a new family of airborne electronic instruments has provided oil and mining companies with data that might have taken 100 years to obtain by ordinary ground methods.

The article, in the magazine's June issue, describes the airborne electromagnetic surveyor, developed by Hans Lundberg, a Toronto geophysicist, and his associates.

This news electronic prospecting tool, can—in theory—locate nearly any ore deposit, plus certain geological structures. It inspires its own signal, in the manner of mine detectors. The instrument has to be flown in a wooden plane at low altitude. Sometimes it is suspended from a towline.

Another Canadian-developed instrument, the airborne scintillation counter, is used to detect radio-active deposits. The instrument, developed a few years ago by Canadian atomic scientists, counts the number of Gamma rays leaving the earth's surface. All earth is more or less radio-active, but that overlying a deposit of uranium or thorium is apt to be especially "hot." Lundberg, the article says, has found the instrument useful in finding oil deposits.

Guided by a tiny part of information provided by airborne electronic instruments, Bethlehem Steel Company has already staked out two substantial ore bodies, one in Pennsylvania, one in Canada.

A 25-cent map of Ontario published by the department of mines and technical surveys of Canada and simply described as an "aeromagnetic survey, January, 1949" led to the Bethlehem iron-ore discovery near the town of Marmora, Ont.

The company's geologists immediately spotted an intense magnetic "high" near Marmora, about 40 miles north of Lake Ontario.

Soon after the map appeared, Bethlehem had representatives in Canada buying land over the indicated ore deposit, to the chagrin of other steel companies.

2 Men Charged In Gun Clubbing

PORT ARTHUR, May 31 (CP)— Two men Friday were charged with robbery with violence in connection with the theft of a small truck and the pistol whipping of Walter Sillers, 63-year-old farmer.

The men, Albert Martineau, 30, of Winipeg and Sherman Lynch, 30, of Regina, were remanded in custody without plea for trial June 7. They were arrested at Nipigon, Ont., Thursday night. The truck, owned by Sillers, was found nearby.

Police said Lynch when arrested had a loaded, sawed-off .22 rifle believed stolen from a summer home near Dorion, Ont.

Sillers, now in Nipigon hospital with a skull fracture, told police he was cutting wood on his farm at Dorion when the two men approached and asked him who owned the truck. One drew the contrived pistol and demanded the keys.

Sillers said a shot was fired at him and he was clubbed over the head with the gun before the two men drove off in the truck. Nipigon is 67 miles northeast of here on the Trans-Canada Highway.

Teacher Challenges Policy Of No Women

OSHAWA, May 31 (CP) —Mrs. Dorothy Grosart will challenge her dismissal as a high school teacher by the school board for getting married. The school board was enforcing a no-married-women policy.

Mrs. Grosart has applied for a board of reference to decide whether the Oshawa Board has a legal right to dismiss her.

4,000 U.K. Teachers Quit, Protest Closed Shop Policy

DURHAM, England, May 31 — (Reuters).—Nearly 4,000 teachers in Durham County submitted resignations Friday, protesting an attempt to impose on them a "closed shop" union policy.

Almost all the country's teachers are already members of the National Union of Teachers. But the Socialist-ruled county council, which employs teachers as well as doctors, engineers and other professionals, has decreed that union membership must be 100 per cent.

The teachers reject this as an infringement on their personal liberty. The resignations are effective Aug. 31.

The Educational battle in Durham has been dragging on for 18 months. Both Labor and Conservative national governments have intervened briefly to head off a threatened strike.

The N.U.T. today handed in resignation notices on behalf of 3,790 of its 4,900 Durham members — more than 75 per cent. Almost all the teachers had previously given their resignation forms to the union empowering it to use them against the county council as it saw fit.

Seniority and pension benefits were guaranteed and the union said it would keep a skeleton staff on the job so that school children would not be too hard hit.

The teachers' union has sent an ultimatum to the council demanding that it change its ruling The ultimatum expired today without action by the council.

Prime Minister Churchill said last week the government would intervene if the council did not amend its position.

The county council originally had laid down a flat order that all council employees must belong to trade unions or be dismissed.

When the teachers threatened to strike the Labor government, using powers under the Education Act, told the council to hold off to prevent a breakdown in the school system.

The council then changed its methods but not its intent. It brought in a regulation that applications for sickness benefits must be made through a trade union or "appropriate body".

While the Durham education issue centre around unionism, teachers throughout Britain have been clamoring for higher pay. Present wage scales, they say, are way out proportion with their professional status.

Reds Hurl Acid, Oil Bombs In Jap Rioting

TOKYO, May 31 (AP).—Communist "Martyr's-Day" demonstrations swept Japan Friday and Tokyo police killed three rioters in a mob that threw acid and oil bombs.

Three newspapermen were the only Americans reported injured in rioting that spread north to Hokkaido and south to Kyushu.

Twenty-five thousand police smashed 37 demonstrations participated in by an estimated 20,000 persons. They arrested 111 leaders. Police said 113 policemen were hurt, but did not say how many demonstrators were injured.

The central committee of the Japanese Communist party called the demonstrations to mark the anniversary of a May 30 uprising two years ago.

P.O.W. Outbreaks

Communist-inspired outbreaks at United Nations war-prisoner camps on Koje Island and on the Korean mainland Thursday and Friday left nine Red prisoners killed and 17 wounded.

Six of these deaths were on riot-torn Koje, where U.N. soldiers constructed new and smaller compounds they hope will end P.O.W. rule inside the enclosures.

In Japan three rioters were killed when about 200 Koreans, students and laborers attacked an outlying Tokyo police station with searing acid and flaming oil-bombs. Police fired into the mob as it surged forward, breaking windows with stones and threatening 13 police.

Associated Press correspondent William C. Barnard was hit and burned on the neck by an acid bomb. His injury was not serious.

National rural police said the riots centred in outlying sections of Tokyo and in Osaka. Nearly 30 persons were arrested in two big Tokyo riots, 39 in Osaka and 13 Red Koreans at nearby Nara.

Clashes between police and students, workers and Koreans were reported at Sapporo and Sendai in the north and Hiroshima and Fujuoka in the west. On Japan's northernmost island, police broke up a demonstration by Hokkaido University students.

reason for not signing was that the pact would not remove the real obstacles to a free exchange of books and educational publications.

In his opening statement, Mr. Howe said the A. V. Roe Company at Malton, Ont., has done a good job in producing the CF-100 Canuck jet aircraft and Orenda engines. He had confidence in the company and though it had hit snags it will surpass production targets within a few months. Ten Jets and 49 Orenda engines have been produced.

Avro "Bedevilled."

Rodney Adamson (PC-York West) said the company had been "bedevilled" by government interference.

Mr. Howe said Canada's general arms-production program— approximately $1,400,000,000 may be spent this fiscal year— has been delayed by lack of machine tools and difficulties in getting drawings and specifications from the United States. Many of these problems now have been overcome.

A new security pact has been signed with the United States to eliminate delay in the movement of secret materials across the border and to allow Canadian manufacturers into secret American plants. U. S. manufacturers will receive similar privileges in [illegible]

Makes Escort Ships.

On shipbuilding Mr. Howe said Canada is producing 14 Destroyer Escort vessels, primarily of Canadian design, and 14 of the most modern Minesweepers in the world. Three of the Minesweepers already have been launched and another four will be launched within the next three months. The remainder will be produced by the end of the year.

Main item of the $130,000,000 gun program was the American-type three-inch naval gun at Sorel Industries Ltd., Sorel, Que.

Mr. Green said that of the $1,431,000,000 worth of orders placed by Canada, $987,500,000 had been placed in this country, $412,600,000 in the U.S. and only $31,400,000 in other countries. Large U.S. orders had been expected but had not materialized.

Mr. Howe interjected that since July 1, 1951, to date, the U.S. has placed $251,000,000 worth of defence orders in this country and they are continuing at a high rate.

There was criticism, said Mr. Howe, because Canada had standardized arms with some of those of the United States. That was done, he said, as part of the plan for the defence of the American continent against Communist aggression.

Liberals Accept Resignation From Thomson

TORONTO, May 31 (CP).—The Ontario Liberal Association has accepted the resignation of Walter Thomson as leader of the Ontario Liberal party.

The 56-year-old lawyer who operates a farm near Pickering offered his resignation to the association's annual meeting Friday. It was accepted, despite a suggestion that a decision on it be held in abeyance.

The retiring president, Norman L. Mathews of Toronto, and other speakers praised Mr. Thomson for the vigorous but unsuccessful campaign he led last fall in an effort to replace the Premier Frost's Progressive Conservative Government with a Liberal administration.

The 500 delegates were stunned when Mr. Thomson, with tears in his eyes, handed his resignation to Mr. Mathews after a 40-minute speech in which he said the claims he made in his campaign speeches had been vindicated by events.

He said the Ontario health survey report, prepared a year ago but released only this month, bore out his contention that special types of institutions were needed for the care of elderly persons, that mental health services should be improved, that there was room for improvement in cancer treatment. Some of the ideas he put forward have been adopted by those who criticized them during the campaign, he said.

He said he has no apologies or alibis for the party's showing in the election.

"Nor do I point a finger of guilt at anyone. I know that before an election, the practice is to pat the leader on the back and praise his energy behind the campaign. But after the election, it is a much different thing. I will accept any blame, but I would do it again all over."

When reporters asked Mr. Thomson the reason for his resignation, he said he had no comment. Of his plans he said:

"I have a great future in agriculture and in my law practice."

The meeting gave the association's management committee power to call a leadership convention "at such future date as it may deem feasible." There has been speculation that such a convention might be held next fall.

Alvin P. Cadeau, 40-year-old Hamilton manufacturer who was elected president, said a new leader will be elected "within the next 18 months." Farquhar Oliver, whom Mr. Thomson succeeded as party leader, is Liberal house leader in the Legislature.

Mr. Oliver has been mentioned as a possible contender for the post left vacant by Mr. Thomson, as have W. L. Houck of Niagara Falls, John B. Brown of Kitchener and Mayor Allan Lamport of Toronto. Mayor Lamport and Mr. Brown say they do not want the job.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, May 31 (CP) — Prices of coarse grain futures showed a firm tone Friday in dull trading on the Winnipeg grain exchange. There was fair commercial demand for oats and barley, with reports that a cargo of barley had been sold to Austria. Pacific Coast reports indicated three cargoes of barley were sold to Japan.

Export loadings of wheat overnight included United Kingdom 800,000, Italy 400,000. Prices for Class 2 and I.W.A. wheat were unchanged.

MAY

May is building her house. From the dust of things
She is making the songs and the flowers and the wings;
From October's tossed and trodden gold
She is making the young year out of the old;
Yes, out of the winter's flying sleet,
And the brown leaves spurned of November's feet
She is changing back again to Spring's.

Reserve Units Go To Meaford

Peterborough and Lindsay reserve army units will move into the Meaford rifle range, near Georgian Bay, this weekend for a two-day manoeuvre.

Under the command of Lt. P. F. deMontigny, Peterborough's 28th Technical Squadron, R.C.E.M.E., will accompany the 4th Field Regiment, R.C.A., Lindsay, on the scheme.

At the Meaford range the 4th Regiment will bring its self-propelled guns into action for the second time this training term. Earlier this spring the Lindsay guns were fired in the fire power display by Eastern Ontario units at Cobourg.

The 28th Squadron will be acting as a recovery unit for the 4th Regiment. The 20-man force from Peterborough will be taking a jeep, a ¾-ton jeep, its wrecker and workshop units. This equipment will be used if there are breakdowns during the scheme.

Mrs Sarah Young

MARMORA, May 31 (ENS) — The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Young took place on Friday afternoon. Service at her late residence on Victoria Avenue was conducted by Rev. G. D. Young. Burial took place in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

The pallbearers were Fred Cole, Gilbert Solmes, Elmer McFarlane, Gordon Phillips, George Pressick and Lionel Brown.

10 Mining Firms Seeking Ore In Newfoundland's Big Drive

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld.—(CP)—Newfoundland this summer will be riding the crest of a mineral exploration boom unequalled in her history. No less than 10 mining companies from Canada, the United States and Great Britain will have prospecting parties in the field.

Biggest exploration will be in the area of the northeast coast between Notre Dame and White Bays where Falconbridge Nickel Mines is probing a deposit of combined lead and zinc ore.

Falconbridge began working in Newfoundland in the summer of 1951 in a concession granted by the Newfoundland government. First efforts were concentrated in copper and other deposits at Gull Lake and Tilt Cove, but last autumn a major deposit was turned up at Indian Brook, a few miles from Springdale in Notre Dame Bay.

The deposit there consists of combined ores of copper, lead, zinc and gold, and a major enterprise now is getting under way.

Two other companies—Independent Mining Corporation and Cape Copper—are working copper deposits on the west coast.

After Sulphur

At Pilleys Island, Pilleys Island Copper Pyrites Limited—a combination of the Frobisher and Halcrow Swayze—is working a copper pyrite deposit with a view to extracting sulphur.

A similar investigation is scheduled to get under way this summer with the American firm of Freeport Sulphur coming in to do the prospecting.

Other American firms indicating interest in Newfoundland this summer inculde Anaconda Copper, American Zinc, Lead and Smelting Company and American Metals.

The big British mining interests of Selection Trust have also indicated a desire to get in on the exploration boom.

Three Newfoundland companies have also lined up extensive mineral probes this year. They are the Newfoundland and Labrador Corporation, Newfoundland Asbestos Limited and Buchans Mining Company. The Asbestos Company will further check asbestos deposits on the west coast while the other two will probe various mineral deposits in central Newfoundland.

Peek Underhand In Man. For Oil

WINNIPEG — (CP)—The Manitoba Department of Mines and Resources this summer will wind up a three-year attempt to determine what's under the surface of the Manitoba prairie.

But the geologist who is doing the work won't be anywhere near the prairies.

He is Andrew Baillie and he will be working in rocky country between Lake Winnipeg and Lake Manitoba.

There he is able to see on the surface the three main types of limestone that sink under prairie topsoil to the south and west.

This is Mr. Baillie's third year in the field. His reports from limestone showings in the last two years have been snapped up by major oil companies.

Oil tends to form under layers of limestone. The same limestone layers have been discovered under the prairies in Saskatchewan and Alberta by oil drills.

Mr. Baillie will come in this fall and correlate his surface findings with those of oil drillers working on the prairies of Manitoba. It will be possible to partially trace the course of the limestone layers after they sink beneath the surface of the ground. In this way oil companies will be able to determine more exactly where oil is likely to be found.

Mines Department officials say this is the first time that the geology of prairie limestones has been charted by drill in correlation with surface work.

Indian Superstition Cramps Medical Work

NORDEGG, Alta. —(CP)—White man's medicine is fighting a stiff battle with Indian superstition among the Stony-Sarcee tribes in this sparsely-settled area in the Rocky Mountains 130 miles southwest of Edmonton.

Members of the tribes have refused to appear to collect their annual $5 treaty money from the district Indian agent because of the X-ray machine and crew that comes with him. Superstition has made them so afraid of the X-ray machine that not even $5 will induce them to "have their picture taken."

The superstitions may go back a long way, but as time progresses they are given added strength by the Indians' refusal to accept medical treatment before it is too late.

The Indian parents generally refuse to allow an X-ray for their children until the ravages of tuberculosis are all too obvious. Then another argument often ensues before they let their children go to hospital.

By the time many receive treatment it is too late and they die in hospital a short time after admittance. Then the story is circulated that the children died because of the white men. The victims' death is never blamed on the Indian's reluctance to accept early and useful treatment.

Tough Occupation Smoke-Jumping

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask.—(CP)—Saskatchewan's smoke-jumpers, on call throughout the forest fire season to fly into remote northern timbered areas and tackle fires in their early stages, are getting their annual spring training.

The smoke-jumpers are used to fight fires anywhere in the province's 100,000 square miles of protected forest. They parachute to fires from Saskatchewan government airways planes whenever they can reach the outbreak before overland crews. Water power units and various types of sprays are dropped with them.

Only men between the ages of 21 and 32 are accepted for the rugged occupation. Men with experience in bush work and forest life are preferred.

The rigid, three-week training schedule includes P.T. exercises, parachute packing, fire suppression work, map reading and eight practice jumps.

In June, when the hazard season is receding along the southern forest belt, the smoke-jumpers move to summer quarters at Lac La Ronge north of Prince Albert to fight fires in more northerly districts.

The jumpmaster is D. W. Kelly, in his sixth year as a smoke-jumper. He organized smoke-jumping here.

Something New For Toronto

There was a time when service clubs were derided as enemies of culture, and there is evidence that when Sinclair Lewis wrote Babbitt they deserved such criticism. But those days are gone, and service clubs are showing themselves as keen friends of the arts, and particularly of music. It is unnecessary to repeat what we have already said about the Kiwanis clubs and their annual series of festivals; we wish, however, to make a few comments about the visit of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York to Toronto, under the auspices of the Toronto Rotary Club. This was an imaginative and adventurous project, and it was carried through with great success.

• • •

Opera on this continent has at last reached the status which it has enjoyed for two hundred years in Europe; it is entertainment for the masses, and not for an elite. In Europe everybody who cares about music goes to the opera; in North America opera has been feared and avoided by those people who dread nothing so much as the notion that they may be bamboozled into intellectual entertainment. These short-hairs (for as they commonly speak of opera-lovers as long-hairs it is probably correct so to call them) have at last discovered that opera will not hurt them, and is better fun than TV; as a result, very large audiences for opera are now possible outside the largest North American centres. The Toronto Rotarians, quickly sensing this, have brought first-class opera to Toronto and Toronto has loved it.

• • •

Toronto has not been without opera, of course. Years ago, when touring costs were not so overwhelming as they now are, it was a good stand for excellent touring companies. And the Opera School of the Royal Conservatory annually gives performances which contain promise of a Canadian opera company. But the four performances given in Toronto earlier this week are the only opera on the highest level to be seen in Toronto for a quarter of a century.

• • •

The performances were made possible by the fact that they were held in Maple Leaf Gardens. It is not an ideal opera house, but it has great economic advantages. Single performances of Aida, La Boheme, Carmen and Rigoletto played to audiences of 12,000 people, or the same number as could be crowded into Covent Garden Opera House for six performances, or four performances at the Metropolitan's vast New York home. The prices of the better seats were high, but people paid them. And the performances were received with a degree of intelligent attention and appreciation which we do not think could be bettered anywhere on this continent. People came from Vancouver and from Halifax to be present for the four days of opera, and from such nearby Ontario cities as this people journeyed to Toronto by the hundred. It is not easy to fill the Maple Leaf Gardens for hockey; what the hockey enthusiasts thought when they saw it packed for opera, we do not know.

• • •

Canada's short-hairs are beginning to let their hair grow a little more freely, to their vast entertainment and advantage. The Rotary Club of Toronto has sensed the change in national feeling, and has ministered to it in a fashion which commands the highest praise. They h[illegible] the ho[illegible] places all knew the effects of war, and had many months to become familiar with American, British and Canadian evidence of democratic practice as it could be seen from army organization and the conduct of troops. Apparently what they saw did not woo them from Fascism or Communism.

As disturbing as the strength of Communism in Italy is the resurgence of Royalist and outright Fascist movements. The middle-of-the-road de Gasperi party lost six key cities in the elections. The same sort of thing is occurring in Germany, where a new Nazism is rising, and of course Communism is trying to suborn western Germans. The centre party of Dr. Adenauer is losing ground; under attack, as the deGasperi government is, from both right and left. The danger is that right and left extremes will meet at the other side and combine, for their means are similar, if not their ends.

A leading figure in a right-wing organization in Germany, the "ex-servicemen's leader organization" (Fuehrungsring ehemaliger Soldaten), a Lieut.-Col. Hein is quoted in an independent German paper as having said: "From the beginning it was difficult to keep our political line distinct from the Communist intention, i.e., to keep Western Germany defenceless in order to bring it under Soviet influence. There were people who assumed that it was correct in the interest of our aims, to follow for a bit the same road as the Communist." The German paper Die Welt says that the mix-up of right and left wing extreme elements has progressed so far that there is hardly one right-wing group in which the Communists are not active.

That is the danger. In Italy as Mussolini's regime began the extremes were fused in the Fascist party. In Germany the extremes fused in the National Socialist (Nazi) party of Hitler. Whether the fusion goes Communist or Fascist, it is equally dangerous and revolting to western democratic practices.

Go On, Grandpa, Jump That Fence!

We were greatly enlivened recently to watch a gentleman considerably over seventy showing his sons (around forty) and his grandchildren (quite small) how easily he could jump a fence and also walk along its top. When he had finished his demonstration he was in high spirits, if slightly winded. And—this is the important point—he did not have thrombosis an hour later, or die in the night, or displace his liver, or develop a "disk" in his back, or fall a victim to the blind staggers; he is just as healthy as ever.

Now if this jolly old party had paid attention to the physicians who write for the newspapers and the popular magazines, he would have been afraid to go near a fence, for fear that it might fall on him. The tendency of the day is to warn anybody over thirty against any sort of physical exertion; dreadful things are threatened if a man does anything out of the ordinary. We are encouraged to coddle ourselves.

There is much good sense in these warnings, but we think they are overdone. A man who suddenly jumps a fence to amuse his grandchildren takes a risk, certainly, but he may fall out of his swivel chair, or slip in the bathtub, or meet with a dozen accidents at any time. Is it not better—all things being equal—that he should run some risk rather than live in fear of taking any risk at all?

We are not setting up in the medical line, but we suspect that fear kills as many people as occasional frolics or unusual efforts. To begin, at thirty, to be afraid to lift anything, or jump anything, or run anywhere, is as good a way as any to lose one's joy in life. What says Holy Writ? "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine, but a broken spirit drieth the bones."

So jump that fence, Grandpa! If it kills you, at least you will not die by choking on one of your vitamin pills.

BIBLIOMANIA

Two Notable Novels

THE GREEN MADONNA, by C. E. L'Ami (Ryerson Press).

THIS IS a very good historical novel; without doubt the best a Canadian resident has written with a non-Canadian setting. This reader is usually bored with novels set in centuries long ago because, even if the story has any interest, the historical details ornately or archly obscure it, or the effort to recreate the atmosphere, customs and speech of the early century are bathetic or downright untrue in mood and language. Mr. L'Ami, a native of Ireland and now for many years a resident in western Canada, has written a very good story, and avoided by his tact, learning and craftsmanship, the pitfalls into which lesser writers of historical novels stumble.

The setting is fifteenth century England, after Agincourt and the burning of the religious Bohemian reformer John Huss. It is in the reign of Henry VI, when social unrest and the grinding controls of the rich abbeys and clergy were disturbing the country. The Lollards were risking their necks crying against the malpractices of the Roman church in England. This social and religious turmoil colours the novel, but does not obtrude upon characters or story.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE SETTING of the novel is the great fief of Haldingham, the inheritance of the 27-year-old Lord Robert of Haldingham, who is passionately interested in painting, and has studied the art in Italy. He is a scholar and gentle idealist, hoping to paint a virginally beautiful Madonna, and little concerned with the running of his domain or the social life of his peers. The older, plotting and conniving Abbot of Rokewode has usurped from the Lord the management of Haldingham villages and rules with a ruthless, illiberal hand of which the young Lord is only partly aware.

A cousin of Lord Robert, his heir so long as Lord Robert does not marry, has hopes of securing the fief. He is Gisbert a man of strong force, a brave leader, a medievalist in arms, love and scheming; a Renaissance man in his scholarly interest in books, in his anti-clericalism and his concern for the rights of man.

There is a tradition that Lord Robert may not be the rightful inheritor of Haldingham. Rumour has it that a daughter was born in lawful wedlock and, since male primogeniture was not yet firmly established in that part of England, might be the rightful owner of Haldingham. There are plots and subplots, involving Gisbert, the Abbot of Rokewode, and the prioress of a remote Cistercian abbey of St. Hilda's, in which two young and beautiful ladies are brought forward as the possible heiresses.

Lord Robert marries one of them who has been brought (without his knowing her possible lineage) to sit for his painting of the green Madonna. She is all that his artistic soul had craved as the subject for his masterpiece; the results of the marriage with this innocent girl form one of the most remarkable and tender threads of the story and lead to a very strong climax, followed by a satisfactory denouement.

IT IS a good story, told without undue dawdling, and with a fine feeling for the times, and the broad events of them; there is good, authentic detail in the settings, and just use of language—enough to suggest fifteenth century speech without making it archaic and tiresome. Mr. L'Ami cannot be unaware of the cadences of Lord Berners' translations of Froissart, Sir Thomas Malory and William Caxton.

The characters in the story are a little wooden. Perhaps it is due to the mail vests of the men, and the religious habiliement of most of the chief women; actually, the women are all rather two-dimensional. This flatness is not inappropriate to times unversed in psychology.

I recommend this story highly. It won the Westminster Fiction Award in the United States, and has received praise from reliable American critics who compare him with Sir Walter Scott. Not having a great taste for Scott, I prefer him to Sir Walter.

✧ ✧ ✧

A STONE FOR DANNY FISHER by Harold Robbins (McClelland & Stewart).

A STONE is just about all Danny Fisher got out of his miserable life, and even that was given with an ulterior motive, and long past the time when it would be of any use to him. The story opens with the family of Danny Fisher honouring an old Jewish ritual of placing a stone on the monument of one of their dead so that the recording angel will see it and know that they have paid their annual visit to the dead—one of the acts of charity and devotion required during their six days of prayer—so that they will be deserving of God's kindness during the coming year. So Danny Fisher has a prayer and a moment of remembrance.

[illegible] when time [illegible] family needs money Danny takes to the fights but, although his father uses the money, he torments Danny with sneers of 'Murderer'. When Danny falls in love with a young Italian girl, Nellie, his father calls her a tart and says that Danny is really fighting to get the money for her. As Danny climbs up in the fight game he is noticed by the small racketeers who rule the little kingdoms of the slums and Maxie, one of the more powerful and objectionable of these, asks Danny to throw a fight for him. As Fisher senior is desperately in need of $500 to restart in the drug business, Danny agrees to do it, but when the time comes he is too powerful for his opponent and knocks him out anyway. From then on Danny is on the run, Maxie's boys get him with a knife but he beats them off and Maxie's little prostitute hides Danny on Coney Island where her brother has a concession. Danny works there for two years until Maxie's boys again catch up with him and he takes cover in Brooklyn and goes in search of Nellie. This time, being sure of their love, they get married and she persuades him to go and see his parents. He finds them at the home of his sister who has married a fight promoter and trainer to help Fisher senior got established. His mother and sister welcome him but not Nellie, and his father will not speak to him at all, and has nothing but slurs again for both of them. Enraged Danny leaves and then he and Nellie commence their own struggle for existence. Her family rally as best they can. Although Roman Catholic they reluctantly accept Danny and ask nothing of him except that he will make Nellie happy. Danny cannot get work and Nellie, expecting a baby, has to leave her job and they are on relief. The baby dies after a very brief life and Danny, growing more bitter with time, decided that as the racketeers are the only ones with anything to offer him he will seek them out.

He has endless trouble with Maxie's boys, Maxie and even his own brother-in-law, but his treatment by welfare and relief officers has been so humiliating and heartless that he has decided once and for all to get to the top in the rackets. This he does but is eventually killed on the night of the birth of his son.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS is a very bitter story. Fundamentally Danny is a decent, honest man, willing to work, and only asking to live in peace with Nellie. Everything he does he does out of love. His fight career starts with his desire to buy for his parents some security; his first bribe is taken to help his father; his step into crime is to protect and care for his wife and the only person who repays him with love is Nellie. All the characters in the book, no matter how low, are real. Even the father whose [illegible] there [illegible] closing our eyes we are permitting all the little Hitlers to rule undisturbed, then we should open our eyes—and this book will certainly do that.

Letters To The Editor

FRANK COMMENT ON THE COUNCIL

Sir: Would you please allow me a few lines in your paper with regard to the Council meeting Monday evening.

I can assure all taxpayers that the cards were stacked against me before I went into the meeting. Mr. Pierce had a report which was nothing but untruth. I told Pierce his statements were not true at that meeting. His report from beginning to end was completely made up.

This man has fooled the Council for some years, and is still getting away with it.

What do some of these Aldermen know about the Sanitation Department, when they sit in an office or are spending their time down south?—while I am around town to see what is going on.

If a receipt is in the hands of the clerk, why didn't they produce it? Also, how did they know how much the hay and oats were worth?

Let me assure you, it wasn't just on one occasion these oats went out to the same place, with Pierce knowing all about same.

The men that knew all about this hay business were with me at the meeting, but the Council wouldn't hear them.

Pierce does not work but very little. He is dressed better than any man in the City Hall. He had a report on two cities, but I happened to have had the correct number that changed hands, and that was nil. These reports I had were sent to me direct from the two cities.

As for Alderman Gillespie and "Flash", if he is kidding, it is the first time I ever knew him to kid, as he sometimes thinks he is still in the Army and carrying the pips, and can override any person under him.

Miller—If he is hurt because I said he would like to be Mayor, I can't help that. He was very put out last year when Waddell was elected. Also he made the statement if any person but Dewart had beaten him, he wouldn't have cared so much.

Alderman Miller did a trick that I don't think any other person on the Council would have done, in that he practically asked for Chairman of Finance when Alderman Waddell was out of town and had no say. I still think he is unable to carry it through, as your taxes show you.

It would not be right of me to sit and tell you all Aldermen are the same, as there are some pretty good boys on the Council. As one farmer said to me about an alderman—it was our gain and your loss to get him, as he was a disturbance on the Board, and I am beginning to think that man is right.

Alderman Miller said I should have made statements at Council meetings. Well, for his benefit, I can say I had four committee meetings and got nowhere. If some of these brave Aldermen would speak their minds and not talk behind backs, it would be better.

Alderman Gillespie noticed the "Private" sign on the Clerk's door first and said something would have to be done. Did he do anything? Not even at the vote—his hand was down.

Mr. Editor, I could go on forever, but it wouldn't do much good.

Thanking you, I am,

Yours very truly,

N. C. GRAHAM.

P.S.—What I would like to know is—Who is the Mayor of Peterborough?—I have met three.

DISGUSTED WITH BALL TEAM

Sir: Having just returned from watching the annual inspection and presentation of the Ensign to the Peterborough Air Cadet Squadron at the Morrow Park exhibition grounds may I make some observations to the ball players there—though I doubt whether any of them are sufficiently intelligent to read.

In the first place it is surely no great hardship to fully-grown, presumably mature men to desist from a game of ball for one hour to permit the Cadets this most important parade in peace. The police requested them to stop, as did a visiting Air Force official, but they did not even have the common decency to be quiet whilst prayers were being said during the dedication of the Ensign. (In fact some of their loud-mouthed off-the-cuff remarks at being asked to be silent at this time would have disgraced a six-year-old both in vulgarity and stupidity.) One would imagine any man would have sufficient respect for the service flags of the country that permits him to 'play games' whilst [illegible] would aim so repeatedly in either direction even if it was the first audience they'd ever had.

The Cadets were, and are, a credit to this or any other community and it's a disgrace that they have to vie with village louts for space to drill and parade in. Never mind that the visiting Air Commodore could not be heard, nor the prayers of the chaplain, the commands of the officers? Let's listen to the [illegible] prayers [illegible] be.

From the remarks on the field around me I gather I am definitely not alone in these feelings of being an amazed and disgusted Peterboroughan.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?

And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many. . . . And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold. (Matt. 24:1-5, 12.)

Unto the angel of the church of Ephesus write; These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks; I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars. . . .

Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works. (Rev. 2:1, 2, 4, 5.)

Mammoth Idols

(London Free Press)

Maria Sumat, 82, midwife of Aubagne, near Marseilles, has been presented with an award by the French Minister of Public Health, a distinction acknowledging her service to the community by having brought 4,045 babies into the world.

On the same day in Chicago, Judge Joseph Sabath, 81, who has heard evidence in more than 100,000 divorce cases, retired after 42 years on the bench. A little more tolerance, he said, would have saved many a marriage.

We worship numbers. We bow in adulation before quantity. More babies, more divorces, and more of everything. It tickles our sense of importance based on size. But O. Henry would have told us the story of a few babies, and one or two divorces, and we would have known so much more about both Madame Sumat and Judge Sabath.

Embarrassment

(Wall Street Journal)

Most Americans who go north of the border don't bother to change their own money into Canadian currency. In the past they just handed out American bills with a great air and rather smugly accepted the fact that they got 10 cents change for each dollar purchased. That good old American dollar—why, you just naturally expected it to be worth more than any other country's money.

And it's embarrassing too. But the Canadian who lives in a country only a fraction as wealthy as his southern neighbour, with only a fraction of the resources to back up the value of his currency, has no reason to feel embarrassment. He ought to feel proud, and we will forgive him if he now feels a little smug.

The fellow who ought to feel embarrassed is the American. There is nothing more embarrassing in an awkward encounter than getting one's comeuppance.

Extremists Where The Canadians Were

Municipal elections held in Italy last Sunday reveal that the cores of extreme right and left wing factions outside the great northern industrial centres are places in which Canadian troops fought or later used as reserve or leave centres. The Fascist Italian Social Movement took Naples, Bari, Foggia, Salerno, Avellino (the Canadian base in Italy) and Benevento. Communists took five provincial capitals which they had held since the 1946 elections: Ferrara, Rieti, Terni, Oasta and Perugia. All these names are very familiar to former Canadian troops in Italy. We do not of course suggest that because Canadians were in and about these places they have now become anti-democratic. But this may help to explain why Canadian troops often met with false friendliness or spite from Italians in these districts.

Others than Canadians fought in and occupied these areas. The port of Bari was a general Eighth Army centre, including Canadians. Salerno was a notorious American beachhead. These four bars of bullion worth $116,000 were stolen—oh! so simply—from the vault of a gold mine refinery near Val d'Or, Quebec. A valley of gold indeed for the thieves. On Thursday easy-going thieves lifted $80,000 worth of gold, in three bricks, from an unguarded open mail cart on the railway station platform at Sudbury.

We presume that like surgeons working on the human body, and bank clerks riffling thousands of green bank notes every day, people whose work is with gold become casual to its glamour and glitter. A bone is a bone, ten thousand dollars are just bits of green paper, and gold bricks are just bricks. It is when something disturbs the tedium of the job—like thieves in the night—that the professionals are suddenly aware of the amateur's value of the stuff with which they work.

Peterborough Now Revealed As A Commuters' Paradise But Brother, Not In Winter!

By DON SWAIN

By bus, by car, and even by luck, because some use their thumbs to hitch hike rides, hundreds of workers commute daily from the surrounding district to work in Peterborough.

In fact a rough survey of the major industries of the city reveals that at least one in every ten workers is a commuter.

During summer months, the percentage is even higher. Compared with large metropolitan centres like Toronto and Montreal, Peterborough is a commuter's paradise.

Many city residents have summer homes and cottages on Chemong, Pigeon and Stony Lakes, all within short driving distance of city factories and offices.

To them, the wilting heat of summer is only a hardship to put up with for a few hours. Then, back to their lakeside retreat and the refreshing comfort of an offshore breeze, and perhaps a thought for their less fortunate friends, sweltering in their city homes.

1,000 The Year 'Round

However, there are nearly a thousand men and women who travel to and from their homes in the suburban area and district centres to jobs in Peterborough offices, factories and stores the year round.

They come from Lakefield, Omemee, Keene, Hastings, Havelock, Norwood and Warsaw and intermediate points; a few even travel the 28 miles from Lindsay every night and morning by pool car arrangements and by bus.

This figure does not include another class of commuter, several hundreds of school pupils. But that is another story.

Families who live in the rural area surrounding the city have the ideal set-up that most people wish for but only a few are lucky enough to obtain—a small holding in the country, where they can putter around evenings gardening, while they enjoy the healthy air and leisurely pace of country life in their off-duty hours from a good paying job in the city. Some even work their farms in their spare time and work in the city.

About 400 workers travel by bus. Train connections for out-of-town points morning and evening from the city do not coincide with factory and office hours. As a result, there are no train commuters and the railways do not offer reduced rate commuter fares.

However, Colonial Coach Lines, the major bus line providing commuter service and the smaller bus operators as well, offer special rates for commuters using their coaches every day.

Colonial sells books of tickets at savings up to 50 per cent for 25 rides, 12 rides and 50 rides. There is a varying time limit in which the tickets must be used ranging from 40 days for the 50 ride tickets to 10 days for the 12 ride books.

Cars probably bring as many or more workers into the city than buses, particularly in summer, when many who use buses to get away from winter driving conditions begin driving their cars in the spring.

Pool car arrangements are also popular with out-of-town workers. One car owner picks up the gang in his community this week and each passenger takes his turn, week-about so that each person drives his car only once every four or five weeks.

The majority of the residents of Lakefield and Omemee, where the only industry is a small laboratory manufacturing medical supplies have jobs in Peterborough.

Most commuters agree that their best friend is their trusty alarm clock which routes them out long before their fellow-workers in the city have to worry about getting up.

40-Mile Trip

Carman Hamilton who lives a half mile east of Cordova Mines has made the 40-mile trip into the city and back every working day for nearly five years.

He and the passengers he brings from Cordova in a suburban station wagon with accommodation for 10 probably hold the long distance record for commuters.

He's proud of the fact he's "only been late three mornings in five years and then never more than an hour."

Mr. Hamilton who is a partner in a Lansdowne St. garage moved out of the city to his present home mainly to bring other workers into the city. "I had a house on McGill St., before the war," he explained, but I knew several men near Cordova were finding it hard to get into work, so I sold it and bought another place out there.

It means that Mr. Hamilton is a year-round early riser. He leaves Cordova about half past six or seven in the morning and gets his passengers delivered in time for work at the C.G.E., Canada Packers, Peterborough Canoe Co. and DeLaval.

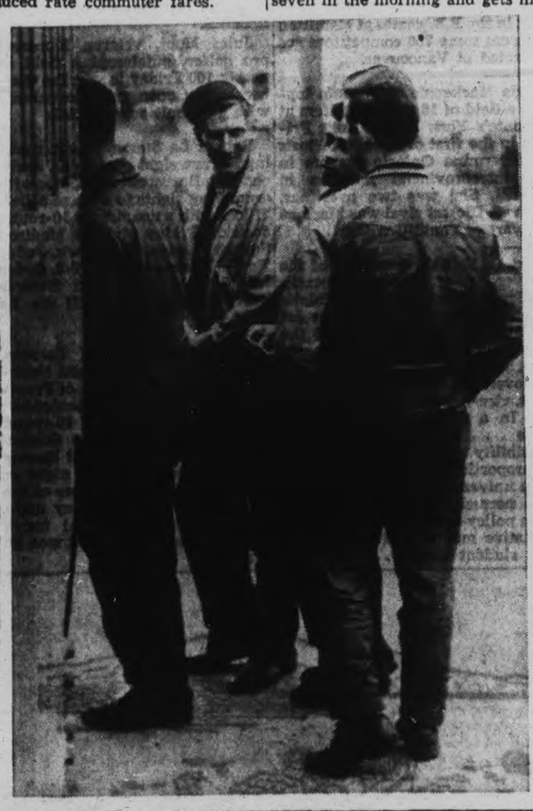
The five o'clock C.G.E. whistle is Mr. Hamilton's signal to drop his work if he's fixing a car and start picking up his passengers for the trip home.

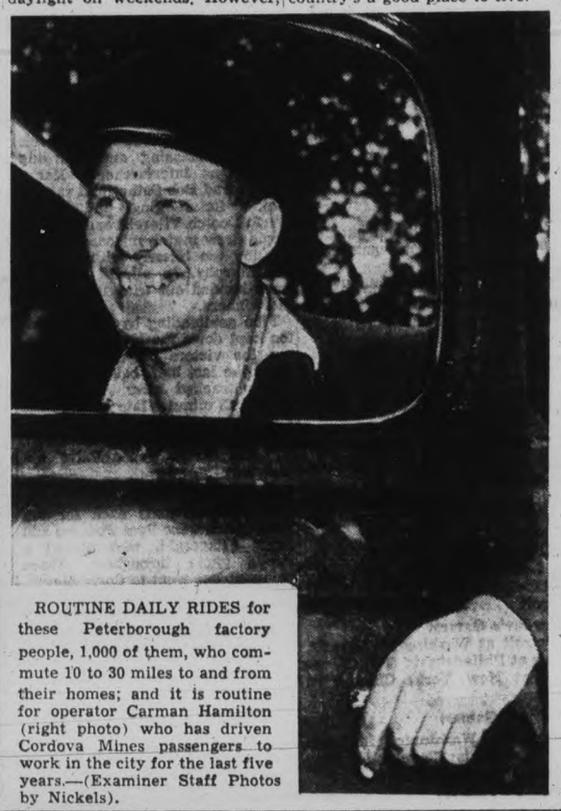
At Princess and George Sts. he picks up his last passenger, Roy Johnson, who works at DeLaval and has been riding with Mr. Hamilton since he started the service in 1948.

Mr. Johnson also moved out to Cordova Mines during the Second World War to escape from the high cost of city living.

It's a long day for these men who arrive home shortly after six. In winter, they and hundreds like them, only see their homes in daylight on weekends. However, after nearly five years of getting up with the sun and before, they still like commuting. They like working in the city but they also like living where they are.

As Roy Johnson puts it, "It's a bit tough in the winter, but the country's a good place to live."





ROUTINE DAILY RIDES for these Peterborough factory people, 1,000 of them, who commute 10 to 30 miles to and from their homes; and it is routine for operator Carman Hamilton (right photo) who has driven Cordova Mines passengers to work in the city for the last five years.—(Examiner Staff Photos by Nickels).

After following the obituary notices for weeks for word of my old guiding pal of Troutfly Township along comes a message laboriously scrawled on brown wrapping paper. It said:

Hello Nipper:

How's she loggin'?

I'm not dead yet but I nearly kicked the bucket a month ago when I went to town after a long spell at the lake. I was heavy with pension cheques and mighty dry. Got into trouble with the law and got out again when I unrolled with the Alcohols Unanimous. It broke my heart to bust up my new still with an axe and dump half an oil drum of mash into the swamp. It wasn't long before the frogs was chirpin' "Show me the way to go home." Off key, too; they's like to drove me nuts.

Too many game wardens flying around for me to get you them 'lunge fillets like you asked for. Thought you was in cahoots with them guys. Loosin' your grip, or sumpin'?

I'll be guidin' some Mericans again come July 1. That's about the time you generally come snoopin' around my camp looking for a drink. There ain't none. Keep away.

Wished I'd never took the pledge now. I think drinkin' this lake water is getting me all rusty inside.

Hoping you are the same.

Lifesaver For Fish

Listened with great interest the other night to Lands and Forests biologist Charlie Weir telling some service clubmen about the spawning habits of our game fish and how it was related the Game and Fisheries Act. He deplored the way fishermen manhandle fish as they try to land them—standing on them while they yank out swallowed hooks and all the forms of brutal mishandling. Mr. Weir explained how fish leaders can be broken off or the barbs of hooks snipped away and asked:

"How is it that fishermen will accumulate $200-$300 worth of tackle but never carry a 75-cent pair of cutter pliers?"

If you are a sportsman add a piece of this cheap hardware to your tackle box today.

Many cottagers bring word of having found nesting partridge in the underbrush around Bide-A-Wee these weekends. It is fitting that they can enjoy watching the hatching and rearing process but hands off the eggs, nests and chicks. There's a law against molestation that is enforced by stiff fines.

This goes for fawns and moose calves, too.

An interesting article in the current top-flight business men's magazine "Fortune" features the plotting of the Marmora iron ore deposit by Canadian airborne magnetometer survey. From the resulting map of this flying operation—which retails for two bits—the Bethlehem Steel people were able to spot favorable hidden ore conditions. They acquired 1,200 acres of rocky bushland for the probable sum of $500,000 and by the time they start shipping ore in about three years will have spent around 15 million dollars.

At the risk of having my bait-seller friends sore at me, here is the way to run your own worm farm for the summer fishing season.

Dig a hole three feet square by one deep in a shady, well-drained location—your old compost bed will be ideal. Spade well-rotted manure into the earth and spread the top with a quantity of stale water-soaked bread. Sift enough fine dirt over this to cover.

Catch the worms and add them to your farm where they will stay, thrive and reproduce as long as you keep the farm damp but not soaked. About once a week add additional bread, cornmeal and vegetable refuse. After that all you have to do is turn up the crawlers with a spading fork whenever you are ready to go fishing.

Your Garden:

Problems Of Growing Grass, Especially Under Trees

By HENRY PREE (NEA)

The problem of growing grass under the dense shade of trees and ... will tolerate shaded areas, provided the soil ... better than fair and provided during perio...

Yearly feeding of the soil is of course necessary, and if tree roots are partly responsible then additional feeding should be given for their benefit.

Wherever a green carpet is wanted and grass just will not grow the old gardener suggests one or more of the following vines and herbaceous plants.

Vinca minor Bowles variety, Bowles Periwinkle, six inches, part shade or shade. This improved form of Vinca minor is heralded as a plant of stronger textured, richer green foliage and larger, deeper toned flowers, borne in greater abundance.

Aegopodium podograria variegatum, Silveredge Goutweed, one foot, part shade. An ornamental member of the carrot family with soft green, white margined leaflets. Useful as an edging or ground cover in partially shaded locations.

Ajuga reptans, Blue Bugleweed, six inches, sun or shade. This most versatile of ground covers possesses the remarkable faculty of developing a solid mat of foliage virtually overnight. The leaves remain dark green until fall when they assume bronzy tints. In May, decorative flower spikes transform the plants into masses of bright blue. Very tolerant of soils and exposures.

Vinca minor is only one of the plants you may use for ground cover on those bare spots that often crop up in shady places.

Euonymus fortunei, Sharpleaf Wintercreeper, six inches, part shade. A pleasing form with narrower, sharper tipped leaves. More prostrate than the type, but equally good as a climber.

Euonymus fortunei colorata, Colored Wintercreeper, one foot, sun or shade. More handsome than some of the others is this introduction of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. While similar to acutus, it has larger leaves whose color changes in the fall to a rich reddish purple. It soon spreads to form a dense covering.

Euonymus radicans vegeta, Bigleaf Wintercreeper, two feet, sun or shade. The hardiest and most satisfactory of all evergreen creepers for the north. Whether used as a climber or ground cover it is equally attractive throughout the year with its thick, rounded elliptical leaves and brightly colored orange fruit.

Hedera helix baltica, Baltic Ivy, ... shade. From the Baltic region of northern Europe came ... this dark ... variety who... summer ... hardier, perfectly hardy, disease free and tolerant of soils, it makes an ideal carpet of glossy green. Particularly useful in the dense shade of trees.

Thymus serpyllum, Mother-of-Thyme, one to three inches, sun. Since the earliest days of gardening the Thymes have been employed as ground covers. Forming close rosettes of tiny wiry foliage, greenish gray in color and fragrant when crushed, they soon produce an attractive low carpet. Very fine textured.

Gardening Questions

Q—I would like to know how to take care of tuberoses. Are they supposed to be separated, planted singly or in clumps? Very few bloom for me.

A—Tuberoses are difficult to maintain in a flowering condition from year to year in the northern states. Annual purchase of fresh tubers is recommended. The tuber, or bulb, that has flowered is usually worthless the second year, and the many small tubers that it produced must be grown on for another year or two in order to attain flowering size. This means digging them up each autumn before frost and storing in a warm dry place.

Q—Is the Oregon Holly Grape a suitable shrub for planting about ... garage home?

... evergreen in ... its foliage browns ... parts of the country when exposed to winter sun and wind. However, new foliage appears in early spring.

Q—Are 20-year-old peach trees which have been neglected for several years worth pruning, feeding and otherwise revitalizing?

A—The answer is no—for according to the old gardener, peach trees are seven years coming, seven years bearing and seven years going.

THE RAINBOW

My heart leaps up when I behold
A rainbow in the sky:
So it was when my life began,
So it is now I am a man,
So be it when I shall grow old
Or let me die!

And I could wish my days to be Bound each to each by natural piety.

Pitching in with right good will, Alex Sinclair, Dr. Cliff McKee and the senior ball Petes have the local junior team back in the Lakeshore League again. They received a friendly hearing from the loop executive and were re-admitted by putting up a bond of $100, the league returning Gord Snape's bond. And Gord co-operated, too, so the team is back and all is harmony again. Good news. They open play here Monday night against Port Hope intermediates at Riverside, and will pick up postponed games as they go along. Al Menzies is coaching the Young Petes, with Shocky Mein the manager. Dr. McKee is president, Ray Pammett secretary and J. Foster treasurer. A nice break for the boys and for ball generally.

Boyd Upper of Belleville, attending Queen's, is quite upset because Don Griffin wasn't chosen on the Canadian Olympic team and the absence of Don Griffin's name from the roster is sad, indeed. Griffin, who comes from Peterborough, is possibly the best all-around basketball player in the country. For the past three years, he has starred in the senior intercollegiate loop while with Queen's. There has been unanimous agreement among coaches, players and spectators that Griffin is one of the most polished performers on the boards.

All-around Cage Star

He continues: "There is nothing he cannot do. He can dribble the length of the court faster than any other senior player can sprint the distance and he is a tireless two-way worker. Don is an outstanding star but above everything a team player and a defensive specialist. He led the scoring parade last season, despite the fact he missed much pre-season training from a broken arm incurred in the football season. Griffin made the jump from high school ranks to senior intercollegiate competition without a qualm and became a star in his first season. Most of those on the Olympic team have played against Griffin and on no occasion have they shown themselves his superior." Yes, it's a shame he wasn't chosen.

As it looks like Orillia will be back in senior "A" lacrosse next year, some of the "A" clubs are arranging to give this "B" team exhibitions in their fine new arena. The Petes' Timbermen agreed to squeeze in a tilt there June 7, right after they meet Fergus Thistles here. Orillia always was a good lacrosse centre and we've had some okay players from there with our teams. The Petes would welcome Orillia back as it would mean one of the shorter trips in a wide-flung grouping that takes the locals from as far north as Owen Sound to St. Kitts in the south. All of which costs much moolah. The Mann Cup champs should prove a big draw in the exhibition there next Saturday.

Price On Their Heads

'Tis not known what Mimico got for allowing Don (Scotty) McPhail to play for Toronto Yorks, though some say the sum was $800. St. Catharines are having holdout trouble again, with Joe McNulty, Tony D'Amico, Frank Bird and Ken Croft on the sidelines. Coach Joe Cheevers says Toronto can have D'Amico and McNulty for $800, and Hamilton won't get Bird or Croft without laying cash on the line. Seems to us that 'twas St. Kitts' columnist last year who criticized Peterborough for offering cash to draw some good players here, but evidently the Saints aren't adverse to taking coin of the realm, too, for lacrosse talent. Ah, well, senior amateur sports today could not possibly bear the scrutiny of an Olympic committee on amateurism.

Hamilton Tigers and Petes' Timbermen laid on the gad right heartily last eve ere a goodly gathering as the locals won 13-5 to make it four O.L.A. victories in a row. First loss for Tigers. Refs handed out 18 penalties, including two majors for fighting to Wipper and Sutherland, and match misconducts to Vitarelli and Doyle. Guess they told Joe Murphy what they thought of him in no uncertain terms. A rugged game with the Petes finishing stronger to earn it. Powless, Fitzgerald, Slater, Mason, Thorpe, Wipper and Ashbee were the main guns on the attack, while Wootton again held the fort in able fashion. With three tilts in four nights—two of 'em on the road—the Petes will be tired guys Tuesday a.m.

TV Gives Competition Pains To Baseball, Football Clubs

By GAYLE TALBOT.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 (AP) —Think big league baseball clubs and college football teams are suffering at the gate because of television competition? Look some of the thousands of visitors who were in town for the Memorial Day 500-mile race. It didn't do that, but it kept so many fans glued to their television sets that only 665 braved

A few yea...

...coast ...now, a total of 1,182 fans paid to witness three association games. That's scarcely enough to pay the groundkeepers.

The fight was held here in the illusory hope it might attract boxing show which is bringing howls from the big-league clubs which must, eventually, foot the deficits of their farm teams in the association.

Kansas City Blues already have given up backing the free fight show and are playing their Wednesday games in the afternoon.

Even with the Blues playing matinees, the average attendance for the association on Wednesdays has been running only over 700 per game.

Ottawa Wins 2, Toronto Splits In I.L. Games

By The Associated Press.

Good pitching was the order of the day in the International League Friday.

The Syracuse Chiefs with a pair of three-hitters swept a doubleheader from the Rochester Red Wings to climb past the Wings into second place.

Bob Keegan blanked the Wings for the first time this season, 3-0, in the opener with Fenton Mole's sixth homer the big blow. In the nightcap, Arnie Laneck held Rochester scoreless until the seventh inning when they tallied an unearned run. Johnny Welaj tied the score with a bases-empty homer in the Syracuse seventh. The Chiefs pushed across a run in the ninth on two walks, a single and an error to win it 2-1.

The league leading Montreal Royals split a twin-bill with the Baltimore Orioles. The Orioles won the first, 8-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Dick Starr but the Royals came back to take the second, 2-1, as southpaw Mal Mallette limited Baltimore to only four hits.

Ottawa Wins Two

The Ottawa Athletics jumped from seventh place to fifth by beating the Springfield Cubs, 2-1 and 1-0. Tom Kirk's ninth inning single won the nightcap for the A's. Charley Bishop, who hurled a no-hitter against Syracuse the last time out, held the Cubs to only three hits to win the second game. Dewey Adkins, the loser for Springfield allowed four hits.

After bowing to the Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 in the first game to make it 14 losses in the last 16 starts, the Buffalo Bisons snapped back to score a 4-2 decision in the nightcap. Russ Bauers won his fourth victory in the opener by checking the Bisons with six hits. Harvey Zernia, just recalled from Little Rock of the Southern Association hit a pinch home run in the ninth for Buffalo and in his next trip to the plate in the first inning of the second game he followed with his second circuit clout.

Timbermen Trim Tigers In Rough O.L.A. Tilt For Fourth Straight Win

In a bruising O.L.A. senior battle here last night, the Petes trounced Hamilton Tigers 13-5 to stay atop the heap with four wins in as many starts, handing Tigers their first loss this season. A good-sized crowd saw the husky Hamilton crew play on even terms the first half but fade gradually under the Timbermen's strong drive in the final two quarters. It was 2-0 in the first for the Thorpe team and only 4-3 for them at the half, with a Hamilton goal disallowed at the gong. Petes threw in three in the third without a return and had a 6-2 scoring bulge in the last chukker.

Checked Hard

The checking was heavy with plenty of slashing and boarding as well as interference. Harry Wipper and Bob Sutherland sat out majors for fighting, and in the fourth Dootch Vitarelli and later Al Doyle drew match misconducts for arguing too bitterly with Referee Joe Murphy. In all, 18 penalties were handed out with 10 going to the winners.

Fine goaltending by Moon Wootton kept down the Hamilton score, but the victors played solid lacrosse the last half, being slow getting untracked after the game started 25 minutes late because the visitors had car trouble. Blain McDonald failed to show up for Tigers and Arn Dugan was a Petes' absentee.

Led the Way

In on four goals each for the Timbermen were Ross Powless and Jerry Fitzgerald, who played a strong game throughout. Three points apiece went to Curly Mason, Bob Thorpe, Russ Slater, Harry Wipper and Don Ashbee as they all truned in a nifty effort. Nit O'Hearn, Vitarelli, L. Nickle and Ike Hildebrand hit the mesh once each.

Jack Gair scored a pair for Hamilton, with singles going to George Masters, Al Doyle and Jack Dorney. The latter and Masters also aided on one, as did Butch Guthro and Tommy Love. The visitors showed plenty of power and used their weights and the wood all the way, but ran out of some of their steam in the last half. They missed the defensive work of Merv McKenzie for part of the game as he was cut on the face in the second period and didn't return to action till out in the fourth. Several little feuds threatened to flare up and promise to be in evidence again when these strong rivals clash. Teams:

Mason, Slater, Hildebrand, Powless and Killingbeck.
Tigers—O'Hearn, Nickle and Killingbeck.
Referees, S. Milne and J. Murphy.

Cardy's Horse Takes Second

DEVON, Pa., May 31 (CP). — Times Square, veteran campaigner owned by Veron G. Cardy of Montreal, took second honors in the Springsbury Farm Challenge Trophy competition Friday night the Devon Horse Show.

Friars Delight, owned by W. J. Brewster, Southern Pines, N. C., won the trophy. The brown gelding currently holds top show honors.

The In-and-Out Devon Stakes was won by Scotty, from Folly Farms, Greenwich, Conn. Third place went to Blue Bonnet, owned by C. L. Robins of Welland, Ont.

In the afternoon competition Dufferin Haven, from Dufferin Stock Farm, Toronto, won the trophy for champion Hackney stallion.

Record Time Set By Rathman At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 (AP) —Bill Vukovich of Fresno, Calif., moved into the Indianapolis motor speedway history book today alongside Ralph Depalma and Louis Meyer—the champion hard luck losers in 36 Memorial Day auto races.

Troy Ruttman of Lynwood, Calif., and his car owner, J. C. Agajanian of San Pedro, Calif., the wininng combination, will pick up a check for about $65,000 tonight at the annual speedway victory dinner.

The purse will depend upon the undisclosed attendance, which looked like the biggest ever—maybe 200,000.

Vukovich and car owner Howard Keck of Los Angeles may get $18,000, and $15,000 of that will represent Vukovich's earnings for leading 150 of the 200 laps.

Shaft Breaks

Vukovich apparently had the race won in the 192nd lap when his steering shaft broke and his car brushed the northwest outer wall. That left the 250-pound Ruttman far ahead of his nearest opponent and he won easily.

Depalama led in 1912 with less than two laps to go. His Mercedes engine failed and Joe Dawson crossed the finish line while Depalma and his riding mechanic were pushing their car.

Meyer was leading the 1939 race, trying for the fourth victory that no one ever has won, when he lost a tire in the 197th lap. Wilbur Shaw passed him for the big prize.

Vukovich, former national midget racing champ, was only about 26 seconds ahead of Ruttman at the time of his mishap in the fastest 500mile race ever run.

Ruttman's winning speed of 128.922 miles an hour compared with Lee Wallard's 1951 record of 126.244—and many old timers around the track predicted Wallard's record would stand for years.

Only Two Wrecks

Friday's race had the same combination that produced Wallard's record. The weather was fine, the field was slowed only about two minutes by wrecks, and the competition up front was fierce.

At the finish, Vukovich, "the mad Russian" to midget racing fans, cried unashamedly and groaned, "what a dirty, lousy, no-good break."

The 22-year-old Ruttman, youngest driver in the race, naturally was elated. It was his fourth "500". He got in two under the 21 age minimum by fibbing about his birthday. He was badly hurt in a 1950 practice accident.

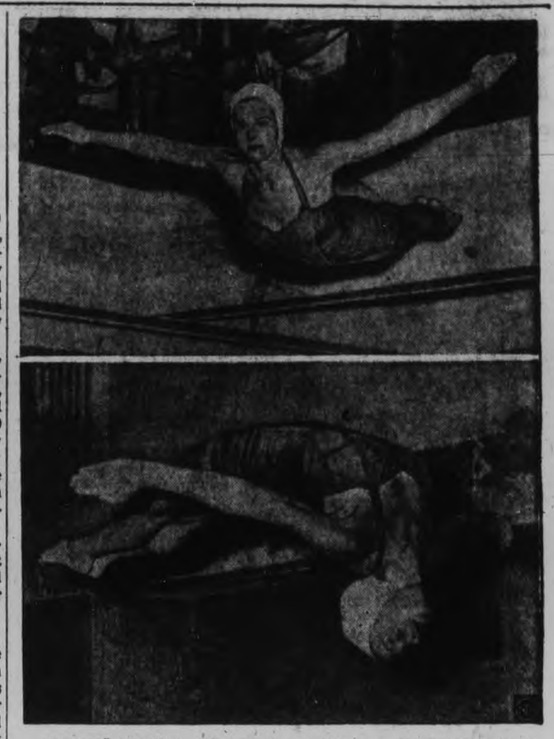
Jim Rathmann of Chicago, only 23, finished second in a Grancor Wynn's special and his speed would have been a record of 126.723 miles an hour if Ruttman hadn't been in front.

Veteran Sam Hanks of Glendale, Calif., was third and Duane Carter of Culver City, Calif., took fourth money.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Carl Hubbell's brilliant 24-game winning streak, stretching over two seasons, was ended by Brooklyn Dodgers 15 years ago today. The great New York Giants pitcher was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning at the Polo Grounds as the Dodgers went on to win 10-3.



ZOE GRACEFUL—Regardless of how you look at it, Mrs. Zoe Ann Olsen Jensen shows fine form at Washington's Ambassador Hotel pool. In a swan, top, of half gainer, Mrs. Jensen is a sure shot for the Olympic women's diving team, the trials for which are to be held in Indianapolis, July 4-6. Competent critics say the blonde wife of the Senators' outfielder should have won off the boards in London in 1948.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The British Empire Games Society is after a federal grant of $750,000 for the games to be staged in Vancouver in 1954.

Announcement of the objective was made Friday in the west coast city where officials said Senator Stanley S. McKeen of Vancouver has been asked to rally British Columbia members of parliament in an effort to hurry approval of a government grant.

The federal grant for the games staged in Hamilton in 1930 was $40,000. Vancouver officials, however term comparisons with 1930 "ridiculous." Currency inflation and mounting costs make the picture far different today, they say.

Fewer than 500 athletes took part in the B.E. games at Hamilton whereas some 750 competitors are expected at Vancouver.

Ada Mackenzie of Toronto topped a field of 18 women golfers at Toronto's York Downs links Friday in the first of a series of tests to determine Ontario players in the interprovincial matches in August. She was two over par, with 79. Closest rival was Marlene Stewart of Fonthill with 81.

Dr. G. E. Hall, president of the University of Western Ontario, Friday announced that an athletic finance committee had been set up at Western, composed of the president of the athletic association, three members of the board of governors, the university president, vice-president and comptroller. In a statement, he said: "I have . . . cautioned against the possibility of athletics gaining a disproportionate position in Canadian universities and of the absolute necessity of having all athletic policy in the hands of representative members of the faculty and student body . . ."

Ezzard Charles did not train Friday out of respect for his publicity director, Ed Van Every, 73, who died at his Pleasantville, N.J. hotel of a heart attack. Van Every was a widely known writer and author of several fight boks.

Four top-flight Canadian and United States golfers will play an international mixed foursome match at Niagara Falls, Ont., June 28 to honor 18-year-old Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Canadian ladies amateur champion. She will play with Bob Gray of Toronto in an 18-hole match against Marjorie Row of Windsor and Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Texas.

Jules Huot, veteran Montreal pro golfer, outclassed a field of nearly 100 Friday to win the Quebec spring open golf tournament with a 36-hole score of 142.

Roland La Starza, fourth ranking heavyweight contender, dropped Dan Bucceroni five times with crumpling rights to avenge a Dec. 21 loss with a unanimous 10-round decision Friday night at Madison Square Garden, New York. Judge Harold Barnes scored it 8-2, Judge Bill Heavly 7-2-1 and Referee Harry Kessler 6-3-1, all for La Starza.

L'il Arthur King of Toronto, British Empire lightweight champion and George Araujo of Providence, R.I., a leading contender, have been signed for a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden June 13, the International Boxing Club announced Friday night at New York. King pulled one of the upsets of the year Monday night when he easily whipped tough Paddy DeMarco, who had won 20 in a row.

Minoso's, Hodges' Homers Win Double-Headers For White Sox, Brooklyn

By The Associated Press

Gil Hodges, Brooklyn Dodgers' first baseman, and Minnie Minoso, the White Sox great 1951 freshman outfielder, pounded the ball Friday in a manner that brought joy to their followers. Hodges, who not so long ago was considered one of the leading candidates to break Babe Ruth's home-run record, broke out of his dismal .198 batting slump to drive home eight runs as the Dodgers whipped the Boston Braves 5-4 and 11-2. He won the first with a three-run homer in the eighth and nailed down the second with another three-run blast in the fifth.

At the end o fthe Memorial Day doubleheader, Gil was sporting a .227 average and the Brooks trailed the National League leading New York Giants by only a half-game.

Minoso, idle since May 18 with torn foot ligaments, played an important role in tightening the American League pennant scrap. He had only a .237 average going into the twin bill but with the day's work done it was three points higher as the result of three home runs that led the Chicagoans to a double victory over the pace-setting Cleveland Indians, 7-2 and 3-1.

Three Homers

Minnie hit a three-run homer in the seventh of the opener to break a 2-2 deadlock and belted round-trippers in the fifth and seventh innings of the nightcap to provide Joe Dobson with the margin of victory.

The Giants lost ground by dividing a doubleheader with Philadelphia, dropping the opener 3-0 and winning the second 4-2. The Chicago Cubs whipped the Cincinnati Reds, 7-6 and 11-0, and Joe Garagiola pounded out a three-run ninth inning homer to give the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates a 4-3 win over St. Louis after the Cards had won the first encounter 3-2.

And in the American League the Boston Red Sox moved within a game of the Indians by capturing the nightcap, 5-3, after Eddie Yost's three-run ninth inning homer gave the Washington Senators a 5-2 win in the first half of the twin-bill.

The split left the Senators two games off the pace and the White Sox three.

Yanks Lose Two

Meantime, the Yankees found troublesome foes in little Bobby Schantz and Bob Hooper as the Philadelphia Athletics took two from the world champions, 2-1 in 14 innings and 4-2. The champs trail by three-and-one-half games.

The Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns broke even in the other doubleheader. The Bengals won the second in 12 innings, 8-5 with two bases-loaded singles after the Brownies had captured the opener, 3-2 on a double by Joe Demaestri.

Russ Meyer finally shook off his [illegible] bad luck [illegible] Larry Jansen allowed only five hits in racking up his 100th major league victory.

Speedballer Bob Rush also turned in a two-hitter in the Cubs' second game shutout of the Reds while Hank Sauer's run-scoring single in the ninth provided the margin of victory in the day's inaugural.

Minoso's solo exploits gave the White Sox their sixth and seventh victories in their last eight games. Dobson's bid for his fourth shutout was ruined by Harry Simpson, who homered in the eighth.

Schantz racked up his eighth game against one setback in shellacking the Yanks with nine hits in the extra-inning first game. One of the blows was Mickey Mantle's third homer.

Escoe Knocks Out Harper For Championship

EDMONTON, May 31 (CP) — Verne Escoe, Friday night knocked out out Doug Harper at 2:55 of the sixth round of a scheduled 12-round bout for the Canadian heavyweight boxing championship.

Escoe, veteran Toronto boxer, had too much ring know-how for the 22-year-old Harper of Calgary and Vancouver. Only 2,000 watched Escoe successfully defend his title for the second time.

Escoe weighed 187, Harper 174.

Escoe won the Canadian crown in 1947 when he defeated Arnold Hayes of Montreal and made his only defence against Gordon Grayson of Edmonton, also in 1947. He won that one by a knock-out, too.

In the scheduled six-round semi-wind-up Earl Walls of Toronto knocked out Bill Nichols of Seattle at 1:25 of the first. Walls will get a crack at Escoe's title within 90 days in accordance with a ruling by the Canadian Boxing Federation. Both have the same manager, Jimmy Jones of Toronto.

Escoe now has amassed 30 victories, 15 of them by knockouts, in his professional career. He lost 10 and fought to a draw twice.

HOUSE No. 130 — This little home has much to recommend it. Clean, simple lines greet the eye from any angle you see it. And the interior is equally attractive too. To the left on entering is the good-sized living room, with its open fireplace and chimney forming part of the wall separating it from the dining room. See the splendid windows in these two rooms. Both equal-sized bedrooms are well separated by the bathroom. Closet accommodation is good. Although there is no window over the sink in the kitchen, arrangement of equipment is efficient and the room is bright. A convenient breakfast area is provided. House contains approximately 24,450 cubic feet and has a 38' frontage. For working drawings, write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Inside Chimney Saves Fuel

QUESTION: I have been wondering approximately how much of the heat generated in a furnace goes up the chimney—have you any figures on this?

ANSWER: For one pound of coal with a heating value of 10,000 British Thermal Units per pound, about 5,900 B.T.U., or 59 per cent of the heat in the coal is used in heating the house. A British Thermal Unit is the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one pound of water one degree Fahrenheit.

When the chimney is inside, about 9 per cent of the heat in the fuel, which passes through the chimney walls, is recovered from the chimney.

Waxing Coloured Concrete

QUESTION: What is the best procedure in cleaning a terrace of colored concrete—is wax of any pracitcal value in making the surface more impervious to dirt?

ANSWER: Colored concrete surfaces may be cleaned and made more impervious by washing with liquid soap. When this treatment is used the soap should be applied and allowed to stand over night, being washed off thoroughly the next morning.

The application of ordinary floor wax once a month after the concrete is dry and clean will produce deep colors, improve the wearing surface and make it easy to keep clean. After the first two or three waxings, unless the surface is to be subjected to unusually severe wear, waxing twice a year will be sufficient.

Removing Forms From Concrete

QUESTION: How long should forms be kept around a newly poured concrete wall?

ANSWER: In summer weather, wall forms generally can be stripped after one or two days and in cooler weather in from four to seven days, advises the Portland Cement Association. Concrete floors, roofs and other similar construction are not stripped in less than seven days in summer and fourteen days in colder weather. A good rule to follow is that forms must never by removed until it is certain that the concrete has hardened sufficiently to be self - sustaining.

Maintaining The Septic Tank

QUESTION: How often should a septic tank need to be cleaned out?

ANSWER: As long as the active working space between the scum and the sludge is adequate to decompose sewage by bacterial action, the tank does not have to be cleaned.

A one-chamber tank requires more frequent cleaning than a two-chamber one. When space between the scum and sludge becomes one half of the total depth of the tank, cleaning is advisable. A two-chamber tank of adequate size should not need cleaning more frequently than once in 10 or 12 years. If inspection shows raw sewage at the outlet, the tank should be cleaned.

To clean the tank, stir the contents with a board and pump out the material with a diaphram or trench pump. If a pump is not available, use a bucket to bail out the contents. Material removed from the tank can be dumped directly into a deep trench; the liquid will seep away and the solid material can then be covered with soil.

Reducing Noise Of Toilet Valves

QUESTION: Is there any simple adjustment that will prevent the intake valve of a toilet from singing out shrilly every time the toilet is flushed?

ANSWER: When the ballcock "sings" shrilly at the beginning of the flush or when refilling the tank, the cause might be excessive p... tank. Try throt... on the ... but do ... far that ... tank to refi...

Stucco Over Old Brick

QUESTION: We recently purchased a very old home in the country. The brick used in its construction must have been of poor quality and is chipping and falling away leaving holes and a rough surface. Could this be stuccoed over directly onto the brick?

ANSWER: When brickwork has weathered to the extent that the surface is spilling off, it is too weak to hold stucco. Contraction of the stucco in cold weather would cause it to break away and pull part of the brick surface with it. If the mortar is in good condition, the brickwork could be covered with stucco reinforcement nailed into the mortar joints, then finished with the usual three coat base and finish stucco. However, this would be relatively expensive. It might be advisable as an alternative to give the brick a coat of stucco or cement paint for added weather resistance.

Who's To Blame For High Cost Of Construction?

By IRVING C. WHYNOT

HALIFAX — (CP)—Who is responsible for high construction costs, labor or management?

Both sides of the argument were given an airing by their respective supporters in the Halifax Mail-Star recently but the final decision was left to the readers.

The debate came while the Halifax Construction Association and union members were trying to reach agreement on a new contract and followed an editorial in which the newspaper sought an answer to the question of responsibility for high costs.

F. H. Cleveland, a carpenter from nearby Spryfield, started it off with a letter saying builders' profits are unreasonable, management less efficient than elsewhere and that building designs are out of date.

E. C. O'Leary, president of the construction association, replied that Mr. Cleveland had no qualifications to criticize the building industry and the lower percentage of wages is due to pyramiding costs of materials.

Mr. Cleveland contended that building workers' wages are not too high and said that income tax figuress how that 60 per cent of construction workers in the Halifax area earn less than $2,000 a year.

Management, on the other hand, wasted more than 25 per cent of labor through inefficiency, he said.

Building designs were out of date, resulting in costly alterations after start of a construction project.

Mr. O'Leary said comparative figures of profit and loss with past years did not present a true picture.

"The higher proportion of profit and overhead can be easily explained by pointing out that the increases in taxes and accounting necessary with payroll deductions alone could advance the proportion of overhead alone more than the percentage of both profit and overhead, thus lessening profit percentage."

Skid Demon Lurks In Mud Go Soothingly

OTTAWA—(CP)—The Japanese say it differently—at least it sounds that way when their language is translated into English.

A translation of a digest of Japanese traffic laws, reprinted in an Ottawa Transportation Commission publication, has some gems in the police Japanese fashion. They include these paragraphs:

"At the rise of the hand of policeman, stop rapidly...Do not pass him by or otherwise disrespect him.

"When a passenger of the foot hoves in sight, tootle the horn trumpet melodiously at first. If he still obstacles your passage, tootle him with more vigor and express by word of mouth the warning 'Hi, Hi'.

"Beware of the wandering horse that he shall not take fright as you pass him. Do not explode the by, or stop at the roadside till he exhaust box at him. Go soothingly pass away. Give big space to the festive dogs that make sport on the roadway. Avoid entanglement of the dog with your wheel-spokes.

"Go soothingly on the grease-mud, as there lurk the skid-demon.

"Press the brake of the foot as you roll around the corner to save the collapse and the tie-up."

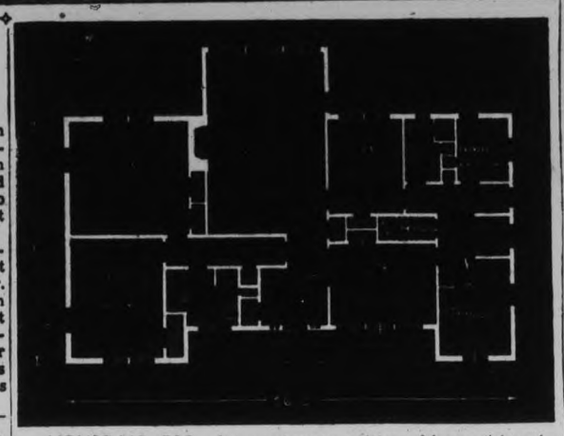
Kingston Woman Seeks MacRae Family

A Kingston woman has written to the Examiner, asking for assistance in locating Mr. and Mrs. Tom MacRae whom she believes moved from Kennedy, Saskatchewan, to the Peterborough district about 1936.

Mrs. Mary E. Butters, 253 MacDonald St., Kingston, writes that she knew the MacaRe's when Mr. MacRae was manager of the grain elevator in Kennedy. She lost touch with them when they returned to their former home near Peterborough and now that she is living in Ontario, Mrs. Butters is anxious to locate them.



HOUSE NO. 512—In most communities of homes there's usually one particularly striking home that attracts attention. Young couples dream of a future home just like it, drivers-by slow down for an extra look. It's readily apparent why this is one of those houses! The basic beauty of its simple exterior is not to be denied. Red brick and white clapboard were never more successfully combined. Most striking feature of the exterior is the economical unbroken roof line, providing a long 4' deep shelter in front of the bathroom, hall and dining room. Facing south, the owners are enthusiastic about the extra large dining room windows that bring brightness and winter sunshine into the room. In the summer, the roof overhang provides welcome shade when the sun is high and hot. Every possible convenience is to be seen in the plan, with a particularly good grouping of kitchen, dining nook, laundry and dining room. Two large fireplaces are provided, one in the living room and another in the basement recreation room. Basement has 7'10" ceiling. Located on a lot 68' x 130' deep, this home contains 29,000 cu. ft. Village Waiting For Floods As New Seaway Coming IROQUOIS, Ont. — (CP)—Residents are waiting for the flood in this quiet village on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River 30 miles west of Cornwall.

They are waiting for the word which will flood their homes and send them along the river to build again. The Dundas County community of 1,036 persons lies directly in the path of the St. Lawrence Seaway. It is only a matter of time before their 400 homes, five churches, two schools, town hall and six miles of streets are under water.

Since they first learned the fate of their village, development of Iroquois has been virtually at a standstill. "We are like a pool of stagnant water," says Reeve Lloyd C. Davies.

There is one industry in the community, a linen plant. Over the past 20 years other industrial firms have investigated the community as a possible site for new plants. Their enthusiasm quickly cooled when they learned of the village's role in the proposed seaway and power project.

Ready To Move

Iroquois is ready to move when work begins on the seaway. Village officials have chosen a new site two miles east of the present location. It has been approved by the Ontario Department of Planning and Development for its river frontage and prospects for industrial expansion.

Two things worry the people of Iroquois: When will the project get under way, and how much will they receive in property settlements and compensation?

Reeve Davies asks: "Are we going to take financial losses on our public utilities and homes? We have been trying to get answers to these questions for years. We don't know any more now than we did 20 years ago."

The community has been advised that compensation will amount to about $5,200,000, but residents cannot learn whether this is a provincial or federal estimate, nor how it was compiled.

Officials do not understand how the village of Morrisburg, about seven miles west, which will have to rehabilitate only one-third of its people and its area, can be allotted $6,420,000 for compensation.

George Brouse, successful farmer and dairyman, says, "I'd lose on the deal, regardless of what I was paid in the way of compensation." He figures he would have to farm on a smaller scale no matter where he moved.

RELATIVE SIZE

Suggest It Be Made Possible For More Canadians To Build Home of Their Own

Faced with high building costs, government regulations aimed at curbing large scale borrowing and the prevailing cost of living, current indications are that Canadians will build fewer houses this year than in 1951. Recently-released statistics compiled by the Federal government show that 92,000 new houses were started throughout Canada in 1950. In 1951, the number of new housing units being built dropped by 24 per cent to 72,000. During the first three months of this year, there was an even greater reduction in individual home building.

A careful analysis of the national housing situation indicates, according to expert opinion, that families earning less than $3,300 a year have little hope of being able to purchase a home of their own under present conditions.

Viewed With Alarm

This situation is being viewed with alarm by industry, labor organizations and individual citizens all across Canada who are urging federal, provincial and local governments to do something immediately about the housing problem.

Here in Peterborough, an order to residents of 125 wartime houses on the Hatton property to vacate their homes by the end of December has focussed attention on the problem locally and council is being urged to delay the removal of the houses until other suitable accommodation is available.

In Brantford, a city roughly the same size as Peterborough, the seriousness of the housing problem has prompted the Board of Trade to prepare a brief outlining a scheme to enable more people to acquire homes on a long-term purchase basis and at the same time, encourage individual home building.

The brief was prepared by the board's committee of national affairs and has been endorsed by the National House Biulder's Association, the Ontario Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, The National Retail Lumbermen's Council of Canada, and The Retail Bureau of the C.L.A. as well as the Brantford Board of Trade. Copies are being sent to all members of the Liberal Government at Ottawa.

A resolution prefaces the brief and states that homes are not being built fast enough to keep pace with the number of new families being formed by natural increase in the population. "Individual home ownership created by individual welfare," the resolution continues and urges the federal government to make loans more readily available to prospective home owners through the National Housing Act and financial institutions.

Five recmomendations are set down in the brief:

(1) What it costs an individual builder to erect a home should be the basis of valuation, rather than a contractor's costs.

(2) New agreements should be made between lending agencies and the government's Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, in order to make it easier for individuals to borrow money to build homes and at the same time, give them more time to pay off mortgages.

(3) Continuing the present 80 per cent basis on which government loans are granted but doing away with the regulation setting a net selling price.

(4) Low cost specifications should be adopted to provide accommodation for low income workers. This would enable them to acquire homes with a minimum outlay and add the finishing touches later themselves. Ninety per cent loans should be allowed on this type of home.

(5) Providing specifications are laid down for septic tanks and lot sizes, land not serviced by water and sewers should be made available for new homes.

Need Greater Than Ever

"The need for new homes is now greater than ever," the brief states. "In addition to the normal family formations and replacements of obsolete housing, there is great industrial expansion and a flow of immigration into Canada. For nearly 100,000 new families expected to be established in Canada this year, there will be less than half that number of new homes built."

Government subsidized housing is termed "a social and economic evil" and the Government is criticized in the brief for making agreements with the province "for the purpose of creating cheap housing."

It is suggested that both governments would be better advised to channel the funds they have available for housing into loans, making it possible for more people to build houses of their own.

"The Canadian people are such that they prefer to have the government help them build a house of their own, rather than have the government build a house and rent it to them. To provide large amounts of housing in rental projects does nothing more than give them a roof over their heads. It does not encourage the desirable traits of national and community pride and interest. A small percentage of the population must still rent, but a lot of obsolete housing which can be vacated if new housing is created will provide additional rental accommodation to service that group."

Regulations Censured

Federal Government regulations covering the granting of loans for home building are also censured in the brief. Emphasizing that there is "no doubt", the Government's policies have discouraged individual borrowers and speculative builders, the brief criticizes the requirement that building estimates be within five per cent of that of Central Mortgage and ousing in order to receive more than a two-thirds loan. Secondly, the brief charges that the home builder is "the innocent victim of the guessing game" which results from the regulation that a lending agency's estimate must be within three per cent of the estimate of C.M.H.C. in order to obtain a loan of more than two-thirds of the estimated value of the house from the government.

Low yield from housing loans plus the fact that the Government only guarantees 25 per cent of such loans is a further detriment to the building of new houses according to the brief which points to the fact that only five loan companies have agreements with the Government's housing agency as evidence of the need for overhauling the existing agreements.

Even if interest rates were increased, the brief claims that by taking a greater share of the risk, itself, the Government would be accomplishing two things: More loan companies would be interested and at the same time, they would be more ready to allow longer periods for debt retirement.

The Government's "attempt to throttle the home builder" by setting maximum prices beyond which he must not go in order to receive an 80 per cent loan is the "greatest detriment", to home building according to the brief.

This regulation encourages "cheap construction and poor workmanship because it has been amply demonstrated that good quality homes cannot be erected at these sale prices, particularly by small builders.

Very few have taken advantage of the last amendment to the National Housing Act which provides 90 per cent loans to defence workers in the opinion of the framers of the brief. While agreeing that 80 per cent should be sufficient for average quality homes, the brief urges that where a prospective builder cannot pay more than a 10 per cent down payment and requires more than 25 years to pay off the balance that a special low standard type of accommodation should be approved for government loan assistance, where the income does not warrant an expensive home.

Such "standard model homes having reasonable appointments and comforts" but lacking such extras as stippled ceilings, French doors and fancy trim, would provide good comfortable dwellings, would receive owner care and be more desirable than similar houses built in Government rental housing projects according to the brief.

Only those unable to finance a more deluxe type of residence should be allowed to build units of this type the brief emphasizes.

It concludes with the comment that "members of the public have come to expect the same appointments and trim in low-priced housing. The result is the main difference in price between houses is in size. There are many persons in the lower income bracket who need larger homes, who could be accommodated by reducing the standard without reducing basic quality. This type of housing would soon be accepted by lower income groups if no other housing were available to them. As long as exteriors were kept on a high plane and basic construction quality was always maintained, such homes would soon become very popular."

HOUSE No. 357—Edmund Peachey Ltd., builders, of Islington, have a 75-acre development in West Toronto known as "Chestnut Hills." All homes are architect designed and many have large ravine lots. This fine buff brick house was specifically designed by Architect MacDonic for a site sloping sharply to the rear. While to passers-by this appears to be a handsome little bungalow, a glance at the floor plans will reveal that the house is much larger. Living quarters are chiefly at the rear of the house, permitting large windows on the southern exposure; which also faces the view. Notice that the recreation room is on the same level as the big terrace. This room rivals the living room in attractiveness and livability. Don't overlook the fact that both rooms have open fireplaces! Thanks to the architect, the exterior is simple and devoid of embellishment. Time will not dim its attractiveness. For further information, write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Spiritual Code For Anglican People

LONDON—(CP)—A code for the spiritual discipline of Anglican church people, has been approved by the Lower House of the Convocation of Canterbury.

The Bishop of Lichfield said the code had been framed by a joint committee at the specific request of the laity and was not imposed as an issue of obedience by Bishop and clergy.

The rules still have to be adopted by the Upper Houses of Cantebury and York as well as the laity.

They are:

1. Pray every day and read the Bible regularly.

2. Join in the worship of the Church every Sunday and observe the Holy Days.

3. Receive Holy Communions regularly after due preparation; (more particularly at the great festivals of the church and on the important occasions of their own lives.)

4. Mark Fridays and the season of Lent by speecial acts of devotion and self-denial.

5. Contribute worthily to the work of the church at home and overseas and for the relief of those in need; give personal service to church, neighbors and community.

6. Uphold the marriage laws of the church and bring up children to love and serve the Lord.

BLOCKADE BUSTERS — Bicycle-riding West Berliners ignore the newest cold-war threat as they use a newly-erected East Zone road block for a game of "follow the leader" in the city's French sector. Similar barricades were erected in other parts of Berlin as the Soviet began retaliatory moves against West Germany for signing a separate peace with the Allies.

Tradition-Bound Britain Cramps New Approach To Secondary Education

By MURIEL NARRAWAY,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON —(CP)—Tradition dies hard, say Britain's education authorities. They can't convince doubting parents that a new way of picking pupils for secondary education is better than the old one.

Under the system used in father's day, written examinations on general subjects determined whether a youngster ready for High School qualified for the school the parents had selected. Now the choice is made on the basis of intelligence tests.

If Junior shows what the examiners deem to be a high degree of aptitude for academic, abstract and classical subjects—what might be loosely called "book learning" —he will be allowed to enter a free grammar school.

Otherwise he may have to go to a "modern" school, providing an all-round education with less emphasis on traditional subjects, or a technical school, designed for those with merchanical aptitude.

An Old Belief

The difficulty is that most parents cling to their old belief that the grammar school is by far the best for their particular prodigy. So when the boy comes up for his "11-plus" examination, Mom and Dad have their fingers crossed.

They know that if Junior fails the intelligence test, he won't be able to go to a Grammar school unless he pays his fees. And they're not so sure abut the "modern" school, despite assurance from education Ministry officials that basic educational standards are a lot higher than they used to be.

The present system, in which results of the intelligence tests are considered in conjunction with primary school records, is designed to pick up the right pupils for the right schools. Authorities wanted to get rid of the old habit of ambitious parents forcing children unsuited to academic training into grammar sch[illegible].

But although pa[illegible] are assured that a child of outstanding academic ability who lands in other than a grammar school may later be transferred, parental opposition is still loud. Parents writing to British newspapers contend that intelligence tests are unfair to nervous children and give an untrue picture of their general capabilities, especially when the only written papers are on English and Arithmetic.

Canucks Perturbed

Generally considered to be stiff though no examples are given for publication, the tests have already caused mild consternation among Canadian parents at the R.C.A.F. base in North Luffenham, Rutland, whose children attend a British Primary School near the base.

Although grammar, modern and technical schools have an equal basic standard of secondary education, each school develops its curriculum according to the needs of its scholars. Parents say that grammar schools therefore still have the highest standards.

Shortage of staff and up-to-date buildings also leaves something to be desired in modern schools, parents claim. Classes of 30 to 40 children give insufficient chance for individual study and development.

Education authorities say they are trying to remedy these conditions. For one thing, the official school-leaving age may be 15, but every child can take a further year of advanced study at any any of the three schools. Grammar school students are expected to remain to the age of 18, with the possibility of passing State scholarships to university.

Links Arctic Post With Outside World

EDMONTON — (CP) — Almost daily Charles H. Harris of Edmonton breaks the monotony for seven men at a weather observation station on Prince Patrick Island in the Arctic.

Except for Mr. Harris the weather observers' only communication with families and friends come with air mail deliveries and pick-ups twice each year and a special mail drop at Christmas.

Mr. Harris, a retired railroad engineer, is an amateur radio operator. From his radio set in the dining room of his home he talks direct with the weather station men nearly every day.

The station, one of those operated as a joint project of the United States Weather Bureau and the Canadian Department of Transport, is about 1,500 miles north of Edmonton.

In signing up to go to the station, the men agree to remain for one year, 1½ years or two years.

Mr. Harris first made contact with Prince Patrick Island in November, 1951 He was asked to relay a few messages to the men's families.

Families Reply

Letters from friends and relations containing messages for the men came to Mr. Harris from all parts of the U.S. and eastern Canada. He has been handling the personal messages for the men and their families ever since.

He arranged a schedule for daily contact. He communicates with the weather men every afternoon that radio conditions are favorable. He has received 149 messages from the outpost and sent 125.

Mr. Harris first became interested in radio during the First World War when he served in an Army Signal Company. It was not until 1926, however, that he received his amateur radio licence and began communicating with other "ham" radio enthusiasts around the world.

Mr. Harris estimates that over the years he had made about 8,600 contacts with other amateur radio stations, picking up calls from New Zealand, Europe and South America. He has also spoken with other weather stations in the Far North, including Alert, a small outpost 350 miles from the North Pole.

He is a member of the American Radio Relay League and is secretary of the Northern Alberta Radio Club.

Hurt As Chase Ends

WINDSOR, Ont., May 31 (CP)— A 30-mile chase ended early Friday in a crash which sent a youthful Detroit driver to hospital with two broken legs. At speeds up to 90 miles an hour, police chased an automobile driven by Thomas Fagen, 17, from Windsor to Stoney Point, east of the city. The chase ended when the youth swerved into a ditch to avoid a truck.

BIG OUTPUT

A total of 967,000 tons of asbestos were mined in Canada in 1951 for a value of $78,800,000.

Laws Of Quebec Undergo Consolidation

MONTREAL (CP)—A three-man commission has started the long task of consolidating Quebec provincial laws.

Headed by John T. Hackett of Montreal, former batonnier of the province and one-time president of the Canadian Bar Association, the committee will consolidate the laws for the fifth time since Confederation. It has been appointed by the Provincial government.

Other members are Rosaire Beaudoin, St. Joseph de Beauce, Que., and Gerard Trudel, Montreal. Reginald Tormay, Montreal, is secretary.

The last revision was in 1941 when the laws, with the exception of the Civil Code and the Code of Civil Procedure, were consolidated into five volumes.

"There have been many social changes since the last revision," said Mr. Hackett, "and as a result there are many new pieces of legislation, such as on pensions and housing, which will have to be incorporated into the new revised statutes."

Also, some of the laws contained in the 1941 revision since have been amended or become obsolete and will be discarded.

The Commissioners are not to suggest any changes in the Codes, but may recommend "such clarification and correctness of style . . . and other improvements of form or arrangement as they consider desirable."

These suggestions, the terms of reference provide, will be made to the provincial Attorney-General.

How long will the job take? The Commissioners say it is impossible to estimate at this stage. However they note that committee has been working on revision of Federal statutes for five years and no report has yet been published.

Smothered By Dust

COOKSVILLE, May 31 (CP) — Ezra Pierce, 43, was smothered to death in clay dust at the Cooksville Tile and Brick Company. He was feeding clay into a large hopper when he was buried by a cave-in.

Tire Workers Back

KITCHENER, May 31 (CP) — Some 1,150 employees of the tire division of Dominion Rubber Co., Ltd., returned to work Friday, ending a strike called four days ago when one man was fired. The case of the dismissed man, who allegedly threatened a plant supervisor with a knife, will be submitted to an arbitration board.

Arctic Ice Isles Drift Round Pole Every 5 Years

OTTAWA —(CP)—Three glacial fresh-water ice islands which probably had their origin hundreds of thousands of years ago during the last great ice age, recently have been under observation by Canada's defence research board's Arctic section.

Unchanging in shape with furrowed surfaces the islands drift clockwise around the top of the world in a jagged circle. They take more than five years to complete the circle.

What uses can the shifting islands be put to?

"I don't think they have any significance other than for basic scientific research," said Sqdn.-Ldr. Keith Greenaway, the defence reseach board's top Arctic air navigation expert. One island now is a temporary United States scientific base.

Although they are easy to pick out from the air because of unusual ripples on their surfaces, they are flat enough and smooth enough to land planes on in winter. In summer there is deep slush and long puddles over much of the islands.

Named T1, T2 and T3 they are situated amid the embracing jigsaw sea of polar pack ice and are believed to have broken away from vanished glaciers which slithered down the desolate northern marges of Ellesmere Island.

Sighted In 1947

In May, 1947, T3 was sighted by a joint R.C.A.F.-U.S.A.F. flight over the farthest islands of Canada's Arctic Archipelago by Sqdn.-Leader Greenaway. Existence of T2 was confirmed in the summer of 1950 by a U.S.A.F. crew flying near the North Pole. T1 was picked up by radar late in 1946 by a U.S.A.F. aircraft.

Recently Sqdn.-Ldr. Greenaway flew over T1 at low altitude. It was eastward some 10 miles off Disraeli Bay on the northern shore of Ellesmere Island. In the intervening years since it was first picked up T1 had travelled an estimated 412 nautical miles a year, swinging westward across the Beaufort Sea above Alaska, near Wrangel Island and the most northeasterly promontory of Russia and back toward the North Pole. Then it circled again to its present position.

Sqdn.-Ldr. Greenaway said T1 is 17 miles long and 13 miles wide. He doubted whether it was more than about 40 feet thick.

Canadian fliers and scientists have found seven smaller ice islands similar to the three "T's" in waters among the Canadian Arctic Islands. In 1950 an icebreaker heading north between Ellesmere Island and Axel Heiberg Island bounced into an island which proved too solid for the vessel.

Bare of all vegetation, polar bears roam over them in search of seals and in their wake follow the Arctic foxes.

Whom the islands belong to has not been broached.

Baptist Preacher Is Town's Greatest Fire Fighter

By JIM MORSE
NEA Special Correspondent

COBLESKILL, N.Y. (NEA) — There's a Baptist minister in Cobleskill who says he's something like an old fire horse—"When I hear a fire bell I'm away and running."

The Rev. John L. Brown is pastor of the First Baptist Church.

He's also a member of the Cobleskill fire department, a state forest fire warden, fire investigator for the Schoharie County sheriff's office, and heads Schoharie County's forest fire service.

A strange combination?

"Yes," admits Rev. Brown, "it is unusual. But that doesn't stop me from trying to be a good fireman. There are two of us in the state, that I know of. There's a Methodist minister in Summit who is fire captain."

Rev. Brown began chasing fire engines when he was four years old. "I've carried a fireman's badge since I was 13," he says, "and that was well before I was ordained in 1929."

Before moving to Cobleskill 13 years ago, Rev. Brown served parishes—and fire departments—in South Berwick, Me., and Plainville, Conn.

"Ive held every office except chief," he grins. "I was assistant chief for three years, but never had the top job."

The only time he doesn't answer an alarm is when he's preaching a sermon. "I couldn't very well get away then," he says.

Does he ever speed-up a sermon to join the fire fighters?

"Well, some members of my congregation accuse me of doing that, but I've never admitted it."

The fact that he is a minister frequently comes in handy in his fireman's chores, Rev. Brown says.

"I'm able to be of help to some families who suffer losses," he explains. "Sometimes I can help by just talking with them. Other times I can help in a material way. After all, it's a minister's job to give help when needed."

In the excitement of fighting a fire, men have been known to use language not usually heard by a minister.

"When that happens," Mr. Brown says, "I try not to hear it. Some of the boys do forget themselves, though."

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CIV. No. 128 SATURDAY, MAY 31, 1952

MAIN STREET TOPICS

SUMMER HOURS

Summer hours start at the Public Library Monday with closing time at 8 p.m. instead of 9 p.m.

C.P.R. PICNIC

C.P.R. employees of Toronto are returning to Peterborough on July 19 for their picnic at Nicholls Oval. They were so pleased with their outing last summer, travelling in two special trains, that they decided to come back again.

HOLDUP RUMORED

It was rumored at noon Friday that the Park-Lansdowne Sts. branch of the Royal Bank had been held up. Police said they investigated when the bank's alarm signal sounded, and found an employee had accidentally stepped on the alarm buzzer.

DEER NEAR CHEMONG

A deer bounding over fences on the property of Ray Harding on the west side of the Chemong road and half a mile south of the park, surprised his children, Arlene, 9, and Gerald, 2, who were playing in their front yard. Mrs. Harding saw it too and traced the animal's leisurely flight until it crossed the road and disappeared

IT'S CHILLY BUT NICE

Swimming in Chemong Lake in May is slightly chilly, but it's nice, Janice Crary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crary, 141 Rubidge St., says. A swimmer since she was three years old, Janice went for swims in the lake on Tuesday and Friday at the cottage near Blewett's mill. She will be five in July.

SOME RAIN IN WEST

Light rains during the week improved the crop outlook in the west, but the C.N.R. weekly report comments that in volume it was far short of a million dollar rain. Seeding is generally completed, although there may be some remnants here and there. Wheat and coarse grains are up six inches in Manitoba. Some slight frost damage was reported since the middle of this week.

VACATION GUIDE OUT

The Examiner's Vacation Guide which attracts the people of Canada and the United States to the Kawarthas and Haliburton who flock here in the thousands, is now on sale for 25 cents. The magazine which is the 17th edition to come out has a 24-page rotogravure section and 64 pages of stories and pictures about the district around Peterborough with particular emphasis on holiday spots. Peterborough people who read it, will find they still have a lot to learn about the district they live in.

1953 Conference To Be In Oshawa

LINDSAY, May 31 — (Staff) — The 1953 Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada will be held in Oshawa.

The decision for the site of next year's conference was made at the final session, Friday, of this year's conference held in Lindsay.

A resolution was passed by the congregation Friday to go through to the General Council. It said that seven properly qualified clergymen be appointed under the Board of Christian Education to be responsible for the teaching of religion in Normal Schools of Ontario in accordance with the Department of Education regulations and that an effort be made to make similar appointments in other provinces.

Two Courts To Hear 14 Cases

Courtroom Improved With Paint To Instal Speakers

Eight criminal cases are set down for trial at the general sessions of the peace, opening 2 p.m. Monday, with Judge John S. Latchford, junior judge of Wentworth County, presiding.

There will be two petitions for citizenship. And at the county court jury sittings, opening at the same time, there will be two appeals from convictions by Magistrate W. R. Philp, Q.C., four civil actions for trial with jury and none without jury.

Redecorating Done

Judge Latchford, whose father was the late Chief Justice Latchford, will open the general sessions in a newly-decorated courtroom. A $1,000 painting and decorating job has been done on instructions of the property committee of the Peterborough County Council. The yellowed wallpaper has been scraped off and the walls and ceiling painted grey. The draped flags have been cleaned and the partition that cut off the rear balcony removed.

A workman is scheduled to instal an audio amplifying system before court opens to improve the often-criticized acoustics.

Criminal cases listed are:

Three Oshawa youths—William Rudyk, 19, and John F. Meagher and Joseph Rzamy, both 20—are charged with breaking and entering Duffus Motors on April 14. All are out on $2,000 bail.

Two unsuccessful attempts were made to blow a safe in the garage office, and the trio were later arrested.

Allen Hansford, Stormont St., was committed for trial on Dec. 27 on a charge of being knowingly in possession of stolen goods. The "stolen goods" in this case is alleged to be a clarifier machine, a separator used in cleaning establishments. Bail is $2,000.

A clarifier machine was stolen from a Simcoe St. cleaners Oct. 31.

J. Eldon Paquette of Crescent St. is charged with false pretences in connection with a used car deal involving himself and a finance company.

Perjury Charge

Cyril Anderson of Douro St. faces trial on a charge of perjury. During a liquor case he swore he had not seen a crown witness for two months. The witness said he bought some wine from Anderson. He is released on $2,500 bail.

Ronald Gilmour, 22, of Maude St., is charged with attempted church-breaking, into Park St. Baptist Church last December. Police found a church window broken and arrested Gilmour. He is released for trial on $1,000 bail.

Albert McManus, 18, of R.R. 2, Lakefield, is out on $1,000 bail and faces trial on a charge of reckless driving as a result of an accident on Highway 28, April 11.

Two Peterborough men are making application for Canadian citizenship.

One is Thomas Aitken of King George St., a florist. Mr. Aitken, age 68, is married and a United States citizen. The other applicant is Francis Sobotka, 34, a shipper who lives on Bethune St. He is at present a Polish citizen.

Two Appeals

There are two appeals from decisions by Magistrate Philp one in police court and one in family court.

Mrs. Mae Thompson of McDonnel St., is appealing a conviction on a charge of carless driving, and Arthur Boyce is appealing a conviction under the Deserted Wives and Children's Maintenance Act.

The four jury actions listed are:

Russell Puffer, his wife Mabel, and daughter Doreen, are plaintiffs in a $2,466 damage action against David Montgomery of Lakefield. The action stems from a two-car collision in Lakefield on Jan. 11, 1951, between Montgomery who was going west on Bridge St. and Miss Doreen Puffer, going west. Mrs. Puffer, the mother was a passenger in the car, and besides damage to their vehicle they claim compensation for personal injuries.

Mr. Puffer was the owner of the car. The family live in Dummer.

There is a $300 counterclaim by Montgomery.

In another motor vehicle action Kenneth R. Whittaker of Sophia St. is suing Stewart Harding and Arnold Steele, both of Peterborough, for $413 damages to his car.

Cedar Posts In Thousands Shipped To U.S.

John Lutes of Northern Michigan saw a business possibility in the Kawarthas that is supplying him with a good living.

For the past two years he has been harvesting—and marketing—cedar posts. It is strictly an export proposition.

The yard of the American Cedar Company is a former gravel pit of three or four acres at the eastern outskirts of Norwood on Highway 7. To its farmer and woodland operators take loads of cedar posts and are paid for them on the spot.

A gang of workmen, as many as 15 in some seasons, trim the poles with sharp axes, remove the bark with over-sized draw knives and stack them in neat piles. They are piece workers from the villages of Norwood and Havelock and from surrounding farms.

Graded, Shipped

The peeled poles are graded for sale and shipment. Bolts over eight inches are cut into ties at a Norwood sawmill and everything else is shipped to the United States in the company's semi-tractor-trailer. In Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York the posts find ready market as plain or fancy fence posts—fancy ones are turned at a plant in Detroit. Smaller diameter sizes are used by manufacturers of garden furniture. Sawn ends of poles are sold in the district for firewood and about the only by-product that is not saleable is the peeled bark which is burned.

"The cedar post business is not a big one here," said owner-manager Lutes, "but we ship on the average of 75,000 each year."

Caterpillars Worst To Come

Tent caterpillars, now wreaking havoc with trees in the Ottawa valley, have not yet made their big attack on the foliage in Peterborough county.

Department of Lands and Forests officials last year predicted 1952 as the last big year for the crawling pests. This was to be the peak year; the end of the cycle.

Enough evidence of that is apparent in the number of gauzy tents along the highways and township roads veining the northern part of the county. In the southern part, caterpillars are already hatched and proceeding on their path of destruction.

Just Beginning

In the northern part, the crawlers are just beginning to hatch out and it will be a week before their full effect is felt. Because of the larger number of trees from Burleigh Falls and Buckhorn north, the results of their chewing will be more obvious there.

At present, observers report, the caterpillars are in an "in between stage. They have barely started in the south and are not yet at work in the north.

The fact that they hold number one spot in the pest parade was made more clear this week when the Central Kawartha Cottagers' Association, meeting in Toronto, spent more time discussing caterpillars than they did talking of algae.

Association members felt that the threat of caterpillar damage was "seasonal and immediate", would have to be met within two or three weeks. The consensus at the meeting was that energetic private action would reap more rewards than action by municipalities, which appeared to them only a probability.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

Frank Q. Dench of Renfrew was elected president of the Agricultural Representatives' Association at their anual conference this week at Ridgetown Agricultural School.

THERE'S PROFIT IN CEDAR FENCE posts if you can market 75,000 a year. John Lutes of Northern Michigan operates a business in Norwood where posts are delivered to be peled, sorted and shipped. Neat piles (top right photo) are moved by company-owned transportation to Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania and New York. Employing a peak of 15 men in busy seasons, many men like farmer George Hubble (left photo) make spare cash peeling posts. Lloyd Mackey (lower right photo) is scaler-grader foreman; he keeps the loads rolling. The firm, American Cedar Company, has been in operation in Norwood for the past two years.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

14 Students Win Gold Letters At Collegiate

P.C.V.S.'s highest award, the school letter or gold letter, was presented Friday to 10 girls and four boys, members of the graduating classes, by C. S. Browne, principal, and Dr. Eldon P. Ray.

Gail Craig, Betty Crowe, Patricia Hamilton, Joan Hendren, Gwen Martin, Margaret Martyn, Eleanor McBrien, Patricia McNeill, Nancy Rowell, Shiela Young, Pauline Zacks, Donald Ash, Sandy Dewar, William Frisken and Gordon Hawley received the letters.

In announcing the awards at the school's senior assembly, Dr. Ray told the students that the gold letter is the "highest award attainable in the school."

The letter is awarded for "Meritorious service above and beyond the faithful performance of duties" in any field of extra-curricular activities and in the field of scholarship.

Qualifications

In announcing each award, Dr. Ray gave each student's qualifications. They then received the letter from Mr. Browne.

The qualifications included: Head boy, head girl, members of the G.A.A. and B.A.A., work on the Echoes (the school magazine), leadership in school activities such as the "at home" dance, work in the school library, dramatic club, school spirit committee, playing, refereeing; timing, scoring at basketball and football.

Earlier this week the Boys' Athletic Association and the Girls' Athletic Association made their annual sports letter awards for leadership, character and sportsmanship. It is the second highest award in the school.

Commission Commends Management Of Utilities

Plans and specifications for the enlargement of the filtration plant will likely be ready by July 1, Ross L. Dobbin, manager, reported to the Untilities Commission Thursday.

"We are doing them ourselves," Mr. Dobbin said, referring to himself and Howard Powell, his assistant engineer. "We are not engaging a consultant. The work involves some duplication of the present plant, with correction of things from observations in our 25 years' experience."

It was recalled in the discussion that the city had to get its plans for the sewage disposal plant from Gore and Storrie, Toronto, consulting engineers. There was also the detail of supervision of construction.

"Which cost the city money," Dr. G. R. Langley remarked. He said he was delighted to know that the Commission's staff could prepare the plans.

"I think we ought to commend the management. This is something that tickles me," Dr. Langley said.

Also Instal Equipment

As a further detail to the project Mr. Dobbin proposed the new equipment be bought by competitive bids, and the staff would do the installation.

Approval of the report was expressed by the Commission, and it was understood that the minutes would include a compliment to the management.

"I don't think that is necessary," Mr. Dobbin said, referring to the credit note. "We would be remiss if we could do the work ourselves, but did not do so."

Morrow Park Main

Request of the Peterborough Exhibition board for increased fire protection for their buildings at Morrow Park was inspired by the fire in April that destroyed the barn built last year.

Directors suggested that the Commission might lay a main on the extension of George St. to the pipe line which was connected with Park St. during the military occupation of the Park.

Commission preferred an alternative plan proposed by Mr. Dobbin and endorsed by Fire Chief George Smith.

The George St. water main will be projected from Lansdowne St. along the extension of George St. through the park to McGill. A hydrant will be placed about half way along the park road. Estimated cost is $4,500. As a preliminary, the Commission wishes to determine the exact designation of that strip of street, partly as a guide in laying out the trench for the line of pipe.

It was also decided to place a hydrant at the corner of Lock and Morrow Streets to improve fire protection in that area. The Morrow St. main was laid prior to annexation of that eastern block of North Monaghan.

Woman Critically Injured, Pinned In Wreckage Car Crashes Into Transport

Car Slams Into Rear of Trailer Parked On Lansdowne St. Driver Is Also In Hospital

Unconscious and critically injured, Mrs. Adeline May, 40, 513 Brioux Ave., was pinned in the wreckage of her husband's car for nearly half an hour early today after it ploughed into the rear of a parked transport on Lansdowne St. The car driven by Eric May, 47, was travelling west on Lansdowne St., when it crashed into the rear end of a transport trailer stopped on the north side of the street near Lock St., at 3 a.m.

Mr. May received several fractured ribs, a crushed chest and undetermined injuries. His condition is described by Civic Hospital authorities as serious.

Severely Injure.d

Mrs. May is said to have received a fractured skull, undetermined brain injuries, a fractured right leg, and multiple lacerations. She has not yet regained consciousness.

The driver of the transport, Frank Palmateer, 12 Nelson St. Ottawa told police he stopped the truck and went to sleep about 1.30 a.m.

Minutes before the accident, an eastbound transport, driven by Al Spears, 203 Marier Road, Eastview woke Palamateer up.

Then, they both walked across the road to the truck Spears was driving and were standing chatting beside it when they heard the May car approaching from the east and saw it slam into the rear of Palamateer's truck.

The impact jammed the front end of the old model sedan into the truck so tightly it was 30 minutes before police could pry away the wreckage enough to release Mrs. May.

Finally, a chain had to be wrapped around the front end of the right front corner and hooked to another vehicle to pull the wreckage apart so the injured woman could be released.

Constable Eldon McDonald and Jack Wilson investigated.

Walter Thomson Next Judge?

Will Walter Thompson, who tendered his resignation as Ontario Liberal leader to a party convention in Toronto Friday be the next Judge of Peterborough County?

Rumors to this effect have been circulating in city legal circles since last November when the Liberal party was defeated and Mr. Thompson was personally defeated in his own riding.

Friday, C. W. Hodgson (P.C.-Victoria-Haliburton) asked Justice Minister Garson in the House of Commons if he intended to appoint Mr. Thomson to the bench. Mr. Hodgson said he understood Mr. Thomson was seeking appointment to the bench in Peterborough.

There are factors of race, religion and geographical location to be considered in making judicial appointments replied Mr. Garson as he sidestepped the question without giving a direct yes or no answer.

The judgeship here has been vacant since the sudden death of Judge S. L. Smoke last November.

He attracted Selznick's attention with his performance in Flight Into Egypt which closed after a short run on Broadway recently.

Prices Low No One Wants Old Newspapers

So you don't know what to do with that mounting stack of newspapers and magazines piling up in your basement.

If you have been toying with the idea of picking up a few extra coins by bundling them up and selling them to a salvage dealer, forget the idea. Right now, the market for waste paper is flatter than today's newspaper when it rolled off the press.

In fact, dealers are even reluctant to accept waste paper when it is brought to their warehouses and offered for nothing. "They think they're doing me a favor when they offer it to me gratis but they're not," Max Beck, manager of Petersiel and Beck told the Examiner.

"I can't get rid of it. I can't even dispose of what I have on hand," he added.

Stopped Buying

During the last two months, mills where local dealers have been shipping waste paper have stopped buying. The price has dropped 50 per cent from what it was a year ago. One dealer said he could only get $4 a ton for wastepaper delivered in Toronto and shipping charges amount to about $3.80 a ton. Another said the price had dropped from about $12 a ton a year ago to about $6 now, but both agreed that all they could expect would be to break even and as a result were not interested in handling it.

A new chemical which is being used in manufacturing newsprint was blamed by Charles Watson, manager of Lawrence Salvage for the 75 per cent drop in the demand for newsprint from a year ago.

Formerly, 40 per cent of scrap paper was mixed with pulp to manufacture newsprint, he said, but this new chemical reduces the amount of scrap needed and it is cheaper than scrap paper said Mr. Watson. Canadian mills are buying the chemical from the American firm which manufactures it and this is a big factor in both the drop in demand and price in Mr. Watson's opinion.

"There is still a good demand for corrugated paper and kraft papers," he added, and although there is practically no profit in handling waste paper, Mr. Watson said his firm is still accepting it but they are not buying any.

On May 6, 220 tons of scrap paper were destroyed when the Hunt Louis XIV Phantom Gold In Seine River

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS—(AP)—A phantom treasure that rumor says has been lying at the bottom of the Seine River since the days of the French Revolution will be the object of a sixth recovery attempt this summer.

How the treasure got there—if indeed there is treasure—is part of the legend of the Telemaque, a little sailing ship that lifted anchor at Rouen on New Year's Day, 1790, on a voyage to England.

The ship's manifest said it had a cargo of timber, nails and tar. The rumors insist that it was carrying 2,500,000 British pounds in gold, plus jewelry and other valuables being spirited out of the country by King Louis XVI, already uneasy on his throne.

Details of the final voyage of the Telemaque are clouded by time.

It is agreed, however, that the Telemaque ran aground and the crew barely had time to swim for shore before the brig sank to the bottom of the Seine.

The government, taking cognizance of the rumors current about the treasure aboard, immediately sent 300 soldiers to the scene. They tried for three months to salvage the vessel without success.

Wreck Found

Rumors of the treasure kept bobbing up. In 1837, a French engineer spent his own fortune vainly trying to prove the existence of the King's fortune. In 1842 an Englishman named Taylor made another effort without success.

After that, the Telemaque lay undisturbed for almost a century. Then a Paris Syndicate tried again and in 1939, after six months of searching had located the vessel, divers reached into a barrel and brought out seven well-worn pieces of gold and some gold trinkets.

This find, Sept. 3, 1939—the day war was declared in Europe—was taken as proof the treasure really was there. The forward quarter of the ship, devoid of treasure, was brought up, but the Germany Army was moving into France and the work was abandoned in April, 1940.

The same men who directed the 1939 attempt are leading this year's try. Work is scheduled to start in June. A huge diving bell will be used.

The findings will have to be split with the government, which still claims ownership.

Concrete Pillar 180 Feet High To Be Dropped In to B.C. River

TRAIL, B.C.—(CP)—Six thousand tons of concrete, in a solid block 18 storeys high, will be toppled into the swift Pend O'Orielle River near here sometime late this summer in a remarkable engineering project.

It is designed to block the river partially so that work can be continued on the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's $35,000,000 Waneta Dam. Work already is under way on the concrete pillar, known as a monolith. It will be the highest such project ever built although the monolith scheme has been used several times before in other parts of the world.

Base for the pillar already is in place under the rising river. When the water drops about July, the tower will be erected rising 180 feet above the base. Its face will correspond to the bottom of the river and when it is toppled over it is expected to block two thirds of the channel, thus enabling the river botton to be bared and the dam to be erected.

Heaviest monolith ever built was in 1930 on the Saguenay River but it was on 92 feet high. It weighs about 12,000 tons. In the past monoliths have been blasted from their foundations to fall into place but the present plan for the Waneta project calls for it to be toppled over by a cable.

Direction of the fall will be guided by a steel hinge at the base.

The monolith is being built by Northern Construction and J. W. Stewart Ltd. of Vancouver.

Toronto Market Drifts Lower, No Alarm Shown

By DICK BADEN,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Toronto stock market prices drifted lower this week in the year's slowest trading.

But professional observers were not alarmed. Nor were they concerned that New York stocks showed strength while Toronto prices slipped.

United States opinions that many Canadian issues were over-valued has been growing for several months, they said, and the action of Canadian markets for the last two weeks has brought prices more into line.

Furthermore, the decline has been moderate and marked by sluggish, hesitant trading. There has been no general rush to sell.

"Normal Reaction"

"A normal reaction to a period of exuberance," said an official of Toronto's exchange. "In fact, the market is really in a healthy state. Normally, there's about a 50 per cent drop after a sharp rise. This time, however, the market seems to be holding after a loss of about 25 per cent."

Other factors support belief in the underlying strength of the market. Growth potentialities—the ability of a company to expand and the consequent increase in value of its stock—remain a major attraction for United States investors. Different tax structures, particularly those relating to investment profits, also favor investment here.

Despite unsettled conditions in the United States— an impending presidential election, a slow-down in stock-piling and surpluses of some base-metals—Canadian observers think their markets will not encounter any substantial selling pressure.

Toronto set the pattern for the week's trading Monday with a slow, featureless session. Golds slipped in Montreal but papers and industrials were steady. Western Oils led a slow decline in Toronto Tuesday, but losses were moderate. Industrials and Papers showed little change in Montreal.

Lead Decline.

Industrials combined with oils in Toronto Wednesday to lead a ragged decline through the second session. Papers slipped in Montreal and industrials were firm. Toronto prices were mixed Thursday while Montreal papers continued a slow recession.

Base Metals came to life late on Friday in Toronto to post a closing index gain of more than a point. Other sections, however, gained little. Papers and Industrials eased in Montreal.

New York trading was quiet on Monday and prices made little headway. The trend continued through Tuesday but rails turned upward Wednesday. Prices again turned mixed Thursday. The market was closed Friday for Memorial Day.

From Friday to Friday, the Toronto Stock Exchange indices showed Industrials down 2.38 at 311.87, Golds down 1.11 at 90.60, Base Metals up .38 at 182.90 and Western Oils down 4.11 at 137.75.

In the Montreal averages, banks were down .08 at 29.49, Ultilities up .1 at 84.1, Industrials down .1 at 193.7, Combined unchanged at 157.2, Papers down 15.26 at 667.91 and Golds down 1.74 at 67.18.

In New York, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed 20 cents to $103.30.

Interpretation Of Speech Irks Prudham

OTTAWA, May 31 — (CP) — Mines Minister Prudham said Friday he is "greatly disturbed" by an interpretation the Canadian Press put on a speech he made at Niagara Falls May 27 to the Canadian Retail Coal Association.

CP interpreted sections of the speech as an admonition to coal dealers to reduce prices and as a hint of government regulations to prevent "business abuses."

In the speech, Mr. Prudham said individals and corporations should not neglect their responsibiliites to the community and nation, and added: "should it become necessary for governments to impose a rigid set of rules upon industry in order to prevent business abuses, we are apt to lose something infinitely more precious than any material advantages derived from the application of scientific research."

He also said the best way to preserve freedom of private initiative is for business and industry to give service to the communiity top prioritiy. He added that each person in his field of effort must carry a responsibility not to charge "all that the traffic will bear."

In his statement, issued through his department during his own absence in the West, he said:

"I did point out that if we were to avoid a dictator economy and to continue to live under a free enterprise system, there was a duty and a responsibility laid upon each of us in our field of effort to give service to our fellows.

"I did describe the key position of fuel in our civilization and the particular responsibility resting upon our fuel dealers to supply and service their communities.

"I did not state that the fuel dealers had failed in this responsibility nor did I make any statement on the price of coal."

Canada To Build Trainers For U.S.

OTTAWA, May 31 (CP)—Canada may start to produce a new type of trainer aircraft for the United States, Defence Production Minister Howe said Friday. He told the Commons:

"I have just had word that it is the intention of the United States Government to place another contract in Canada for a new type of trainer aircraft."

In repy to questions, he said he could give no details because the contract has not yet been signed.

However, it was learned outside the Commons that the plane likely will be the U.S. Beecraft T-34 two-seater trainer plane which will be turned out at the Fort William plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry Co.

This company already is producing trainer Harvards for the R.C.A.F.

Build Electronics Plant At Prescott

PRESCOTT, May 31 — (CP) — Work will start this summer on construction of an electronics plant here, F. R. Deakin, president of R.C.A.-Victor, announced.

The first building will be under construction by late summer and will be in production by next spring, he said. The employment force was expected to reach 500 within three years with a yearly payroll of $1,000,000.

Announcement that the firm would build a plant in Prescott was made in June of last year. Government restrictions on material and other factors delayed a start on construction until this year.

Toronto Police Close Missing Victim Case

TORONTO, May 31 — (CP) — The case of the missing victim was closed Friday by police.

Witnesses told police that a woman was struck by a car on Thursday night with such force that she was knocked out of her shoes. They said the driver picked up the woman and drove off with her but a check of hospitals and doctors' offices in the area failed to uncover any trace of the pair.

Reds Undermine Great Work Of Red Cross

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA—(AP)—Communist attacks against the International Red Cross committee have led to some fear here that the campaign may undermine the almost universally-accepted neutrality of the committee in any future war.

For the first time since the committee was established nearly 90 years ago its impartiality is being questioned. Communist spokesman and propaganda outlets are declaring it is not impartial.

The committee's neutral status was specifically recognized in conventions ratified by Russia and some 50 other countries before the Second World War, when the committee was made responsible for regulations to protect war wounded.

But Russia has never ratified any of the conventions which recognized the committee as the neutral protector of prisoners of war.

The committee appears particularly apprehensive over a Communist challenge to its international status.

Soviet delegate Jakob A. Malik set the keynote for the Communist campaign in a speech to the United Nations' disarmament commission March 26. It was intended to justify the Communists' refusal to permit the committee to organize an impartial investigation of the Communist germ-warfare charges against the United States.

Malik declared the committee could not be regarded as "international" because it was composed entirely of Swiss citizens and because, he said, it was subservient to "American imperialisms."

The committee sent Malik a 500-word telegram to protest against these "misunderstandings . . . which may seriously prejudice not only the work of the committee, but the entire activity of the Red Cross and its efforts for the maintenance of peace."

The Communist press and radio have taken up Malik's attack.

The committee has become accustomed since the outbreak of the Korean war to "non-replies" from the Communists. Scores of appeals have been launched by the committee in the last 22 months requesting admission for representatives to North Korea to look after the welfare of U.N. prisoners in Communist hands. No reply has ever been received.

Committee representatives received a similar rebuff when they met Communist truce negotiators briefly at Panmunjom. The committee representatives gained the impression there the communists regarded them as the "Red Cross of the U.N."

Holland-Huddart Wedding In Lakefield Church Today

Urns of white lilacs and pink peonies formed the setting in Lakefield United Church this afternoon for the marriage of Gladys Vivien, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Owen Huddart, "Harborne", Lakefield, to Mr. Donald Edwin Holland of Thorold. The Rev. W. H. Tonge officiated.

During the signing of the register Mrs. D. R. Hendren sang "Still As The Night" and "My World". John D. Grylls was at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a graceful gown of white satin. The bodice was of Chantilly lace with Bateau neckline and the long sheath sleeves extended in a frill over her hands. Lily of the valley held her chapel-length veil of tulle illusion and she carried a bouquet of gardenias, lily of the valley and stephanotis. Mrs. Kevin V. Best, as matron of honor and Mrs. J. L. Huddart, Mrs. D. L. Evans, Miss Deirdre Moher and Miss Carol Dick as bridesmaids wore similarly fashioned gowns of lace and net with matching lace capes in pastel shades of blue, mauve, yellow, pink and green, with picture hats of matching tulle. They carried cascade bouquets of Johanna Hill roses.

The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. H. Holland of Thorold. Clifford Holland was his brother's groomsman and the ushers were Lawrence Huddart and Geoffrey Huddart, brothers of the bride, John Holland and Robert Holland, brothers of the groom.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Huddart received her guests wearing a gown of navy sheer cape and Chantilly lace, close-fitting hat fashioned of pink feathers and a corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore a gown of powder blue lace with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses.

For a trip to Montreal the bride chose a mauve wool suit with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. On their return they will reside in Toronto.

frock of pink eyelet organdy with matching bonnet. She carried a nosegay of lily-of-the-valley and white lilacs. Mr. Grant Elliott of Trenton, cousin of the groom, was groomsman. Cliff Noble of Toronto and Carl McCoy, Madoc, were ushers.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received wearing grey silk taffeta with hat of mauve flowers and orchid corsage. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a beige silk nylon ensemble with hat of milan straw and corsage of geranium-red sweet peas. For the wedding trip to Atlantic City, the bride chose a blue grey suit with navy accessories, white Milan straw hat and corsage of pink sweetheart roses and blue forget-me-nots.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott will reside at Belmont Lake.

Out of town guests were present from Winnipeg, Woodstock and Oshawa.

Atomic Bathing Suit's Passe, Paris Says But Maybe There's H-Bomb Version

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—The "Bikini" bathing suit and other atomic beachwear will be gone from the seaside scenery this year.

That's what Paris has decreed—but don't put away those dark glasses, monsieur. Almost gone is more like it.

The fashion world say the "Bikini" has been relegated to the department of "bright young things." No style-conscious woman over 25 will appear at smart resorts in anything but a one-piece swimsuit, unless, of course, she is a professional model or the possessor of what our grandfathers used to call a "faultless academy."

Boulevardiers, scanning the fashion pronouncement, see nothing wrong with the idea at all.

There is nothing really wrong with the one-piece idea, either. The 1952 models are brief, usually boned through the midriff, and cling to the body like paper on the wall.

✧ ✧ ✧

The top part can be either strapless, like an evening gown, or equipped with a halter neckline and sometimes has twin straps. Black, white and navy are standard colors, and there are added choices of deep rose red, teal blue or even burnt orange.

Jacques Heim, whose beachwear was atomic long before the atomic bomb, still specializes in the younger set and budding starlets, and hasn't observed the one-piece decree.

He has, for instance, a two-piece model trimmed above and below with a five-inch band of twine fringe. Underneath are a minimum of black satin, visible when the breeze blows.

Carven, also a young people's specialist, favors the one-piece swimsuit with eye-catching patterns through the waistline which follow the wearer's every movement.

In the lounging department, on or off the beach, slacks this season all taper off somewhere around mid-calf, or just a little below. It's all a question of individual silhouette.

Andre Ledoux, stylist for the better-class ready-to-wear market, likes to add a little note of femininity. There's a pair of slacks called "Acrobate" in black linen with a narrow self-fringe running down the side seam. They're topped by a blouse in a "lightning" print.

Beach wraps are kimono-cut, and vary from thigh to calf-length in printed, reversible, or plain terry cloth in exotic colorings. Even the atomic Heim includes one in a roomy Mother Hubbard type.

STRAPLESS BODICE and sunbonnet in "Kissnot" pattern is Paris idea of resort wear for off the beach.

BEACH JACKET of terry cloth in exotic design is worn over modest black one-piece bathing suit in current Paris fashion.

BIKINI SUITS may be outmoded, but who'll miss 'em when they have beach scenery like this.

Nicol-Elliot

MARMORA, May 31. (ENS) — St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, Madoc, was the scene of a pretty wedding when Rev. W. H. V. Walker of Stirling united in marriage Patricia Norma Nicol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. T. Nicol of Madoc to Stewart Lincoln Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Elliott of Tweed. The chancel was lined with lilacs, tulips, roses and lily of the valley and the choir loft was banked with white lilacs.

Miss Anne Nickle as soloist sang "At Dawning" and "Through the Years."

Given in marriage by her father the bride was charming in her bridal gown of white silk taffeta shantung in ballerina length featuring a Chantilly lace jacket embroidered with seed pearls. She wore a Juliet cap of matching lace with fingertip veil of French tulle and carried a shower bouquet of white gardenias, Esther Reed daisies and lily-of-the-valley. Mrs. C. H. Noble of Toronto, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a ballerina length gown of orchid silk taffeta shantung with matching Juliet cap. She carried a shower bouquet of lilacs and lily-of-the-valley. Little Judy Wasserman of Winnipeg, Man., niece of the bride, was flower girl, demure in her floor length

Guild To Serve Dinner To Masons

OMEMEE, May 31 — (ENS) — A special meeting of Christ Church Guild was held Tuesday evening in the church basement. Mr. Harvey Laidley presided.

Final arrangements were made for serving a turkey dinner to the members of Lorne Lodge No. 375 A.F. and A.M., on the occasion of their banquet in Coronation Hall June 5. The business of the evening also included the decision to donate a flag to the Omemee Scout troop.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. V. Jones with Mrs. F. Bent and Mrs. A. Stephenson as hostesses.

Teachers Defend System Of Education In B.C.

VANCOUVER —(CP)—Critics of British Columbia's education system say it doesn't pay enough attention to such fundamentals as spelling and arithmetic.

But a recent survey conducted among members of the B.C. Teachers' Federation showed almost unanimous disagreement.

General opinion was that students today know as much or more than their fathers did about spelling, grammar and arithmetic, and know a great deal more about the world they live in than any other generation in history.

The teachers defended the modern method of teaching spelling and reading. In fact, they said, reading ability among Vancouver pupils has increased steadily since 1929 when classes first wrote the tests still in use today.

The modern system used here combines phonetics and word association. The old system required the student to learn a jumble of 26 letters and to fit them individually into words.

"The idea," one teacher said, "is that it's easiest to learn anything by starting with what the pupil already knows, then work gradually into the unknown."

Labels Objects

A grade one teacher under this system covers the classroom wall with scores of labels indicating such things as "door," "window," and "blackboard," each pupil quickly remembers the meaning of each label because he or she already knows the name of the object.

Following a month of recognizing labelled objects, the children are taught the phonetic system, where they learn the alphabet according to the sounds of the letters.

In the old days they learned by the letter's actual name.

As a result of this system, teachers said, the modern grade one pupil reads an average of 10 books during the term, against a single primer under the old system.

"A lot of people who are blowing off steam about the alleged lack of training in the fundamentals were educated so long ago they are beginning to romanticize about their education," said C. G. Archibald, a High School teacher.

Another teacher, Clare Mercer of Kimberley, B.C., recently returned from exchange teaching in Scotland, summed up teachers' remarks with the comment that B.C. children "compare more than favorably with any I came across."

Summer Bags Made Of Straw

PARIS—Some pretty summer bags have been made in straw. Rose Valois has designed many of her own, matching them to her picot straw hats.

Simone Vernet has shown, in her collection of jersey sports hats and simple felts, a series of bags by a new designer, Cecile Peloux, which have aroused considerable interest. There was a model in navy blue felt checked with bands of white straw and another sack-like shape in grosgrain with a cluster of flowers pinned on it.

SUNSHADES SMART

PARIS—Sunshades promise to be fashion news this summer and Jean Desses makes one in acetate lace to go with his white-lace, two-piece spectator sports outfit. The gently flaring lines of this dress are strictly simple and stress the new softness, which is neither very full, nor exaggeratedly slender in most of the new dresses.

Civic Graduates Given Dinner Dance Follows

The supervisory and teaching staff of the Peterborough Civic Hospital entertained the graduating class of '52 at a formal dinner on Thursday evening.

A toast to the graduating class was proposed by Miss Ella Reid and was replied to by Miss Madeline Elmhurst. Greetings were expressed by Miss Evelyn Robson, director of nursing, and Mr. John Hornal, hospital superintendent.

A dance, given by the student government organization, was enjoyed after dinner.

Spot dance prizes were won by Miss Dorothy Brenton and Mr. David Humphries and by Miss Frances Cameron and Mr. Al Plunkett.

Purple and gold, the school colors, were the theme for the attractive table settings and decorations for the dance.

Closing Meeting All Saints' G.A.

Senior branches of All Saints' Woman's Auxiliary entertained the Girls Auxiliary at a supper meeting in the W.A. room this week.

After supper the girls conducted an hour's program in which reports from the Festival were read. Margaret Patterson, G.A. president, was in the chair. Betty McCausland gave the report on the Anglican Woman's Training College which celebrates its 60th anniversary next year. She also gave a report on Toronto's Casa Loma, built by Sir Henry Pellatt. These were places visited by girls when in Toronto.

Faye Blackwell gave an account of the G.A. Festival held at Grace Church on the Hill, Toronto.

Miss Isabel Connolly presented the girls with chevrons and stars earned for their year's work.

The girls who received mission study chevrons were: Marian Fay, Pauline Russau, Margaret Petterson, Betty McCausland, Shirley Fay and Ann Maudsley.

Dorcas chevrons: Pauline Russau, Ann Maudsley, Esther Campbell and Betty McCausland.

Stars: Pauline Rusau, Margaret Patterson and Betty McCausland.

A short service of admission was conducted by Miss M. Riel, leader of the group, when Faye Blackwell was received as a member. She was presented with her membership card and Charlotte McArthur pinned her badge on.

Book marks and pictures of "Sallman's Head of Christ" were presented to the girls by their leader.

Mrs. S. R. Beatty, President North Hastings District W.I.

MARMORA, May 31 — (ENS). —A most successful year's activities were reviewed at the 44th annual meeting of North Hastings District of Women's Institutes convened in Marmora Town Hall on Thursday. The district banner with blue background and gold lettering was conspicuously displayed on the platform indicating the following branches to be operative in the district: Madoc, Marmora, Ivanhoe, Springbrook, Rylstone, Wellman's, Bannockburn, and Eldorado, Cooper and Remington, Cashel, Huntingdon, East, Paudash, Carlow, McArthur's Mills, Queensboro, Detlor and L'Amble, Madoc Junior, Rawdon Junior, and Hungerford Junior. All senior branches were represented.

Mrs. S. R. Beatty, district president, was in the chair. Opening exercises were followed by an address of welcome by Reeve O. M. Lynch. Reply was made by Mrs. Rex Rollins of Cooper and Remington. The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. J. Barlow, presented the financial reports of the district and combined branches. The former showed a balance in hand of $95.79 and the latter a balance of $3,129.69 at the close of the fiscal year.

Mrs. Barlow, at the close of her reports, stressed the need of the branch reports being compiled at the proper time to facilitate the compilation of district reports.

The president extended extended greetings to the gathering and spoke of the happy year just concluded by the North Hastings District. It had made contributions to the Unitarian appeal for Greece, the Salvation Army, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, and other deserving causes, and had also participated in a TB survey. The work of the Institute, she declared, could not be recounted on paper. She also referred to the close of the mourning period for King George VI. on the morrow when the purple ribbon worn by members could be laid aside. She gave some ideas to the members for furtherance of Institute ideals.

Committee Reports

Standing committees reported. Mrs. Maurice Reynolds of Madoc R.R. 2, gave that of agriculture and Canadian industries. All fourteen branches of the district had sent in reports revealing interest in the work of this committee. Mrs. Hugh Barker of Eldorado for citizenship and education, gave a very striking report. Thirteen branches had responded as having shown their conception of the characteristics of a good citizen and what constituted good education. She had been impressed by an injunction in one of the papers submitted: "Children should be taught the value of a hard task well done."

Other reports were: Community activities and public relations, Mrs. Milton Shaw, Ivanhoe; historical research and current events, Mrs. R. E. Neal for Miss Grace Warren, Marmora; home economics and health, Mrs. M. Meiklejohn, R.R. 2, Harold; resolutions, Mrs. F. Slater, McArthur's Mills; junior institute activities, Mrs. Hugh Barker for Mrs. John Thompson, Eldorado; for girls' club work, Mrs. L. Pollock of Harold gave the report of the four clubs in North Hastings.

Discussion of these reports was led by Miss Eleanor Kidd of the Department of Agriculture, who also spoke on "extension services for the homemaker."

Dinner was served in St. Andrews Hall by members of Marmora Women's Institute.

When the afternoon session opened deceased members were remembered with one minutes' silence preceded by the reading of an appropriate poem by the president as well the reciting of a short prayer at its close. Roll call of members was taken revealing 180 in attendance.

Mrs. E. Irwin of Campbellford representatitve of the Federated Board, in her address, told of attendance at board meetings. She said there was an increase in the number of Institute branches last year although the membership was down. There are 1481 branches with a total of 45,567 members She also referred to the two scholarships given annually by the Womens Institute and forthcoming events of the year such as the W. I. holiday periods.

A solo, "Bless This House," was sung by Mrs. George Williams of Springbrook.

Mrs. C. Sills and Mrs. N. Broad as representatives of the Federation of Agriculture for North Hastings referred to the 30 different organiaztions federated. She told her hearers that the wider relationships were well worth while. The womens division, she pointed out was divided into zones and that of Hastings was No. 4.

Mrs. George Woods of Ivanhoe presented the slate of officers and Miss Kidd conducted the election and installation as follows:

President, Mrs. S. R. Beatty of Madoc; 1st vice-president, Mrs. J. Horsepool, Bancroft; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. E. Alexander, Queesboro; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. J. Barlow, Bonarlaw; district delegate, Mrs. C. Blackburn, Eldorado; alternate delegate, Mrs. E. Brady, Marmora; Federation representative, Mrs. E. Irwin, Campbellford, R. R. 2; alternate representative, Mrs. K. Nicols, Madoc; district director of Federation of Agriculture, Mrs. N. Broad, Madoc; alternate, Mrs. Christie Bailey, Madoc, R. R. 3; conveners of standing commitee; Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mrs. Maurice Reynolds, Madoc R. R. 2; citizenship and education, Mrs. Hugh Barker, Eldorado; community activities and public relations, Mrs. Don Holbert, Moira; historical research and current events, Miss Grace Warren, Marmora, home economics and health, Mrs. F. Cosberg, Bonarlaw; resolutions, Mrs. F. Slater, McArthur's Mills; junior institute activities, Mrs. Fred Barley, Cooper; Girl's club work, Mrs. Doug Clancy, Harold; press reporter, Mrs. Hogarth Sabine, Marmora; auditors, Mrs. F. Cosberg, Bonarlaw, Mrs. G. Meiklejohn, Springbrook.

Miss Elsie Irvine, home economist and coach, spoke on girls work. Only four institutes in the district were sponsoring girls' clubs and she hoped that more would undertake this work.

Two humorous readings were given by Mrs. J. McGowan of Madoc. For the resolutions committee, Mrs. E. Irwin read two received. The first from Detlor and L'Amable Institute protested against the holding of the Royal Winter Fair on the Sabbath Day. The other from McArthur Mills Institute asked that the Post Office department place signs conspicuously over post offices indicating the name of the place they serve to assist the tourist traffic in identifying such places. Both resolutions are being taken to the area annual meeting for further action.

Called upon for a few remarks Mrs. Carl Clancy, area president mentioned there were 66 branches in the area and the 26th annual meeting would be held October 16-17.

Mrs. J. Horsepool of Bancroft, district officer followed with the highlights of the Guelph conference. McArthur's Mills branch was called as a body to the platform to receive the gift of a brief case from the president for being the branch with the largest percentage of attendance assembled there. Paudash came second and Springbrook third.

Mrs. Douglas Clancy of Wellman's branch gave the courtesy committees report. Ivanhoe extended the invitation to hold the next annual there. The meeting closed with National Anthem.

Beat Potato Price With Substitutes

Canadians everywhere are feeling the unusual economic pinch of high potato prices. For the first time in many years, potatoes which are a low-cost stable food item in practically every Canadian home, have risen in price through scarcity to being almost a luxury food. Especially where families are large or are growing, the additional price of potatoes makes budget balancing for mother in the home a very difficult job.

One of the ways in which high cost of potatoes can be offset to some extent is familiar to many Canadians, and particularly to those familiar with European cuisine. These people know that thousands of European families replace potatoes, to a greater or lesser degree, with macaroni products. These products are highly nutritious, provide ample bulk, and are very inexpensive.

Here in Canada there are three different types of macaroni products which can be economically used at present in place of potatoes. They are macaroni, spaghetti and noodles. All these products can be served in a variety of forms to replace potatoes as a vegetable, and the cost per serving is the same or slightly less than the current price of old potatoes and much cheaper than servings of new potatoes.

Children particularly will like to change because of its novelty.

Bethany Showers Miss E. Mantle

BETHANY, May 31 — (ENS).— Miss Evelyn Mantle was honored with a community shower on Thursday evening prior to her marriage to Mr. Ray Stinson of Janetville, which is an event of next week. Miss Marie Carr read the address and Mrs. Harold Sanderson and Mrs. Charles Reynolds assisted in presenting the numerous miscellaneous gifts and table setting for six in cornflower crystal. A lovely pure woollen blanket was the gift of the Girls' Softball Club. Miss Mantle thanked all for their gifts and good wishes and the committee in charge of arrangements, Mrs. Bruce Ryley, Mrs. R. Carr, Mrs. Harold Sanderson and Miss Marie Carr, inviting all to her home on the following Wednesday, and expressing the hope that eBthany friends would be frequent visitors to her new home in Oshawa.

The program was announced by Mrs. Charles Reynolds and included group singing; twe duets by Mrs. H. Rayson and Mrs. E. Lamb, "The West, a Nest and You" and "Let the Rest of the World Go By"; a humorous reading "Just a Married Woman," by Mrs. Ralph Preston; two tap dancing numbers in costume by Miss June Wright, and a puppet dance with "Dancing Sam" by Mrs. Thomas Jennings.

Lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed.

Miss Mantle is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mantle, and for the past three years has been the popular teller in the local branch of the Bank of Toronto.

DISHONESTY about school work is a real temptation. Parents can help a child by encouraging faithful homework.

FOR PARENTS ONLY:

You Can Help Your Child

By NANCY CLEAVER

"To cheat and live with myself is tough — but to fail in an exam and face mother is much worse — so I choose cheating — if I can get away with it!"

This was the frank comment of an adolescent to a trusted counsellor who was trying to help him with his extreme nervousness at examination time.

What do you think of it? Where would you place the responsibility for the boy's using another student's answers — on him. Or on his mother Or on both of them? At least his conscience bothered him sufficiently that he felt uncomfortable about it! But his last remark showed that to him the important thing was not to get caught!

Expecting Too Much

How would you feel if the boy who said this was your son? Do you ever [illegible] your boy or girl, that cheating in order to come up to your expectations, is a real temptation? This is worth thinking about.

Parents don't want their children to cheat at school. Whatever may be their own practice in "fooling" the customs, or a store, or turning a sharp corner when it comes to money, they hope that their children will act "on the square." It seems too bad that some fathers and mothers refuse to see that the best way to teach honesty is by their own example.— Not just one occasion, but throughout the years, a child is quietly observing whether or not mother or dad have a code of right and wrong which they stick to!

Mothers and fathers naturally desire to be proud of their child's school report. They could do more than they do, in many cases to help their child in his studies. Not that they can do his studying for him — That is HIS job.

Want No Leaners

The last thing they want to produce is a "little leaner." A girl who looks to mother for a nod before giving an answer, or a boy who waits till Day can help him with a difficult arithmetic question, without even tackling it himself, are not being genuinely helped. They are being hindered in learning to stand on their own feet about their school work by their misguided parents.

But when a child is in the lower grades in public school and begins to have homework a parent can see that there is a definite place with good lighting where the student can work. Proper lighting is very important, to avoid eye strain. A comfortable chair and steady table, and the minimum of interruptions are essential too.

In some homes, children declare that they can study "fine" with a radio going full blast — but how can a child concentrate easily and keep his mind on his work with music, conversation and announcements all competing for his attention?

A boy or girl often needs a little encouragement In planning a schedule for home work. Here again there should be a fixed time every school night for studies. Shortly after supper, at seven or seven-thirty, according to the age of the student has been found satisfactory in most houses. The study period should be long enough to complete the necessary assignments without feeling hurried and quite a short break every half hour.

Free After School

Youngsters need to be free between four o'clock and supper to see their chums, to follow their own special interests and play. They like a little time right after their meal and at bedtime to relax and read or do some handcraft or whatever appeals to them. But if Studyiing Time is fixed by the clock—this saves mother from nagging at them that they "should begin soon"!

Faithful, efficient studying usually prepares a child well enough that when tests or exams confront him, he won't be in a panic. If he keeps up with his work from day to day, he should have confidence in his ability to pass.

Here again the parents' interest in their child's progress will be of assistance. They should accept him as he is, and not expect a brilliant record if his ability with books is only fair. Possibly he has a mechanical bent or a flare in some other line at which he will be successful in earning his living, even if he is not among the honor students.

Almost every child is bound to have a little fling at cheating "the same as the rest of the kids." A mother does well not to be terribly shocked if she discovers that her dear little Johnny is in hot water over copying the answers from the boy in front of him. But she should make it quite clear that cheating is something which is stupid and foolish as well as a disgrace. Without preaching at him, a parent can gradually get it across that it is vastly more important to do the right thing, and rely on your own work at school, than it is to make higher marks, based partly on another scholar's knowledge. Character is shown by what a boy or girl does in writing exams or anything else when no one is looking.

DOROTHY DIX

Uncle Must Place Home First

DEAR MISS DIX: My gentleman friend and I are planning a summer wedding. There is one subject, however, on which we do not see eye to eye. He has a married sister with three children. He has supported these youngsters ever since they were born because their father earns but an average salary.

Each week I buy little things for our home, but he still thinks he should buy clothes, etc., for his nephews. I tell him he should have every cent for us—and there's another argument.

I am afraid if I can't stop him now, I never will.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Since your fiance is planning to establish a family of his own, his first financial responsibility is to his future home. He has certainly been a fine brother and uncle, but his sister should not expect his generosity to continue unabated now that he is contemplating marriage. On the other hand, you cannot expect him to ignore completely these youngsters to whom he is evidently most attached. He has played the godfather to them for so long that he cannot end the role abruptly or completely.

Plan A Budget

The best way to untangle your financial problem is to sit down with your young man and put your entire budget on paper. Let him see just how much a home will cost, and how little money will be left for extras. On this budget plan, he can arrange to continue some help to his nephews, if only to buy special clothing for them. I repeat again, don't expect him to stop all assistance to his sister's family; the sacrifice entailed will do you both good.

Be thankful you are marrying a generous man. Sometimes we may think philanthropy is carried to extremes, but at its most expansive it is much, much better than even a touch of miserliness.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: A boy I like very much is going into service in the next few weeks and I'd like to buy him a going-away present. Would that be proper, and what would you uggest? I am 15, he is 19. Do you think he's too old for me?

DEBBIE

ANSWER: A tangible evidence of friendship, such as a small gift, is never out of place. Remembering your friend at the time of his departure is a thoughtful gesture, and will, I know, be greatly appreciated. Your knowledge of his likes is the best guide to an appropriate gift. While commonplace items, such as handkerchiefs, are never unwelcome, try to find something a little out of the ordinary.

A boy of 19 is not too old for you, if you have friendship, and friendship only, in mind. But, to put it another way, you are too young for him if you are harboring serious notions. You write a very nice letter, Debbie, and as a correspondent you'll rate high. Keep your relationship on a pleasant, cheerful, corresponding plane.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My fiancee and I are contemplating marriage in the near future. She is a considerate and unselfish person, but there is one important point on which we cannot agree. I am earning a moderate salary and she, too, is working. I believe that she should continue to work for at least a year after our marriage to help pay expenses, but she feels that her place is in the home and doesn't want to keep her job.

ARNOLD F.

ANSWER: Your fiancee, after all, merely wishes to assume the role that is traditional to married women—to be a wife, homemaker and mother. While it is helpful if a wife keeps her job after marriage—and increasing numbers of brides are doing so—such should not be expected as a natural consequence of matrimony. For one thing, it can be economically disastrous for a young couple to come to depend on a double salary. Mother Nature, you know, has a habit of stepping in and upsetting these plans rather completely.

The double role of wage-earner and homemaker is one that can cause considerable emotiona' and physical disturbance to a woman. When a girl feels incapable of satisfactorily accomplishing this difficult task, a considerate husband certainly would not insist on her tackling it.

If this problem creates too much conflict between you, I advise you both to reconsider the marriage plans. It's much too serious a situation to be ignored.

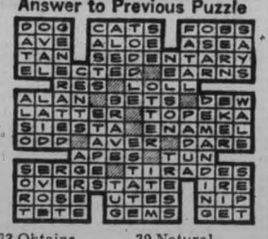
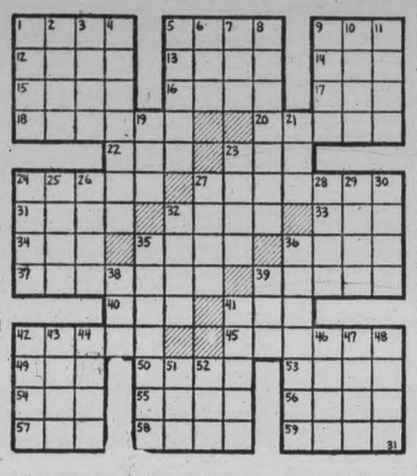
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Readers' Saturday Column

QUESTION: My life is spent largely in the atmosphere of the engineering department of a large manufacturing concern. I can more easily design a piece of machinery than concoct an edible dish for human consumption. Nevertheless the human interest you instil into your cookery column never fails to catch my eye and often it makes me hungry to just read your recipes.

I have recently returned from a month's trip to Florida where the interesting and different foods we ate were a happy part of a happy holiday . . . at "Le Cordon Bleu" in Fort Lauderdale we had crepe suzettes for dessert one night. The following is what I wrote in my log of the trip . . "The waiter brought a portable stand with large tray . . . a copper chafing dish with burner lit. On the chafing dish went an outside polished skillet . . on tray were thinnest imaginable pancakes, a glass bowl with something in it which looked like hard sauce, 2 halves of grapefruit and small silver jug. Waiter spooned liberal amounts of contents of glass bowl onto skillet. When bubbling the juice of one-half grapefruit was squeezed into it. He added 1 pancake at a time, swishing it round, folding it so that it was covered on all sides with the liquid. Each pancake was so treeated and placed around edge. He then poured over everything the contents of the silver jug (a liqueur?). With 1 quick movement of the skillet the contents blazed . . . when flames died the pancakes went onto our plates piping hot . . . it was beyond explaining delicious . . I would like to present to a few discriminating friends just such crepe suzettes. Can you help? I wish you and Pete and Marianne and your column and your many devoted followers many happy meals—not forgetting that it takes happy people besides good food to make a happy meal. M.H.S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Now I'm the one that is drooling over your recipes. I love Canada and as I type this I am in Lethbridge, Alberta, but never do get myself pointed south for Florida I will certainly stop at "Le Cordon Bleu".

Crepes Suzette

First you have to make the Crepes: Sift together ¾ cup unsifted flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar into a bowl. Add 3 unbeaten eggs, stirring them in thoroughly, then add 2 cups milk, beating until no lumps are left. (A rotary beater is good for this.) Have a griddle of 4 or 5 inches in diameter hot, melt 1 tablespoon butter in it, and when bubbling pour in batter ⅛ inch thick to cover bottom of pan. Cook over medium heat 3 minutes until bottom is tinged with gold, then stand in hot oven for 5 minutes. (French cooks use 2 griddles to speed up this cooking of the crepes.) Slip a pancake onto hot layer cake tin and stand in warming oven to keep hot. Proceed with next crepe—the same way—but for the second crepe in each pan use only 1 teaspoon butter and so on. Roll up each crepe after it has been baked the first time if you want to do it my way. I have never seen them made into Crepes Suzette unrolled as you describe.

The sauce is like Hard Sauce: Cream 1/3 cup butter with 1/3 cup granulated or icing sugar. When smooth add 1 cup orange juice and 4 tablespoons finely grated orange rind and boil gently to a syrup for 5 minutes. Add ½ cup Curacoa and heat a moment. Pour at once over hot rolled pancakes in chafing dish (or large skillet), roll them around and serve at once. For the next sentence I may lose my job, family, friends, membership in church—but readers must be answered. The French—and plenty of Canadians—use 1/3 part each Curacoa or Cointreau, Grand Marnier and Brandy instead of all Curacoa. You are on your own. I hope your friends appreciate such an observant and discriminating hostess.

6—In Memoriam

CROWE—In memory of my mother, Mrs. Lavina Crowe who passed away May 29, 1951.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Ever remembered by her son Albert and daughter-in-law Grace, two grandchildren Gary and Gail.

EDWARDS—In loving memory of Elnor Edwards.
The years have passed and gone,
Since one we loved so well,
Was taken from our home on earth,
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we place upon her grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for her who sleeps beneath,
Shall never fade away.
—Ever remembered by Ruth and Jim, Bob and Doris.

KIERAN—12th anniversary—In loving memory of my beloved husband and dear father, Arthur P. Kieran, who died on May 31st, 1940. "Rest in peace."
Deep in our hearts you are fondly remembered,
Sweet, happy memories cling round your name;
Fond hearts that loved you with deepest affection,
Always will love you in death just the same.
Things have changed in many ways,
But one thing changeth never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
Our Lady of Fatima, pray for them.
—Ever remembered by Mrs. Kieran, daughters Catherine and Marie, son-in-law, Frank.

SUDDARDS—In loving memory of Mrs. W. H. Suddards, who passed away June 1, 1950.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true;
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Sadly missed by her husband, daughters, Hilda and Laura and son Roy.

Resists Arrest Man Fined $50

COBOURG, May 31 — (ENS) — Arthur Brooks, 40, of Niagara Falls, Ont., who wrestled with Provincial Constable C. Meadows of Cobourg when he was arrested on a charge of driving while impaired by alcohol, paid a fine of $50 and costs.

Brooks pleaded not guilty but after evidence of the Crown was in, changed it to guilty. Provincial Constable C. Meadows of Cobourg testified that he was on his way west from Grafton on May 27 and saw a car "hogging the road" ahead of him and causing oncoming motorist to drive to one side to avoid him. He pulled up alongside and brought Brooks car to a stop, just in time to see a quick shuffle of a bottle of liquor, being lateral pass from one passenger to another and a forward pass to driver. Brooks' and an attempted pass out the window which was intercepted by Meadows. Objective was the ditch but as the bottle was intercepted on approximately the five yard line, there was no score over the touchline which was the ditch.

Brooks was argumentative, said the constable, and in fact added muscle to words by resisting arrest. Constable Meadows got one handcuff on Brooks on the first fall of the wrestling match but had difficulty with the second handcuff and was aided by a passing motorist who helped him encase the second wrist in the bracelets.

"I met a soldier from Korea in Belleville. He got a bottle of liquor and he opened it up in the car. When I saw the police arrive I got annoyed at my friend back from Korea over opening the bottle in the car and I guess I got stubborn with the officer," related Brooks.

Mayor Waddell On Executive

OTTAWA, May 31 (CP)—The Ontario government was urged yesterday to make a $5-per-capita grant as an interim assistance measure for municipalities. The request was contained in one of several resolutions passed at the closing session of the Ontario Mayors and Reeves Association convention.

Reeve Barry E. Atkinson of Sandwich township, a Windsor suburb, was elected president, succeeding Mayor E. C. Sargent of Owen Sound.

Vice-presidents are Reeve O. E. Crockford, Scarboro township, and Mayors H. Badanai, Fort William; James R. Black, Oakville; Lloyd Jackson, Hamilton; Allan A. Lamport, Toronto; W. C. Nelson, Sarnia, and W. F. Reynolds, Brockville.

Executive members elected included: Mayors A. Beattie, North Bay; Charles Lamb, Lindsay; D. W. Jessup, Sudbury; H. E. Burns, Perth; T. H. Currah, St. Thomas; E. M. Hawkins, Niagara Falls; H. F. Waddell, Peterborough; G. S. MacDonald, Port Colborne; E. W. Weber, Kitchener; F. E. Leeson, Merritton; Michael Starr, Oshawa; A. D. Simpson, Stratford, and J. W. Spooner, Timmins.

The association also made Reeve Anne Shipley of Teck township, Kirkland Lake an honorary president, "by reason of outstanding merit."

The association took no action on the recommendation of several delegates who urged that standards of the National Housing Act be relaxed to permit building more houses with lower standards.

Two Courts

Whittaker was driving south on Armour Rd. last Jan. 25 when he was in collision with a northbound truck, allegedly driven by Harding and owned by Steele. The accident occurred near Hazlitt St.

Third Accident

Thomas E. Hall, Campbellford garageman, is suing R. R. Watkins of Brantford and J. M. Katz of Peterborough for an accident that occurred six miles east of the city on Highway 7, last September 25.

Hall says he slowed down when flagged by a Department of Highways employee and the two defendants allegedly ran into his vehicle. He received a cut neck and is asking $929 for damages and personal injury.

Lorne Magee and Miss Alice Johnston, both of Peterborough, have entered suit and countersuit as a result of a two-car collision Jan. 12, 1951, at Aylmer and Sherbrooke Sts.

Magee, a laborer, was driving south on Aylmer St. and Miss Johnston was driving west on Sherbrooke St. He is asking for $872 special and general damages and Miss Johnston is counterclaiming for $462.

Loses Symbol

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., May 31. (AP)—Henry Krajewski, the Secaucus pig farmer who is campaigning for the United States presidency on a square deal ticket, lost his little pig mascot Friday. Krajewski, here to make a speech, said his mascot slipped away during a stop at a gas station.

60,000 Blooms On Tulip Farm

OMEMEE, May 31 —(ENS) — Omemee and District Horticultural Society inspected this week the Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt's tulip garden on the farm of W. D. Weir, after which they assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Lang for their meeting.

Most of the 310 varieties of tulips were still in full bloom. In all there were some 60,000 blooms of rare beauty.

Mr. Wesley Wilson presided at the meeting, at which the chief business was arranging for summer outings and for the August flower show. The ruling that 20 entries is the limit for any one member, was amended for this year's show. It was decided to have the picnic at Fenelon Falls on June 18, as the district meeting will be held there on that date. Mrs. A. Rutherford is picnic convener. Other announcements were: Flower service on June 15 in the Anglican Church, with Mr. Zufelt as speaker, and the bus trip to Ottawa experimental farm in July. The trip is in charge of E. A. Corniel—date to be announced later.

Three interesting films were shown by W. D. Weir. They were: "Growth of the Flowers", "Fire Prevention", and "Wings to Alaska".

Lunch was served with Mrs. V. Lang, Mrs. Edith Brown, Mrs. C. Lee, Mrs. C. Lytle and Mrs. H. Lang as hostesses A vote of thanks to Mrs. Lang for her hospitality was moved by Mr. Zufelt and E. A. Corniel.

Big Motorcycle Meet Planned At Baltimore

COBOURG, May 31 — (ENS)— Motorcycle racers from all over Ontario are expected for the first race meet of the newly-formed Northumberland and Durham Motorcycle Club which takes place on June 7 at the race track of the Baltimore Community Centre, about five miles north east of Cobourg. The club and the community centre committee have been planning this race for the past two months and approval of the track was given, subject to a few changes, by a representative of the Canadian Motorcycle Association, of which the club is a member. The Baltimore track is free from dangerous obstructions, is away from any densely-settled community, and in many other respects is idealy-situated for motorcycle races.

company's warehouse at Erskine Ave., and McKeller St., was burned and as a result of the present market situation Mr. Watson said that his firm was no longer stockpiling scrap paper.

Other dealers did not mention the new chemical blamed by Mr. Watson for the slump but said they believed it was due to mills getting more than they could handle during recent months and having built up stockpiles they are not buying more.

Last year, Canadian paper mills handled a record 360,000 tons of 57 different grades of waste paper and at least one local dealer who has stopped handling it for the present believes the slump is only temporary. "The market has been good ever since the last war," commented Jack Burfield who said he handled 25 to 30 tons a week up until about two months ago. "It's bound to come back," predicted Mr. Burfield who added that he believed the situation would improve within "a few weeks."

Still another theory for the lack of demand and low price was advanced by Max Beck. During the war years, people got into the habit of saving waste paper and as a result there is more of it being salvaged for re-use than ever before.

In any case, getting rid of yesterday's newspapers and last month's magazines will continue to be a headache for householders, garbage men and scrap dealers until the demand for scrap paper returns to normal.

Revive Decoration

BONN, May 31 (Reuters) — A German civilian decoration, borrowed from Prussia in 1918 but later banned by Hitler, was revived Friday, exactly 110 years after its foundation by King Friedrich Wilhelm IV of Prussia. President Theodor Heuss announced that 15 Germans had been elected to the exclusive class of the military order "Pour Le Merite," at one time Germany's highst dcoration.

Long Air Trip

LONDON, May 31 (AP)—Actor Charles Laughton arrived by plane from New York Friday, five days after he started out. His first plane had engine troubel over the Atlantic and turned back. When it took off again Laughton wasn't aboard. He then took a plane that had to stop in Newfoundland for repairs. Arriving to visit his 83-year-old mother, Laughton said: "What day is it?"

Present Awards To Cadets On Inspection

BANCROFT, May 31 (ENS).— The North Hastings High School Cadets were inspected by Major F. N. Pope and Captain E. A. Howey of Kingston on Thursday afternoon.

Speaking to the group after they had demonstrated the ceremonial march past and advance in review order Major Pope gave special praise to those who were the backbone of the corps, the senior cadets who stayed with the body when some of their friends quit for trivial reasons.

R.C.A.F. Speeds Up Recruiting

Recruits for the Royal Canadian Air Force need no longer go to Toronto for their final documentation and medical. A mobile recruiting unit that started Friday will do all that.

Friday, three potential groundscrew were sworn in. They are AC2s A. J. Driscoll and R. H. Withers and LAC M. Lenihan, all of Peterborouh. LAC. Lenihan had previous air force experience.

Flt. Ltd. Lloyd Hubbard, head of the mobile recruiting unit, said that from now on recruits, with proper papers, will be put through the ropes and sworn in right here. Recruiting will be Thursday and Friday, 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., at the Armouries. This will be finished in one day.

The three airmen enlisted today will report to No. 2 Manning Depot, St. John's, Quebec.

The R.C.A.F. is looking for groundcrew men of at least Grade VIII education, age 18 years to 39—17 years with parents' consent. All but veterans of the Second World War must be single.

Women are also being sought for the R.C.A.F. They must have Grade X education, single, and be between the ages of 18 and 29.

Aircrew must have their junior matriculation, be single and must be betewen the ages of 19 and 25 years.

Needle Rouses Bear From 'Dead'

TORONTO, May 31 — (CP) — Whitey isnt dead after all.

A month ago, Jack May, Riverdale zoo foreman, sat on Whitey's apparently lifeless form and mourned the passing of the 28-year-old polar bear. Today the big fellow shuffles around his sunken concrete pen and occasionally even takes a swim.

As headkeeper May explains: "Well, we were all sitting around waiting for Dr. Campbell to come and give him a needle to make sure he was dead. We were all pretty cut up."

But when Dr. James Campbell, zoo curator, arrived he found a spark of life in Whitey and began injecting life-restoring drugs.

One of the oldest bears in captivity, Whitey is almost back to normal.

Smoke-Jumpers

TISDALE, Sask.—(CP)—Saskatchewan's famed forest-fire fighters, known as the smoke-jumpers, made a parachute jump as part of the official opening ceremonies for the summer season at Kipabiskau Beach.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask.—(CP)—Angus McKay, known as the "grand old man" of Prince Albert, died recently at age 93. During the Riel uprising he was a Pony Express rider serving the forces sent to quell the Metis.

HERE'S THE PITCH—Prime Minister St. Laurent pitches the first ball to start the annual softball game between Members of Parliament and the Parliamentary Press Gallery. The game was played on the lawn in front of the Parliament Buildings. The members won 21-17. On Mr. St. Laurent's right is Rev. Dan McIvor, the 70-year-old member from Fort William who promoted the game and collected $200 for a Commons page-boys 'fund.

Michigan Counts On Canadians To Win In Track

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 31 — (CP)—The University of Michigan's chances of toppling favored Illinois in the western track and field championships today rested largely with three Canadians.

Ottawa's Don McEwen, Michigan freshman, will duel with another Canadian in the two-mile race. His chief competition will be Rich Ferguson, sensational Iowa freshman from Toronto.

Before that he is expected to take it easy in a try for a second placing in the mile race, with Michigan's John Ross of Oakville, Ont.

Illinois, after yesterday's qualifying trials, needed only to down Michigan to take the big ten championship. No qualifying trials were held in the pole vault, high jump, one-mile, two-mile, and one-mile relay. Illinois qualified 16 finalists to Michigan's 12.

Dahs-man Jack Carroll of Montreal, a quarter-miler, was the other Michigan hopeful. Yesterday he posted 49 seconds flat in the qualifying test. His time was better than the leaders in the other two heats.

Ross finished second in the 800-yard run won by Henry Cryer of Illinois in the record time of 1:51.9.

One other Canadian, Roy Pella of Sudbury, Ont., qualified for Michigan. He threw the discus 142 feet 7½ inches, the fifth-best distance of the six qualifiers.

Firemen Save 5 In B.C. Fire

VANCOUVER, May 31 (CP)—Five terrified men and women, one an expectant mother, were rescued by firemen Friday from top storey ledges as fire whipped through [illegible] downtown rooming house.

One man died in his second floor room and two other men, one a fireman, were injured.

Dead is Percival C. Langran, 69, disabled war pensioner, whose body was found beside a window. He died of suffocation.

Injured were Ben Young, 57, and fireman Dan Peebles.

The expectant mother, Mrs. Bruce Mountney, 26; her husband, and Mrs. Herb Dyke, were rescued from the third-storey window ledges five minutes after arrival of firemen.

The five had fled to the ledges when smoke and flames cut off their escape down a stairway.

Howe Tells Of Plan To Merge Departments

OTTAWA, May 31 — (CP) — Production Minister Howe disclosed Friday night that the Defence Production Department soon may disappear.

He told the Commons that the plan is to merge the Department with some other existing department when the current three-year defence build-up is completed.

Queen Mary Victors

Queen Mary girls took a 17-13 school softball decision over Queen Alex., scoring three in the first frame, five next time up, and nine in a big third inning. The losers could notch but four in the first, two next heat, three each in the third and fifth and one in the fourth of a fair tilt. Teams:

Queen Alex.: Brown, Arnold, Kingston, Weir, Hayward, Buckton, Dunnett, Montgomery, Clemens.

Queen Mary: H. Rusk, A. Stinson, A. Merrett, B. McDougall, B. Adlam, E. McLaughlin, J. Staves, J. Green, D. Milne, D. Johnson.

Norham Triumphs

WARKWORTH, May 31 (ENS)—Runciman pitched Norham to an 11-2 win over Castleton in their first district loop softball fray, the league also including Morganston, Warkworth, Legion and Fenella.

Runciman had good support. Spencer's hit in the seventh paved the way for Castleton's two runs. Beatty relieved Ellis in the fifth. The winners got a run in the second, five next time up, two in the fourth and three in the sixth. Teams:

Castleton: B. Moore, ss; H. Moore, 3b; Beatty, 2b; J. Spencer, c; May, lf; Thomas, 1b; Baggaley, rf; E. Spencer, cf.

Norham: Thower, ss; Gummer, cf; Platt, 3b; Pearson, 1b; Peterson, lf; Yabsley, c; Nelson, rf; Runciman, p; Laver, 2b.

Dick Widmark Returns To Meanie Roles

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 31—(AP)—After being a good guy for five years, Richard Widmark is going back to the meanie role that made him a star.

"It's Tommy Udo all over again," remarked Widmark about his role in the episodic O. Henry's "Baghdad on the Subway." "I have the same sneer and they even brought out the same hairpiece for me to wear."

Tommy Udo was the double-ugly character the actor played in "Kiss of Death." What a rat he was! One of his diversions was pushing an old lady down a flight of stairs in her wheelchair. Tommy is back with us again, and there's no telling what effect he'll have on Widmark's fans.

After all, the youngsters have seen the blond actor winning wars, fighting forest fires, combating disease and performing other acts of valor.

Personal Matters

Right now Widmark is more concerned about personal matters, particularly his relations with his studio. He has made no secret that he is not happy with his present contract, although he has not yet moved toward open revolt. He is still working under the original pact, and he is reported to feel he deserves more money.

The Widmark deal still has two years to go, but it may well be adjusted before the expiration date.

What's wrong with movie musicals? The music, for one thing.

Look over the hit tunes in the past few years and see how many of them have originated in new film musicals. Darn few. The reason is that most of the films are tuned up with songs dug out of the catalogues. Offhand, I can't think of a good new musical score in films since Rodgers and Hammerstein lent their genius to "State Fair."

The good song writers are still in business. Song hits have to come from somewhere. So why don't producers try for whistle-able new scores instead of digging out the oldies? Best news in this line is that Harold Arlen and Dorothy Fields have whipped up a score for "The Farmer Takes a Wife." Also, Irving Berlin is reported to be composing a film for Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire. Let's have more....

Jean Lussier Would Try Going Over Falls Again

By HAL BOYLE

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y.—(AP)—Many have dreamed of winning fame and fortune by going over Niagara Falls in a barrel.

Six people have done it. Three lived—three were pounded to death by the waters.

The only surviving victor of the Falls now is Jean Lussier, who bounced and floated in a home-made rubber ball over the Canadian side of the cataract July 4, 1928. He emerged unhurt.

Jean, a rugged former carnival stunt man now works as a machine operator in an industrial plant here. He will be 58 years old this year.

Lussier, who has escaped the [illegible] luck [illegible] other conquests of the Niagara, says he would like to go over the Falls a second time. But with him it's strictly business.

"Show me the dough, and I'll go," he said. "But it will have to be this year or next year—after that I'll be too old."

Sponsor Needed

Jean would like to become the first man in history to go over the American side of the Falls, which is particularly hazardous because of the rocks beneath. He already has designed a three-layer rubber ball to be built around an aluminum frame. He says all he needs now is a sponsor willing to put up $3,000 to construct the ball—and the $10,000 fee he wants to make the voyage.

"I'll go over any waterfall in the world in a rubber ball," he said. "If the fall is too high, I'll put wings on the ball."

The first person to ride over Niagara Falls successfully was a doughty teacher, Mrs. Annie Edson Taylor. Her vehicle was a crude wooden barrel with iron hasps.

According to local tradition at the last moment she said "I don't want to go." But her backers are said to have poured her two water glasses full of Scotch, closed the hatch, and pushed the barrel out into the current.

Mrs. Taylor emerged below the Falls unscathed, sold souvenir cards of her exploit at a local museum, and died years later in the poorhouse.

Got Careless

An English daredevil, Bobby Leach, floated over the Falls in an iron barrel in 1911. He forgot to strap himself in, and when he was pulled out of his metal cask he had a broken jaw and two broken kneecaps.

Leach had a rather unfortunate ending for a stunt man. While touring New Zealand with his iron barrel in 1926 he slipped on an orange peel—and died.

Lussier was the first man to do the job scientifically. He spent $7,000 and a year preparing. He constructed his rubber ball himself. He entered the ball at 3:05 in the afternoon, went over the 167-foot Falls at 3:55, and came out of the ball at 4:23.

How does it feel going over the Falls?

"I kept bracing for a sharp jar, but it never came," recalled Lussier. "It was like making a ski jump in slow motion. The ball was [illegible] and bounds.

In the next 14 years Lussier made a small fortune touring the world with his rubber ball and telling the story of his 78-minute exploit.

"I'm satisfied," he said. "It paid off for me."

Need Nurses Badly

ST. CATHARINES, May 31 (CP)—Health Minister Martin said Friday night "Canada still faces a desperate nursing shortage." In an address at the graduation exercises of the Mack Training School for Nurses: "Never before has there been a greater need for trained nurses and never before have there been greater opportunities of service for women with those rare human qualities of heart and mind that go to make up a nurse."

Poor Salesmen

TORONTO, May 31 (CP)—Hotel clerks or bellboys who tell tourists "nothing ever happens around here" are poor salesmen and cost Canada millions of dollars a year, Roy Corbett said Friday. Mr. Corbett, executive secretary of the Ontario Hotel Association, said that when an American walks up to a hotel desk and wants to know what is going on in town or where to go, the clerk should know.

Hart House Warden

OTTAWA, May 31 (CP)—Joseph McCulley, deputy commissioner of penitentiaries for the last five years, has accepted an appointment at the University of Toronto as warden of Hart House. Justice Minister Garson made the announcement Friday night.

Fear More Than 7 Canadians Red Prisoners

OTTAWA, May 31 (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson fears there may be more than seven Canadians in Red Chinese prisons.

E. D. Fulton (PC—Kamloops) released Friday a letter from Mr. Pearson in which the minister said Canada has factual knowledge of only seven Canadians being in prison and for that reason only that number was mentioned in a note of protest recently sent to the Chinese government.

The letter was written in answer to questions Mr. Fulton has asked in the Commons as a result of articles appearing in a Roman Catholic weekly tabloid, The Ensign, suggesting that the situation in China for Canadians is worse than the government has painted it.

In it Mr. Pearson calls Chinese treatment of Christian missionaries "wholly unjustified and brutal" but argues that "when one is making representations to a foreign government, especially an unfriendly one, it is important not to go beyond clearly-established facts."

Must Be Careful

The Ensign had said 25 Canadians are in Chinese prisons and later put it at 10. The government's stand was that "although we fear that more than seven Canadians may be in Chinese prisons" it only has factual knowledge of seven. Others were under house arrest, "admittedly a serious situation but not so bad as being in a Red prison."

Mr. Pearson added:

"Our primary concern must be for the safety and well-being of the more than 100 Canadians still in China . . . this has made it desirable to keep statements upon as realistic and factual a basis as possible. These unfortunate people are in an exposed position where no one can help them if the Communist authorities choose to ill-treat [illegible]

Debt Board Helps In Money Fights

EDMONTON —(CP)—The Debtors' Assistance Board set up by the Alberta government in 1943 has helped thousands of Alberta debtors and creditors to reach agreements.

In the last three years, the board has settled 2,722 cases involving debts reaching nearly $3,000,000.

The Board's object is to advise and assist debtors and mediate in meetings between debtors and creditors.

Creditors as well as debtors may seek assistance from the board in an attempt to negotiate amicable settlements. Young married couples who have committed themselves too heavily on instalment purchases make up a large per[illegible] cases.

A debtor faced with foreclosure may appeal to the board to arrange for an extension of time for payment with the creditor.

Since the board succeeded the Debt Adjustment Board, established 20 years previously, it has helped thousands of people escape court action and hundreds of creditors who otherwise might never have received payment.

Western Germany, under occupation since the end of World War II, regains most of her autonomy under a "peace contract" aligning her with the West in a united front against Russian aggression. The Federal Republic was born in 1949 with its capital at Bonn. Its constitution provides for a Parliament with two houses, the Bundestag of representatives who are elected by direct vote, and the Bundesrat (upper house) chosen by the state legislatures. Delegates choose the president (Theodore Heuss) for a five-year term. He in turn chooses the chancellor (Dr. Konrad Adenauer) subject to Bundestag approval. The western part, with some 50 million people is the more productive section. It has the majority of the resources, more aerable land, out-produces, has a larger national income, has more people employed and exports more goods than the eastern part dominated by Russia. Under terms of the contract the Republic is pledged to rearm and raise 12 divisions totaling 300,000 men to serve in the new western European army. The German Federated Republic will exchange ambassadors with other nations, will have her own courts, power to raise taxes, and have police power. The occupation has ended, but it doesn't mean that Allied troops will leave. The Big Three can intervene to quell an external attack or any internal civil disturbance; troops will remain there as long as the international situation makes it necessary; they will retain the right to negotiate with Russia over German unification and Berlin. Meanwhile, across the Elbe River, Soviet troops and Communist officials control the eastern portion of Germany. Many new problems are expected to develop concerning Germany and her allies. But the "peace contract" did show the first concrete results of a spirit of unity against a common enemy. They are the first steps in a plan which ultimately could lead to the first United States of Europe in history.
